

Death Guns 1241

1241 Chapter 1241

The following day.

Early morning.

With the sky growing brighter, golden rays started lighting up the green earth. The light also brought vitality and cool air, adding to the palette of the world.

The air's still cool. The city is not that hot during dawn. However, the coolness will be gradually replaced by the heat of the baking sun.

The city's climate is a torment for those who can't tolerate heat.

In a certain house, Alex's new house.

From the outside, this house looks gorgeous. It has been built with white bricks and has mahogany wooden decorations. Tall, large windows brighten up the house and have been added to the house in a fairly symmetrical pattern.

The house is equipped with a large kitchen and one average bathroom, it also has a fairly small living room, three bedrooms, a modest dining area, a study, and a small garage.

The building is shaped like an L. The extension extends into a patio reaching the end of that side of the house.

The second floor is smaller than the first, which, in combination with its placement, creates an original look. This floor has a different style than the floor below.

The roof is high, triangular, and layered and is covered with grey roof tiles. Two large chimneys poke out of the center of the roof. Several long, thin windows let in plenty of light to the rooms below the roof.

The house itself is surrounded by a gorgeous garden, including various trees, bushes, flowers, and a large pond.

Incurcio woke up while it was still not that hot yet. She slapped her cheeks and stretched her back before getting out of bed.

She kept rubbing her eyes to perk up her foggy mind. She was wearing a short-sleeved shirt and shorts. She walked out of her room without changing.

This had become her daily life since entering the Infinity Maze and she didn't mind as this lifestyle isn't bad hopefully this could continue.

Unlike her brother what most people would have thought, Incurcio woke up on time. She's a bit of a neat freak so she made sure to clean their home up as part of her morning routine. After that, she would change her clothes and wake Alex up if he was still sleeping, maybe because they're together Alex who had the habit of waking up faster stopped constantly doing so since their arrival here.

Incurcio yawned after complaining a bit. She entered the living room. She felt like the nagging wife.

After grumbling about the sleepy Alex, she entered the living room only to see a shocking scene. Her jaw almost dropped to the ground.

"Yo, good morning, Incursio!"

His energetic voice came from the dining table set in the living room. She returned to her senses as she called out the identity of the person greeting her in her home.

"Alexander!"

"As expected, you're an early bird, aren't you?..."

Alex chuckled.

"Luckily, I woke up before the sun even broke the horizon. Otherwise, I am afraid I might not have made it in time..."

"Alex... Y-you..."

Incursio stuttered. She looked down and she was still in her sleepwear so she blushed furiously.

"Eh?!"

Alex's warm smile petrified her, making her feel warm all over her body.

For Incursio, seeing the person she loves first thing in the morning probably came as a pleasant surprise, right?

Alex also planned to give her all the celebration she wants.

His mood improved after seeing the positive vibes Incursio's giving off. He grabbed her hand and sat her down at the dining table.

"Well, a change of pace is good sometimes..."

Alex looked into her eyes with a cheeky smile.

"For example, you can make a love-filled breakfast for your girlfriend..." panda.nove.com

"Eh?!"

Incursio finally noticed the delicious food laid out on the table.

When she thought about what Alex's said, why wouldn't she get the hint in Alex's words?

She started blushing and she averted her gaze, looking at the food on the table. Her heart filled up with saccharine goodness and she leaked a tiny voice. It was like she had become a teenager who had just discovered love, not the cold bloodthirsty demon she previously was.

"Th-thank you... Alex..."

"No need to thank me, this was long overdue..."

Alex said with an ambiguous tone. It looks like Incursio's glad so he sighed in relief.

Before leaving for that place she ought to do.

Improve his relationship with Incursio by doing normal things a normal couple would do. It wouldn't be easy to convince her knowing her desire to explore the unknown and have fun.

In other words, he needs to up his game with Incursio.

This was why Alex got out of bed early and made a scrumptious breakfast feast.

It's working well if her reaction is any indication.

While the iron's hot, Alex kept pounding the iron piece. He presented his food to Incursio.

She was stunned by the feast spread out before her. Her face gained a red shade because of the food.

Forget about the taste, for now, the presentation of the food is...

βαῆδα-ἠθὲ | ·cθm Heart

They were all made in heart shapes for some reason.

"Alex!"

She started pouting in bashful anger.

"Why did you make the food look like this?! This is so embarrassing!"

"Hmm?"

Alex looked down in a "disappointed" manner.

"You don't like it?"

"N-no, it's not like that..."

She shook her head and hands in panic. With a face as red as a tomato, she continued.

"So what is the problem? Perhaps our feeling embarrassed?" Alex asked with a mysterious smile. Incursio felt like she would lose if she were to continue playing this game w therefore she simply answered.

"I-it's nothing..."

Alex nodded asking her to taste the food.

"Come, taste it. I am going to take you out for a fun stroll later..."

Incursio's eyes lit up.

"Okay."

Incursio started enjoying the feast prepared "lovingly" by Alex.

After breakfast, the duo departed from their house, everyone bowed upon seeing them because while they got a new Lord, the status of these two was undoubtedly higher. Nobody would dare to underestimate them. Alex and Incursio ignored them as they continued to enjoy their date which would be probably their last Incursio believed.

Chapter 1242 Date And The Promise

Incursio started enjoying the feast prepared "lovingly" by Alex.

After breakfast, the duo departed from their house, everyone bowed upon seeing them because while they got a new Lord, the status of these two is undoubtedly higher. Nobody would dare to underestimate them. Alex and Incursio ignored them as they continued to enjoy their date which would be probably their last Incursio believed.

A few hours later in the tallest building in the city overlooking the city, Alex proposed to tell Incursio a story from Earth. This happened because of the status on top of the tallest building, it evoked a certain memory in him thus this proposition.

Although Incursio would never admit it openly before this man, she's a fan of stories.

"What's the story? What's the story? Tell me now!"

Alex shook his head with a smile. He looked at the statue.

"A long time ago, there was a certain couple..."

"The man was gallant and handsome while the lady was very beautiful..."

"Their encounter was as if fate had orchestrated their destinies. When everyone realized it, they had already become the most talked-about couple in that region..."

"It was only sometime later that the lady found out about the man's real identity. That handsome man was a vampire. To be more specific, he was a vampire noble from the Lost Warlord faction."

"The lady didn't discriminate against her handsome lover. The handsome man apologized profusely for hiding his identity from her, but she still accepted him anyway..."

"Alas, the good times didn't last long. The Lost Warlord Empire was still in its infancy, the first primogenitor, the Lost Warlord was in constant battles with other factions."

"To defeat his enemies and solidify the empire's position, the Lost Warlord drafted all his vampire subjects. They planned to fight a decisive battle that will settle it once and for all."

"As a direct descendant and a noble affiliated with the Lost Warlord, the handsome man had to answer the call to arms. The admired pair was faced with the fate of separation..."

"The beautiful lady accepted reality. Even when the man is anguished over duty and romance. She understood his pain and did her part, she understood what must be done and she accepted his explanations. She also swore to wait for her lover to return."

"In the end, before the handsome man left, he swore the same, that he would fight to the very last drop of his blood to end the war as soon as possible to return to her side..."

"With his burning love for his lover at home, the handsome man busted his back all so the war can end just a second sooner. Tried he did, however, the war still took 50 years to come to an end."

"50 years! For humans, that's already more than half of their expected lifespans in your former world isn't it?" Incursio who learned about Alex's world inquired and he nodded before continuing his story.

"The handsome felt deep remorse. He regretted how he didn't turn the beautiful lady into his blood servant, which would have lengthened her lifespan. Is his lover still healthy? 50 years had already passed, does she still love him? Is she still even waiting for his return?..."

"The handsome man had no idea. At least, he was sure his love still burned for her. When the war ended, the handsome man immediately made his way back to see a scene that he will never forget..."

"The house he shared with his lover had already fallen into disrepair. 50 years of wear and tear made the building look like it had been abandoned long ago. Inside the building where the ceiling requires a major overhaul, his lover's still there."

"After 50 years, the beautiful lady is already no more. She's now a terminally ill old woman who laid on her decrepit bed..."

