

Death Guns 1171

1171 Chapter 1171

In another location, Bahamut wasn't furious as Silveria and Alex thought but on the contrary, he was happy because this finally confirmed his guess.

"So, it was you Alexander Kael Touch." A chained human said, his jet black hair so long reached the ground and because his bang covered his eyes, they were not visible but one could feel eeriness from them.

Soon, someone entered the room entered and kneeled.

"Thanos pays respect to the Lord. Congratulations Lord Bahamut."

"Thanos, how the mission is going?" Bahamut asked.

"There is no problem. They took the bait."

'I know because if not I couldn't have lost a small fraction of my strength.' Bahamut mumbled inwardly.

"That is good. Keep up with the other plan. While he would be stuck there we will slowly corrupt everything and break the final seal to spread chaos through the other worlds." Bahamut added, dismissing Thanos.

"Hahaha! Alexander, you have no idea that your little antic gave me the perfect method to free myself. The keys are my power, all I have to do was to take them back. It is funny how I haven't thought of this. You're indeed the prophecy child, hahaha, the one sent to open my eyes, making things easy for me."

After saying those, Bahamut went into a silent mode, trying to adapt to his new body created after combining two excellent vessels. The body of a certain excellent Zero and Alex's former rival, Leonardo.

oooo

"You look quite relaxed."

Incursio commented casually as she looked at Alex while remaining on the bedsheet with a comfortable expression.

"Yeah, you can say that."

Alex smiled and removed his shoes before stepping onto the bedsheet and allowing Incursio to crawl up to his body as she rested her head on his chest.

"Ahh~ I wanted to try an afternoon nap with you. Too bad that you always remained busy with something."

"It was quite an unfortunate way of thinking of me."

Alex took Incursio's chin in between his index and thumb before pecking on her lips then moving onto the tip of her nose and then finally, planting a deep and loving kiss on her forehead. His action instantly pulled a gentle coo out of the former numerous 2 as her unclothed body wrapped around Alex's body tighter.

Alex's hands, meanwhile, moved on their own and slowly stroked Incursio's long hair. Of course, an afternoon nap was something that Alex simply wasn't capable of as he hadn't had the time to do since reincarnating as he was always busy. The duo continued their soft and warm embrace.

Deep exhaling, Alex gave Incursio another kiss as he slowly scooped out as the snow-haired beauty groaned with indignation, instantly latching with her legs locking his thighs.

"Can we stay? Pretty please~" Incursio asked with puppy eyes.

Rolling his eyes, Alex pinched her nose with a smile and whispered.

"Come on, wash up already. Let's go out and have dinner tonight."

"Really?"

Incursio instantly rose and looked towards him as he matched her gaze with a broad smile.

"Yeah." Alex nodded.

"Cool, however choosing a dress is a serious pain...."

Incursio lowered her head with a pondering glint in her eyes before nodding with a gleeful expression.

"Sure, I'll call you to choose the dress! I'll go and wash up quickly."

She finally removed the bedsheet, revealing her body crafted into a buxom and slender paradise with a large and perky bosom and a very elastic, pinchable ass.

"Ah, now that I think of it, I am stinking too... maybe, I should take a bath after all."

With a wolfish grin, Alex instantly carried Incursio, groping her figure unceremoniously while lowering his head and snatching her lips for a deep and passionate kiss, pulling an approving gaze from her. Their kiss continued as he gingerly made his way into the bathroom, careful enough to not hit Incursio's head against the door or the wall, and finally, generated water to fill the entire wooden tub through his elemental energy since using the tap was simply slow and efficient.

A moment was all it took to warm the bath and gently lay Incursio's body into the water. Although a shower accommodated a mating session better, the intimate contact due to the small space of the tub was still hard to beat.

"Oh~ My boy seems hasty I guess."

Incursio giggled as Alex practically jumped out of his clothes, an accomplishment many would fail to achieve if you were not the holder of a certain title and you weren't an expert.

Finally, also stepped into the tub, pulling Incursio as she knowingly twisted her body to rock her butt against Alex's already erect cock while tilting her head and embracing his neck from behind to continue their kissing session with moans slowly echoing within the bathroom.

"I missed this~ Hmmhh!"

Incursio let out a heavy, hot sigh into Alex's mouth before pushing her lips against his and letting her tongue and mouth get ravaged all over again.

Alex broke the kiss with a teasing smile, letting his thumb push against Incursio's plump lips while his free hand slithered through the gap between her back and arm to cup her breasts from below and pinching her erect nubbing, making her throat chortle a needful coo, her butt rocking against his crotch even wilder.

"Come ooonn! Don't be such a meanie~!" She pleaded.

Incursio let Alex's thumb into her mouth, sucking on it with her twirling tongue and narrowing her eyes in expectation as she felt the tip of his dick brush against her wet, soaked cunt. But being in the water, she continued slipping away, unable to simply align her snatch against Alex's woman conquerer and plunge it deep within herself. This leaves her quite frustrated much to Alex's amusement.

"Such a naughty girl you are."

Alex whispered while planting hickies on the back of her neck and grabbing a fistful of her bountiful breast as he pushed his hips promptly, instantly filling her needy hole with his weapon and pulling a surprised yelp from the snow-haired beauty, finally freeing his thumb and allowing his hand to grab and massage Incursio's other breast.

With her butt finally settling against the base of his cock, her cunt filled and spread across his shaft and her womb packed tight.

Incursio let go of Alex's neck and touched her stomach with a pleased sigh before her eyes went wide as Alex spread her breasts wildly and started pumping into her, impacting against the deepest corner of her hole and stimulating her grooves simultaneously with a masterful control of water.

Instantly, loud moans that impacted the entire mansion echoed with the bathroom as its source. It would have been quite the sight if it was not soundproofed. The neighbors' house would have petitioned against them.

With the water alongside other, heavenly liquids drained, Alex and Incursio walked out of the bathroom with their naked body dry and clean.

"So? Are you going to dress up now?"

Alex inquired, unable to keep his hands away from Incursio for too long and once again, letting her hand squeeze a fistful of her butt while she shook her head and smiled widely.

"Yes! You can wait and give me your thoughts." She declared that because they were going on a night date, she had to dress up quite nicely.

"Sure."

Incursio disappeared and soon came back dressed beautifully.

The dress covers her shoulders only barely with 2 spaghetti straps and flows down into a simple square neckline. It's a relaxed fit which makes the dress both enjoyable to wear and look at.

Her arms have been covered to just below her elbows. The sleeves broaden towards the bottom and playfully accentuate her skin.

The dress' waist is broad, but it's a slim fit. A bow has been wrapped around her and rests gently on her belly.

Below the waist, the dress widens every so slightly and has an accordion style. The dress reaches all the way down to the ground and is slightly longer in the back.

She's wearing Mary Janes, an ideal match for this dress. To top it all off she's wearing a simple, but stylish hat and several lavish bracelets.

"What do you say?" Incursio asked while spinning to let him enjoy the view and Alex did enjoy the view.

"Gorgeous as one would have expected from you." Alex complimented her.

Upon hearing this compliment, Incursio couldn't help but feel extremely happy as the corners of her mouth perked up.

"Thank you."

Alex nodded, it was the most normal thing to compliment your girl. He was dressed quite simply, a black pants and a white shirt with a V-neck.

Taking his lover's hand in his arm, they departed, people would look at them as if they matched well, and the contrast between white and black was highlighted.

"I have just found out that I like going out with you." Incursio suddenly declared, and this declaration had Alex chuckling.

"Sure."

He also loves spending time with this woman, ten years his senior, the once enemy but now important to him. Life is quite ironic.

Alex thought before shaking his head, he must relax as he felt as if something would happen soon. His instinct was telling him this.

1172 Chapter 1172

After leaving their mansion Alex and Incursio opted for a new restaurant tonight, it's named the Heaven Star Restaurant.

With the entrance adorned in gold and luxurious velvet and exotic monster's hide covering the floor, their vision was dazzled with the sheer lavishness of this place.

Extreme lavishness bordered the realms of disgust.

"Welcome, lovely couple. Which floor are you interested in?"

Alex did not respond with words.

A thin-mustached middle-aged receptionist inquired with a polite tone. With prior research about this place, Alex understood the man's words. Whether he wished to avail of premium services or dine down with the middle-level of society depended on the tip that he can give.

Taking out white gold, Alex placed it on the counter, and the receptionist smiled accordingly before leading Alex and Incursio through the heavily-guarded stairs. The interior of the first floor was somewhat soothing, a surprising fact when he considered the overwhelming feeling near the entrance. The hall was spacious, and the tables were placed sparsely. The couple's arrival attracted the attention of a few well-informed men, but none took an initiative to approach them.

