

Death Guns 801

801 Chapter 801

Alex had gone to her room for a quick chat. Still, upon seeing her expression, even without being told by anyone, he understood that the Ice empress was being jealous, which was unexpected yet still understandable. She was still human with emotions.

He immediately knew what to do since he didn't want to waste time after deciding what he would do. Alex gently pushed Maria, trying to say something, down on the bed and bent down toward her.

"!!!!!"

When Alex's lips pressed down onto hers, she closed her eyes and accepted the kiss.

He lightly kissed her tightly closed mouth a few times and then gently sucked on her lower lip. He pulled away for a moment.

"Open your lips."

He commanded in a low voice, and without hesitation, she followed his command.

Alex kissed and went for a french kiss. His tongue smoothly ravaged the inside of her mouth. He slowly made his way around her teeth and the sides of her cheeks.

Maria felt a jolting pleasure when his tongue met hers. Their tongue wrestled with each other trying to see who was stronger, and naturally, Alex won this game.

"Ah, ~ !.."

A low moan escaped from deep within Maria's throat as their kiss became wilder.

Their kiss continued that way for many more rounds. Slowly Maria forgot her worries; her emotional state seemed to have calmed down to a great extent; she was not jealous anymore. It was to say Alex's kisses were sweet and soothing.

When they parted from a particularly long kiss, Maria lightly gasped for breath.

"You are so beautiful. I can't ever get tired of you."

Maria's cheeks were rosy as she bit her lips at his compliment. She felt ashamed that simply hearing this made her heartbeat so wildly in happiness. She wondered if she was becoming too much emotional the more time she spent with him but nevertheless, she didn't dislike this change; she would gladly get drowned in it.

After a few kisses, Alex gradually moved his kisses to her cheek and then to her ear. His moist lips kissed behind her ear, then down her neck.

Her body's aroma was unique, a gentle and soothing scent...It made him feel at ease as if he could let her carry most of his burdens. Each one of his women had a unique aroma. He traced his lips from her neck down to her big breasts.

"Anh!"

A jolting pleasure from her breasts forced Maria to let out a short moan. He took a mouthful and sucked on it

"Anhhh!"

He lightly bit her nipple and tickled it with his tongue. She got breathless as he licked around the areola before sucking on it.

She was quietly lying down in bed while grasping onto the sheets, but her body would tremble while her hips jolted up from time to time. Gradually, he felt his lower half starting to grow hot.

Alex let go of her breast, which was now wet with his saliva, and moved to caress the other one. He licked, sometimes lightly bit, swallowed, and from time to time sucked with great force. Whenever his tongue moved, a tingling sensation would travel up her spine, and she couldn't help but moan in pleasure.

After he teased her breasts to his content, his kisses traveled down to her abdomen. Maria had become quite curious as to where his lips would advance next. She was gripping onto the sheets so hard that the tips of her fingers turned pale white.

"Annh~..."

Alex's lips proceeded down to her lower abdomen and then to her inner thighs. His lips brushed against the deep portions of her inner thighs and began sucking.

He slowly let one of his hands brush down her abdomen and naturally slid it down to her inner thigh, pressing his fingers toward her crotch.

"Ah!"

His long and firm finger coated in mana, and under the fast fingers, skill slowly entered her. She yelped in surprise. When his finger entered her, she felt electricity run through her body.

"Uuh....."

He repeatedly moved his finger in and out of her at such a speed a certain superhero proud of his speed would feel ashamed.

"Ohhhhhhhh!"

"Annhhhhh!!"

As the stimulation continued, her lower region became slippery with moist juices, and the sound of wet noises grew increasingly louder. Her whole body was burning with heat, and she felt her back shiver reflexively. A few more thrusts sent her mind into a frenzy, and she knew she was about to orgasm.

At that moment, a tingle surged up, flooding into her body and causing her muscles to spasm and her neck to jerk up as euphoria circulated through her entire body for a few seconds.

The short moment of bliss passed, and her senses dulled while her body had no strength left in it. Maria calmly enjoyed the feeling of Alex's fingers smoothly combing through her hair.

"Let's get into the real thing!"

Murmuring those words next to her ears, Alex's hot breath made her body, soaked with sweat, shiver in anticipation.

After completely disrobing her, he laid her on her side and embraced her from behind. He kneaded her breasts while gently inserting his penis between her legs and rubbing her butt.

From behind, he slowly opened her up as his hard penis pushed against her entrance, and finally, he entered inside her. Maria's butt and his thighs were tightly pressed together. The two bodies became one.

The Ice Empress was filled with thrill when he began to push his full length inside her. The sensation of him filling her up gave her a sense of satisfaction. She had missed this feeling; she felt she might never be able to enjoy this feeling. No matter how confident she was in her mind, there was always a what if? The universe is full of surprises, full of people stronger than them. No plan was foolproof; something may go wrong; she was scared; thankfully, he came back safe and sound. While she understood her sister's attitude and intention regarding a certain attitude Alex had, she became jealous of how lost Alex seemed when Luna ignored him; even when she approached him, he was not there; it hurts her that he loved him so much and unconsciously a feeling of jealousy arose from her heart, something that never happened before when it comes to her sisters.

Thankfully this ugly feeling that was about to devour her heart vanished with his touch; Maria was sure that her sister Luna had noticed her current state; it was why she sent him here, and for this, Maria was extremely grateful. She was blessed to have such an understanding sister.

802 Chapter 802

Alex observed Maria's plump and firm ass from behind and couldn't help but gulp at how awesome they looked. Knowing that this belonged to him an unknown sense of pride swelled inside him. Her breathing quickened, becoming rough; he felt possessed by his primal instinct.

He grunted fiercely, raised Maria's leg with both hands, and entered her soaked pussy. He went a bit slowly at first, his sensitive part brushing slightly against her moist flesh to feel it out.

Then his rhythm began to change constantly.

Sometimes he moved slowly, sometimes a bit faster, then moved slowly again, enticing her as he riled her up.

Maria's pussy walls squeezed and clenched on him as if it was furiously resisting his invasion.

"Ahn! Alex...please...!"

Maria implored him as she whimpered. He was moving much harder and rougher than before. All her energy had been squeezed out, and she couldn't summon any power.

Her entire body was more sensitive, so his hands simply sweeping across her skin caused her to ache in excitement. He shifted a little more weight down and thrust in heavily. His rock-hard penis and the movement of his member deep inside of her seemed tireless.

After a while, he stopped and demanded,

"Lie on your stomach and raise your butt to me."

