Chapter 621 - 597: Hell Descent

*Flashback

In a laboratory somewhere in Mysthia, many scientists surrounded two tubes, one of them was empty while the second one was not; there was a small baby around seven months inside it; she had white hair, white eyebrows.

One of the scientists observing the girl suddenly shouted after noticing the baby twitching.

"Senior, finally she moved, Number Two has moved, like Number One she is not a defective product, unlike the Zero series." The man shouted enthusiastically.

"Cut it, Benson, quickly inject the serum. Not only would it increase her growth speed, but it would also save us some trouble in the future." The chief of this hidden laboratory ordered.

Benson immediately followed the command he received; he injected purple energy inside the tube, which was instantly sucked and was assimilated into the baby girl's body.

'Poor thing you've your freedom robbed from you forever, and the only thing you will live for from now on would be serving the organization wholeheartedly. Truly a pity.' Benson said before turning around and leaving.

He didn't see that just after he left, the baby opened her eyes and stared in his direction as if she understood Benson's words.

Ten years passed in a flash and the once small baby had turned into an adult; although her body had not matured like the others born from this experiment, she was far the strongest apart from her brother; this girl was named Incursio, meaning nightmare for her enemy. The funniest thing was that she kept having the same nightmare again and again; in this nightmare, she was discarded after being used; her ending wasn't a bright one. Smart as she is, she knew that she was created and that it was for a purpose; if she were to fail this task, she would die and horrible death; her life was not her own; she was another person's property.

Her strength, her way of talking, her way of looking at her enemy acting as though she was the strongest, all of these things are facades to hide her true self, her real self which was afraid of death, afraid to be disposed of, afraid of never getting her freedom, freedom is what she longed for more than anything.

So when she heard what Eliard said, she remembered her fate, a fate which had been forced upon her; no matter how strong she had become, she was still a child in front of them; they are true monsters.

"So, to finish all of this, I will have you three die here. Don't worry; you're immortals after all." Eliard's words brought Incursio back to reality; she immediately summoned her Gift, the slender white sword appeared in her small hands, she changed, she was emitting a pretty dangerous aura that made the mayor's frown; he had expected her to be strong but not to this extent.

To crush any false hopes the three might have, Eliard released his full strength.

Immediately the three, especially Alex and Eri, felt like there were standing in the middle of the sea, and everywhere they looked at, only endless sea could be seen; they felt terrible might bearing on them, they immediately went on their knees.

"Half step, Demigod!"

The three shouted when they felt Eliard's pressure; those called half-step Demigods are those close to the Demi-God level, beyond peak Saint Realm.

"Guh!" Alex ground his teeth to bear with the terrible pressure trying to break all his bones.

"Hellsing!"

To help him bear with the pressure, Alex summoned his domain, immediately his domain clashed against Eliard's pressure, diminishing the pressure Alex was feeling. Eri did the same thing after seeing what Alex had just done.

"Careful, this one will be tough to deal with." Incursio warned, and with extreme focus, she looked at Eliard, she might be closer to peak Saint Realm. Still, it doesn't mean that she could take a half step Demigod head on no matter how exceptional her fighting prowess was; therefore, she needed Alex and Eri's assistance to deal with this man and stop the ongoing ritual quickly.

The three understood what they needed to do to get out of the current situation they were in, and just as they were about to initiate an attack, something completely out of their expectations happened; not even Eliard had anticipated this to happen; it was too sudden; therefore he could not do anything.

First, from the black mass floating in the sky, an inhuman cry echoed, almost bursting their ears, then dark tentacles shot out from the black mass and pierced the mayor's body from all sides.

Tuk! Tuk! Tuk!

"Y-You! Cough! Cough!"

Even the sturdy body of a half-step Demigod got easily pierced like paper; immediately, blood was sucked out of Eliard's body; he was helpless to do anything; he couldn't put any resistance, especially after seeing his daughter face appearing from the black mass.

"So, it's how is it. I'm paying for my sin. Alright, bring it. Cough! Cough!" Eliard vomited blood and his body rapidly shrunk until it turned into ashes and the black ashes disappeared into the black mass; it was sucked inside it.

Burp!

Alex, Eri and Incursio, all heard this sound, indicating that whatever was inside that thing was full. Alex felt a chill down his spine; it was only less than when he was facing the dragon and the nine-headed hydra; no, there was something sinister about the thing that was about to come out.

[[Master escape!]] Silveria urged Alex; her voice was panicked than usual, making Alex understand how dire the situation was. Even Nyx warned Alex to escape.

[[Escape for now, the current you will die if you face this thing.]]

"Guys! Let's get the hell out of here." Surprisingly Incursio was the one who suggested this.

Unfortunately, it was already too late; from the moment Eliard had his blood and strength sucked to the current moment, not even a minute had passed.

"!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!"

Suddenly, another terrible scream echoed; it created a vibration in the air that destroyed all the trees' radius hundred kilometers. Alex, Eri, and Incursio's noses and ears were bleeding profusely.

Then they saw it; the moment they lay their eyes on her, they froze not because of how beautiful she was but because of the dangerous aura surrounding her.

"Shit!" Incursio did not care about etiquette and cursed openly; she was afraid, terrified of the thing in the sky; she was in another dimension; they were in big trouble now.

Chapter 622 - 598: Against The Mysterious Woman

The woman floating in front of the three could be considered a beauty, but none of them were in the mood to enjoy this beauty because this woman was giving off an intense amount of pressure, even leaving the single fingers they could feel how terrific she is.

Long golden hair that reached her waist and a pair of mesmerizing red eyes, she had three bats-like wings behind her back.

"R-Run!!!" Eri stuttered but still managed to finish her words; every fiber of her body ordered never to fight this thing; it was not a human.

There is no shame in running away when you know that you can't do anything about yourself; at least you are aware that there is a limit, which you can overcome.

Eri mustered all her strength even when her body was trembling, and she could hold it barely; she almost peed her pants, she was terrified, flames appeared under her feet and propelled her into the sky like a rocket.

Finally, the woman who appeared from the black mass slightly moved her eyes; yes, she slightly moved her eyes; however, this casual gesture, the gentle flutter of her eyelash, was enough to extinguish the flame under Eri's feet. Her body got slammed into the ground forcedly by an unknown force.

BANG! BOOM!

"Gaha! Cough! Cough!" Eri vomited a mouthful of blood, and her limbs were twitching; she didn't have any energy to get up.

