

Death Guns 571

Chapter 571 - 549: Friendly Spar 2, A Lesson Learned

Kuina, who had watched the match from the spectator seat, couldn't help but clap her hand in approval.

Clap! Clap!

In this fight, instead of going with high-level skills, Maria chose the most basic fighting method to deal with her enemy; although simple, it was an effective method where you don't need to waste too much of energy.

Even Shadow hiding somewhere couldn't help but praise Maria's wits. Although a little bit disappointed not to see some intense combat filled with the display of high-level skills, what Maria did was praiseworthy. Sometimes using your head was good than flashily using skills that yield no result. For Maria to win the fight in this way showed that she must not be underestimated; although she had several means to win this fight, she carefully chose the effective one, which let her not waste too much energy.

'This girl would make a good leader.' The shadow, though, Maria's quick analytics ability and her judgment on what to do in this situation are qualities needed to be a leader.

Kuina walked past the dejected Eri and went and stood before Maria; since the beginning, a smile never left her face; Maria's quick victory seemed not to affect the fox girl whose confidence seemed not to have received the slightest dent, she seemed proud like never.

Maria showed no reaction as she was well aware that the same technique would not work against this girl; she wouldn't want the fight to end so quickly, nor that she would accept some boring fight. It could be said that if the first fight, the one with Eri, were a simple one, an introduction, this fight would be a climax, an intense fight. The two had never fought before; even back on Mysthia, they had gotten the opportunity to fight against each other, this would be their first time, so naturally, it was bound to be an intense fight.

"Hmph!" Eri snorted as she walked past Kuina; the fact that she lost so easily didn't sit well with her coupled with her natural dislike of this fox girl, seeing her act so haughtily left a bad aftertaste inside the proud redhead.

'What is the big deal? Except for being a little bit beautiful and big breasted, you're nothing.' She tried to console herself but failed miserably. To show her superiority, Eri decided to appraise the fox girl to show that she had surpassed her. However, the result of her appraisal left her dumbfounded.

"What the hell?" Eri exclaimed aloud, forgetting that she was secretly appraising Kuina; this couldn't be blamed on her either as what happened was incomprehensible; somehow, when Eri appraised the fox girl, all she saw was Maria's status, except for the ridiculous titles which were added to Maria's original titles everything else was the same.

While it was an undeniable truth that Eri was the impulsive type, she was no fool; it didn't take her a lot of time to figure out that Kuina had a unique type of magic, as they liked to call it where she came from. If magic isn't part of the original system (Wind, Water, Fire, Earth, Wood, Lightning), it is immediately called a unique type of magic; for example, someone specialized in Space magic should be called someone with unique magic, while Alex's status often shows that he didn't have any element this was clearly a misinterpretation as he clearly uses an element with his ability, his time-related skills are part of the Time element; therefore, Alex could be considered as a unique magic-user. However, the person himself wasn't aware of this fact; Mysthia's system was flawed. It's why he didn't know; if he were in Eri's world, this misunderstanding would have been corrected. The Ice element is also unique magic.

Back to Kuina's topic, because she possessed the illusion magic, unique magic to the fox, she was a unique magic-user; she must have probably used an illusion to make Eri see the previous status she had seen while not forgetting to add a few tricks to spice things up a bit.

"You, you!" Eri, stuttering pointed her trembling finger at Kuina; it was her first getting played like this, so she didn't know how to react; a girl she had previously underestimated was proven to be strong and dangerous; she was so strong that she could easily play with her who was called a genius and was proud of herself. This was a huge blow to Eri; at the same time, it served as a lesson, a reminder she would forever remember, which was never to underestimate someone, even the pebble on the roadside could end up being a dragon capable of killing you because you have underestimated it.

Looking at the smiling Kuina who had succeeded in playing a prank on Eri, Maria frowned. However, she didn't use her appraisal skill on Kuina to know what Eri had seen; Maria was sure that whatever the redhead had seen if she were to see as well, there was a risk of her getting angry, also because the two didn't possess the same intelligence meaning Maria's intelligence stat was superior to Eri, they wouldn't be able to see the same thing.

It was unknown why Maria's cold blood began boiling, but there was a rage hidden in her as she announced.

"Let's begin, Fox girl." She seemed impatient, which was unlike the cool headed Maria.

Toward Maria's obvious provocation, Kuina chuckled and immediately responded by shooting forward; the two clashed mid-air.. This marked the first two strong girls clashing.

Chapter 572 - 550: Friendly Spar 3

Maria and Kuina faced each other with absolute silence between them; neither of them made the first move as though seizing up the other.

Although neither of the two had moved, silently standing there, their auras had clashed several times, and the result was a draw.

Finally, as if they had come to a taciturn understanding, both shot forward at the same time.

In an instant, they arrived before each other and neither used weapon nor made use of an element; they clashed using pure physical.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

These exchanges ended up without a clear winner as both took their distance and observed each other again, then they burst into laughter.

"You are not bad," Maria commented after stopping laughing.

"That's my line. For humans, you have a strong physical, unlike beastmen who naturally has this advantage since birth; for a human girl like you to have a physical that rivalise with mine, you should be proud of it."

Upon hearing Kuina's words, Maria had a bitter taste in her mouth as she mumbled.

"Proud, huh!"

Only she knows what she endured to possess this physical strength; However, her strong physical strength didn't show on her status window; she knew that compared to others, she trained like a madman, endured the cruelest environment to raise her physical strength not only to fight without weapon but also to have a strong body capable of enduring that ability, the most vital ability she possessed. Freya had strictly forbidden her from using it unless it was necessary; that power was a double-edged sword, used unwisely might bring harm to the body.

Maria shook her head to discard those distracting thoughts, she didn't believe that she would need to use that power in the current fight. With an inviting gesture, she beckoned Kuina to come at her, and it was what she did.

As Kuina took a step forward, flame billowed from under her feet to quickly reach her upper body before transforming into a flame spear which she used to attack Maria.

Eri's eyes widened, not only because she was surprised that Kuina was also a fire user but also because her control over the Fire element wasn't less than her. It was slightly better, which surprised Eri hailed as an exceptional genius. However, here is another person more capable than her; although jealous Eri wasn't such a narrow-minded person she was aware of saying that there's always someone bigger than you out there. If she were to encounter Gracier, she would be gobsmacked, not knowing what to say when it comes to controlling the fire element; none was exceptional as Alex's brother; it was as if she was born to control that element especially.

Kuina used the flame spear to attack Maria; the attack was simple yet extremely fast.

"Let's get serious."

Maria murmured, and her outstretched hand clenched to form a fist emitting a frosty aura. She sent her fist forward, which clashed against the flame spear.

Boom!

