Chapter 1471 1318: The King Of Beasts

Closing his eyes Alex recalled the conversation he had with his mother-in-law. The description of a certain sin appeared in Alex's mind.

'Gluttony: A weapon in the form of Gauntlets, they are powerful and capable of absorbing some of your enemy's attacks to give you stamina and faster recovery if you are injured. It has a hidden feature. You can absorb your enemy's energy and power. Anything can be absorbed. Gluttony knows no bounds and shall devour everything.'

Alex recalled more detailed information about this sin.

'Gluttony: Gauntlets

Sin Technique: King of Beast

This Sin technique transforms Gluttony's user into a massive beast with devastating power. While the beast is extremely powerful, it has an insatiable hunger. If the user doesn't have the mental capabilities to control this transformation, the beast will rampage, consuming everything in its wake.'

'It is exactly what I need right now before testing that power, I'll be my first time using the Sin Technique.' Alex mumbled before inhaling deeply and unlocking his third sin. He already had an idea of what kind of beast he would unleash.

"Third Sin unlocked: The Sin of Gluttony!"

Boom!

A powerful aura burst out from Alex before turning into the form of two dark gauntlets that tightly wrapped around his fists.

RUMBLE!

The sky rumbled and the image of a voracious beast appeared behind Alex, a beast with a never-ending appetite. A beast capable of swallowing everything and still wouldn't be satiated. The most curious thing about this beast was that it didn't have a shape, sometime it was the face of a lion the next time a tiger or giant snake, it was a faceless beast as if the final form of this beast depended on the owner and it was exactly what Alex was aiming for.

"Time start." Alex declared and then jumped out from the window and flew straight towards the monster.

The monster instantly noticed him, abruptly looked up, and spat out a cluster of flames.

Alex waved his hand and casually threw a punch.

Normally, he could control the darkness element with this sin but Alex had no trouble controlling other elements. Maybe it's because he is an irregular. Alex chose the most fitting element in this situation.

From Alex's casual punch, a frosty white air appeared and clashed against the flames, immediately overpowering it, and enveloping the monster.

In an instant, the monster was covered in a layer of frost, completely frozen in place.

Alex lightly landed and flicked the monster's body with his finger.

Cracks began to spread all over the monster's body.

Cr-rak.

Crack.

Clak clak— — —

The monster's body crumbled to dust, leaving only some faint white frost where it used to be, exuding frigid air.

Checking his remaining spiritual force from the corner of his eyes Alex grinned before joining his gauntlets together. It was his first time using this technique but he felt like he had been using it for a long time. Alex like a child couldn't stop the excitement from filling him.

"Gluttony Sin's Technique: The King of Beasts!" Alex declared while forming the image of a king of beasts in his mind.

BOOOM!

There was a huge explosion.

A black fog began to emanate from his body, his eyes also turned into a pair of vertical irises.

The form of a black dragon gradually became clear. lights novel

Intense wind howled.

A large dragon of darkness took to the sky, flying above the entire city.

For Alex, the absolute king of beasts can be nothing but a dragon.

ROAR!!!

The black dragon of darkness uttered a resounding roar, its claws gradually clad in a frigid aura.

Following the dragon's aerial circulation, the frigid aura spread in the air, turning into a layer of encircling blue ice crystals.

Bam bam bam bam bam!

The balls of fire that flew out from the black fog descended upon the blue ice crystals like asteroids, only to be abruptly frozen before dropping from the sky as broken pieces of bone.

Not a single ball of fire managed to go through the frosty barrier to enter the city intact!

Alex who had now unleashed his Gluttony Sin's Technique The King of Beasts and turned into his black dragon form casually circled in the air, spreading frost to improve the power of the barrier.

This way, the few monsters that managed to enter the city received no reinforcements and were swiftly dispatched by the soldiers within the city.

"A dragon!"

"A legendary dragon!"

"A dragon had arrived to help us against the monsters!"

The soldiers cheered.

Suddenly, a malicious voice resounded from inside the black fog:

「 Dragon! I suggest you do not interfere where you are not needed unless you wish to fall to destruction following this world 」

Hearing this, Alex became focused.

