1081 Chapter 1081

In a tavern in the Sun City, Leonardo was surrounded by his subordinates drinking silently when one of them asked.

"Boss, are we really going to do it?"

Leonardo nodded without saying a word but his subordinates sighed heavily, even if they had expected this when coming here it still shocked them because they would be going against Lilith Ex's order and this would mean trouble, endless trouble but they couldn't say it because this man who was their leader was also a psycho. However, like in every society, every group would exist people unable to read the atmosphere, unable to follow the trend like others, there is a saying that in Rome do as Romain does but not everyone would follow this.

The man who asked a question previously was one such man.

"What? I thought the leader said no to do anything for now."

The other members eyed the fool, winking at him to stop before it was too late but as expected of a fool, it was like his brain didn't work like a normal person so he was unable to pick up their subtle intention.

"She would be furious upon learning that he had disobeyed her so but better-" He hadn't finished speaking before the blow came. A slap came from Leonardo and the man was flung out of the tavern and landed face down on the ground. His nose was broken, and he felt a burning pain from the bloodied nose gripping it.

"What?" The other customers inside the tavern were shocked by Leonardo's sudden action but nobody said anything after seeing those dangerous eyes, after paying the bills they left, and outside the man was on the ground twitching, upon feeling the others approaching he lifted his head.

"I"

A chill crawled up the man's spine upon meeting Leonardo's eyes and upon realizing what others meant when winking at him, he could only wallow in misery and be vigilant in the future, only like this he would live longer.

"Let's go and prepare," Leonardo said, giving one glance to the man he slapped before heading to the outskirt of the city in the same direction as Alex and Kuina where they took care of the man in black. The same direction the special dungeon was in.

Meanwhile, back to Alex's location, after leaving that mysterious realm he was brought somewhere, he was currently inside a throne hall, Alex looked around admiring this place because it was the first time Nyx was letting in to visit this place, he had thought he would be extravagant but somehow it was more normal, a throne hall you could find anywhere on Mysthia.

Magnificent braziers surrounding each of the ten ivory columns light up most of the throne hall and their light wraps the hall in a warm radiance. The thousands of gems on the embowed ceiling dance in the flickering light while memorials and stone effigies look down upon the grey wood floor of this opulent hall.

A magenta rug runs down from the throne and marks the closest spot people can stand when they address the royal highness while swallow tail banners with adorned plumes hang from the walls. Between each banner stands a large candlestick, some of them have been lit and in turn illuminate the depictions of late rulers below them.

High, stained glass windows depicting gods and goddesses are edged by draperies colored the same magenta as the banners. The curtains have been adorned with burnished corners and impressive needlework.

A striking throne of gold sits within a pagoda of sorts within this hall and is adjoined by two similar, but undecorated seats for the royal highness' trustees.

The throne is covered in nothing but labyrinthine designs and fixed on each of the front legs is an ornate head of a legendary creature. The thick pillows are a dark magenta and these too have been adorned with embellished sigils.

Those expecting an audience with Nyx could do so on the many luxurious and comfortable mahogany benches, all of which are facing the throne in a half circle.

Nyx sitting on the golden throne ordered Alex to summon his status window which he did, however, his jaws almost hit the ground facing his status.

"What the fuck?" He exclaimed aloud because these stats should have been like this, however, there was someone else who was not shocked by this as if she had expected this.

"As expected come closer," Nyx said, beckoning Alex to come closer.

1082 Chapter 1082

Looking at the panicking Alex, for some unknown reason Nyx was amused, still, it was her character to laugh so easily therefore she controlled her emotions and explained to him to stop the misunderstanding.

"It's normal, the energy you stole can be assimilated so easily and not like when you used snatch previously, you will need someone to help you process and assimilate that primordial energy, completely different from the mana's system, mana and elements are born from this energy."

From this simple explanation Alex learned a lot, he would have loved to dig deeper but not now as the only thing that mattered to our MC was how to quickly assimilate the energy he stole from that giant human from fear that it vanished and Nyx could deduce this, it was why she said.

"Come closer but you will have to know that it will hurt like hell." She warned him but Alex shrugged his shoulders.

"Don't worry, I may look like this but I'm pretty sturdy and I'm used to pain."

Nyx simply added.

"You will feel like dying, though. Let's begin."

She put her hand on top of his chest and send her energy inside his body to attract a certain hidden energy and when she found it and trapped it, she started to refine it and it was the beginning of Alex's pain.

Suddenly, Alex's head felt heavier and heavier as each pulse of throbbing pain pounded his senses over and over again. Desperate for some form of relief he sought out every solution. Ignoring it, working through it, using it to fuel strength. But nothing seemed to work. He tried as best he could to block out the pain, to find some form of meditative trance to cope with the agonizing sensations.

