

Death Guns 691

Chapter 691 - Unexpected Surprise *

The culprit of the princess's current state checked what he had done.

As though she was a broken toy, Artemia shivered fiercely. Her body spasmed repeatedly, and her mouth let out a soft groan.

At the same time, a great amount of love juice gushed out of her moist cave.

Immediately Alex pressed his body against Artemia and took a deep breath. The feeling of her tight cave pressing against his member was amazing.

Each time her body shivered, he felt as though an electric current ran through his entire body.

Moreover, the expression of ecstasy on Artemia's face fed Alex's pride greatly.

When he felt the princess's orgasm start to fade, Alex started to move.

He hugged her waist and pierced her small hole fiercely. With each movement, he was forced deep into Artemia's narrow cave.

"Anh... Ohh~"

When Artemia felt his rod inserted inside her, the walls of her hole shivered violently, and an intense pleasure swallowed her mind.

"Agn... M-Master... S-Slower... Please..." Artemia hugged his body and pleaded in a low voice. She clenched her fist behind Alex's back and whined in pleasure.

Her two legs hung down weakly, swinging seductively each time his holy spear entered and exited her cave.

Alex smiled while enjoying her body. With a hand, he gripped one of her breasts while his mouth kissed her neck.

"Should I stop?" He asked teasingly.

The princess bit her lips and looked away in embarrassment. Her body, however, stuck to Alex's body as though she wanted to fuse with him.

Seeing this reaction, Alex grinned and thrust vigorously, sending his rod deeper inside Artemia's small hole, reaching deeper into her womb.

"M-Master... An... Umm... P-Please..."

These attacks were too fierce; Artemia gasped and groaned, unable to form a concise sentence.

Her body moved, following Alex's movements. Each time he thrust inside her, her pair of breasts trembled and shook, creating a beautiful image capable of sending any man into a frenzy

"Such a seductive body." Alex grinned with a teasing expression.

Suddenly, Alex had an idea, and the smile on his face became wicked.

"Now that I think about it, a servant should follow the desires of her master, right?"

Artemia, who was already lost in pleasure land, looked at Alex's eyes and nodded.

"... Then, what are you going to do if this master desires to play today's game again in the future?"

"... T-This servant will play this game again..."

"Good answer."

Alex was delighted with the princess's answer; he pressed Artemia against the bed, her bed raised high, he began to thrust harder and harder.

Love juices flowed out of Artemia's cave, drenching the bed below and flowing on Alex's testicles. A part of these love juices even fell on the ground.

Happiness, excitement, embarrassment. Various emotions hit Artemia's body and soul, making her groan repeatedly.

Before long, they switched positions again; this time, her slender legs were wrapped around Alex's waist, and her beautiful body was trembling violently as he pistoned like there was no tomorrow.

The princess moaned and gasped without stopping. She tightened her legs while seductively catering to Alex's movements.

Below there was a fierce battle while above, their tongues once more entangled in a long kiss, sharing their saliva.

"M-Master..." Suddenly Artemia whispered and hugged Alex's neck. Meanwhile, her little mouth slowly kissed his chest before moving toward his neck.

Alex replied but kissing her earlobe and accelerating his movements.

At this point, he could feel Artemia was close to her orgasm.

Immediately he knew she was about to come.

Meanwhile, the princess hugged Alex's body tightly while enjoying his constant attacks.

Each time Alex thrust, her body shook, and her breast trembled. At the same time, her mouth emitted soft soul-stirring moans that turned Alex on.

With her face flushed, Artemia put on a seductive expression. Her throat emitted stifled groans, and her eyelashes shivered in pleasure. Alex couldn't help but admit that this woman knew how to please a man; not only was she intelligent sharp, in bed, she knew how to stir her man's soul. It was a blessing to have such a woman moaning under him.

Alex chuckled because he could feel her entire body tensing up. It was obvious she was about to have an orgasm.

Feeling the changes in her body, he moved faster and faster, thrusting and thrusting as though he wanted to break her body.

Then, his penis reached her deepest part, touching the entrance of her womb.

Artemia's pussy tightened around his dick, then her love juices squirted out, drenching his penis.

"Ahhnn.....~"

She had reached a climax.

Alex looked at the princess's embarrassed expression while tasting the pleasure brought by her tight hole. Feeling her hot and sticky liquid escaping from her moist cave, he could not help but feel refreshed.

But although Artemia orgasmed, Alex did not. He was not planning to stop the enjoyment so soon.

Thus, he took a deep breath and waited until the afterglow of her orgasm faded out to continue with his attacks.

When Alex felt Artemia's shivering stop, he grinned and resumed his attacks.

"Ughnn..." Artemia gasped in pain and pleasure, and a slight frown appeared on her face.

"W-Wait a moment...." She spoke up.

"Huh? I did not hear you." Alex said like he didn't hear what she said, forcing the princess to reformulate her sentence this time.

"M-Master, wait...!"

Alex looked at Artemia for a few seconds before smiling and pulling out his stiff penis.

"Thanks..." She sighed in relief.

But it was too soon to celebrate.

Alex was not planning to stop, of course. Instead, he hugged Artemia's body and lifted her from the bed.

Artemia blushed and looked away. But at that moment, she felt that something was touching the entrance of her moist cave.

Instantly, she was hit by an ominous premonition.

It turned out that Alex's massive weapon was standing upwards in front of her slit.

Seeing her reaction, Alex grinned and adjusted Artemia's body before slowly letting it fall toward his spear.

"Uuuhhh..." Artemia let out a soft moan and put her head on his shoulders.

Meanwhile, his glans slowly slid inside her hole, separating her two delicate lower lips and breaking inside her sacred cave.

The princess was shocked. In the current posture, she could feel the size of his weapon more clearly. She had never thought it was this huge before.

For one second, she wondered how something so big could enter inside her.

At the same time, her body trembled in fright.

When Artemia felt Alex's massive weapon sliding inside her still sensitive body, she twisted her hips gently, trying to escape from his attack. But unfortunately for her, her body was still weak from her last orgasm; moreover, in the current posture, all the initiative was in Alex's hands.

In fact, he could reach her deepest part in one shot. It was he did, he attacked mercilessly, and they both orgasmed together.

As they were resting after the intense sex they just had, Alex heard Artemia chuckling before suddenly saying.

"You can come in."

He was first surprised by Artemia's words, but soon his surprise turned into a shock before a beautiful smile appeared on his face.

'This girl is the best..' He thought.

Chapter 692 - A Threesome 1

Alex was surprised by the unexpected visitor; how could he not? The person who entered was none other than Maria.

The black prince couldn't help smile, thinking about what her apparition meant. Maria was dressed in short see-through black negligé. She was barefoot as she walked forward strangely; the moonlight happened to pass through the window at that moment.

Under the faint moonlight outside the window, her feet seemed to glow with a crystalline radiance stolen Alex's soul. Artemia, who saw this, pouted, thinking you did not react so exaggeratedly when you saw me naked; she had already forgotten about the scene of her leaving the bath, and Alex stood there dumbfounded looking at her body.

"So, it was you were planning all along?" Alex asked with a smile.

Artemia and Maria exchanged a look before Maria asked.