"That's not the most important thing. The handsome man will never forget the relieved and happy smile the old lady showed him when he stepped into the room. Her eyes lit up and her aged wrinkles almost disappeared as if the lady held onto life just to fulfill the promise she had with the handsome man. In her final moments, the lady closed her eyes with a placid smile upon her face..."

"The old lady never opened her eyes after that. Her weak but radiant smile became a volley of arrows that shredded the handsome man's heart..."

"He held onto his deceased lover's body and he shed tears of despair. That day, the rain was particularly heavy..."

"Every time someone passed through that lane, they would always see a young man holding an old lady's body while rooted to that spot. It was the sight of a broken man in a broken home. The handsome man was alive but any resemblance of vitality was gone. He didn't eat, he didn't drink, he just kneeled there like a statue..."

"Out of pity, the residents dug a well near the handsome man. They would give the handsome man water by gathering water from that well. That became a ritual for the people nearby. They came in their spare time to feed the guy water..."

"This went on for a year... two years... five years... a decade..."

"After who knows how long, one resident came by to give the guy some water and they discovered it..." panda.novel.com

The handsome man was gone and the old lady in his embrace was also gone..."

"There was only the well they dug for him and a statue..."

Alex sighed after retelling this story.

He heard about this story from an assault mage colleague.

Despite building up an immunity to this story, it still filled Alex with melancholy.

Alex looked back only to flinch in shock.

Unknowingly Incursio was in tears, her lips were also pursed like someone's bullying her. Upon seeing this he could only bitterly laugh.

"What's wrong with you?"

"Uuu..."

Incursio sniffed, and with tears in her eyes, she continued.

"That's so sad..."

"Really?"

Alex chortled.

"Did you know? The ones who fed the guy water, they, even their descendants were blessed with blissful relationships. They all lived happily ever after. This statue made me remember that story." He told her.

She was stunned.

She tickled her nose and he grabbed her hand.

They walked up to the statue and the well in front of them.

"It's rumored that whoever brings their partner here and douse the statue in a bowl of water will be blessed with luck by the handsome man and the beautiful lady. They will be eternally bound together."

"They too will live happily ever after..."

ῥαῆδα-ῆθνε | ·cθm Incursio who was in tears until now suddenly blushed as if she understood something. Her red eyes and face were like the most breathtaking portrait. Alex's heart raced just like Incursio's heart. Seeing her making such a normal face instead of her usual cold face came as too much blow to him, but still, he didn't dislike this.

Meanwhile, Incursio forgot about the sadness she had from the story and a flustered but joyful feeling took over. She looked at the bowl of water in a daze.

Alex grinned. He told her in a serious and teasing tone.

"You need to think carefully, if you pour this bowl of water on the statue with me, you're going to have to stay with me for life. You can never leave..."

She returned to reality. She lowered her head while fuming with bashful steam. She fidgeted a short while and she reached out to grab the wooden bowl, she also placed her hand on Alex's hand.

The two slowly poured water onto the statue like they were offering up a treasure.

It wasn't immediately known whether the glint they saw was light reflected off the statue or some other magical source.

Incursio clenched down on the wooden bowl. Her eyes were filled with happiness. She was glad to have met this man, now and forever she was sure of.

'I gonna make this last forever so don't tell it's impossible.' She mumbled inside her heart which had somehow started resembling that of a human.

After leaving the tall building the couple visited many places trying to engrave their mark everywhere they go. Today seemed to be special for them as they simply enjoyed themselves until the evening before they both decided to go back and Incursio got a certain idea she wanted to try out.

She briefly talked about this idea with Alex and he smiled before nodding, he would accept any of her caprices today because they're going to be separated from each other soon.

A dirty patch of grass is surrounded by intertwining hedges and bushes. A broad tree stands in the front left, its branches reaching for the sky, ever trying to reach higher and higher. The smaller flower bushes are unkempt, but look all the better for it; they're growing in all sorts and sizes. The hedges and bushes reach 1.5m/5ft high, but they won't grow much taller than this. A couple of messages carved on stones are spread around the garden, offering a glimpse of the best spots. Grass, roots, and vines are starting to reclaim even all pieces of land, eager to expand their dominion.

The tree, an oak, has stood there for a dozen decades, and claimed this land first, and the garden was later built around it. It's no wonder this tree is the biggest eye-catcher. The smaller flower bushes can't be denied their share of the attention, and the hedges and bushes do deserve some credit, but the limelight will forever be on the tree.

In this garden were two people and one of them suddenly said.

"The weather is killing me," Incursio said as she unbuttoned her dress and slowly started sliding them down.

She pushed her ass in Alex's direction while doing that so he could see the black panties tightly stuck between her ass.

Her hands slowly traveled to her back as she tried to unhook her bra.

"Argh, I cannot unhook this stupid thing! Alexander, please help me here." Incursio said as she walked backward and bent down towards Alex.

The latter snorted once before snapping his fingers. Incursio's bra automatically unhooked itself as she made a swoosh noise.

Incursio then moved away as she slowly slid the straps of the bra down her shoulders. While covering her breasts with one hand, she dropped the bra down with the other hand.

"Now I feel cool." She sighed and raised both of her arms in the air.

Gravity occurred and her boobs were pulled down the moment they were released from her grip.

They started juggling up and down as Alex grinned. It was a good attempt but he knew that he could not fondle those beautiful breasts.

The black panties and socks on her body prevented him from doing so.

"Why are you looking at me like that?" Incursio asked in a confused tone before she walked a little forward and bent down in front of Alex.

Her boobs juggled in front of his face as she looked at his face with a confused expression.

"I am just wondering how you honed your skills to this level?" He asked with a smile.

"Well, I'm a fast learner," Incursio said with a grin before she stood up and turned around.

She put her hands on the side of her panties and slowly started pulling them down. After reaching down to her thighs, she bent down even more as she finally slid the panties down her body.

Except for her shoes and socks, Incursio had no clothes on her body but the challenge was still on.

"Looks like I am starting to feel the cold now." She said with a grin and cupped her breasts with her hands. The nipples had turned erect as she slowly started playing with them.

Her right hand then went down to her completely shaved pussy as she slowly pulled her labia apart. She then moved forward to give Alex a better look before putting her middle finger inside her pussy.

While slowly fingering her pussy with her middle finger, Incursio looked at Alex's face. The latter looked extremely calm so Incursio turned her gaze to his cock. panda.nove.com

There was no rising tent and she felt a little disappointed by that.

"Anyways, what are we going to do now?" She asked while keeping her voice stable. "I guess I should proceed with the real thing now."

She then bent down on her knees and with some quick movement, Incursio undid her shoelaces and kicked them off her feet.

In this world, Alex had never thought that he would see someone removing their socks so slowly. But Incursio's speed could be compared to the movement speed of a snail.

"Done." After a few minutes, she dropped the last remaining piece of cloth on her body down on the ground.

"So I passed the challenge." Alex grinned as he stood up and shook off his clothes. He then looked at the few drops of arousal juices dripping down Incursio's thighs before he decided to take things up a notch.

"Then shall we proceed," She said as she hit her ass once with her right hand.

But Alex didn't say anything and walked forward. He grabbed Incursio's body and pulled her against his body. While maintaining a steady grip on her waist, he kissed her lips and invaded her mouth.

His tongue entwined with her tongue before he pushed her against a tree. While keeping their tongues intertwined, his hands slowly traveled down her body and grabbed her breasts.

While groping her beautiful breasts with his hands. Incursio's hands went near Alex's cock.

βὰνδα- ηθνε | ·ςθm His right hand let go of her breasts and went down to her sacred cave.

But Incursio's legs closed around his hand in an attempt to stop him from entering her cave. He then broke their kiss to see her smiling.

"Not so quick," Incursio said as she released the grip on Alex's hands and controlled her tail to move forward and surround his cock.

The white little devil's hand slowly started rubbing his cock and Alex could feel something building inside him.

His hands went behind Incursio. He then grabbed her ass and lifted her body to the ground.

The latter giggled a little when she realized what Alex was doing.