The woman ignored her and looked at Incursio; the latter felt like a mouse standing before a cat; she shivered unconsciously, then before she knew it, the woman that should be standing in the sky thirty away from her appeared before.

"What?" Incursio was beyond shocked, so naturally, her voice was loud when she exclaimed because of surprise.

"T-Too many things mixed up."

Unexpectedly the woman talked; her voice seemed to have come from the depth of hell itself; it was beyond cold; just by hearing this voice, Incursio felt a cold sensation spreading through her whole body, starting from her heart.

Bang!

Incursio got slapped across the face, her petite body drew a small arc in the air before she appeared two kilometers from where she was, her right cheek was swollen like pudding, her arms broken, but her insane regenerative ability kicked in and healed her in an instant.

Meanwhile, Alex was about to face the woman that dealt with Eri and Incursio in less than a minute.

She appeared in front of Alex as she did with Incursio; he was not able to sense her before she arrived before him even with his Divine Sense activated and Sleipnir special ability on; still, Alex was not to be underestimated; he knew that he was not the woman match so he must escape not think about defeated her because it was impossible for the current him.

"Time S-"

Alex tried to use Time Stop, but somehow it didn't work; that woman spat something from her mouth which stuck Alex's right eye, blocking his sight, he was unable to use his right eye, and he became unable any of his time abilities as if something was stopping him from using them.

During this time, Incursio finally stood up, and she was furious; she had never been humiliated like today. She lost any rationality she had; she immediately launched an attack on the mysterious lady.

Incursio's sword cut through the air with no resistance and arrived before the mysterious lady; she stopped and pinched the sword with two fingers.

Boom! Boom!

A terrible explosion occurred when she caught the sword; the area behind her was destroyed, obliterated should be the correct word; still, the mysterious woman had zero scratches on her. It was as if what she just did was too casual.

She lifted her other free while still holding Incursio's gift in an iron grip, a formless sharp sword appeared in the mysterious woman slashed upward and blood splashed on her face, there was a long vertical cut on Incursio's chest, her special armor was destroyed, that cut was so deep that her bones could be seen and her small breasts could be seen; however, Incursio did not care about her breasts being seen, she experienced something she had not truly feel since a long time ago, pain, an immense amount of pain flowed out from the injury toward his whole body.

It happened at that moment; Incursio, who was feeling an immense amount of pain, saw the mysterious woman's kick coming toward her head; it was so slow that normal people would have thought that it would take at least a year for this kick to connect. However, as a solid individual specialized in speed, Incursio knew that this happened because the kick was too fast, so fast that it gives the misconception that it was slow.

Immediately, Incursio activated her time ability to slow down the incoming, but unfortunately, it was soon proven to be insufficient. She was forced to use her space element ability, but this also didn't work. The mysterious woman kick continued unhindered and finally arrived before Incursio.

Bang! Kaboom!

This time Incursio traveled across five kilometers destroying everything on her path. When she stopped, she was in an extremely sorry state; all the bones inside her small body were broken. Not even with her exceptional regenerative ability, she could do anything; Eri lay on the ground, trembling.

"Now then." The mysterious woman mumbled before turning in Alex's direction.

"Crimson bullet!"

BANG!

The crimson bullet tore through the air blasting everything in its path until it's arrived before the mysterious woman who did something that Alex would never forge; his most substantial bullet, the one with the most destructive ability, got crushed so simply that Alex wondered if it was a ballon.

"You are different from the other." the mysterious woman with bat wings muttered after she appeared in front of Alex. He couldn't do anything as he got lifted and started flying with the mysterious woman; finally, they stopped fifty meters above the ground, both Eri and Incursio were able to see everything that was happening.

Never in their wildest dreams would they have thought that the next thing that mysterious woman would do would be that. No, they were not the only ones shocked; Alex was beyond shocked; he was so surprised that his mind was gone blind.

The mysterious woman with pairs of three bats wings lowered her head and stole Alex's lips; it was unexpected, but soon Alex understood the reason behind her action, and he immediately tried to break free but couldn't do anything, his energy, his strength, his mana, his life's force, everything seemed to be slowly being sucked away from him, at this rate he would lose everything.

Alex struggled to no avail; neither Silveria nor Nyx could provide him any assistance; finally, he acted, he moved his right fingers asking for help, and Incursio was the first one to notice it, followed by Eri.

Boom!

Incursio, who was angry for getting so much humiliated, decided to go all out. Her full strength destroyed her surrounding.

"Purgatory!"

She activated that ability Leonardo acquired after joining the dark side.

At the same time, Eri finally overcame her fear; she knew that no best ending awaits them if they let this woman consume Alex; therefore they must fight even when the odds are against them.

"Spirit Integration!" Eri activated her strongest ability w her trump card; despite not being able to control it yet perfectly, she had no choice; she could only try.

Terrific amount of heat escaped from Eri's body turned the surrounding into molten lava, maybe because last time it was because of the presence of its rival, the Ice Phoenix. Still, this time it was the illusionary image of a small fire phoenix, it looked weak, not that strong, but Eri knew that she could do something with this temporary strength.

The mysterious woman kissing Alex didn't even bother with the two; with the flick of her fingers, two identical clones were created, and they went to take care of Eri and Incursio. At the same time, a black cocoon surrounded Alex and the woman; the kiss never stopped; on the contrary, it became heated, and Alex couldn't escape from this woman's grasp as she kept sucking everything from him.

Outside, the two clones fought evenly against Eri under spirit Integration and Incursio, who had released her full strength.

Clang! Clang! Clang!

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The four moved at an extremely high speed exchanging blows; those blows were so strong that every time they clashed, it would destroy their surrounding, but none of them seemed to care as they kept fighting when suddenly Incursio, who had finished analyzing her enemy easily dodged her enemy attack before sending her own attack on the floating black cocoon, she hoped to break it to let Alex escape. However, before Incursio's attack could reach one meter from the cocoon, a dark snake appeared and swallowed it, then it reopened its mouth and spat the attack back towards Incursio.

Shiing!

Incursio cut the attack in two before shifting her sword back to block the clone attack.

Kiiiiin!

Another round of quick attacks began; meanwhile, Alex had a dream.

Chapter 623 - 599: Her Memories

Alex had a dream, no it was more like flashbacks; in these flashbacks, he saw the girl's childhood memories resembling the mysterious woman they were fighting against.