"It's a surprise, or do you perhaps dislike our surprise?" She asked and arrived before the bed; with the flick of her fingers, the bed got clean again. Alex was not surprised as he knew there existed a spell like this.

As for Maria's question, there was no way he would dislike this kind of surprise as no sane man would not welcome a threesome. As surprised he was, he wanted what made those two to come up with this ridiculous idea because you must know that generally, it was the man that proposed this kind of thing, rarely women are the ones to take the initiative because they considered this absurd. Woman might accept sharing her man, but it doesn't mean she would be okay sleeping with him together with another woman.

So naturally, Alex wanted to know why Artemia and Maria, two strong women, would take the initiative for a threesome.

"Why did you decide to do this? Please be honest with me."

Artemia and Maria exchanged another look before chuckling; as Maria had said previously, Alex would want to know why they decided to do this, the answer was simple.

"It for the harmony of the harem," Artemia answered, and Maria nodded to show that it was indeed because of this reason they decided for this threesome.

Alex was shocked by the unexpected response, but after further thinking, he understood their decision does make sense. His imagination began to run wild. Maybe they will be a 4P next time? Maybe a 5P or 7P in the future? Just by thinking of this possibility, Alex's smile grew lecherous; he temporarily forgot about all his worries, his body which was accumulating side effects after he constantly used time abilities, began to heal at a fast rate.

None of those present noticed this change, only Silveria and her sister noticed this change; the former sighed in relief; she was wondering what to do in order to cure her master but who would have expected this unexpected solution would solve this problem?

Life is full of surprise; not only was he healing, but his power also seemed to be slowly awakening. While it would not completely awaken right now, in a few years, it would awaken. Silver and her sister couldn't wait to see what kind of power Alex would awaken, but for now, they should leave the pervert to enjoy himself; he deserved it; after giving one last peek at the debauchery that was about to start, Silveria shut down all her senses to rest.

Meanwhile, Alex imagined a bright future where he would have all his women together in the same bed, a bed so big that it would surpass everything that ever existed accel-ed. When he reappeared, he was already in the bed with a naked Maria.

Artemia didn't know whether to laugh or cry when she saw the current situation. To think this man would shamelessly use skills meant for a fight and escape for sex, only him would think of such an absurd thing.

On the bed, Alex used his fingers filled with mana to caress Maria's body slowly; she shivered intensely of pleasure; it was her first time experiencing this technique. She was quickly overcome by excitement; her breathing quickened. Using one of his fingers, Alex traced along her collarbone, making her shiver; he even did the same thing with his tongue before sending it into her earlobe.

"Anh!"

The pleasure was so intense that the ice empress melted and moaned loudly, Artemia who was shocked by how fast Maria was moaning, shuddered when she felt Alex's toe slowly caressing her legs naturally this toe was imbued with mana making the pleasure she felt increase two folds coupled with the fact that she had a recent orgasm, she was too sensitive. It didn't take long before she began moaning as well, and soon the room was filled with the sound of moaning.

Because of skillful Alex was, the two could not help but wonder if he had any previous experience before. But when they thought about it, it was only natural that he had this kind of experience as he was rich, a billionaire, a young one at that, besides buying expensive houses, cars, and other materials things he would organize parties where things like these this would happen, no wonder he was so skillful.

In reality, this deduction was not wrong; Alex did own a few expensive houses, cars, a jet plane he rarely used; he would often organize parties with his friends in one of his secret villas in L. A where many girls would be invited, and in the end, they would organize an orgy where things would turn wild with all kinds of play be it was normal sex or hardcore one, even S&M was included.

That time he had just made new friends; the one he was closer to among them was Stefan; he was like a brother to him. As a unique child having someone like that did him a lot of good, he lost his parents, apart from his grandma, only Stefan was there; he was rich but not at the level as him. At these parties, he would spend his money and deal with the problems that would arise later on as some of the girls invited would later try to earn a few bucks by claiming to have been violated; Alex was not really good with stuff like that, it was Stefan the one that dealt with those problems, he was so efficient that not even his grandmother never heard of anything.

Alex valued this friend greatly until that day when everything fell apart; it was after a party like usual. They thought he was sleeping after being knocked out by alcohol, but strangely he woke up in the middle of the night to go to the bathroom; he saw his friend stealing data from his supercomputer, a new project he was working on.

It was on the same night he heard how Stefan planned everything, he approached him, made him trust him, suggested those parties in secret villas he suggested to by because he didn't want his grandmother to be aware of this side of him.

Even those girls that later asked for compensation, saying they had been raped, were part of his plans. He did all of this to gain his trust; even the girl he started to go out with was sent by Stefan. This same girl was kneeling between Stefan's legs as he stole his data. He waited for this occasion.

Alex's world crumbled that every night, his heartbroken apart. He passed out, and when he woke up two weeks later, Stefan was gone with his program released; the world acclaimed him as a genius, he earned a lot of money. The man was ruthless and stole most of his money.

Alex watched all of this with dead eyes; only his grandmother was there to support him until he was back on his feet; he took revenge by activating the secret Trojan he left in his program just in case. In a single night, Stefan fell from heaven to hell with many debts while Alex released a revised version of this program, earning back what he had lost. He heard later Stefan committed suicide to escape from debt; whether or not this was true, Alex never checked as he didn't care about it. Since that incident, he couldn't make new friends because he was afraid of betrayal. Only after reincarnating in Mysthia did it change; while not completely, he was slowly changing, giving his trust to others again.

Alex, pleasing his girls, stopped after thinking about the past. He could not help but chuckle, the one that showed him the joy of threesome, even foursome was none other than Stefan, someone, he thought as a friend, no brother for almost four years but in the end, like the others, he placed on his road, he was after his money, after a program he was building since five years already. Like a fool, he fell for it and lost everything.

"Humans are scary!" Alex blurted out, making the girls frown; they finally came to their senses and saw they had stopped.

"What is the problem?" The princess asked while Maria seemed to have remembered something; she immediately connected to what Alex said and understood what was going on, not the whole story. Still, she understood that the current scene must have made Alex remember about the past, about that man. She squeezed his hand and declared.

"Don't worry, we are here to make sure that nobody ever betrays you again."

Her words shocked Alex, who did not expect Maria to see through him easily; he smiled, feeling blessed.

"Thank you. I believe in you. Let's continue where we left." He declared with a sinister smile; the girls shivered under his stare. Artemia was curious about what those two were talking about but decided to ask later; she had all the time in the world to learn more about Alex and the others. As for now, she knew one thing that is never to betray Alex or never let him suffer betrayal ever again.. What coincidence she also hates betrayal more than anything.

Chapter 693 - A Threesome 2*

Alex resumed his attacks; he unleashed the new technique he temporarily named pleasure fingers on the girls; their bodies twitched as they let out moan after moan.

It did take long before Maria had her first orgasm; Artemia soon followed. Alex grinned before placing Artemia on top of Maria; the girls didn't have the time to utter a word before he attacked.

!!!" Maria let out a long, loud gasp. She was still sensitive after her the soul-stirring orgasm she just had.

Alex grinned and watched how her body twitched below him. Then, he started my sprint.

Maria's insides were wet and moist, and her fleshy cave was very hot. Alex entered and exited it constantly, inserting his burning stick until her deepest insides.

The Ice Empress could not endure the pleasure, moaning loudly and hugging the princess's body above her.

