1131 Chapter 1131

Lionheart's capital, in a certain house.

From the outside, this house looks posh and extravagant. It has been built with white stones and has poplar wooden decorations. Small, half-rounded windows add to the overall style of the house and have been added to the house in a very asymmetric way.

The house is equipped with a large kitchen and one modern bathroom, it also has a cozy living room, two bedrooms, a grand dining area, a playroom, and a small basement.

The building is shaped like a short U. The two extensions extend into stylish gardens to each side.

The second floor is bigger than the first, which creates a stylish overhang on one side of the house. This floor has a slightly different style than the floor below.

The roof is low, triangular, and layered and is covered with red ceramic tiles. Two large chimneys poke out of the center of the roof. Several small windows let in just enough light to the rooms below the roof.

The house itself is surrounded by a well-kept garden. Grass, flower patches, and trees have been placed stylishly.

This is Leon's house he bought recently. The couple ended their date and they are now in a bedroom when Ariel asked for a massage.

"I want you to massage my whole body." She said with pursed lips.

Leon sighed, "Yes, of course. But I will massage your back first, okay?"

She beamed with a nod.

She scuttled towards the bed in a lively manner and laid over it with her face facing the bed, and her arched back was completely laid bare before Leon.

"I am ready!" Ariel said in a spirited tone as she closed her eyes, anticipating Leon's hands massaging her body.

He gulped, seeing such a bewitching naked beauty lying vulnerably on the bed.

'Oh, Kefira do you have to torture me like this...' He wryly sighed as he moved closer.

From a certain angle, he could even see her pure pink pussy without a single hair which looked extremely tantalizing to him.

He could feel his dick hardening with just a glance at her honeypot and wondered if this was what Ariel wanted him to feel. However, he calmed down as both knew how things gonna end tonight so he just take it slow.

He took the oil bottle before pouring some on his hand and rubbed his hands together as he spread the oil between his hands, preparing to massage Ariel's back.

Ariel was lying down with her face facing the bed, and there was an excited smile on her, waiting for him to massage her.

He decided to massage her upper body first. He saw her delicate nape and applied oil over it while giving her a good massage.

Ariel's lips arched, even more, feeling his warm hands and the soothing sensation of the oil as it spread over her neck.

His hands worked like magic, and she was starting to feel rejuvenated and relaxed. Leon was good at massages he had to learn to be good at it because his sister loved the massage.

After being done massaging her nape, he moved on to her shoulder blades and velvety back.

Her skin felt as soft as butter, and Leon felt that his hands were melting into her skin.

"Mhmm..." Ariel let out a low moan of pleasure as she felt really good as he massaged her back. She never thought his massage would feel so good, more than she expected.

His hands stroked over her neck and pressed them gently while rubbing and twisting her muscles.

He traced and massaged her spine after massaging her exquisite shoulders. With the right amount of strength, he pressed over her muscles, relaxing and increasing the blood flow.

After massaging her middle back, he moved down to her lower back, and he could see her alluring buttocks laying bare just below his hands.

He massaged her hips and along the sides of her ribs while feeling how smooth and curvy her hips were. He was happy that all of this belongs to him, solely to him.

Leon decided to massage her legs first before moving on to her butt. Ariel felt Leon moving over to her legs and asked with a sly grin. "You did not massage my buttocks. Why is that?"

Upon hearing this question Leon's eyes widened and he softly chuckled, "I know. Let me do your legs first. Don't worry. I won't leave out any areas."

Leon massaged under her feet, and Ariel squirmed her body slightly, feeling ticklish under her feet.

-n0ve1、 com He moved upwards to her calves and pressed on her muscles with moderate pressure.

"Mhmm...it feels good..." She muttered, feeling gratified by his massage.

He moved on to the back of her soft thighs, and as he massaged them, he could see a part of her enticing pink fold and let out a helpless sigh.

Finally, after massaging her legs, his hands slowly crawled towards her silky buttocks and pressed them as her buttocks filled his palms. He felt as if he was massaging a soft pillow and didn't feel like taking off his hands at all.

"Ahnmm...." She felt more excited when he started to massage her buttocks.

Leon's hands didn't seem shy as he didn't want to give a half-hearted massage. He kneaded her butt cheeks, and as she did, he could see her cute butt hole coming into view.

He knew the trigger points and the areas where one could feel soreness and massaged those areas on her butt thanks to the research he had done.

Leon pushed his fingers against her tense muscles, helping them release and relax. He placed his hands at the top of her buttocks and fanned them up and out, following the natural roundness.

"Mnnnn...."

He continued the outward rub around to the sides and back up around, in a circular motion. He pulled up on the sides and kneaded the fleshy areas on the top, making Ariel let out a low moan.

He moved his fingers into her butt's inner cheeks, and suddenly Ariel felt her body becoming warm for no reason. His fingers almost slipped into her honeypot, but he somehow managed not to.

She felt it so pleasuring that she wished Leon's hands never stopped moving in those areas.

Since he saw Leon enjoying her butt massage, he massaged her butt longer than he planned to.

But he couldn't help his cock from waking up, and he could see a slight bulge on the towel he had tied across his waist.

He never thought it would be torturous and controlled the urge to eat her up on the spot.

Looking at her buttocks Leon had an impulse to slap them thus he asked.

"Can I slap your butt?"

Ariel was shocked by the sudden demand but she didn't need need to think for too long before nodding.

"Go ahead."

Leon smiled while looking at her tender and juicy buttocks glistening with the oil he had applied. It looked as glossy as the finest silk. Her entire back now looked glassy as a well-polished marble.

He raised his hand and lightly spanked her butt, making her butt cheeks ripple slightly.

"Oooh...Harder..." She mewled out.

Pah

He had an amused smile, and this time he gave a little more force as he spanked her butt, letting out a wet sound of her butt being spanked.

"Ann....little harder...."

Leon raised one of his brows and thought that she needed his spanks to be more forceful because of her tough body.

He raised his hand and, this time, put more force into it than ever before just as he slapped her butt.

PAH!

"Mhnnnnn...that was great keep up!" Ariel whimpered in satisfaction, feeling a pleasurable feeling as Leon smacked her butt. She was already starting to feel feverish as her body was becoming hotter. Her tail twitched.

He felt like he should not be surprised and saw that her butt cheeks were slightly reddened. However, he thought that with her tough body, she could take it, and was not uncomfortable for her since he could see the foolish smile on her face.

PAH! PAH! PAH!

A few spanking sounds resounded in the bathroom, and Damien finally said.

"Okay, enough of enjoying your butt spans. Now turn around."

With a cute peevish expression, Ariel twisted her body around and was now lying on her back. However, she was satisfied with Leon massaging her back and spanking her butt, realizing that it was way better than she expected.

She could feel her back muscles completely relaxed and fresh as if she was resting for days.

Leon helplessly shook his head, seeing her petulant expression. However, now that she was lying on her back, he could see her naked upper body completely, including her pure honeypot. It looked so beautiful and cute at the same time that he was tempted to stroke it at least once.

And the other alluring sight that caught his eyes was her succulent boobs which looked extremely seductive, especially with the protruding rose-pink cherries on top of it.

In contrast to her skin, her nipples seemed to have a pale reddish and pinkish hue and seemed more erect than normal nipples.

He walked over to near her head and lowered his head.

"You are a real piece of art, you mine."

Ariel felt a sweet feeling bubbling inside her and she started to feel horny, her animal instincts were about to take hold of her. Tonight is the night they will unite.

In contrast to Ariel's skin, her nipples seemed to have a pale reddish and pinkish hue and seemed more erect than normal nipples.