An explosion occurred that swallowed Maria's body, but she paid no heed to it as she stepped forward. Kuina immediately understood what Maria was after, she tried to pull back what was left of the flame spear, but Maria moved faster. Her slightly red fist collided into the fox girl's chest.

Bang

Maria frowned upon hitting Kuina's body, the feeling she had expected wasn't there, and to confirm this the next moment, Kuina's who was hit in the stomach, had her upper body explode into a flame that scattered; Maria quickly moved her body out of the way not to get caught in the explosion that was about to follow.

Boom! Boom!

"An illusion," Maria murmured dejectedly; she had made everything possible not to fall under Kuina's illusion but still failed. She couldn't help but mumble.

"I still have a long way to go."

"Don't be hard on yourself. Although you tried not to fall under my illusion, everyone has a moment of weakness; nobody is an exception; you have to find that moment, the eyes believe what it wants to believe. Before striking your opponent, the feeling of accomplishment you had because you were sure to strike can make you momentarily let your guard down; I just used that moment, that's all."

Like a teacher lecturing her student, Kuina lectured Maria after hearing her murmur.

Maria chuckled and immediately sent a kick behind her as she believed that Kuina was there; however, this kick never connected as she hit empty air; closing her eyes for a moment, she reopened them again, and it was as if she had become a completely different person.

In her outstretched hands, two crystal daggers appeared, and the moment they appeared, the atmosphere changed.

Even Eri and the shadow outside could feel it, as if she had grown a new pair of spiritual eyes capable of discerning what was real from what wasn't, Maria shouted.

"There."

As if she had located the real location of Kuina, Maria shot forward.

Meanwhile, the real Kuina hiding somewhere chuckled when she saw Maria moving her clone; she was about to say I've got when she felt an intense chill assaulting her spine.

Maria, who appeared before her clone, her illusion believing it was her, abruptly looked in a certain direction. This direction happened to be the same direction where the real Kuina was hiding.

The chill Kuina felt intensified, especially after seeing Maria's lips curving to form a malicious before her blue eyes flashed in an ominous light.

Kuina immediately switched places with her illusion; she didn't choose.

The moment she switched place with her illusion, Kuina witnessed something that made her spine chill. The fake Kuina made from illusion looked at Maria, more precisely, at her eyes, and she was instantly reduced into an ice sculpture. If it were the real Kuina, she wouldn't have fallen so easily, but she would have paid a heavy price to get out escape Maria glaciates ability, something she couldn't bother doing this early in their fight as it would seal her defeat for sure.

"Got you!"

Chapter 573 - 551: Eri's Provocation

"Got you."

Maria's words reached Kuina's ears, and before she got the opportunity to move, she had already appeared before her. Her right hand moved forward as if trying to catch Kuina's face, the latter who believed that she was done for immediately saw hope, she mustered all her strength to move her head to the side, considering how fast Maria's attack was, being able to do this could be considered as an achievement.

However, before Kuina could relish her victory, she saw the vicious smile on Maria's face deepen, she immediately got a bad feeling, and Maria's following action confirmed this feeling.

"Ice arrow!"

From the other Maria's free hand, a small ice arrow burst out and crashed against Kuina's stomach at point-blank range; everything happened too fast, normally she shouldn't have been able to react at all; however, she wouldn't have been hailed as the most exceptional fox since the creation of Foxia if she failed to react, so with an exceptional will Kuina reacted, she twisted her body to an impossible angle dodging the unavoidable ice arrow while at the same time, her five tails transformed into spear which pierced the ground and using this as leverage she did a backflip to escape Maria next attack.

All of this happened in the time used to blink. Even Eri outside couldn't believe what she was seeing while Shadow starting to see what her long time friend, the mayor, meant by saying to not judge the book by its cover, just with what those had shown until now was enough to class them as an exceptional fighter with plenty of experience and knowing how to use their strength.

Being powerful and knowing how to use one strength perfectly are different things; some are powerful without knowing to use their strength fully. However, when she stared at those two, she saw none of them; they knew how to make use of their power. Shadow and Eri focused on the fight before them.

"To be honest, if I want to overpower you, it would be difficult even for me," Maria acknowledged with a pleasant smile. "As for winning against like I've done with Eri, that would be next to impossible given your strength and the perfect control you have over your strength."

Kuina, who had escaped out of Maria's attacking range, didn't know why, but Maria's acknowledgment made her feel as if this was some ominous premonition.

While trying to make sense of this, she swiftly raised her hands to protect her chest as Maria's next attack was about to reach her. This attack was in the form of a fist but not your usual one; there was an ice spike protruding from her clenched fist as it was about to strike her.

But then Maria surprised the Fox girl by stopping the attack just a hairsbreadth away.

Then her lips curved up, and she said, "But luckily for me, I neither have to overpower you nor win in one shot. I only have to stop you for a second...."

As these words entered Kuina's ears, she felt an intense sense of crisis. This crisis reached its peak when it heard the concluding phrase.

"Glaciate."

Swoosh~!

Suddenly, the surrounding turned pin-drop silent and turned blinding dark. Every source of light lost its function.

A sense of helplessness gripped Kuina's heart as she fell under Maria's eyes power. She momentarily lost her body function, and during a fight, this could be fatal.

Maria flashed next to the frozen Kuina and caught her face lowered it before her knee crashed into the fox girl's stomach, making the latter momentarily breathless.

Then Kuina was thrown into the sky; Maria didn't follow, she unleashed an attack from the ground, it was in the form of ice arrows, ten ice arrows shot toward the flying Kuina's back.

Even Eri didn't like Kuina felt bad for her; she wished for the fox girl to do something as she didn't want Maria, her rival, to win this fight.

To respond to her wish, the five tails behind Kuina moved together and struck empty air; however, this normal strike produced a terrible sound.

Boom!

As if they had struck something, the five tails propelled Kuina high into the sky. She immediately controlled her body midair and looked down on Maria from the sky.

She flicked her fingers, her five tails moved, and from their tips, five fireballs of the size of volleyball were shot toward the ground; they entwined like a ray to arrive before Maria, who was planning for her neck attack, she immediately switched to a defensive posture, her two daggers appeared. She moved them, and they crisscrossed in the air to form an impenetrable ice wall.

Boom!

An explosion occurred when Maria succeeded in blocking those fireballs; however, she was unbothered by this; Maria's feet didn't budge even a millimeter.

However, the same couldn't be said for Kuina, who had succeeded in regaining perfect control over her body; she appeared thirty meters from Maria, who had finally regained her freedom, she clicked her tongue, she would have appreciated ending the fight as things continued as they were, however, one doesn't get exactly what one desires all the time, sometimes you win. At the same time, sometimes you lose; this is what life is.