Her body flinched as his warm member wrapped inside her was swiftly pulled out. She hesitated for a moment, looking at his enthusiasm that seemed like it would never end, then she obediently turned around and lay on her stomach.

Her white, plump buttocks were distorted in his clutches. He appreciated the delectable curves that started from her back to her waist, leading to her butt, then swiftly thrust into her from behind. Instantly, her body shook intensely.

The Ice empress writhed in pleasure while the long and robust spear pounded into her from behind. She could feel the tip of the head rubbing against her vaginal walls. She could feel the rock-hard erection spreading her vagina wide, and his hips slapped against her ass.

Maria could feel it all so vividly and distinctly. Every stimulation to her body, every bit of pleasure experienced by her pussy, and everything felt by every cell of her body flowed into her mind.

The next thing she knew, she reached a hand down and started teasing her crotch. She rolled around the small protrusion at the top of the pussy lips that Alex's cock was still thrusting in and out of.

"Ah! Ahh! Ahn!"

Even if she had not moved her finger, his thrusting shook her body enough to automatically stimulate her clit. Every time her finger rubbed against it, a jolt of pleasure ran through her. She wanted to feel that even more, she began pushing her finger against it harder as she rubbed.

And when she did...

"Ahh!?"

A wave of pleasure several times stronger ran through her entire body.

Alex's cock thrust into her with loud sticky noises. She could not tell if his penis had gotten bigger or if her pussy was squeezing it tighter, but her mind was filled with the pleasure of it having its way with her body.

Not only her body but, even her soul seemed to be feeling the intense pleasure.

"Ahh! More, More!"

Her own words aroused her further, and her stomach began to throb. His hips sped up and thrust harder in response.

"Oh! I...I am going to cum."

Alex grunted as he began to speed up his movement even more. Maria, meanwhile, was too far gone to even listen to what he was saying.

Finally, his dick throbbed within her vagina, shooting semen everywhere and filling every part of her body. He continued to move within her vagina as if to squeeze it all out, and with each movement, the semen made sticky sounds and spilled out of her.

Maria's body, meanwhile, shivered as she silently screamed.

'So, hot. So good!!!!'

They say sex will become boring the more you do with your partner, but she didn't feel this way; it was only the beginning of their relationship. However, she felt like she might become addicted to this feeling, and she would never get bored of having sex with this man. This session felt like she went back to her first time; Alex was gentle, maybe a bit rough in the end, but in the beginning, he was gentle; it was his way of comforting her, his way of loving her; she wondered how many women did he bed to be this good? Maybe it was innate.

Suddenly Maria's body shook because Alex had finally pulled out of her, her body slumped on the bed, and the semen still in her slowly began to come out, giving the scene a sultry allure.

"So, how was it? Have you calmed down, my queen"

"It felt amazing, it was the best, it was wonderful, and I'm calm now; thank you for understanding me, understanding what I truly needed." Those were Maria's honest opinion; she felt grateful for this man who seemed to know what she needed and what to do; not every man were like that.

p Maria, who knew her man's libido looked up at him while lying on her side and could see his dick still standing tall and stiff. She had somehow expected this, but seeing that filled her with fresh lust, and as such, she got up and reached for his crotch.

"Even if you did it with Luna and once with me, you are still hard; I wonder how much stamina you have?"

Her words were more like a provocation than a question because, at the end of her sentence, she pushed Alex onto his back, climbed on top of him, and prepared to mount his cock.

"Ready for another round?"

She sat down, and her vagina slowly engulfed his penis.

Seeing such a Maria, Alex smirked as his hand latched on her hips to keep her steady,

"At your service."

Maria smiled and was about to start moving but then froze because of Alex's unexpected words.

"I want a child.."

"What?" Maria doubted her ears, and just as she was about to ask if he was serious, Alex thrust his hips forward.

"Annh! Wait." She tried to plead to make him stop, but he ignored her plea.

"I want a child once everything is finished," Alex responded before moving his hips faster.

"Yes, I also want to have your child someday. Let's work hard." Maria responded and adjusted the movements of her hips together with him.

An intense lovemaking session followed, and at the end, Maria, full of energy, asked to see the stars, and Alex granted her wish.

803 Chapter 803

Maria had a dream, and in this dream, she was sitting in what seemed to be a meadow. The meadow was a glorious expanse of grass and meadow flowers, grass rustling gently in the breeze. There was a narrow brook flowing through it choked with weeds. Tall water-mint with pale lilac flowers, like dozens of tiny bells, were growing at the edge of the brook.

In the near distance stood a little girl, she was dressed in a white piece princess dress, the little girl was dancing. Her hair flowed down her back like the black ink of a tilted piece of parchment.

The little girl was like a snapshot out of time. Maria could see her black hair blowing in the spring breeze; her youthful face turned toward the sun. The girl danced, danced as if the joy of life within her could not be tamed.

Maria had a strange feeling, she had the feeling that to her, the little girl was the world itself, and without her, she could not enjoy a simple flower or the rising sun. There was nothing she wouldn't do to keep her safe from harm, but she could not protect her forever. She can only be there when she falls and stands well back while reaching for the stars.

Yes! She was sure the little girl could; she was her girl after all. She had that sudden feeling, and as though to confirm her feeling, the little girl turned her head in her direction for the first time since the start; no words can't be used to describe the little girl's beauty; she was like a doll created by god's craftsman, she had heterochromia eyes, her left eye had an icy blueish hue, strangely this eye remain her of her own, and as for her right eye, it was green, the same color as his left eye.

Maria understood that this girl was their child, and as if to confirm this guess, the little girl opened her mouth and said.

"Mommy"

It was like an electric shock passed through her body, she couldn't talk and finally when she was about to speak everything started melting, becoming blurry and before the little girl disappeared she mumbled something and reading her lips movement she was able to comprehend her words,

"Take care of Daddy for me. See you soon."

'Wait'

Maria shouted, and naturally, everything disappeared as if it had never existed, to begin with.

"Huh??"

Back in real life, Maria snapped her eyes open only to be greeted with ravishing scenery, a dark sky filled with numerous and beautiful stars.

Blinking her eyes a couple of times, Maria knew it was only a weird dream.

And yet.

Compared to all of her others, that dream felt far more unique, more special, as if it had a special connection with her; she couldn't explain it if one were to ask, but she was sure that it was not a simple dream even when she was having a hard time remembering the girl's feature except for her dark hair and heterochromia eyes, she couldn't remember anything else no matter how hard she tried.

That figure of a little girl, whoever she was or if she existed at all, just held a magnetic attraction, a special connection with her.