The image of the ice woman and the princess hugging each other was incredibly exciting. Instantly, Alex's lust increased four hundred percent, and his movements became even faster.

Once and again, he attacked Maria, not letting her rest even for one second.

At that moment, Artemia finally woke up from her orgasm.

When she saw what was happening, she pouted and turned around, hugging Alex's back and kissing his lips.

"Master, I want it. Please don't forget me..."

Her words sent shivers down his spine, especially when there was someone else present; Maria widened her eyes, not believing what she had just heard but soon understood, to tame a man like Alex, you need to act docile, to have a secret weapon.

Maria immediately got an idea but decided not to use it for now.

Meanwhile, Alex hugged the beautiful princess back and sucked on her lips, tasting her delicious tongue and using his tongue to invade her mouth.

At the same time, he continued pounding Maria under him.

Maria moaned and groaned loudly, twisting her body and gripping the bedsheets. Each time Alex inserted inside her, her body would shake, and her breast moved up and down as though playing a tune.

Her insides were incredibly tight, and her sexy moans resounded in the room, stimulating the other two.

Under Alex's constant attacks, Maria's mind turned blank, and her mouth opened in a long groan that sent shivers to his spine.

He grunted and accelerated, reaching deeper and deeper inside her.

Eventually, Maria was unable to bear his attacks. Instantly, her toes curled, and her body tensed up.

"Anhh~ I'm Cumming."

Then, she shivered violently and cummed.

Alex grinned in satisfaction. As expected, sex like this is great. He had missed it.

But now that Maria cummed, it was time to change.

As though reading Alex's thoughts, Artemia.'

separated her lips from him and smiled. She then pushed Alex out of the princess and immediately sat on his thighs, pointing Alex's huge weapon to her fleshy insides.

"Master, it's my turn..."

With an innocent smile, the princess descended slowly, swallowing Alex dick centimeter after centimeter. She knew what she was doing; she was so skillful that Alex shivered in pleasure; he watched as his huge weapon opened her lower lips slowly, invading her moist cave. It was a beautiful sight to behold.

Alex grunted and enjoyed the feeling of penetrating her. He could feel how her tight walls pressed against his dick, wrapping around it tightly.

Such a feeling was heavenly. Almost making him cum faster, he couldn't allow that.

With a sigh, Alex hugged Artemia's body and started to thrust.

"Uhn... Ahn... Maste.... Master.."

Once more, the two combined their bodies, using their most intimate parts to communicate with each other.

Alex enjoyed every one of the princess sounds and expressions. Each time she moaned and groaned, and each time her eyelashes shivered, he felt incredibly excited, especially when she was calling him master again and again.

Her perfect body was dominated entirely by Alex, filling him the feeling of accomplishment. He kissed her chest, her soft neck, her sensitive earlobes, and her pink nipples.

And every time, Artemia quivered and shivered softly, gasping occasionally.

Soon, she was close to a new orgasm. Alex stared into her eyes with a smile and kissed her nose.

Then she said something unexpected.

"Master. I love you..." Artemia whispered.

Although shocked, Alex still responded.

"Me too."

He had no reason not to love such a girl. His feelings for her did really increase; he had no reason any declare how he felt when she did the same. Alex was the type of person never to say I love you lightly; when he said it, it meant he felt it.

Artemia was delighted to see that Alex also felt the same; she was afraid he would only smile at her sudden declaration; while she wouldn't have said anything, she would be hurt as her confession was not reciprocated; fortunately, it ended up well. She could see that Alex meant what he said; she could not be happier. She immediately gave him a sweet kiss filled with all of her love.

Alex reciprocated before speeding up his movements.

Once and again, he went in and out of her, bringing her closer and closer to her climax.

At the same time, he was getting closer as well. To make it perfect, he began to prepare himself to shoot his baby seeds inside her uterus.

When the princess's body tensed up, he smiled and pistoned thrice with his entire strength.

"Ohh! Master...!" Artemia shouted and shivered in pleasure. Simultaneously, Alex shot his hot white stuff inside her.

Then, her body lost strength and collapsed inside his arms.

Alex could not help but grin. This felt so great. There was no doubt about it.

But at that moment, Alex felt someone approaching, and the following words she said awoke the beast again.

Chapter 694 - A Threesome 3*

But at that moment, Alex felt someone approaching, and the following words she said awoke the beast again.

"Big brother, don't let me out of it. I'm ready again, so Big brother.."

Alex's dick that was limp after orgasm was back to life again like never before. He shivered; he had never expected that kind of attack from Maria; her big breasts were pushed against him while her hard erect nipples were poking him. When she said those words, her mouth was closer to his ears; he felt she was carving those words directly into his soul.

It was Artemia's turn to be shocked; she had never expected Maria to make that kind of move, she couldn't help but praise her ingenuity.

Meanwhile, Maria, who had said those words, felt embarrassed; she wished a hole would appear and would bury herself within it and never come back again. She just wished to tease Alex after seeing how he reacted when Artemia was calling him master; she had never thought that her words would have such an effect on him.

Almost without warning, Alex flipped Maria over, and his member pierced her pussy without hesitation, completely piercing her.

Maria took a deep breath. Her body froze for an instant before melting completely into Alex's embrace. Then, he started to attack her.

"Ahhnn... Big brother..." Maria moaned. She decided to continue playing. Alex was older than her by a few months anyway. It was not really a lie to call him her Big brother. She wrapped her legs around Alex's waist and started to move up and down to cooperate with his movements.

Their bodies became one as their lips joined in a kiss. Alex held Maria's body's tightly as he thrust inside her repeatedly, feeling the walls of her cave wrapping around his member and stimulating it.

"Naughty little sister, you are so tight!" Alex's grunted.

Upon hearing his words, Maria smiled and then tightened her cave even more than before, increasing the pleasure they were feeling.

"Ohh! Big brother... Deeper...!" Maria screamed and bit on his shoulder. Alex then put more strength on his waist and reached deeper than before, hitting the entrance of her womb with each thrust and causing Maria a slight pain.

Wave after wave of attacks overwhelmed the Ice Empress. It did not take her long to reach her second orgasm and then the third. When she reached her fourth orgasm, her body was already lying weakly on the bed, completely at the mercy of Alex's attacks.

"S-Stop... P-Please... Just one second..." Maria panted with a pitiful voice, but Alex continued piercing her mercilessly. When he finally felt my climax coming, he increased the speed of his attacks and invaded her sacred place faster and fiercer for one last thrust.

Then, Alex hugged her body and kissed her beautiful lips.

"Mmmnnhhh!!!"

With one last thrust, he pierced into Maria's pussy and shot all his white stuff inside her womb.

Then, he fell on her body.

"Huff... Huff... Huff..." Maria closed her eyes and panted. She caressed Alex's hair gently and sighed in satisfaction.

"So good, Big brother. I wonder if you can keep up?"

"Oh? Is it so?" Alex muttered with red eyes; it was like mad bull eyes. Men hate to be underestimated more than anything, especially men like Alex, who was proud of their stamina.

The princess looked at Maria with pity.

"You shouldn't have said that." She said, but all Maria did was smile, making Artemia frown.

'She did that intentionally.' the princess concluded after seeing Maria's smile.