The couple's table was soon filled with lascivious meals and they did not hesitate to devour much of them.

One hour later Alex and Incursio departed from the Heaven Star Restaurant, their next destination was a tavern.

From the outside, it looks humble, warm, and enchanting. Small stones and tree trunks make up most of the building's outer structure.

It's tough to see through the stained glass windows, but the clapping and cheering from within can be felt outside.

As they entered the tavern through the hardwood door, they were welcomed by clapping hands and the smile of a waitress.

The bartender was engaged in a conversation but still manages to welcome them with a friendly nod.

It's as alluring inside as it is on the outside. Rounded, wooden beams support the upper floor and the large candles attached to them. The walls are covered in photographs of personal achievements, all related to the nearby mountain. Some of the people reached the summit, and others were simply happy people.

The tavern itself was packed. Workers seem to be the primary clientele here, which could be seen as the best sign you can get. Several long tables are occupied by several smaller groups of people. The other, smaller tables are also occupied by people who seem to be enjoying themselves a lot, perhaps too much, if such a thing is possible. Even most of the stools at the bar are occupied, though nobody seems to mind more company.

Alex and Incursio found a quiet corner and drank to their heart's content, simply enjoying their next without a care in the world after they finished it was time to go back but Incursio stopped Alex and whispered something into his ear.

"A massage, huh! Okay, I've got an idea."

ooooo

After their return, Alex asked Incursio to lie down and with a quilt half-covering her naked body he started with the massage.

Alex's thick thumbs slowly traced Incursio's back as her body grew more and more exposed. Unlike a normal girl, her back was muscular, the upper part extending to her shoulders was well defined while the smooth and slender region curving down to accentuate the ripe butt couldn't have been better. Of course, then there were the streaks of veins still visible and inflated on her back.

Finally, with a twin fold, Nik let the bedsheet rest on Incursio's hips, just below the twin dimples present over her lower back, and moved his body and sat over her legs.

"Hum! Don't try your luck!"

Incursio in her innocent mode warned. With her legs locked, she would not be able to do anything. 'What if' She thought of something interesting.

"Don't worry. I have to be in a proper position to apply the right amount of effort." Alex responded, already immersed in his acting.

Of course, the fact that his crotch easily rubbed against the base of Incursio's wide and plump butt did not contribute much to his case, but still, with a self-righteous tone, Alex continued and to prove his words, he leaned forward, completely interacting with her butt cheeks and experiencing their texture while letting his thumbs press on her back.

The moment he pressed his thumb, Incursio felt a short, electric shot pass through her spine as her mind spun dazedly while her eyes grew wide. The sensation lasted barely for a moment, but the effects were real as Rei felt her body relax. Like, her fingers weren't clenching the pillow, her butt wasn't clenched together, allowing Alex to accommodate himself better and even the tension in her legs seemed to have loosened a bit.

"Now, do you believe me?" He asked.

Incursio would have loved to agree with the results. She would. But after the sensation passed, a surge of veridical warmth seemed to be opening her pores as a slightly musky scent started to fill the room and interlace with the sweet scent that seemed to be his doing.

She was starting to sweat. Her skin flushed into a pinkish hue as Alex slid his pressed thumb down towards her hip and stopped before gingerly rolling his fingers across her thin waist before sliding his hands up, pressing her back with an appropriate strength while letting the inner side of his palms press against her sides as his fingers dug beneath her stomach, which was already a little damp to touch.

Alex himself felt Incursio's body slowly entering into a deep, relaxing state as his seat over her thighs grew comfier and admittedly, his large, flaccid shaft was already digging into the deep cliff of her butt. Leaning forward, Alex let his hands move upwards.

With his hands folded at the center of her back, Alex finally pushed his hands up to the nape of her neck before releasing all the strength in his arms and gently thumbing the flesh adjacent to the spine as his fingers gently wrapped over to the side of her neck, rubbing her shoulders as Incursio's body grew heated by the second, more sweat leaking through her body, slowly, the sweat itself acted as the lube to make the massage more relieving and comfortable as the veiny regions of her back, which Alex had been avoiding, soon returned to normal.

Except...

"Haaa~ Haa!"

Incursio's breathing was already short and shallow, her entire body soaked, and yet, he continued, not minding the fact that the ned sheet was already deep into Incursio's butt crack as he reluctantly moved his lower region from her back and moved even below, making Incursio's question Alex in her mind while only sweet pants of relaxation left her lips, her snow white hair already sticking to her forehead while her arms simply refused to move.

With his already warm palms on the sole of her feet, Incursio once again felt the electrifying pleasure his hands made her go through. It was so good that Incursio did feel this session akin to torture. After all, currently, she felt like she was nothing but a ball of limp flesh at Alex's discretion to be touched.

Her calves followed by the back of her thighs soon experienced Alex's tender attention as her body twitched to no end. Even though Incursio wanted to end the session since the expected result has already been achieved, her body knew nothing but lascivious greed. Wanting more of Alex's touch. Wanting nothing but his fingers and thumb slide across her back until he removes the dastardly cloth of her butt before he treats her butt in the same tender affection while taking care of the needs of the well-trimmed snatch.

She was already soaked, and not just with sweat. After all, it was already obvious and she wasn't a stranger to the lustful needs that would demand her attention every couple of days. It was as natural as it could get.

And now, these natural reactions and thoughts seem to be corrupting her thoughts and Alex's whisper did not help as the Black Prince leaned forward with a knowing smile and finally drove his mana to slowly cover the entirety of Incursio's body. The moment his hand flicked across the inner, soaked thighs, Incursio's body quivered as she let out a moan, at least, she wished to, but all that left her mouth was even more heated breathing as her entire body quivered while the scent around her grew heavier.

Her crimson eyes grew hazier while the gaps between Incursio's lips remained bridged with threads of saliva as she continued breathing into her pillow hotly.

Finally, admiring his work, Alex stood up and gently covered Incursio's soaked body before bending his body and gently kissing on top of her head before whispering with a smile.

"Take your time."

With a spin, Alex turned his body and made his way toward the door only to stop for a brief moment.

Waving with a smile, he spoke softly, "You should rest a little as we going to have a dinner with the mayor soon."

"Are you serious?" Incursio asked fuming.

1173 Chapter 1173

Finally, admiring his work, Alex stood up and gently covered Incursio's soaked body before bending his body and gently kissing on top of her head before whispering with a smile.

"Take your time."

With a spin, Alex turned his body and made his way toward the door only to stop for a brief moment.

Waving with a smile, he spoke softly, "You should rest a little as we going to have dinner with the mayor soon."

"Are you serious?" Incursio asked fuming because Alex was leaving her like this.

Alex stayed silent for a moment before spinning.

"Of course not." He said approaching her with a subtle smile.

"Hmph! Took you long enough!"

She whispered with her body on the bed and her figure covered by a bedsheet. Her snow-white hair was slightly disheveled while her grip on the edges of the bedsheet tightened. Her face blushed to the extreme, and her heartbeats resounded within the tiny room.

"Yeah, sorry about that," Alex sat on the edge of the bed, his gaze scanning Incursio from head to toe with a genuine smile on his face. She was wet with sweat.

Alex took a deep breath and enjoyed Incursio's scent.

Her gaze was instantly attracted to Alex's current visage under the glow of the bulb.

'This man knows how to play.'

Alex eventually walked into bed while removing his clothes, baring his chest as her gaze was instantly attracted to his muscular physique. He settled beside her. He tilted his body to face the white-haired beauty. He was outside the bedsheet, and his weight slightly tugged on the bedsheet over her, accentuating her curves. He gently caressed the side of her face and whispered,

"We shall start. One last wild dance before the main event." Alex declared and Incursio nodded even if she thought otherwise.

She immediately took his lips and Alex responded skillfully.

"Mmh," Incursio let out a sweet moan as she felt an intense sensation invade her mind. Her nipples grew erect while her pussy just squirted for a brief moment.

Incursio tilted her body as both of her hands not traced Alex's abdomen while engaging in an ardent kiss full of warmth. As their kiss grew heated, Alex wrapped his arms around Incursio and pulled her body closer to his. Her bosom squished against his chest as her cleavage became prominent.

"Hanh!"

They both moaned softly, enjoying each other's soft lips, and slowly lost themselves in passion.

"Ohhh!"

Incursio moaned as her hands rested on Alex's broad chest. Her face raised and moved towards his parted lips. The Black Prince was inviting her, and his hands gave her the necessary push to seal her lips with him once again.