And loudly questioned: 「 Who are you? Anonymous bastard who conceals himself, someone without even a name doesn't deserve to talk to this great one! 」

The black fog remained silent for a while.

The voice finally spoke up again: 「 I am the Lord of all things in the void, the Judge of Living Beings' Fate! Dragon, you have one last chance to retreat, or I shall have you endure the fate of eternal suffering! 」

Alex thought this thing must be suffering from midgrade school syndrome, a Chuunibyo like the Japanese like to call it.

lightsNovel While Alex was wondering if this monster was suffering from Chuunibyo's syndrome he heard Silveria's warning.

「 Alex, you better not underestimate this thing and you must not forget that your transformation can be eternal. 」

Alex nodded, he must make a better of the situation. Like Silveria said his transformation could only last for a moment because it consumed not only his Spiritual Force but also his stamina and both things weren't endless.

Alex focused his attention elsewhere. He was circling in the sky as a black dragon.

He no longer paid any heed to the monster's faraway shouting, instead opted to silently wait.

He decided to observe first as well as use this time to prepare for the incoming clash. Alex has the feeling that the true meaning of this Sin's Technique is not to transform into the King of Beasts, there's more to this Sin's Technique and he shall research it.

Chapter 1472: Gluttony Sin's Technique True Use

Alex who had now unleashed his Gluttony Sin's Technique The King of Beasts and turned into his black dragon form casually circled around in the air, spreading frost to improve the power of the barrier.

This way, the few monsters that managed to enter the city received no reinforcements and were swiftly dispatched by the soldiers within the city.

"A dragon!"

"A legendary dragon!"

"A dragon had arrived to help us against the monsters!"

Alex nodded, he must make a better of the situation. Like Silveria have said his transformation could only last for a moment because it consume not only his Spiritual Force but also his stamina and both things weren't endless.

Alex focus his attention elsewhere. He was circling around in the sky as a black dragon.

He no longer paid any heed to the monster's faraway shouting, instead opted to silently wait.

He decided to observe first as well use this time to prepare for the incoming clash. Alex have the feeling that the true meaning of this Sin's Technique is not to transform into the King of Beasts, there's a more to this Sin's Technique and he shall research it.

He pondered in the silence in the air before arriving at the conclusion that he could transform into any form of monsters he had had seen. He immediately put it to test. He disappeared.

On the other side.

The black dragon's sky-eclipsing form entered the black fog, then instantly turned into a black cat and flickered in the air, suddenly disappearing.

Like he had thought it was possible to turn into a different form with the Gluttony's Sin technique: The King of Beasts.

The reason for Alex to turn into this form was because he wished to investigate. He erased his tracks in this form by combining multiple skills, [Shadow Walk] [Void Steps]...

The black cat swiftly landed on the ground and instantly began charging forward.

The power fluctuations from the battle were so obvious that they couldn't hide from its perception at all.

In the black fog, numerous monsters stood up from their tombstones, slowly making their way towards the city.

"Destroy... everything... chaos shall devour everything..."

They all muttered at the ends of their breaths.

The black cat ran into these monsters, then continued past them, rapidly running in their direction.

At this point, he didn't care about these chaos monsters.

—he wanted to find the Judge of Living Beings' Fate, then kill it!

The black cat moved like a blurred shadow, moving through a large distance in a short period of time, leaving all the monsters behind him.

Suddenly, the sky ahead of him became clear!

The black cat had made it through the black fog to reach the vast desolate field.

The black cat looked around.

The monster filled with brutal spikes were standing on top of a high tombstone——

It was the Judge of Living Beings' Fate!

Across from it, the monsters of the great tomb were mostly defeated, quite a few of them already laying as motionless corpses on the ground.

A big monster stood in front of all the monsters, holding the Judge of Living Beings' Fate off.

There seems to be a conflict between the monsters and Kade and the 20 special soldiers were nowhere to be seen, maybe they were dead without leaving a single bones behind, Alex was not too concerned.

The black cat raised his tail, silently moving into the center of the battle.

He climbed onto a tombstone, silently crouching behind the void monster, and waited.