"What a unique position," She muttered as her breasts were now in front of his mouth.

He slowly started licking the erect cherries with his tongue before he put them in his mouth. He then started sucking on the cherries to get their flavor.

"Ahhh~" After that, she finally released a moan as Alex continued to such on her erect red cherries.

Her hand also continued to rub his cock but she soon realized that there was no way that he was going to cum in this way.

"Alex put me down," Incursio said and Alex obliged. He could tell that Incursio had something in her mind and he decided to let her do that.

"Let's see how long you can hold now." She said with a grin before she opened her mouth and swallowed his entire cock in a matter of seconds.

Yet her sharp teeth were chipping at Alex's cock just like when she had given him her first blow job.

'Could it be that she is trying to...!' Alex immediately realized what Incursio meant. The little devil started moving back and forward like she was giving him a blowjob for the first time.

But slowly, her skills started to rise. It was like an MC inside a story who had been hiding his real powers the entire time.

Her hands moved below his cock and wrapped around his jewels. Her hands then slowly started massaging his jewels while she sucked his cock.

"Damn..." Alex muttered as he realized why Incursio had made her earlier statements. He could feel his pre-cum dripping inside Incursio's mouth as the white-haired devil girl slowed down.

She pushed her hand forward and Alex's cock touched the base of her throat. She stayed in this position without gagging and Alex could feel that he was about to come soon.

Incursio also realized this and as quick as a viper, she removed his cock from her mouth and touched the tip with her tongue while her hand whipped back and touched his asshole. The two things combined made Alex release his seed directly inside Incursio's mouth as she greedily swallowed the golden white liquid.

"Tasty.." She finished while licking her lips.

Alex watched his woman with a smile.

"So you managed to get the starter. Shall we move towards the main course now?" He then asked with a smile as Incursio turned around and took the support of the tree.

She then started twerking her ass while he positioned his cock in front of her pussy. He slowly pushed his cock inside her wet pussy as it parted apart to immediately let him enter her.

"Do it faster," Incursio muttered as she wiggled her body on top of Alex's cock.

"I will do it after you do it." He replied with a small smile as he started wiggling her lower half.

She lifted her body a little before dropping down on his cock as her ass hit on his body. This was a very weird position for her since she had to stand on her tiptoes to do this but she didn't mind.

Alex on the other enjoyed the view of Incursio's ass hitting on his body and staying there. But after a few minutes, he suddenly grabbed her waist and pushed her against the tree.

He started pounding her cave with cock as the latter shook because of the intensity of Alex's pounds.

Her mouth was open wide as moans were slowly escaping her throat. Her erect nipples were hitting the rough tree while her body was pushed against it.

"Shall I do it even faster?" Alex asked with a smile as she nodded.

He then grabbed her ass and pulled her body down on his cock. His hands went to the front of her body as he slowly started groping her breasts.

"Ahh~" Alex suddenly felt Incursio's pussy break loose as her love juice started traveling down his cock. But he didn't mind it much and continued to do what he had been doing.

"Cat got your tongue little girl, I thought you said today you will show me something amazing." He suddenly whispered in her right ear before pinching her nipples. Incursio's body shuddered a little before she gained control.

"Let me show you what this miss can do." She replied and lifted herself off Alex's cock.

She pushed him down on the ground and climbed on top of his legs. One of her hands went toward his cock and jerked it a few times before she positioned her cherry cave on top of his cock.

She slowly dropped downwards as her cave was spread apart once again by Alex's cock. Her wet insides were proving to be slippery enough for Incursio to do what she wanted.

"The cat will now become the lion." She said with a grin before turning her body in the other direction.

Now with her ass facing Alex's face, she started riding his cock like a wild cowgirl. The thumps made by her landing could be heard by anyone standing in the distance.

But the barrier prevented that from happening.

"Give it to me, I want Alex," Incursio said with a grin as she continued to ride his dick. The latter didn't say anything and quietly enjoyed what he was getting.

"You said you want it and you shall get it," Alex replied a few minutes later as she smiled. She then settled down on top of his cock and started wiggling her ass.

Alex's cock then suddenly released a wave of white cum and Incursio felt the hot liquid inside her cave. She released a moan with her eyes closed as Alex's white cum filled up her cave.

"Ohhhhh!"

After their mind-blowing orgasms, Incursio went for the next step.

παῖδα- ἦθνε |·ςθm "Incursio, what are you doing," Alex asked while raising his eyebrows as she was sitting on the ground on all four of her limbs.

"What do you think I am doing? Go ahead and put it inside my asshole." Incursio's fingers then went towards her asshole as she slowly spread it apart using her hands.παῖδα `nove | com

Alex just shook his head as he walked forward and stood above her. The latter had already opened the entrance of her rosebud up by a lot so Alex just had to position his cock in front of the hole and push the tip inside.

Incursio then did the rest of the work herself as she slowly started pushing her body backward and her asshole covered Alex's entire cock.

"You thrust or I do it?" She then asked as he raised his right hand and spanked her ass.

"I think you got your response." He replied as Incursio grinned and started pushing her ass back and forward.

Having anal sex was much different than having normal one since Incursio's rear end was completely being stretched by Alex's cock.

But the feeling of pleasure she was receiving was next level.

He was fucking the literal shit out of the white-haired beauty with his still-hard cock but both of them were enjoying it. Incursio's tight asshole was sucking every drop of pre cum out of Alex's cock.

But after a few minutes, he decided to change the pace a little.

"Incursio, I will thrust forward once. You also come back at the same time." He suddenly said as the latter nodded.

Her breasts had been rubbing against the ground and that had made her body even more excited. Her arousal juices had also been falling out of her pussy but Alex's statement brought Incursio out of her pleasure.

"On the count of three. Three, two, one." Alex finished and moved forward and Incursio pushed back at the same time.

"Ohhhhh W~" Her entire body was suddenly overloaded with pleasure as she had an orgasm her love juice broke loose. Alex also came inside her asshole as he pulled his dick out and shot the second wave of white cum on top of Incursio's body.

He then shot another wave as the white-haired girl was drenched in cum. She licked the cum that had fallen on her hands before looking at Alex's cock with a greedy look in her eyes, she was still not satisfied. Not completely yet.

"Let's finish inside." She proposed before teleporting them into their room. They took a quick shower to cleanse their bodies before returning to the bedroom.

Alex smiled and he picked her up in his arms while kissing her. He stepped towards the bed. She couldn't help but wrap her arms around his neck and her legs around his waist.

Alex felt her soft breasts on his chest and her tongue inside his mouth. He could no longer control himself as he tossed her onto the bed.

"Now that's the behavior of a beast and I like it." She remarked Her eyes traced down his gorgeous six-packs and stunning chest. She gulped down in surprise after seeing his large hard-on.

Alex immediately kneeled in front of the couch to plant his face between her thighs. His lips moved from her slender thighs to her sweet hole.

Incurtio wrapped her legs around his neck as his tongue entered inside her.

Slowly she released pure juices on Alex's face.

"I need to return the favor," She said with a smile before she pushed him onto the bed. She ran her fingers down his abs to arrive at his cock.

Incurtio stroked him with her hands while her tongue licked his top. Slowly her tongue licked down the entire shaft.

Alex gripped her head to slide his cock into her welcoming mouth. She felt him growing harder and larger inside her mouth.

A few minutes later!

"I want you inside me again," She opened her legs to welcome him inside her. He rubbed the tip of his cock on her entrance before slipping into her.

"Ah!" Incurtio felt pleasure as soon as he penetrated deeper. She felt him touching depths she has never known existed. She loves having sex with him as if he was the only one that truly understands her body and nobody will ever will as he did.

Meanwhile, unaware of her thoughts, Alex kissed her neck and ears with his thrust. Her hips moved in the same rhythm to compliment him. The power of thrusts increased as he felt her body jerk and shudder in the climax.

She was more sensitive than ever but she welcomed his thrusts more enthusiastically.

The night was still young.

1245 Chapter 1245

"Let go in the massage room and I shall give you a massage." Alex suddenly suggested after another round much to Incurtio's surprise and she simply smiled and accepted, moving into another room.