"Mmghh~"

She moaned sweetly as she enjoyed the warmth of Alex's embrace. Even through the bedsheet, she could feel this energy within him that made her want for him again and again.

After a few minutes of indulging kisses, Incursio retreated with her tongue still out in the open as a bridge of saliva connected both of their mouths. With a heated face, Incursio closed her mouth and took her tongue in as Alex's body finally shifted. Since her body was slightly raised in his embrace, Alex gently laid her on the bed and sat up. His arms flanked the sides of her face, and his upper body draped Incursio's as he leaned down and pecked the tip of her cute nose and then her chin before leaning down and kissing her neck, slowly down to his breasts.

Alex stopped for a moment to enjoy the view and finally the moment his palms directly cupped Incursio's breasts, she felt a wave of warm energy traveling through her body, heating her. Her skin gained a healthy tinge while the pits of her body secreted sweat. Her ruby eyes, meanwhile, continued to observe as Alex carefully pressed her breasts together to push her nipples against each other as he lowered his head to suck on both of her cherry toppings.

"Anng~h~"

Her arms moved as she hugged his neck while letting out a toe-curling moan.

Each of his touches sent a wave of warmth that kept on comforting her body and making her feel more and more aroused.

Alex exhaled as he gazed at the beautiful breasts. His hands already felt satisfied as he squeezed them. Her body was erotic in more than one way. Even as she sweated under his tender care, Alex did not discover his senses invaded with a musky scent but a flowery fragrance. He took a deep breath and then finally let go of her breasts as the voluminous treats pretreated back into round mounds of flesh.

Alex raised his body and then sealed Incursio's lips once again while his right arm moved southwards and hooked at the edges of her lacy black panties before pushing the front part of her panties aside unceremoniously and revealing what was hidden underneath.. His index rubbed the thin slit formed from her flesh entrance as he imbued mana into it. This made Incursio's eyes snap wide open. Her body arched up for a moment as her tongue within Alex's mouth trembled.

Aside from sweat, her inner thighs were already soaked with her pussy's juice. Her saliva already lubricated her chin and dripped down her neck, and her palms already felt clamped from all the sweat. He had turned her into a wet mess, but he still hadn't had enough. As the two engaged in a delightful smooch, his index and middle finger kept on rubbing Incursio's fleshy entrance. Meanwhile, his left hand tenderly swept her bangs away and rubbed her forehead.

"Haa~ Haa~"

Alex observed the panting Incursio before diving into her snatch, wildly fucking it with his tongue.

"Oooh~"

A loud groan escaped Incursio's throat as all the accumulated stimulus broke through her pussy akin to a flood. Before her nectar could go to waste, Alex sealed her lower lips and lapped up all the juices he could. It tasted sweet despite a little bit of sourness.

He helped her and now it's his turn. Alex immediately penetrated her in one full thrust.

"Ohh! Alex! Hnnnghh!"

Her sweet spots enjoyed various areas of his dick simultaneously. Alex's grunts leaked now and then while Incursio had already lost all her bearings.

Her bosom was left untended only to jiggle and increase the visual charm of the snow-haired beauty while her innards sucked him deeper and deeper, disregarding the fact that he was already plunging deep into her womb, literally filling her.

"Kiss me! Nik, kisssshhhhh~"

Before his needy grunts could complete, a torrent of moans would make its way out of her sultry tongue, her rolled-up eyes continued to struggle to remain conscious as her embrace around Alex's waist grew tighter and tighter.

Lowering his head, Alex's lips stole the surroundings of the beautiful melody Incursio's moans had already become, and solely enjoyed everything regarding her by himself.

His hips flew while Incursio's crotch danced around his shaft. The 'clicking' sound of her soaked pussy getting pounded while the melodious music of the flesh hitting each other filled the room.

Soon they switched positions. With her back pressed against Alex's chest while her knees pulled up and locked against his strong arms only to place his hands against the back of her head, Incursio finally got to enjoy a new position, the full Nelson position.

Alex was not too much a fan of this position because in this position, neither could he feel her perky and round butt, nor could he suck her breasts. His hands had to carry out the menial task of locking her knees in the air while fucking her in the scandalous position that completely exposed Incursio to the air.

'Maybe... that's the whole point of this position...'

As he thought, he finally felt his gates breaking once again. His girth grew wider while his veins throbbed momentarily, notifying Incursio's white-stained pussy of her man's new load.

"Yesh! Yesh!"

"Ohhhhh! Deep! I want it deep within me!"

Her growls grew louder with nothing to hold her lips with as Alex finally sprayed his load deep into her pussy. This made Incursio's eyes finally roll up. Her sweaty body lost all its strength and finally, the intense session came to its intended climax.

The last wild dance has come to an end with both participants satisfied.

The couple went to take a bath. Nothing happened in the bathroom, they helped each and twenty minutes later they were back in the bedroom. Alex was the first to lie down, followed by Incursio dressed in a purple see-through negligee.

Alex pecked Incursio's cheek as they lay in each other's embrace. Her tired body felt energized by the loving hug. Her soft breathing impacted Alex's chest as he continued stroking her back with warm affection.

"You should rest now," Alex ordered as he could already observe Incursio's eyes drooping in drowsiness.

"You are really beautiful when you smile." Alex complimented the sleeping Incursio who seemed to have heard him as she smiled.

'Done playing, time to become serious.' Alex silently mumbled while waiting for tomorrow.

1174 Chapter 1174

The following morning arrived quickly and it was soon followed by evening, it was now the time to go to a party inside the mayor's house.

From the outside, this house looks impressive. It has been built with spruce wood and has fir wooden decorations. Large, octagon windows allow enough light to enter the home and have been added to the house in a fairly symmetrical pattern.

The house is equipped with an old-fashioned kitchen, four bathrooms, it also has a snug living room, five bedrooms, a roomy dining room, a sunroom, and a modest basement, and a ballroom.

The building is square-shaped. The house is half surrounded by stylish gardens.

The second floor is smaller than the first, which allowed for several balconies on the sides of the house. This floor has a different style than the floor below.

The roof is low and square-shaped and is covered with red roof tiles. Two small chimneys sit on either side of the house. Rows of small windows let in plenty of light to the rooms below the roof.

The house itself is surrounded by a gorgeous garden with many hidden lights that make the garden come to life at night.

Even though it was night and the moon hung in the sky, the ballroom was illuminated by a plethora of lustres hanging on the ceiling.

On a wide dancing floor seemingly made of gold, nobles could be seen mingling and chatting while slow and soothing music filled the air.

The males wore beautiful black suits while the women wore different kinds of dresses, showing their personalities.

Laughter, smiling, and happiness seemed to be the rule.

Clearly, they were waiting for something or someone.

Their wait didn't last for long, since the moment the door opened, the servants standing on the side of said door shouted,

"The outsiders have arrived, Alexander and his companion Incursio are entering!"

The moment this introduction was made, the music stopped and all those present lifted their heads to see the duo, the first to enter was Alex dressed elegantly.

His very short-sleeved, silky jacket covers him to well below his waist and is tightly tied with string slightly off-center. The sleeves of his jacket are quite wide and reach down to his hands, they're decorated with a single thread lining from top to bottom.

The jacket has a deep, round neckline that reveals part of the ornate shirt worn below it and is worn with a simple rope belt, which is held together by an intricate knot. The rope belt is purely decorative and a sign of wealth.

His pants are a simple and comfortable fit and reach down to his leather boots. The boots are made from a pretty uncommon leather, but are otherwise not that special.

Incursio was beside him in her beautiful dress. Her elegant dress flows from top to bottom and has a round neckline, which gracefully reveals the delicate dress worn below it. The ornate, buttoned-up fabric of her dress covers her stomach where the continuous flow is broken up by a large rope belt worn fairly low around her waist.

Below the rope belt, the dress opens up wide and reveals the dress below. The front of the top dress is shorter at the front and curves outwards, the back continues to flow a fair length behind her and ends in a narrow curve.

Her sleeves are quite long and have a loose fit, their flow is broken up at the elbow where they're divided by large, modest bands, these are the same fabric and color used to outline the sleeves and neckline of the dress.

In the then-filled music room, the sole sound came from the slow and steady steps of the couple.

'So, this is the outsiders.'

'He is even more handsome than I thought.'

'What a demeanor.'

'The woman is the most beautiful woman I've ever seen.'

'I'm jealous of her beauty.'

'They look good together.'