——as soon as there was a chance, he would deliver the killing blow.

A humanoid monster whose entire body was covered in a grey carapace full of spikes stood on top of a tombstone, holding off against the attacks from a big humanoid monster.

——Chaos monster: Judge of Living Beings' Fate.

As for the humanoid monster leading the other monsters. Two glassy eyes survey their surroundings from their large sockets. A barely existing nose rests below, but it's the long mouth below that takes all the attention. A gentle smile reveals rows upon rows of teeth and a very long tongue.^{lightsnovel}

Wide bony ears sit on each side of its massive, broad head, which itself is covered in tiny hairs and has two small horns protruding from the top.

Its short stout body stands straight. Two thin almost branch-like arms dangle at its sides and end in huge hands with sharp nailed fingers, of which it has 12 in total.

Its legs are short and are bent, each ending in broad feet.

Its body is covered in fluffy fur and its shoulders are broader than its pelvis.

The black cat sat crouched behind it, not in a hurry to attack, simply listening with interest.

After all, one side was a chaos monster while the other side was a group of monsters that appeared to have been sealed here, he'd surely be able to find out a few secrets while listening to their conversation.

The humanoid monster's eyes flickered a bit, then said: "I know about all of you— you're nothing but empty shell that sold your soul to the devil."

The humanoid monster's voice was filled with scorn when said those words.

The Judge of Living Beings' Fate replied:

「 How would a bunch of sealed weaklings like yourselves possibly know our plight? 」

The humanoid monster sneered at the Judge of Living Beings' Fate.

The black opened its obsidian-like eyes wide open, silently crouching on the tombstone while falling into thought.

'So these monsters were originally together before one of them switched sides, joining the chaos' side.'

Alex didn't have the time to focus on his thoughts because of the Judge of Living Beings' Fate.

The Judge of Living Beings' Fate spat out a few words in conclusion:

「 A crowd of garbage 」

At this point, there was no longer anything left to bargain or discuss.

The humanoid monster furiously shouted: "Attack!"

Instantly, all of its subordinates unleashed their techniques.

But right before the humanoid monster gave its order, a man wearing a flashy armor appeared and had already acted first.

Both of his wrists were cut open by sharp air, each causing a small incision.

He then crouched down, pressing both hands on the ground, and shouted:

"Switch!"

Oom——

Dirt and sand were kicked up in every direction, only to be blown away by the intense wind.

The area around the Humanoid monster became unclear and warped.

As if another world was about to descend upon this area!

The Judge of Living Beings' Fate was about to act, but stopped as it saw this and smirked: 「Wow! Another weakling but slightly stronger. How interesting」

It silently stopped to observe.

Within the descended illusion, numerous soldiers had completely surrounded the Humanoid monster's group.

The power and presence these soldiers gave off were not too much weaker compared to the Humanoid monster's side.

This man was none other than Kade with his men.

"All troops, charge!" he abruptly shouted

"Yes, general!" the special soldiers all uttered a resounding shout in response.

Immediately, the humanoid monster's group was surrounded by countless special soldiers.

Just as Kade was about to attack something unexpected happened.

Hoh——

The illusory world abruptly vanished together with everything else.

The field of tombstones returned to silence.

All the special soldiers, the Humanoid monster, as well as his group were no longer here.

Only the Judge of Living Beings' Fate stood alone in this vast graveyard.

The black cat silently sat on top of a tombstone, focusing his gaze on him.

He waited for a moment as if waiting for the perfect opportunity, he didn't have to wait for too long.

At the very next moment.

A black cat appeared behind the Judge of Living Beings' Fate.

He leapt onto its shoulder.

A faint golden light mixed with a resounding silver glow overlapped, manifesting in the form of a small chains to freeze the monster, then followed the cat's paw into the Judge of Living Beings' Fate's body.

Chapter 1473: Guardian God

This man was none other than Kade with his men.

At the very next moment.

A black cat appeared behind the Judge of Living Beings' Fate.

He leaped onto its shoulder.

A faint golden light mixed with a resounding silver glow overlapped, manifesting in the form of small chains to freeze the monster, then followed the cat's paw into the Judge of Living Beings' Fate's body. He had condensed Silveria's power into these chains. He combined this with Nyx's temporal ability.