However, before Maria's thoughts could further delve into the dream, she tried to remember what she saw; she felt a shift of movement.

Alex's beautiful heterochromia eyes meet with Maria's deep icy blue ones in a warm exchange. Waking up this way and seeing each other was somehow special.

Frankly, since their most intense intimate session, she found it much easier to be intuned with her feelings. She had come to understand that she had fallen deeply for Alex before knowing it. At the start, it was just a slight interest in his person before it evolved into liking before it became she was now in love with him, she couldn't live without him, he had become such important existence that if you told her in the past that things would evolve this way she would have said no.

Maria hoped that one day Alex could fall deeply as she did; however, she knew she could never surpass, nor take Luna's place in his heart, no matter how hard she tried. Nobody could change this fact; she was sure of it; still, she just wanted a place in his heart, and judging by the way he was looking at her right now, she had earned this place; what she needed to do was to consolidate it and further deepen their relationship and spending time together like this after an intimate session was one those ways to deepen their relationship.

The two stared at each other in silence, and finally, they decided to act.

However, instead of talking, Maria got closer to Alex's face and began to cutely rub her soft nose against Kyle's surprisingly tender skin.

"Thank you for the lap and the beautiful scenery. All my exhaustion and worries fly away. I love you, Alexander." Maria said before kissing Alex on his lips.

"You welcome. I'll do anything for you except kill one of my loved ones, and I love you too, Alexia." Alex responded with a deep kiss.

"Mmhh!" Maria responded by wrapping her arms around his neck as the two began to share a deep kiss. Under the stars, it was only them; nothing else seemed to count. With the million stars as their witnesses, the two lovebirds shared a long and passionate kiss filled with nothing but love.

If anyone were to see the current Alex and Maria, they would be shocked by their perfect chemistry. It was not something that happened overnight; it happened because of the deep connection they shared and the deep bond they built since their first meeting.

"Never leave my side. I'm imperfect full of flaws, but I promise you one thing I'll make you happy. So please do the same by sharing my love, my pain, and my life with me, no with everyone that made the family. Will you grant this selfish wish?" That was what Alex said after they stopped kissing.

"Yes, I will." Her reply was immediate.

804 Chapter 804

"Yes, I will." Maria's reply to Alex's selfish wish was immediate, and no hesitation could be felt from the Ice Empress.

"Thank you, love," Alex said and planted a kiss on Maria's forehead.

"You welcome, dear," Maria responded with a smile.

"Were you having a nightmare earlier? Your face looked pale, and your heartbeat accelerated for a moment; you were frowning. I was worried." Alex suddenly brought this up; this happened when she had that dream.

"It was not a nightmare but a dream. A weird dream." Maria responded while staring at the stars looking down on them from their thrones.

"A weird dream? Like the one you can't remember?" Alex asked because when she said she had a weird dream, it was only the explanation he could think of. When you have a dream, and you cannot remember it, it's called a weird dream.

"Yes, I can't remember what exactly happened inside my dream. The only thing I can say for sure is that there was someone inside this dream which is dear to me." Maria explained, and Alex nodded; he went silent as if he was contemplating something, and finally, when he opened his mouth again, what he said made Maria's body shudder.

"Maybe this important person was your future daughter." It was unknown why Alex came up with this ridiculous thought, but when Maria said something extremely important, dear to her, he could only think of this.

For a moment, Maria felt like she was about to remember something important, but unfortunately, she still failed in the end. She almost became frustrated; however, she could perfectly control her emotions.

"Maybe, maybe not. Let's stop dwelling on this and talk about you." Maria said, trying to change the subject, and knowing this, Alex decided to play along.

"You want to know what I'm planning to do with Saeko, isn't it?" He asked. He was sure that it was precisely what Maria wanted to know, and this assumption was not wrong, for his question. Maria nodded.

"As you have noticed, her father sent her with a goal in mind. Currently, you are the hottest topic in the world. You singlehandedly defeated an empire. This kind of person is extremely rare, and many will want you. Letting his daughter accompany you is a ploy to secure a position beside you. What are you planning to do knowing the emperor's intentions?" She probed, and Alex replied instantly.

"I have already asked Saeko if she wishes to accompany us, and she said yes. Once we live, she will follow us. Such a talented girl must be put into use. Her talent isn't less than that of Gracier. Her father plans to use her, and I'll let him do that but not how he wants. At least not in this world may be our relationship will develop in the next world. What matters right now is to have talented people surrounding me. This fight is not a fight I can't win alone. I need manpower; I need stronger comrades, and Saeko has the potential to become one. I'm not going to lose this opportunity."

"I see. I knew you would think like that, but I just wanted to hear it from you. It's a good thing that you know this. I'm not against your decision; I will fully support you. We all will." Maria made this promise.

"Thank you. I guess it's time for us to head back, don't you think?"

"Yes, but there is one thing I want to remind you. In a few hours, I'm sure the emperor, Saeko's father, will invite us after Sakuya successfully inherited their founder sword. And the emperor will want to talk to you. It is probably related to what you did in the Holy Crux empire. The other empires have already decided; they are already dividing the empire, but it will not happen until you have your shares. I hope you will not go easy on him?"

"Don't worry, I'll not. I already have a plan in mind. If this world were our last destination, I would have made the Holy Crux empire my own." Alex said something unexpected. His words, especially the end of his sentence, left Maria speechless. In the past, Alex wouldn't have talked as he did now. From this sentence alone, one could see his desire to have his own kingdom. It may not happen right now, but Maria did not doubt that in the near future, Alex would have his kingdom; they would help him achieve this goal if he told them.

"Let's go back," Maria said, and Alex nodded before using void steps. They reappeared inside Maria's room. She immediately went to bed with a happy smile on her face.

The following morning everyone sat around a big table, and they shared breakfast.

Right after they ate their breakfast, a meeting was held. Except for Noire, who Alex sent after coming back to assist Lilith and others, those present here, together with Saeko, participated in this meeting.

"Alex, what is your plan from now on? We have accomplished our objective here. What are you going to do?" It was Maria who asked this question. Sakuya, Gracier, Luna, and Saeko waited for Alex to answer as they were curious.

"Let's enjoy our stay here for a little bit to clear our minds." He told them what plan he had. He wanted to use this opportunity as a vacation to chill.

"Great, I missed my hometown, and this empire reminds me of Japan. I heard there would be a festival soon. Is that right?" Sakuya asked Saeko, smiling after learning that Alex would stay for a while; she would use this opportunity to bid farewell to her father and those she cherished.

"Yes, only three days left. Let's go together."

Knock! Knock!