A few minutes later~

Incurtio stepped out with a white towel wrapping her body. There was a faint fragrance of incense and flowers inside which elevated her mood.

She glanced at the circular table where glass bottles containing oils were placed. The scented plant oils were added to the massage oil and then placed in the glass bottle.

The oils were extracted from special flowers. Not only did they offer a pleasing scent they also have great healing properties.

She moved towards the massage table. She lay flat on her stomach and waited for the masseur to enter.

"Sorry for making you wait," A familiar voice entered her ears and she nodded.

Meanwhile, Alex glanced at the gorgeous curves which were covered nothing but by a towel.

Her white hair hairs were tied exposing her fair neck. Since she was lying flat on her stomach, her breasts were pressing against the massage table.

He licked his lips trying to calm down his raging hormones, "It pleasures me to no end to serve you today."

Incursio nodded with a satisfied smile, it was then Alex who pulled the towel down to expose her back.

"Ah!" She felt his fingertips stroking her back. The strokes alternated between firm and light pressure.

He moved up and down on her back while ensuring the pressure was soothing as well as strong enough to relieve the tension from her muscles.

"You're not bad," She remarked trying to keep her cool.

"I have just started," Alex took a glass bottle containing oil.

He squirted some scented oil on his palms and then gently rubbed it over her exposed back. The oil along with the pressure helped her relieve the stress her body was holding.

"Let's get started for real."

His oil-stained fingers lightly ran over her exposed back making her feel a tantalizing sensation.

"Now that's good," Incursio closed her eyes as the knots inside her body were released. His fingers traced the contours of her body, from head to the toes, slowly and gently.

He applied extra oil to her buttocks and circularly rubbed them. His fingers parted the cracks of her ass, allowing the oil to flow below.

"Ahh!" She couldn't help but released a loud moan as she felt a finger rubbing oil on her vaginal openings.

She would be lying if she said she wasn't expecting this, but still, she was caught off guard.

"There is too much tension here," Alex inserted the index finger inside her pink coverings.

She was struggling to control herself as his finger glided deeper. Just as she embraced the feeling developing inside her, she felt his finger move out.

He once again started massaging her thighs and then her back.

"Such a tease," Incursio complained in a low voice.

"You were saying something?" Alex asked as his hands cupped her ass.

"N-nothing," She closed her eyes as two fingers slid inside her vagina.

"Really?" He spread her ass wide with his other hand.

"Yes," She felt his fingers moving up and down.

"That's good to know," Alex then removed his fingers and patted her buttocks,

"Roll up." He ordered.

Incursio did as she was asked and a few seconds later, she was now lying on her back. The towel was still covering her breasts but not for very long as Alex tossed it away.

"We don't need unnecessary distractions," His hands slowly worked up from her stomach in a relaxed manner.

"Ah!" She flinched as his hands arrived on the curves of her breasts. He slowly caressed the swelling below her nipples in a circular motion.

"Give me a second" Alex wiped his palms with a hand towel, "We need to follow different the new method."

"?" Incursio looked with surprise as Alex brought a tray containing fruits and cheese.

He took out a strawberry from the tray and brought it towards her closed lips.

She slowly parted her lips to take the strawberry in her mouth.panda `nove| com

"Save some for me," He rubbed a finger over her lips. His face zeroed into hers and slowly, their lips meet.

The strawberry inside her mouth was now surrounded by two tongues rolling in as one. The two sucked in each other's lips with the taste of strawberry moving in their saliva.

She felt his hand moving below to cup her right breast. He fondled her breast while his mouth chewed on the sweetest strawberry the world has to offer.

Incursio felt her tongue melting into his as time passed. Slowly their lips parted and he brought his complete attention to her breasts.

He fondled her breasts with both hands slowly and gently. From the side of the curves, his hands moved towards her nipples.

"Ohh," She released a light moan as his hands pinched her nipples. Aroused from the teasing and caressing, her nipples turn hard and erect.

Incursio looked in surprise as he took a bottle containing cheese and squirted it on her areola. He rubbed the cheese all around her nipples while giving them a soft pinching.

Alex lowered his head to the top of her right breast. His tongue wrapped around her nipple.

She felt a bolt of current passing through her nipple as he licked on it. His tongue savored the taste of the cheese on her breasts.

He pressed her breasts together and fondled them while his mouth sucked one nipple after the another.

"This is the best type of massage," Incursio moaned and declared in satisfaction.

βᾶνδα- ἦθνε |·ςθm "Let's make it better," Alex passed a hand on the back of her neck to tilt her head forward while his other hand cupped her breast up.

Incursio's tongue parted from her lips to lick over the areola. Alex's tongue joined hers and soon they were both licking over her nipples in delight.

She felt a mix of different tastes as their lips once again joined for a kiss. As the kiss intensified and their tongues mingled, she left the table.

"We need to get ready for the main message," Alex announced as their mouths left each other.

"We do," Incursio nodded as her eyes moved to his sports shorts where the bulging outline was on display.

He slid off his sports shorts and his throbbing hard cock sprang from confinement. Her delicate hands stroke his cock a few times, after which she bent down.

She kissed the head of his raging hard-on with her soft red lips. Her hands, in the meantime, gently rubbed the testicles.

She placed her tongue at the base of his shaft and slowly licked back to the head of his cock. She then slowly slid his cock into her mouth.

Alex grabbed a handful of her soft hairs as Incursio looked at him. Their eyes meet as she slid her lips up and down the shaft of his cock.

Slowly as she built momentum, she opened her mouth wider to take him further down to the end of her throat.

She continued this motion for a minute allowing his cock to enjoy the warmth and moist feeling of her mouth.

There was a smile on her face as she freed his cock from her mouth. She stood up and glanced at him with eyes filled with anticipation.

"Time for the main massage," He wrapped his arms around her waist to position her on the edge of the table.

He swiftly angled his hips while she opened her thighs further apart. She held her pussy lips between her fingers on each side and pulled them apart letting him see the slinkiness inside.

Alex glanced at the scene with fascination while he rubbed the head of his cock up and down her entrance.

"Please dear," Incursio's face was flushed from the teasing, "Don't make me wait."

His cock throbbed in excitement as he pushed it against her opening. He applied some more force and her moist vagina engulfed the head of his cock.

"Oh merciful me" Incursio clenched the table tightly as his cock gradually advanced into hers.

Alex slowly advanced deeper into hers. He could feel her pussy covering his cock with warmth and wetness as he penetrated further.

"Ahh," She felt a jolt of pressure and discomfort as he reached the end of her pussy. He quickened his pace and she gradually became accustomed to him.

"Faster," Incursio muttered with her head arched back. She clutched his shoulders tightly with her nails clawed deep into his skin.

Alex pulled her into him and began ramming inside her with more force. She started matching his thrust as he continued driving inside her.

"Ohhhhh fuck," She moaned loudly without restraints.

Alex closed his lips to hers as he pumped her harder and slammed her out of her mind.

"Ohhh Yesss!" As he thrust frantically into her deepest depths, the orgasm took over her. She began shaking uncontrollably with every part of her body relaxing in blasts of pleasure.

While Alex, on the other hand, shut his eyes tightly as he reached his limit. Her pussy clamped on his cock as he melted and released a thick rope of cum inside her. The cum slowly oozed from her overfilled pussy down the cracks of her ass.

This is the best massage the white-haired beauty had ever received. After this round, both were truly satisfied. She was truly happy.

1246 Chapter 1246

The following morning, Alex woke up with Incursio nestled in his chest like a little kitten, while the smell of their love nectar still lingered in the air. It had been one crazy night, where they both surrendered themselves to carnal pleasure and vented their lust on each other.

A shade of redness was still noticeably seen on her rosy cheeks.

However, it was not the result of physically exerting and exhausting herself from last night's battle. There was not even a speck of fatigue on her blissfully sleeping face. Whatever fatigue there had been, it was all swept away and only the vibrant glow of a blossomed flower was left behind.