Such thoughts filled their minds as they watched, from the corner of their eyes, the couple slowly walking toward the center of the room, where a middle-aged man stood proudly with his head held high.

Suddenly, it became a contest between the male outsider and the middle-aged man.

The contrast between the two was pretty overwhelming.

Alex was young and vigorous. His short black hair gave him a somewhat boyish look, but the air around him broke no argument about his uniqueness. His blue and silver gave him an aura of elegance full of mysteriousness.

The middle-aged man, on the other hand, looked like an amiable and somewhat normal old man who wouldn't even be able to hold a sword, much less fight. His clothes screamed ostentatiousness and arrogance. This man was none other than the mayor of this dungeon's city, Angus Green.

The moment Alex advanced toward the mayor with Incursio not far behind, all those present suddenly felt as if they were being crushed.

All of them understood that a silent confrontation between the old and the young man was happening. They were nothing more than collateral damage. They hadn't expected a direct showdown like this.

"Welcome sir Alexander and your wife."

"Thank you, Angus, we finally met."

The moment Alex finally stopped in front of the mayor, the very atmosphere in the room seemed to be separated into two. Though no matter where the nobles stood, all of them had ugly expressions.

They didn't understand why this was happening.

Before coming here, they had an inkling that something would happen. But, no matter what, it was too fast for them to tear all pretense so fast.

The mayor had a sneer as he looked at Alex. Watching this face so close reminded him of that infuriating man he buried a few years ago, the man thought he was special while he was normal, but the funniest thing was that the normal man killed the special one and with his riches developed this city into what it's today.

Still, even though they looked alike, this likeness was only from afar. Everything from his demeanor to his aura was different from that man Angus came to this conclusion.

Alex, on the other hand, had an impassive smile as he inspected the man whose son had put a contract on. Talking about the son, he was not far from them, Alex didn't pay attention to him as he had something to test.

1175 Chapter 1175

Alex, on the other hand, had an impassive smile as he inspected the man whose son had put a contract on. Talking about the son, he was not far from them, Alex didn't pay attention to him as he had something to test.

Meanwhile, Incursio chuckled as she could feel that it was time. She was curious about what reaction the mayor would show.

"The reception is not bad after having us wait for so many days but I'm disappointed by how small-minded you're. You are nothing great."

Those nearby expressions were a sight to behold.

The mayor's expression didn't even change. He wasn't the young and rash kid he had been in the past nor was he stupid, he was someone with plenty of experience.

In terms of heights, Alex and Angus stood at nearly the same level. As such, one didn't need to be a genius to understand that Alex was looking down on him from a mental point of view.

But so what?

Why would he need to care about the yapping of a young boy who is about to die? Thinking so, his smile changed into a little smile as he gave a bow, "Sir Alexander is indeed the mightiest, I admit my loss."

Alex who was still accumulating energy stagnated a little bit, before receding his aura, a frown on his face as he looked more attentively at the mayor.

Alex understood one thing. Those who were driven by emotions weren't dangerous. Rather, they were easy to goad and manipulate.

But those who were driven by ambition and who could bear all humiliation for the completion of their goal were people one should be wary of. After all, you never knew how far they were willing to go.

'Why did I underestimate this man? Even if only for a moment?'

'It is probably what this young imbecile must be thinking.' Angus secretly thought as he observed Alex.

The latter frown deepened at this moment. No matter how the mayor looked. A mayor was still a mayor. Even more so, the man who developed this city into its current state, the most influential man in this city, the strongest. How could the leader of such a family be someone to be underestimated?

'Huhuhu! I can read your face like an open book, those thoughts must be what you are thinking at the moment.' Angus hypothesized and it could be said that Alex made it easy for him to arrive at this conclusion because his face at the moment was that of confusion, like someone who had failed to achieve his goal, someone who underestimate his opponent.

Finally, back to his sense Alex he shook his head, "Angus, your words are misleading. I am still far from being the mightiest."

Even if his brain was flooded, he wouldn't call himself the mightiest.

There were simply too many unparalleled existences in the outside world even maybe inside this dungeon for him to think something so stupid.

Angus gave a fake smile and raised the glass in his hand, "Tonight is a night that will be remembered for a long time. Now that you two graced us with your presence, I think it's time to dance."

Turning toward the orchestra, he mouthed,

"Music."

New music began to fill the room once again, turning back to the couple, Angus said, "I have organized this party for you, so I hope you will appreciate it."

'After all, this might be your last.' Angus thought with a mysterious smile, the smile of someone who had everything under control.

ooooo

At the same time inside another house.

From the outside, this house looks grandiose. It has been built with grey stones and has red brick decorations. Short, wide windows allow enough light to enter the home and have been added to the house in a fairly symmetrical pattern.

The house is equipped with an old-fashioned kitchen and one average bathroom, it also has a warm living room, three bedrooms, a cozy dining area, a game room, and a grand storage room.

The building is fairly rounded in shape. The house is partially surrounded by stylish gardens on two sides.

The second floor is bigger than the first, which creates several overhanging parts on several sides of the house. This floor has a very different style than the floor below.

The roof is low and rounded and is covered with grey wood shingles. Two large chimneys sit on either side of the house. Several large windows let in plenty of light to the rooms below the roof.

The house itself is surrounded by a well-kept garden, with a grass field and flower patches at the edges of the garden.

In one of the rooms, two people, whose appearances were covered by a white and black cloak, were discussing.

"Alpha, why did you suddenly call me? I am a little busy accomplishing my task, it's better to be something worth it."

Even though his appearance was covered, his frivolous but manly voice gave the impression that he was a young man enjoying a prank.

"Sven, how is the operation in Angus's city going on?"

From the voice of the one who answered, and her voluptuous form, it was easy to guess that this person named Alpha, was a woman.

Sven, who heard the tone of her voice, answered more seriously, "The situation is stable. My agent gave me a report and she should be able to infiltrate the target soon. The other two are already on standby."

The cloaked figure began to tap her finger on the ivory table they sat around, as she pondered for a short while, "No more games. Once she gives you the okay, you will begin the operation. Remember, no failure is allowed."

Saying so, she stood and went away. She had already begun to prepare herself for what was to come.

No matter what, no one would stop them from accomplishing their goal.

Sven, who was wondering how long he would have to wait, suddenly received a message,

[I have reached the first target. Begin the operation.]

A maniacal grin split his face at this very moment.

No matter what, no one would stop them from accomplishing their goal.

Sven, who was wondering how long he would have to wait, suddenly received a message,

[I have reached the first target. Begin the operation.]

A maniacal grin split his face at this very moment.

At the same moment, the same maniacal grin could be seen on the face of a servant in the mayor's mansion.

.....

Angus's mansion.

The party continued after the little episode, people approached Alex, trying to exchange a few words with him, most of them were curious about the outside world after choosing to live here years went by, so they weren't well informed. Alex did entertain them but without going into the details.

Incurio disappeared, mixing with some noble ladies, this happened because the moment they entered Alex felt something wasn't right so he asked to lay low as something could happen, to blend in.

Not even the mayor's son, the eldest, the one who put a contract on his father's head felt the ominous atmosphere around him. The mayor excused himself, saying he had something urgent to do.

Alex simply looked at him for a moment before switching to watching the people dancing around him.

The ball was surprisingly interesting. Alex whose life usually revolved around dungeons, and world travel had to admit that this fairytale-like environment was something to be enjoyed.

Still, even though he was surrounded by a sea of beauties who kept smiling at him, if he had to be perfectly honest, he couldn't help but feel empty.

'So many facades.'

Those smiles, those laughs, those words of appreciation; everything was nothing more than lies and artifice.

This made what was supposed to be an enjoyable moment, nothing more than a chore to be done with as soon as possible. What's more, he couldn't wait to see what the mayor planned for organizing this party.

'Patience, it will become fun soon.' He told him to stop himself from yawning.

The mayor after leaving the ballroom went to the higher floor, he was standing in the upper room as he observed the noble dancing and cozying up with Alex. Incurio was chatting and laughing with the noble ladies as if they have been long-time friends.

"She is indeed beautiful, it's a shame, though, she'll die." The mayor mumbled.

It was then that a servant opened the door and entered boldly without introducing himself.

The mayor didn't even bother turning around as he spoke, "What brings you now? And when did you kill this servant?"

"Haha! Killing is such a big word. Let's just say that I graced him with a new beginning. Now then, let's not focus on useless things, and let's talk about the important matter... It's time to begin.."

The mayor narrowed his eyes and turned to face his servant, or rather, the puppets that were now controlled by the necromancer.