Silence fell on the battlefield. Outside, Eri gulped; it was not an intense fight, but it was not a boring fight either; compared to her fight, this one was more interesting; even she could tell this, her blood began boiling in anticipation of what was about to come. If possible, Eri wished to push them to fight with all they got, like this, she would know how strong they are, especially the fox girl who gives you the feeling that she only knows how to play; however, this was only to fool you, deep down she is dangerous and crafty.

'Well, back in my hometown, Fox is known for being playful and crafty mm like the fairy, no more than them. Hehehehe! Let's provoke them a bit.' Eri thought and moved to accomplish her goal.

"Stop playing around and fight for real."

Chapter 574 - 552: Kuina's Gift

"Stop playing and fight for real." Eri had shouted.

Upon hearing Eri's words, both Maria and Kuina exchanged glances before chuckling.

Suddenly, Kuina declared.

"It can be considered my win as I have forced you to use your Gift while I haven't used mine."

This declaration hit Maria hard, now that she thought about since the beginning she hadn't seen Kuina using her Gift, she was curious about what kind of gift the fox girl has. Even Shadow and Eri became curious; they wondered what kind of gift this crazy girl has, without being almost evenly matched to Maria, so what would happen if she were to unleash her Gift? Would this means she would be stronger than Maria? Not necessarily, but it was worth seeing ii; with eyes full of anticipation, they're waiting for Kuina to show her Gift.

Maria became vigilant upon seeing that Kuina was about to unleash her Gift; however, she frowned when the latter immediately shot toward her instead of summoning her Gift as she had said she would; the fox girl had a crafty smile on her face.

Bang!

Their fists collided midair; Maria was pissed she swept her right leg like a whip, intending to crush Kuina's chest, the latter immediately bent her body backward to dodge the strike, pivoting her arms which were against the ground she moved her legs wanting to strike Maria in turn; however, she easily steps to the side to dodge Kuina kick; however, she had forgotten about her tails, they moved at the same time, even though Maria possessed exceptional senses when it came to battle she was not omnipotent, she was bound to make a mistake, and this happened, one of the tails hiding behind the other struck her in the neck, thankfully at the last moment a frost escaping from her neck cushioned the blow, reducing its strength; however, Maria was still sent flying in the air, she twisted her body to land on the ground by forgetting about the intense pain wanting to make her scream, her neck where that tail stuck became red with it was a bit hot as if a burning iron pot had stuck her.

"Not bad," Kuina complimented; she had thought that she was the only one that succeeded in landing a blow on her this time but would have thought that even when she was sent flying, Maria still had the opportunity to throw an attack at her, it was a small ice arrow that reached her stomach before she could react, Kuina was truly impressed by Maria when it comes to fighting.

Kuina took a deep breath and unsealed her power; Maria's face turned grave, while Eri could feel the surrounding temperature increasing, she gulped and instinctively used her appraisal skill, this time, she was able to see some of Kuina's status, her eyes widened upon seeing them.

Eri's mouth twitched upon seeing what was written where the titles were.

'You never stop playing, do you?' Eri thought to herself but did not voice it out.

Meanwhile, the fight between Maria and Kuina was about to reach its climax.

"Fire Domain!" Kuina declared, and immediately, their surrounding was transformed into a flame world.

Inside the fire domain, even Eri outside immediately tried to protect herself from the sweltering environment, Kuina took action.

A movement of her eyes made the domain spit hundreds of fireballs, like a meteor shower that shot toward Maria at extreme speed.

However, the Ice Empress wasn't called empress for anything, she immediately joined her hands together, and the moment she opened them, an ice domain was unleashed, where many big ice arrows forming a giant ice wall collided against Kuina's meteor shower.

Kaboom!

The surroundings trembled as the two attacks clashed, sending shockwaves to the surrounding. Eri immediately escaped not to get caught in by the shockwaves.

During this time, Kuina moved; every time she stepped forward, there were jingling sounds like when bells resonated. Every time this happened, the temperature increased, becoming hotter and hotter, the ground began melting.

Maria's gaze wasn't focused on the increasing temperature but Kuina herself; there was a golden bell around her left wrist, same with her right arm; another one wrapped around her neck, then her feet, a total of five golden bells. Every time she walked forward, they would produce a sound; not only did this sound seem capable of increasing the surrounding temperature giving Kuina perfect control over the Fire element, but these sounds also had another feature to confuse one's mind.

Because of her strong mental strength, Maria had suffered yet from the effect of those bells; for the first time, Maria decided to use her appraisal skill, and when she did, she frowned upon seeing the name of Kuina's Gift, she immediately got a bad feeling.

It happened at that moment; Kuina mumbled something under her breath, and immediately, five other bells appeared and wrapped around her tails, making the number of existing bells reach ten.

Buzz!

There was a buzzing sound; Maria's mind buzzed. She lost focus, strong as she might be, there was a limit to how much she could endure, Kuina who summoned ten bells, seemed to have reached her limit as her face became pale, her body seemed to be cracking from inside; she must quickly end this fight, or else she would be the one to lose once she reached her limit, she was not so conceited to believe that she had the upper hand, one should strike when you get the opportunity as there is some opportunity that never comes twice.

[Fox Fire]

Kuina declared, and immediately radius hundred meters became fire domain, a golden flame, so pure billowed, the ground melted in an instant, the trees surrounding them even though they were at some distance burst into flame and disappeared, Eri immediately summoned her fire to protect herself while jumping backward several times, even Shadow frowned, she immediately put some distance between her and the battlefield.

Kuina disappeared and reappeared before the absentminded Maria; her tails caught the ice empress and sent her flying into the sky before striking the ground to propel Kuina into the sky; her knee crashed into Maria's stomach, her mouth opened, and blood flowed out. As if she had teleported, Kuina appeared behind Maria and slammed her toward the ground.

Bam! Boom!

Golden flames gathered under Kuina's command, ready to strike Maria, when suddenly she froze. She had a bad feeling. Or maybe that should be called conviction. She felt a chill as if the hair on her back stood on end; immediately, Kuina tried to distance herself, but it was already too late.

Maria, who was lying on the ground after getting pummeled from the sky, immediately rose, her black hair turned instantly white, and a voice which didn't belong to her flowed out her mouth.

"Absolute Zero!"

Immediately, a radius of two hundred meters and even Kuina in the sky were transformed into ice. Silence permeated the surrounding; a cruel smile appeared on the white-haired Maria's face as she stared in a certain direction; a rat was trying to escape; she must get rid of her before taking care of the two she had frozen.. Having decided what to do, the white-haired Maria moved.

Chapter 575 - 553: An Unknown Fear

Maria, who seemed to have been possessed by something, immediately froze her surrounding, freezing both Kuina and Eri in the process; then she looked in a certain direction; someone was hiding.

The white-haired Maria chuckled; everything time she breathed, the surrounding temperature would decrease, becoming colder and colder; it had become an ice hell already.

