

Death Guns 1401

1401 Chapter 1401

Let's us rewind time back a bit. It happened before the matriarch's meeting. Sakuya who had finished massacring the dark elves. She got an epiphany on the moment.

An unfamiliar sword technique appeared in Sakuya's mind, that was slowly being comprehended and grasped by her. She gained a special attribute related to her left eye.

[Yama's Eye: Level 1: Iris Sword, Instant Ability]

[Instantly unleash 36 consecutive sword attacks; if it gets blocked, then unleash 72 consecutive strikes; if it gets blocked, then unleash 144 consecutive strikes; so on and so forth. Every Iris Sword will be stronger than the last, continuing until 1000 strikes]

[Indefinitely flows]

Sakuya was a bit surprised.

She was trying to create a new sword's skill related to Sakura, unexpectedly she gained another skill an awesome special eye ability.

'I wonder how powerful this Sword Skill is.'

Right as Sakuya was thinking that, she heard the fully-armored dark elves shout:

Somehow, she was surrounded by some brain dead dark elves who couldn't differentiate between pebbles and mountain.

"You muderer your death is imminent, stop resisting and surrender!"

Sakuya blankly turned to that dark elf.

—there's a perfect target right here, isn't there?

With that thought in mind, she triggered the sword skill, her special ability as her left eye gave off an immense flow of sword phantoms.

Instantly—

A total of 36 sharp fluctuations appeared at the same time, slashing towards the armored dark.

The wraith was caught by surprise, but he still hurriedly wielded a quarterstaff to protect himself.

Clang clang clang clang clang clang!

The sound of numerous strikes hit the quarterstaff, sending the wraith spiraling backwards as if he was struck by a huge impact.

—there was truly some merit to him, being chosen as the wraith's leader during such an operation, as he actually managed to stop 36 strikes in a row.

Unfortunately...

As soon as the first 36 strikes faded away, another 72 sharp fluctuations manifested and violently slashed towards the wraith.

The dark elf was frightened, but still swung the war hammer in his hand and shouted: "Petty tricks——"

Bam!

The first fluctuation struck the war hammer, this time giving off a resounding noise.

——the strikes were stronger this time!

Instantly, the wraith's figure was sent flying towards the distant horizon like a small black dot.

At the end of their visions, countless sword phantoms struck the war hammer one after another.

The war hammer was finally unable to endure the impact and broke in half.

The dark elf was instantly slashed into a mist of blood by the invisible fluctuations before being blown away by the night wind.

Complete silence.

The dark elves didn't even see Sakuya.

They only heard the their completing one sentence before being sent flying.

On the other hand, Sakuya silently nodded.

After unleashing this Iris Sword Divine Skill, she instantly understood.

'This Yama's Eye ability is very powerful but its consumption is also considerable, using up 20% of my magic power power in an instant.'

Sakuya silently nodded and muttered to herself: "He's quite strong, being able to stop 107 strikes from me, he was certainly qualified to lead your group of losers."

As soon as Sakuya said that, the numerous dark elves around snapped out of their shock.

"Detestable, kill him!" one of the them shouted.

"Charge!"

"Kill him!"

Right as they were about to attack, Sakuya appeared as if she sensed something and firmly shouted:

"Wait—— everybody halt! Stop your hands!"

And those ouldn't help but pause.

Sakuya's expression was extremely serious as she shouted to everyone.

"Listen carefully! You definitely cannot attack me all at once!"

She appeared extremely anxious as if there was some sort of severe issue with doing that.

Everyone couldn't help but think.

Could there still be some sort of unknown circumstances?

One of the dark elves couldn't help but question: "Why can't we attack?"

Sakuya looked up at the numerous enemies in the surrounding, answering them with a serious expression: "Because if you all attack me at once, I will die"

The dark elves froze, their minds quickly turning.

What he said... was true.

But we're here to take your life.

Damn

it!

Do you not understand your situation!?

The dark elves were enraged and attacked all together but Sakuya smiled before unleashing dimensional slash. Killing most of the enemy with one slash.

"Hahaha! Come some more let's color the earth with your blood."

The frightened dark elves escaped, two of them stayed behind to buy others some time. He attacked but Sakuya put away her sword and responded with a martial arts. She used Chorea-Crava.

Chorea-Crava is a offensive martial art that focuses on clobbering your opponent by patiently waiting for an opening before unleashing your power swiftly. The primary focus lies on both pressure points and punches and it often relies on the strength and agility of the defender.

The biggest strength of Chorea-Crava is the high amounts of energy put behind every single strike. By capitalizing the pressure points of both fighters your opponent can be thrown off balance, allowing you to become an overwhelming force.

On the other hand the biggest weakness of Chorea-Crava is that it often requires the opponent to make the first move. If you're facing an opponent that doesn't your own strengths may prove to be lacking.

Bam!

Bursts of tearing pain pulsed through their head. Their head felt heavy and they could feel dizziness starting to kick in. Every part of their being ached for an answer to this feeling of misery and any answer that could bring relief was one worth considering. Several voices echoed through their head. Some telling them everything will be fine, others telling them it won't be.

It became harder and harder to swallow the pain, to ignore the sensations and the voices telling them to stop. However, there wasn't much they could do when facing the devil incarnate in the form of black haired beauty. She wouldn't let them take out medicine to treat themselves.

As expected Sakuya wouldn't let them go.

"Boring!"

Sakuya performed a QuickDraw beheading the two with a single slash.

"Tch!"

She clicked her tongue before vanishing to go join the others.

Soon the quarrels between the three parties reached the point where they were about to break into a fight. They didn't even think that their actions had shattered everyone's morale. The dark elves who were stationed in the family premises were already feeling anxious over the constant reports of failure. And now, after learning just how terrifying and powerful the enemies were, they turned as white as a sheet. If it weren't for the exceptionally stern rules of the dark elves, perhaps they would have already made their escape. Even though they stayed around, their morale dived. It was almost certain that if the three parties were to break out into a fight, perhaps many of them would turn around and flee right away.

"Alright, shut up, all of you!"

Nilerea returned to her senses and snarled, realizing that the situation was far from good.

Fortunately for her, she was the matriarch of the fifth family and her prestige hadn't completely gone down the drain yet. Upon hearing her rage, the dark elf mages in heated arguments and about to roll up their sleeves for a fist fight closed their wide-open mouths. They looked at one another anxiously. After venting their frustrations, the dark elves also knew that they were wrong to behave this way. They acted simply like moronic fans who hurled punches at naysayers to protect the image of their idols.

But the problem was that they had no form of 'worship' toward those enemies at all.

'What should we do?'

Nilerea kept considering this question. She hesitated whether she should pull out her forces, but even she wasn't aware whether she could do it in time. She also didn't know whether she held the authority to negotiate with the enemies because they were simply too powerful. Besides, judging from the situation, negotiation didn't seem to be able to bring the enemies any benefits. So what if she were to give them countless compensations? The enemies were still capable of barging into the treasure house of the fourth family and pillaging everything inside, wasn't it?

No matter what the situation seemed helpless. It was then one of the matriarchs opened her mouth and suggested.

"Let's just have them go to that 'place'."

Red, straight hair tight in a ponytail reveals a thin, frowning face. Glinting blue eyes, set gracefully within their sockets, watch enthusiastically over the wildlife they've been isolated from for so long.

An old tattoo of a bear paw is subtly placed on the side of her left cheekbone and leaves a painful burden of redemption.