He idly wondered how many of his servants were already dead. Not that it particularly mattered. After this night, he would get what he desired the most.

"Why now?"

"Nothing much," The puppet shrugged as he continued, "My boss is getting cranky. What's more, you are more or less ready, right? So let's accelerate."

He nodded, he was indeed basically ready. "Just let me ask you once again, this man is that powerful and we need all these preparations?"

The servant chuckled before answering, "Of course, he is strong, at least a little bit stronger than you, you can't beat him without any preparation, but you don't have to worry as our plans will work perfectly fine. You just have to carry out the orders as ordered."

"I see, for the sake of my goals I'll listen to you for now, but don't think I'm a fool, don't play with me or else-"

"Kuh! Kuh! Kuh! Calm down Gramps, no need to overact."

The mayor harrumphed upon being called a gramps, but the servant, no the puppet in front of him chuckled before asking.

"Why all those questions? Do you wish to give up now?"

"Give up? No, in reality, the result itself does not matter in my eyes."

Saying so, he turned around and once again looked at all the nobles gathered in the hall.

Since the mayor was extremely influential and the invitee of honor was the outsiders, all the big shots present were people extremely important in the city.

It wasn't a mistake to say that if anything happened to any of the people present here, the city's losses would be immeasurable.

Just thinking of this, Sven, who was watching the mayor through his puppet, felt his non-existent heart pounding in his ribs.

'Hahaha! Soon, this city will be destroyed. We will be the team that succeeded where the once mighty number 1 failed. Hahahaha! Chaos forever!!!.'

"It is started." Angus declared before starting to go downstairs.

The puppet controlled by Sven also disappeared, he had to distract the white-haired woman who for some reason looked like someone he had heard of.

.....

After drinking multiple cocktails, Alex was now dancing with a woman. He was dancing with a red-haired pale woman, he couldn't help but feel a little distracted, his mind wavering as he felt more and more that something was wrong.

'Something is wrong.'

"Sir Alexander? You are hurting me you know."

Alex's mind was brought back when he heard a soft gasp. Looking at the slowly reddening hands in his, he let out a low exclamation of surprise and apologized,

"I am sorry, I was a little distracted."

The woman let out a strained laugh as she answered, "I do not know what hurt more now. My hands, which were on the verge of being crushed, or my ego, after hearing that you were distracted even while dancing with me. Maybe I'm not beautiful enough. Well, it's the truth that compared to your partner I'm a little lacking."

Upon this Alex let out a short laugh, at this and apologized once again, but even while doing so, he couldn't help but look at the woman dancing with him.

He hadn't been paying attention since she was already his third dancing partner after Incursio but she was a beautiful woman.

Her long red robe clung tightly to her voluptuous body and showed a deep cleavage without leaving much to the imagination.

Even though she wasn't some ethereal beauty like Maria or Luna, nor did she have a very sensual beauty like Sakuya or Artemia, for some weird reason, it was as if she was hitting all his likes at the same time.

But more than anything, her beautiful black hair and ruby-red eyes were particularly eyes catching.

'No matter how distracted I am, how come I have not noticed this?' Alex made a such face.

He frowned a little bit, before tightening his hand involuntarily before he let out a low growl,

"You...!"

"Oh? Finally, remarked? Well, I guess you aren't the Black Prince for nothing."

Alex immediately began to look around him. The moment he did so, as if on cue, the music stopped, and everyone immediately stopped dancing before focusing on him.

Even though none of those staring at him was a match for him, Alex had to admit that being looked at in such a way by so many people brought him a chill.

"Who are you?"

Letting go of his hand, the woman took a few steps back, and gave an elegant curtsy as she introduced herself, "My real name had long been forgotten, now though, I go by the name, Demis, a vampire and... One of the Numbers from the Chaos Organization."

"Well, I'm a demon who had a certain grudge against you as you killed my other half, Duke Priscilla."

Alex's eyes became cold at this. He didn't understand why he hadn't been able to feel a vampire so close to him, but now wasn't the time to worry about this.

Just as he was about to pounce on her when Demis raised a finger and smiled mischievously,

"From the information gathered I learned a little bit about you. You're both long-range and a melee fighter, and I must admit that fighting you head-on would be quite a pain. So, I came up with a solution. As such, before you do anything you might regret, let me remind you that basically everyone in this room is under my control."

He opened his eyes wide in disbelief. He had already understood this after the earlier chilling display.

'How was it even possible? Even though I had felt a threat, the source was still a little far from it.'

He couldn't understand how she had managed such a feat right under his nose.

'Those must be his thoughts judging by his face's reactions.' Demis mumbled inwardly.

"Hohohoho! Sir Alexander, it seems like you do not believe me. Then how about this?"

"Let's see, you two on the back...This queen orders you to die."

"By your will!"

Alex did not even have the time to react. By the time he could do anything his vision was dyed red. In an instant it has turned into a bloody party.

Demis chuckled seeing Alex's head lowered. The first step of their plan succeeded so she thought.

1177 Chapter 1177

It happened so fast it was so unexpected, that by the time Alex in front of Demis could have reacted, everything was already too late.

The two who had killed themselves with a smile on their face as they stabbed their own throat with all their might had been young girls not much older than him.

He even remembered dancing with one of them not long ago, and vividly remembered how thrilled she had been that he accepted to dance with her.

She was a young girl, a seemingly innocent girl who had all her life in front of her, but...All of this had been simply crushed.

As he watched the blood flow from their throat to their dresses then the ground, while they collapsed. Alex's expression was unsightly.

"Bastard!"

Falling in a short daze, he couldn't help but shout at the vampire woman in front of him. A woman as vicious as she was beautiful who introduced herself under the name of Demis, she said she was Duke Priscilla other's half whom he killed while on a mission on the demon's continent.

'I need to get a hold of myself!'

Berating himself in his mind, he forced himself and calmed down his wildly beating heart.

Right now wasn't the moment to fall under the pace of the enemy.

Slowly getting back his bearing, he stopped his hands from shaking and looked at the woman facing him as calmly as possible.

"What is your goal?"

The first and most important thing was assuring the security of most of the people gathered there. He had enough knowledge to understand just how much of a hit it would be to lose the people here.

But he couldn't show how much he cared for them. Otherwise, it would give much more power to the enemy.

"Fufufu!"

Upon hearing this question coming from Alex who had now raised his head and was glaring at her, Demis chuckled. Even though she was quite sadistic, she hadn't ordered the death of those two girls for nothing. It was to wear Alex down mentally as the drug inside the drinks quicked in, they are odorless so he wouldn't notice anything nor he could summon his Gift and use mana once he consumed this drug specially tailored for him.

That's why she had wished to break his composure as much as possible before the fight, something that shouldn't have been that hard to accomplish since Alex seemed to have fallen under the drug. He was almost helpless at the moment or soon he would be.

"Seems like we seriously underestimated you. You gained your composure faster than I thought." Demis said while playing with her lock.

"Answer my question." Alex glared at her as if he wished to tear her apart much to Demis's amusement.

"Hum...What is our goal? What is it indeed?" She tilted her head playfully.

"Hey, Sven, what is our goal again?"

Alex narrowed his eyes and without diverting his attention from her, felt his surroundings.

"Sigh, I already told you that."

Alex didn't have to turn his head to know that this voice was coming from a few meters behind him. More precisely, from one of the previously controlled people.

Sven appeared to be in his forties, with black hair, hollow eyes, and a white beard.

Upon hearing Sven's answer, Demis simply shrugged her shoulders, "Your plans are too complicated, you know? So I simply stopped listening."

Sven shook his head as he looked at the vampire affectionately as if he was a grandfather watching his slightly spoiled and unruly granddaughter.

"Remember. Trap this man with a formation covering the entire mansion. Take hostages and control him. Finally, give him to our dear leader Alpha."

Alex did not stop this little skit from happening. Even though being disregarded like this was quite humiliating, it helped him gather his bearing and become calmer. What's more, it was quite informative. In fact, it was very informative because from those words he learned a few things and started forming a picture of their group in his head.

While keeping vigilant, he asked, "So, it seems like you are the one giving orders? Sven, was it? Could you kindly explain what your real aim is?"

He could feel that this man named Sven had no power in him. So he should be an easy target. With his speed, getting to him shouldn't be a problem.

At least in appearances.

'This feels too much like bait. This is most likely a trap.'

This reminded him of a saying.

If it swims like a duck, quacks like a duck, and looks like a duck, then, it's most likely a duck.

No matter what, they didn't know that he could flee at any moment.

As long as they didn't have this information, he was in a superior position.