She was born with a frail body, which made her unable to have a normal childhood. She was always stuck inside her room; her mother died giving birth to her, so she lacked motherly love; however, her father was present, always looking for her until that fateful day. Maybe it was because usually, she doesn't go out; they thought it was safe to talk in the room next to her room. That day she just wanted to head to the garden and surprise her father because today happened to be his birthday.

However, just as she dragged her frail body out of her room after dismissing her maids, she overheard a conversation between her father and the old men from the council.

"This is one last chance, if we miss it, then we will fall into oblivion, disappear and replaced by a new floor, we are stuck in this level for far too long, and you know that every floor must climb up at least once every hundred years, but we haven't been able to accomplish this, this is the 100th year we must succeed. Why not use your daughter-"

"I dare you to finish what you were saying." Eliard, the frail girl father shouted, he was so angry that he released half of his strength crushing the stone table before them; normally, he would be respectful as those old geezers from the council are several years older than him; however, today, Eliard who was known as someone never to lose his composure and get easily angry was beyond furious, they say that everyone has a reverse scale. Eliard's reverse scale happened to be his daughter, which he cherished more than anything.

As Eileen, his daughter, she had never seen her father this angry; he was so angry that unconsciously she was afraid of him; however she soon berated herself; he was angry because of her, instead of being afraid, she must stand firm and support him no matter what, therefore she leaned against the wall and held her breath for fear of getting caught.

Finally, the atmosphere became peaceful again, and Eliard sat back, and in a heavy tone, he refuted the old man's suggestion.

"Please, Old Four, don't joke like that again; it makes me lose my composure. We will find a better solution, no, I'll find one, I'm sure of it."

Eliard's words lacked so much confidence that the three old men felt pity, to think that the strongest of all would become like this because of his only daughter, it was truly a pity, but there's no other alternative, this was the only one.

"Eliard, I understand how you feel, but the Great Baba divined that it must be your daughter and you must help her. It's the only way." The second-ranked among the old men of the council.

"Ugh!" Eliard groaned as if one of his weaknesses was revealed; he had hard dealing with this old woman; she was the oldest of Sigurd city, the most knowledgeable person and the most respected if Eliard's words were the law, Great Baba's words were absolute, but she rarely talk or suggest something, therefore once she does it must be respected.

Eileen closed her mouth, and her eyes widened in shock. She might be stuck most of the time inside her room. Still, she knew well this old woman, she was great-great-aunt after all, she often pay her a visit when her father was away busy with his works, for her to suggest this it must be the only way, strangely Eileen was relived, she did not resent her great-great Aunt, but on the contrary, she was glad because it meant that she could help her father. Who can know your body better than yourself? So, Eileen knew that she didn't have too much time left; she could feel her life force draining way day by day; if this goes on, she would have one year and a half left, so better use this dying body for something great such as saving their floor (continent) from disappearing. Secretly Eileen had already decided what she would do next.

Inside the meeting room, the conversation continued; the same old man who told Eliard about Great Baba's divination continued and explained more.

"Listen to me until the end; Eileen is like our daughter; we won't offer her so easily. In fact, this can be considered as a blessing for Eileen because if the ritual succeeds, she can control the sealed spirit and help us ascend if this were to happen, she would become our greatest force, our deity guardian, and all her health problems would be resolved. Just think about it."

Like a snake luring its prey before swallowing it, the old man who goes by the name of Old Trek explained.

"I see, but I still think that it's dangerous to-"

Before Eliard could finish his words, he was interrupted by an angry voice; it was the voice of the first elder, the one who had not spoken a word since the beginning of this meeting.

"Man up, will you. Since when did you become such a coward. Have you forgotten what we sacrificed for you to be where you are right now?"

Silence!

"You are the most exceptional, the smartest of all, yet now you disregard the bigger picture just because it was a question of sacrificing your daughter. Have you forgotten that I sacrificed my sole child for this? I never regretted it because it was for the greater cause; Eileen would not die; instead, she would live on; if you keep hesitating, it will only worsen. Besides, the concerned party is already here; why not hear her opinion?" Old Trek finished speaking with a crafty smile; his crooked yellow teeth were on full display.

"What?"

The others three were surprised because they hadn't noticed Eileen's presence at all.

Having been discovered, Eileen was forced to show up, and immediately after she entered, she lifted her head, and with a burning gaze, she said.

"I'll do it."

Chapter 624 - 600: The Girl Named Eileen

"I'll do it." Eileen had declared immediately after her arrival.

Everyone inside the room was shocked by this bold declaration; not even Old Trek had seen this coming; he knew Eileen was eavesdropping for a while but thinking that she would be so bold to openly declare that she would take the risk even when knowing what it entails.

"El, are you sick? Why did you come out? Immediately go back and-" Eliard could not finish his words before getting interrupted by his daughter, which shocked him as she had never done something like that before.

"Papa, please, I'm an adult; I'm 19 years old. I can decide on my own, and I said I'd do it. You know me too well that once I decide to do something, even God can change it. I'm ready to let's begin." Eileen declared and stood firmly gazing directly into his father's colored eyes, the same as her.

Once again, the Old men from the council were surprised by Eileen's demeanor when she talked; this reminds them of Great Baba's back when she was still young and full of energy.

Gulp!

They gulped, and finally, they understood why Great Baba had said that if it's Eileen, she might be able to do it.

"Aiy! My daughter has finally grown up. Fine, I understand, we will follow Great Baba's suggestion, but first, we must plan things; now it is the time for the new batch of immortal otherworlders to come up, we will use them." Eliard said after massaging his forehead, he felt compelled to do so.

"Thank you, Papa, I love you the most," Eileen said and started jumping up and down, forgetting that she was in the presence of the elders, elders who smiled not the least bothered by Eileen's behavior.

"Ay Ay! I love you too, sweetie. Now shoo shoo go away, let the adults talk." Eliard said, chasing his daughter away.

Although she wished to stay a little longer, Eileen understood that she couldn't; after blowing her tongue at her father, she left the meeting room.

The last thing she heard before going into the garden was.

"We will sacrifice the immortal otherworlders."

It was her father's voice; there was a hint of coldness inside his voice he had never felt before, it gave her goosebumps, and she hastily left the scene.

Then there was a sudden blur in the flashbacks as if someone was pressing fast forward, this continued until it finally stopped on one of the memories; it was a bit fragmented as Eileen had started to get assimilated by the sealed spirit said to be the key to ascend, to climb to the next level.

