

Deeply 212

Chapter 212 A surprise (2)

Her birthday, Hanhan

That's right, it was her birthday the day after tomorrow. She didn't even remember it herself, but PEI Munian did.

Su Wanwan's eyes were filled with joy and the corners of her lips rose. then, ran ran, what kind of surprise are you going to give me? "

PEI Munian laughed. I told you it's a surprise, so I can't tell you now. Just wait, you'll know when the time comes. Also, I'm busy with work these two days, so I won't be going back. See you the day after tomorrow.

"You're not going home these two days?" Su Wanwan's eyebrows furrowed again and she couldn't help but Mutter, " why are you so busy, ran ran? "

However, despite her complaints, she still instructed him seriously, " then you must eat on time and pay attention to rest. Don't be perfunctory. I'll get assistant Wu to keep an eye on you.

"I'm going to get busy." PEI Munian directly interrupted su Wanwan's nagging.

Su Wanwan had no choice but to shut her mouth. alright, you can go back to your work. I'm going home.

After hanging up the phone, su Wanwan raised her head and looked up. She sighed softly, then started the car and left.

PEI Munian got up and walked to the floor-to-ceiling window. His black eyes looked down and he looked down. The floor was too high and he couldn't see clearly what was on the ground. He only vaguely saw su Wanwan's Red car slowly merge into the traffic and disappear.

He stared at it, the light in his eyes dim and unclear. In the end, the expression in his eyes was cold, and the corners of his lips curled into a cold smile.

He turned back to his desk and pressed the internal line. As soon as the call was connected, he said in a deep voice, " book the revolving restaurant on the top floor of dynasty for the day after tomorrow. It's from eight to ten O'clock in the evening. I'll book the entire place.

After a pause, he continued, " prepare 999 roses and have them fly back from France.

After a moment of surprise, the other party was about to ask something when PEI Munian hung up the phone.

—

Two days passed by in the blink of an eye.

These two days could be considered the most comfortable and blissful days su Wanwan had in the past few months. Grandpa no longer gave her pressure and her relationship with PEI Munian gradually stabilized. Although he didn't go home these two days, she would send him text messages from time to time, reminding him to eat and rest. He would also reply to her. Perhaps he wasn't used to using text messages, so his reply was basically just " yes ".

However, she was already very happy. More importantly, she had been imagining what kind of surprise PEI Munian would give her on her birthday and was looking forward to it.

Finally, her birthday arrived.

Early in the morning, someone sent a few gift boxes. Su Wan opened it and saw that it was an extremely beautiful dress, shoes, and exquisite jewelry.

Auntie Wu watched from the side, smiling until her eyes were full of wrinkles. young Madam, look at how attentive young master is. He really cares about your birthday this time.

Su Wanwan really didn't expect PEI Munian to be so considerate and thoughtful. Her heart was filled with joy and sweetness.

Auntie Wu urged, " young Madam, please try it on.

Su Wanwan picked up the beautiful dress and gently nodded.

Back in the bedroom, su Wanwan changed into a dress, put on her shoes, and then put on her jewelry. She looked at herself in the full-body mirror. On that delicate face, there was a deep smile, her eyes were bright, beautiful and moving.

She took out her phone and took a selfie in front of the mirror. She wanted to send it to PEI Munian, but after thinking about it, she decided not to. She wanted him to see her again at night so that he could be stunned.

Su Wanwan deleted the photo and only typed a text message. I like the gift very much and can't wait to come earlier tonight.