Meanwhile, Alex understood that Maria was intentionally provoking him. He decided to teach her a small lesson.

Slap!

Auuu!" Maria groaned. Her legs shivered due to the pain. Alex had lifted her ass and began to spank her.

She was too shocked by the sudden turn of events.

But before her mind could process what was happening, another burst of pain assaulted her butt.

Slap! Alex's hand hit Maria's ass, leaving behind a big red mark.

"Uuu..." Suddenly Maria moaned pitifully.

"You are a bad sister, huh...."

Slap!

"Uuuu..."

Slap!

"Big brother Alex, please..."

Slap!

"P-Please..."

Slap!

"Ahhh...~" Maria's legs buckled due to the pain. Every time Alex's hand impacted her ass, she felt something strange was invading her mind.

Strangely, her pussy had turned wetter after being spanked by Alex.

At some point, she even began to confuse the pain with pleasure. Each time Alex's hand hit her ass, she felt an almost orgasmic pleasure going through her body.

It was as though an electric current was stimulating the most pleasurable zones of her body, making her unable to resist Alex's punishment.

"You are a lascivious bad sister, huh..." Alex breathed seductively in her ear. Maria shuddered. Hearing the words whispered by Alex almost made her climax.

The pain, the pleasure, and the feeling of being dominated by the man she loved overwhelmed Maria's mind. Her resistance had been reduced to moans and groans of excitement.

Her crotch was itching painfully. She wanted to be invaded by her Alex.

Maria tried to bring her hands to her crotch but stopped midway.

"Oh? It looks like my little sister is a bit uncomfortable." Alex teased.

"Big brother... Please stop...~"

Alex smiled and raised his hand again.

Slap!

After giving her one last spank, Alex pushed his waist forward.

"!!!" Maria opened her eyes wide. Her body shivered once more, and her mouth opened in an 'o' shape due to the feeling of her cave being invaded.

In the next second, Alex started to piston. He used all his strength in each thrust, reaching the deepest part of Maria's cave.

"Big brother...~" The Ice Empress screamed.

At that moment, Alex spanked Maria again. Instantly, her body stiffened, and her cave clenched Alex's rod.

"Ugh!" Alex groaned. He then used even more strength to face the stronger pressure coming from Maria's cave. The pleasure he was feeling instantly shot up to the next level.

"Alexia...!" Alex grunted and grabbed her waist. With one hand, he continued spanking Maria's ass, and with the other, he was holding her waist.

"Ahhh...~ So good...~" Loud moans continued coming from Maria's mouth.

Artemia, who was watching, soon became aroused again; she could not help but speed up the fingers touching her cave when she heard those moans.

Alex's thrusts and Maria's moans continued for a long time. Each stroke of Alex's dick would stimulate Maria's cave, making her tighten her cave around him.

Soon she was ready to cum again; Alex was also close, he accelerated his movements, and they cummed together. Just as they were done, Artemia assaulted Maria with a kiss. The night was still young.. That night they enjoyed themselves like there was no tomorrow.

Chapter 695 - Ares Dungeon 1

The following morning Alex woke up feeling completely refreshed, almost as if he had been reborn. Sleeping beside him were two beautiful creatures he would stop at nothing to protect.

Because he didn't wish to wake them up yet, Alex silently left the bed.

After freshening up, Alex stepped into the hall for breakfast. There, Gracier, Alice were sitting with the others.

"Good Morning, everyone."

"Good Morning, Big brother."

"Morning! Alex."

Everyone responded as though they knew what happened last night; none asked why Maria and Artemia didn't come down. However, fifteen minutes after Alex appeared, Artemia and Maria stepped into the hall as well; they looked more beautiful than usual. Together the family ate their breakfast before departing.

On this floor, you don't have to take a mission to ascend; this floor was like a SafeZone where anyone could rest before continuing. The group boarded a big airship that took them to the smallest island, where a teleportation gate was awaiting them.

"I wish I could have stayed a bit longer," Eri mumbled while giving the airship one last glance; everybody knows why she said those words; she got enough of playing in the sky.

"Let's go!" Alex said before turning around, paying the entrance fee, and walked into the golden portal, the others also did the same thing, and soon they disappeared into the golden portal.

When the group reappeared again, they were in the middle of a bustling city square.

"Where is this?" Alex wondered while checking his surroundings when suddenly his heart started pounding.

Ba-----dump!

Ba-----dump!

Maria was the first one to notice that something was not right as Alex stood there clutching his chest, and his breathing was rough.

"Alex, what is the problem?"

Finally, the others noticed the abnormality; they immediately helped Alex toward a nearby bench after seeing that he could not walk independently.

Fifteen minutes later, Alex was back to normal again; his back was drenched in sweat.

"How are you feeling?" Maria asked, worried.

"Don't worry, I'm fine. I feel something. The thing that called me into this tower must not be far from here."

The girls were surprised, but they didn't probe any further.

"Noire, take Alice with you, and you two will go search for the other. Meanwhile, Eri, Eris will form a team to search in the vicinity. Lilith, Maria, and Artemia will form another team. Gracier will be with me. Apart from Noire and Alice, the others rendezvous here in five hours."

The girls nodded, and the teams were quickly formed, with Noire and Alice leaving first, followed by Eri and Eris, then Maria and the two princesses.

Alex and his sister were the last to leave. They searched for any trace of their friends for hours, but unfortunately, they found nothing. Like this, five hours passed in a flash, and now they were back at the rendezvous point.

"We found nothing." Alex declared and judged by the other's expressions; they also didn't find anything.

"Ah! Well, at least we acquired some information. This city is called Ares."

"Like the God war?" To lighten the mood, Eri asked with a smile, and the others nodded.

"There is a high-level dungeon outside of the city, in the no end forest. It is where most people are. While we found nothing here and even in the vicinity of the dungeon, maybe it will change if we enter the dungeon. It would be difficult; it's said that you need to conquer at least five floors before leaving, and the most dangerous thing about this dungeon is that it would send people to a random floor. Should we try? The rewards are extremely generous, people say."

"If it's dangerous, then it will be fun. Big brother, let's go; maybe sister Luna, or big brother Leon is waiting for us inside the dungeon." Gracier was eager to enter this dungeon; exploring a dungeon together with her brother would be fun; there was no doubt about it.

"You are right; we searched everywhere except in the dungeon. I'm also itching for some action. Why not go for dungeon conquering? Who knows how deep we can go."

"Yay! Big brother is the best." Gracier jumped on Alex and kissed him on the cheek. The others couldn't help but smile, seeing her so happy.

After sending Noire and Alice a message telling them to join them once they found something, Alex and the group departed toward the dungeon; this dungeon had the same name as the city, the Ares Dungeon.

At the same time, a young man with golden hair and an eye patch walked into the Ares Dungeon; he wore a glove that covered his entire arm, a white glove, and his hand was a black sword.

Twenty minutes later, Alex's group arrived, and after paying the entrance fee, they entered the dungeon. After passing through the first-floor door, the group appeared in the middle of a forest.

Rustle! Rustle!

Immediately after they appeared, they heard a rustling sound, and before they knew it, they became surrounded by a group of lizardmen.

"Wow! Eager to die, are we?" Gracier said before cracking her neck. She immediately attacked by sending a fireball forward; Maria also attacked by sending an ice ball.