It was a scene which gave Alex shivers, he saw Old Trek secretly using the head of an old woman and from Eileen's reaction in this memory, Alex rapidly guessed whom this head belonged to; it must be the famous Great Baba. Then if it was true, as someone well versed in divination, she must have seen it coming, this question emerged in Alex's mind, but he rapidly shook it off as he focused on the ongoing memory.

Eileen's memory continued to play, and Alex saw Old Trek secretly modifying the giant crimson underground formation. He immediately understood why the mayor Eliard who shouldn't have been dragged into the sacrifice, got dragged in. Although despicable what Eliard did, sacrificing hundreds of players and NPCs alike just for the sake of ascending, what disgusted Alex the most were Old Trek backstabbing them; Alex hated one thing more than anything, which is betrayal; this hate ran deep in his bones, it's unknown if it would change in the future.

Upon seeing what Old Trek had done, Alex immediately put him on a must-kill list; he absolutely wouldn't spare him. He believed there was a reason for the almost transformed Eileen to show him her memories; it must be because she wished to ask him to avenge them. As Alex expected at the end of the memory, an illusory figure of Eileen appeared, she looked sicker than usual.

'I Guess for a dying person, it's normal.' Alex thought while observing Eileen vigilantly; although he doubted that he could ever resist if she were to try anything in this conscious world, she was the owner of, Alex was still vigilant.

"Greetings immortal otherworlder, my name is Eileen," Eileen said and curtsied elegantly.

Alex just nodded and waited for her to continue; Eileen didn't waste time and directly told Alex why she pulled him into her consciousness.

"I will cut to the chase as you have seen Old Trek betrayed us, and I want to avenge us. I know that coming from me, the daughter of the one that slaughtered your kin like cattle, it might sound funny, but I'm desperate, so do not have any other choice other than seeking your help." Eileen took a deep breath before slowly explaining what was happening.

"We are both dying, but unlike me, you can come back but let me tell you something which you don't know; every one of those sacrificed may come back because of your unique trait of reviving after death, but this time it will be different. Maybe it's because I have merged with her. Still, this thing, this dragon, has the special ability to snatch ability, so every who ended dying becoming her sacrifice would lose something even after reviving."

Eileen's declaration was like a huge slap on Alex's face; more than ever, he felt the urgency of not dying; he wished to lose none of his skills and abilities as they are precious to each one of them.

Finally, Eileen revealed a smile upon seeing the strong will to live from Alex's avatar; she knew she had her chance.

"Please me help me destroy that bastard after killing this thing. The bastard planned to control the beast after her complete awakening; it would be a disaster if this were to happen; you must stop him. Of course, I am not saying to do it for free; I shall help you break free from your restraint, only momentarily, but it would be enough to send you into the deepest part of your consciousness where your Gift is; you can communicate with it, if you agree you can temporarily borrow her strength, I can help you and lastly I can help you acquire a mystical beast as a companion. How do my offers sound?" Eileen offered; at the end of her offer, she was smiling, a smile which seemed totally harmless but couldn't escape Alex's sharp eyes; looking at those honey-colored eyes, Alex concluded.

'She is a crafty one.'

Before getting ready to tell her his answer.

Chapter 625 - 601: Eri Vs The Second Clone

While Alex and Eileen were having a tête à tête (meeting), Eri and Incursio fought against the spirit who took Eileen's body clones.

Sizzle! Sizzle! Pow!

The lightning covering Incursio's sword struck the clone sending her flying; her head was destroyed; however, instead of feeling joy having crushed the enemy head, Incursio frowned instead as she knew that the enemy was not dead.

"A shadow, huh!" Incursio mumbled.

Immediately the clones who had her head destroyed started swelling.

A dark red storm appeared and swirled around it; it was too fast; not even Incursio, with her extreme speed, could do anything, but everything burst apart.

Bang!

Hiss! Hiss!

After the red storm disappeared, a terrific dark snake thrice the size of the one that attacked them every time they tried to get close to the black cocoon in the sky.

"What the hell is that thing?" Eri, who was fighting the second clone, was shocked upon seeing such a giant and intimidating snake with seven red eyes.

Meanwhile, Incursio frowned because she could feel a tremendous amount of strength coming from the snake in front of her; this snake was not weaker than her. The reason why the clone turned into this Incursio knew it was because the main body supplied energy to it, probably because of Incursio's strength. If she were to consume her, she would evolve. The main body thought so.

Looking at the giant snake in front of her, Incursio showed no fear; her petite body seemed funny in front of such a giant snake.

Gently Incursio touched the white sword, her Gift, and mumbled.

"Unlock!"

Sizzle! Sizzle! Clack! Clack! Kaboom!

Lightning surrounded the white sword before it released a tremendous amount of energy forward. Still, the giant skeleton quickly blocked it, and when all the energy disappeared, Incursio had two swords in her hands instead of one.

Eri, who was having it easy, had the leisure to watch the other side. When she saw the two swords in Incursio's hands, she momentarily stopped breathing; However, the black and white sword looked beautiful; it was not what made Eri stop breathing. It was the terrible feeling of ominousness she felt from those swords; if the previous Incursio with one sword appeared like a tall mountain, then the current her armed with two swords appeared like the sky, currently unreachable for her.

Gulp!

Eri gulped and instinctively moved her head to the side, dodging the other clone's claw.

Fwoosh! Fwoosh! Boom!

She dodged a few times before shooting a fireball at point-blank range, yet the clone was able to dodge by tapping her foot on the ground, and a black wall appeared and took the blow in her stead.

"Ops! Gotta focus; this thing is becoming smarter and smarter as the fight goes on. I need to finish her in one blow." Eri said while turning her neck from left to right and popping it with a series of clicks in rapid succession.

"Time to go all out!" She declared and let go of her flaming red sword; it fell slowly toward the ground.

Clangs Crack! Boom

Upon touching the ground, the red sword produced a clangs sound before cracking and exploding into a crimson flame that covered Eri; standing amidst those crimson flames, she appeared like a phoenix undergoing a rebirth; it was truly a beautiful sight to behold.

Finally, it was Incursio turns to focus her attention on Eri; she gave her a passing mark; she was not the only one who got attracted to Eri's transformation, the main body saw it too, and although busy siphoning Alex's energy through a wild kiss, she was annoyed that those bugs were trying to survive instead of quickly dying, it had been a long time since she came out, as supreme being it was the duty of the lower beings to offer themselves as a sacrifice to their overlord. But sometimes kids don't know how to behave then it was the duty of the elders to teach them a lesson by putting them in their places.