Meanwhile, Shadow, who jumped back when she felt the change happening around, had her palms dripping with cold sweat, and her back started to ache. Shadow got chills and goosebumps from every nook and cranny in her body.

The thing before her slowly raised her head; there was a smile on her face that increased Shadow's goosebumps to a dreadful level. Then the white-haired girl lifted her right arm. Shadow slowly observed this simplistic movement. She, who has faced many enemies, facing many death and life situations, was feeling an inexplicable fear that surpassed everything she had ever felt until now.

'What the hell is this thing?' This question immediately popped into her mind; she didn't have the time to ponder about it before another question appeared.

'Why did such a fearsome thing appear here?'

Before she could further dwell on these questions, the white-haired Maria moved, no her hand moved so ever slowly that you would have mistaken it as if she was guiding an orchestra, however, this simple movement became Shadow nightmare, she saw this hand move so slowly that it felt close to eternity, facing this hand she couldn't muster any strength.

During that time, Shadow had envisioned something even she had never envisioned before. Her death, she saw herself dying dozens, hundreds, not thousands of times over in this brief moment.

Shadow's mind seemed to be about to collapse because she was too focused on the white-haired Maria's hand. She had overlooked her eyes; her icy blue eyes shone accompanied by the movement of her hand; it was this combination that did deadly damage to Shadow.

The white-haired Maria let a chuckle escape out of her white lips before she disappeared, and in the next moment, she was already before the frozen Shadow, then she put on her finger emitting bone-chilling cold against.

"I need you to forget something." A cold voice escaped from the white-haired Maria's mouth while Shadow's body suddenly shook as if something was wreaking havoc inside her body; it didn't last long before Shadow was sent flying far away, disappearing from the white haired Maria sight.

Crack!

Suddenly, many cracks appeared all over the white-haired Maria's body from which blood flowed out; simultaneously; her white hair began to regain its original color.

Seeing what was happening to this body, the white-haired Maria chuckled; she looked at the frozen Kuina and Eri; although they are frozen, something within them seemed to be in the process of awakening, even if it was forcibly. It is only natural, facing an uncommon enemy; when you have your back against the wall, your ultimate defensive mechanic would be activated. It was what was happening to those two right now, something within them was about to awaken, and the white-haired Maria couldn't let that happen not yet.

Flick!

She flicked her fingers, and the ice world receded like a joke, and both Eri and Kuina found themselves free; however, because the cold had put them into a stasis side, they couldn't regain their consciousness yet.

By now, the white-haired Maria hair had gotten almost black; the fearsome aura she was emitting was disappearing as well.

"Fuh! Hah! I hope that boy this foolish host couldn't be honest with is doing fine?" The white-haired Maria spat out while looking in a particular direction; strangely, this direction happened to be where Alex and Sakuya are. Then with a plop sound, Maria fell to the ground, losing consciousness; her almost broken body began to regenerate as the previous cold energy used to freeze the surrounding appeared in the form of a white crystal which began to float above Maria's body.

The faster this white crystal spin, the more cold energy was sent into Maria's body, repairing and strengthening her broken body; after what seemed to be an eternity, this white crystal, who had diminished from its initial volleyball size to tennis ball size, suddenly disappeared; however, Maria whose completion had gotten better showed no sign of waking up neither the other two.

Meanwhile, in another location, someone dressed in black was gasping for breath.

"Hu! Hu!!"

This person was none other than Shadow; when she came to her senses, she found herself on the ground sprawled as she had just woken up on an abandoned island.

Shadow's face behind the mask was contorted with confusion. What happened? She couldn't recall a thing, the only that came back was that she went out to watch some players whom the mayor had set his eyes on the fight, but to this point, nothing else appeared again.

Suddenly, a memory came rushing, making Shadow feel intense pain; she clutched her head until the pain faded away, and from this memory, she gained information. The result of the exchange between the three, the final winner was the Ice beauty, but she had suffered an injury.

Although Shadow found this sudden memory a bit unreliable, she didn't have the choice, so she cleared away her confusion, as the reason she was lying on the ground she didn't pay too much mind to this as she was known as someone eccentric, sometimes she did things even herself doesn't understand the reason behind this behavior she had.

"Let's head back and proceed with the plan," Shadow mumbled to herself as she stood up and departed; having been with the mayor for many years even before he got married, Shadow knew him better than anybody, and she was aware of what he had planned especially after seeing those three girl's strength.

However, the sudden thought of the plan made Shadow feel sudden anxiety, an unknown fear coming from the depth of her soul; however, Shadow discarded this feeling as feeling tired; she believed that everything would be fine. Everything is for the greater cause.

Chapter 576 - 554: Sometime It's Better To Relax

Back to Alkan's City, Alex's starter village.

After successfully killing Jason and eliminating the remnants of the dark guilds, Alex decided to take a pause. Because he was busy since his arrival in this city, which had nothing with a village, Alex didn't enjoy what the city had to offer; no, he didn't get the opportunity to enjoy Exodus yet.

Alkan, although not comparable to a big city, its size wasn't small either. This city was a mix of modern and fantasy worlds. As he had passed through the whole city when trying to get rid of the dark guilds, Alex had a pretty good idea of what the city had to offer, the most attractive spots, among them was something Alex had not thought he could have encountered here, Alkan possessed an amusement park, as ridiculous this might sound it was true. At first, he found it ridiculous, but after a bit of thinking, Alex understood, it wasn't only earthlings that know how to think or create things; what have been created on Earth could be created elsewhere as everywhere you go, no matter what world, humans or any other species can imagine, and with imagination, one can do a lot of things.

That time because he was on the run, Alex found it unnecessary as going alone in an amusement park would be boring; however, now that he had someone with him, it would be enjoyable to go with her, this could be considered as going on a date, for two people going out, sometimes this kind of activity could bring you two together as through it you could nurture your feeling for each other. Sometimes in love, the simplest things are the most effective, so Alex believes.

While being lost in thoughts, Alex heard a rustling sound which brought him back; he immediately spun around to face the direction from which the sound was coming, and soon the one responsible for this sound came out, immediately Alex had his breath taken away.

Sakuya wearing a long dress was too beautiful.

Her long black hair matched perfectly with the long white dress.

Even though the dress was very white, her skin remained as white as snow. It was unknown how or he hadn't paid enough attention to it; either way, it was beautiful skin, Alex thought.

The long white dress complemented Sakuya's exquisite figure.

Her neck was slender. Her waist was narrow and curved. Her skin was tender and white.

She looked like a fairy in a painting.

Suddenly, Sakuya blushed a little while blinking her extremely agile eyes, which has killed many people's hearts.