Red and blue light burst forth, creating a powerful shockwave. The surrounding lizardmen soldiers could not withstand the shockwave, and the ones closest to them were torn apart. Those who were slightly further away were sent staggering.

Unfortunately for them Alex and the others were already before them; because it was a long time since he used his knives, Alex didn't use his guns. However, his knives, the level 90 lizardmen, were massacred instantly; those still hiding in the back thinking of sneak attack fled in fear.

"Let's follow them; maybe we will find something interesting," Alex said before kicking the ground and shooting forward like a missile.

Not to lose, Maria and Artemia also shot forward like a missile, chasing after Alex.

"How childish!" Eri mumbled but still chased after them; Eris couldn't only shake her head, thinking that this girl was not honest with herself.

Chapter 696 - Ares Dungeon 2

Somewhere in the Ares Dungeon, Leon was fighting against a group of humans. Those humans had tricked him and slaughtered an entire village, they put the blame on him, and people began hunting him. He ran away until he finally knew where those responsible for his current situation were.

Leon was furious, slaughtering innocent people for a random reason. He broke the neck of one of the last survivors of the despicable group that caused him to be hunted.

"I wish I could torture you for eternity, but I don't have the time for that."

Leon said as he turned around.

"Don't worry; I will send you a leader to join you soon."

The last survivor, the leader of the group's pupils, dilated as at the exact same moment, Leon appeared before her and grabbed her head.

Bam!

He thrashed her face into the ground, leaving a huge imprint on the ground. Before she could release a cry, he pulled her out and tossed her into the air. He followed her in the air, his hammer crashing into her belly.

Her mouth fell open, and blood sprayed out.

She tumbled to the ground, her body convulsing with pain.

"Ple...please spare me!" The leader begged. The pain had wiped out her madness, replacing it with the sensation of approaching death. She regretted having angered this madman; at first, they had thought he was naive and used him but facing him right now, she was scared beyond words

"And why would I do such a thing?"

Leon asked as he slowly approached her like the God of death.

"P... Please don't kill me; they are just data anyway. They will resurrect shortly after, so why are you angry over them?" The woman asked, confused; she came from a world people believed Exodus was just a game; her world was like Earth, where games are popular.

Leon, who was walking toward the leader, froze in his steps.

"So, they are just a bunch of data?" He asked. The leader nodded, thinking maybe she would be able to survive; she only had one life left, she was still had not completed her mission.

She must collect a lot of data to bring back. Scientists from her world were thinking of a way to recreate Exodus; their world was dying, slowly getting corrupted by the black energy which appeared five years ago. The scientists' goal was to create a similar world, a world made of data where they could live after converting their souls into data. This project has existed since hundred years ago; the phenomenon from five years ago just accelerated it.

Erasing a whole village was a part of this mission; after they did this, they would hide and observe how the world would react, how faster the respawn of the villagers would happen; unfortunately, this might look like a game, it was not one, the residents of Exodus were all living beings. Only some exceptional Boss in the tower could revive after dying; it was not perfect immortality either; once they reached the numbers of death, they would be gone forever.

Leon understood that the villagers were living beings, not data like this woman claimed. This infuriated him to no end; he decided to use the ability he vowed not to use if necessary because it corrupts his nature.

The woman who was thinking maybe she would be able to survive froze, she started trembling because Leon's eyes were now devoid of any emotions, if previously his face was cold it carried a bit of emotion, anger but the current Leon's eyes were devoid of any emotions, literally no emotions, no anger, no hatred, nothing.

"Nooooooo, please don't come any closer." The woman began to shout as if she had seen the devil. Leon ignored her and muttered.

"Hell Soul Flame!"

A black flame darker than the night itself appeared; the moment the woman saw this flame, she saw death, not death inside Exodus but real death, and she was not going to wait for it to come to take her. Although gravely injured, she still mustered the bit of strength she had shot toward her left; however, just as she was about to leave, a black flame covered her whole body. First, she felt nothing, but suddenly she screamed, a scream that sent a chill down to Leon's spine.

"Ahhh!"

She was not burnt, at least not physically, but her soul was erased forever from the universe.

Leon frowned because he sensed a familiar presence hiding nearby, to help himself buy some time, he said.

"Why not come out now that you are finally here?"

Nobody answered; Leon continued after secretly drinking a stamina and mana recovery potion.

"Are you perhaps afraid of me?"

Finally, there was a response.

"Hahahaha, Leon, you are sure a funny one. Who is afraid of you?"

Leon furrowed his brows, but when he saw the identity of the other party, he burst into laughter.

"Hahahaha! Who is it if it not the traitor?"

Leonardo frowned upon hearing those words but still said nothing.

It was him, the person who entered right before Alex, and the others entered the dungeon. Ares Dungeon was known for being hard and unpredictable; you could be sent to a random floor after passing through the first-floor door; it was exactly what happened to Leonardo. After walking into the first floor and killing a bunch of monsters, he was sent here; it was a nice surprise he would use this beastman to vent some of his frustrations.

As if he could read through his mind Leon chuckled.

"You know, after what happened back then, I wanted to have the chance to fight you, to make you pay. Unfortunately, I didn't get the opportunity until now that is. I don't believe in God, but I thank him for this wonderful opportunity. Now I can vent."

Leonardo frowned before bursting into laughter.

"What a coincidence. I also feel the same. I will kill you." He declared with releasing a bit of killing intent.

Although shocked, Leon was still calm; he knew if he asked him how many people he killed to have killing intent so heavy, he would not answer, but there was a question he wanted to know.

"Tell me, what is the deal between you and Alex?"

Leonardo's body trembled for a second, even if he immediately hid it by acting as though nothing had happened.

"I don't know what you are talking about."

Naturally, he denied having a deal with Alex, but Leon already got his answer.

"I See.." It was all Leon said after Leonardo's denial; the latter frowned, worried but soon discarded his worries; he needed to crush Leon, an epic fight was about to begin.

Chapter 697 - Purgatory Vs Lionheart 1

The reason why Leon asked that question was because the timing for Leonardo's jailbreak was unusual; it happened shortly after Alex visited him. It was unknown what those two talked about, and later Leonardo escaped.

Leon had the feeling that there was some kind of deal between those two; he was not curious about this deal but rather wanted to know if there existed a deal in the first place, so he probed and unexpectedly got the answer he wanted.

Leonardo knew he had fallen into Leon's trap, but there was nothing he could do after it happened.

Although he made a blunder, it doesn't matter as he believed that Leon wasn't the type to blabber. He must concentrate on what was ahead. He must beat this man; he was one of the causes of his sufferings.

Without hesitation, Leonardo unsheathed his sword, and the next moment it was already before Leon's face; his eyes widened; Leonardo had progressed more than the last time they fought.

Although he was surprised, he could still deal with this level of attack; Leon moved, he summoned a hammer to block the blow.

Clangs !

At the same time, with his free hand, he shot a fireball toward Leonardo's stomach; he was sure at least to deal him some damage because the timing was perfect.

Boom! Shiing!

Unexpectedly Leonardo was able to cleanly cut the fireball aimed at his stomach into two before they were extinguished.

Leon's jaw almost hit the ground; the surprise this time surpassed the previous one. He had never heard of Leon being a dual wielder; what shocked him was the fact that he seemed proficient in wielding a second sword.