"Master, the emperor sent someone to call you all to the palace."

Suddenly there was the sound of someone knocking on the meeting hall's door, followed by an announcement.

Alex nodded, and the group decided to head to the palace to meet the emperor.

805 Chapter 805

Alex and the others arrived at the majestic-looking palace. They were directed into the throne hall where the emperor was waiting.

"Welcome the Black Prince and his companions. Congratulations to lady Sakuya. I've never doubted that you'll succeed; still, you amazed me." The emperor started with flattery.

Alex and the others bowed their heads and took seats across from the emperor. Sakuya ignored the emperor's flattery; she did not need such a thing.

The emperor chuckled, seeing Alex's group expression; his eyes momentarily stopped on Saeko, sitting behind Alex as if that place was rightfully hers. Gracier was sitting beside her, looking bored. She hated this kind of meetings the most; if not for her brother's sake, she wouldn't have come. What annoyed Gracier the most was the second prince; since the day they arrived, he had constantly been harassing her, saying he wanted to marry her, love at first sight, so he had said, but Gracier didn't give a damn about this.

Sigh!

Gracier sighed while ignoring the second prince winking at her. She had no time for love right now, she was too young, and even she had the time, a hypocrite like the second prince was not to her liking. She would never date him, no matter what he would offer.

While the second prince was staring at Gracier as if he had lost his soul, his older brother was looking at Alex; the first prince, a handsome man, the younger version of the current emperor, stared at Alex in wonder. No matter how many times he thought about it, Alex's accomplishments were like they came straight from fairy tale; he was still processing how awesome this young by six years his junior was. He was grateful that he didn't make the mistake of becoming Alex's enemy. If he had done that, he would probably lose his chance to become the next emperor because Alex was capable of making that happen; not only was he powerful he also possessed a shocking amount of connections that could make one tremble with fear.

The belief that Alex could pull up something like that was solidified when the first prince saw how close his sister was with Alex. If he didn't have a minimum trust in her, if he didn't value Saeko, Alex would have never left her sat behind him. It doesn't matter if they were currently in a meeting with the emperor. Such a simple gesture was akin to admitting that he trusted her to some extent to let her watch his back.

A strange silence descended upon the throne hall until the emperor opened his mouth and requested.

"Can we see the famous katana crafted by our ancestor?"

Facing this request, Sakuya saw no need to decline; therefore, she nodded.

"Sure!" She responded before summoning Masamune. The white katana shone dazzlingly the moment it was unsheathed.

"What a beautiful katana." The emperor couldn't help but sincerely praise the exceptional katana the moment he laid his eyes on it; for a brief moment, he even started coveting it, but he quickly pushed these feelings back because he did not want to awaken a dangerous sleeping beast.

"Great katana. It's worthy of Lady Sakuya. I hope you will take good care of such precious katana." the emperor said; at the same time, he sent a message to his elders present not to covet this treasure no matter how tempted they might be if not only disaster awaited them once they did it.

Fortunately, none of those weren't greedy enough to say Sakuya must leave their ancestor relic behind, or the consequence would be dire.

After exchanging a few pleasantries with the emperor and the elders, Maria and the others girls were forced to leave, leaving only Alex to talk with the emperor.

"I believe this is our second meeting en tête à tête."

"Yes, this is our second meeting, but I bet you didn't call me here to tell me that. So, please tell me the reason you called me." Alex said with a serious face; he was done with joking.

"What do you think of my daughter?" The emperor shamelessly asked.

"She is exceptional, but you and I knew the reason why you sent her over. I'm not open to such a result, but at least I'll use her. She is okay with my offer, so she'll be leaving with us once it is the time to depart." Alex informed the emperor. Although this goal was far from his initial goal, the emperor could only swallow back his words, not daring to twist things for fear of causing irreversible damage to his empire.

"Ok, let's stop talking about that topic. So, tell me what you want?" The emperor changed the subject, moving toward something more important. The reward Alex would get after letting the other empires divide the fallen Holy Crux empire among themselves.

Alex had already talked with Julius, some further discussion would be held once they returned, but the essential part of the deal had been cleared out.

"I want to gain authority over two high-level dungeons, and that forest where the inheritance ground was located, I wanted it too."

Facing Alex's demands, the emperor of the Far East Empire's mouth twitched; he felt like Alex was exaggerating things, but there was nothing he could do about it, not take a piece of such juicy meat (the fallen Holy Crux empire) would be a huge mistake. Compared to everything they would earn, it was a cheap price to pay; therefore, after a moment of hesitation, the emperor accepted.

Every empire concluded that no matter what they would do, it would be a huge mistake not to include Alex's part in their negotiations; nobody wanted to have his empire become the second Holy Crux empire; therefore, they decided to compromise. It's where Alex's part comes in.

However, while the emperor of the Far East Empire accepted Alex's conditions, he was confused as to why Alex would ask for something like that; therefore, he asked.

"May I know what you plan to do with that dungeon?"

"I will give it to Saeko as her first gift." Alex did not hide his intention as to why he claimed that dungeon.

"It is that so?" The emperor signed, and he understood that he had lost his daughter. With this move, Alex would completely conquer her. Imagine what kind of reaction a fanatic would have once her greatest idol was to gift her something? She would devote her life for her idol, becoming utterly loyal to this idol as the simple gesture of offering her something meant he had acknowledged her entirely.

"You are scary." the emperor could not help but say this after a long moment of silence, and Alex chuckled.

"Thank you for the compliment."

806 Chapter 806

At the same time, five hundred kilometers from Alex's group current was a forest.

The forest was gigantic, luminous, and diverse. Its canopy was contested by cypress, poplar, and sycamore, who left just enough light for a medley of sprouts to use the soft, rich soils below.

Curling creepers grasped every tree, and a potpourri of flowers, which were seen occasionally, protruded from the otherwise monotonous lower level.

A cacophony of sounds, predominantly those of birds and insects, echoed in the air and formed a chaotic orchestra with the occasional sounds of monsters in the distance.

Suddenly, the forest turned quiet before birds and monsters started escaping from the forest, afraid of something.

In the depth of this forest stood a girl, she was not tall, dressed in a gothic black dress, but currently, this dress was torn into pieces, stained with blood. The owner of this dress, a white-haired girl, scanned her surrounding. Surrounding her were hundreds of men dressed in black and wearing white masks with a red eye on them.

Secretly watching the fight from another dimension was a number, a member of the Chaos organization numbers; if Zero and Incursio were the top-ranked numbers, this woman could be the strongest after them. Codename Rhea except for Zero and Lord Thanos; not even Incursio knew this woman's strength.