Leon walked over to near her head and lowered his head.

"You are a real piece of art, you mine."

Ariel felt a sweet feeling bubbling inside her and she started to feel horny, her animal instincts were about to take hold of her. Tonight will be the night they will unite, however, he has to finish what he started, he must massage her until the end. It was time to move to her arms therefore Leon took one of her slender arms and started spreading oil over it. From her hands, he went upwards to her upper arm and then her underarm, which made Ariel let out a small giggle feeling ticklish.

He did the same with her other arm and decided to finally move on to her upper body, which he thought was going to test his limits.

He massaged her shoulder and her delicate collarbones, and when his hand reached her upper boobs, he hesitated a bit.

But when she opened her eyes and looked at him with squinted eyes, he sighed and cupped her beautiful mounds and felt as if he was squeezing soft ripe peaches.

"Ahhnn...it feels so strangely good..." Ariel let out a seductive moan and felt that Leon's skillful hands were making her blood hot.

Meanwhile, Leon felt and saw Ariel's rosy pink buds becoming erect, and they looked so perky that he inadvertently gulped while trying to control his restless cock from busting out of its confine.

Her boobs now looked shiny and even more enticing and he found it hard to move his hands away from her boobs.

"My love, for some unknown reason my nipples feel funny. Can you do something about it?" Ariel asked innocently.

And Leon knew what the funny feeling was, and he grasped her rosy pink buds between his fingers and pinched them. He might have many achievements under his belt when it comes to women but he was not inexperienced, so he knew what to do in a situation like this.

As expected his action generated a response.

"Anhhh... This feels good please more... I want more."

Like a cat in heat, Ariel mewled in a needy way.

This made Leon wonder if she was hornier than he expected. He felt that he was getting affected by her horniness. He pinched and twisted her nipples around while massaging them with his fingers gently as he could.

Ariel could feel the blood rushing towards her breasts, especially her nipples, and felt even more gratified. Her tail coiled and danced around wildly to show its joy.

Leon soon moved towards her belly before he got aroused too much and massaged her stomach, including her midriff, circularly, he did this a few times.

She pressed her lips together, thinking that her breasts needed more attention but decided to let Leon do his thing.

She was already feeling a bit dazed with all the special massage treatment she was getting as he seemed to know how to massage even the most sensitive spots on her body.

She also felt the oil was doing its job as it was supposed to on her skin. She felt that her lower regions were getting warmer and tingling feeling, especially when Leon's hands massaged her erogenous zones.

Just as he finished massaging her pretty and slim waist, he decided to massage her feet first before entering the uncharted zone.

He massaged her slender legs and knees circularly before moving on to her lower thighs.

He pressed and squeezed her juicy thighs, feeling how satisfying it was to massage them.

Finally, as his fingers slithered towards her pelvis, he could see her pink folds twitching just as his fingers passed through its sides.

"Ohhhh..." Ariel jerked her body slightly when Leon's hands passed through the sides of her honeypot without touching it.

Leon massaged the area above her vagina and slid his fingers over her inner thigh near her honeypot.

Despite Leon not touching her honeypot, Ariel was feeling stimulated all over by his touches that she felt as if something was building up in her lower regions.

"I am feeling itchy down there...do something..."

"Okay, leave it to me." He responded as he knew what that 'itchy' feeling was. He decided to play it safe and massage the area just outside her pussy.

His fingers traced along the skin near her pink folds and pressed them gently as his fingers moved in an up-and-down motion.

"Ahhhhh...more..." Ariel felt that Leon massaging near her pussy was the best pleasuring feeling she had ever felt. It was like each time his fingers passed just outside her pink folds; she felt an electric jolt from her vagina passing through her body.

Her face was already starting to get flushed, and her eyes were becoming hazy while her fingers grabbed the bedsheet.

But Leon was having a hard time stopping his cock from getting any bigger. The more he stroked over her soft skin near her pink folds, the more he got tempted.

As he stroked, he could see her pink folds spreading, folding in and out, and a clear view of her vulva.

He also noticed that she was getting wet already, and there were signs that she was going to orgasm soon.

Within just a few moments of him stroking near her pussy, she felt trails of fire from her vagina overwhelming her body, making her body jerk.

"Leon, something is coming! Ahnnnnnggg!!" Ariel let out a loud moan just as Leon saw her love juices spurting out and wetting the bed, including his hands.

He got even more turned on seeing her orgasm before him and the pleasant smell of her juice on his hand.

Ariel's breath was heavy, her breasts were moving up and down, she felt a little dizzy after orgasming for the first time. She didn't understand completely what just happened but loved the sensation and pleasure she felt before the release.

Ariel's breath was heavy, her breasts were moving up and down, and she felt a little dizzy after she had an orgasm for the first time. She didn't understand completely what just happened but loved the sensation and pleasure she felt before the release.

Seeing Ariel's face, the confusion inside her eyes as she experienced her first orgasm and was clueless. Leon chuckled and decided to explain to her what she had experienced.

"What you felt is called an orgasm. It is something you release when you feel pleasure and feel very comfortable."

Upon hearing Leon's explanation Ariel's eyes flashed, and she said in a spirited tone, "I want to feel that again. I want to have another orgasm please!"

She felt like she might get addicted to this feeling and Ariel is the type of person to try new things and especially if it is something that makes her feel joy.

Looking at those burning eyes, trying to pierce him Leon knew finally the time has come and his eyes inadvertently moved towards her succulent lips as his head lowered down. He moved his finger away and cupped her cheek as his lips intertwined with hers.

"Mhnnn..." Ariel's brows raised when Leon suddenly started kissing her when she didn't even expect it.

However, her brows relaxed, and instead, her expression became radiant, feeling over the moon as this kiss signified that they would finally unite, becoming one. Since falling in love with him, she had been wanting this.

Ariel put her hands around his neck and pulled him in even closer to taste him more and feel more of his scent. She never felt happier in her life and wished that this moment could continue forever.

Leon's eyes were closed as he passionately kissed her while not minding her clumsy attempts at trying to kiss him back.

He sucked on her juicy lips as if he still didn't taste enough of her lips. He could feel Valentina's nails raking through his hair while she could feel her heart racing as if there was no tomorrow.

After kissing her fervently for at least a minute, his lips separated from hers, and he looked at her endearingly.

He said with a loving smile, "I love you, Ariel."

Once more he declared his love to her and she responded with the same fervor in his voice as he declared his undying love.

"I love you too Leon."

She then pulled his head closer and started kissing him fervently while hugging his neck firmly, as if she didn't want him to go anywhere.

She was not satisfied with just one kiss and wanted more. Her first kiss already made her feel on top of the world. So how could she not want more?

Leon inwardly smiled and reciprocated her kiss with the same fervor. He pushed his tongue inside her mouth, and Ariel separated her teeth to let him do whatever he wanted, it is his right and he was more experienced.

Leon swirled his tongue around hers as Ariel tried to imitate his motions. His mouth was sucking on her rosy lips as he played with her tongue.

Ariel's heart was prancing about with too much passion and excitement. She was squirming her legs as she could feel her lower regions becoming wet again.

She was getting obsessed with the taste of his mouth and tongue, and the scent of his blood seemed more intense.

She felt like her senses were being attacked by pleasure from all sides.

After kissing her sensually for a while, Leon pulled out her tongue with his mouth and sucked on it.

She loved the feeling of Leon sucking on her tongue and decided to do the same by sucking on his tongue.

After tiring their mouth by sucking each other's tongues, he separated his lips and said in a raunchy tone.

"Now let me taste your exquisite body."