Soon he was tired. Tired both because of the pain and tired of having to deal with the pain, but he didn't have a choice in the matter other than enduring, and seeing through to the end. So he must endure everything thrown at him. However, the saying was easier than doing it, like Nyx had said Alex felt like dying on several occasions, there was one time he thought he had died, and he saw an illusion of him dying, and this illusion he leave behind a will.

'It hurts! It hurts so much! Please, make it stop, it hurts so much! I... I can't make it stop! There's too much blood and it hurts so much, please make it stop.

The only thing holding me up is this stupid chair beneath me. Maybe I can use it to stand up, walk away and find help. No, it's no use. I'm too weak.

Why? Why must it end like this? I'm not ready to die yet. I'm not ready. End, it mustn't end. I can make it out, I can still live. I just need... Something. Somebody. I need help, I need to live.

I can't breathe, I can't breathe. Everything is so heavy, I can't breathe. I must lay down, yes, I'll just lay down. Much better, at least now I can breathe. A little anyway. That's fine, help will be here soon, I'll just lay here and wait. At least this way I'll spare my energy.

This is it. I know it. This is the end of me, there's no saving me, not anymore. So be it. I'm going to die, I accept it. I have no choice anyway, so I might as well. Just let it be over quickly, I don't want to linger.

I'm cold. I wish there was somebody to hold me or something to warm me. I feel no pain, not any longer, but my body keeps shivering to warm itself up. But I'm still cold.

Goodbye world. Goodbye Maria, Luna, Sakuya, Gracier, Saeko, Artemia, Sera, Lilith, Incursio, Priscilla, and Typhania. No, I can't die without tasting that much.'

Upon reaching Typhania's name he broke free from this illusion and finally assimilated all the energy he had stolen.

Nyx was looking at Alex weirdly because she felt like he managed to survive thanks to a ridiculous reason and there was no way Alex would tell him what he did, how he escaped the illusion, while touching his nose he summoned his status window, he became pleased with what he saw.

"Nice I'm now level 180, just a -" Alex didn't finish his sentence before his stopping and saying.

"He is here."

Upon noticing that Leonardo had taken the bait, Alex couldn't help but feel a little amused as the corners of his mouth perked up.

"After seeing him I should say: It's been while little Leonardo."

It was time to put an end to this drama.

"Nice I'm now level 180, just a -" Alex didn't finish his sentence before he stopped and saying.

"He is here."

Upon noticing that Leonardo had taken the bait, Alex couldn't help but feel a little amused as the corners of his mouth perked up.

"After seeing him I should say: It's been a while little Leonardo."

It was time to put an end to this drama. He had dragged this out for too long as he did with Damien the Holy son he should have killed Leonardo back then but because he was fooling himself by saying that he was sending him to the other side to act as a spy things had been dragged out until this day, however, it was the time to put an end to everything now.

After waking up in real-life Alex went to wake up Kuina, and the latter was overjoyed after hearing that Leonardo arrived, before they left Alex scribbled something on one of the pillars but because it was in a language she had never seen Kuina didn't understand but thinking about it now Alex must have left those words behind to trigger Leonardo if he ever comes but to do that Alex must have done something to force him out.

Although curious she was more interested in those words he left behind therefore she asked.

"Those words what-"

Alex cut her off and replied.

"I wrote 'Va te faire foutre!' which means go fuck yourself."

Upon hearing his explanation, Kuina burst out of laughter.

"Pft hahahaha! I remember hearing somewhere that you said those exact words to the second princess Katharina on your first meeting. How bold of you."

"Yeah! You're right. I stole something very important from Leonardo to push him out. I bet someone must have warned him not to act recklessly but knowing his character now that he gained a bit of strength he will not try to endure any longer, especially after I broke apart our deal." Alex went on explaining because he knew it was what Kuina would ask after he answered her first question.

"I see, no wonder he would come regardless of any warning he received. Let's go put an end to this." Kuina declared before running in Leonardo's direction. He could see how happy Kuina was, probably because among his lovers she would be the one present as he got rid of his old rival, his old enemy Leonardo. While this was not something of importance to Alex, for Kuina it was really important as it meant that she was really important to him and she was the one that brings him more luck and this is something to brag about, especially before Maria.

Upon imagining what face Maria would be making if she bragged about this, Kuina couldn't help but feel a little amused as the corners of her mouth perked up.

'It will be fun, for once I have surpassed you in something.'

ooooooo

A few minutes later the couple arrived at their destination, Leonardo was waiting for them and upon seeing them he glared menacingly at the couple, especially Alex.

"It is been a while little Leonardo, you have become stronger," Alex said while nodding his head, it was like a big brother congratulating his younger brother he hadn't seen in a while and saw how much the latter progressed and was truly happy from the bottom of his heart. However, any present could detect the sarcasm in Alex's words and couldn't help but pity Leonardo this infuriated him more but he managed to calm down while asking Alex.

"Where is Arthur? Where is my Gift?" He asked with bloodshot eyes but Alex simply smiled and his response shocked all those present.

"He is gone. I sent him to his next contractor, someone that will be more fitting to wield him, not a loser like you."