Alex immediately rolled his eyes at her as she knew that she did that intentionally; those fools who weren't aware of her true self would have taken her as your fragile village girl needing protecting if weren't because of the cold air Alex radiated, a lot of annoying flies would be coming bothering them.

Thinking about what would have happened if they did this, Alex's lips curved up to form a grin; he quickly killed it and focused his attention on the main character of today even.

"You look gorgeous in this dress, you should often wear a dress like these." Alex honestly said this, and Sakuya could see his honesty and, at the same time, his wish. He didn't want to impose himself saying you must wear this type of dress because I like it but instead said it in the form of suggestion; Sakuya could have chosen to ignore it but decided not to as she felt an inexplicable sweetness growing within her heart, this made her wonder if Luna does regularly feel this? If it's true, no wonder, she was like a maiden in love every time she was with Alex. It was an addictive feeling, she wanted it, yet she was scared at the same time.

Shaking her head, Sakuya replied.

"Thank you, I will wear them from now on but just for you." She ended her words with a beautiful smile coming from the heart.

As if numerous invisible arrows appeared the moment she smiled, they struck men and women hearts alike.

"She is an angel."

It was unknown who among the customers shouted this, but when it reached Alex's ears, he almost exploded with laughter.

Before this could get more annoying, Alex and Sakuya decided to leave the store.

After asking someone to pack the clothes they bought, Alex stored them inside his item box. Sakuya was still dressed in a white dress when the two left the clothes store.

Seeing how attractive Sakuya, next to him was, those jealous started whispering.

"It's good to see such handsome men and beauties. But that handsome man is probably a womanizer; he must have won her over with his looks."

"You are right."

Alex, who heard those words, couldn't help but chuckle; he was not offended; if he got offended by such remark, he would have long since beaten everyone that talked ill of him.

Looking at Alex, who didn't lose his cool, Sakuya was happy; no, what made her happy was that Alex wasn't using the God mask but was using his real face; this alone made Sakuya smile while thinking that Alex was rather handsome, especially today.

"What are you thinking about?" Alex asked with a smile after having seen Sakuya smiling endlessly.

"Ah! Nothing, I just thought that my man was handsome that I wanted to mount him like a horse, slapping his little ass as he moves on all fours, fufufu! That would be for the best."

If at first Alex was happy to be praised, Sakuya following words broke this happiness as her sadist side took over.

Alex heaved a sigh as he knew it would not be easy to cure Sakuya sadistic tendencies, no need to cure it; he just had to find a way to reign it, and Alex believed that he could do it. For now, better enjoy this date.

"Let us go. I will take you to the amusement park." Alex said.

Upon hearing this, Sakuya's eyes widened; because of her childhood, she hadn't gotten too many opportunities to visit an amusement park, but now she can; this made her happy as she was looking forward to it.

Entwining their fingers together, Sakuya urged Alex to head towards the amusement park. Seeing how eager she had become, Alex couldn't help but burst out of laughter, finding the current Sakuya cute.

Soon, the two of them arrived at the amusement park in Alkan's City.

Sakuya's eyes shone upon seeing that it was really an amusement park; she sauntered forward, leaving Alex behind; he chuckled before following the impatient girl.

Chapter 577 - 555: In The Amusement Park, Their Hearts Connected

After buying the ticket to enter the amusement park, Alex catches up to Sakuya stopped by the guards. She was pouting; seeing her react like this brought a smile upon Alex's face. He could see from her behavior she didn't have too many opportunities to visit amusement parks back on Earth; therefore, she was nervous and curious. To cover this up a bit, she began to behave as she was doing.

Sakuya looked around curiously; her eyes landed on the merry-go.

"Let's ride it together." Alex's voice echoed next to Sakuya's ears.

Before Sakuya could react, Alex had already taken her to the carousel.

Seeing Sakuya's uncomfortable appearance sitting on the wooden horse, Alex didn't ride the horse and stood beside her instead.

Sakuya was a little nervous, and as the merry-go-round started moving, she firmly grasped Alex's hands. She was not pretending, but this was her real feeling as if she had reverted to being a child again who was riding a merry-go for the first time.

Alex calmly standing next to her was like a Prince Charming.

Most of the people who rode the merry-go-round with them were women.

Seeing that handsome Alex was so gentle and caring to Sakuya at this time, their eyes were full of jealousy.

However, seeing the beautiful Japanese girl, their jealousy turned to shame.

After the merry-go-round, Alex took Sakuya to many other rides.

Roller coaster, big pendulum, jumping machine...

No matter what the ride was, Sakuya was always nervous and frightened. She always held Alex's hands tightly. She didn't mind showing her vulnerable side to Alex, and Alex never made fun of her. Everybody had a vulnerable side to him, and it would be unwise to mock Sakuya for this, on the contrary, seeing the current Sakuya, Alex felt more close to her as if he was finally seeing the real part of the girl known as Sakuya, don't get him wrong, Alex never thought that the usual Sakuya was fake but just that she put on a strong front, always trying to act strong, dominatrice but not now.

While Alex was lost in thoughts, Sakuya was glancing at him. Seeing his handsome face up close, she felt excited.

She couldn't believe what was happening. She never imagined going to the amusement park with Alex nor that she had expected to see an amusement park in the first place here; it came as a pleasant surprise to her; she was enjoying today date. From this date, the two would be more connected.

"Your strawberry-flavored ice cream looks delicious. Can I exchange my vanilla-flavored ice cream with yours?"

Sakuya sudden words brought Alex back to reality; he nodded before switching his ice cream with her; she gave him a beautiful smile before eating her Alex's ice cream.

"Once you are done, let's go back for some more rides," Alex suggested, and Sakuya happily nodded her head.

After Sakuya finished eating her ice cream, Alex dragged her onto the big ferry wheel.

Even Alex was surprised upon seeing the ferry wheel in front of him. It was truly big.

It is five hundred meters high.

What is the concept behind it being 500 meters?

The average height of a floor in a building is about three meters.

So, five hundred meters is more than one hundred and fifty stories.

This means that the Ferris wheel is higher than a 150-story building!

This Alkan's Ferris wheel was very big.

Normally, this should have been seen from outside, but special cloaking magic hid it; you can see the whole city from here but not the big wheel when you were outside.

This big wheel was also known as the Eye of Alkan.

While the Ferris wheel was rotating slowly, Alex looked at Sakuya, who was sitting opposite his seat, still lost in her thoughts. Alex wondered if she had a fear of height.

The space in the Ferris wheel's cockpit was not large.

When two people were sitting inside, it was not crowded, but not too spacious.

When sitting face to face, the distance is less than one arm apart that they can touch each other's toes.

After returning to her senses, Sakuya found that Alex, sitting opposite her, was looking at her with a smile. She finally opened her mouth and said.