This is the face of Faith Evatt, a true pioneer among giants. She stands common among others, despite her delicate frame.

There's something obscure about her, perhaps it's her sensitivity or perhaps it's simply her odd friends.

She is the matriarch of the seventh family.

"You can't be seriously suggesting that?" Another matriarch shouted.

At the same time Maria's group was setting Gandor's city ablaze causing the matriarchs to call for an emergency meeting, a white-haired beauty was on a mission 100 kilometers away from the void continent

...

The city of Westborough was built along the banks of a gentle river and is truly a modest sight. Its wonder is matched by the backdrop of monumental waterfalls which have helped shape the city into what it is today.

The resources these waterfalls brought were of great importance, but they were also influential when it came to architectural designs as the vast majority of buildings mimic the falling waters of those waterfalls, sometimes by having their man-made waterfalls.

The skyline is sprinkled with luxurious building and their history seemed to shine more now than ever. Employment is tremendous in Westborough and it has attracted a lot of attention. Various cultures have left their mark not just on trade and relations, but also on the city's identity. What historically was a city of predictability has grown into a fusion of everything and it's this that unites the 2 million people to this day.

It's this multicultural identity that has truly left its mark. Hundreds of food carts, ethnic restaurants, and bistros offer a plethora of culinary choices, and those who feel hungry for something else can enjoy libraries, musea, musical activities, or one of the many other recreational venues.

Night descended upon this city, the moon was slowly creeping closer.

Alice would have gladly stopped by the city and enjoyed the many recreational venues it has to offer but she couldn't as she must hurry and go deal with an army matching this city. The enemy started targeting the city after destroying many villages. The witch-haired devil head to the west where the enemy was located the enemy.

The forest was tremendous, dark, and thriving. Its canopy was claimed by ash, yew, and cottonwood, their crowns allowed cascading lights to shimmer through for a diversity of mushrooms to spread in the flat, fertile grounds below.

Swooping creepers waved from every tree, and an array of flowers, which grew in a sprinkled and disorderly fashion, added some color to the otherwise dark landscape.

A mishmash of beastly noises, which were caused by birds, echoed in the air and were backed by the sound of the wind blowing gently through the forest.

The bright, full moon enveloping half the night sky splashed on the pitch-black ground with its illumination. The outlines of the leaves in the forest were visible, but all of a sudden, a series of animal howls broke out throughout the tranquil forest. Countless, startled birds woke up from their slumber, flapped their wings, and soared into the sky fearfully to escape the close-approaching death, as well as the holder of the death aura, it was none other than an army.

The ground trembles as an army of 20,000 marches along. Every step aligned to the beat of the marching drums, there's not a soul nearby who's oblivious to this army's march.

Up close it's the sound of heavy armor clashing together which overpowers all other sounds. The creaking of wood and metal of the siege engines can be heard only faintly and the sounds of the war mounts are all but drowned out completely.

The soldiers are chatting away, noise or no noise the soldier need to take their minds off of what's ahead, and talking is the best way to do so. The army lacks unity, but despite their differences, they do share the same goal: Crush the enemy, enjoy it while it lasts, and make it out alive.

The front is led by eager charge units armed with swords and shields. They're followed by footsoldiers armed with spears and large shields, who in turn are followed by elite bowmen with high precision aim.

They stopped because, in the middle of them, a white-haired beauty appeared.

Soon they started charging towards Alice.

"DIE!"

"KILL HIM!"

"I will take his head!"

They all viciously roared.

Alice shook her head and muttered: "I have a certain skill that I usually do not abuse because of how cruel it is. From my memories, I have only used this skill once in the past."

"Abyss's Flame!"

A mass of black fog began to appear from her body.

"But when a group of hungry wolves wants to gang up on and bully a mere weak girl like me, then I have no other choice"

Fwoo———

The black fog spread in every direction, weaving through the layers of soldiers, and continued to spread increasingly further.

An instant.

All the soldiers collapsed.

A sense of bone-breaking pain, unbearable suffering that ate into one's soul had afflicted all of them.

This torment was beyond what humans could endure.

"AH!"

"My hand!"

"What's happening to my head!? What's happening to my head!?"

"Save me!"

The bodies of these soldiers were beginning to morph.

They were evolving into a certain unique species, the suffering caused by this process had directly knocked most of them unconscious, while the rest were unable to do anything except scream and cry while wishing for death.

——Demon Bloodkin. It was one of her racial traits, a skill born from her bloodline.

Alice chuckled before saying,

"Embrace your deaths"

Fwoom!!!

Boundless black flames spread from his hand and engulfed this entire region.

Black flames swept through the ground.

The soldiers on the ground were either unconscious or experiencing immense pain.

They had no way to defend themselves against such an attack.

Wherever the black flames swept through, the flesh and blood of the soldiers were instantly reduced to nothing, leaving only their skeletons behind. The skeletons would then continue to burn until they turned into ash, expelling their soul and all the powers previously within their body as black smoke.

After a bit, all the smoke from the bodies flew into the air and started converging.

They were converging towards Alice.

She stood still and let the black smoke pour into her body from every direction.

"Ugh..."

Alice uttered a curt grunt.

The power from thousands of soldiers had formed a massive wave that would overwhelm the bodies of any normal mortal if they tried to absorb it.

Waves of pain were radiating throughout Alice's body, causing her to scowl.

A few moments later.

Once she had finished absorbing all the black smoke.

She slowly closed her eyes as a black rose made of nothing but black flame manifested behind her.

She felt like throwing, almost as if she had eaten something bad. The reason why she used an ability she usually doesn't want to use was because she was using any means necessary to quickly improve her strength. The time for the final battle was closing in.

"Sigh! My strength increased by a little. Let's head to the next location. I hope the girls are having fun."

Alice vanished soon after muttering those words.

Chapter 1403 Part 1: In The Soul Union Realm

In a certain location, Incursio was recalling one of the many steamy sex scenes she had in the Soul plane.

She wished to become a virgin in her soul state again and it happened.

After playing around doing varying things Alex and Incursio went to their room.

The two stood face to face and looked at each other in the eyes before Incursio suddenly declared shyly.

"Kiss me." She suddenly leaned in and briefly captured his lips, which prompted him to comply with her demand.

They felt the same sensation again, albeit tuned down, but the lust that drowned Alex was far more outrageous than what he faced in the afternoon.

His hands trembled as he pulled her towards him, making her sit in his lap, locking her legs around him.

She tasted so sweet that he did not want to part from her lips, and she could feel his hardness digging into her ass. His ragged breaths and trembling body were evidence of how much discomfort he was in.

His hands started clawing at her waist, being very gentle, and then he finally reached for the buttons on her pajama top, undressing her.

Incursio did the same for him and helped him take off his shirt.

The two of them separated from each other's lips, and then carefully looked at each other's naked torsos.

"You are really beautiful, Incursio." He softly said as his fingertips traced her collarbone, and then his fingertips trickled down to her perfectly round breasts that had beautiful small but pink nipples on them.

She was not too well-endowed in her bosom, and only barely fit the C-cup, but they were gorgeous and felt so supple in his hands that he could not help but squeeze them a little. Her curves were so perfect that it was a marvel of nature, and her flat but soft stomach was too comforting to touch.