Now, he needed to be sure of something,

"Also, dear mayor, could you give us the pleasure to come down? I don't like how you are watching all this from high up."

Clap Clap

"Magnificent!."

The mayor, Angus slowly descended the stair while clapping, "From your expression, I guess that you aren't surprised?"

"I am definitely surprised. I have expected something like this but it still surprised me." Alex responded.

"Hohoho! I'm humbled to have surpassed your expectations." Angus said with a smile while exchanging glances with the other two. The drug should have taken effect by now, he must be powerless at the moment.

"Why you of all people? Why sacrifice the lives of people you ought to protect? Just for the sake of one man?" Alex asked with his eyes reddened.

"Well, they promised me something bigger, and any sacrifice to get what I truly desire is worth it," Angus said while crossing his arms.

Suddenly, Alex lowered his head and plunged into silence, the others wondered if despair had finally taken over his psychic, however, they had no idea of what Alex was thinking at the moment.

Thinking about how they were nothing more than silly marionettes being manipulated by the enemy.

Thinking about how all their hopes and dreams would be shattered,

Alex couldn't help it,

"Hahaha!" He exploded in laughter.

He laughed and laughed so much that he felt short of breath.

He laughed to his heart's content, his acting deserved an Oscar or at least a nomination for it.

The other three frowned at his incomprehensible reaction, while Angus asked with an irritated expression,

"May I ask what is so funny?"

"I am laughing at you, you adorable stupid bastard. I am also laughing at how brazen those guys are. But more than anything, I am laughing at how everyone seems to treat me as prey on the chopping board."

Wiping a tear from the corner of his eye, Alex stretched a little as he said,

"This feels great. Didn't laugh like that in a while."

Stopping his stretch, he began to jump up and down to loosen his muscle.

Grinning, his eyes twinkling with mischief, he continued, "Well, I guess it's time to stop this little act, I'm tired of playing, to be honest, I'm not that good, it's you imbeciles who are simply too dumb to take notice."

It was at this moment the others feel like something was not right, almost as at this moment the cloudy fog before their eyes started disappearing and they were now able to see.

"Alexander, are you disregarding the lives of those people!?"

"Alexander, I would advise you to stay calm. Even without those hostages, Demis isn't someone you can beat at your current level. Much less the mayor who is stronger than us." Sven shouted at Alex.

"Demis, you gotta be careful," Sven warned his comrade.

"Roger."

A crimson aura covered Demis's body as she readied herself to receive whatever the little prince would throw at her. Normally, she would have already rushed, but this secret technique sounded like a big deal, and she didn't want to receive a deadly counter.

"Heh? What do their lives have to do with me? They can all die for all that I care." Alex finally responded with a crazed smile which shocked the three.

"All I care about is my life and those closest to me. The world could burn, I'll only interfere if it's beneficial for me and my loved ones." Alex added,

Then, under their widened eyes, he vanished.

"What!?"

They couldn't believe it. This shouldn't be possible.

Angus, with his centuries of experience, immediately understood what was happening and paled as he screamed,

"Everyone be careful! The drug does not affect him." Angus warned but..

"It's too late. I guess."

Ugh

A shiver went through Demis's spine as she turned to find Sven, with a bloodied hand going through his chest and a grinning Alex standing behind him.

"Well, the most troublesome dealt with I guess." He declared while crushing Sven's heart.

A predatory smile formed on Alex's face as he stared at them, "You guys made one mistake, you see... I am not locked in with you guys."

Withdrawing his hand, he didn't even spare a glance as Sven's lifeless body slumped on the ground.

"It's you, who is locked in with me."

It was time to show who was the real prey.

1178 Chapter 1178

While Alex and Incursio were having fun, the same thing could be said about the others.

Currently, Saeko and Gracier were progressing in their chosen dungeon, both busy fighting their, powerful monsters. Brutal Apes, low-level Demigod monsters. They're four meters high with tough white fur, they are aggressive as their name suggests. Often rarely walk in a group but Saeko's group stumbles upon this couple, Gracier was fighting against the female Brutal Ape.

Looking at the other side of the forest where a girl and beast can vaguely be seen, Saeko grinned after listening for a short while.

"Sister Gracier's side looks like it's doing fine. She seems to be having fun."

She turned her attention back toward the female Brutal Ape standing not far away from her. She restrained her smile and focused harder on her current target.

She brushed her hair to the side and lightning flickered between her fingers, the flickering electrical light dazzled her countenance, making her shine with an impossible sheen. At this moment she appeared like a goddess wielding lightning.

The Brutal ape in front of her wailed with savage flashes in its eyes. The brutal aura coming from it gave indubitable clues that it was starting to get anxious because it can also hear the dying sounds of its mate.

He was livid and it showed this by drumming its chest at Saeko.

"Wow! Angry aren't we?"

Saeko glanced at the Brutal Ape and she raised her arms. Clapping it and subsequently parting her palms, bluish-white lightning danced between her palms in a radiant display of power.

"I'm also pissed off that I'm not with my hubby and he is with a white-haired bitch!"

The lightning between her palms expanded in less than a few seconds to become a big mess of electrical discharge.

The corner of her lips curled into a smile after she finished channeling her power. She lobbed the orb of lightning at the ape, it flew while carrying the condensed power of a storm. She did not want to rely on her Gift but this time only use the lightning element.

The orb of lightning churned the environment, dust shirked away, the soil got disintegrated, and boulders got thrown around by the sheer force of her attack.

Even the sound it emitted could intimidate anyone.

Swish!

The terrifying attack caused the fur on the ape to stand on its ends, like an attacked porcupine. It released a low growl and it charged at the attack after winding itself up. It left afterimages before the two met in a glorious collision.

Boom

The lightning attack got shattered but the blur appeared from inside the explosion, she could see the ape swinging its arm, relatively unharmed from the attack.

"Oh! What a tough arm..."

The beast retrieved its arms and Saeko couldn't help expressing her shock. The creature used its own body to block and the attack did little to harm the monster. The arms on this creature are probably very durable judging from the results.

A flash of light and Saeko covered herself in lightning. She stomped the ground and she conducted the lightning she had mustered up into the ground. Like a wide-spread net, the lightning traveled toward the Brutal Ape.

The lightning ravaged the lands. Shrieking, the beast pounded its arms on the ground and it swiftly disappeared. Appearing in the air, a metallic shine appeared on its arms before it disappeared again.

Swoosh!

The next time it showed itself, it was already at Saeko's side.

pAnD a(-)n0ve1.com "Fast!" Saeko commented.

Then the Brutal Ape flailed its arm at her waist, splitting the air as it made its way towards her. If this attack connected then it's game over for Saeko.

Flinching slightly, she stomped one more time but it was not a lightning attack this time. It's a tidal wave of sand mixed with a small wind storm.

Like minuscule bees, the tidal wave of iron sand formed a solid fortress wall beside her, blocking the attack from the Brutal Ape.

Bang!

The arm hammered the fortress-like iron wall, dispersing part of the iron wall in a shocking display of strength. The arm even managed to split the iron wall in half as the attack came before Saeko in an instant.

Her pupils shrunk, and she backed off with two steps. This action saved her because the Brutal ape attack missed by a few centimeters. It stopped because the Brutal ape's arms weren't long enough, not because it ran out of momentum.

Its arm was stuck in the compromised iron wall, the ape couldn't barge past the wall since the wall was not destroyed. It was a hilarious scene but that was a close call for Saeko who hadn't anticipated such a display of might. Even though she read little information about this monster, it was her first fighting one. She unknowingly made some errors in her judgment which almost cost her life.

Saeko felt a cold drop of sweat rolling down the side of her head. With a stiff look, she felt the arm brush past her face and that sent a chill down her spine.

The attack almost hit her, in the face and to women their face is priceless and a sacred temple one should not aim for.

When she returned to her senses, anger climbed up her face.

"You damned ape, you aimed for the face!"

Her smile was one of utter anger.

"Time to make it Bang!"

There is something Saeko always wished to try after witnessing Alex's many battles, she often thought it would be cool if she had a Gift capable of shooting projectiles, and bullets like Alex's Gift does. One should not forget that even before meeting Alex, even before becoming his fiancée, one of the women in his love, she was a crazy fan of Alex, she had a room full of his posters and often imagined herself shooting projectiles, bullets using Alex's terms but unfortunately, she couldn't but then one day she got an idea while playing with a coin, it possible to copy Alex's move with a coin, she had performed this move during her training session and finally the time has come to let it blossom, time to make it Bang!