"I love the height; it makes one seems bigger as you look at everything from a higher point of view. You can temporarily indulge in the feeling of being atop others."

Alex could understand what this feeling was coming from.

While looking at Alex digesting her words, she realized that the Ferris wheel was already soaring higher and higher.

The people at its feet slowly turned into ants.

Those high buildings looked like building blocks or even gravel.

This...

Under Sakuya's white dress, those white legs began to tremble slightly.

As the Ferris wheel rose by a quarter, the height reached one hundred meters; she was not trembling because of fear, but because of the feeling of ecstasy that began building inside her, this wasn't the highest height, but she could feel at the moment that she was above those below, it was an intoxicating feeling that can make one drunk and addicted as you keep enjoying it.

Alex momentarily enjoyed the sensation of standing above others, it might be an illusion, but he knew that one day as he stood on the highest seat, he would feel the same feeling he was feeling at the moment, no maybe there would be more.

As the wheel reached its highest peak, Sakuya had moved next to Alex not because she felt afraid, but she wished to enjoy the scenery with the one that was slowly conquering her heart.

"It's good to relax like this. I'm happy that you're enjoying this date; I was worried in the beginning that you might not like it; however, I'm glad that it wasn't the case. I'm blessed to have you in my life." Alex said, his voice being sincere as he said these words.

And Sakuya's heart seemed to have been hit hard by something.

Then, Alex rubbed her little hand.

Sakuya eventually leaned on to Alex's shoulder.

It was early evening during that time.

The sun is just beginning to set.

The light from the sun illuminates the Ferris Wheel. Shinning upon the couple, they seemed perfect together; somehow, there was a heart-shaped symbol above their heads.

Every couple who rode the Ferris wheel was excited to reach the highest point while looking at the sky and the setting sun from a distance.

The sky seemed within their reach, and their hearts began to connect. Sakuya felt softness on her lips as she turned her face in Alex's direction. Sakuya's eyes widened, but she soon reciprocated aggressively; they ended their date with a deep kiss on top of the ferry, at the highest level; it was like in a novel.

The two continued to kiss until the ferry descended; the atmosphere around them was intoxicating. Sakuya felt weak, but happiness was overflowing from her body. Leaning against Alex's shoulder, she ignored her surroundings and took a decision she was sure she would regret if she didn't take it.

"Tonight, I want to become yours."

Alex's eyes opened wide upon hearing these words; however, he wouldn't be a man if he were to cower here; therefore, he nodded.

Being from the 21st century, Sex between two people going out was a regular thing; this is not the ancient time where you promised only to give yourself only after marriage; a relationship without sex was bound to stagnate.. Sex brings two people together; Sakuya wanted to do it with Alex for a long time but still restrained herself; however, she felt like she couldn't endure it anymore, that she might regret it if she didn't use this chance, therefore she took the initiative, making her wish known, and Alex decided to go along with it.

Chapter 578 - *Special 3: The S Queen's First Time

Back to Sakuya's small mansion, the two moons looked particularly beautiful tonight. In the master bedroom were two people who were about to become one.

She had heard that it hurt the first time, so she was a bit afraid despite her brave front.

However, she could not stop now.

Alex slowly moved his little friend towards her moist cave. He did not enter immediately; instead, Alex slowly moved his penis up and down, caressing her entrance and sending signals of pleasure to her brain.

After a few seconds, Sakuya began to moan again. Alex looked into her eyes and kissed her mouth, intertwining their tongues and increasing her pleasure and excitement.

Then, he slowly thrust inside.

Sakuya opened her eyes wide when she felt something invading her. She hugged Alex tightly and tensed her body, so he stopped. Alex then caressed her body softly to relax her and continued kissing her mouth and sucking her lips.

When her body relaxed again, Alex knew it was the time; thus, he continued entering.

Sakuya moaned in pain and pleasure and twisted her body comfortably. Alex never stopped pleasuring her body while entering slowly at the same time. Then, Alex felt something obstructing him.

He immediately knew the identity of that obstruction.

Alex did not break through it immediately. Instead, he paused and stimulated Sakuya's body even more. After a few seconds, he noticed that most of her nervousness was gone, and she was beginning to moan.

Immediately, Alex pushed forward.

He felt something breaking, and then, his penis advanced until the end. Sakuya's wall tightened around me, and the immense pleasure almost made Alex release everything immediately.

"It hurts!" Sakuya cried suddenly and tightened her lower body to try to stop the invasion of his body, but it only increased more the pleasure Alex was feeling.

Fortunately, Alex managed to endure. Although this body was very sensitive, Alex had enough experience to know how to control it. He was not going to commit such a newbie mistake.

On the other hand, Sakuya began to twist her body fiercely to escape from the pain, but Alex stopped her. He kissed her lips and pinched her nipples and clitoris, diverting her attention from the pain.

Finally, he began to move slowly.

Inside, outside, inside, outside. Slowly, love juices began to flow from Sakuya and lubricated her walls, increasing the pleasure they were feeling and making it easier for Alex to move.

Slowly, the expression of pain disappeared from her face, and her eyes turned lewder.

At that moment, Sakuya let out a loud moan.

"Anhhh!"

Alex increased the speed of his thrust. Slowly, the pleasure began to overcome the pain that she was feeling, and before long, she also began to move.

The two completely lost themselves in the pleasure of lovemaking. Their moans and deep breaths spread through the room, and the sweet smell of their sweat mixed with their love juices invaded their noses.

"Alexander~ Alexander~...." Sakuya called Alex's name as her body shook.

He closed Sakuya's lips with his and began to piston even faster. He could feel something beginning to build inside of him, but he suppressed it. Alex concentrated only on feeling the body of Sakuya and hearing her cries of pleasure.

The movements of Sakuya were erratic due to her inexperience, but they had their kind of charm. The feeling of conquest Alex felt when he saw her twisting below his body was exhilarating.

Nevertheless, Sakuya was completely inexperienced. Before long, she began to tire out, and her movements stopped almost completely. She could only receive Alex's thrusts and moan in pleasure repeatedly.

Seeing it, Alex moved his mouth to her breast. He then sucked them fiercely and bit her nipples softly.

"!!!" Sakuya opened her mouth wide due to the pain, but only a moan escaped from her lips. The combination of pain and pleasure caused her body to tense up, and her lower lips tightened over Alex's penis.

He grunted in pleasure and thrust fiercely, making her moan again. She extended her legs and twitched comfortably.

Her mind began to turn white, and she could only repeat Alex's name between moans. Alex realized that she was close to cumming again and began to thrust faster.

"Ahhhhnnn!" Sakuya grabbed the bedsheets with a hand and used her other hand to grab his back. Alex felt her nails piercing his skin, but his lower body continued moving quickly inside her. He felt the excitement of cumming building inside of him.