[Alex's Prohibition: An enemy you strike will have all of their skills sealed away, 1 minute duration]

As soon as the black cat used this technique, he also transformed back into Alex.

He then struck the monster using his metal gauntlets with all his strength.

Elemental Frost fist technique, [Frost Freeze]!

The frost spread from the gauntlet onto the monster's body with extreme speed, quickly forming a glittering block of ice.

The Judge of Living Beings' Fate was frozen within the ice crystal, just like an insect in amber.

It tried to struggle.

Bam!

Alex threw another punch toward the ice crystal.

"Time to finish this."

As soon as Alex said those words his body became clad in a faint yellow glow.

He used the Earth element to make his punch stronger, more heavier.

He lightly threw a single punch toward the ice crystal.

[Fist Technique— No Pardon]

A fist technique to destroy everything!

Tangible or intangible, illusory or real, all things, all living beings, everything shall shatter in front of this punch and return to Primal Chaos.

BOOOM!

The entire blue ice crystal shattered into glittering bits of ice, slowly scattering into the darkness like fireflies at night.

Within the ice crystal, the Judge of Living Beings' Fate stared intensely forward.

Its gaze was full of confusion but it seemed to have realized that death was approaching.

However, that didn't matter, as the power of Alex's Prohibition had stripped away all of its chance to retaliate.

It scattered with the ice, and returned to Primal Chaos, no longer to be seen ever again.

〔What excellent fist technique.〕 Nyx didn't hide her admiration for Alex's fist technique.

'Hehehe! It's nothing I've got a nice master from whom I learned a lot.' Alex was referring to their training sessions in Nyx's world.

Nyx didn't respond but a jealous Silveria couldn't help but snort.

〔Hmph!〕

'Well, I've created this new skill thanks to my wonderful Silveria after all.' Alex added while trying to hold back his laughter.

Now his business here finished it was the time to go back.

He was not too concerned about Kade's sudden disappearance, he was certain that it was Bahamut's clone doing.

Alex had started to understand the goal of this game, it was not survival but also a way to show him what would come in the incoming final clash. Maybe it was to make Alex despair and join the chaos side. He knew well the enemy had a certain interest in him or maybe in one of the sisters he was in a contract, either way, he wouldn't give their satisfaction, he could learn from this, no matter how small it was, he could learn something Alex thought.

Alex flew through the dark sky.

He was traveling extremely quickly and reached the capital city in just a few dozen breaths' worth of time.

The entire capital city was now surrounded by countless monsters, the capital army had already been completely overwhelmed, left with no choice but to pull their line of defense from in front of the city gates back onto the city walls.

The shouting of the soldiers resounded throughout, but couldn't alter the waning trend of their hopeless battle.

The monsters were clad in flowing lava, the flames from their bodies rising to the sky, plunging the entire city in a shroud of crimson light.

They had begun to lay siege to the city.

Boom!!!

Several parts of the city wall weren't able to stand up to the flame monsters' attack and collapsed.

"Kill them all! We can't let them storm into the city!"

A commanding officer shouted.

The special soldiers holding various professions such as a mage shouted in response, unleashing their most powerful attacks to clash against the monsters.

Unfortunately, the monsters' bodies were created from tough and sharp bones clad inside several protective layers of Elemental Fire, causing both physical and magical attacks to be unable to deal any meaningful damage.

Alex's Divine Sense scanned forward, falling into the room where he was admitted for treatment earlier.

The room was still sealed. On the other side stood Ego with a sword, he was carrying Alex's order by continuously defending, providing assistance with a sword, and slashing. Alex had ordered him to use his brain for this, it was a test to see if he would show his fangs or not, apparently not because he was doing exactly what he was told, defending using this method.

Ego's sword continuously gave off wave after wave of sharp sword aura that shot out from the window to attack the city.

Each wave of sword aura was lightning-fast, sending every monster on its path flying before slicing them into bits in mid-air.

Alex pondered a bit, then quickly understood.

Ego's current identity is a military recruitment officer.