Incursio in her virgin mode was burning in a blush as Alex's hands wandered over her and felt tremors in her body when he played around with her boobs. However, her eyes were fixed on his nakedness too, and her hands were not idle either.

He had a broad chest, chiseled, but not muscular. He was lean, quite lean, but could not be considered thin or lanky. And she could not help but marvel at how perfect he was.

"You are beautiful too!" She mischievously smiled and said, which took Alex off-guard but then they both laughed together before pulling each other in another seething kiss.

They just seemed to never get enough of each other's mouths, but eventually, he could no longer hold himself back.

He pinned her under him and hastily yanked off her beautiful négligé, leaving her completely bare before his eyes.

Incursio closed her eyes in shame, and her hands instinctively reached to cover her nakedness, but he did not allow her to do so.

".." He smiled as he got between her legs and pressed her under his weight, supporting himself on his elbow as he stared at her face.

The warmth of each other's skin was too comforting and alluring, making her instinctively hug him on top of her.

She opened her misty crimson eyes and saw the gentleness in his heterochromia eyes that made her feel sweet.

"Yes?"

"You are beautiful!" He smiled and said before planting a kiss on her forehead.

A sweet smile crept on her lips when she heard his words, and Alex kept planting light kisses all over her face.

It tickled a little for her, but at the same time, the temperature of her body started rising, giving birth to a sweet ache deep inside of her.

The ache flared up when his lips reached her breasts, and then she felt the warmth and wetness of his mouth engulf her softness that sent shivers up her spine.

He tugged on her nipple with his lips and played around with it with his tongue. And when he started sucking on them, much like an infant would treat his meal, she could not help but let out giggles and moans at the same time.

It was something so exquisite that she had never experienced before.

His fingers reached for her nether lips, tracing them, and then teased the little knob they were hiding at the top of them.

Her soft body writhed under his playfulness, and the moment she started climbing to jump off to an orgasm, he stopped and pinched her clit, making her yelp out in surprise, sending jolts of pleasure up her spine.

Under her fearful eyes, he uncovered his manliness that was painfully erect to its full mast.

She could not help but gulp down when she realized how big it was, making her worried if it would ever fit inside of her.

"Be gentle..." She finally made up her mind and pulled him on top of her, wrapping her arms around his neck.

Yes, she knew it would hurt a lot, but she did not want to make it difficult for him. She remembered their first, this memory was quite vivid in her mind, and she shivered at the prospect of experiencing this again.

She felt the glans kiss her nether lips, and then trembled when he held himself in his hand and traced her glistening lips with it.

"Ready?" He asked when he finally stopped at her entrance, his glans parting her nether lips.

"Mhmm.." She nodded her head and closed her eyes, but soon she heard him chuckle and opened them again.

"Don't close them." He gently said and stole a kiss from her lips.

The two of them stared into each other's eyes as he pushed himself inside of her.

Her breath got stuck in her throat when his glans managed to break into her, but she did not close her eyes to cope with the pain and discomfort that she was feeling.

"Relax..." He whispered in a trembling voice as he found her warmth a little too alluring for him to stay composed.

Under her fearful eyes, he uncovered his manliness that was painfully erect to its full mast.

She could not help but gulp down when she realized how big it was, making her worried if it would ever fit inside of her.

"Be gentle..." She finally made up her mind and pulled him on top of her, wrapping her arms around his neck.

The two of them stared into each other's eyes as he pushed himself inside of her.

Her breath got stuck in her throat when his glans managed to break into her, but she did not close her eyes to cope with the pain and discomfort that she was feeling.

"Relax..." He whispered in a trembling voice as he found her warmth a little too alluring for him to stay composed.

The moment she cried out in ecstasy, her insides painfully clamped him, but he fought hard and thrust faster before erupting inside of her, inseminating her womb with his essence.

And in that moment, something magical happened.

Both of them felt something change inside of them, but their minds paid no attention to it, and their bodies moved on their own as they soon lost themselves to their lust, indulging in their carnal desires to their heart's content.

Alex suddenly switched positions.

"Ugh..." Incursio let out a soft groan of pain and pleasure. She tried to twist her body again, but he was holding her hands so she could not move.

For some reason, seeing her helpless state filled him with even more lust. He felt an incredible urge to bully her just to see her teary eyes.

"Alex, s-slow down..."

"Sure." He smiled, but his actions did not follow his words. Instead of slowing down, his thrusts became faster. Incursio gasped deeply and groaned in pleasure.

Meanwhile, Alex licked her neck and armpit and bit her nipples. One of his hands was holding her hands above her head firmly, while his other hand caressed and pinched her abdomen and legs.

Finally, his hands moved to her vulva. He used his fingers to rub the small plains of short hair between her legs, making her moan loudly.

Then, when she was getting used to the pleasure, he lightly pulled the hair up.

"Ughn...~" Incursio moaned in pain. A shiver ran through her body and her walls tightened around his rod.

Alex took a deep breath and continued bullying her. His teeth left small marks around her breast and neck, biting and licking mercilessly.

He made sure of using origin to make the process as pleasurable as possible, but even so, it was painful for Incursio. However, the mix of pain and pleasure combined to bring her orgasm to greater heights.

"Ohhhhhh...!" With a loud cry, he felt her first orgasm.

"N-No..."

After the flood of love juices drenched Alex's waist, she gasped. Incursio opened her eyes and panted heavily while looking at him with a pitiful expression.

She was like a small animal being bullied by its owner, without a place to vent its grievances.

However, he was still not satisfied. There was a trick he had to sue yet.

With a malicious smile, he licked her ear and bit her earlobe.

"I never thought my beloved evil goddess would have such a perverted side."

"..."

Incursio's teary eyes were adorable. So adorable that he wanted to see more of them.

So, he resumed his next round of attack.

"S-Stop... Alex, wait..."

"I'm sorry, I can't wait." He smirked and put strength in his waist. Suddenly, his dick pierced her deepest part. Incursio gasped and her body shivered. She bit her lips until leaking a bit of blood, but even like that, her mouth let out a soft grunt.

"Mm..."

Meanwhile, the rest of Alex's body continued doing his work. He brought his mouth to her shoulders and bit her, drawing a bit of blood. The bite provoked Incursio's walls to tighten even more around me, and my member found it a bit hard to move.

So, he thrust hard while enjoying her tight pussy.

She couldn't help but to shudder and quiver as her body spasmed due to the pleasure.

"Ahn...!" Finally, she let out another loud moan.

"How lewd..." Alex laughed and whispered in her ear. Incursio paled briefly, but the pleasure she was feeling overwhelmed her thoughts and made her moan again.

After she moaned for the first time, she was unable to continue suppressing her moans. She moaned and screamed. Her body twisted below Alex like a rabbit struggling before a wolf before giving in, and her legs wrapped around his waist.

Finally, Alex released her hands, and she instantly wrapped them around his neck. At the same time, she brought her mouth to his shoulder and bit hard. Copying his previous gesture.

Being unexpectedly attacked like that, Alex grunted and turned around her body. Then, he thrust and thrust inside her in a doggy position.

Incursio's moans became even louder and lewder.

Her cave had long become filled with love juices.

The amount of love juice Incursio produced was enough to drench the bed completely.

Alex soon followed with his first ejaculation and naturally wouldn't end things like that so they continued.

It was a long night. Long and passionate, but everything had an end, and it ended too with the two lovers holding each other in their embrace.

They slept soundly, unaware of all the changes that were taking place inside of them.