Saeko grabbed a coin from her spatial ring and lightning started crackling and flickering all around her. A sense of dread appeared in the male Brutal Ape, it hurriedly retreated after breaking free from the iron wall.

"BANG! Lightning Bullet!"

It was too late, it withdrew its arm and an orange laser came incinerated a bigger hole through the iron wall and landed squarely on the ape. With no time to evade, it raised its arms to shield itself.

BOOM!

The ape howled in pain after the accelerated projectile made contact with its arms. With its tough defense, the ape got sent into the sky but its arms were only slightly burned from the attack.

Bang! Bang!

Few others coins imbued with lightning followed, leaving gaping holes in the beast's fur. Adjusting itself in midair, the ape was thinking about sending a counterattack when the Brutal Ape saw a very scary scene that caused him to whimper.

Standing there, a bigger lightning orb was currently spinning at high velocity, the surrounding air got sucked into the ensuing vortex. A dreadful amount of heat is being generated by the lightning orb.

In an instant, with a brilliant blue explosion of light, Saeko threw the lightning bolt at the ape who couldn't dodge in time.

"Uwagh"

The lightning electrocuted the beast while the heat burned the ape, there was nothing the ape could do when confronted with such an attack.

Already heavily wounded, the high heat started showing its effects. Within a short period, the ape got clad in dazzling light as it continued wailing in pain.

His vision went blurry as tears filled his eyes. Biting the pain was barely an option as agonizing cramps seemed to crush its insides from within. Surely this pain would stop soon. Surely there's an end to this. The beast wasn't so sure and ready to give up because of it.

"Roarrrrr!"

The beast roared and gave one last attempt, he couldn't die like this, no he wouldn't accept such a death, and Overlord can't die like this, not so easy.

It was then the Brutal Ape that used its special ability and tried to change its body into metal, at least the most vital spots. The heart is the first one followed by the brain, then its genital as protecting this is a must before the rest of the body.

As if the beast had an epiphany he started using all its mana to create a metallic shine on those places mentioned above but there was no way Saeko would let him have his wish.

"Just die you stupid ape."

She was still furious that her face got almost scratched by this stinky ape, what if this leave some mark and as a result, Alex came to dislike her because of it? The monster has to die.

"Lightning Bullet!"

BANG!

Another coin departed but this one was a bit special. The ape did not get the chance to protect its head before the lightning-infused coin penetrated its brain and lighted up the lightning covering its body. It was like adding fuel to a fire.

The beast was set ablaze and couldn't do anything about it.

In about 30 seconds, bordering on almost complete disintegration, the charred remains of the male Brutal Ape fell from the air.

1179 Chapter 1179

Let's rewind time.

Gracier was fighting the female Brutal Ape but unlike how she usually does fights she was using a new mode, her Gift have turned into a sword form and with wings behind she took the sky.

"This is fun!"

Gracier flapped her wings and she swooped down at the Brutal ape from high up in the sky. Her crimson sword shining like a lightsaber extended from the hilt, turning her into a beautiful falling meteor. She was so fast that she shook the space she traveled.

She had the highest mobility and agility among the others as she got her wings faster than them and unlike the others, she liked using them and thus got plenty of experience. Her perks made her almost peerless when it comes to close-quarter combat.

"Uh! Uh! Uh!"

The ape spread its arm wide as if telling Gracier to come at it while bellowing like a beast. Raising its arms overhead, the Brutal ape chose a frontal charge against Gracier.

A sword of light infused with so much power it pierced the space around it. Gracier fell in an indomitable streak from more than two hundred meters in the air, smiting the ape from above.

Swoosh!

The female Brutal Ape jumped into the air before it swung its arm, the creature left a streaking afterimage in the air, stirring the air with just the force of its swing. It was planning on taking this hit head-on.

Bang!

A collision happened in the air, the ape who leaped up in defiance of Gracier's strike got swatted into the ground in a very heavy fall. The ground immediately gave way as the brute force attacks between two above level 140, two Rank 14, Demigods tore the land apart, making a gigantic hole in the process.

In the epicenter, an area spanning twenty meters in diameter got reduced to complete rubble. The shockwave generated from this exchange of attack absolutely demolished everything in its way, towering trees fell just as easily as the flimsy flowers around them. The ground immediately lowered by 2 meters compared to the area around it. Dust and stones are still falling from the sky, the ground was still slightly trembling from the impact.

Gracier attack against the Brutal ape immediately shuddered the surrounding not far away, both other monsters covered their ears to protect themselves from this earth-sundering sound, they were flabbergasted by the loud noise this shockwave was generating, and most of them escaped shortly after, some unlucky among them died while running.

"Oh?"

Gracier who likes Saeko was fighting differently unlike she usually does was surprised, she got thrown back into the sky from the reaction force between the two. Her petite body flipped a few times in the sky before she finally managed to stop herself. With a flap of her wings, she steadied herself.

"That hurts..."

She used her other hand to massage her sword hand. She was the victor of that bout, however, her hand was still numb from the impact between them.

Gravity helped her, otherwise, she would have been dealing with a swelling wrist.

The female Brutal ape's strength could be gauged from this.

"Tch! I thought I was stronger physically guess the world is still a wonderful place."

Suddenly, Gracier puffed her cheeks as if somebody wronged her before smiling as if she found the whole situation odd.

"I knew I shouldn't have chosen an opponent based on gender, I mistakenly assumed that you will be weaker and easy to beat, I wanted to finish first and go help Saeko while at the same time using this chance to ask for a favor."

In the trashed location where the ape fell, the creature burst out of the ground with a roar. It yelled angrily at Astrea, that blow probably enraged it to no end.

"Ah, you are sure quite sturdy. The tough bunch, huh!"

The female Brutal ape was dusty but that's about it. No visible harm could be observed much to Gracier's shock. She might be playing but she could still see and the fact that this creature came out unharmed is nothing less than incredible.

"Fine, let's do that again!"

Gracier yelled, face full of smiles. Transforming into a blurry figure, she was about to attack the Brutal ape one more time when it turned around and started running.

"Ehh?"

Gracier gasped in bewilderment at this sight. When she recovered, flames started seething in her and around her body, her wings shone dazzlingly like two miniature suns.

"Don't run! You cheeky monkey!"

Flapping her wings, she charged at the retreating ape.

Two Demigods individuals were now involved in a cat-and-mouse game. This scene would cause a lot of jaws to drop if anyone's looking.

The ape did a u-turn and stopped right in front of Gracier. Gracier swung her sword but this sudden change of momentum caused her blade to miss as the ape flailed its fist at her fist by taking advantage of the gap in her attack. This attack was swung at full force.

"Ah!"

She didn't expect this but she couldn't cancel out her attack even if she noticed this, she raised her other arm and a flame shield automatically materialized around this arm and she blocked the attack which sent her flying into the distance.

Gracier flipped once in the air and she stopped. Her heterochromia, red and gold eyes couldn't hide the rising anger inside herself, she was about to blow her tops off!

"You despicable monkey, I was going easy on you but you took me for an idiot. To think I would be led around the nose by a monkey..."

Gracier's body couldn't stop trembling from fury. She's outraged that a monkey would dare to compete in a contest of wits with her! Her anger points immediately hit the max value.

The ape wasn't aware that it fired up a volcano that could use a few more intelligence points.

Turning itself into a rocket, the ape jumped at Gracier with fist mirages around it, this was its way of confusing the enemy.

This was considered a sign that the ape wasn't planning on challenging her IQ.

Gracier's hair flared up and anger was written all over her face. Releasing a shout, her flame sword danced a full 360 degrees around her. Using most of her unspent skill points on the Sword Art's skill acquired after awakening a 3rd mode, information about how to perfectly use a sword appeared inside her brain along with a certain skill.

Pouring mana into her body and she turned into a storm of slashes.

In no time at all, she conjured up a constant stream of sword slashes.

When the storm receded and Gracier appeared, the afterimages had already disappeared with a dull thud.

A flash of light appeared in her eyes, the red light on her flame sword brightened as her blade vibrated rapidly at extreme speed. The sword's increased frequency corresponded with her speed as she sped up.

The sword enlarged at least a dozen times, forming a gigantic sword of light. She raised it high as if she wanted to split the sky and the clouds.

"Die for me! You idiot!"

"Heaven-Sky Splitting Slash!"

Huffing and puffing she yelled out loud as she swung the heaven-splitting blade down, the force would make anyone experience an illusion like she split reality into two parts. The blade fell upon the Longarm ape.

KABOOM!

The ground beneath the ape immediately crumbled away forming a 100-meter-wide chasm. Boulders were thrown into the sky as a loud sound echoed in this area.