Immediately after saying those words which sent a jolt of electricity through her spine, Leon got on the bed with his knees placed on either side of Ariel's stomach.

It seemed like he was sitting on top of her but didn't sit on her stomach. Instead, he rested his body on his knees and moved his body forward.

Ariel grinned with excitement, anticipating feeling how Leon was going to love her body.

Meanwhile, Leon raised her arms and placed them above her, and seeing her glistening body, his mouth watered.

Leon then gave Ariel a peck on her lips and sucked on the skin of her neck while kissing it. It seemed so gratifying to taste her skin that he didn't know if it was because of the oil. However, he felt that even without the oil, he would be feeling the same.

Ariel closed her eyes as she indulged in the pleasure she was feeling under Leon's care. He licked and kissed all over her neck before moving down.

He dipped his tongue into her exquisite collarbones and bit on it. Ariel let out a faint giggle feeling a little ticklish from his tongue. He kissed her arm as he moved over to her beautiful breasts. Seeing those delicate and artful rosy pink buds, he released her hands and cupped both of her velvety breasts.

He kneaded her boobs for a while before moving his mouth toward one of her nipples. Since her nipples were longer than usual, he found it very satisfying to suck on them and stretched them upwards with his mouth.

"Mmmmm...suck my other nipple..." She couldn't get enough of Leon sucking on her nipples.

Leon started sucking her other nipple as well and bit on it lightly.

"Ohnnnn..." Ariel mewled in pleasure as Leon bit her nipples.

She played with his hair as he kept sucking her breasts.

"Suck them harder..." She demanded heatedly.

Leon felt obligated to follow his fiancée's demand.

He squeezed her slippery and wet boobs harder and sucked on them vehemently. He then pressed her boobs together and tried to suck on both her nipples at the same time.

-n0ve1、 com "Ahn!" Ariel moaned sensually, getting a kick out of Leon intensely playing with her breasts, and at the same time, she orgasmed. She felt fuzzy after her second orgasm, but she didn't mind having orgasms and instead loved how it feels right before an orgasm.

"Ah! Ah! It's now my turn to please you." Ariel declared before taking hold of his cock after he skillfully undressed.

1134 Chapter 1134

Ariel first licked Leon's glans, and with one fell swoop, she suddenly took his whole cock into her mouth, which surprised him as he didn't expect her to take in his whole cock like a meat stick.

Her mouth almost took in more than half of his cock, and he wondered if her mouth was that big. A couple of centimeters more, and she would have deepthroated his cock.

Ariel bobbed her head in and out as she took her own sweet time sucking his hot cock while stroking it with her hands.

She sucked while tonguing his cock and stared into his eyes with a loving expression. Seeing her seductive face and feeling his cock being sucked in her hot and wet mouth, he got even more turned on and clutched her head.

Leon didn't know whether he should be surprised or not as she was a genius she quickly managed not to let her teeth scrape his cock. She didn't even take much time to get used to sucking his cock.

Ariel could taste some slimy and warm liquid in her mouth, which she already swallowed like nectar because of how delightful its taste seemed to her.

She couldn't believe that she missed such a tasty thing all this while. But she was glad that from now on, at least she would be able to taste his heavenly cock as much as she wants.

She moved her mouth back and swirled her tongue around his glans, and tightened her lips at times. Her mouth moved a bit forward and gave a gentle tiny bite just behind his glans before sucking his glans.

All this happened with so much gentleness that Leon almost wasn't able to bear it. He wondered how Ariel was becoming an expert in this so fast.

And the longer Ariel played with his cock, the more he felt like he was being melted in a paradise of warmth, wetness, and softness.

While Ariel was playing with his cock Leon played with her hair which had already come loose, and complimented her, "You are doing very well, Ariel. So good...Nghhh..."

Ariel felt gleeful and more excited seeing his intoxicated expression, knowing that she was pleasuring him well.

Her pussy was already dripping again and became even hotter the more she sucked his hot rod.

She made a suctioning motion and felt his cock suddenly becoming slightly bigger and throbbing.

"I am going to cum...Unghhh..." Leon groaned out as he clutched her head tighter and shot his load inside her mouth.

She prepared herself swiftly and took in his warm cum, and gulped it all down without hesitation. A wet strand of saliva stuck to her mouth from his glans as she took her mouth out to swallow.

She stroked her lips with her fingers, collecting all the milk outside her lips and swallowing them. She didn't want to let his precious baby-making milk go to waste and felt that his drink's taste was as delightful just as his blood!

Though it was not the same feeling, it was a different kind of sensation and pleasure she got from swallowing his cum.

Seeing some of his cum and her saliva still dripping from his glans, she lovingly held his cock and licked it clean. She ran her tongue up and down his cock till the end of his shaft and lifted his cock up to lick under it from top to bottom.

"Oohhh...very nice..." Leon let out a gratified groan while moving his head up just as she sucked at the base of his cock.

Ariel saw his glistening balls and fondled them before starting to suck on them.

It was as if she was sucking his balls into her mouth and biting them gently as she kept on stroking his hot cock.

She pulled his balls upwards slightly with her mouth as she gobbled and nibbled on them like a hungry rabbit.

Leon's heart was soaring in ecstasy and love as Ariel's kept on servicing his balls. She also lifted his balls and licked underneath them before suctioning them into her mouth.

All this simulation was making him dizzy, and his cock was only getting more vibrant.

After licking and playing with his balls for a few minutes, she decided to take in his cock completely, this time with full determination.

With reddened lips, Leon saw her mouth enveloping his cock again, and his brows raised when she grabbed his hips and pulled him in, making his cock go deep into her throat.

"Guh..." Ariel made gagging sounds, but she didn't stop, and Leon didn't also stop her seeing that she was trying to get used to it. It was as if gagging didn't bother her at all.

He instead pulled her head in as his cock almost went down her throat. Within a couple of seconds, she got used to his cock deep in her throat and sucked it hard, making him close his eyes, indulging himself in the amazing pleasure.

'So good.' Leon inwardly howled as he felt the wet and slippery sensation in her mouth.

Even though she was gagging, she didn't stop, and Leon kept thrusting his cock inside her mouth as if he was banging her mouth.

He was almost having the same pleasure as if he was banging a pussy and felt that he would be cumming any minute.

Wet sounds from her mouth sounded out as Ariel passionately kept on sucking his hot cock like a delicious sweetmeat.

Leon was banging her mouth fairly deep, and when he felt he was about to cum, he pulled her head closer and shot his load right inside her throat.

She had already swallowed most of his semen just as he cummed, and there wasn't any need for her to swallow them herself.

Finally, Leon slowly took his cock out and felt that there was still some cum about to come out. So he stroked his cock in a fast manner, and Ariel saw more of his cum spurting out toward her face.

He cummed all over her face, and she kept her mouth open as if she wanted to drink the rain of hot semen showering on her. He tapped his cock all over her face as his cum spurted out.

Ariel took all the cum on her face and licked it all up before licking his hot cock clean as well.

She then held his cock and said in a low voice as she looked at him, "I want this inside me."

Leon's cock became erect like never and his nostril flared up like an enraged bull.

He lifted her and turned her around, her juicy butt facing him.

Pah!

"Anh!"

He slapped her buttocks before stretching her butt cheeks to penetrate her pussy.

His hot cock easily plunged into her wet pussy breaking her hymen, and he thrust his cock deep, touching her cervix.

"Aannng~" Ariel let out a sensual moan feeling the sudden thrust of his thick cock into her pussy and how her pussy walls were being forced to expand to accommodate such a large cock. The pain of losing her virginity hit her hard and blood dripped on the bed proof of her losing her virginity.