As he watches Incursio sleeping contentedly with eyes filled with affection, he couldn't help but move away the few strands of hair overlapping her face behind her ears and give her a soft peck on the forehead.

He stood up and went to prepare breakfast before she could wake up and a few minutes later they were eating breakfast Incursio stayed silent after eating breakfast while Alex silently waited for her to say something after what he told her.

"Upon the soft blankets, we sit, you and I. Yet for all of these furnishings, for all the wonderful aromas of the breakfast and the coffee, it is your eyes I love. I could rest in them forever, hold you forever, kiss you forever. I suppose it is the child in us that wants those things, that strong sense of love that keeps on going. I'm okay with that; I'll own those emotions. This is so special and it ain't the bed, it ain't the breakfast, it's all about the hugs and being close to your heart."

Alex was overwhelmed by emotions, he was truly blessed with women.

"Don't worry and go back to take care of the things outside while I deal with the things here," Alex said while lovingly caressing Incursio's hair. The latter nodded, trying to hide her reluctance but she understood his reasoning.

"Take care and see you soon," Incursio said and the couple spent the next thirty minutes chatting and laughing until Alex departed, going northeast of the city where there's a forest.

Alex walked between the trees silently.

The canopy of branches and leaves shielded the sunlight from falling on the ground, making the entire region seem dark. Occasionally, there would be specks of light coming through the gaps between the branches and trees.

He walked ahead and so far he didn't meet any ferocious beast or animal. He did sense squirrels peeking at him from tree holes but otherwise, he was all alone.

"Hmm?"

Alex saw an area, a few miles ahead, which wasn't shrouded with darkness. His figure blurred into a series of afterimages, and the next moment, he was standing in front of what appeared to be a river stream.

The water in the stream was rather sparse and from what he could sense, there were no traces of fish or any other aquatic life.

"Haah," He let out a sigh as he sat down on a boulder but soon frowned.

"Awoooo."

βᾶνδα- ἦθνε | ·Ϸθμ A wolf's howl suddenly echoed through the silent stream, shattering the tranquility that was there before.

"Mmm?" Alex's gaze once again swept across his surroundings.

About a half mile ahead, five large wolfs abruptly scuttled out from the forest, chasing after an injured human. The wolves have white fur, ghastly teeth, and pointed claws.

"Silver Wolf?" He murmured.

Such wolves were often a target for adventurers since their fur was rather popular among the women of the higher society. Then there was the nutritious meat and the skeleton which was no weaker than steel. It wouldn't be wrong to say the carcass of such a wolf could easily make one rich enough to live a luxurious life for a decade or so but these wolves are rare and only found in high-level dungeons.

But the mutated wolves were not to be underestimated and especially not in the outskirts where they were the supreme rulers. The struggles in the forest have transformed them into strong predators and most often, their hunters became the prey.

"He must have tried to hunt one of them but ended up facing the entire pack,"

Alex hypothesized based on the intensity of the chase.

The injured man noticed Alex and he hurriedly dashed toward him. For him, Alex was like a beacon of light in the darkness. He was sure Alex should be reasonably strong for him to enter the forest and thus capable enough of hindering the wolves for the time being.

"Help me!" The man shouted, "I have a powerful treasure as compensation!"

The man took out a bright golden fruit from his shirt. He showcased it in his hand while rushing towards Alex.

In truth, he didn't plan to offer the treasure. He just wanted Alex to hinder the wolves while he would use the opportunity to escape.

Alex looked at the man for a moment before turning his head away.

"Bastard," The man cursed in anger.

He now felt Alex was far too scared to take the bait of the treasure. He was sure Kiba would now run away like a coward leaving him behind to his fate.

But the next moment, the man almost coughed up blood as he saw the scene ahead. Much to his disbelief, Alex removed his shoes and placed them on a nearby boulder.

Ignoring the man, Alex soaked his feet in the stream.

"He is not afraid of wolves!? Then he should rescue me instead of fucking around."

The man wanted to curse Alex's parents. Just what types of manners have they taught him for him to ignore the plight of a fellow human?!

Even barbarians teach their children to help those in need if they have the power!pαndα `nove| com

"Fuck! I need to get him to help me no matter how!"

The man, having no better alternative, gritted his teeth and rushed at Kiba at full speed. He was dozens of feet from Alex when a wolf pounced on him.

"AHH!"

The sharp claws pierced his back and blood flew out. The man stumbled down and fell on the stream with his head hitting on a rock.

He ignored the pain and took out a lightsaber from his space ring and slashed at the leader but the leader of the pack dodged.

"Damn!" The man wanted to cry after his attack failed.

The leader of the pack opened its mouth wide as it moved towards him.

The man suddenly took out the golden fruit and threw it on the boulder where Alex was sitting.

"Friend! Take away the fruit!" The man shouted in a voice filled with sincerity, "I will hold them away while you escape!"

"Oh?" Alex's lips curved up in a grin. He could pretty much understand what the man was trying to do but he didn't stop him.

The wolves turned towards Alex. They didn't care about the golden fruit since the fruit was of no use to them at their current physical level. The only reason they now looked at him was due to the tone used by their injured target.

While they couldn't understand the language, they felt the tone was friendly, and their suspicion grew with the action of the bead being thrown at Alex.

"I'm overwhelmed with emotions," Alex continued with a grin.

The leader of the wolves leaped up at Alex with its claws brightening up. The wind whistled and the air pierced with a sharp glint of the claw.

"Who I am to stop you if you wish to discard your life?" Alex asked as he raised his left hand.

He clenched his fist tightly and punched out.

The wolf felt a deep sense of crisis but was in no condition to dodge after coming so close. Before its claw could strike the opponent, the wolf sensed intense vibration transmitting to its body.

The punch hasn't struck the wolf, but the energy cascaded in its body as vibrations!

CRACK!

The destructive energy rampaged throughout its body, shattering all organs and smashing the steel-like backbone in an instant.

The other wolves and the injured man felt their eardrums on the verge of splitting apart with the vibrations roiling in the air and water.

Poof!

The wolf leader was sent flying backward while releasing an arrow of blood from its mouth. It crashed on a giant boulder, and the destructive vibrations from the wolf's body transferred to the boulder.

BOOM

The boulder instantly exploded into dust while the wolf yelped pitifully for a moment before its life faded. Dark blood from the corpse mixed with the stream, giving it a shade of red.

The remaining wolves and the injured man didn't dare move or make any sound. They were scared witless by the brief display of power.

"How is this possible?" The injured man was completely dumbfounded. He expected Alex to be strong enough to hold his own for some time but never to this extent.

The wolves, on the other hand, lowered their heads as if apologizing for their conduct of the deceased leader. In the jungle, respect was always shown toward the powerful.

The water reeks of blood.

He put his feet back in the shoes and then stood up.

All this time, the wolves and the injured man didn't make a single movement. They didn't have any confidence to run away after the previous display of power.

"Well," Alex glanced at them, "Why are you still here?"

The wolves could understand his language as if it was also spoken in their minds. They lowered their heads again to thank him before turning around.

The injured man relaxed and his heart elevated in delight. He now looked at Alex with deep gratitude in his eyes.

"Wait, you lot." Alex called out to the wolves, "Aren't you guys forgetting something?"

"W-what?!"

He put his feet back in the shoes and then stood up.

"Wait, you lot." Alex called out to the wolves, "Aren't you guys forgetting something?"

"W-what?!" The injured man shuddered thinking of something terrifying he dare not to believe, hopefully, it was a false alarm. Unfortunately, Alex's next sentence shattered all of his hope.

"You guys are forgetting something," Alex called out.

The escaping wolves turned around and looked at Alex with confusion. The injured man, on the other hand, felt his muscles tightening up with fear.

βᾶνδα-ηθνε |·cθm "W-what do you mean?!" The injured man tried to calm himself, but no matter how he tried, his body tensed further. His hands and feet turned cold and he knew this was not due to the stream water.

"I'm sure you know what I mean." Alex jumped down from the boulder before turning towards the wolves. "You shouldn't forget your meal."

The fierce eyes of the wolves brightened up as they realized the meaning of Alex's words. Not only has he spared their lives but now also permitted them to complete their original mission.