Currently, this woman was monitoring her; she was secretly commanding the people fighting Incursio, trying to capture her.

This hunt had begun a few days ago when Incursio, busy tormenting Leonardo until they went back to the headquarters, noticed something unusual; she immediately sacrificed Leonardo and ran away. Since then, members of the organization had been constantly on her tail; she fought, killed, fought again, and killed again, it was like an endless cycle, and finally, they arrived in this forest. No matter how strong Incursio was, being constantly hunted was bound to leave some traces, and it was exactly what was happening; she was at her limit, just a little bit, and she would get her; Rhea had believed this.

Unfortunately, she had forgotten that a cornered rabbit could be extremely dangerous. It was true that the current Incursio was nearing her limit, but it didn't mean she would let herself get caught because she knew what fate awaited her if she were to be caught. It is what happened to Luna; she almost got completely possessed, she heard what Alex did, she wanted to challenge him, but this situation came up right after she returned. The reason why she had been created had now come; it was the time for her to become the vessel for their Lord, the Chaos Lord, but for Incursio, who dreamed of the freedom to do whatever she wanted, such as fighting stronger opponents, crushing them she would never accept her fate as a mere vessel, it was why she ran, but now she was surrounded.

Incursio sighed and checked her remaining MP w; she still had half of her original mana left. It was time to clean up some trash. How dare they make her suffer like this? She would show them.

A furious Incursio slapped her hands together, and immediately there was a buzzing sound.

Buzz!

Before a hundred men could attack, a gray field appeared around Incursio, and the surrounding was instantly turned into a wasteland.

"What?" Rhea observing from another dimension, exclaimed that she wanted to warn her subordinates to put some distance between them and this dangerous domain she had never heard about. Still, unfortunately, it was already too late by the time her warning arrived.

Bzz, Bzzzt!—

Powerful rays of lightning scattered out of Incursio's left hand while blue lightning shot out from the tip of her finger like a bullet.

In a flash, dozens of lightning bullets were shot toward the hundred assailants; twenty-seven were instantly killed another twenty-five suffered from the gray field, turning into mummies. As for the remaining, Incursio used her powerful body and exceptional sword skill to commit a massacre.

Everything happened too fast, and currently, Incursio was panting, her face was pale, and yet she was smiling; her body became invisible.

Rhea didn't know why, but she started trembling. She felt an indescribable sense of fear. It almost minced her heart!

"What is this presence?!"

She suddenly felt Incursio was capable of destroying the entire world.

Before, she felt she was extraordinarily strong, but now, she felt a power that has no limits!

As she tried to make sense of the fear, the invisible Incursio turned towards her as if perceiving her gaze.

"Bitch, you want to die? You have been spying on me for a while." Incursio malevolently asked.

Rhea was shocked!

How could she notice her presence when she was in another dimension, a special dimension which was almost undetectable?

Suddenly Incursio became visible again, and Rhea tried to make sense of things; Incursio stretched a hand towards her. The gray field, which was born from the mix of the Light, Darkness, Space, and Time element, transformed into a gray vortex.

The vortex engulfed Rhea's special dimension, and she vanished!

"Tch! She still escaped, but I won't let you go." Incursio, running out of mana, gritted her teeth and decided to pursue Rhea; she must eliminate her to gain a few minutes to escape.

Rhea appeared a hundred kilometers from her previous location, gasping for breath; she was scared. If she had not been fast to cast another dimension and escape through it, she would have been destroyed by that gray vortex. Just by remembering it, she felt a shiver down her spine. Shaking her head, Rhea decided to contact the headquarters and ask for reinforcement.

It happened when she was trying to contact them.

"Found you!" An eerie voice reached her ears, and Rhea stopped what she was doing and erected a dimensional barrier around her body in a flash.

Incursio, in purgatory mode, slashed forward with her claws on the barrier.

RIPPPPP

The claws sliced through the barrier and dug into it. Spacefragments and debris crazily swept out, stirring up an energy storm.

Incursio ignored the storm and continued.

BANG!

,m Rhea was sent flying, losing half of her right hand starting from her elbow, but she didn't suffer for anything; she deliberately let herself get injured. Condensing the space debris, she pierced Incursio's stomach, sending her flying. Incursio, with a gaping hole in her stomach, escaped into the forest.

"Shit! I failed." Those were Rhea's last words before she fell to the ground.

807 Chapter 807

After the brutal exchange between her and Rhea, Incursio escaped deeper into the forest. The hole in her abdomen was healing slowly.

"Shit! What to do right now? I can't let myself be caught, or else it would be the end of me."

She kept running while thinking about a possible solution to overcome her current situation.

Suddenly, Incursio felt goosebumps rising all over her body as alarm bells rang in her heart. She knew even without looking back that a powerful enemy had arrived. In her current state, she could not activate purgatory because most of her energy was being used to treat her injuries quickly.

Incursio slashed at her back with her sword, space was torn apart, and space debris gathered, moving in the direction of Rhea, who suddenly appeared like a ghost, however, the current Rhea looked fundamentally different because her face was devoid of emotion.

The new Rhea stretched her hand and simply crushed Incursio's attack while at the same time she opened her mouth and said.

"Test subject 002, you better come back with us."

This voice was extremely creepy. Incursio stepped across space to put some distance between them, but she knew it was a futile attempt; as expected, she could not teleport.

"Fuck! To think they would even send a protector." Incursio said while looking at Rhea, whose pupils had turned black. A protector was using her body as a medium to manifest here.

Protectors are being only second to Lord Thanos, they rarely move, but today, one of them forcibly took control over Rhea's body just to catch Incursio.

When she saw this protector, Incursio knew she had probably run out of luck. It doesn't go all out. She would get captured, a fate she didn't want. She would do anything to survive.

"Fuck you, My name is not 002, but Incursio, remember that, you fucker." Incursio shouted, giving the protector a middle finger.

The protector using Rhea's body frowned, feeling insulted, and she decided to teach Incursio a painful lesson.

Meanwhile, Incursio, who had cursed at the protector to gain precious seconds, used them to drink a high-grade recovery potion.

Boom!

Mana exploded out from Incursio's body; grabbing her sword, she slashed upward; the world seemed to have been split apart. Every single tree in front of her was shredded; black lightning shot out from the sword toward the protector. Everything happened too fast, in the space of one second, yet the protector was still able to react.

Conjuring a dark, sinister sword made entirely of mana, the protector cut Incursio's attack into two before moving forward, and in an instant, she appeared before Incursio.