"That was quite intense."

Back in the real world Incursio who was reminiscing mumbled while licking her lips, she felt her nether region turning hot. She wouldn't mind having another go right now but she quickly shake her head as there were many she ought to take care of. Soon, her body turned into a mist and drifted with the wind. She was gone.

Chapter 1405 Part 3: Daddy's Play 1

In a bedroom were two people silently staring at each other.

Looking up at Incursio, Alex moved to stand but surprisingly the woman didn't let him as she instead pushed him down and planting her legs to both his sides, sat down on him and without warning ripped apart his shirt.

"This isn't going to be peaceful," He thought relaxing and letting Incursio destroy his shirt and leave him bare-chested.

She licked her lips as Alex's chest came exposed, subconsciously taking a deep breath and rubbing her hand over his chest.

Meanwhile, Alex was silently enjoying the feeling of Incursio's touch when he felt a sharp pain on his chest, and looking down he saw her hand running down his chest, her fingers dragging across his skin and leaving a light trail of blood despite the woman wanting to do more.

Alex blinked at this, but before he could stress his mind on useless thoughts, she leaned down and began licking across the lines of blood she had made, and he didn't know how she did it, but somehow it felt pleasing.

Feeling her tongue running over his bruised flesh, small jolts of pleasure ran within him, the wet sounds of Incursio's licks soon sending his cock stirring.

Other than a few low grunts leaving his lips, he made no other reaction to her activities, letting her do as she wished.

Holding Alex's head in her hands, Incursio came with dominance and tyranny as she kissed Alex, her tongue blasting into his mouth and ravaging it like a hungry beast.

With each second that passed, her lust seemed to increase as she pressed herself onto Alex till eventually she took her hands from his head and instead wrapped her arm around it, mashing her lips against his and grinding her crotch against his boner.

With his hands to the side, Alex watched as Incursio's eyes lost all sense of intelligence, going half-lidded with the woman grinding herself harder on him.

Minutes went by and just when he was wondering if she no longer needed oxygen to survive, he felt her hips move harder and in the end, her body shook, a wetness soon spreading all over his lower region as Incursio released directly over him.

With her release, Incursio's body fell on him and she could only rest her chin on his shoulder, holding him tight as her body reached a peak of pleasure, and just when Alex thought that was all, he felt a known but unfamiliar pain in his neck.

Alex soon found out she had bitten into his neck, sucking his blood like a vampire, he was being fed on by Incursio as she orgasm, and he couldn't help but look to the ceiling and let out a sigh of pleasure.

Just like his bite caused others pleasure, a bite from another also brought about pleasure, but unlike others who lost control of themselves, Alex was able to easily ignore the pleasure and then look to the right, staring at the one abandoned woman who was staring at him both of them in amazement and frustration.

Licking his lips while staring at Incursio's neck before doing the same thing she did, causing her to shiver.

As Alex fed on Incursio his lust increased and he bit deeper till eventually Incursio's mouth came off his neck and she began letting out heavy moans.

Her bloody lips open and moaning, she held onto Alex tightly, her pussy already beginning to tingle but then he suddenly released her neck, allowing her to lean away from him and struggle to control her breathing.

"You aren't doing a good job of outdoing me, little girl," Alex said giving Incursio's ass cheek a heavy spank that left a red handprint and had her crying out.

"I'm just warming up," Incursio defended staring at him with defiance, and then without delay, her hands reached for his part, and tore it apart, shocked when his meat slapped her butt with a powerful force.

"Wow! Are you sure you can handle me?"

To Alex's words, Incursio grinned and then grabbed onto his dick.

She held the thick meat and rubbed its tip against her pussy lips, and with heavy breaths of anticipation, she proceeded to go down on Alex's dick only to find a hand suddenly holding onto her butt cheek and then she couldn't descend.

Confusion on her face, her eyes traced from Alex's hand which was holding her buttock to his face, and looked at him questioningly.

"What are you doing?"

"Beg for it "

Incursio was confused by Alex's words, but he didn't let her strain her mind as he went on to further explain to her.

"Say 'Daddy please allow my pussy to take care of your fat cock'."

This was a fuck session that involved more than just orgasms, it involved Incursio trying to dominate Alex, and so far Alex had let her have her fun, but now he had decided to make a move.

At Alex's words, Incursio's eyes constricted determination, she wouldn't easily give, it was what her current action entailed initial rebellious and then before Alex knew it, she took her left knee off the floor, leaving only her feet on the ground, and soon the ground underneath Incursio's left foot cracked as the woman began seeking to force herself down.

Alex's action at the moment was the ultimate tease to Incursio because the tip of his cock was already in her pussy, and now the feeling of being unable to have the rest of his cock enter and fill her felt like torture.

Seeing Incursio's display of her strength, Alex only smirked at the woman, delivering two hard spansks to her ass.

"Try harder."

Despite having the vantage point, Incursio found herself unable to even go down even a single inch, and gritting her teeth, she leaned forward and rested her hand against his chest wanting to use him as leverage.

With amusement, Alex watched Incursio get into her new position and further press down, her face was flushed red with veins popping all over her neck due to the amount of strength exerted.

"What a bad girl, "Alex chuckled, and lifting his hand slapped her right ass cheek five times continuously, enjoying when the pain from his hits filled the woman and discomfort spread to her eyes.

"Given up yet?" He questioned his left hand holding his dick and moving it in a circle, teasing Incursio and having her bite her teeth in frustration.

"Daddy please allow my pussy to take care of your fat cock"

It took Alex a second to realize that Incursio had said the words, but then he smiled and stroked her very much teased pussy.

"That is my good girl"

Taking his right hand from her butt, Alex was surprised to see Incursio not immediately sit on his and swallow his cock, instead, she held herself up and calmed her breath, and then closing her eyes, she slowly took him in, swallowing his entire meat and resting her heavy butt on his laps.

"I'm guessing you're back to being a bad and stubborn girl," He asked with a grin, her eyes opening to a narrow gaze being his answer.

"Guess I'll have to discipline you some more."

"You won't win this time," Incursio said with such confidence that Alex.

"Go ahead, and be a naughty girl," Alex said with Incursio snorting but in the end, she set her knees back on the ground and began moving.

With her Moving up and down on his cock, Alex leaned back and enjoyed the sight.

"You're beautiful, what a beautiful sight to behold," Alex commented, but Incursio gave no reaction to his compliments, as she ground her pelvis over his, moving her hips clockwise and anticlockwise, controlling his dick like it was a joystick.

"Hmhm!" Alex groaned in pleasure, unable to deny the stimulations that the walls of Incursio's cunt were delivering to his cock.

With each second that passed, the woman increased her pace till eventually, her hips began lifting off his body and falling back, her moans increasing with the change in pace.

Soon Alex could no longer remain passive and began moving his waist, lifting his hips and slamming them against Incursio's buttock as it came down.

His actions seemed to annoy the white-haired lady as she began moving faster and harder, each of her descent a slam that pushed Alex's hip to the ground.

Seeing her enter a frenzy mode in her quest for dominance, Alex chuckled and backed off and enjoyed the feel of a tight fleshy wall, rapidly moving over his dick.

With the pace that Incursio had him. It wasn't long before her breathing got heavy once more and a few seconds later her cunt tightened around his cock, gripping it hard and washing it with her juices.

With her orgasm, Incursio finally took a break, sitting on him and hazily staring at him.