They were excited and once again expressed their gratitude to Alex.

"N-no!" The injured man shouted.

He knew the wolves hated him and the hatred has crossed the limit after he orchestrated the death of their leader. It was just that they didn't dare show it due to the threat posed by Alex but now there was no one to stop them.

The wolves growled and slowly walked toward their food.

"Please stop them! I have tons of gold and jewelry!" The man begged. He was in no condition to even stand much less flee.

"Not interested." Alex flatly refused the man's offer tapped a foot on the water and jumped up high in the air. "Dear wolves, have a happy meal without restraints."

The wind surrounded him, like invisible wings, as he flew away before stopping after some time.

The injured man didn't even get a chance to say another word as the wolves pounced on him. They opened their mouth and released a rancid breath.

The silent stream was filled with blood-wrenching screams as the wolves clamped down on their meal.

However, as soon as they finished their meal five projectiles coming out of nowhere penetrated through their skulls and their happy expressions turned into ones of terror before dying.

Alex who had fired the homing bullets from the distance chuckled, happy that he barely spent any mana with the five bullets. As for killing the wolves, he did simply because he couldn't waste any experience points. Those five had given him around 4 thousand exp. While it's low, slowly but surely his experience bar will be filled up.

Shaking his head he went deeper into the forest.

A few minutes later Alex was forced to stop.

"ROAR!"

"Help!"

Suddenly, the two sounds entered Alex's ears.

Some distance away from him, a dark-green-haired girl was rooted against the trunk of a tree.

Her dress was stained with blood, and there were even missing patches in the clothes, exposing her fair skin.

In front of her, four silver wolves were closing towards her with open mouths. Saliva dripped down from the tongues and fell on the ground.

"Help me!" The woman noticed Alex and shouted in a voice filled with despair. Her pitiful appearance and sweet voice could strike a chord with even the cruelest of men.

The wolves turned their heads and warned him with their bloodshot eyes. Their ghastly teeth left no doubt about what would be the outcome if he didn't follow their request.

"My teammates are facing other monsters while I'm stuck with these four!" The girl begged once again. "Help me and I promise my team will offer you suitable compensation! My name is Valery and I swear I won't go back on my words!"

Alex appeared to be in a dilemma but then he gritted his teeth and nodded.

"I will handle them," Alex rushed towards the wolves, "You should use it as an opportunity to escape."

Valery's eyes lit up with tears streaming down.

Alex jumped into the air with his fist aimed at a wolf. The air whistled as his punch moved ahead with tremendous force. His punch hurtled down the back of the wolf.

SNAP

The skeleton of the wolf shattered and its bones protruded out of its skin and flesh. The wolf lay on the grass under a pool of blood.

"Awoo!"

The other two wolves leaped on Alex. He took a half-step behind and dodged their claws. panda `nove | com

"Tch!" Alex acted like he was in trouble and jumped on one of the wolves but another wolf attacked him with its mouth. He somersaulted in the air and backed away.

"I will also help," Valery also rushed ahead. She waved her hand controlling the wind and the thorns from the nearby vegetation flew out.

The thorns carried tremendous force as they shot down one of the two wolves.

The wolf twisted its body to dodge but without success as the thorns changed their trajectory. Like sharp swords, the thorns pierced throughout the body of the wolf. There was no sign of movement from the wolf except for the blood flowing from its wound.

Valery fell on her knees, huffing for breath.

"Here."

She raised her head and saw a hand stretched out to offer her support. She placed her hand on him and stood up.

"You killed the remaining wolf?" Valery's eyes turned to a tree where a wolf's body was struck.

"Yeah," Alex wiped the sweat from his face, "You brought me the opportunity."

"No," Valery shook her head, "It was all thanks to you."

Her breasts moved up and down as she greedily sucked air.

"You didn't even get a scratch," Valery further complimented him.

"I was lucky," Alex turned his head in another direction, "We should catch up with your friends."

"Right!" She rushed ahead and Alex followed from behind.

A minute later.

The two arrived in an area that was filled with broken trees and the corpses of wolves. Among the corpses, two men were standing.

One of them was thinly built with brown skin while another one was medium height with a similar skin tone.

"Ludic, Xavier," Valery called out.

"Valery! Thank God you are safe." The thinly built man named Ludic was startled. Xavier was also surprised but then his eyebrows creased after he noticed Alex who was behind their comrade.

"Who is he?" He asked with a frown.

"Don't talk like that!" Valery stepped in front of Alex, "He saved my life!"

"What?" The two said in unison.

"You heard it right. I have promised him compensation," Valery further explained.

"There is no need," Alex interjected before her teammates could express their views, "It is only natural to help those in need."

"No!" Valery frowned and closed upon him. Her chest rubbed on him as she disagreed, "A promise is a promise!"

"It would go against my morals," Alex gulped down with his cheeks turning red as her breasts rubbed on him.

"Well...How about you join us then?" She suggested out of nowhere much to the disbelief of everyone.

"You seem to be alone," Valery explained her reasoning, "And the forest is a dangerous land. We could use your support and you could benefit from our company as well."

"No way!" Xavier loudly refused, "We can't trust him!"

Ludic was hesitant before adding, "He helped Valery so he should be a good man."

"YOU!" Xavier was incensed.

Valery ignored the two and looked at Alex.

"You won't decline, right?" She asked with misty eyes as if she would cry at any moment if Alex were to refuse.

"O-of course not," Alex stuttered and scratched his head embarrassingly, "Thank you."

"No! It is me who should thank you!" Valery said as she hugged him.

Xavier observed everything with a scowl. He couldn't hide his jealousy.

"Welcome to the team," The only one whose face was still normal was Ludic, he stepped ahead to greet him.

"I'm sure you would have a lot of fun!" Valery added after the greetings were over.

"Well, I'm also sure of that," Alex said with a smile, "This is surely going to be interesting."

His lips were curved up in a sincere smile but deep in his eyes, there was an icy glint. If he didn't have his sharp senses and his appraisal skill he would have been fooled by a group of saints, no half-step Demigod's adventurers pretending to be weak. He was curious about what they would do and he was playing this game because it was boring to play the almighty all the time, sometimes you need to have fun for a while.

Valery introduced the other two to Alex, they arrived from the outside world like him, they're AA Rank adventurers trying their luck in the Infinity Maze.

"I'm Alex and from the outside world as well." Alex introduced himself as well.

The other three nodded, the males said started gathering the corpses of the wolves, and they removed the useful parts before storing them away.

Valery, on the other hand, drank a healing potion and even sprinkled some on her wounds.

The wounds closed up in no time as if there was no injury, to begin with.

"Our camp is a mile away." She further informed Alex. "If you don't mind, can you help us in carrying the corpses?"

"Sure." Alex stepped ahead to take three plastic bags.

Soon, the four walked towards the camp. During the journey, they didn't meet any beasts besides wild hares and squirrels.

Valery walked along with Alex, shoulder to shoulder. She was close to him and this brought some glares from Xavier throughout the journey.

The man didn't try to hide his contempt and hate for Alex from others. He openly mentioned he didn't trust Alex and also asked Valery to be wary of him.

"I have faith in him." Valery defended Alex with her smile.

"Suit yourself." Xavier gave a final glare before moving forward.

"Please don't mind him." She apologized to Alex.

"There is no need," Alex assured her.

Ruby has changed her clothes and her face was now clear of dust and blood. She was now as clean and pure as snow; her face and her curvaceous figure were a sight to behold.

βᾶνδα-ηθνε | ·cθm Alex gave her a few glances and his cheeks were red.

"Is there something on my body?" Valery asked with a confused expression.

"N-no," Alex said before rushing ahead to act bashful.

A few minutes later.

The four reached the camp which was set up next to a stream.

The camp was large enough and in ten minutes they prepared another room for Alex.

"We should prepare for lunch," Valery suggested after some time. Xavier and Ludic nodded before moving inside the camp to bring utensils.

"Alex, you can bring us the fish from the stream," She added as she set a fire.

"Ok," Alex agreed without hesitation.