Leon stayed silent for a moment, their tails coiled around each other, sharing warmth and after a moment passed Ariel told him that he could move, he could go on a rampage.

He took both her arms and folded them behind her as he started to pummel her from behind.

Feeling her arms being restricted, Ariel whose senses were soon overwhelmed by pleasure after the initial pain felt a new sense of thrill as she kept moaning from ecstasy.

Leon was feeling more turned on as his cock was getting massaged between her pussy walls and loved the pleasurable squeezing of her narrow cave on his cock.

Ariel's boobs bounced from his vigorous thrusts, and her body was becoming redder as minutes passed. She could feel her blood burning with lust, and her eyes were becoming misty as if she was in seventh heaven.

"I am coming, Nghh!" Leon called out with a grunt as he washed her pussy walls with his spurts of hot semen after pushing his hips forward to the maximum.

"Ahhhnn~" Ariel also orgasmed at the same time, and they both stood in the same position for a while, absorbing each other's essences.

Still keeping his cock inside her pussy, Leon pulled her body towards him and kissed her back, and whispered in her ears. "You liked it?"

"I loved it!" Valentina said with a lewd smile, her eyes completely hazy.

"Then let's see go for a few more rounds, my tigress," Leon chuckled as he moved his hips back to continue pummeling an excited Ariel.

It was as if this was not their first time having sex. Their union let them go wild as they mated like beasts in heat.

The bedroom was soon filled with sensual hot air while their moans and grunts echoed for the whole night.

It was already the next morning when two naked cuddling figures stirred awake. It has been one hell of an unforgettable night for the two lovebirds, time to concentrate on increasing their strength.

1135 Chapter 1135

Alex who woke up after another premonition thanks to his right eye was gasping for breath, his body was drenched with sweat. He went to freshen up before going to bed.

He was becoming scared of sleeping as he was afraid of having another premonition. He was still uncertain what his premonitions meant, to put it more bluntly he still doesn't know how to use this ability nor how to trigger it. Just that recently he seemed to be having them a lot.

"Sigh! Hopefully, what I see doesn't happen, especially the last premonition." He wished before closing his eyes while hoping to get another premonition. Alex has the feeling that there is something beyond the premonitions, something he could use.

After closing his eyes, he poured mana into his right eye, and like a bottomless pit, it swallowed everything before dragging Alex's consciousness somewhere.

It was in a middle of a battlefield.

Several rays of coalesced radiance erupted, aiming at the enemy from all directions. Lilith wielded twin swords, expanding the black wings at her back and emanating the matchless, dazzling brilliance of the sun that enveloped her like a circular, protective screen. The Empress held the swords high, releasing two golden blade rays that flitted across the air alongside blustering winds, and headed straight into the dark clouds. Upon hitting the dense layer of cloud, it shrunk as though it were pricked by needles, before rolling away and letting out roaring thunder in its retreat. Meanwhile, erupted purple lightning bolts that struck the defensive shield she had deployed in advance. However, the purple bolts of lightning were deflected quickly and at the same time, Artemia extended and swung her arm to the side with a sword in hand.

Along with this movement, the horizon had as though been split into half. The formidable strength of the moon coalesced into an indestructible blade ray that swept across the entire sky into the thick layer of cloud. This attack was so powerful that the massive cloud almost split open in two. The crack in its middle was forcibly pulled apart by external forces. Whistling blade airflows penetrated the opening and ripped apart the tumbling cloud. At a glance, there was now an obvious crack on its surface.

"———!"

A deafening roar like a raging billow echoed in the clouds. Just the soundwaves alone were enough to shake the land. The clouds shrunk once again, merging into an enormous tornado from the human-shaped giant. Tremendous cold winds rose from the ground and formed a strong, sturdy barrier.

"Continue to give your all! It hasn't woken up from the seal yet. Use this chance to defeat it!"

Alex commanded while extending his arm forward. In this motion, an enormous cannon emerged from the horizon in a loud rumble, spurting steam from its cannon opening. Then, in an ear-deafening explosion, the scarlet blast released from the magic cannon aimed straight at the opening of the clouds slashed open by Artemia. In an instant, the tightly-contracted clouds rolled and swelled up like a balloon. At a glance, one could see coatings of scarlet inside the dark cloud as though it were bleeding. At the same time, the group heard an indignant wail.

After being attacked continuously, he was immensely enraged. After all, it was sealed for many years. He finally had the chance to be awake and yet was slammed in the face before he woke up entirely.

At Bahamut's furious snarl, the huge dense cloud changed its shape once again. It pounced on the ground and in just a few seconds, covered it. Then, it shrunk all of a sudden and as though being filtered through, the cloud disappeared and was replaced by a dozen fully-armored, mysterious beings which seemed like mages and knights. Not only that but Alex was also astonished to realize that these creatures were of different races.

Humans, demons, and even elves.

Alex exclaimed inwardly. Even though they looked different, there was something similar about them. Be it which race they were, their bodies were shrouded in black mist.

Swish———!

But this wasn't the time to be distracted. As soon as the mystifying creatures were summoned, they leaped and pounced on the group swiftly in trails of afterimages.

"Be careful!"

Without the need to guess, Alex knew that these guys were former powerful adventurers and other various powerhouses dead under the Chaos Organization's claws. Even though its strength decreased greatly, it gained an advantage in numbers as a result. Judging from this decision, it went to show that Bahamut wasn't naive at all. More importantly, these enemies weren't easy to deal with either. They had far more experience than ordinary people, and even they had to act cautiously against them.

Swoosh

Right after Rhode yelled, three figures appeared before him—a human soldier clad in armor, an elf knight donned in heavy armor, and a demon wielding a menacing-looking sword—all three of them surrounded him and attacked without saying a word.

The instant Alex witnessed the shimmering blade rays flashing at him, he knew the situation was far from good. He leaped back and along in this retreat he fired a round of bullets.

However, the enemy was able to deflect the bullet to Alex's dismay.

"Sera, can you take care of them?"

Rhode asked Sera who fighting nearby, he was clutching his knives while staring at the three enemies who had released their formation as soon as their assaults missed. Upon hearing his question, Sera responded.

"... I'm sorry, but they need assistance elsewhere, I'll be going over there."

Upon hearing Sera's response Alex couldn't help but twitch his brows. He wanted to let someone take care of them while he would observe the battlefield, preparing for countermeasures.

"You want to take me down with numbers?!"

As the three enemies pounced on him again, Alex let out a snort. He extended his arms swiftly. The two silver daggers appeared in his hands before they transformed into two shiny blade rays that flew ahead and penetrated two of them. At the same time, he swung his right arm to the side. A black chain appeared and coiled around his hand before transforming into a signature black chain overflowing with murderous intent. Eterna had appeared and shot forward.

In this crisp sound, the black chain disintegrated and took shape into a pitch-black viper that snapped its jaw open. The coordination in this move was seamless from the moment Alex hurled the twin daggers forward to after he summoned Eterna. As though measured perfectly, the three blades of unique sizes struck at the three enemies respectively. Facing this retaliation from Alex, the three enemies didn't fluster at all. They gripped and brandished their swords at the blades.

However, as they almost parried Alex's attack, a dazzling white radiance flickered before them. The blades that they were about to resist had disappeared and were now replaced by the emergence of two persons.

The maneuvers of Zwei and Drei were like reflections in the mirror. They chuckled and their wide, long black robe fluttered in the air despite the shimmering blades seemingly puncturing their bodies. What was strange was that even though there wasn't anything wrong with the attacks from the human and elf, and their weapons had hacked into the two, there wasn't any spraying blood or painful sensation at all. The weapons had swung into the phantoms of the two and couldn't hit anything at all. But it was apparent that the human and elf were experienced fighters too. Upon realizing something was off, they turned over and raised the weapon before them immediately.

