Chapter 152 I want to live a good life with you (22)

Su Wanwan couldn't sleep the entire night. She was obviously very tired, but she couldn't sleep all night. She almost kept her eyes open until dawn.

When she went downstairs, aunt Wu had already prepared breakfast. She was about to ask su Wanwan if she wanted to eat now when she was shocked by su Wanwan's pale face. Her eyes were full of worry and she asked in a low voice, " young Madam, why do you look so bad? " Didn't you sleep well?"

Su Wanwan shook her head weakly.

Aunt Wu quickly helped su Wanwan sit down and said, " "I made some millet porridge today. I'll get some for you to replenish your energy."

Su Wanwan didn't have much of an appetite to eat and only said, " "Just give me a glass of warm milk."

"How can I do that? You didn't eat anything since you came back last night. A glass of hot milk isn't enough. You should have some porridge." As Auntie Wu spoke, she turned around and walked toward the kitchen.

Su Wanwan reached out and grabbed her. She was weak and feeble. there's really no need. I'll go back to the company after i finish drinking the milk.

Auntie Wu couldn't help but sigh. young Madam, if you don't take care of your health, young master will know about Wanwan.

Su Wanwan seemed to know what aunt Wu was going to say and directly interrupted her. Her eyes were dim with a trace of bitterness, " even if he knows, it doesn't matter.

Aunt Wu looked at su Wanwan's appearance and her mind slowly floated to the scene of her inadvertently seeing her young master and su Wanwan entangled in the courtyard last night. She also heard those heartless words he said to her and couldn't help but feel sad for su Wanwan.

Before this, she always thought that su Wanwan was too cold to the young master. It turned out that the young master was also cold to the young Madam.

The young Madam didn't dare to get close to him when he was like this.

However, even though the young master's expression was so cold, she still felt that he loved the young Madam.

She had been a servant in the PEI family and had watched young master grow up. Young master had always been cold and indifferent when it came to relationships. For so many years, no matter how much Madam urged him to find a woman to settle down, get married, and have children, he had never responded, causing Madam's hair to turn white from worry.

She didn't expect that he would suddenly expose the news of him spending the night with a woman. What was even more unexpected was that he said he would take responsibility and marry su Wanwan without any warning.

For the PEI family, news like the young master and su Wanwan was not a big deal at all. It could be suppressed easily and would not cause any damage to the PEI family's reputation.

More importantly, su Wanwan almost became the daughter-in-law of the gong family, a cousin of the PEI family, so even if Madam and master really wanted young master to get married earlier, they didn't agree with young master marrying su Wanwan.

Yet, young master had endured all this pressure and insisted on marrying her.

If it wasn't love, aunt Wu couldn't think of any reason that would make the young master marry su Wanwan.

Since both of them liked each other, they shouldn't give up easily. Otherwise, they would never be able to see each other's true feelings.

young Madam, don't blame me for being nosy. I saw yesterday that young master was indeed a little cold to you, Wanwan, but that doesn't mean that he doesn't have feelings for you. If he really didn't like you, he wouldn't have married you. You still have to have some confidence in young master.

so, young Madam, don't give up so easily. Hold on a little longer, and maybe young master will understand your heart.

If she could, su Wanwan wasn't willing to give up either. It was just that right now, there was only darkness in front of her eyes and she couldn't see any hope.

"I can persevere, but he won't give me a chance. I can't even see him now."

Su Wanwan was worried, and aunt Wu was also worried. She thought about it and suddenly her eyes lit up. young Madam, I have a way to let you see young master!