Those present except for a few felt their heart tighten and a chill went down their backs as cold sweat covered their hands and feet; a feeling of unease clawed at their hearts. Just imagining someone being capable of stripping you of your Gift, is a fearful thing and they could not imagine what Leonardo was feeling at the moment, no wonder he could not stay still and disregarded Lilith Ex's order not to do anything at the moment, if there were in his shoes and had their gift stripped away they could never stay still and would do anything to get it back.

Leonardo did expect those words but expectations are one thing while confirmation is another one, he felt immense rage building inside him. He remembered that night, the night Alex visited him severing one of his arms while beating him, somehow he managed to steal his Gift and in despair, he begged for his life promising to do anything to keep his life and recover his Gift and as if Alex had been waiting for this he proposed him a way of his situation and having no other choice than accepting, Leonardo accepted and left his lover behind and went on a suicide mission where he suffered all kind of hardships, all of this to get back to a normal life but this man ruined everything, he deserves a thousand deaths but first let get some payback. Leonardo decided before looking at Alex with a meaningful smile.

Upon seeing this smile Kuina frowned, she got a bad feeling about this while Alex was calm as water, he was curious about what Leonardo was going to throw at him, whatever it would be he was not going to lose his cool.

"Your sister's skin was nice to touch, too bad I'm not into lolicon but I regret it to have stopped Damien from raping her, I should have raped her, we should have," Leonardo said this with a lewd smile.

Kuina felt revulsed by those words and Leonardo's current face.

"You are a lowlife." She spat out but Leonardo smiled.

"Oh thanks, Fox's princess, maybe I should rape you in front of him. I don't mind a secondhand good after all."

"Scum!" Kuina almost exploded upon hearing what Leonardo said but she was more afraid of someone else blowing up, she quickly glanced at her man hoping that he would not fall into Leonardo's trap as it was obviously a trap.

As proof of the anger that he was feeling at the moment, his lips curved upward slightly and a slight smile escaped from his mouth. Just like what happened to many people when their anger reached a certain level, Alex began to laugh softly as he took a step forward.

"It seems that your Sejour (days) on the other side have made you into an imbecile, Leonardo Dixor." Alex declared, of course, he knew what kind of game Leonardo was playing, he would make him regret saying those words, he would strip him of everything before brutally killing him, and he would not be having a nice death. Alex secretly vowed.

"Scum!" Kuina almost exploded upon hearing what Leonardo said but she was more afraid of someone else blowing up, she quickly glanced at her man hoping that he would not fall into Leonardo's trap as it was obviously a trap.

As proof of the anger that he was feeling at the moment, his lips curved upward slightly and a slight smile escaped from his mouth. Just like what happened to many people when their anger reached a certain level, Alex began to laugh softly as he took a step forward.

"It seems that your Sejour (days) on the other side have made you into an imbecile, Leonardo Dixor." Alex declared, of course, he knew what kind of game Leonardo was playing, he would make him regret saying those words, he would strip him of everything before brutally killing him, and he would not be having a nice death. Alex secretly vowed.

"I"

A chill crawled up Leonardo's spine when he met those emotionless eyes, he realized that he might have made a mistake but so what? He had come disregarding other's warnings because he wanted to get his revenge and he got the perfect power for this, especially after assimilating the sacrificial stone he received from his subordinates, he was able to increase his strength, and the current him was sure to come out on top of this fight with Alex even when he was still unable to appraise the other party, he must be using a powerful item to block this, Leonardo concluded.

While he was lost in thought, Alex who drew closer stopped before using his appraisal skill, the reason he advanced was because of this, and upon noticing Leonardo's status, he was secretly shocked, no wonder he was this arrogant, he got the strength to back up but unfortunately, I'm still stronger.

'Still, five levels of difference don't necessarily mean everything.' Alex thought before sending a secret message to Kuina.

[At my signal you will take care of the minions while I will be facing him. Is that good with you?]

[Yes!]

Although shocked by the sudden message Kuina still answered quickly and more importantly she was happy that Alex asked for her opinion. Her love for him increased and if Alex were to check his status he would have been left flabbergasted because currently, Kuina's synchronization rate was increasing.

Alex would have been shocked, wondering if it was this easy to increase his synchro rates. But the truth was this would depend on the target's emotional connection with him and this could increase depending on every subtle action or word our main character take.

Kuina was patiently waiting for Alex's signal and just as she was wondering what this signal going to be it happened.

BANG! BANG! BANG!

Three shoots and three, those were perfect headshots and not even Leonardo who had been vigilant had seen this coming, he helplessly watches as his subordinates got slaughtered before him. This leaves him furious.

"Alexander!!!!!"

"Stop shouting I'm hearing you," Alex said frowning, meanwhile, Kuina had begun launching attacks.