But it was all too late.

The shadowy figure of the Grim Reaper flitted across them in a flash. Zwei and Drei extended their right arms forward. The hidden razor-sharp blade inside their sleeve ejected and penetrated the enemies' throats. Then, they jumped and spun in midair like a dancer, before giggling and vanishing into thin air.

On the other hand, the demon didn't have it any easier. Facing Alex's attack, the demon slashed the sword from above. However, Alex flipped his wrist around swiftly. The Black chain extended to revolve and wrap around the demon's blade. The demon tried to retract the sword and retreat when suddenly, pitch-black light erupted in the place where the black chain should have been. A black mist soon covered the area.

At the next moment, Incursio emerged from the black mist with a sinister laugh. She stretched out her right hand and gripped the demon's skull. Before the latter reacted, three blades of black metallic sheens flew out of her sleeve and bundled the demon's neck. She tugged her right arm back, plucking the battle angel's skull out of its body. The headless body swayed before collapsing to the ground completely.

"You want to take me down with numbers? If it's number I also have them."

"Summons!"

And from her shadow, countless things emerged.

"Leave this area to me and you should get ready, he is coming, Thanos with the core members. Typhania and others are waiting for you." Incursio declared urging Alex to leave and as if this served as some kind of signal, Alex woke up in the real world but it was still dark outside.

"I know what to do. I will use these premonitions to create countermeasures."

Finally, he had found a meaning for the premonitions he had and what to do, it was certain that his action will change the future he saw but at least he would face things prepared unlike when he was clueless. This might be the key to their survival, the key to their victory.

"Typhania and others are waiting for you." Incursio declared urging Alex to leave and as if this served as some kind of signal, Alex woke up in the real world but it was still dark outside.

"I know what to do. I will use these premonitions to create countermeasures."

Finally, he had found a meaning for the premonitions he had and what to do, it was certain that his action will change the future he saw but at least he would face things prepared unlike when he was clueless. This might be the key to their survival, the key to their victory. He started preparing countermeasures but first, he had to get a good rest and if possible see the end of that premonition to get as much information as he could.

oooooo

Alex reappeared in the middle of the battlefield, he didn't immediately disappear following Incursio's apparition.

He saw something while he was about to leave.

"Hmm?"

At that moment, he suddenly noticed the three corpses breaking down into black mist and spiraling in midair for their escape. Looking at this scene, he recalled the history shared by Lilith.

Trying to escape?!

He was about to intervene but was stopped by Incursio glaring at him.

Gazing at the hovering black mist, she swung her right arm. Along with this movement, a silver-whitish sword replaced the pitch-black sword she was holding.

Incursio flourished the sword and silver-whitish flames emanated from the blade instantly lit the black mist. The flames were as though a monster widening its mouth to devour the fleeing black mist entirely. Shortly after, the black mist swelled up rapidly and at the same time, a mournful and blood-curdling scream erupted. Alex witnessed the silver-whitish flames explode in a loud bang. The black mist within it was nowhere to be seen anymore.

Seems like it worked rather well.

Looking at the result of her attempt, Alex narrowed his eyes. After all, in Lilith's history, the black mist seemed to react strongly against the battle holy light. This would mean that Incursio has acquired yet another element, the Light element.

At this thought, Alex's eyes glinted peculiarly. Then, he disappeared in a flash, going to join the others but first, he observed the battlefield.

Meanwhile, the others were engaged in fierce battles.

Lilith soared in midair elegantly, flapping her wings like a nimble bird shuttling through the openings of the net of blades. One by one, the shimmering blades slashing from above and below almost cut off her escape route. However, the Fallen angel didn't feel challenged at all. On the contrary, she brought on a gentle smile and flung up her swords, where a golden radiance ripped through the dense net of blades and penetrated the chests of two enemies.

Gazing at the two corrupted demons, this was the first time the empress displayed a troubled expression. However, this didn't stop her from attacking. On the contrary, as she spoke, two golden flame spheres erupted and enveloped the two demons entirely, turning them into ashes. She lowered her gaze without glancing at them when suddenly, she waved her swords to the back--clang! She deflected a battle ax that was swung at her.

Lilith turned around and brandished her left sword at the ambusher. However, the demon who ambushed her from the back wasn't a fool either. Upon realizing her failed assault, she raised the battle ax before her defensively.

Clang!

-n0ve1、com Lilith's left sword struck the hilt of the battle ax. The enemy let out a furious snarl and forcibly retaliated, which was considered somewhat of a smart move. After all, Lilith was caught in her momentum, and mishandling the situation could lead to her death. Just as the enemy waved the battle ax at her, the former felt a chilly sensation in her chest, followed by erupting golden flames that enveloped her world entirely.

"That didn't feel too good..."

Gazing at the demon's hideous expression as she melted in the flames, Lilith's smiley expression turned solemn. She stared at her fellow compatriot with grief as she turned into ashes and let out a sigh.

"I hope your souls will find peace in your next life."

She prayed, turned around, and gazed ahead where several battle angels contaminated by Chaos flew toward her. She held her swords high again.

At the next moment, she turned into a streak of golden brilliance that pounced on them.

Boom!

A silver-whitish holy light descended from heaven, slamming heavily into the human knights in front of Luna. Humans contaminated by Chaos were spotted all around her. Even though they kept their human appearances, their twisted and hideous expressions were completely unlike that of ordinary, rational humans. They had turned into lackeys of Chaos entirely and were carrying out orders like wild animals.

"Why are these guys wearing such thick armor for nothing?!"

She evaded the attack of a human knight swiftly. She grunted and tossed a punch forward, where a white, holy radiance exploded from her fist all of a sudden.

Bang!

The human knight flew into the air like a baseball on a home run. Meanwhile, Luna swung her left fist downward. A light column fell from above like a steel hammer, crashing and plowing the knight into the ground.

Boom!

The unfortunate knight quickly turned into ashes in this collision of this holy light.

At that moment, Luna came to a halt and flicked her hands about. After taking a closer look, one would discover that there was an enormous magical ritual with a diameter of about twelve meters underneath her feet, emanating a matchless holy radiance. As soon as the enemies lurking in the distance stepped into the ritual, their movement speed would turn sluggish immediately. Thereafter, dealing with them would be much easier for the Saintess.

"... I thought these guys would be a tough bunch. Seems like this is all they have."

She said, pouting and gazing at the new enemies who were being coalesced from the black mist. She lifted her hands before her and stuck out two middle fingers.

"Come dance with me."

"She is enjoying herself," Alex remarked before moving to the center of the battlefield where the big shots are waiting but unfortunately he wouldn't be seeing the rest of the premonition. His premonition of the future fight got abruptly interrupted.

1137 Chapter 1137

Wolfgang's Empire.

In the Imperial Palace's majestic throne hall, humble braziers encompassing each of the ten alabaster columns lit up the entire hall and bathed it in an orange glow.

The illustrations of a kingdom in the sky on the layered ceiling dance in the flickering light while stone effigies and memorials looked down upon the slate floor of this magnificent hall.

A cobalt rug split the entire room in half and was matched by the thinner ones on either side of the hall while matching banners with emblazoned margins decorated the walls.

Between each banner hung a lantern; almost all of them have been lit and in turn illuminated the artistic depictions of legendary figures below them.

Narrow windows were hidden by curtains colored the same cobalt as the banners. The curtains were adorned with gilded linings and decorating tips.