The dark spirit possessing Eri's body didn't have too much time to waste before she came, so she did what she had done to deal with Incursio completely, she sent a small part of her energy into the other clone facing Eri, immediately, the clone felt tremendous strength filling her body to the brim it was like she got the ultimate orgasm, a third eye appeared on the forehead and opened.

Eri's transformation ended at the same time; beautiful red dress was wrapped around her slender figure, it clung so tightly on her body that her small breasts seemed alluring, her hair elongated, the end was burning with crimson flame, the symbol of fire phoenix appeared in the middle of her eyebrows, her eyes had a cross-shaped form in them.

The surrounding temperature increased alarmingly; it was so hot that the ground melted.

Suddenly, Eri smiled before she vanished; the clone frowned as she couldn't feel her presence at all; however, she was not flustered at all she immediately used her third eye, it was like an x-ray, she was able to see Eri coming from her right, the clone snickered and slashed in that direction, the sword was so fast that it created friction as it cut through the air.

Unfortunately, the result the clone had expected didn't come true because just as the sword was about to cut Eri in pieces, her figure swayed, the clone felt like her vision was blurred, almost as if she had a heatstroke.

Then she heard Eri's voice, she who should be in front of her appeared behind her and explained.

"You have lost since the beginning; this domain is mine; I control the heat, so I control everything."

Boom! Crack!

Eri punched the clone in the face; even though she managed to turn around and tried to block Eri's attack, the same thing which happened previously happened again; Eri's fist broke the clone's nose, black blood flowed out of it and she was sent flying.

Immediately, Eri made a drawing motion while looking at the flying clone, and from the air, the heat condensed into a flame hand that grasped the clone and slammed her onto the ground.

Bam! Kaboom!

"Armageddon Spear!"

Eri gestured with her fingers, and the surrounding heat converged to form a small four-meter long golden flame spear.

Swoosh!

Kabooooom!

A terrific explosion occurred that destroyed radius five kilometers surrounding Eri.

From the other side, Incursio was watching the fight so was the giant dark snake.

"Wow! Impressive, shall we get started?"

Chapter 626 - 602: The Black And White Swords

From the other side, Incursio was watching the fight so was the giant dark snake.

"Wow! Impressive, shall we get started?" Incursio asked with her head inclined to the side, she was not expecting anything when she said those words, but surprisingly she got an answer.

[Sure] The giant snake responded; although she had turned into a snake, the first clone still retained her gender.

"Wow! It talks!" Incursio said with a playful smile on her face, but unlike what was shown outside, inwardly, she was feeling nervous; she knew that this fight would not be an easy one. Still, she must fight, not because of some sort of obligation. Still, simply because it was fun this way, a fight where your chance of winning is lower than fifty percent, not even twenty percent, couldn't be more interesting; just thinking about crushing her opponent made her excited.

Swoosh!

Without saying a word as words were not needed in what was about to happen, Incursio disappeared, no she appeared to have disappeared.

The giant snake opened her mouth and spat a dark matter in the area where she believed that Incursio was; however, instead of seeing Incursio, the giant snake saw a white sword cutting through her dark venom, normally due to her breath corrosiveness, the white sword despite being a gift should have been damaged even it was a little bit, however, the white sword was spotlessly white.

It was then the giant snake understood that since the beginning Incursio had never moved, she was where she stood, she only moved her sword, the white sword which automatically masked her presence as the sword extended and cut the dark venom, the snake breath in two.

Hiss! Hiss!

The giant snake hissed angrily; she was angry because, from her perspective, Incursio did not take her seriously, so she shall make her pay the price of looking down on her.

Like a super rocket, the giant snake moved and arrived before Incursio; she was shocked but still calmly moved her sword; this time, she moved the black sword instead of using the white one.

Tuk! Bam !

When the snakehead, which was trying to bite Incursio's head off, touched the black sword, it got slammed into the ground next to her.

The snake was surprised she didn't understand what just happened as if she could see the confusion inside the snake's eyes; Incursio gently explained.

"You see, those two lovely swords are exceptional; the white one can hide my presence thank to my space element and extend to some extent and is extremely sharp while the black sword can absorb the enemy attack and reflect it; it's like the perfect counter. Well, there is a limit, I set the limit, and with these swords, I become complete." Incursio ended her explanation with a joke.

Hiss!

[Do you think it's funny?] The giant snake asked; she was furious; this small girl was still looking down on her.

[What were you expecting bragging openly about your swords? Expecting me to praise you or it was to make me afraid?] The giant snake became emotional all of a sudden.

"Hell no, I'm not a child. The reason I told you this is simply because I'm going to kill you." Incursio declared with a smile.

[How arrogant, with just those two abilities?] The giant snake snickered and immediately attacked; her attacks were faster this time as she already knew about the enemy's swords abilities.

Bam !

Incursio's small body was sent flying, and she coughed blood before slamming into a small mountain behind her back. The snake didn't give her any time as she attacked with her tail which was even faster than her whole body.

Swoosh! Slam! BOOM!

The snake's tail blasted the mountain into smithereens with Incursio small bearing the brunt of that attack, her arms were bent into odd angles, and she kept vomiting blood as her body slammed into the ground after flying through the air.

"Cough! Cough!" She kept coughing blood as her small chest rose and fell repeatedly.

Swoosh!

The giant snake turned into two meters tall, beautiful woman with a black dress, but this dress kept making a hissing sound as though alive; upon closer inspection, Incursio saw the black dress tightening against the tall woman whose pupils had turned into slits, there was a closed third eye in the middle of her eyebrows.

"How is it? Did your swords abilities you believed to be so extraordinary help you?" The tall woman mocked Incursio lying on the ground in a pool of her blood.

The tall woman who had expected to see despair on Incursio's face was shocked to see her smile; it began with a smile before evolving into laughter.

"Pft hahahaha, hahahaha."

"What is so funny?" The transformed snake stopped and asked as she couldn't understand why Incursio, who was clearly cornered, could still have the energy to laugh.

"Pft hahahaha! Cough! Cough! I'm laughing at how dumb you are. Well, I shouldn't have expected anything with that snake brain of yours." Incursio said while still laughing.

"What?"