According to the rules, he could not do anything that went against his identity in front of the people of this world.

——he wouldn't be able to explain why an office worker like himself would have such powerful swordsmanship.

That was why his only choice was to hide in the room where no one could see him and use sword qi to kill the monsters.

Alex's figure flashed and directly appeared in the room.

"How's the battle going?" Hiding his admiration Alex asked.

"Not very well. Unless we can thoroughly eliminate these monsters' bodies, their corpses will simply fuse and form more powerful monsters" Alex's clone, his alter ego, Ego replied.

Alex looked out the window.

On the streets just outside, a group of knights had just managed to defeat two monsters with their combined might.

But the corpses of the two monsters swiftly fused, once again forming a 5-meter-tall flame monster.

——this monster was considerably more powerful!

「 All... die... 」

The huge flame monster charged towards the knights.

Swooo!

A sword aura shot through the air and struck the monster, completely erasing it from this world.

The knights cheered, all of them turning towards the direction of the window.

"Which sir acted just now? Please let us see you once!" The knight captain loudly called out.

The room remained silent.

The two Alex exchanged glances.

Alex thought briefly, then walked up to the window and looked at the knights.

"Hurry up and head to the city wall to provide aid."

He casually ordered them.

The knights were all shocked.

At this point, Alex was using his original face to appear in front of the knights.

His previous identity 'Cavalry Alexander' should have already died in battle during the previous assault into the black fog.

This was something that the cavalry knight who managed to escape had confirmed, many people all heard it.

"It certainly is time for you to know my true identity..."

He flew out from the window, his figure flashing as he took flight.

At the next instant——

A gigantic black dragon abruptly manifested!

"It's a dragon!"

"A dragon!"

"He was the dragon from before!"

"Oh my heaven, that is our guardian god!"

The knights loudly cheered.

The black dragon flew high through the sky, his eyes flickering.

He began to descend.

The black dragon then circled the city walls with unimaginable speed.

Like a black stage curtain, he rapidly flew above the flame monsters, spreading the frigid frost wherever it did.

The crimson light in the darkness of the night slowly faded away.

Flock after flock of monsters were frozen in place, turned into glittering ice sculptures.

The world outside the capital city had been turned into a world of silence and snow.

"Dragon!"

"It's the dragon!"

"It had frozen those monsters!"

The special soldiers on top of the city wall all cheered.

At the same time, the black dragon's gaze focused on one place.

The monsters who had stormed the city no longer attempted to spread death and destruction, instead, were converging together and slowly becoming one.

In just a few moments, the molten lava had formed a foundational shape and quickly manifested itself into a crimson dragon.

Chapter 1474: Black Dragon Vs Elemental Giant

In just a few moments, the molten lava had formed a foundational shape and quickly manifested itself into a crimson dragon.

Molten lava dripped from its body to the ground, scorching it.

This dragon took a few steps forward before abruptly taking flight into the night sky.

It was heading straight towards the black dragon.

Roar!!!

The crimson dragon unleashed a cluster of flame even more gigantic than itself.

This scene went above and beyond all stretches of the imagination, becoming a scene of apocalypse that could not be erased from the mind no matter how much time passed.

—this cluster of flame was as big as the capital city itself, and even the black dragon's gigantic form could not help but be consumed by this boundless flame!

Someone couldn't help but exclaim: "Watch out!"

[Shadow Shift]

In the blink of an eye.

Everyone felt their visions turning blurred.

The crimson dragon and black dragon abruptly switched places.

The crimson dragon was struck by its flames and sent spiraling through the sky, falling towards the depths of the black fog.

A few moments later.

From the darkness, its furious roar could be heard.

The flames had burnt through the black fog, revealing the vast field of graveyards in the distance for everyone to see.

Alex once again returned to his human form, watching the vast field with a heavy gaze.

The crimson dragon was now perched on top of the tombstones, coldly staring at Alex.

Around it, monster after monster was piling on top of one another, also taking on draconic form.

They soon filled up every bit of space there was.

—this time, it wasn't just a crimson fire dragon.

The other dragon monsters each carried the elements of frost, poison, lightning, wind...

