Chapter 127 Brief sweetness (9)

If it wasn't for the situation in front of her, su Wan would be overwhelmed by the sweetness of these words. But now, she was only full of guilt and uneasiness. Su Wan's hand unconsciously tightened her grip on the phone, swallowed her saliva, and pretended to be sweet. I will go back early.

"Alright," he said.

I'll hang up now. The client is still waiting for me.

"Yes."

After hanging up the phone, su Wanwan gently breathed a sigh of relief. Even if PEI Munian didn't know anything about this phone call, su Wanwan's heart was still beating very fast and couldn't stop.

Su Wanwan was on the phone with PEI Munian. Although the speaker wasn't on, the private room was so quiet that she could still hear some of PEI Munian's words. The word "wife" from him was enough to prove everything.

Du Mingwei smiled. Mr. Su, I'm so sorry. Look at me, I'm so short-sighted. How could I doubt you? it's my fault. I should be punished. I'll drink three glasses to show my apology!

Du Mingwei said as he filled his glass with wine and drank three glasses in a row.

Su Zhenhua's face softened a little when du Mingwei showed his weakness. He held the teacup in front of him and said, "I'm old and can't drink, so I'll replace wine with tea. I hope our cooperation will last long.

Du Mingwei knew that Su Zhenhua had embarrassed him. Although he was a little unhappy, he still smiled. of course, I'll just drink. President su, please have some tea. I'll be counting on you in the future.

Who asked the PEI family to have such a big face? who asked him to not have a daughter who could marry the PEI family's Crown Prince, so he could only admit defeat!

Du Mingwei's flattery won Su Zhenhua's heart. Since he had regained his face, he didn't want to embarrass du Mingwei too much. So, he poured a glass of wine and clinked glasses with du Mingwei. I'm so happy today. I should still have a drink with you, President du. Please, President du.

"President su, you too!"

PEI Munian hung up the phone and stared at her phone screen for a long time before putting it down reluctantly. However, the corners of her lips were still curved up.

He didn't think of su Wanwan. The moment she came to A city, he immediately booked a plane and flew over. Every time he met su Wanwan, he would always do some crazy and incredible things.

PEI Munian smiled and shook her head.

PEI Munian's phone rang again. She looked at the caller ID and answered.

“Speak.”

Assistant Wu’s voice could be heard. boss PEI, have you arrived in city A? ”

“Yes, I just got off the plane.”

I’ve already booked the Presidential Suite for you at the hotel you mentioned. The car is also ready for you. It’s already waiting for you at the airport entrance.

“Alright, I got it.”

PEI Munian hung up the phone, picked up her suitcase, and strode towards the airport entrance.

When the chauffeur waiting at the door saw PEI Munian, he walked up to her in a few steps and greeted her respectfully. He then took her luggage from her.

PEI Munian raised her head slightly and walked to the car.

The chauffeur opened the door for PEI Munian. After she got in, he placed her luggage in the back of the car and returned to the driver’s seat. He asked, ” Boss PEI, are we going back to the hotel? ”

PEI Munian looked out of the car window and the corners of her lips curled up. After pondering for a while, she lazily said, ” “No, let’s go to another place first.”