Clangs! Clangs! Clangs!

The two began moving across the forest, exchanging blows.

'I wish I could be doing what a normal girl does.' Incursio lamented; she longed for a normal life. Even if she couldn't have a normal life, at least she must get caught.

"Where are we heading first?" Luna asked the moment they entered the carriage.

"Hum! Let's see, let's go shopping first." Maria proposed, and the others nodded.

Shortly they arrived at a big shop and when the customers saw the five girls they were shocked. They were all beautiful.

"Welcome; what can I do for you, beautiful ladies?" The shop owner walked out of the store when he heard the commotion. He immediately identified Saeko and the others.

"Lead the way," Maria ordered, ignoring the weird stares they were receiving.

"Certainly, certainly." the shop owner nodded and led the way.

The girls entered and were selecting their clothes, trying them on. This went on for two hours before they finished and they left.

Their next stop was a jewelry shop where they selected a few jewels, trying them before they left. Their next stop was the biggest restaurant in the capital.

"It was fun. We should do this often." Maria said after they finished eating, and the others couldn't help but nod as they shared the same thought like her.

"How do you know Alex?" Saeko asked this question. Sakuya, Luna, and Maria stared at each other before telling others how they encountered Alex.

"At the beginning, why did none of you ask him to come with you?" Saeko asked; she was curious why Maria and the others did not ask Alex to follow them, nor did they drag him. The other two, aside from Luna, had feelings for him; she could have least tried to make him follow them. Maybe he would have progressed as he did now if she had done that. Still, Saeko wanted to know why they did nothing, why Luna stayed silent.

"It was because I was unsure if he would accept me after listening to my history. I was afraid of what he would do. What if he doesn't remember me? What if he escapes from me after listening to my story? I was filled with a lot of insecurities, so I did nothing." Luna explained because she knew Saeko's innocent question was targeting her.

"At that time, Sakuya had no interest in Alex; only Maria and I were interested. Maria approaches him, suggesting that we should meet in the academy. Looking at our story, I'm proud to say it was a nice story. I hope together with you all we will write a wonderful story." Luna said, ending her story.

Saeko nodded and began to share her story, how Alex's life since coming to Mysthia helped her, changed her life into what it's today, and for this, she would always be grateful.

"Why are you asking all these questions? Perhaps are you interested in him?" Gracier, who rarely spoke since the beginning, talked; she raised a question.

"No, I'm just curious," Saeko responded.

"Careful, this curiosity might turn into something more," Sakuya said half-jokingly, but Saeko nodded.

The group continued their date while waiting for Alex to return.

808 Chapter 808

Back inside the throne hall Alex and the emperor, who was talking business, frowned simultaneously because they felt something.

"Did you feel it too?" The emperor asked Alex, who nodded.

"I feel it too."

They both stared at each other, feeling uneasiness; they wondered what could be the possible cause of this feeling of uneasiness.

「Someone is fighting not too far from here. I'm unable to know who they are. Maybe it was the shockwave of their clashes that made you feel uneasy. Don't worry, nothing dangerous is coming. You can just relax here.」 Silveria said, trying to reassure him. Alex silently nodded and resumed discussing with the emperor, who sent someone to investigate.

Clangs! Clangs! Boom! Boom!

The two keep moving across the forest, leaving only destruction behind; suddenly, they stopped in the middle of the forest and stare at each other. The reason the protector had not gotten serious yet was to let Incursio feel like she still had a chance before letting her fall into the abyss of despair; how thrilling this was going to be.

Incursio knew the protector was holding back; it was why she decided to play along. There was something she wished to try; it was a gamble, a dangerous gamble; some conditions must be met before she could use this trump card, and currently, only one condition was left.

"Darkness prevails!" The protector ordered, and following her command, the world turned dark, pitch-black. Not only sight but even sound disappeared, robbed by the sudden light wane. The combination was frightening, menacing, and full of hopelessness. It was as if night had fallen.

Incursio had difficulty seeing in this darkness; not even her senses worked.

Bang!

Before she knew it, something violently slammed into her chest, sending her flying; she traveled two kilometers before stopping.

"Cough! Cough!" Incursio vomited blood feeling her innards being crushed. She didn't see anything until the protector's kick slammed into her chest; not even her time ability was unable to exhibit its full power properly.

Bang!

Incursio jumped from where she was barely dodged a black spear thrown from god know where.

"This bitch she is toying with me," Incursio mumbled, furious, but she quickly calmed down; now wasn't the time to get emotional. Closing her eyes, she felt darkness converging into multiple spears that would pierce her body, leaving her half dead.

Above the forest stood the protector; she was about to execute one of her strongest skills when suddenly she felt something was not right. She lost control over her domain.

Just then, a sense of fear and crisis arose within the protector's heart. Her breathing almost stalled as she muttered, "Impossible!"

BOOOM!

The whole forest shook, and her domain was swallowed in the middle of the forest; a huge crater appeared, and floating above this crater was a mature woman with gray skin and a pair of black curved horns.

"Chaos Form?" The protector exclaimed and backed off as a horrifying imposing aura surged through the world, starting from the ground.

"How the hell did she succeed in summoning something only Lord Thanos is capable of doing?"

The protector brought her vision to Incursio.

Sensing the protector's vision, Incursio slowly lifted her head and looked back at her. Their eyes met, and the protector was crestfallen by what she saw within them.

A mountain of corpses and an ocean of blood!

"How did she incorporate purgatory into this? How did she manage to do this?" The protector was confused as to how she managed to achieve this level just by relying on the chaos seed implanted within her.

"Don't tell me...!"

An ominous thought flashed through the protector's mind.

She recalled what happened a few seconds ago. She had lost control of her domain. She must have used it as fuel because her domain contained a small amount of Chaos energy.

"She deliberately lured me into activating my domain."

Even though this was not her real body, her soul dwelling in this body felt a chilling sensation as she realized Incursio had tricked her.

"I have helped her in achieving the Chaos form."

As she thought this, the protector's chest moved up and down sharply. Instead of immediately completing her upon her arrival, she got easily swept in and ended up helping the target she should capture in gaining a new ability, a dreadful ability. What if she failed the mission because of this? The protector shuddered at this thought.

"Let's calm down; she had just achieved this form; she can't control it yet, meaning I can still win."

The protector tried to calm herself by thinking the situation was still under control; she believed that she still had the chance to make a comeback, but then the reality gave her the shock of a lifetime.

Above the raised arms of the mature Incursio, a bizarre expanse of chaotic mist appeared.