"Alex, Something... Something is coming~ I'm about to cum." She might be a novice in this life, but in the previous one, she wasn't; she knew what this feeling meant.

Meanwhile, Alex hugged her shoulders and pressed her down with all his strength; then, she twitched fiercely and cummed.

Her expression turned completely blank, and a moan mixed with a scream escaped her lips. A bit of saliva slowly slid down her neck.

At the same time, her cave tightened fiercely over Alex's penis and increased his pleasure, forcing him to thrust a few times more, and then, something was shot from his little dragon.

Sakuya moaned again as his semen shot inside her womb. She twitched fiercely and moaned incoherently while hugging Alex's body.

A sigh of satisfaction escaped Alex's lips. Seeing the beautiful body of Sakuya below him, he lowered his body, approached his lips, and kissed her gently.

Sakuya unconsciously entwined her tongue with his and continued moaning in pleasure. Alex also savored the aftertaste of ejaculation and remained inside her.

Finally, after a few seconds, Alex slowly slid out his penis and lied down on the bed.

Sakuya moaned again when she felt his little friend leaving her body and then hugged Alex tightly while a little bit of white substance escaped from her cave.

"Alexander, I think I might have fallen in love with you." She whispered with a satisfied smile and kissed his lips.

Alex returned the kiss and caressed her body while muttering sweet nothings on her ear. Sakuya curved up her lips in happiness and twisted shyly beside him. Alex could not help but find her embarrassed appearance extremely adorable.

A few minutes later, Sakuya's breaths became long, and she began to fall asleep. However, Alex wouldn't let her rest; he must use this opportunity and firm his position.

Chapter 579 - *Special 4: Showing Her Who Stands Above The Other

"W-Wait... Uhgnn...~"

Sakuya let out a loud moan. Her body shivered violently while she arched her back.

Alex, who was suddenly attacking her, held her hips firmly while piercing her from behind. Each second, he moved back and forth, invading her insides until her most profound part.

"Ughhn... Ahh... Alex... S-Stop..."

Sakuya's ragged voice reached Alex's ears. She begged to be spared, but he did not stop. Instead, he pressed his body against hers and kissed her back and neck, using his tongue to lick her tender skin.

Sakuya shivered. When she felt Alex's tongue over her body, she let out a soft hum and put her face against the sheets. Then, she stopped struggling and left her body to be at his mercy.

Upon seeing this, Alex let out a grin. Without caring about her feelings, Alex moved faster and faster, enjoying the feeling of her flesh wrapping around his penis and piercing her womb. Sakuya could only moan helplessly while suffering his attacks.

Alex grabbed her two breasts from behind and pulled her body up. Then, his mouth kissed her shoulder before biting hard.

"Ahhnnn...~" Sakuya, feeling weak screamed. The pain of the bite made her tighten her vagina around Alex's rod. As he did with his previous partners, Alex sucked a mouthful of blood and continued biting her, leaving his marks all around her body.

Her neck, her shoulders, her back. Sakuya was filled with hickeys symbolizing that they had become one tonight. For an instant, Alex became intoxicated in the feeling of completely dominating Sakuya, having the S Queen at his mercy.

Sakuya was too far gone to worry about that, though. Currently, she could only moan and groan under Alex's attacks.

A thread of saliva slid down her lips, and her love juices repeatedly flowed out her vagina, drenching the bed completely.

Alex released breasts and pulled her arms, using them to hold her body. With each thrust, her body was pulled towards him seductively.

"So good...~" Sakuya groaned. Her black eyes full of lust turned towards Alex, and her lustrous lips searched for his lips. Soon, their tongues were entangled again in a lustful battle.

Sakuya's mind was completely blank. She could not think of anything but the feeling of their bodies colliding.

Alex sighed. Hearing her pants and moans was incredibly exciting.

After a while like that, Alex released her body and let it fall on the bed. Then, he pressed her shoulders against the bed and thrust on her like that.

With her body pinned on the bed, he kept attacking, again and again, reaching deeper and deeper with each thrust.

Sakuya's mouth opened in a long moan while her body struggled below Alex's body; she was twisting seductively.

The slapping sounds of Alex's hips colliding against her buttocks filled the room. They were like a percussion of lust that turned the S Queen crazy.

Eventually, Sakuya third climax was coming. As though anticipating it, her moans became louder, and her hands gripped the sheets of the bed, waiting for the so-desired peak.

But when she was just an instant away from coming, Alex abruptly stopped.

This left the Japanese girl was surprised. Irritated, she tried to move her hips to reach the peak, but Alex chuckled and used his body to immobilize hers. He wouldn't let her have her way, easily get what she wants, an hierarchy needed to be established.

"... Miss Sakuya, it looks like you are about to come, huh."

Sakuya looked at Alex with a pleading gaze and bit her lips. Her expression was so seductive that he just wanted to pound her brains out.

However, he knew he musn8, not right now, so Alex endured and curved his lips into a smirk.

"... Don't you think I'm better standing above you, that I'm your King?" Alex asked. Sakuya's eyes shook momentarily, and an expression of hesitation appeared on her face. She knew what Alex wanted to accomplish by asking such a question. She began to hesitate; something deep inside refused to bow down. She must not allow it.

However, Alex did not allow it. Biting Sakuya's earlobe, he ground his penis against her womb slowly so that it increased her stimulation significantly, but it was not enough to make her come.

In such a situation, Sakuya's mind turned foggy. She wanted to come. She wanted to continue enjoying this pleasure.

After several seconds, her lips opened softly.

"... Y-Yes..."

Alex put on a deliberate smirk. "Mm? I'm sorry, I can't hear you...."

"... Y-Yes..."

"Miss Sakuya, please try being louder."

"Dammit, you are better standing on top; you're my King, okay!?" Sakuya shouted impatiently. She then smiled seductively and kissed Alex's lips.

"... Please, I beg you...."

Fufufu!

With a soft laugh, Alex, who got the first key to dominate Sakuya, completely pressed her body against the bed again and moved his penis slowly.

"I think I'm cumming again... What should I do?" Alex deliberately asked.

"... Just cum inside. You already did it once anyway...."

Hearing Sakuya's sweet voice, Alex's excitement reached its peak.

"I wonder what your other self would say seeing you submitting so easily."

Before Sakuya could answer, Alex started to sprint again.

Sakuya let out a moan. Her body shivered on the bed, and her arms gripped the sheets firmly.

Alex pierced his penis into her deepest part. He could feel her cervix arching each time he thrust and her lips letting out intermittent moans.

Once and again, Alex attacked her like that, slowly approaching a new climax.

Eventually, Sakuya's body tensed up. Her hips trembled, trying to accelerate her orgasm, and her mouth opened in a long moan.