A striking throne of dragonstone sat in front of a giant painting of the previous ruler and was adjoined by two large but far less ornate seats for the royal highness's family members.

The throne was covered in intricate illustrations, and fixed on each of the front legs was a crystal crown. The thin pillows were dark cobalt, and these too were adorned with golden borders.

Those expecting an audience with their royal highness can do so on the countless long and rather bulky marble benches, all of which were diagonally facing the throne. Those of higher standing can instead take seats in the gorgeous balconies facing the throne.

And standing before such a grand throne was the emperor of the Wolfgang Empire, Ruben Helios Wolfgang.

He was walking to and fro, with his expression seeming as if he was in deep thought while at the same time expecting someone's arrival.

Soon enough, a gentle voice filled with respect traveled to Ruben's ears, "Royal father, you asked for me?"

His most beloved daughter Eris has graced this dull place with her presence, the emperor's expression brightened as he spun and hugged his daughter.

"Welcome sweetheart."

Eris felt a sweet feeling bubbling inside her. She could feel how much her father loved her, it was why he must have a hard saying about what comes next and as her daughter who knew his inner thoughts, she had to help him.

"Father, what do you wish to talk about?"

Eris's question made Rubens's heart tighten and he says.

"Let's go to the garden I've specially built for you." He took her hand and the wind enveloped them before they vanished, reappearing inside a garden outside the palace.

A fresh bed of grass is flanked by luxurious hedges, flower bushes, and shrubs. A greenhouse stands to the right of the garden, offering a seat next to exotic plants and flowers. The smaller flower bushes are forming a miniature world of their own, full of mysteries and wonder; they're a forest for ants. The hedges, flower bushes, and shrubs reach 2.1m/7ft high, but they tend to grow far bigger in the wild.

A couple of messages carved on stones are spread around the garden, offering a glimpse of the best spots. Plants and vines are seemingly content with their positions in the garden, none trying to reach beyond, at least not yet.

The greenhouse is generally the biggest eye-catcher in the garden. The smaller flower bushes make sure they're paid attention to as well, and the hedges, flower bushes, and shrubs usually look amazing, but everything dwarfs in comparison to the greenhouse

Eris fell in love the moment she lays eyes upon the garden, everything was built with her tastes in consideration, and the messages carved on the stones were something she loved doing with her late brother Ferris.

Unconsciously, Eris shed tears but only for a moment as she was back to her usual self and she did not forget to thank her father for the wonderful gift.

"Thank you, father. I love your gift but now I guess it's the time to move on to the real topic."

Ruben flinched upon hearing his daughter's words, he did nothing when Eris dragged him to the greenhouse.

After preparing black tea for them to drink as if they both loved it, Eris stared into her father's eyes and said.

"I know you want to talk about Alex. After hearing the news that Kuina was bestowed to him, you have become restless because out of everyone you are the only one left without a solid relationship with him. It's not a good thing, you can't let others surpass you when there is a possibility to copy them. Hence, you have called your daughter, the only piece you can use to stay at the same level as the others' superpowers."

Eris's accurate analysis made Rubens sigh. Her judgment could not be more accurate as it was exactly what he was thinking, he felt ashamed of himself. The only child he had left but he was thinking about how to use her to get achievements, not to lose in front of the others. As an emperor, it was the right choice but as a father it's not. Politics are always been like this and will always be.

"I'm sorry, Eris, please forgive me." He could only apologize when it comes to this.

Eris stared at her father whose head was lowered because of the feeling of shame and sighed.

"You don't have to be, father. This is the royal family's fate. I would have done probably the same thing if I were in your place. I do not resent you. As a matter of fact, I'm grateful as I can use this as an excuse to head over there." Eris's declaration surprised her father who lifted his head and could not help but ask.

"You like him?" He raised this question just to be sure and Eris blushed shyly declaring.

"I like him, no I love him and I don't mind spending the rest of my life with him as he is the one. The one I chose, the one I want as my mate. He made me discover the meaning of love. I'm not ashamed of declaring my feelings."

Facing his daughter's bold declaration, one part of him felt happy while another part of him was saddened as it meant his daughter had grown up, still Ruben was happy, and the guilt he was feeling lessened with this news.

"I see, let's plan your next move then. Don't worry father will help."

Eris smiled upon hearing that she would be getting her father's assistance.

'Sorry, Kuina but I'll be joining the fun as I'm unable to wait any longer.' She mumbled silently while wearing an innocent smile.

1138 Chapter 1138

Alex woke up after having another premonition and his body was sweating a lot therefore he decided to go take a bath.

『You should refrain from using your right eye as he drains too much of your life essence every time you use it.』 Nyx warned him. Alex's steps stopped as he was not expecting some big news, nevertheless, he took note of Nyx's warning.

"I understand, I will not use my ability to see the future less and you should also help me block any random premonition."

『I will.』 To Alex's demand Nyx responded positively. He heaved a sigh of relief upon hearing Nyx's positive reply.

He went to freshen up when suddenly Incursio walked in as if she had been waiting for this.

"Mind if I join you?" She asked after barging into the bathroom and Alex could only chuckle, he knew why she was doing this, probably because of what she said before they went to sleep, it was about Gracier's love life. She had said that Alex should consider the possibility of his sister never dating because she might like him romantically which he vehemently denied as there is no way this is true. This sparked a debate between them which ended with Alex getting angry as he could not picture a such reality.

"What are thinking so deeply about that you can't appreciate my beautiful naked beautiful?" Incursio asked as she stood naked, in her birthday suit before him and Alex couldn't help but acknowledge that she was truly beautiful.

"Nothing, just some random thoughts." He obviously couldn't tell her that he still hung on to what she told him.

Incursio knew he was lying and she could not help but sigh.

"I'm sorry for what I said but it's true, you should observe and make your judgment. I was just stating the obvious from my point of view. Still, I'm truly sorry for the way I worded it. Please forgive my bluntness and let's go back to how we were." She sincerely pleaded and Alex couldn't help but nod. If he didn't let go he would be being petty, something he wouldn't do.

"Okay, I understand and I'll do as you said. I will look at the situation objectively from now on." Alex had decided and it was a decision that pleased Incursio as this would mean that beyond their physical connection, Alex had begun to listen to her suggestion when it comes to sensitive matters such as his sister.

Incursio felt a sweet feeling bubbling inside her as she coiled her arms around Alex's neck, sealing his lips into a passionate kiss and soon their bodies meshed into one.

After somehow finishing their long and sensual bath, Alex picked her up on his shoulders and walked towards the bed. He decided after making up they should sleep in the same bed as they usually do after coming to the Infinity Maze.

He got on the bed just as he made her fall on the bed along with him. Just as she got on the bed, her hand was already stroking his erect cock, which had a hard time falling asleep.

However, he wondered how much stamina she had since he lost count of the number of times she made him cum during bathing and the number of times he made her orgasm as well.

But she was still vigorous and spirited as ever without much exhaustion. He wondered if it was because her body was inherently very strong.

After savoring his lips for a while, she intensely kissed and licked his neck while massaging his hot rod.

"Umm..."

She kissed his chiseled chest and bit his nipple in between her teeth, making him let out a low groan.

She tasted his hard abs, and when she was about to quickly move her mouth toward his cock.

Alex suddenly caught her arm and pulled her towards him.

"That's enough for today. You already tasted my cock many times. We don't want to mess ourselves up, right after taking a bath, do we?" He said with a soft smile.

Incursio pouted as she felt that her hunger for his hot milk wasn't satisfied yet. She already swallowed his cum many times as if she hadn't touched a drink for months. And the more she tasted it, the more she got addicted to it. She was sure that she could not get something more delicious elsewhere if not beside the man known as Alexander Kael Touch, she could never leave him.