The female Brutal Ape lost its momentum and its arms fell. Not just that, a line appeared in the ape, this line fitted the abyss that was opened by her. Then, the ape fell in two halves as blood and organs rained down from the sky.

Her last thought has been regret, an illusion to escape the gruesome truth.

'Blood, there's blood everywhere. It's drenched my clothes, they're sticky and heavy and red. Red, everything is red, even the ground below me is turning red with blood. My blood.

The only thing holding me up is this stupid chair beneath me. Maybe I can use it to stand up, walk away and find help. No, it's no use. I'm too weak.

No, I cannot give up. Giving up means I lose, I will never give up. There must be a way out of this, there must be a way I can live. Surely there must be somebody around here, somebody who can help me. Save me.

I can't breathe, I can't breathe. Everything is so heavy, I can't breathe. I must lay down, yes, I'll just lay down. Much better, at least now I can breathe. A little anyway. That's fine, help will be here soon, I'll just lay here and wait. At least this way I'll spare my energy.

I'm going to die. Shame it's not like in the movies, I have yet to see flashes of my life as I slowly pass away. Maybe they're yet to come. It should be soon though, I know I have little time left. Best get ready for the show.

My mind is numb, I'm feeling drowsy. I can't think straight anymore, I'm too tired. The world looks distorted, I can't make sense of any of it anymore. My mind is numb.

I love you Bronis.'

The dying ape managed to let out a last cry and the other ape, the male happened to hear it.

1180 Chapter 1180

After killing a couple of Brutal Apes, Saeko and Gracier meet up and switched locations appearing in another forest.

The forest was endless, murky, and flourishing. Its canopy was competed for by rhododendron, rowan, and fir, and twinkling lights bursting through their crowns allowed for a medley of ferns to cultivate the crunchy layer of leaves below.

Thick branches dangled from many a tree, and a variety of flowers, which clung to any space they could find, clashed with the otherwise emerald terrain.

A mixture of beastly noises, which were caused by a varmint, reverberated through the air and were out of sync with the occasional sounds of breaking twigs beneath the feet of larger animals.

"Come on not another forest again." Saeko finished her sentence, and an unexpected turn of events occurred.

Roar

A roar came from some distance away, the roar itself bringing down a sea of trees.

This was just the voice, but it was frightening, truly what a frightening power.

"What the fuck!!" Gracier was unable to control her language and she exchanged a look with Saeko, you can see the worries inside them, it was then it happened again.

ROAR!!!

Another one but this time it was more powerful.

Fury and viciousness mixed into an incoherent shout, and this boom came from beyond the trees. A shapeless soundwave hit the sea of trees like somebody dropped a missile. Trees as high as ten meters were easily uprooted and blown away by the force of this roar.

This roar came light a giant bolt of lightning congealed by layers upon layers of cumulonimbus clouds. The soundwave engulfed everything in its path, even other sounds were devoured by its sheer volume. All the beasts and animals in the radius of 10 kilometers were rendered limp by this domineering roar. Even the peak Grand Master ones on the cusp of reaching the next realm were hurting all over from this furious roar. The weaker monsters in this region got knocked out from the shout alone.

The girls went pale when they heard this roar, just when they were about to escape too as they could detect how dangerous the owner of this roar was. This roar was like an explosion in their minds, they almost lost grip on their consciousness.

Gracier and Saeko stared at the fallen trees as they somehow made it through that awful shout. They were temporarily paralyzed by the shout, they believed that if some weak-willed people were present they would be unconscious because of the force of the shout.

"This one is truly dangerous, probably the boss." Gracier declared, feeling anxious.

"We should run Saeko." She suggested to her friend and sister.

"No, it's too late..."

Her voice trembled.

A figure slowly appeared in the distance. Judging from how fast the figure expanded in size, it's probably traveling at a very high speed. Its aura made the space wobbly, space itself shook because of the power of the beast.

In an instant, the figure arrived after making a loud thud with its descent.

It was an ape around 8 meters in height, spotting completely golden fur, its arm easily propped the hulking beast up like stout legs. The color of its eyes reminded one of spilled blood, it's like violence personified. With a long scar across its face, it told stories about how it fought and killed its way to the present day.

Brutal Ape King: Level 180

"Level 180"

Saeko felt her throat drying up from anxiety. She found it hard to speak as the blood drained from her face. Gracier was right, this thing was a way above them, really dangerous.

One should be aware of a certain fact, once in the Demigod's realm be it a monster or the other species, the more one progress the more stronger the gap, especially after passing a certain cap, level 160, from then onward the difference would become bigger and bigger. Naturally, the gap between level 160 and tier 180 is still big, almost insurmountable like the gap between heaven and earth. They were not peeing their pants from the beast but they were still very shocked by its appearance. Their muscles tensed up as they focused on this monster in front of them.

The duo's hearts started shaking from the seemingly boundless aura the Brutal ape king was releasing. This ape king gave them a very general and simple idea, too strong!

The Brutal ape king scanned everyone here with a cold and distant look, it was treating the duo team like they are just a group of passing ants.

However, when he saw the bodies of its subordinates, its expression changed as its pupil shrank to pin size. A seemingly infinite berserk and vicious aura started pouring out from its body. He was angry, very angry.

Roar

A more terrifying shout exploded outwards. The roar destroyed the surroundings, sending trees into the sky and assaulting the expedition team.

Its sound is like a tornado that stirred the environment and wreaked havoc on all the things here. It's like somebody flipped this whole place on its head. Standing in a vacant spot, the other expedition members are still busy resisting its sound wave as the bones in their bodies creaked.

Like a volcano that blew its top, the Brutal Ape King huffed while releasing its presence all over the field. Having vented its anger, it looked like it returned to its calm state. However, the bloodshot eyes and the oppressive killing intent swimming all over the place told everyone it was far from being sated.

Gracier, the little devil's, the Touch's princess expression turned grim as she yelled her order.

"Retreat! Run as fast as you can!"

Saeko did not discuss Gracier's order and did as the little devil ordered and they started retreating a distance away. Soon, a figure slammed down from the sky above, decimating the place they were standing on, and making a huge hole in the ground.

BANG!

The displaced rocks fell and started raining down on the slow-escaping monsters and animals team. Bloody and battered, they all moaned in pain as they struggled to get up following this simple attack. Their eyes started filling up with terror when they looked at the Brutal ape king.

If the two humans didn't run increasing their anxiety, they would have flattened meat pies under the ape king's feet.

Roar!

After witnessing its failed attack, the ape king raised his arms in anger. Smashing it on Gracier who warned everyone. Its fists pushed the air away as Gracier felt a heavy sensation.

"Flame shield!"

Gracier instantly acted, summoning her flame wings, flapping them, she appeared in front of Saeko with her flame shield deployed, taking most of the damage.

BAM!

Like a physical shield, it started cracking from the attack but it managed to block the attack which only made the ape king angrier!

This fight just got started!

Roar

It drummed its chest as a gaping maw appeared on its face. Another eardrum-destroying shout came from its giant mouth.

Under its roar, the girls slowed down temporarily, they were rooted to their spots by this yell. The Brutal Ape King ape started taking action.

Stomping the ground, the land immediately trembled under its immense strength. Shooting straight for them, the ape flew like a missile as it appeared in front of Gracier, it's hard to imagine that something so big can move so fast!

The ape king balled its hand into a fist as its muscles started bulging, expanding the arm to inhuman levels. Its arm is as thick as a table and this fist went straight for Gracier's heart, aiming to kill without leaving it up to fate.

Its speed didn't match its hulking mass. This was out of her estimates, despite the shock, Gracier remained calm as she retreated into the distance with Gracier in her arms.

After putting a distance between them, she put Saeko down.

"We can only fight," Saeko said despite feeling the immense pressure coming from the enemy not too far from them.

"I know."

The two charged at the enemy but only stopped a few meters away. She materialized her Gift in form of a scythe that came out of a flame portal. She grasped it and she didn't show any trepidation in front of a level 180 monster.

Elation burned in her heterochromia eyes.

Gracier knew how strong this monster can be, she still remembered how strong her brother was. She wanted to see how far she can carry herself against an impossible enemy.

And with Gracier together with her, she could not afford to lose miserably, might as well put all her skills, no their skills to the test, right?

The two selected a different direction, right and left. They locked the Brutal Ape King in an encirclement.

Saeko revealed her sword while deciding to go all out.

Flame wings appeared behind Gracier's back as floated upwards into the sky. Her hair flared majestically after entering her battle state. Her pure expression also turned serious.