"Girl, I'm still hard, you came too early"

He hadn't come so the game had just begun.

He hadn't come so the game had just begun.

Alex's words had Incursio's eyes narrowing at him, and without a word, he saw the woman's hips begin moving up once more, genuine moans soon beginning to leave her lips.

Her quick recovery amazed Alex for a few seconds.

Alex fucked her until he had another orgasm and he ejaculated as well. They momentarily stopped.

"Why don't you clean me instead?"

After Alex uttered those words, Incursio stopped and turned, her eyes zeroing in on his cock and soon consuming it.

With his last release, Alex's dick had gone to sleep thinking its fun time was over, but with her mouth wrapped around it and draining it of whatever remained within it during its recent release, it quickly hardened.

Stroking her hair, Alex truly appreciated the way her head moved around his cock, and when he felt he was hard enough, he pulled her head, prompting her to look at me.

Extending a hand, she got his meaning, and held his hand, letting him pull her up and when they were both standing and staring into each other's eyes, he raised this question.

"How do you want it"

"I want to be in your arms."

Upon hearing Incursio's request, Alex placed his hands on the latter butt and then lifted her, raising her so her butt reached the same height as his hardening dick, and then with her help, his cock was aligned with her snatch and then penetration.

With few movements, he was now buried in the white-haired devil's snatch, while Incursio found herself tightening her grip on him as his dick swelled within her.

"That's big" She couldn't help but comment.

Holding Incursio's butt firmly, Alex began moving his hips, smacking his pelvis against hers, and Incursio in her thoughtfulness wrapped her hand around his neck while the other lifted her breast and brought it to his lips.

Like he hadn't tasted her milk in ages, Alex gobbled up Irene's nipples while moving his enlarged meat in and out of her.

With the new tightness around his cock, Alex gave Irene's cunt time to adjust to his size, moving in and out of her with slow strokes, enjoying as her arms occasionally moved over his tense arms caressing his protruding muscles as he carried her fleshy body.

With time Alex's strokes got faster and he had no choice but to release her breast and focus his attention on sending the woman to a world of pleasure.

Holding her tight, Alex smacked his pelvis harder against hers, loving the wet sounds that began filling the surroundings as the woman's pussy leaked more and more juices.

"Ohh! Alex, more, please more, harder, harder Daddy, fuck me senseless!" Incursio soon started moaning, but her pleas didn't last for long as Alex soon began giving her what she wanted, his actions destroying her ability to phrase words and leaving her mouth only able to moan.

"Anhh, Anhhh" Incursio screamed, tightening her leg around Alex and clawing at his back.

Like an untiring machine, Alex stood firm and began lifting Incursio as he fucked her. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

Taking her buttocks up and then smashing his cock into her as her ass came down, not stopping with this action till eventually she trebled and her pussy contracted, spurting out more of its juices, Irene releasing a scream.

"Anh! Alex, Ohhhh!" Incursio screamed her body pressed against the wall of the cave as Alex stood behind her.

Unlike earlier when they had gone rough, this time he was also pressed against her and with average speed was moving his dick in and out of the latter pussy.

Alex's face was pressed against her face and they could both hear each other breathing, his hand pinning both her hands to the wall as he slipped his cock in and out of her enjoying as she kept moaning his name.

"How much did you love my cock?"

Alex suddenly asked, his question surprising Irene but a second later she answered him.

"It's the best darling I love it."

"Praise my cock" Alex whispered, his grip on Incursio's hand tightening and his thrust getting harder.

"Hmm, what more praises can I give to your almighty cock darling, I just want to suck on it every day, have it up my pussy and throat." She said up to there before staying silent to observe Alex's reaction and as expected he was pleased but there was still something missing, Incursio knew what to do next so she opened her mouth and added.

"Daddy you thick cock turn my insides upside down."

"Come on Daddy, this pussy is eternally yours to fuck."

Without pause, dirty words spilled from Incursio's lips, further turning on her and Alex, making her pussy so wet that her juices began dripping to the floor as he fucked her.

"Please Daddy fuck me braindead."

Hearing these words, Alex smashed his lips against Incursio's enjoying as she kissed him back with the same ferocity.

As they kissed Alex's hips began picking up pace, and when they separated, he sent his tongue and licked her tears.

Seeing her press herself to him, Alex held her head so she kept looking at him, watching as her breathing got heavier, and then he asked once more.

"You love my dick right"

Without hesitation, Incursio nodded her head and he was satisfied with her answer.

"Ahhh!"

"Ohhhhhh!"

Both Incursio and Alex began groaning this time.

"I'm coming" She whispered with dazed eyes, her body soon trembling as she was sent over the edge and not too long after had to bear Alex's cock pouring its white matter into her.

With both their bodies trembling, Alex and Incursio stood glued together, their groans and breath the only thing keeping them company till eventually, they both calmed down Alex took a step back, taking his cock out of Incursio's pussy and watching as their accumulated white cum came flooding down.

Incursio had just pushed herself off the wall and turned when she was greeted by Alex standing just behind her, his sweaty body heaving up and down, and then he asked her.

"How was this today's play?"

"Simply wonderful." She responded while her legs trembled as if acknowledging this fact as well.

Sex is about exploration and trying new things to not fall into the abyss of boredom once this happened the couple may split because their sexual life had become boring. The man might seek new thrilling experiences elsewhere, the same thing goes for females, it is why one must try different experiences to spice up your sexual life, trying to never get bored of your partner.

Alex shook his head to get his thoughts back on track. He observed Incursio and sighed in his heart.

'Who would have thought that yesterday's enemy would have become my ally and above everything else my woman? Thanks to this unexpected connection, unexpected things were born. I'm glad things turned out like this. Not only I've gained a powerful ally, but I also gained a reliable companion as well, a companion with whom I can share my joys and sorrow, a soulmate who will bear my offering one day. I'm truly blessed with all of them accepting such man as their other half.'

He stared lovingly at Incursio, the latter was confused.

"What is it?"

"Nothing, I'm thinking how blessed I'm to have you. I love you."

Incursio stood frozen in front of Alex's unexpected declaration, it took her thirty seconds to register what happened before finally snapping back to reality.

"I love you too my soulmate." She declared with a face full of love.

1407 Chapter 1407

Alice chuckled before coldly announcing,

"Embrace your deaths"

Fwoom!!!

Boundless black flames spread from his hand and engulfed this entire region.

Black flames swept through the ground.

The soldiers on the ground were either unconscious or experiencing immense pain.

They had no way to defend themselves against such an attack.

Wherever the black flames swept through, the flesh and blood of the soldiers were instantly reduced to nothing, leaving only their skeletons behind. The skeletons would then continue to burn until they turned into ash, expelling their soul and all the powers previously within their body as black smoke.

After a bit, all the smoke from the bodies flew into the air and started converging.

They were converging towards Alice.

She stood still and let the black smoke pour into her body from every direction.

"Ugh..."

Alice uttered a curt grunt.

The power from thousands of soldiers had formed a massive wave that would overwhelm the bodies of any normal mortal if they tried to absorb it.

Waves of pain were radiating throughout Alice's body, causing her to scowl.

A few moments later.

Once she had finished absorbing all the black smoke.

She slowly closed her eyes as a black rose made of nothing but black flame manifested behind her.

She felt like throwing, almost as if she had eaten something bad. The reason why she used an ability she usually doesn't want to use was because she was using any means necessary to quickly improve her strength. The time for the final battle was closing in.