Leonardo's group was soon overwhelmed and as their leader, Leonardo knew he must stay level-headed, so he calmed down, he was sure now from what happened that Alex was slightly stronger than him but he was not that worried because he would be using his unique ability. The ability he acquired after successfully contracting the devil's sword, could be called his new Gift and with it, he awakened an ability only he could use, it was time to test it fully now that the instability ban had been lifted.

Leonardo summoned a pitch-black sword and the moment this sword appeared Alex felt a chill run down his spine he understood that this sword was dangerous, whatever Leonardo was about to do he must not let him accomplish it, however, it was already too late before he could make a move because Leonardo had acted, he pushed thrust the pitch black sword backward while saying.

"Open! The Gates of Hell!!"

As Leonardo shouted the chant, the Devil's sword spun twice on itself.

"Boom—"

Creaking sounds were heard as the bronze gates appeared while glowing in red!

It opened slowly and everyone could see the black flames dancing as terrifying screams and cackles were heard!

The others felt huge oppression coming out of the Gates of Hell!

Kuina held her breath out of fear as she quickly summoned her eight tails plus the phantom image of her ancestor, the gigantic nine tails fox.

She was shocked that Leonardo possessed something so ominous and couldn't help but fear for her man but as soon as she thought this, this thought quickly vanished because she knew that no matter what Alex would prevail, he also possessed something dangerous as well.

"Devil's Transformation!"

Leonardo cackled and his body expanded!

At the same time, a blurry giant silhouette surged out of the Gates of Hell!

No one had the time to look at it closely and it had already entered Leonardo's body!

A tearing sound escaped his throat and his muscles expanded in size, tearing all his clothes!

Devil Horns appeared on his head and black bulging muscles were revealed under the torn clothes!

Leonardo tightened his fist and groaned painfully!

A giant pair of devil wings grew on his back. It was seven to eight feet wide and as he flapped the wings, the wind scratched their faces!

The devil possession ceremony was finally over and he bellowed while gripping his scaled claws.

"Alright... Alexander..it's time for us to play..." Leonardo was getting excited when he felt the immense energy in his body.

Alex was tense, "Hmph, it'll only last for a few minutes at best. You might not defeat me by then!"

"Is it? You can try..."

The moment he said that Leonardo flapped his wings hard and moved at supersonic speed arriving before Alex, he didn't wait and punched him.

Boom!

There was an explosion and dust filled the entire surrounding, his subordinates smiled happy to see them dealing such heavy damage to the enemy but Leonardo frowned because he shouldn't have been like this.

When the dust cleared, Leonardo and his subordinates were shocked to see Alex standing there perfectly fine. Kuina was smiling, happy that Alex was unharmed.

Meanwhile, Alex became taller with long crimson hair, there was a devilish smile on his face as he said.

"It's my turn."

Swoosh!

BOOM!

Leonardo couldn't defend at all against Alex's heavy punch, he saw the punch in slow motion yet he was unable to do anything against it until it touched his jaw and he was pummeled into the sky turning into a star flying to a distant horizon and Alex soon followed.

"It's my turn."

BOOM!

Leonardo couldn't defend at all against Alex's heavy punch, he saw the punch in slow motion yet he was unable to do anything against it until it touched his jaw and he was pummeled into the sky turning into a star flying to a distant horizon and Alex soon followed.

There was a forest twenty kilometers north of their position.

The forest was vast, murky, and lush. Its canopy was dominated by cedar, larch, and rhododendron, and the occasional beam of light that made its way through the canopy allowed for a motley of saplings to monopolize the flat, fertile grounds below.

Thin vines embraced a couple of trees, and a range of flowers, which grew all over the place, stood out against the otherwise unchanging view.

A clamor of animal noises, which were caused by foraging animals, filled the air and were backed by the raging river currents clashing against boulders.

Suddenly, there was a big explosion in the middle of this normal forest.

KABOOOOOM!

A man resembling the devil was slammed onto the ground creating a big crater and naturally this man was none other than Leonardo in the devil's transformation mode. He quickly flipped his body up and was back on his feet, he wiped away the blood dripping from his nose, his eyes were fierce yet they betrayed certain anxiety, he couldn't understand what had just happened, how did he get punched like that, unable to react at all, he was completely overwhelmed almost as if he was facing something from a forgotten past, he who when the first time he obtained this unique ability and tried on and even though he could not control it and it lasted one minute he was still able to beat Lilith Ex at her strongest, it was why his standing in the organization skyrocketed.

So, now that he became capable of controlling this power coupled with his strength he thought Alex could be at his mercy but reality hit him hard. Still not convinced Leonardo called his status window while his injuries were healing at a fast speed and visible rate.

"My current strength is equal to that of a Level 181 so why I'm getting beaten up?" Unable to contain his shock Leonardo voiced this question and Alex in crimson arrived at the scene at that moment, he simply answered.

"Because I'm overpowered."

Gulp!