He arrived at the bank of the stream and noticed the water level was higher compared to the stream he saw before.

"The streams should be originating from one river." He mused as he moved his eyes to the stream.

The water sparkled under the sunlight and from time to time, he noticed small fishes. Alex put his hand inside the water to catch the fish.

His luck was rather good and he was able to collect two in less than a minute. He once again rushed his hand inside the water to hunt for fish, but then suddenly the stream rolled up.

A small fish inside the stream expanded and morphed into a humongous fish. The fish has dark scales while its mouth is filled with snow-white fangs.

"Steel Fish."

It was a mutated fish, having scales not any weaker than steel. Such types of fish were usually seen in the river and not in the stream, so it was shocking for them to be in this region.

RUMBLE.

The fish opened its large mouth to clamp down on Alex's hand. He retracted his hand quickly and saved his arm from being severed.

The fish swung its tail towards him while jumping out of the water.

Alex leaped up in the air to dodge the strike but the fish seem to expect this. The sharp jaws left the mouth of the fish and rushed towards him.

Their speed was fast and even before he could blink, the jaws crunched down on his right hand.

CRACK!panda `nove| com

Much to the disbelief of the fish, even before its jaws could touch the skin, the teeth started cracking apart. It was like his hand was covered with metallic armor.

Bang!

Alex landed on the ground and threw away the broken jaw. The next moment, the fish opened its mouth and spat out a column of water on Alex.

Boom!

Alex collided with the trunk of a tree and fell on the grass. The fish flew towards him like a sharp knife, unaffected by the lack of water.

Swoosh~!

Before the fish could strike Alex, it heard a sharp piercing sound. Startled, the fish looked behind and saw dozens of pointed nails striking its body.

The fish turned around and rushed back to the stream while dodging the nails. The water rose like a curtain and stopped the nails from piercing the fish.

Some distance away, Valery gritted her teeth in frustration at the failure of her attack.

Before she could make any other move, she saw the water curtain breaking into two columns and then rushing toward her and Alex.

Alex somersaulted in the air to save himself but then another large column arrived.

"It is annoying to pretend to be weak," Alex thought as he crossed his arms, "But then again that's the fun part. It's how playing pretends should be."

The water column crashed on him and he slid to the ground. He stomped his feet on the ground to prevent his body from dragging behind any longer.

As he raised his head, he saw the mouth of the fish over him. His face has a panicked expression but deep in his eyes, there was only plain ridicule.

BOOM!

A giant boulder crashed on the fish and it fell to the ground.

Alex turned his head and saw Xavier throwing another boulder.

The boulder landed on the fish and its famous iron scales broke down. Shocked, the fish rushed back towards the stream.

"Thanks," Alex expressed his gratitude, "That was close, if weren't for your intervention I'd have been gravely injured."

"Hmph." Xavier rushed towards the stream to catch the fish but it was already long gone.

A few minutes later.

The four sat on the grassland.

"Are you all right?" Valery asked Alex with concern.

"Yes," Alex nodded his head.

"That's good," She sighed in relief. As if truly happy that Alex didn't have anything.

There was no more conversation as they cooked the fish. Soon, the air was filled with a delightful and sweet aroma. Just the breath alone could make one feel rich with extreme vitality.

Even the seemingly ordinary fishes in this forest were mutated, and their bodies have a high nutritious value. The dish currently was prepared with precious herbs so there was no doubt about how beneficial the meal would be.

Quickly, Alex was served a sparkling and splendor soup.

"It's amazing," He slowly sipped in the special and wondrous taste.

"Have some more." Valery lovingly treated him with extra soup.

"Thanks," Alex accepted the soup and expressed his gratitude.

"I'm full." Xavier took his leave, annoyed by their display. He couldn't bear this any longer, so he chose to retreat for fear of doing something stupid.

"He is not a bad person," Valery sighed and said after Xavier was gone.

"I know." Alex smiled in response.

"He helped me back then." He added much to Valery's joy because from this she understood that Alex truly felt that way, she smiled coquettishly at him before."

"Today was a tiring day." She let out a small sigh.

"Yeah, first the wolves and now this fish," Alex agreed while appearing to be lost in thoughts.

"I just want to rest," Valery faintly muttered before falling asleep on Alex's arm.

Shocking him, his body froze for a moment, unable to do anything as if he was struggling with something finally Alex acted but all he did was act all innocently.

"..." Alex's cheeks turned red as he breathed in her sweet fragrance.

"Eh?" Ludic observed the scene and appeared to be shocked and he couldn't help chuckling.

"You are truly inexperienced with women despite your good looks." He said observing Alex's reaction.

"Ah! That's.." Alex murmured in an embarrassed tone, further convincing Ludic that his analysis was right, only if he knew the truth, what Alex was thinking inside he would have fled a long time ago, forgetting everything.

"Okay, okay, can you help me carry her into her room?" Ludic asked after shaking his head and Alex stayed silent for a moment before nodding.

Under Ludic's guidance, he brought Valery to her tent before leaving hastily as if afraid of something, leaving only Ludic behind.

Ludic looked at him with a smile as he left the room. But soon, his smile faded and was replaced with a sneer.

"Such an easy target." Valery who should have been sleeping suddenly opened her eyes and said.

"Indeed." Xavier entered from another side and sat beside her.

Ludic took out a tablet from his shirt and observed the readings on the screen.

"He has high potential but he hasn't tapped into it yet."

"True but he is still strong enough for his age," Xavier thought for a minute before adding, "He didn't bleed from the collision with the tree, nor did the jaws of Steel Fish injure him. Not to mention that he remained unscathed in his battle with the wolves."

"His enhanced strength suppresses the air around his body into an invisible armor," Ludic said based on the readings, "So it isn't surprising he wasn't harmed. He also uses the enhanced strength for jumping around."

"We have struck rich." Xavier said before turning his head towards Valery, "You truly have done a good job."

Valery's lips curved up into a smile. She brushed her hair away from her face before taking down her glasses. She placed the glasses away and her eyes no longer have the sweet innocence from before.

"All men are the same," She licked her lips, "They would do anything as long as you give them a chance of getting close to a hole."

.....

A few hours later.

It was dusk. Gentle rays of the setting sun glowed from the other side of the mountain, dyeing the entire forest in scarlet and enveloping the land with motley radiance. This motley radiance was reflected in the water. There were faint ripples on the surface, created by the small fishes.

"You were here." Valery's sweet voice came from behind.

"Y-yes." Alex turned back and nodded.

"Mind if I take a seat?" She asked as she walked between the stones to walk towards him.

βαηδα-ηθνε | ·cθm "Of course not." Alex provided half the stone for her.

"Thanks." Valery sat beside him. Intentionally or not, her legs touched him and Kiba tried to make some comfortable distance between them.

"It is so beautiful," She said in her charming and loving voice.

"Indeed."

Alex looked at the sun dipping below the horizon, the fleeting colors of twilight beginning to fade away. The scene was magical and this was especially true when one was accompanied by a beautiful woman.

What more can a man desire?

"I'm glad you are with us," Valery's cheeks were as red as tomatoes as she said this.

"Me as well." Alex glanced at her face and his heart started beating rapidly.

There was no more conversation for a minute or two and the atmosphere turned awkward. The only sound was the faint sound of crickets and mosquitoes nearby.

"We should make some preparations for dinner," He suddenly said and he quickly stood up.

Valery didn't say anything but looked on as he rushed away from her.

She has felt how tense he was with their close contact earlier. She was sure he lacked experience and having a woman accompany him in such a location made his heart stir.

"Innocent men are the easiest ones." She thought with a smirk. "He has most likely let his guard down after the last fight we saved him." ρανδα `nove| com

She cleared her thoughts and joined Alex as he chopped wood and started a fire.

"Where are the other two?" Alex enquired as he continued with what he was doing.

"They are hunting," Valery calmly answered while she prepared a teapot and put it on the burning wood.

The bottom surface of the teapot soon turned red. Water bubbles started forming, with hot steam rising into the air.

She put tea leaves, resembling flower petals, into the pot. Alex could smell the fresh aroma from the pot.