"Sigh! My strength increased by a little. Let's head to the next location. I hope the girls are having fun."

Alice vanished soon after muttering those words.

At the same time in another location. Something horrific happened not too long ago and someone had been dispatched to investigate and remedy the unexpected situation.

The once busy road that led to Bredwardine was torn to pieces by the elements. Grass filled the labyrinth of cracks and sand covered whatever was left. Broken branches and leaves cover the roads inside the town while the tall grasses of the unkempt gardens sway in the wind.

Many doors had collapsed as rot ate away their edges. The open doorways that were once perhaps very welcoming were now an eerie and unwelcoming sight. Paint crumbled off of the walls and was slowly replaced by vines that crawled their way toward the rooftops. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

Bredwardine, once a major festival town and home to an amazing night life was now partially reclaimed by nature. An eerie silence had taken over and was only interrupted by the cracking of wood in the wind and the occasional bird that had made its home in one of the many collapsed roofs.

The scents of fresh bread, various fruits, and all sorts of other foods once filled the air of the marketplace. Now there's only the fresh air from the nearby forests to enjoy, as well as the occasional animal droppings that ruin it.

It was a strange feeling to be in the footsteps of so many lives now long forgotten and not knowing what became of the people who once spent their lives here. But there was an odd sense of harmony as nature reclaimed what was theirs and resettled an old balance.

In this ghost town, a white mist manifested into the form of a girl. A beautiful woman with a head full of white hair accompanied by crimson eyes.

Incurtio's eyes scanned through her surrounding until finally stopping in the square in the middle of the city. She flashed and appeared next to the broken fountain in the middle of the deserted square. She put one foot forward before suddenly vanishing. She had found the entrance to this unusual dungeon that was responsible for the city's current situation.

After her sudden disappearance, Incursio appeared in front of giant doors while being surrounded by an endless sky. These doors were gigantic, a mix of black, purple, and red, these doors were emanating an eerie presence.

One could feel goosebumps just by standing before them.

It was truly an unusual dungeon.

There was a sudden indescribable sound passing through the area.

Despite her countless experience, Incursio was affected as a terrifying chill swept through Incursio's entire body. Her spine was cold, and her scalp felt like it was going to explode.

No, to put more words into how she was currently feeling, it was as if her skull had been ripped open, and cold water poured directly into her body. An even more frightening cold air swept through her four limbs, almost causing her entire body to feel cold, and she stood there in a daze.

After a momentary stop, Incursio regained her bearing and sighed while her eyes became resolute. She took the first step forward and something magical happened.

The gates at the end of the road quickly started to open.

It was now practically no longer a door, but a thin straight line that appeared in the void of space.

The white-haired devil's lady, the Chaos organization's former Numbers (Number 2) charged forward and swiftly made her way through to the other side, entering a completely new world.

Darkness.

Followed by a sudden flash of light.

A world started to appear after that, it was a world on the other side of the ominous-looking doors.

The foul stench of blood mixed with burning fire drifted towards them following a gust of wind.

Loud growling and howling could be heard from every direction.

Gazing forward, one could see that they were masses of crimson light that had gathered to form a gigantic and transparent figure, one without any clear facial features. Only a pair of blank eyes and a gigantic toothy maw could be seen whenever the giant figure moved around.

This monster made out of pure light was about the size of a large football field, it was currently lying on top of countless corpses and using its hand that was manifested from masses of light to catch and consume these corpses one by one.

"A corpse eater" Incursio muttered in disbelief.

This monster made out of pure light was about the size of a large football field, it was currently lying on top of countless corpses and using its hand that was manifested from masses of light to catch and consume these corpses one by one.

"A corpse eater!" Incursio muttered in disbelief, but she knew better than to quickly act otherwise it would be late before you become aware that you have turned into a dried-up corpse.

Almost immediately, the monsters abruptly looked up and noticed the white-haired devil.

[The living... must all die!]

It mumbled.

Numerous rays of grey light were then shot toward Incursio.

These rays of light were a bit strange, as they didn't directly attack her, but instead manifested a glowing dark prison around her.

The white-haired devil's lady reacted extremely quickly and immediately called out:

『 With this holy power, Magic Break! 』

She used one attribute (element) among the numerous ones she had. It was the White element, better known as the Holy element, pretty suitable for the current situation.

Bang!

The prison of light immediately shattered.

Another large mass of light that had manifested into a hand swung heavily towards Incursio as soon as the other one got destroyed.

"White Guardian Holy Knight!" Incursio rapidly chanted.

Numerous white lights emerged from Incursio's body to form a white mass around Incursio before swiftly merging into one to form a giant made of light that stood to shield her from the incoming attack.

"YAH!"

The giant uttered a resounding shout and firmly stopped this hand with both of its own hands.

Seeing this, the monster opened its large maw to spit out a mass of mist-like light.

The mist swiftly manifested into sharp arrows of ice that shot toward Incursio.

The white-haired devil's lady lightly sighed and uttered: 『Protective barrier, manifest! 』

A glowing radiant illusion of a shield manifested in front of her and completely stopped all of these arrows.

While the radiant shield was defending against the Corpse Eater's attack. Incursio did not stand still as she finally released her Gift and automatically another sword made of pure Holy element was created.

Soon, the swords had already attacked the monster like two flashes of light that appeared out of thin air.

Before her swords even reached the monster, her sword skill had already taken effect!

[Myriad Phantom Sword Slashes!]

A bluish-white arc of lightning appeared on the monster's body and spread around it, followed by numerous sword phantoms that continuously slashed it.

At this point, the two swords arrived to join the sword phantoms as well.

In one mere breath's worth of time, the swords moved extremely fast and were continuously triggered and summoned numerous phantom swords.

It was as if those myriad phantom sword slashes were coordinating with each other to unleash attacks of peerless power before fading away from the world like an illusion.

Roar-----

The monster was hurt and began to grunt continuously.

Its attacks also became more reckless.

Suddenly, numerous layers of black eerie light manifested around Incursio's, rapidly spinning around where she stood.

"Siuuu!"

A curt and sharp howl was heard.

The layers of black eerie light moved forward, manifesting into gloomy bones that started crawling around her body.

Incursio tried to remove them several times, but these bones seemed to be extremely resilient as they couldn't be removed no matter what while her movements began to be greatly restrained.

The bones slowly started to gather together and form unique patterns around the surface of her defensive clothes, just a step away from manifesting into form.

-this seems to be some sort of skill!

Upon sensing the emergency of the situation Incursio hastily chanted a long incantation.

『With my holy power I summon thee the Holy Angel, with to the hammer remove all wickedness!』

A long-handled hammer that exuded golden light appeared the in the hands of an illusionary angel.

This illusionary angel tightly held onto the hammer and started to swing it towards Incursio's body-----

「 NO! 」

A sharp shriek resounded from the bones.

All the bones were reduced to dust by a single strike of this hammer, which then onto the ground one by one.

Incursio naturally understood just how dangerous things were earlier. It was why she hate dealing with these abominations created by the joint hands of those mad scientists of the organization.

It was the time to get serious she thought.

"Ahhh!"

Incursio then uttered a curt shout and clenched her cute little fist, throwing a punch toward the monster from afar.

[Ethereal Fist: Meteor Shower!]

The monster of light instantly became inert and blankly stood still, allowing blinding holy light in the form of countless fists started to rain down on its body.