Leonardo couldn't help but gulp upon getting a glimpse of Alex's current status, the difference was huge, to the extent that it was unfair, it could be considered cheating. Never he would have expected the difference between them to be this huge as if no matter what he did he could never surpass the wall known as Alexander Kael Touch, never and forever he would stand where he couldn't get and this feeling was unpleasant truly unpleasant.

Just as Leonardo was about to shout about unfairness and fight to the bitter end Alex switched mode and said.

"Nemesis's Domain!"

BOOM!

Leonardo was immediately stripped of his strength.

"What the-"

His words were cut off abruptly when his eyes widened. In his pupils was reflected a face approaching at such high speeds that he, a person who had entered the realm closest to the strongest realm in Mysthia couldn't react at all.

BANG!

By then, Alex's punch had brutally pounded onto his chest.

Leonardo's chest caved in, and his back arched out while his body was sent flying breaking many trees before slamming into mountain five kilometers from his previous position.

Boom! Crack!

"Gofuh!"

That mountain was reduced into smithereens while Leonardo's mouth was forced open and he coughed a mouthful of blood.

Alex appeared and lifted the pathetic Leonardo whose body was half-ruined and declared.

"Didn't I say it? You stand no chance because I'm too simply overpowered. I'm tired of playing, I will crush those I can with overwhelming strength or else it will be a shame with all the amazing things I have, so let's begin. As I've promised your death will not be an easy one, struggle the best you can." Alex declared with an eerie smile and Leonardo who thought he knew this man the better was overwhelmed by his current image, there is no way this is the Alex I know, he's fake he kept thinking but Alex didn't give a damn about this like he said Leonardo didn't stand a chance since the beginning, if they had met before his adventure in the strange realm then he could have but even then it would have been fifty-fifty, however now it was different.

He would show him hell before sucking him dry. Alex had decided after his provocation.

"Let me show you what a real devil looks like." Alex's said before activating his devil's eye and under countless pairs of Asura's Devil's eyes, Leonardo was sent into the Illusionary world.

A rumble of thunder in the fog, a creak of wood, and suddenly Leonardo was greeted by a bizarre creature of blood and flesh. Six flaming eyes stare at him with absolute darkness, and another thunder rushes from its fetid mouth in an abysmal surprise.

Four curved horns adorn its skeletal head, which itself has a perpetual grin. A constant snoring escapes the creature's full nostrils set within a serpentine nose.

Its skeletal head sits atop a short, bony body. Otherworldly armor covers every inch of it, but what this means will hopefully remain a mystery.

The creature moves forward slowly, its two legs stumblingly carrying its shadowy body with restless energy. A vine-like tail slithers behind it, it ends in a barbed tip covered in sticky goo.

Two incorporeal wings extend themselves fully. Blackened bones and blistering membranes stretch upward before coming down again with force. Unimpressed eyes still look at Leonardo, for a moment before pouncing on him, he immediately tried to summon his devil's sword but was soon faced with a cruel reality as he was unable to summon it and could only use the most basic form of lightning, almost like the beginning he arrived at the capital.

"Fuck!!!" He roared and this marked the beginning of his nightmare. All of this was happening because he was suffering at the hand of the overpowered Alexander.

'Fuck!!!' He roared and this marked the beginning of his nightmare. All of this was happening because he was suffering at the hand of the overpowered Alexander.

As it was his first time fighting against a demon and he had never faced a such level of illusion, Leonardo was overwhelmed, he suffered greatly when the demon multiplied, turning into three demons.

Suddenly, Leonardo lowered his head, and seemingly having accepted his fate he mumbled.

"I accept. Take over!"

BOOM!

Right after saying those words, a change occurred inside him and this was felt outside.

A frightening power erupted from Leonardo's body like a black hole. His golden hair danced in the tempest of his raging aura while his eyes flashed with a sharp glint.

The demons stopped as they felt a chill crawl up their spine. It was like a sharp metal was piercing their heart, making it difficult for them to breathe.

Fierce winds swept out while cracks snaked out over the ground that targeted the trees nearby. The trees in the vicinity instantly collapsed and crumbled to pieces.

Every part of Leonardo radiated its dominance through his stifling aura and the Illusionnary world soon crumbled with Leonardo back to his body.

"Oh? Already back? You were faster than anticipated and if you couldn't do this much it would have been boring." Alex said, sounding calm but it was only on the outside, the current Leonardo was different from the previous one, there was a dangerous aura radiating from the latter body, a sickening aura that he had felt before but this time it was several folds stronger and denser.

Alex secretly tried to cancel this aura but to his surprise, he seemed to be unable to do, at least not until he spent all his silver energy in this universe there were only two types of energy Silveria couldn't go against, one being her sister's energy as it comes from a different system while the other was from their energy, the chaos energy.

The current Leonardo was totally different, almost as if he had turned into someone else entirely and when Alex checked his current status he was greatly alarmed.

Alex couldn't hide his shock as the current Leonardo could compete against him, his eyes were completely black and just as Alex was about the attack he was forced to stop because of Leonardo's following sentence.