In no time, the tea was ready, and he placed two teacups in front of Valery.

She nodded and poured an almost transparent tea into the cups. They both picked up their cups and drank the content in almost one gulp.

"So comfortable."

The warm flow gushed into their bodies, rejuvenating them with a relaxing sensation.

"Huh! Do you two lovebirds forget about us?"

A voice came from behind.

Alex blushed and quickly try to hide it before turning back and saw Ludic and Xavier walking out of the bushes. They were carrying two rabbits and some wild fruits.

"Of course, there is tea for you," Valery answered in her innocent voice. The two put the rabbits and a knife in front of Alex after which they sat on the grass.

Alex helped with skinning the rabbits while Valery treated the newcomers with tea.

"Alex, what do you plan to do?" Ludic asked.

"I didn't have any plans," Alex answered, "But after the close encounter with the fish, I would like to be with you guys."

"A wise choice," Xavier added in a sarcastic tone, "After all, you barely survived from Steel Fish. Who knows what would have happened to you, if not for us."

"..." Alex has a downcast expression.

His expression denoted how ashamed he was, but deep in his eyes, there was just plain ridicule. It was like he was watching ants acting as if they were the savior of a giant.

"Xavier, stop," Valery gave him a stern look before continuing, "He is one of us and we need to be united."

"I just spoke the truth," Xavier shrugged his shoulders.

"It is fine." Alex continued with a stiff smile. "He helped me back then so he isn't wrong. I just overestimated myself when I came here alone."

Xavier gave a scoff.

Ludic sighed, he wasn't surprised by Alex's words either. There were far too many people who would overestimate themselves and arrive in Infinity Maze for adventure.

These people would either become food to the beasts or fertilizers to the savage plants or meet people in their group and die miserably.

Grinning sinisterly inside Ludic's expression was that of understanding as he rebuked Xavier harshly.

"Xavier mind your words from now on. Alex had become our comrade and from now on we must be united and look after each other. I won't tolerate any more of your behavior."

Valery nodded as if happy with Ludic's words. Xavier frowned before nodding while Alex's eyes widened, he felt overwhelmed with emotions as not only Valery supported him, even Ludic did the same. Alex's face at the moment was as if he had finally found somewhere where he belongs after coming to this dungeon. He was truly grateful.

"Thank you." He expressed his gratitude and Ludic simply waved his hand to indicate there is no need for a thank you between them.

After this little episode, they continued eating, and half an hour later w they finished.

Each of them washed their plates and then helped in ensuring the camp's defense system was active. They didn't need to take turns guarding the camp either since they were not deep in the forest.

"Good night," Valery waved her hands toward Alex before entering her room.

Alex also waved his hands in return like a lovestruck idiot.

"You are going to have very sweet dreams tonight," Ludic said with an eyewink.

"..." Alex scratched his head and walked towards his room.

After seeing Alex entering the room, the expression of Ludic and Xavier changed. They both had cruel smiles on their faces.

"Sweet dreams after which his life would turn into a nightmare," Xavier laughed in a sinister fashion, "I just couldn't wait to see his reaction after he wakes up."

They both entered their rooms to complete the preparations.

'Shit is about to go down on you boy.' Ludic thought but he mistook the target.

After hastily leaving Valery's tent, Alex went to his own and decided to calmly wait and he didn't have to have for too long because soon.

"Alex, can I come in? I can't sleep so I decided to visit you."

A voice came from outside along with the sound of fabric rustling.

"Hmm?" Alex walked to the entrance and opened the door.

Outside, Valery was standing. In her hand, there was a bottle of wine.

When she saw him, she was surprised. He was shirtless, exposing his chiseled six-pack abs and powerful shoulders.

"Valery?" Alex's voice contained a trace of shock at her unexpected visit.

"I hope I didn't wake you up," Valery lowered her head and said.

"No, of course not," he shook his head, "You can visit me anytime."

He then signaled her to come inside.

There was only a bed in the room with no chairs, so they both sat down on the bed.

Alex took a few glances at her but otherwise remained silent. Valery noticed his gazes but pretended to not notice them, she failed to notice the subtle light in Alex's eyes, it was too fast and even she couldn't notice anything. Naturally, Alex was disguised, his eyes were ocean blue this time.

"I brought wine for us to enjoy," Valery said coquettishly before serving him and then herself.

She could hear his heartbeats and knew how excited he was by her presence. After all, what type of man wouldn't be touched by her actions this late in the night?

"You're so considerate." Alex looked at the glass like it was a treasure.

"It is nothing, you're our comrade now and I kinda like you," Valery said in her sweet voice.

Alex's eyes widened and he blushed like a virgin upon hearing Valery saying those words.

Valery averted her eyes shyly before coughing. "You should drink your wine."

"Yes!" Alex brought the glass to his lips.

At that moment Valery's eyes were filled with sinisterness as she witnessed his actions.

"Of course, this wine is poisoned with a powerful sleeping poison capable of knocking out even a powerful Saint, fortunately, I have already taken the antidote." Valery wanted to laugh at the ease by which the mission has gone.

Earlier, she couldn't use the sleeping powder since he might not accept food items that were not prepared in front of him. He would be on guard and would ensure the meal was prepared in his presence.

But now?

Xavier has helped him against Steel Fish so why would he doubt them? Not to mention, the relationship with the group improved after lunch and dinner. Then there were the special touches she has taken to make him relax his guards. Besides she was also drinking before him, lessening his wariness, and everything went smoothly.

Alex gulped down the wine inside the glass. He wiped his mouth and placed the glass on the floor.

"The wine was really sweet and fragrant," Alex looked at her before continuing, "Just like you." panda `nove| com

Valery lowered her head, her cheeks flushed by the words.

Inside her heart, she was laughing with happiness. She was sure the sleeping powder was taking over his mind. Otherwise, in normal times, he wouldn't make such comments.

"Just a few more minutes and I would have the jackpot," She mused with joy, "Oh god! Thank you for making men so weak in their minds when they are close to a woman!"

"Would you mind closing your eyes?" Alex asked, much to the surprised Valery.

"Huh? Why?" Ruby looked at him in confusion.

"You brought milk for me." Kiba was blushing as he continued, "I want to reciprocate by giving you something special."

"Oh?" Ruby was intrigued. She wondered just how he would react when he realizes the truth behind the milk.

But she did as he asked. She slowly shut her eyes, looking forward to knowing what he has in mind before he fell asleep.

Valery felt him taking her left hand in his hand.

"Just what he has in mind?" She was really curious. She then felt something around her fourth finger.

Surprised, she opened her eyes. When she saw the object on her finger, she was shocked out of her wits. Her eyes turned wide in disbelief and her jaws almost dropped to the floor.

Not even in her wildest dreams, had she ever expected this was what he had in mind when he said he wishes to reciprocate her gesture.

She once again looked at her finger to ensure her senses weren't playing a trick on them.

"This is true?" Valery ran her other hand on her finger and felt the round object.

The object was absolutely dazzling and soothing, made from diamond.

It was a solitaire ring!

Valery's stomach was fluttering with butterflies. She turned her head and noticed Alex was on his knees.

"W-what is this?" Valery asked, trying to sound composed. She has a feeling she knew the answer, but she didn't dare believe it.

"My mother often used to say this finger had a vein that runs directly to the heart," He traced her ring finger.

"...What do you mean?" Valery was shrewd but no matter, she was still a female. Such words and actions were reserved for her one true love. As a maiden, the present situation has made her beyond shocked.

"This ring was given to my mother by my father," Alex said in a low voice, filled with extreme emotions, "Before my mother died during a monster outbreak...she gave me this ring..."

Alex stopped in between as tears flooded his eyes.

"She told me to give it to a woman who can make me flustered and loved," Alex continued in a passionate voice, "A woman with whom I can share everything."

"When I see you, it's as if space and time become the finest point imaginable, as if time collapses into one speck and explodes at light speed. It's as if my universe begins and ends with you. I could run forever, search forever, but in the end, every path leads right back to your heart and soul. I then realized that I've fallen for you in the span of few days and I will spend the rest of my life with you."