A few moments later.

Thud!

The monster's body collapsed on the ground, causing the earth itself to tremble.

Incursio swords return next to her.

"It would be great if there is only a few of them."

As soon as she thought that, Incursio noticed several masses of light beginning to move within the faraway darkness.

The light around their bodies abruptly became brighter to illuminate the entire night sky.

"Tch! I knew it wouldn't be so easy. Nevertheless, this gonna be fun. It has been a long time since I've proper fight where I tired myself. Let's go!" Incursio silently mumbled.

Meanwhile, the monsters turned their attention towards Incursio one by one after fully manifesting.

[Ba... nish...]

One monster declared first.

[Banish!]

[Banish!]

All the monsters swiftly followed up.

They were standing at a distance and didn't try to approach her at all as if they were afraid of something.

Incursio silently waited for a bit before her lips curled up in the form of a mocking smile.

They were standing at a distance and didn't try to approach her at all as if they were afraid of something.

Incursio silently waited for a bit before her lips curled up in the form of a mocking smile.

"-----!"

Soon and massacre followed. Incursion got rid of all of the corpse eaters and moved forward.

She passed through a door and was sent to the next floor.

As she moved forward Incursio could hear a bit of loud noises.

Some light could be seen in the distance.

She walked straight through the exit.

Only to see that there was a huge colosseum on the outside with quite a few people already standing on top of the ring. A mix between humans and monsters. It seems to have entered some kind of illusion.

The noises she heard earlier had originated from the audience.

The audience seats had been filled, and everyone was in a state of excited bloodthirst.

"Go to hell, newcomers! You're all going to die here!"

"Hurry up! I want to see you bleed!"

"Scream and moan, your souls will be taken to feed the world"

"Kill! Kill! Kill! Kill! Kill!"

The audience was loudly cheering.

Incursio glanced through everyone before lightly leaping onto the gladiator ring.

Soon she was surrounded by a lot of enemies. She didn't look at them but instead looked into the distance.

"I'm offering 100 gold coins to whoever kills this bitch." Someone at the back suddenly announced and everyone eyes shone.

Incursio chuckled before finally moving. She turned to the other people on the gladiator ring, only to see that they were all looking towards her with malicious gazes.

Incursio blinked, then stepped forward and drew a line on the ground using her sword.

She said with a curt expression: "I'm not someone who likes to murder, but if a single one of you crosses this line, I'll kill every last one of you-----"

"Also, you there on the stands, the one who just offered money for my head, stay right where you are, I'll be coming for your entire family later on"

After saying that, she sheathed her sword and stepped back, standing firmly.

Complete silence.

Even the stands were silent.

Pfft----

Someone suddenly laughed.

"Ahahaha, who do you think you are?"

A man who carried an axe on his shoulder loudly mocked him.

He began approaching the line.

Everyone who was fighting in the ring completely stopped, looking at the muscular man with a complicated expression.

As soon as he crosses that line-----

The nature of the gladiator battle would completely change.

"STOP!"

Someone shouted.

The man wielded his axe and turned around, grinning: "Which bastard tried to stop this great one from earning 100 gold coins?"

A bulky man in armor stepped out from the group and pointed at the muscular man: "I've already analyzed both, resulting in a comparison of your overall strength"

"Oh? What's the result?" the muscular man asked.

The bulky man pointed at Incursio and said:

"She's stronger than you are."

"How much stronger?" the man with the axe asked again.

"Enough that you're no match for her." the bulky man replied.

The man's with the axe expression became stiff.

The bulky man walked right up to the line and bowed to Incursio: "Miss, please don't kill me just because of his recklessness, I don't intend on offending you."

Incursio shook her head.

The bulky man stayed silent briefly before turning around to face the muscular man.

"If you take one more step forward, I'm going to kill you" the bulky man declared.

The man with the axe chuckled, then wielded his axe with both hands and said: "I'd like to see if you can carry your weight as well"

Everyone felt a bit surprised, not expecting the two of them to fight.

The man with the axe body shifted and turned into three illusions as he charged toward the bulky man.

"You have a death wish!"

The bulky man shouted before summoning a cube filled with electricity.

Then the bulky man held tightly onto the cube and tossed it high into the air.

"GO!" the man suddenly shouted.

The three illusions leaped into the sky and swung heavily toward the cube.

Sha Sha Sha Sha Sha!

After an innumerable number of attacks struck it at once, the electric cube completely opened up into a dazzling rain of electric axe images that covered all of Incursio's path to retreat.

--Combo Skills, [Lightning Axe]!

It turns out the two of them had been acting the entire time!!!

They only wanted to find an opportunity to eliminate Incursio in one swift strike!

Bang Bang Bang!

Soon the white-haired girl's figure was engulfed by the blinding lightning strikes.

The region she was standing in was completely enveloped in light blue lightning, which made it impossible to see anything.

"Ahahaha, damned self-righteous bitch, you got what you deserve!" the man wielding the axe laughed maniacally.

"That's right, to be killed by our strongest combination skill is your honor" the bulky man followed up.

The flashes of lightning eventually faded away.

The specialized ring remained intact, but the white-haired girl from earlier had disappeared.

The two of them paused.

"She isn't dead" the muscular man muttered.

Thunderous gasps were suddenly heard from all over the stands.

"Behind us!" the man with the axe shouted out loud.

The two of them turned around and shifted into a defensive position.

And then they noticed the pyramid.

-----except themselves, the heads of all the other gladiators had been neatly lined up one after another to form a pyramid of heads that reached several meters in height.

Without a sound for warning, the white-haired girl had managed to avoid their combination skill, kill everyone else on the ring, and built a pyramid out of their heads.

Thud!

The bulky man's legs gave out like jelly, causing him to fall on his butt.

The man was also no longer acting arrogant, now soaked in a layer of cold sweat.

The white-haired was standing on top of the pyramid.

She stood with one foot over the top head while wielding her sword, her expression displayed utter indifference.

"It's time for your death" Incursio curtly said.

"WAIT!" The man with the axe suddenly shouted.

Incursio looked at him.

"You said that as soon as anyone crosses the line, you'll kill everyone, but the two of us haven't crossed the line, even if we had tried to attack you" The man with the axe called out.

"Right, right, that's right, you can't kill us!" the bulky man also followed up.

Incursio tilted her head a bit in thought and said.

"What you said is reasonable indeed but-" She paused for a moment.

Meanwhile, the two of them felt relieved thinking they were safe.

Incursio continued: "But I'm not a reasonable person."

Swoosh!

She vanished.

The curt sound of weapons cutting through flesh was heard.

She carried the two heads in her hands and walked up to the pyramid, neatly placing them down at the bottom.

The entire Colosseum was deathly silent.

The man who called out earlier to buy her life with 100 gold coins abruptly stood up and ran towards the exit in a panic.

As if he was being chased by a devil, he hysterically shouted while fleeing with his entire being.

Swoosh!

She disappeared in a flash.

A few moments later.

She emerged from the exit of the stands while carrying a severed head in her hand, flying back into the Colosseum.

She lowered her body and carefully put this head into the pyramid as well.

"Not bad. Who's next?" She threw her head back and uttered these words. She was smiling.

But would dare to say a word after seeing such a cruel display. It was a massacre in the truest sense of the term.

Everybody present could feel a chill run up his spine when they saw the white's haired evil smile.