The tall woman jumped back because she felt immense threat coming from Incursio as she said those words; it was a mistake because the moment that woman jumped back, the white sword lying on the ground appeared in Incursio's right hand, and something astonishing happened, Incursio's injuries vanished as they have never existed.

"What???" The tall woman was shocked by the unexpected situation happening before her.

"You see, I never said that my babies only have one ability; besides, I said that my sword makes me complete, meaning that I'm twice stronger once I use them," Incursio explained before a smile vanished from her face.

Gulp!

Unconsciously the tall woman gulped but quickly shook her head and attacked with a whip; this whip seemed alive, it was unpredictable not even Incursio armed with her two swords could deal with this whip's attacks, and soon her body was full of injuries, however, like the last she was healed using her white sword.

Incursio decided to finish the fight, she crossed her two swords, the tall woman appeared behind her, her whip curved and was attacking from the front while the woman was attacking from behind, it was not the end, two snakes appeared from the woman body and were about to bit Incursio, everything happened fast, the tall woman saw her victory until Incursio declared.

[Infinite Re- Petrification]

Boom!

Gray energy burst from the crossed sword and swallowed everything radius twenty meters around Incursio; the area was turned into stone. Incursio calmly walked out of this gray zone before kneeling.

Crack! Boom!

The petrified woman's body cracked and was turned into powder.

Chapter 627 - 603: Into Her World

While Incursio just ended her fight by killing the first clone, in Eileen's world Alex was about to give her his answer when she interrupted him with a joke.

"It's not like you really have the choice; you took my first time anyway."

"What?"

Just as Alex was about to ask Eileen what she meant, he remembered the dark spirit forcibly kissing him with Eileen's body; their wild kiss was still undergoing.

"Your joke is not funny, but well, I guess you are right. I don't have the choice I'm in. You want to use me, and I'll do the same. Let's get over it." Finally, Alex gave Eileen his answer, which made Eileen smile; she was happy to have gained an ally; with Alex's help, she would be able to get her revenge.

"Okay, with the last bit of strength I still have, I'll stop her momentarily; you will use this opportunity to break free not to escape but to go to your inner world where your Gift is. I'll send you there." Eileen explained what needed to be done, and Alex nodded.

"Let's do it!" Alex said, eager to finish things up; nobody would like to have his body toyed with even it was by a beautiful woman; Alex wasn't into S&M play, and he's not an M.

However, what Alex didn't expect was Eileen pouting; he was confused.

"Why are you still standing there for?" He asked, not understanding why she was acting like that.

"Sigh! You're not a gentleman at all; at least you should show concern about such a beautiful girl risking her life to help you. I may die, you know? Knowing this, don't you feel anything? Don't you have anything to say to me?"

"What?" Alex exclaimed; his face at the moment was a funny sight to behold.

Nevertheless, Alex finally understood that Eileen, although adult still has the mentality of a child, maybe it was because she spent most of her life indoor with little to no contact with the outside world that she didn't know that throwing tantrums like a five years child wasn't something an adult should do.

"Please give a break," Alex mumbled while massaging his forehead; even though he was in the soul form, he felt like he would have gone crazy if he didn't do this.

"Yeah! Yeah! I'm extremely anxious about our cute Eileen risking her life. She's such a brave girl. Let's get going." Alex said enthusiastically, but even three-year-old child could see that he was faking it, but even though she knew Alex was faking it, she was still happy because it showed that someone cared about her after her father and the great baba even it was fake.

"Unh! Let's go." Eileen said while wiping away her tears, and for a moment, Alex felt sorry for such a girl who had gone through so much but still had the will to smile; compared to his past self, she was really strong, and Alex had no trouble admitting this.

"You are really strong." He had said, and Eileen froze upon hearing those words, but she quickly regained her composure and smiled.

"You are strong as well, and because of this, I might leave you another gift before leaving," Eileen said before pulling out Alex from her world; he didn't get the opportunity to ask her what she meant before they disappeared from her world.

Outside, the main body was shocked by Incursio's move; obviously, she didn't expect her to win against her clone after the latter had received a boost from her. From what the main body could tell after analyzing the element used by Incursio, she concluded that her two swords might have served as an anchor for her to be able to use Infinite re-petrification, which she believed to be a mix between earth element, water, and wind element, without the two swords Incursio could not use this element, the central body hypothesis was right on the mark, indeed without her two swords, Incursio could not use the special element that let her petrify everything around her.

Just as the main body was about to say something after Incursio's victory, she was forced to stop because she felt discomfort spreading all over her body, starting from her inner world.

"What?" She exclaimed because her body momentarily stopped functioning, and Alex immediately used this to break free before doing something the doing something that shocked the main body; he kissed her back while putting his tongue into her mouth, the clueless dark spirit was shocked at first, but because began to respond clumsily, she became engrossed in this new sensation that she had forgotten that this might a trap.

Alex used the moment where the main body was distracted to enter his inner world and what he saw was endless darkness until a silver sun appeared. He landed inside a forest, and in the distance was a simple mansion; Alex immediately began walking toward that mansion; after walking for what seemed to be an eternity, Alex arrived before the simple mansion, it was a two-story mansion, and after repeatedly knocking on the door Alex got no answer. Still, because he didn't want to waste his time coming here, he walked forward and pushed the door open; the other side looked like a haunted house, Alex didn't hesitate before walking in, and the moment she did, everything around him changed he was brought into another dimension, a child chamber where Alex sad the small version of Silveria, the maids were taking care of her, today was a special day because of her father who often present was coming back today, she must welcome her. The scene changed to another one, Silveria waiting for her father in her princess dress while the other children wore extravagantly.

And when her father came back, he immediately embraced her sister, whom he lol loved more than anything; for the ten years old Silveria at that time, it was extremely hard to swallow; no matter what she did, she never succeeded in getting her father's attention, not even once, she did not remember how many times she had repeated this scene, not walking toward the future, she had thought that everything was finished until he appeared.

"Silveria, no Nemesis, I'm here for you."

Chapter 628 - 604: Full Spirit Possession 1st Form

"Silveria, no Nemesis, I'm here for you."

Alex's voice echoed through the whole world, and even the tiny Silveria hiding far away heard it; at first, she didn't wish to come out because she didn't know if this was a prank from her sister or other friends; however, it changed when the other party called her name again, this time the small Silveria understood that Alex had truly come for her.