Finally, her vagina tightened around Alex's penis as though sucking his penis.

In front of that incredible stimulus, Alex couldn't retain himself any longer, so he shot another round inside her.

Sakuya shivered. The feeling of Alex's hot liquid filling her made her crazy. Her eyes rolled up, and her body twitched violently.

"C-Cumming...!"

Eventually, she collapsed after a long and loud scream.

Alex, on the other hand, sighed. Looking at the collapsed body of the S Queen, he pulled his penis out.

Instantly, semen mixed with love juices overflowed from her vagina.

Sakuya let out a sigh of satisfaction and closed her eyes. After this crazy round of sex, she was completely exhausted.

She could hardly move a muscle.

However, Alex, who had prepared for this day, wasn't going to let her go; he must deeply engrave himself deep within her consciousness, he must let her know who stand on top, by doing one time she would soon forget but if he repeated this several times, it would be hard to forget.

With a smile, Alex patted Sakuya's hips.

The latter opened her eyes in dissatisfaction. But when she saw Alex's holy weapon standing up fiercely, her words got caught in her throat.

"You... Are you not done?"

Of course not, dear Sakuya. The night is just starting.. That night Sakuya learned what it means to be under man; she was completely crushed.

Chapter 580 - 556: Night Demoness

Deep in the night, the two moons illuminated the city underneath it, suddenly a shadow dashed through the tall buildings' rooftops like an agile monkey. This shadow continued to run for another ten minutes before stopping as though the shadow had arrived at its destination. Then the shadow jumped down, before falling into the ground, a green light appeared the shadow feet to reduce its fall. The shadow safely landed on the ground.

Looking left and right, Sakuya let out a sigh before walking toward a certain direction; normally, after having such intense activity, she should be resting; however, Sakuya was not in the mood to do so, because of her personality she needed an outlet to let everything out as she suffered under Alex, instead of being the one that dominated Alex she got dominated, it could be said that she submitted. So, Sakuya decided to sneak out to relieve her frustrations as she felt like she would blow up if nothing were done.

After wandering for five minutes, Sakuya finally encountered her first guinea pig. It was a skinny man trying to have his way with a frightening girl; he was too focused on what he was about to do that he didn't notice Sakuya's arrival at all.

The frightened girl stopped shaking, her eyes stared past the man, she noticed Sakuya dressed in all black, she was confused, but soon her confusion changed into fear as Sakuya released a bit of killing intent freezing the man who was about to slap the girl.

"Leave" It was only what Sakuya said, and the girl immediately ran away, not wanting anything to do with this dangerous person even if she saved her.

Sakuya didn't bother with the girl; she grinned and disappeared to reappear before the frozen man; although he was frozen, he could still move his mouth.

"Y-You, who are you?"

Sakuya didn't respond; the man's eyes trembled, but he still decided to continue.

"I'm He-"

"No need for me to know who you are." Sakuya mercilessly cut off the man before pointing out her finger at the man's head; the latter face paled; he got nothing but an ominous feeling, so he desperately shouted.

"S-Stop, what are you trying to do?"

Sakuya's lips curved into a malicious smile, and she answered rather nonchalantly.

"Aren't you about to find out?"

Before the man could utter another word, Sakuya moved.

[Seven Steps of Phantasmal Chaos- Hypnosis]

Her figure blurred before her finger stuck the man's head from which a purple light shot out.

Suddenly, the man's body stiffened after the purple light entered his before something odd happened.

The skinny man went on all four and started barking as if he had turned into a dog.

"Woof~ Woof~."

The cruel smile on Sakuya face deepened as she murmured.

"Good, Kaguya is sure nasty to develop such vile skill, but I like it."

To Sakuya's rude words, Kaguya chose not to comment; it doesn't matter if she commented anyway; Sakuya's eyes zeroed into the skinny man who had somehow transformed into a dog who kept barking.

"Good dog!" Sakuya commented, looking at the skinny man wriggling his butt to act wagging his non-existent tail.

"Jump, Roll, Lie down!"

Sakuya decided to test out how far her skill worked; the skinny man under Sakuya's hypnosis executed all orders given to him; he even peed like a dog upon receiving the command. What was truly vicious about Sakuya skill was that the victim is fully aware of what he did, and once the hypnosis was undone, he would remember them, and they would hunt him down forever.

With a nasty grin, Sakuya ordered, "Come, my loyal dog, come clean my feet, will you?"

"Woof-"

The skinny man moved on all four and arrived before Sakuya feet, his tongue lolled out, and saliva dripped out; he lowered his mouth to start licking her master's feet when suddenly she stopped him.

"Stop it!"

The skinny man stopped and tilted his head in confusion. Sakuya paid him no heed as she thought of something which made her blood boil, unconsciously her desire leaked out.

"I shouldn't be you doing this but my dear Alex. Fufufu! One I will make him do it, I'll polish this skill until it becomes suitable for my sweet darling Alex, fufufu." Sakuya laughed hard.

Kaguya, in her dimension, was left speechless as; she had never expected her host to be so twisted, she was hell-bent on making Alex prostrate before her, but Kaguya was sure that Alex would never give in as he was not the type to enjoy such play.

'Hehehe! It will be fun to watch those two. One will is firm and unshakable, while the other is stubborn, hell-bent on having things her way. Fufufu! This will serve past as entertainment to kill time.' Kaguya mumbled as she closed her eyes, resting her head against her Kodachi. As a being with an almost limitless lifespan, she had few entertainments to help her enjoy her loneliness, so Sakuya's antics sometimes help her kill her boredom, so seeing her determination to make Alex submit, knowing well that the chance that this was to happen was less than 0.01 percent couldn't help but make Kaguya filled with anticipation about how Sakuya planned to defy this unbreakable wall.

'I'm looking forward to it.' Kaguya mumbled and decided to cut her consciousness and focus on meditation.

Outside, Sakuya lost in her illusionary world where Alex could be seen groveling on the ground dressed in something that wasn't good for one mental health to describe fully, Sakuya dressed in full leather underwear was behind him, striking him using a thorny leather whip, every time this whip touched Alex's back he would cry, but the pleasure mixed in this cry couldn't be hidden, even some part of him would stand the more whip he received.

"Fufufu! Shout louder, shout to your heart content you pig, this queen will always love you, so shout piggy."

"Buh~"

"Fufufu! Hahaha" Sakuya felt supreme; however, at the end of the day, this was nothing more than a dream, an illusion, so naturally, she came back to reality.

While it was disappointing that it was an illusion. Sakuya wasn't discouraged; to make such a dream into a reality, she needed practice; there was a saying that practice makes it perfect. She needs to sharpen her skill for it to work on Alex.

A few days later, rumors began circulating that one should not go out at night as the Night Demoness would catch you and transform you into her toy.