The city's cheering was cut short, suddenly turning into stunned silence.

There existed an innumerable number of draconic monsters.

Even the dragons of legend had never been so numerous.

Alex stood mid-air, observing the horde of draconic monsters made up of bones and Elemental energy from afar.

'This can be troublesome.' Alex murmured fortunately he had recovered enough and could fight again.

He turned to the vast field.

Numerous dragon-shaped monsters manifested from the elements were taking flight one by one.

They were going to continue their assault on the capital city.

In truth, only two—

No, only one elemental dragon would have been enough to destroy the entire capital city.

With such a huge force of elemental dragons, the capital city would be wiped out in almost no time at all.

Alex transformed into his black dragon form and headed into the wilderness while ignoring the shouts of the soldiers below.

He was extremely fast, much faster than a normal dragon, so he quickly faced the first elemental dragon.

His dragon claw flashed.

Frigid cold air ripped through this dragon clad in poisonous mist.

Thud!

This dragon immediately fell, crashed into the ground, and scattered into green mist, which then attached to the body of another elemental dragon.

That elemental dragon's body instantly grew twice as large.

Alex was surprised.

Frost counters fire, so he can easily dispatch the fire monsters.

But now that the dragons were made up of different elements, it would be tough to thoroughly kill them all at once.

And if he couldn't kill them, they would simply fuse and transform into even more powerful monsters.

While Alex was pondering this, multiple dragons clad in elemental glow had taken flight and surrounded him.

「Die...」

The elemental dragons swiftly declared his death.

But the black dragon vanished from their encirclement.

The elemental dragons were still confused. It was only after a bit that they realized the black dragon had returned to the human city wall.

He once again turned back into human form and stood in mid-air, muttering:

"No good, they aren't easy to kill, and they'd grow stronger after fusing with one another."

He quickly considered his means.

During this time, the elemental dragons were approaching the capital city closer and closer.

The crimson flame dragon was in the lead, spitting two balls of fire towards Alex.

He swung his fist without hesitation.

Alex's Fist Technique, [Frost Freeze]!

Bang!

The first ball of fire completely vanished from the sky.

The intense frost aura's residual power continued shooting toward the other dragons in the sky.

Because of Alex's connection with the ancestor of the dragons, the original dragon, Ignia he was naturally much stronger compared to a normal dragon.

This strike caused the crimson dragon to become cautious.

At this point, the second ball of fire had reached Alex——

Swoosh!

Ego appeared.

A sword flashed.

Ego wielded the Glacier's sword and cut the fire into nothingness.

"He cannot use his sword right now, but I can." Ego muttered.

The crimson dragon watched Ego, then the white sword in his hand, and whispered: 「A sword that can cut Laws, so you still had such a trump card.」

It suddenly stopped flying and began reciting something in the air.

「Chaos, become one with me, grant me the power that far surpasses this world!」

Oong—— oong—— oong——

From the end of the horizon, something was responding to its call.

Behind it, the other elemental dragons once again turned back into pure elemental power and began circling it.

They were absorbed into the flame dragon's body one by one.

Oom!!

The flame dragon landed on the ground, its body slowly beginning to change.

Metal – Wood – Water – Fire – Earth, Wind – Lightning – Light – Darkness –, and even Poison, all sorts of elements gathered into its body at once.

Its form grew.

"What is that?"

"My god..."

"Even a dragon couldn't be a match against such a monster"

"Oh no, the world is over"

The soldiers protecting the city fell into despair.

It wasn't just them, Alex himself felt his eyebrows twitching.

"Is this really just an illusion?"

He whispered.

On the empty field several hundred meters away from the city, a giant slowly stood up.

The glow of elements drifted around its body, forming intense wind around itself.

Wherever the wind blew past, everything was destroyed without exception.

The earth dried up, and all things withered and died.

This was the power of an elemental tidal surge!

Simply by standing there, the giant was causing its surroundings to violently become desolate.

「Destruction is the fate of this world like any other world Chaos set its sight on.」

The elemental giant stared at Alex in the sky and spoke in its low voice: 「Even if you have surpassed the power of a normal dragon, you are still but a servant of fate! 」

「Come, surrender yourself to the fate of death 」

It started walking towards the capital city.