"Nemesis, come out, we need to talk, I need your help," Alex shouted, and a few seconds later, a cute-looking small girl came out; it was the ten years old Silveria of that time; Alex observed this small girl before declaring.

"I need your help Silveria, as your master, I order you to assist me. I promise never to leave you behind, never let you feel lonely. You will be with me forever."

As if Alex's words were like the key to unlocking Silveria's true self, the small Silveria body burst into silver light before it disappeared, and in the place where the small Silveria, an adult version, came out.

"Fufufu! I know you will come. Welcome, Master, Silveria, your servant has been waiting." the adult Silveria said while she curtsied elegantly, holding the hem of her robe.

"Sil, stop joking, you know why I'm here; I want to know what you truly desire; I want to see whether or not I can fulfill this desire, and in return, I want your full strength. I want you to land me your strength; can you do it?" Alex asked in a serious tone, and Silveria looked at him for a moment as if she was thinking about what to ask.

It took her several minutes before she decided to answer Alex's pleas; she told him what she truly wanted.

"I want to live happily together with my sister."

"I see; I'll grant you your wish. To let you live happily, I'd need to get rid of your enemy. I swear to succeed if not may the heaven destroy my soul." Alex made a vow, the vow of making her sister and her live happily.

"Good, let's go but be aware that with your current ability, you can last a minute or so," Silveria warned before they left her inner world, and Alex, who heard her, nodded his head with a smile.

"I understand; it would be more than enough. I have never planned to win anyway; my goal is to delay her for the main dish to be served." Alex explained his goals, and Silveria smiled; taking Alex's hand, they left her inner world.

At the same time, the dark spirit controlling Eileen body finally understood that something was not right; she had been fooled; she immediately moved toward Incursio, who was still recuperating; even though she saw her coming, the real thing was beyond the clone level, so Incursio who was tired could not do anything. She was slapped flying; she vomited blood, Eileen under the dark spirit influence appeared before the flying Incursio and held her by the neck and kissed her, she couldn't do anything other than struggle, Incursio felt all her strength getting draining from her body and soon she was almost sucked dry before being tossed to the side.

Then Eileen, possessed by the dark spirit, moved onto another target, Eri was helpless as Incursio, and soon she was drained of all her strength before falling unconscious; all of this happened in an instant; Eileen was so fast that it was like she was using a body double.

Boom!

A huge amount of energy exploded from Alex body and pushed Eileen back before retreating into his body immediately; a change followed, Alex transformed, his black hair turned silver and elongated, his black clothes turned silver with black patterns on them, behind his head was a small silver ring spinning non-stop, the current Alex gave an otherworldly vibe, he seemed too strong that the surrounding space trembled just because he stood there.

"Full Spirit Possession: Nemesis Descent !" Alex declared.

If someone were to check Alex's status, they would be shocked to see how much it had changed.

Before Eileen could dodge Alex attack, he accel-ed before her; his speed was nothing like in the past, not even the strong Eileen could do anything about it; Alex slapped her across the cheek she was sent flying, but she immediately shifted her body midair and summoned a black scythe, however, before she could launch an attack Alex had already made his next move.

"Meteor bullets!" He had said while standing there doing nothing; however, suddenly, hundred silver guns appeared around him like phantasma, their muzzles pointed at Eileen trying to attack him.

Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!

Hundreds of bullets were shot toward Eileen, they were so fast that normal people would have been turned into minced meat; however, to Eileen, possessed by the dark spirit, was nothing but normal she grinned before moving the scythe inside her hand, a fight that would destroy half of the Desolate Forest was about to begin.

Chapter 629 - 605: Demi-God Appearance

Looking at the hundreds of bullets cutting the air and looking at a meteor shower, Eileen's lips curved upward into a smile as she spun her scythe.

Swoosh! Boom! Swoosh! Boom!

Every time she moved her scythe, an horizontal dark beam would be sent toward the incoming bullets, making them explode before they reached her; she dozen of those beams and was able to take care of the bullets easily.

Suddenly, she disappeared while her scythe was still taking care of the incoming bullets; she reappeared behind Alex and thrust her claws forward, intending to pierce Alex's neck from behind.

As if he had eyes behind the head, Alex pointed his gun behind without looking and fired.

Bang!

Just as Eileen, who had expected Alex to react even though he should have been caught off guard, leaned backward to dodge the bullet, she was shocked that the bullet was able to curve and went behind her back; she was completely caught off guard. As the silver bullet was about to touch her neck, she smiled, and in a hoarse voice, she said.

"I give you that, you're strong, that's why I'll take my time to crush you, like this, you'd be juicy enough." At the end of her speech, she licked her lips as though savoring a slice of juicy meat.

"But do you think you can take me down with such crude attack?" She asked before her body made an inhuman twist; it was like a snake with no bones, her legs were still facing the other side while her upper body was turned to the back, and she caught the white bullet trying to pierce her neck.

"I know, and I have never planned deal with you with such a crude attack; I have many means to deal with an opponent such as you," Alex said, and without looking back, he declared.

[Shadow Shift!]

"What?"

Before she knew it, Eileen had switched place with her scythe, and she didn't have the time to be prepared before the remaining bullets struck her.

Boom! Boom!

[Asura's Form!]

Alex did not wait for Eileen to come out before immediately using his strongest ability, a humongous Alex appeared, and like the original, he was dressed in silver form.

[Crimson Bullet!]

The avatar of Alex armed the big gun at Eileen still inside the explosion and fired a crimson bullet at her.

BAANG!

The giant bullet tore through the air, breaking space apart.

Kabooooom!

The crimson bullet was like a laser that cuts through the ground leaving a terrible gash on the ground; the ground was split in two.

Eri had lost consciousness and was sleeping soundlessly while Incursio, although weakened, could still move; she moved her heavy eyelids to look at the ongoing fight; she was shocked by how Alex was fighting.

"Impressive, he is like a different person, but I felt like he can't control this power yet because it's a temporary boost." As usual, Incursio was sharp; she could see through Alex's new transformation immediately.

"Hehehe! Hahahaha! Wonderful!"

Eileen was laughing and came out unscathed from the terrible explosion; it was like Alex's attacks were a joke.

For the first time since his transformation, Alex's confidence wavered, he couldn't believe what he was seeing, he had thought that with his combined attacks, he would be able to deal some damage to Eileen, but from what he was seeing, it was unlikely that he would be able to damage her easily, he must reevaluate her strength as the estimate he made was wrong, even Incursio lying on the ground was shocked; however, her shock turned into terror when she saw the full picture of Eileen who was unscathed even after taking Alex's avatar crimson bullet, she immediately understood why she was unscathed.