This mist swirled into a circular motion, and slowly, it solidified. At the same time, from the chaos seed located deep within her heart, rays of gray energy swept out and surged into the solidified mist.

Whoosh~!

The mist turned into what appeared to be the phantom of a gigantic wheel!

"This is...!"

The protector felt suffocated as world-shaking rumbling sounds echoed.

"Chaos Wheels!"

Her soul almost escaped from Rhea's body. Not even in her worst nightmare she expect to see this here. She glanced at it only for a moment, and by then, she felt the cyclical of all life, matter, existence!

"The 1st form: the endless cycle of birth, death! Ohh no!!!"

She understood at the last moment; unfortunately, she couldn't do anything; her soul has forcibly ripped apart from Rhea's body; the latter body exploded in a bloody mist while the protector's soul tried to escape back to its original body. Still, it was soon drawn toward the chaos wheels.

"Noooooooo!"

The protector screamed and forcibly tore a small part of her soul which managed to run away while the wheels swallowed the remaining.

"What? There is something hidden in my soul?" Incursio, in her chaos form, felt something hidden deep within her soul. Just as she was about to check what it was, her body trembled violently.

Puff! Puff!

She began bleeding profusely from her seven orifices.

"Shit! Teleport."

Those were the last words she said before forcibly teleporting; her destination was unknown.

809 Chapter 809

Night arrived, and after eating with the others, Alex left with Sakuya; they appeared above the capital.

"Beautiful but not beautiful as Tokyo," Sakuya whispered into Alex's ears after they watched the Kyo, the capital of the Far East Empire, from the sky.

"You are right." Alex nodded while holding hands with her. In silence, the two spent their time enjoying each other warmth; this continued; Sakuya secretly whispered something into Alex's ears; he smiled and accelerated, reappearing in their temporary villa.

One hour later, as promised, Alex visited Sakuya's room; she was lying defenseless on the bed. For a moment, Alex wondered what she was up to; she said she would show him something amazing.

"Let's see what you are planning." He mumbled before pinching Sakuya's cheek.

"Kyaa!" Unexpectedly, Sakuya gave a girly scream as she looked around cautiously before retreating until her back was against the head of the bed.

"Who are you? And what do you want?" Sakuya asked with panic written on her face.

For a moment, Alex was lost for words until he recalled what she had said.

'Oh? So you want to play it like this. Good, let's play then. This is going to be fun.' Alex thought while grinning.

"Hehehehehe! I'm the big bad wolf who kidnaps beautiful women, and I'm here to claim my prize, which is none but you. Let's get started." Alex announced as he started slowly advancing toward Sakuya, whose body was trembling non-stop.

"No, no, don't come closer. I'm the one of the otherworlders one of the summoned heroes that will save this. I have a lot of friends, and my friends won't let you off if you assault me. You can stop now. I'll never tell anyone what you have done; I will even reward you with a lot of money. Please stop." She begged Alex with teary eyes.

It was so realistic that she deserved a reward for her performance.

Meanwhile, seeing Sakuya, the S Queen, like this stirred an unknown desire in Alex's heart; grinning evilly, he started discarding his clothes, and in a matter of seconds, he was nude. Seeing this, Sakuya seemed to have fallen into despair; she started shouting hysterically.

"No, no.. don't come closer, or I'll kill myself." She said, trying to sound threatening.

Alex was amused, and he decided to play; it was too fun not to get immersed in this role-playing. Therefore he crossed his arms and looked down at Sakuya and said,

"Try it if you want."

Sakuya's body trembled, and she appeared to be struggling, not knowing whether or not she should do as she said, but in the end, she decided not to do anything.

Alex smirked before he vanished, and when he reappeared, he had already undressed her.

"No...." Sakuya shouted, trying to cover her body.

Alex approached the trembling girl while not trying to conceal his excitement.

"Do not approach me; you pervert; you shall die a horrible death," Sakuya swore.

"Said the girl who is aroused. You are the one to talk while being drenched down there." Alex said while pointing his finger toward her pussy which was drenched in her love juice.

Looking at her drenched pussy, Sakuya hastily closed her legs; her face was red as a tomato feeling ashamed.

"No, that not tr-"

Alex wouldn't let her finish; he sealed Sakuya's lips; her eyes widened in surprise, then in horror; she started struggling, scratching Alex with her nails, he was injured, but it healed thanks to his undying body. He went for a deep kiss; slowly, her resistance lessened, and he stopped kissing her to give her room for breathing.

"Ha. ha..... Die, you pervert."

Using this opportunity, she tried to assault Alex, but he caught her fist and sealed her lips again; he repeated this several times until her resistance became weak; she looked at him with puppy eyes.

"Time to go for the main dish," Alex announced; Sakuya only looked at him pitifully; she was too weak to offer any resistance after the onslaught of kisses and light caresses.

Grinning, Alex caressed Sakuya's legs and slowly moved towards her honey hole. Her legs opened and closed constantly, and her mouth emitted repeated unconscious moans.

While Alex's fingers stimulated her sacred place, he used his tongue to lick Sakuya's neck, biting and sucking her beautiful skin. In less than one minute, he had filled her breast and shoulders with several hickeys.

"... Ugh... Amm...~" Sakuya moaned and hugged Alex's head. At the same time, her legs wrapped around his waist like she was cooperating with him.

Alex's body was tightly entangled with hers. He breathed on her ear again and kissed her lips. Then, he used his hand to point his erected shaft towards her slit.

Slowly, he rubbed his lower head against her slit. Sakuya let out a soft moan and bit her lips. But at this moment, her last bit of resistance surged.

"N-No... It's wrong. Please stop, I beg you. I have a boyfriend, no a fiance."

Hearing her ragged words, Alex stopped; she breathed a sigh of relief, happy that I seemed to be thinking of stopping but to her dismay, Alex smirked. Then, he thrust forward!

"Ahhnn..." Sakuya shivered instantly. Her sensitive body tensed up, releasing a massive flood of love juices.

Then, her body collapsed on the bed.

Just like that, Sakuya had cum.

"So big," She muttered softly and hugged Alex's back.

"More than you said, fiance?" Alex asked her, but she refused to answer.

"Come on, it is just the two of us present here. Don't worry, I won't tell anyone, so tell me I'm bigger than your fiance?" Alex slowly caressed her body; his fingers imbued with mana sent a jolt of electricity through Sakuya's body, and the pleasure was intense.

"Mnnh!" Sakuya tried not to make a sound like she was afraid to say something if she were to moan properly.

"Come on, just tell me." Alex insisted, but Sakuya was still stubborn, refusing to talk.