Alex's mind quickly turned, going over every fighting technique he had ever learned.

Nothing.

But he can't stop now.

Left with no choice Alex attacked with another Frost Fist.

The elemental giant paused for less than a split second before continuing to head towards Alex.

「 Did you really think that pitiful attack will work on me? 」

The elemental giant smirked, scoffing: 「 I am the embodiment of the Chaos, my will is to cause the eternal end of all things, other than that, I do not have any thoughts. 」

Crash!

The firm city walls were like soft butter, easily squashed underneath its feet.

It reached its hand to catch Alex.

"Right at this moment!" He shouted.

Alex's restriction to force the elemental giant to freeze.

Then he unleashed his following attack.

A barrage of fists.

Hundreds of thousands of punches descended unceasingly onto and around the elemental giant, causing a sound almost like that of the pouring rain in a storm.

The elemental giant could not move, being trapped inside the barrage of fists.

Amidst of this Alex secretly summoned the black gun and unleashed its ultimate bullet.

Chapter 1475: Vs the Magical Scale Dragon 1

The soldiers protecting the city fell into despair.

It wasn't just them, Alex himself felt his eyebrows twitching.

The elemental giant smirked, scoffing: 「I am the embodiment of the Chaos, my will is to cause the eternal end of all things, other than that, I do not have any thoughts.」

Crash!

The firm city walls were like soft butter, easily squashed underneath its feet.

It reached its hand to catch Alex.

"Right at this moment!" He shouted.

Alex's restriction to force the elemental giant to freeze.

Then he unleashed his following attack.

A barrage of fists.

Hundreds of thousands of punches descended unceasingly onto and around the elemental giant, causing a sound almost like that of the pouring rain in a storm.

The elemental giant could not move, being trapped inside the barrage of fists.

Amidst of this Alex secretly summoned the black gun and unleashed its ultimate bullet.

[The End!]

Bang!

Alex killed the elemental giant with the black gun.

"Phew! That was tough."

Alex didn't have the time to relax before getting sent to the next battlefield.

The war between the two great powers in this city had entered a climax.

Above the clouds, two dragons were uttering blood-curdling roars during their blood-thirsty bout, rousing nothing but fright in everyone's minds.

The Magic Scale Dragon's scales were as tough as metal, so it used that to its advantage and brutally pushed the black dragon out of the battlefield using sheer force.

Turning a bit in mid-air, the black dragon regained his balance.

"You have to be careful, its attacks were clearly systematic."

Ego loudly called out.

When Alex transformed into the black dragon, he had taken that chance to leap onto Alex's shoulder and flew with him into the sky.

Alex replied: [I haven't been a dragon for too long, so I'm not very used to hand-to-hand combat yet.]

Ego reminded: "You can try infusing your techniques into close combat, it should work the same way!"

「 Got it 」

Alex uttered a resounding dragon roar and charged into the battlefield again.

The two dragons once again clashed against one another, exchanging blow for blow.

After a few moments, the Magic Scale Dragon swung its tail onto the black dragon's chest, sending him flying.

「 Idiot with nothing but strength 」 the Magic Scale Dragon mocked.

The black dragon stopped its backward flight, then abruptly disappeared.

He suddenly reappeared above the Magic Scale Dragon, unleashing a blast of black and green dragon flame.

「 I've been waiting for this! 」

The Magic Scale Dragon lightly tilted its head up and unleashed a blast of pale yellow flames.

The two bursts of flames crashed against one another and scattered all around. From a distance, it looked like a sea of flames that would envelop heaven and earth.

However, the Magic Scale Dragon made a mistake.

The black dragon had the power of three dragons, so the flames he unleashed were significantly more powerful compared to regular dragons.

The Magic Scale Dragon was enveloped by the intense sea of flames.

「 Useless—— 」

The Magic Scale Dragon endured the blast in the middle of the flames, the scales on its entire body clattering in metallic noises.

It roared: 「 My body is clad in magic scales, I'm not afraid of elemental damage! 」

Saying so, it charged out of the flames towards the black dragon once again.