Her addiction was as such that she couldn't mind being connected with him for 24 hours. She was quite frustrated because she was expecting some lengthy sex sessions after their reconciliation but guess not.

But thinking that she will get a chance later, she decided to sleep for now.

Alex who could feel her frustration pulled her up over his chest as her face came in contact with his.

He cupped her cheeks and gave her a loving kiss as Incursio closed her eyes to enjoy savoring his lips.

His hands inadvertently moved down towards her butt and squeezed them as he kept kissing her. Her butt was so soft and juicy that he felt it very satisfying to squeeze her buttocks than a squeeze ball.

Alex was already rubbing against her wet pussy, but he managed not to let it invade her narrow cave.

Incursio was feeling turned on by the kiss coupled with his hot cock caressing her pussy. But no matter how intense the itch she was feeling in her pussy, she knew she had to wait before she could let his cock devour her maidenly pussy.

His fingers sneaked towards her buttock and slowly inserted his forefinger inside.

"Ahhnn..." Incursio bit her lip seductively as she looked at him with a smile.

However, after playing with her buttock for a while, Alex removed his finger and separated his lips from her as he said, "Let's go to sleep now. We played for too long."

Incursio pressed her lips together and gave him a wet kiss before resting her head on his chest.

Her hands were around his neck Alex hugged her with one hand while his other hand rested on her silky butt.

Incursio twisted her head and looked at him with an inflamed expression.

"I think I may never be able to escape your hands as I like being connected to you. I will fall in love with you someday in the future." She declared and judging from how serious her eyes were as she said those words Alex knew she was being serious.

In response to her declaration, Alex caressed her hair and gave a warm kiss on her head as he said, "I know. It's exactly my goal, you can never escape my grasp because once I want you for myself."

Alex's declaration could not be more explicit, it might not be what most women would expect after making such a declaration like Incursio but for the problem child, it was more than enough.

Incursio was the happiest and best day in her life so far. She felt that her only lifelong wish was slowly being completed, and there was nothing more she wanted in her life. What is left is to persevere.

Now her heart felt at ease, thinking that she had finally become completely close to him and left an everlasting imprint on his heart.

Alex was feeling happy that he finally accepted to open his heart to this girl who wished to become human. In the beginning, he saw nothing in her more than a tool to be used but as they spent time together, this thinking changed and slowly he decided to take another approach because as any other woman she deserves a chance and it is what he was going to do from now on.

The night soon passed, and it was morning when Alex stirred awake with Incursio still lying over his body. It was a picturesque scene capable of making any artist get inspiration.

Alex grinned as he quickly turned over his body along with hers and positioned her right under him.

"Anh! Alex, you little devil, that's not fair...you startled me," Incursio said with a sexy pout as she saw his devilish grin.

She wrapped her hands around his neck and gave him an intense kiss. Alex went along with her kiss and squeezed her boobs as he kissed her.

After a minute of intense kissing, he broke off the kiss and moved his head downwards while kissing her body.

He kissed her chest, especially a quick sucking movement on one of her boobs, and continued downwards, giving a sensual kiss on her flat stomach.

Seeing her pink and fresh pussy, he gave a wet and intense smooch over it, which made Incursio put her finger in her mouth in ecstasy.

However, he stopped kissing and suddenly got off the bed as he said, "Okay, that's enough kissing for now. Get up, little white. We have so many things to do today. We must catch up with the others."

Like a normal couple, they disagree, fight, and reconcile thus strengthening their bond.

1139 Chapter 1139

Alex stopped kissing and suddenly got off the bed he said, "Okay, that's enough kissing for now. Get up, little white. We have so many things to do today. We must catch up with the others."

Like a normal couple, they disagree, fight, and reconcile thus strengthening their bond.

Even though she was slightly dissatisfied with this Incursio could only give in.

They left shortly later to go to their destination.

Two days later they arrived on a floor where there is an ocean and a lot of islands, there were a lot of people as well, some adventurers who were previously stuck in the dungeon and those that arrived recently, most of them weren't present when Alex killed early rank Demigod so obviously they were ignorant and because most of them were stuck for a long time without a touch of woman they are going crazy, some had raped and killed the female adventurers that came and beauty of Incursio's quality is rare and they wanted to tear her clothes apart and rape her again and again.

"Hehehehe! I will violate you while my men will take care of the young man." The man who seemed to be their leader declared but Alex and Incursio exchanged a look with him telling her to let him handle this, he had experienced something similar in the past.

The leader was a tall man in the early level of the Demigod realm, he was like the god of this place as he stood floating in the air blue ocean. He had expected Alex to cower as he has a weaker aura which would mean he was weaker than him, the bulky man thought.

Alex looked at the leader indifferently; he didn't even feel like telling the two-meter-tall man that he was a dead man.

"Do you know what your biggest mistake was? Saying those uncouth things at the person behind me."

The leader looked behind Alex and there he saw the beautiful Incursio, looking at him with clear a bemused expression. Seeing this the leader felt like he received a slap on the face and he had to correct this.

"Oh? Don't worry, I'll soon take care of-"

BOOM!

Before the man could finish his sentence, the world in front of him blurred for a split second before returning to normal and a horrible explosion shook the waters of the Ocean below them.

After a powerful explosion that shook the space and frightened everyone present, the Ocean became silent.

A silence so deadly that even the turbulent waters beneath everyone's feet did not move as if they were afraid of something.

The leader, the man who had believed that he was the God here, he was untouchable, frowned as he noticed the incredulous looks of the people around him.

"What's with those gazes of..... Pffft!!!"

Suddenly, the voice of the so-called "God" abruptly stopped and without warning, he coughed up a large mouthful of blood.

"What the..." The eyes of the hulking tower-like man widened at the sight of his blood falling into the ocean with no sign of it. He had no idea what happened!

"Y... Your chest."

The others who had not said a single word pointed in the direction of the man's left chest with a terrified expressions.

Then the man looked down in confusion, but soon wished he had not done it. His eyes widened and his pupils fluttered steadily, showing his agitated emotions.

Slowly, as slowly as possible, the leader lifted his face and looked at Alex standing several meters away. His movements were so slow that he seemed to hesitate whether he should look up or not.

However, when the two-meter-tall man finally saw Alex, he could only utter one word since he did not know what else to say:

"You..."

The gaze of the "God" who was staying in this place for five years was unconsciously fixed on Alex's hand and he could not turn away when he saw that in his hand, the twenty years old young man was holding what Luiz Fernandez was missing.

A heart.

Everyone gasped noisily and without delay backed up several kilometers to maintain a "safe" distance. Of all those present, less than half of them managed to witness what had happened and what they saw terrified them! As for those who had not seen what had happened, this did not prevent them from knowing that the young man who appeared to be weak was the person who had pulled out the heart of the "God" of this place!

Alex ignored everyone's reaction and silently looked at the man in front of him. His right eye flashed and the dying man was further thrown into chaos.

'Crushed, everything is broken. My body is one big mess, I can feel it. There's a puddle of my blood and I'm lying in it. I guess this is the end of the line for me.

But I'm standing, I'm still standing. My legs beg me to give in, to let go and drop to the soft grass below, but I'm still standing.

Is there no way out of this mess? No way for me to live? I'm not ready to die, I'm not ready for it all to end. Somebody, please find me, I need help. Somebody, please save me. I don't want to die.

I'm tired, so tired. But I cannot give in, I cannot sleep. To sleep means to die, I must stay strong. But my body can't take it anymore, perhaps I should just lie down for a while, save my strength until help arrives. Yes, yes that would be best. Save my strength. Help will be here soon.