That smile gave off an ominous feeling.

Incursio's smile widened again as she waited for their reply. This caused them again to feel a chill at their back and had goosebumps all over their body now that Incursio fixed her crimson eyes on them. This smile means death so nobody dares to utter a word.

Incursio clicked her tongue in disappointment before shrugging her shoulders and announcing as a matter of fact.

"You are all going to die regardless."

Another massacre ensued. Blood drenched the Colosseum like a river.

As if he was being chased by a devil, he hysterically shouted while fleeing with his entire being.

Swoosh!

She disappeared in a flash.

A few moments later.

She emerged from the exit of the stands while carrying a severed head in her hand, flying back into the Colosseum.

She lowered her body and carefully put this head into the pyramid as well.

"Not bad. Who's next?" She threw her head back and uttered these words. She was smiling.

But would dare to say a word after seeing such a cruel display. It was a massacre in the truest sense of the term.

Everybody present could feel a chill run up his spine when they saw the white-haired evil smile.

That smile gave off an ominous feeling.

Incursio's smile widened again as she waited for their reply. This caused them again to feel a chill at their back and had goosebumps all over their body now that Incursio fixed her crimson eyes on them. This smile means death so nobody dares to utter a word.

Incursio clicked her tongue in disappointment before shrugging her shoulders and announcing as a matter of fact.

"You are all going to die regardless."

Another massacre ensued. Blood drenched the Colosseum like a river.

As soon as she ended the massacre Incursio's level rose by one and the door to the next floor appeared and she walked into it.

The third and final floor was a ghost town like the one outside.

The once jam-packed roads that led to Farnfoss were barely more than a dirt path now and covered in shrubs and small bushes. The occasional animal can be heard rustling in the tall grasses of the unkempt gardens or hiding in the wild overgrown bushes.

Some doors were shut tightly, others were broken down. Some forcefully, others had simply collapsed under their weight as the elements continued to eat away at them. Broken roof tiles lay in the streets and gardens and crusty, dry paint faded from walls and fences.

Farnfoss, once a peaceful and growing community was now a mere shadow of its former glory. The sounds of insects, winds, and creaking wood of trees which were once drowned out by the sounds of cars and people had returned as the dominant sounds once more.

In an almost sick sense of irony the museum, once home to relics from the past discovered and recovered by archaeologists from around the world, was now once again lost and forgotten. Waiting to be found by those who come next.

The town was truly an eerie sight. So many lives forgotten and whatever was left to show for it is slowly withering away as time goes on. But with nothing else to lose this town had a strange sense of comfort about it. Like a world of opportunity, except there was nobody there to take it.

Incursio walked into the ghost town with light steps, she couldn't but sigh while mumbling.

"How would have thought that one day I'll feel pity for the victims?"

She understood that this city was once in the outside world but got destroyed and swallowed into this unusual dungeon. All of this is the handy work of the Chaos Organization and as a former member, the queen of the massacre she was feeling pity for the fallen here. Something inconceivable two years ago. It was funny how one person can change a person, turning a bad person into someone who can be saved.

"My brother would be shocked seeing my current self but I guess he will be happy as he always told me to seek my happiness. He may have been a cruel killer but he cared about me. I'm glad I've heard his advice and sought happiness by doing so I found love."

She stopped and inhaled a bout of fresh air while recalling the face of a certain handsome young man, with black hair mixed with a bit of silver, silver, and blue eyes. This is the face of the man she had fallen for. It starts from curiosity, they were once enemies but now they're lovers with the promise of sharing their lives forever. Incursio had deeply fallen for the young man known as the Black Prince, Alexander Kael Touch.

As if she was in a trance Incursio mumbled.

"I love you like you're the last of my kind. It is as if you speak the same language as I, yet no other is able. To be around you is like finally not being alone - as if all my life I've been isolated, in a windowless room, in a doorless room... and then suddenly you walk in as if strolling over a summer meadow. How is it that you are so much more than sunshine? How is it you breathe life when no other can? Why is it you are my medicine? Who could love me more than you? So, my love, know this - while I breathe I am yours in mind, body, and soul forever."

Incursio blushed after mumbling those words, it was quite fortunate nobody was present to hear this embarrassing confession she thought. Shaking her head, her crimson eyes became resolute, regaining their usual coldness.

"Time to proceed and finish with this mission."

It was she said but she didn't take two steps before freezing and a notification window announcing the creation of a new unique ability appeared.

"Shit!" Incursio swore because she knew what was about to follow.

Blue lightning suddenly appeared and surrounded her body before sneaking into one of her eyes. Everything happened too quickly not giving her the chance to act.

"Arg-----"

Clutching her eye and clenching her teeth tightly, she stood still for a long while.

It wasn't until several dozen seconds later that this aching pain slowly faded.

Incursio cautiously relaxed her hands and tried looking at her reflection in the mirror she hastily summoned.

Only to see that her left eye had returned to normal, regaining its usual blood-red color.

"Ah! It's good that things have returned to normal, I was worried that if I have to carry an eye glowing with electricity around from now on, that would be too eye-catching."

As soon as she said that, a blue glow appeared from inside his iris, giving off a faint 'zi zi' crackling before fading back into her iris.

Incursio froze.

Her expression was turning solemn.

"The fact that that happened meant that this unique ability was so powerful that I still haven't fully grasped control of it."

"I'll have to try using this ability at least once in order to get a feel for and fully grasp it."

Incursio looked around.

If she wants to test this new ability, it must be right now.

Her eyes lit up and gazed solemnly at the half-destroyed cathedral not too far from her current position.

[Dreamjolt!]

A blue ray of light shot out from Incursio's eye like a bolt of lightning and struck the half-destroyed cathedral in the distance.

Instantly, the half-destroyed cathedral began glowing.

At the very next moment, the glittering lightning suddenly turned into a ferocious black snake and swiftly entered the half-destroyed cathedral without any difficulties.

Incursio was surprised.

The entire half-destroyed cathedral thoroughly collapsed and crumbled into fine dust before fading away without a trace.

Then a notification appeared before her eyes.

[Unique ability: Dreamjolt]

[This skill is carried through the lightning bolt, which would then enter Dreamjolt to erase all living beings and all things]

[You've gained an initial impression of this unique ability's power]

[This unique ability description is as follows:]

[By activating this unique ability, a bolt of lightning would strike an enemy within your sight, activating the power of Dreamjolt, then summon the snake of the end to deal with your opponent.]

[Consume 1/3 of your mana. The ability is at its initial stage. The higher its level became the more awesome its features will be. The final stage can enable you to swallow and digest an entire world but this is far, really far from your current level so work hard.]

Incursio's lips couldn't help twitching. She felt compelled to massage her forehead to calm down.

"It is me or this notification feel like someone is intentionally messing with me. Come to think, what is this system? Who created this system? Are the gods the ones responsible for this? Probably not. Well, as I become stronger the more world's truth I'll learn. Let's take care of the things here for now. One step at a time."

She walked deeper into the fallen city while spreading her sense as far as it could get however to her surprise she found nothing. There was no single life except for her in entire the city.

"Huh? Strange! What is happening here? I thought the final boss would be in this city. So what the hell is happening here." She mumbled while doing another complete search but still found nothing.

"Sigh!"

One hour later her search was still fruitless and finally she destroyed this man-made dungeon, she found the dungeon core and crushed it, thus destroying the dungeon.