Bam!!

A resounding echo.

The two dragons caused an intense shockwave with their clash.

Taking its opportunity, the Magic Scale Dragon bit the black dragon's neck and ripped out a large chunk of flesh.

「 Idiot, you're full of openings—- 」

The Magic Scale Dragon spat the flesh out, mocking him.

The black dragon suddenly reached his claws out to restrain the other party's head and shouted: 「 Hurry! 」

Hurry?

While the Magic Scale Dragon was still in doubt, it suddenly felt an intense wave of pain.

Inside its giant mouth, Ego had drawn his thin sword and pointed it down the creature's throat!

The opening just now was something Alex purposely created to allow Ego to enter the Magic Scale Dragon's mouth, avoiding all of its magic scales.

No matter how tough its scales were, they couldn't protect it from the inside of its mouth.

Air flowed intensely around Ego's body like a brewing storm——

"Been a while since I had to go all-out"

Ego declared, then raised his sword and thrust forward with all his strength!

Boom!

An intense explosion resounded from inside the dragon's mouth!

Many of the scales on the dragon's head broke off from the explosion and fell together with the dragon's blood.

The Magic Scale Dragon pushed the black dragon away, uttering a resounding howl that echoed across the sky.

Seizing that chance, Ego retreated to the black dragon.

"That felt good, what's next?"

He loudly asked.

The black dragon replied: "It's probably going to go berserk, so I'm going to use an infallible power to deal with it, just make sure to protect yourself"

Ego answered with a stern expression: "Got it"

At the very next second.

The Magic Scale Dragon uttered a furious roar:

「 You devious bastard, you think this is enough to get rid of me? I'm definitely going to kill you! 」

Immense killing intent could be felt from its body.

Layers upon layers of flames began to gather around its body.

Magical fluctuations could be felt clearly in the air.

The black dragon's expression became cautious as he silently took distance and readied himself in mid-air, preparing to face the oncoming assault.

The Magic Scale Dragon stared straight at him, then began shouting:

「 You're a strange dragon, what exactly are you? Not only do you spit flames with black, red, and green colors, but you also found a human to help you in combat, I can't even say I scorn you, because I hold you in nothing less than absolute contempt— 」

The black dragon's expression instantly changed.

A mass of white fog several hundred meters in length suddenly appeared to envelop the black dragon and disappeared.

The Magic Scale Dragon froze.

「 Strange... why did he suddenly run when I've just begun? 」 the Magic Scale Dragon muttered.

...

Several hundred miles away.

A certain village.

A sudden wave of white fog descended from above.

The black dragon had turned back into Alex as both he and Ego walked out from the fog.

"Why did we suddenly run?" Ego asked in confusion.

"I was unleashing an infallible power, but I didn't think it would also unleash its Draconic magic" Alex replied.

Alex silently sighed, then couldn't help but want to curse.

These dragons, every last one of them—

Scoundrels!

It's fortunate that I was prepared for it.

"Strange, my ability to sense my surroundings seemed to have been obscured by something." Ego commented.

Because he was Alex's alter ego he could use some of his ability, Divine Sense for example.

Alex then explained the Draconic magic.

Ego was naturally shocked, unable to help herself cursing:

"What a bunch of scoundrels, I've always heard that dragons are a shady bunch, but I didn't think that their magic would also be this way"

"No"

Alex shook his head.

He took out a bow and slowly knocked an arrow onto it. He could use the bow without problem. He had trained in archery before and with one of his sins being a bow he seemed to be more accustomed to the bow even before unlocking that sin.

He didn't unlock another sin.

"That strike of yours was very opportune, breaking several of the scales on its head—-" Alex commented.

Ego asked in disbelief: "There's at least a distance of 30-50 thousand miles from Weitz city to this place, you're saying you want to use your arrows to hit the wounds on its head?"

Alex replied: "Hm, after all, I've already sensed the presence of its blood—-"

A profound fluctuation radiated from his body.

The bowstring was slowly pulled back until it was at full draw.

A short pause.

Suddenly, the bowstring snapped back into a series of overlapping images, causing a resounding sonic boom.

The arrow disappeared.