"I'll take your silence as acknowledgment then," Alex said before piercing Sakuya's pussy again.

810 Chapter 810

After piercing her body again, another round of assault began.

"Hmm... Ahnn... Ugh... ahh...~"

Sakuya's moans were like a chorus for Alex's ears. Each time he pierced her, he could hear her sweet voice resounding through the room, reminding Alex that he was assaulting another man's woman; well, even if it was not true, it was exhilarating.

"... How is it? I'm sure I'm bigger than your fiance and good at pleasuring you, am I right?" Alex provoked her; it was fun to mess with her.

Sakuya blushed like a maiden in heat and let out a soft moan.

"... P-Please, stop. He is bigger and more good at sex than you." Finally, Sakuya responded but with a provocation on her own.

"Oh? I shall work harder then" Alex smiled, acting as if he had fallen for her provocation. He started to piston her faster.

"Ahhh... S-Slower... A-Ahn... S-Slower..." Sakuya was overwhelmed and tried to make Alex slow down.

"Tell me; I'm bigger than your fiance, right?"

She blushed; nevertheless, she refused to admit defeat; smirking, Alex continued his fast onslaught. Finally, her black eyes looked at Alex with a gaze of grudge, but then, she nodded.

Next, she hugged Alex's neck and kissed his lips fiercely as if she decided to enjoy herself even while putting on an 'I'm sorry' kind of expression.

'This girl. What a good actor.'

Alex grabbed her waist and continued moving up and down, piercing her insides continually.

He could feel her walls parting to receive his holy weapon. Each time he thrust inside her, it was as though her soft flesh wrapped around his dick, sucking and stimulating it.

Even after numerous sessions with her, she was still tight as ever.

'Well, I'm her only man, not that there will be another one.' Alex mumbled to himself, feeling proud of himself. He decided to enjoy this moment.

"Mm... Ugh... Ahm~ So good."

"You are enjoying yourself, don't you?"

Alex asked teasingly; however she didn't answer.

Sakuya moaned and closed her eyes, losing herself in the pleasure of sex. She seemed to forget that she was being raped by a big bad wolf (even if it was a play), and now, she was only a woman enjoying her most primal desire.

"Miss Sakuya, You are truly beautiful," Alex whispered and kissed her earlobe while his divine spear messed her insides. Sakuya opened her eyes and smiled, opening her arms to let me enjoy her body.

"I don't know who your fiance is, but you should leave him and come with me; what do you think?" He asked with a soft smirk.

Sakuya blushed and rolled her eyes. "You're dreaming... Although you have conquered my body, you will never be able to conquer my heart. I'll never leave him even if I'm soiled."

"Oh? How lucky he is." He said before asking.

"What should I do then?"

To Alex's question, Sakuya only smirked in response. Alex understood her meaning and resumed his thrusting. At the same time, he moved his lips towards her breasts and sucked on them.

"Ohhhh.."

Sakuya let out a loud moan. She could feel Alex's tongue moving around her breasts, flicking them. Then, she felt his teeth pressing against her nipples. He pinched her nipple hard.

Suddenly, Sakuya shivered in pleasure, and her cave wrapped tightly against Alex's dick as if to break it.

Instantly, the love juices came again.

This was her second orgasm!

Alex smiled.

"You truly are sensitive. I'm the one making you so sensitive. So are you sure you don't want to leave your fiance and change him for me? I bet he can't do what I'm doing."

Sakuya was unable to reply due to her shivering body. Instead, she let out an intelligible moan and closed her eyes.

However, he was not done with her.

Before the pleasure of her orgasm could fade out, Alex started to move again.

Sakuya's eyes opened wide. "S-Stop, please no more."

She tried to speak up, but it was too late.

Without warning, she was attacked by a new round of pleasure mixed with the pain due to her sensitive body.

"Ugh!"

She grunted in pain; nevertheless, her arms hugged Alex's back tightly, and her head rested on his shoulders. Alex could feel her nails digging into his skin deeply, not that he cared about it, as it would be healed instantly.

She stayed in that position while moaning and letting out seductive sounds.

The slamming sounds from their interconnected bodies filled the room, creating a chorus capable of arousing any man.

Sakuya's body was tightly glued to me like a koala. She shivered and trembled with each one of my movements. Her body twisted in pleasure, and her breasts moved up and down due to her hurried breathing.

Alex accelerated his movements. He pressed her body against the bed and pistoned hard, harder than anything she had felt before.

"Ahhh... S-Slo-Slower... P-Please, I'm dying."

Sakuya begged with a face melted in pleasure; however, Alex did not stop. Instead, he accelerated even more.

"If you were to die, I'll bring you back with this holy spear."

With her waist in Alex's hands, he stopped the movements of her body and forced her to endure each of his attacks helplessly.

Each time Alex pierced her, he could feel her fleshy insides shivering. Her womb was like a mouth, sucking on his penis and begging it to fill her with his hot stuff.

Soon, he could feel Sakuya's body turning tense. Her moans became faster and faster, and her breathing turned short.

Alex could feel it. Her third orgasm was coming.

Just in time.

He kissed her lips and moved faster and faster. He could his ejaculation coming, and he got an idea to make this role-playing game more fun.

Alex separated his lips from Sakuya and looked at her lewd face. Then, he whispered something into her ear.

"I'll cum inside." He declared with a nasty grin on his face.

Instantly, Sakuya's expression froze; it was as if cold water had been poured on top of her head, instantly waking her up.

"S-Stop! N-Not inside, I don't want your bastard child no—Aahnnn...."

Naturally, he did not stop; with a loud moan, Sakuya hugged Alex's body tightly.

Her body twitched fiercely. A flood of love juices let out of her pussy, drenching the bed.

At the same time, Alex pierced her deeper than before, reaching her womb and depositing all his hot stuff inside her.

"Good!" He grunted; he thrust again, making Sakuya's body shiver intensely, forcing her to hug Alex's body with as much strength as possible.

Seconds later, Sakuya's body lost its strength, and she collapsed on the bed.

Then, she panted heavily, her mind completely blank and almost unable to think.

"So good." She whispered in a satisfied tone before putting on an ice-cold frown. "But I told you to not cum inside you scum. I do not want your bastard child; only him have the right to impregnate me, got it?"

Woman, do you think you are in control here? Am I the big bad wolf, you know?

Alex grinned. "Sorry about that. Well, allow me to apologize then."

Before Sakuya could understand Alex's words, he turned her body around.

Then, Alex pierced her again from behind.

The night was still young. The role-playing continued, and the two lovebirds enjoyed this thrilling experience.