"Getting distracted in a fight is like an insult to your opponent." Leonardo's reached Leon's ears before he was attacked by two swords.

Leonardo was surprised that Leon could still calmly respond to his attacks now that he switched to two swords style. He thought he was distracted because of him, but unexpectedly Leon's senses were sharper than usual, making things difficult for him.

"Time to get serious." Leon declared before suddenly the golden bracelet around his left wrist melted into liquid metal form; this liquid instantly covered Leon's body to form an intimidating golden armor. Leon's height increased to almost three meters (9.8ft). The Lionheart crest was on the golden armor, a roaring lion.

Leonardo immediately crossed his swords, switching into a defensive posture. The transformed Leon sent a punch forward.

Bang!

Leon's huge fist blasted through the air like a bullet; Leonardo knew if he didn't reinforce his defense, he would suffer an injury; golden mana pulsed from his body to form lightning armor on top of his body, hoping to reduce the amount of damage he would receive, then arrived Leon's punch.

BOOOOM!

Leonardo's breathing stopped; he felt like he had just been hit by a heavy truck, his mouth felt opened, and blood flowed out.

Crack!

He was sent flying. What followed was a beat down on scale Leonardo never went through.

Leon was mercilessly pounding him as if he was its personal punching bag.

Leonardo was rendered completely helpless. His right hand was useless, and the bones in his left hand were about to break.

His forehead was bleeding heavily, and his vision was impaired. He was vomiting a little blood, which meant nothing good.

Meanwhile, his hits could barely dent the near-indestructible armor Leon was wearing. They were not completely ineffective, but it was far from enough to change the outcome.

Seconds ticked by, and the situation only became worse. The bitter truth was he was being completely outmatched.

Leon was merciless; he beat Leonardo, not giving him the time to counterattack properly.

Suddenly, Leonardo took a hit in the jaw; he flew through the air, his consciousness becoming even fainter as he landed heavily on the ground.

Laying down and looking at the beautiful blue sky through his blurry vision, Leonardo, for the first time, entertained the thought of giving up.

He felt so tired. None of his muscles moved the way he wanted them to; no part of his body didn't hurt.

He wondered if everything he had done were nothing. Leon gave such a suffocating presence that it was hard to think they were evenly matched a few seconds ago. He had heard about this special armor from the organization; it was said that it was the heirloom of the Lionheart family, only those the emperor had this armor. His superiors warned him that he must not recklessly fight against the owner of this armor. This warning was just in the case, the current emperor lent his armor to his son, but who would have thought that the emperor would really give this armor to Leon?

"I was unlucky since the beginning," Leonardo mumbled while coughing blood.

'I have done my best. One of how executives were beaten senseless because of this armor. He said I might die if I face Leon wearing this armor with the same level as me, but I guess I can be considered as passing because I'm still alive, although in a wretched state I'm still alive.'

'Should I give up?' Leonardo, who could not defend himself under the barrage of Leon's punch. The golden armor Leon wore had the special effect of suppressing those with the same level as him, plus the armor would create a special gravity domain to make it impossible for the other party to move freely. There was a downside; the armor consumed too much mana while only those with the Lionheart bloodline could use it.

So from the start, Leonardo had a little chance of winning, not after being caught off guard.

Meanwhile, Leonardo, with a blurry vision, was thinking about giving up.

'I should give up!' His inner self whispered to him.

As if!

Did his best? Satisfied? What was that bullshit?

It didn't matter how much he did his best. Failure was still a failure, and it was something he refused to accept.

He did not want to lose. He refused to lose. He refused to be satisfied with mediocrity.

So what if it hurts?

He just had to bear through it.

So what if his body was broken?

He just had to heal again and again as much as necessary.

So what if his body wasn't strong enough?

He just had to discard...

'Why do you act as if you were a human?'

His heart missed a beat. He somehow finally understood something that had always eluded him.

"Hahaha... So that's what she meant, that little devil."

A small laugh escaped him as he fought the pain and stood up with difficulty.

His previously listless eyes filled with renewed light and battle thirst.

He now understood what he had been missing all along.

Somehow, he was still holding himself back; somewhere deep in him, he didn't completely accept the idea that he had switched sides, even if it was because of a reason. A good actor would sacrifice anything to play the role that had been assigned to him; only then would you be considered as a good actor. He was playing pretend but not completely.

'Why was I hesitating? Because of them?' Leon thought of a few faces; he missed them, but he quickly shook his head; the reason for his hesitation wasn't because of them; it was simply because he was afraid, afraid of being swallowed by this power. It was somewhat ironic when you think about he wished for power, an overwhelming power capable of trampling on Alex, but the first thing he did upon receiving this power was to seal it away, afraid of it unconsciously.

'Time to change and embrace it wholeheartedly.' Leon mumbled inwardly while outwardly, he wore an evil smile.

Seeing Leonardo smile with a bloody mouth, Leon jumped back. He felt as if thousands of ants were crawling on his body. For the first time since the start of the fight, he felt that he was about to lose control of the situation.

'Whatever he is doing, I can't let him continue.'

Leon wasn't the kind to stay put and watch as the enemy completed some kind of transformation.

He unleashed his domain; the surrounding temperature increased while lightning bolts descended from the sky and struck the ground leaving a terrible wound there.

Flame and lightning combined and struck Leonardo's location.

BOOOOOOM!!

With the booming sound of an explosion, a blinding light occupied everyone's vision before a mushroom of dust rose so high in the sky that it could be seen from several kilometers away.

The very atmosphere seemed to be repulsed as a shockwave spread apart from the point of impact, covering several kilometers and absolutely destroying everything in its wake.

The air burned, the wind stirred, and all sounds in the space of the explosion vanished, replaced by a silence full of devastation and destruction. It was like the aftermath of a nuclear explosion.

When the explosion finally stopped, all that could be seen was a hundred of meters deep crater and a man standing in the middle of it

Chapter 698 - Purgatory Vs Lionheart 2

Leon had expected to finish the first with that attack, but on the contrary, Leonardo did not suffer damage as he expected. Normally even though he didn't die, he should have at least been seriously injured.

Alarm bells began to ring in his head. Leon knew he must escape from here, the current Leonardo was too dangerous, the feeling he was giving off was ominous, dark aura surrounded his body before forming some unique tattoo, half of his face was covered in those unique black tattoos, they were wriggling as though alive. Leonardo's original hair turned dark and elongated; two horns appeared on his head while something that looked like a dragon's tail appeared on his rear. A row of vicious-looking small spikes on his back and the long spikes on his tail that was gently swaying with the wind. The tip of his tail looked like the point of a spear and gave a dangerous vibe.

Leonardo clenched his fists; they made a cracking sound; he could feel the immense power they contained.

"So, it's how it's used," Leonardo muttered under his breath.

"It's not even the complete form yet. I can't drag this fight for long, forty seconds; at best, one minute is my limit." He added.

He then lifted his head to stare at Leon retreating at extreme speed; he didn't blame him, facing the unknown better retreat to better prepare; there wasn't anything shameful about this.

But unfortunately, he would not let him leave; it was time for payback.

Leonardo slightly tapped his foot on the ground before vanishing.

Suddenly, Leon, retreating, saw a golden light flash past him. It was so fast that he was shocked.