"So you are the one they chose? You're not bad but still too weak."

It was not Leonardo's voice, it was a voice coming from the depth of the abyss, a dangerous voice from an extremely dangerous owner.

So unconsciously he fired a round of bullets at Leonardo, only special bullets.

All bullets were launched in a single moment. The entire area was engulfed in extraordinary bullet radiance like fireworks.

It was beautiful and yet deadly.

In front of these deathly attacks, Leonardo (?) didn't show any emotions. Time seemed to be at a standstill as hundreds of bullets came at him, ready to kill him.

"Annoying."

However, he only stretched his right hand in the air. On the tip of his index finger, a dark glow flashed.

As soon as the glow appeared, the sky instantly dimmed, as if every source of light in this region had been blocked.

Alex's expression turned unsightly and his eyes nearly popped out and he immediately jumped back.

BOOM!

There was an explosion but Leonardo (?) was completely unscathed.

Suddenly, Alex felt an ominous feeling and before he knew it, Leonardo (?) arrived before him sending a punch toward his jaw he dodged before firing a crimson bullet at point-blank range but he simply crushed it inside his palm.

"Your current level is compared to level 184." Leonardo (?) said and Alex felt like all his secrets had been revealed, that the man could see his status entirely and it was true.

"You have some unusual ability but whatever I'm not interested as they couldn't change anything, they are just trash anyway." Leonardo (?) said after looking at Alex's status and he could not help but smile inwardly, he was truly glad that this man whatever his true identity was, wasn't able to deduct that his unique abilities were dangerous, especially his first unique ability and just as Alex was about to say something to distract the man, forcing him not to focus on him for fear of discovering his secrets, the man said something he had once thought about but refused to dwell on because it would be an endless circle and nothing good would come out of this in the end.

"Have you thought why you have been summoned here? Do you think all of this was a coincidence?"

Alex's eyes narrowed dangerously when he heard those words and Silveria began to panic.

[[Master, please don't listen to him.]] Compared to her usual demeanor, she was more panicked and there was a certain anxiety in her voice and Alex could feel but he choose to ignore it and stared at Leonardo (?), the latter smiled, happy to have gotten Alex's attention.

"Do you know how you died? What if it was part of someone's else plans? To use you and the others at some end?" Leonardo (?) fired a bunch of questions but Alex was silent.

At the same time, in another location, outside of Mysthia, in a world strictly reserved for the gods and goddesses, inside their pantheon, a meeting was being held.

One of the gods looked at Mea, the goddess who had been in charge of Alex and his group's reincarnation, and asked.

"Mea, why aren't you doing anything in the current situation?" That god asked and goddess Mea felt compelled to massage her forehead before answering.

"And what could I do? It would aggravate things if I were to move recklessly and besides he is not the real thing. Those present know that it was bait, it would be too foolish to jump in."

That God frowned because what Mea said was not wrong still he couldn't let that man spill everything like that, it might damage their plan.

1088 Chapter 1088

'Mea, why aren't you doing anything in the current situation?" That god asked and goddess Mea felt compelled to massage her forehead before answering.

"And what could I do? It would aggravate things if I were to move recklessly and besides he is not the real thing. Those present know that it was bait, it would be too foolish to jump in."

That God frowned because what Mea said was not wrong still he couldn't let that man spill everything like that, it might damage their plan.

"So we should let him say whatever he wants?" That God asked while looking for assistance from the other Gods but none of them acted which made the god sigh heavily.

"Just let him do whatever he wants, Alexander is not that idiot to get easily fooled so you don't have to worry. Besides, there are some things you can never truly bury as one day they will surface."

Goddess Mea declared while sighing heavily as well.

After saying those words she cut off the connection to Mysthia and the ongoing fight between Alex and Leonardo who was being possessed by a being from the chaos realm was cut off as well.

"Should I use Priscilla just in case things get complicated?" Goddess Mea pondered after leaving the pantheon but soon decided not to do this and just observe how things would unfold.

He didn't have a choice, did he? He has become a player already and his desire to stand at the top didn't change.

Meanwhile, back at Alex's location, he was silently looking at Leonardo (?) as if telling the latter to continue with his story.

"You are being manipulated, even your parent's death was intentional, everything that happened was for you and the others to come here as you're the most perfect choice in the universe."

Leonardo (?) explained and even if this revelation shocked him, Alex didn't let it show on his face as he tilted his face to the side and declared.

"Is that so? But I think with this you have successfully managed to buy enough time for this worthless vessel to adapt a bit to your power."

Leonardo (?) eyes narrowed upon hearing those words as it meant Alex knew what he was trying to do since the beginning but still played along, this left a bad aftertaste in his mouth but Alex was not done yet as he added.

"So better stop your act and bring it."

Alex was secretly shocked by Leonardo's current status even if it was a temporary boost of strength, it was still scary nonetheless, as for those revelations it was not like Alex had never thought about them so he was surprised by the man, there's definitely something weird about everything and he believed with enough time and strength he would find out everything.