This is it. I know it. This is the end of me, there's no saving me, not anymore. So be it. I'm going to die, I accept it. I have no choice anyway, so I might as well. Just let it be over quickly, I don't want to linger.

I can't focus, everything is spinning. It doesn't matter which way I look, with 1 or 2 eyes, everything keeps spinning. I feel dizzy. Even with my eyes closed, I feel dizzy.

Bye.' Those were the man's last thoughts before dying, his body ended up in the depth of the ocean.

No one dared to look at the young man in front of them with looks of pity, compassion, or disdain like in the past. Even if they had no brains they now knew that this young man was a terrifying person playing the role of the pig to eat the tiger! A wolf in sheep's skin!

Alex licked his lips as he got plenty of Exp after killing the man and his eyes were slowly turned in the remaining people's direction. However, Incursio wouldn't miss out on the fun acted. She revealed an unusual smile, turned around to size up the crowd, and made a hand gesture.

Alex had a bad feeling and this bad feeling was soon proven to be true as Incursio raised and swung her right fist abruptly.

"———!"

A glaring, light beam exploded from her fist, blasting straight at the people ahead. Facing this sudden, oncoming brilliance, they were completely devoured before they even reacted. In an instant, brilliance occupied the entire space, enveloping them.

The blinding light wreaked havoc on their formation dealing them intense damage and a lot of pain. Blood seeped from their wound and sweat dripped down their forehead. They felt a dull pain, but it was surely numbed by the adrenaline pumping through their veins. Cold shivers shot through their body and both their hands and legs were trembling. For a moment they focused on the pain, honing in on every sensation. Where it came from, how badly it hurt and how badly they wanted it to stop.

They took a deep breath and shifted their focus, determined to swallow the pain and keep going. But unable to cope with it they gave up and headed toward the ocean letting their bodies free fall.

Watching free exp plummeting into the ocean at fast speed Alex sighed before unleashing his gun and immediately those who thought they might survive paled when he opened fire.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

And Incursio who did not want to lose killed some.

Finally, the majority of those present were eliminated leaving only a handful of people and Alex did this not because of generosity but simply because they have their use.

"If you don't want to finish like those that died you better spill everything you starting from this floor."

They needed information so they could not kill everyone, this floor seemed to be a peculiar one and those people would have more information on this place than those who had just arrived.

The survivors trembled to see Alex's eyes and hear his cold declaration, they know better not to beg in this situation if they wish to spend a few more seconds so one of them stepped forward despite his fear and trembling body.

"I-I will tell you everything that I know. There's someone special where it's all black and there seems to be a black key floating."

Alex's eyes widened upon hearing this unexpected news and he was glad that he didn't kill everyone.

Finally another key whereabouts. A nice surprise.

1140 Chapter 1140

After the surprise under that man's guidance, Alex and Incursio were brought to another island, and unexpectedly there was a city governed by a mayor. From what the man told them it to have access to the portal leading to that place they must go through the mayor's mansion and unexpectedly he had invited them over for a dinner.

It was evening when Alex took along Incursio for a stroll in the most popular street, especially one with big and expensive fashion shops where people can get clothes of the finest quality and various varieties.

Alex told Incursio that they had to celebrate the night, and he wanted to buy her a dress even though she could make one of her own.

He felt that it was satisfying to buy a dress of his choosing for her and see how it looks on an exotic beauty like her.

Alex and Incursio came upon a huge and premium-looking fashion shop that was at least three stories tall and took up a good portion of the street area.

"Let's go in," Alex said with a smile. Incursio's eyes sparkled as they got in, seeing the various types of dresses and other fashion accessories.

Lately, after going through various fashion shops with Alex, unsurprisingly, she had taken a liking to explore such shops and especially studied them closely so she could make one of her own if she wanted to.

The building was well-lit and had a luxury look, providing a good ambiance for the ones coming to shop.

And as expected, most of the customers were women with few men accompanying some of them, most of them either as their boyfriends or husbands.

When Alex and Incursio came, some people looked towards the door, hearing the arrival of the newcomers. Every single man who caught sight of Incursio stood rooted to the spot with their eyes riveted by Incursio's intoxicating beauty and their soul completely spellbound by her exotic and exquisite face.

The women who were accompanying these men kicked or poked the men's waists with their elbows, jolting them out of their daze and making them wipe off the stupid expressions on their faces.

The women grumbled, saying why they are acting as if they had never seen a woman before. The men accompanying the women here doted on them, and so the women had the freedom to reprimand them for looking at another girl, especially in their presence.

However, inwardly they were extremely jealous, while some envied seeing Incursio's extremely stunning beauty. Her white hair and ruby-red eyes themselves made her look as if she was not from the mortal world itself but a fallen goddess.

A young female staff member came forward to welcome them.

The female attendant politely smiled as she said, "Welcome, sir and madam, to our humble shop. We have three stories dedicated to women mostly, but we also have men's clothes available. May I know which types of clothes you are looking for?"

The attendant was delighted to see that two new additional people were joining their dungeon's city, Alex was shocked as news sure traveled fast.

She was sure that she would get a bonus if she were able to satisfy Incursio and Alex with her service.

Alex smiled and said, "It's for her. I am looking for something one would usually wear for a luxury party."

The attendant smiled and slightly bowed as she said, "Sure, we have lots of varieties of clothes available for those occasions. Please follow me."

The two followed the attendant through the stairs while Incursio scanned everything around her while passing through.

How could she miss out on some of the beautiful and exotic dresses displayed there?

As they reached the third floor, Alex saw many luxurious and premium dresses which seemed beautiful, while some were elegant as well.

Surprisingly, these dresses weren't traditional looking, and he could even see lingerie-like bras and panties arranged in a different sections.

There were, of course, traditional clothes and undergarments available as well. Still, it seemed as if the new fashionable clothes attracted more attraction and seemed to be priced higher as well.

"Were these clothes launched recently?" He asked as he pointed towards the exotic clothes that didn't look traditional at all.

The attendant gave an earnest smile and said, "Yes, these are our newly released line of products which seemed to gain a huge amount of attraction among the women, especially the undergarments. And even some of the imperial family members shop from here.

"From start to finish, these were made from high-quality, expensive, often unusual fabric and sewn with extreme attention to detail and finished by the most experienced and capable sewers—often using time-consuming, hand-executed techniques.

Alex nodded and said, "Alright, thanks for showing us around. We will call you right after we pick some clothes. By the way, where is the trial room?"

The attendant keenly pointed out a corner and said, "We have a trial room for couples so that they could check out how a dress fits their partner. Fortunately enough, we have many trial rooms, so not all are occupied, you can try one of them."

He nodded and thanked the attendant as he and Incursio started looking around. He then came upon some designer clothes that he thought would look extremely ravishing and exotic on her.

He knew that no matter which dress, every outfit would love to embrace her body, as she would make it look more beautiful.

He looked through them, trying to find the one that best suited Incursio's features. Meanwhile w she eagerly watched him searching through the luxurious dresses and loved seeing him trying to pick a dress for her.

She already liked and wanted to try out some but decided to try the one he picks for her.

Alex's gaze fixed as he picked a smooth black one-piece dress, or one could say that it was a knit mini dress with a scoop neckline that would beautifully reveal a woman's cleavage.

The dress had no shoulder straps but only off-shoulder sleeves and an open back design as well, and Alex could already imagine how beautiful Incursio's back would look when she wears this dress.

Since the skirt part of the dress was a ribbed mini, it would display a woman's legs and even half of her thighs just enough to make their boyfriends or husbands swoon or even develop a leg fetish.