'Wha-?!'

Before he understood what happened, a claw grabbed his head and sent it toward the ground; because he was trying to reduce the amount of mana he had, he temporary canceled the golden armor, it was because he didn't have perfect control over the Lionheart yet, normally he should be fast, extremely fast after wearing the armor but because he had yet to have perfect control over the armor it was flawed. It was why he suffered Leonardo's attack.

"Argh!"

All it took was one blink, and the side of his face was already kissing the ground.

The pain felt so vivid that he saw stars.

Managing to summon a sword, he controlled it to chop at the claw. He did not believe that she would be able to make a deep wound, but all he needed was a window of opportunity. Sadly, the moment the sword came in contact with the target-

Clang!

Far from leaving a shallow wound, it could not even leave a scratch. Still, it seemed that his goal succeeded since he stopped and he managed to escape from his claw

Leon's eyes widened in the next moment because Leonardo's claw arrived before his face.

Bang! Clangs!

This time he was able to react; he covered his face in a golden helmet, but he still felt the aftereffect of the attack, he was sent flying, he used this opportunity to distance himself from Leonardo, he could feel that he didn't have much time left before this unknown would be gone. While others would have decided to play the game of hide and seek until Leonardo ran out of time, Leon would not do that; after tasting a few punches, and having a few of his bones broken, his face almost ruined, he knew how strong the current Leonardo was, Peak Saint Realm. He was not unbeatable; the current could be the stone that would sharpen him.

Leon calmed down and checked his remaining MP; half was gone.

"It would be barely enough." He mumbled before sending the mana his heart while shouting.

"I, Leon Lionheart, the next emperor of the Lionheart Empire, hereby declare that I'm ready to take on the mantle of the emperor to lead you to glory. Answer my call, Lionheart."

Leonardo, who was approaching Leon, froze; it seemed like time had stopped before a mighty roar shook the whole area.

"Roarrrrrrrrrrrrr!"

A roar so mighty that it was equal to that of a powerful dragon, fifty meters tall golden lion with wings appeared behind Leon before morphing into a streak of golden light that bathed Leon's body, then the illusionary image of a man sitting on a golden throne holding a beautiful longsword. Strangely this man seemed to be the adult version of Leon.

Everything happened too fast, in three seconds at most. Leon stood proudly with his eyes closed; he wore a golden imperial robe with a golden crown on top of his head, his eyelids quivered before his eyes were forced open; they shone in golden brilliance, so beautiful that it was captivating.

"Sword!" Leon ordered, and the same golden longsword Leonardo previously saw appeared inside Leon's hand, and he vanished.

BOOM!

The next moment Leonardo was sent flying, he glided across the ground, his claw was bleeding profusely, looking at his blood dripping. Leonardo chuckled before summoning a black sword, and the two began to exchange blows.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Every single of their blows would create an explosion that destroyed their surrounding; they evenly matched, they both knew they were at their limit, they must end the fight in their next exchange.

Leonardo gathered the bit of mana and sacrificed a bit of life essence to open the gate of hell.

"Purgatory!"

Swoosh~!

Suddenly, the whole area turned pin-drop silent and turned blinding dark. Every source of light lost its function.

A black door appeared behind Leonardo from which a giant skeleton walked out.

Looking at the skeleton twice his size emanating death, Leon was calm as the surface of a clear lake.

Lifting his arm, he declared.

"Imperial Decree: Man's fall!"

Nothing expectational happened except for the longsword disappeared. Leon clutched his fist and punched the air in front of him. Leonardo was about to smirk when his expression immediately ordered the giant skeleton to attack.

The giant skeleton also sent a punch forward; Leon's small fist increased in size, not falling behind in size before beastman and skeleton fist clashed.

KABOOOOOM!

It is as if what happened previously had been repeated but on a larger scale.

The air burned, the wind stirred, and all sounds in the space of the explosion vanished, replaced by a silence full of devastation and destruction. It was like the aftermath of a nuclear explosion.

When the explosion finally stopped, all that could be seen was a one-kilometer-deep crater spanning nearly five-kilometer.. That explosion had been of an intensity that had never happened before; Leon and Leonardo were nowhere to be seen after the explosion.

Chapter 699 - Ares Dungeon 3

Meanwhile, back to Alex's location. Together with the girls, they followed the lizardmen running away until they stopped a few meters away from the lizardmen who stopped before a cave; after making sure that nobody was following them, they snuck into the cave.

Alex did not immediately follow them in; he first used his Divine Sense to check whether it was a trap or not; fortunately, it was not a trap; it was safe.

"Let's go in." He suggested, and the girls nodded. They walked into the cave to be shocked because there was another world on the other side; it was as if the cave entrance was a door to the other side, to a new world.

There saw mountains in the distance, flying beasts in the sky; the sky was a beautiful blue.

"Where is this?" Eris asked, confused, one moment they were running in a forest, they saw a cave they entered it and the next moment they were inside this wonderful place. The others were also shocked as she was only Alex, and Lilith frowned, the former aimed his gun in a certain direction before letting a bullet loose.

BANG!

The crimson bullet tore through the air destroying everything on its path, and soon there was the sound of something breaking apart followed by a wail.

"!!!!!!!"

Gracier, Eris, Eris, Maria were startled; they hurriedly looked around them, they were horrified by what they saw, the beautiful scenery was no more, it was replaced by a graveyard, a graveyard of bones, there were even some fresh ones sparkling like a gem.

"Those are the lizardmen's bones?" Gracier asked while stepping back.

Alex calmly nodded; the group finally understood; those lizardmen who attacked them and the remaining that entered this cave were under someone else control, and that scenery they saw earlier was an illusion, a high-level illusion that could even affect Maria. It should be known that she was immune to most illusion-type magic, so for an illusion to work on her, it must be a high-level one.

Finally, the culprit of the situation emerged from under the bones.

"Rarr! How dare you to run my beautiful face. I will kill you."

The thing that shouted those words was none an Arachne; half of her face was in a mess because of the crimson bullet.

"Tch! I hate spiders." Gracier spat out the moment she saw the spider, the Arachne.

The Arachne was furious, she shouted furiously.

"You whole family is a spider."

Lilith and Maria, even Eri and Eris exchanged a look; they had the same thought.

'She is will suffer hell.'

As expected, the Arachne's comment angered Alex; he knew he shouldn't but being compared to a spider was not something nice. As the others thought, he would make this arachne suffer.

"Please take care of the other monsters," Alex instructed before disappearing. As he had said, a few monsters were lurking in the darkness, spiders and others monsters.

The arachne was about to sneer when her eight eyes opened in horror.

Alex appeared before her and caught her head, nailing his knee into her face.

Bang!

The arachne immediately felt dizzy, and before she knew it, the other side of her face was already kissing the ground; Alex dragged her face alongside the ground; he held her face against the rough surface of the ground filled with spikes.

The pain surpassed everything she had ever felt in her long life; she couldn't defend herself at all. Just as the arachne decided to blow herself, dragging Alex together with her into the netherworld, a silver bullet penetrated through her chest, erasing her mana; she was left empty. Having her mana erased, she was not different from a newborn; Alex crushed her brain shortly after. He finally decided not to drag the fight more than he should because he could feel that their troubles weren't over.