"Purgatory - Doomsday!"

Leonardo said coldly. The moment he spoke, every sound disappeared.

The winds stopped flowing, the air froze, and living beings stopped moving. Temporarily, people even lost the right to breathe.

Within the tiny crack, multicolored energy stripes were visible. It was like myriad patterns when seen through a kaleidoscope tube.

Bottomless depth with countless colors flowing in a twisted manner.

Yet, they were no simple colors.

The colors fluctuated with chaotic and turbulent mass. Vague shadows floated in this chaotic mass like demons. Howling winds swept out as if they contained screaming ghosts, inviting the living.

Alex could feel a frightening aura, the aura of death yet he was strangely calm which was disturbing when Leonardo, was about to draw his jet black sword and end Alex's life when his body became frozen, the being he let his body control to tried to escape.

'Nooooo! Why she is here.' He shouted those words and tried to leave quickly as soon as possible but unfortunately, Alex and Nyx had no plan to let either get away, Eterna was launched and wrapped around Leonardo's free wrist while Alex aimed the black gun at him, and silver gun as well.

"As I've said a few minutes ago I'm simply overpowered compared to you, so goodbye."

"The End!"

BANG!

He did not bother listening to Leonardo's words before a black bullet flew out of the black gun, time seemed to have stopped, Leonardo saw his life flashing before his eyes like watching a movie, he regretted his choice, he should have acted differently, chose wisely, nip Alex in the cradle before he becomes this strong. However, there was no way to overcome his current situation and he knows better than anybody, so he continued to watch until the last scene where there was a handsome Leonardo crying because he felt death closing in.

'It's warm, it's warm and it tickles as it makes its way down my body in small rivers of crimson red. What an odd sensation, I'm dying, but it feels warm and ticklish.

Somehow I'm still standing, so maybe, just maybe I will make it. I just have to walk, one step at a time. Come on body, you can do this. Move! It's no use.

I can't take this anymore, somebody finds me already, please! Aah, this is driving me insane. I can't... Somebody... I don't want to die, please help. I can't do this on my own, I'm too weak, I'm too broken.

I can't feel my legs anymore. Everything is starting to feel numb. Maybe I should lie down, yes that would be best. I need to save my energy, there's no use in wasting it like this. If I lay down I will make it out of here alive, I'm sure of it. Somebody will find me soon, so I'll just lie down for now.

I can't move, I can't think, I can't do anything. This can only mean the end for me, I'm beyond the point of no return. I'm going to die... I'm going to die! No, no, no, no, no! Please, I don't want to die.

My entire body is numb, I can't feel any pain, no discomfort, nothing at all. It's kind of nice. It's like my body is sleeping, but I'm not. Maybe I should be sleeping.

Love you, Camilla, I hope we will be together in our next life because I promise to love you and be there unlike in this life."

Those were the last thing Leonardo heard before his world crumbled and death embraced him, in the end, he understood that not even reincarnation was possible for him and he understood why the black gun was feared. He should have awakened something like this, not some worthless hero's sword.

In the end he nothing but just a side character in Alex's story, it was quite funny.

Before everything could disappear Alex used snatch combined with Eterna's ability to devour everything and the result was quite satisfactory.

1089 Chapter 1089

After killing Leonardo, Alex continued to bask in the sunlight. The smell of blood and gore coming from Leonardo's corpse didn't affect him in the slightest.

A few minutes later.

While was busy checking his newly acquired strength he started and frowned.

"Some ants are approaching." He said before closing off his status and right after he did, a group of ten Saint realms experts dressed in black led by a girl who shared some resemblance with Alice arrived and stood up opposite Alex and the young girl asked.

"He is dead? You are the one who killed him right?"

Alex didn't answer, he simply watched while he was stronger than this girl without a doubt there was something in this girl that made him feel apprehensive even if this was their first meeting, he didn't like this girl as if left alone he had the feeling that he would turn into something extremely dangerous.

Finally, Alex understood the origin of this feeling he had, this girl give the same vibe as that monster Incursio but a more dangerous one.

While Alex was silent, lost in thought Lilith Ex was furious, she was biting her lower lip in frustration, this bastard didn't listen to her and the consequence he is dead and now she had to come to clean up and bring his corpse back but she didn't expect to meet Alex here, as the rumors say he was strong but she was not really scared, it was unknown why Lilith was this confident but it just because she had confidence in escaping if she couldn't fight.

While Lilith was secretly making more countermeasures just in case one of her subordinates couldn't take it anymore and he roared.

"She asked you a question or are you perhaps deaf?" He was sure his place in the group would elevate as he stood up for the boss. The others nodded although jealous not having made the first move.

"Hahahahaha!"

Suddenly, a burst of laughter rang in the area. The saints were startled by this sudden development. They brought their eyes to Alex who was laughing as if he has heard the funniest joke.