"Demi-god???" Incursio shouted, trying to raise even her upper body but failed miserably as she could not muster any strength; she was trembling.

Incurtio who always appeared confident, strong as if nothing could reach was currently trembling like a child because she just realized something, unlike Alex who was clueless about the being in front of him, Incursio was able to immediately identify Eileen current level because she faced such existence once in the past, their godfather, the one called master Thanos, he was was full fledged Demigod no maybe even more, the first time she saw him she immediately kneeled and worship him, she could not go against him, not in the slightest, all fibers of her being bow down to such extreme existence, it was her second time testing defeat, her first time was when she fought her brother and lost, that time she knew that she had lost because she was too arrogant and did not put too much effort unlike her brother and that she might be able to get her revenge if she worked diligently, however, upon encountering this being, the second in command Incursio tasted her second defeat, she could not even muster the single strength, it was like she had given up, image that you lost a fight even before fighting, this kind of feeling can be frustrating. In that instant, she knew that no matter what she did, she wouldn't be able to win against such a being, not at her current level. Even if she were to progress, this doesn't mean that the other party would not, that he would stagnate, waiting for her, like her he would progress, a kind of progress she who had not stepped into that level wouldn't be able to fathom.

It was her first feeling hopeless; Incursio was depressed for an entire month; the first time she faced a Demi-God existence ended up leaving a huge scar which took a long time to heal; she had never imagined facing such an existence on the lowest floor of the God's tower.

Finally, Alex heard what Incursio had said; he froze in place; he was so shocked that he asked again if Incursio was not playing a joke on him.

"Are you joking? A Demi-God on the lowest floor?"

To answer, Eileen attacked, and even with his heightened senses, Alex was still struck and vomited blood before falling into the ground; he destroyed several mountains on his way, the fight had evolved into another level.

Chapter 630 - 606: Ultimate Form

Eileen moved, and with a shrill shriek, her claws tore through the air and heavily slammed into the frozen Alex's chest, giving him no time to dodge.

BANG!

The impact sent him crashing on the thirty kilometers. The mountain behind him caved in and started to make a cracking sound before suddenly exploding.

BOOOOM!

"Cough!"

Alex coughed up a mouthful of blood. His chest and hands ripped open, and hot blood splashed out.

Alex ignored the pain as the impact sent him flying. He put his feet on the ground forcefully and stopped himself from dragging back any further. His gaze was focused in the front of him where Eileen stood after coming unscathed from his attacks; he gulped, it was an unconscious gesture, he felt nothing when staring at her as if she was a simple mortal, but Alex knew fully well that the current Eileen was far from being a mere mortal because no mortal could have that above her head. However, he didn't know what this meant as it differed from what he had behind his head. Alex knew that it was no way something a mortal should have.

[[She is beyond the normal Demi-God level, the current you can't handle her even with your transformation]]

Suddenly, Silveria, who had not said anything from the start, finally talked; it was not like she didn't wish to speak, but it was because she couldn't easily talk; she was the one helping Alex keep up with the transformation he had to undergo, if he let only him take care of it he would have been overwhelmed a long time ago, however because of the emergency of the situation she had no other choice other than using the little bit of energy she stocked to warn Alex about the gravity of the situation.

Surprisingly she was not the only one concerned about the situation, Nyx who usually doesn't talk much, spoke and suggested.

[[Sil, let him use your ultimate form; it's only by using it would he be able to survive this situation; I know what you're worried about but don't worry, I'm here; I'll deal with it.]]

Although Alex didn't not understand what the sisters were talking about as they loved to talk in a riddle, he quietly listened as he got the impression that he would eventually understand what they were talking about.

[[Geez! Big sister, you're always like this even back then; I don't care; I'll follow your suggestion, but what is different this time is that I won't let him lose anything.]] Silveria said and immediately started forming hand signs in her world.

Meanwhile, Nyx, chained against the black throne, smiled while thinking, 'I thought you said that you don't care, then why go to such length to him? My little sister can't be honest.'

If Silveria knew what her big sister was thinking, she would have shed tears saying that for the first time since millennia, her big sister had acted like a one.

Unaware of her sister's thoughts, Silveria immediately pulled Alex into her world. The two stood face to face; silence hung between them for two minutes before Silveria broke the silence by saying.

"Master, as I have told you, the current Eileen is at the Demi-God level, not your normal one. Did you see the six stars?"

Alex nodded as they were no way he would say that he didn't see them as they were obviously displaying for him to see.

Silveria nodded at his response; she knew they had too much time to finish her explanation before time ran out, so she continued.

"Those six stars represent the six different realms, namely the Beginner Realm, Master Realm, Grandmaster Realm, Saint Realm, Demi-God Realm, Peak Demi-God realm."

Silveria stopped before continuing,

"The current Eileen was closer to the fake God level; she is not existence the current you could hope to go against. Therefore my sister suggested that I let you use my ultimate form; with this form, you might be able to contend against Eileen, but-"

Alex cut Silveria mid-sentence and asked what she probably wanted to say.

"What is the price to pay?"

Silveria was shocked that Alex was about to easily catch up on what she wanted to say but recalling how smart he was, there was no way to be that surprised, so after suppressing her initial surprise, she explained.

"You will lose some of your memories, and you will be bedridden for two weeks. Even so, do you still want to use this form?"

Silveria had expected Alex to take his time to answer, but unexpectedly, he didn't hesitate to answer.

"I will do."

The reason for Alex not to hesitate was because he could feel Eileen closing in; if he didn't come out with a solution, he would die; no, they would all die, it was not like he was concerned about the others dying, but he didn't wish to die this early in the game, he was on the lower levels after all, if he could die so quickly on the lower floors then doesn't this that he would have no chance on the higher floors? So to persevere, he must not die on this floor.

"I'm the master of all creations; I govern."

"Ultimate Form: Silver Form!"

BOOOOM!

Eileen, who was slowly walking toward Alex, was forced to stop, she protected her eyes because of the terrible silver explosion surrounding Alex, and after the explosion died down, she was shocked by how strong Alex had become.

"Fufufu! That's about to get interesting.." Eileen mumbled while looking at Alex, who had turned completely silver.