As expected, immediately after eliminating everything in the cave, the cave began to shake.

Boom!

The cave exploded, blinding everyone's sight; when they opened their eyes again, they were in the middle of monsters, werewolves.

"Kill the invaders and capture the women for breeding."

The leader of this group of werewolves, a huge werewolf sitting on a giant black wolf, raised his lance and announced.

From a rough estimate, the number of werewolves surrounding them was around two hundred; their level was not extremely high, only the leader was really strong.

The women frowned upon hearing that they would be turned into breeding machines. They decided to massacre everyone, to search for their village, and slaughter every werewolf inside it.

"Hurry, those damn lizards caught two humans; we must not fall behind. The ancestral battle will begin soon." The leader of the werewolves urged them to act faster. From his words, two humans were caught; Alex wondered if there was someone he knew among them. He quickly shook his head; he must first deal with these werewolves before thinking of something else.

Boom!

A single bullet curved through the air blowing three werewolves' heads. Silence fell on the battlefield; the leader frowned; even with his sharp eyes, he could not see what blew his men's head. He could see their confusion, the fear that began to settle in; he must not let this happen; they have the number; he needs to swarm them with numbers to win.

"Don't falter, charge, kill him, avenge the fallen."

The leader's words seemed to have worked as they charged toward Alex simultaneously. Seeing this, he grinned; they were only making things easier for him. Eri summoned her sword and rushed forward; Gracier stayed behind but readied her bow; her arrows killed the werewolves Eri couldn't deal with. Eris also charged forward like a tornado; her rapier tore through the werewolves' chest like paper while Maria would turn them into an ice sculptures.

"What is this?" The leader of the werewolves watched in horror his men getting slaughtered; he had never seen something like this.

"Don't worry, you will join them soon." Lilith's voice echoed behind him. He felt goosebumps rising all over his body as alarm bells rang in his heart; he jumped off his mount and escaped into the depth of the forest in the blink of an eye. Lilith was dumbfounded.

"Seriously?"

Chapter 700 - How It Started

"Seriously?"

Lilith was dumbfounded; she couldn't believe what had just happened. That powerful-looking werewolf escaped after seeing that the situation became grim.

How could the demon princess let him go so easily? She immediately attacked by launching a lightning bolt at the fleeing leader. He reacted by instinct; he tilted his head to the side, dodging the lightning bolt, but unfortunately, by doing that, his eyes happened to be turned in Lilith's direction, she smiled and used the ability she had not used in a while.

"Eternal Nightmare!"

Buzz!

The leader of the werewolves froze; his eyes turned pitch black before his body began to tremble violently. It was unknown what he was seeing in his eternal hell.

Splash!

Lilith knew her ability wouldn't work on the monster for too long; therefore, she appeared before him and beheaded it. At the same time, Alex and the others happened to have dealt with the werewolves.

After collecting what should be collected, Alex turned around to face the girls.

"From the leader's words. Two seemed to have been captured. Before killing the last werewolf, I asked the location of those who caught the two humans. She said northeast. I know you want to go clean the rest of the werewolves to stop future trouble. You can go; I will take Eris and Eri with me. As for the remaining, go clean the werewolves' village and join us later."

The girls nodded; Alex, Eri, and Eris departed toward the northeast while the remaining people of the group left toward the werewolf's village.

.....

Meanwhile, in another's location, the same location Alex and the two girls were heading to, stood a mountain range covered in thick fog blocking one's sight.

At the moment, a carriage was moving inside the thick fog. Those driving the carriage and guarding it had no problem seeing in the fog. Their appearance did not look too different from humans, except for tails and horns.

"Garan! This time we caught two males. I would have loved it if they were female. You know what I mean." One of the drivers whispered to the one beside him.

The one called Garan shrugged his shoulders.

"I don't mind doing with a man too."

"You are sick!"

Leon and Leonardo exchanged a look; they felt all the fine hair on their backs rising. This man, the one called Garan, was dangerous, dangerous for their chastity. On the first occasion, they would kill him, but unfortunately, in their current situation, it was impossible. It was unknown how they came up with this method, but they had something that looked like mana shackles. With this thing around their wrists, they were unable to use magic.

"Sigh! How unfortunate. I thought I would kill you after recovering, but who would have expected those lizardmen to show abruptly and kidnap us?" Leonardo declared, frustrated.

"Shut up, maggot. I will kill you if you dare to utter those words again." Dragan threatened Leonardo, he knew what he was trying to do, and he was not a fool who could fall for such an obvious trap.

"Tch!"

Seeing his scheme fail, Leonardo clicked his tongue in annoyance and closed his eyes, deciding to rest, but shortly he asked Leon.

"What we do now?"

"Don't disturb me, I'm thinking, and there is no we."

Leon responded with his eyes closed. He was formulating a plan to escape as he knew if they were to arrive at their destination, nothing good awaited them over there.

"Thinking with that lion's brain of yours?"

Leonardo tried to mock Leon but failed as the latter counterattacked.

"If you have nothing to say, just shut up," Leon replied.

"Sigh! I apologize; it's just that I'm feeling frustrated. I know you are not at fault, but I can only vent on you. I know it's pathetic, but it can't be helped." Leonardo declared before closing his eyes once again.

Saying he was not surprised by the sudden situation would be a lie. Leon was surprised, but his surprise only lasted; his brain worked fast, and immediately after, he decided to use this situation to his advantage.

"Don't worry, but I want to know why you hate Alex so much?" Leon asked, and when Alex's name was brought up, Leonardo opened his eyes, and because Garan's group took away his eye patch, his abnormal eyes were displayed; one was golden like his hair while the other was still gold but was slowly getting tainted in black and it like snake eye.

Leon did not ask why he became like this because he knew he wouldn't answer even if he asked, at least not that question.

"You are sure crafty." Leonardo complimented Leon, who shrugged his shoulders.

Taking a deep breath, Leonardo began to talk.

"It was because of jealousy. You know I come from a wealthy family like Alexander but do you know the difference between us?"

"Because he was richer than you?" Not sure of the exact reason as he only knows a little about Alex, Leon responded.

"There is that reason but the real reason why it was because the money he had he made that money himself. He didn't rely on his family wealth, meaning if he were disowned, he would still live lavishly, unlike me, who didn't own anything if not because my parents gave me something. I don't own anything; I didn't create anything. It depends on my parents. So naturally, the first time I saw him, I learned about what he had achieved, a sense of inferiority rose in me. Since that day, I have hated him, no the truth was I hate myself for not changing; I mistook this for hating him. I did everything I could to tarnish him, but nothing worked. The worst was that he never even spared me a glance; I was like a clown. He was busy thinking about how to make more money while I was there doing nothing but blame him."

Leonardo stopped and took a deep breath; Leon listened quietly, not saying anything.

"Jealousy is an ugly thing. When we reincarnated in Mysthia, finally I saw a chance to surpass him, even more after seeing what kind of Gift I had awakened. I ridiculed him because of fear. I wanted to become an emperor by using the princess to show him that this time I was above you. You know what happened next. Thinking about it, it was funny, but well I'm already dancing. I shall do it until the end but differently this time."

Leon's eyes widened; that last sentence contained some hidden meaning, however just as he was about to ask for more, they arrived at their destination, Leon was forced to stop.