"Why are you laughing?" The previous man who roared was pissed by his laughter.

Meanwhile, Lilith frowned and started to prepare.

In response to the man's question, Alex placed a hand over his face and chuckled coldly before it happened, he tried to imitate Leonardo's previous move.

A frightening power erupted from Alex's body like a supernova explosion. His black hair danced in the tempest of his raging aura while his heterochromia eyes flashed with a sharp glint.

"Such powerful aura!" Lilith felt a chill crawl up her spine. It was like a sharp metal was piercing her heart, making it difficult for her to breathe. Out of everything she expected none of them could compare to this frightening aura.

Fierce winds swept out while cracks snaked out over the ground that targeted the trees nearby. The trees surrounding them instantly collapsed and crumbled to pieces.

Every part of Alex radiated its dominance through his stifling aura. He was nothing compared to Leonardo, the difference was too big, those Saint realm experts were rooted on the spot and were unable to even move a single step, this frightened them, almost making their souls fly out of their bodies.

It was then Alex acted, he was so fast that except for Lilith none of those Saint realm experts saw his movement, the only thing they heard was the sound of countless gunshots ringing.

BANG! BANG! BANG!!!

And five headless bodies slammed into the ground, forever gone, those who survived almost crumbled and Lilith shivered, this was the fastest death she was seen since coming into the world and her response was also the fastest one since existing.

"Explode!" She ordered and the body of the remaining five saints inflated and exploded, creating beautiful human fireworks, and razing the surrounding, Alex was swallowed while Lilith escaped without a second thought.

1090 Chapter 1090

Lilith who fled after blowing up her subordinates to successfully escape felt goosebumps all over her body because Alex appeared before her perfectly fine.

"You think you can leave after what you have done?" He asked in an icy tone, this girl was really ruthless, sacrificing her subordinates without a second thought.

Lilith didn't answer but instead summoned a black sword and swung it. This simple slash turned into multiple ones.

Howling winds swept as Lilith swung her sword forward.

Every single strike of her was not only imperceptible but it carried a power that was hard to imagine.

Alex had to acknowledge that this girl was talented with a sword but this wouldn't be enough to take him down, he simply increased his speed and moved through the faint gaps like a bolt of lightning, leaving behind afterimages.

Alex was shocked when Lilith's hairs moved on forming sharp braids

The braids slashed through afterimages, shedding them into fragments.

Meanwhile, Lilith gripped her free hand and clutched it tightly. Braids converged together and swept horizontally, drawing a perfect arc, speed amplified.

Alex pointed to Silveria and shot a golden lightning bullet. Like before, her braid cut through his attack and moved upward.

Just as he was about to attack, Lilith gave her all and summoned her domain, her sword moves became sharper but most importantly her hair multiplied and their attacks increased and so did the presence of braids that were now uncountable. From an onlooker's point of view, it looked like blinding-sharp strings moving throughout the domain. It was like a rainfall of blades that carried destructiveness. Most Demigods couldn't survive this if not careful.

In mid-air, Alex has just avoided a net of braids when a braid swept past his head. He ducked to a side but the sharp end brushed his cheek.

RIP

A small slash appeared on his cheek and blood splattered out.

He brought a finger to the wound and cleaned the fresh blood dripping from his face. His eyebrows knitted and a cold light flashed in his eyes.

Lilith who was secretly planning her next escape smiled upon seeing the wound on Alex's cheek, her braids carried some poison, and maybe it could affect him she hoped but this hope was soon washed away seeing Alex's wound immediately closing and he was perfectly fine, she was about to say it was unfair but when she noticed him looking at her, a chill crawled up her senses.

His gaze was like that of an ancient predator looking at dead prey.

Half of her body was instantly paralyzed by an innate fear. Her face went pale and she spat out a mouthful of blood.

She forcefully bit her tongue to regain her senses.

"What was that?" She couldn't believe just a gaze could terrify to her such an extent. Most importantly she felt the presence of a third eye in the middle of Alex's forehead, it was this that terrified her.

She had to do something and asap that is. She had to survive.

Therefore Lilith sent another set of braids for attack when she felt death trying to caress her soul, she threw caution to the wind and created multiple clones, detonating them and escaping into the ground this time, she didn't dare to stop, she gave her all and she felt relieved upon sensing Alex not giving her a chase. She might survive at this rate and once it happened she would go into hiding, completely awaken and later get her revenge. It would be sweet she thought but in the next moment a terrifying aura locked her underground and she was unable to move, the next thing she heard was his voice.

"The End!"

And a bullet coming from nowhere slammed into her back, crushing her soul, she was dead.

A few minutes later, Alex who burned Leonardo's body and buried his ashes under Silveria's suggestion was sitting on a boulder checking his status window again.

And a few minutes later night arrived and Alex returned, he was tired after everything that happened today. He was hoping that they would react after losing two important members today. He would sip alcohol before sleeping, he felt like he needed it.
