I've never cared about you, Yingluo.

Su Wanwan had always known this fact, but there was no moment more profound than now, more heart-wrenching.

He did not know how much courage she had to muster and what kind of mood she was in to stand in front of him and say such shameless words.

So, he didn't know that his casual sentence had completely shattered her heart. It felt like hell in that instant.

Her eyes suddenly became wet. Su Wanwan quickly lowered her head, not willing to be seen by him.

She sniffed hard and suppressed her desire to cry. She forced her tears back and smiled as if she hadn't heard what he said. She continued, " can't you really let concubine su go? "

Perhaps her heart was hurt to the extreme and became numb instead. Su Wanwan's pair of beautiful eyes no longer had any luster, as deep as a deep well. She stiffly opened her mouth, " no matter the price, I'm willing, as long as you let Madam su go.

Any price?

That's right, she could pay any price for concubine su, but she would never give him what he wanted!

He wanted her to love him, to love him with all her heart, but she couldn't do it.

PEI Munian's silence made su Wanwan afraid. She was afraid that he would completely reject her once he opened his mouth and that there would be no room for negotiation. She took two steps forward, as if to express her determination, opened her arms and hugged PEI Munian. She repeated, " I'm willing to pay any price.

Su Wanwan's touch pulled PEI Munian's thoughts back. His black eyes lowered and looked at the woman in front of him.

A few buttons on her shirt had already been unbuttoned, revealing her fair skin. From his angle, he could even see her black lace bra and the deep curves. The visual impact of black and white made his brain a little confused, and his eyes darkened.

Su Wanwan raised her head and saw PEI Munian's dazed and dazed eyes. She thought that this might be her only chance.

She knew how shameful, shameless-and despicable her actions were-but she had no other choice, did she? Anyway, from the moment she came to look for PEI Munian, these labels had already been stuck on her.

Su Wanwan gritted her teeth hard and went all out. She tiptoed, put her hands around PEI Munian's neck, and kissed her red lips.

As long as PEI Munian was willing to make this deal, the SU family would be safe.

However, just as su Wanwan was about to kiss PEI Munian, PEI Munian seemed to have thought of something and suddenly returned to her senses. The next second, his hand grabbed su Wanwan's arm and pulled hard, pushing her away fiercely.

PEI Munian's handsome face was covered in haze and stormy waves rolled in his eyes. He looked at su Wan as if he wanted to tear her apart. He raised his hand and pointed at the door, his voice full of fury. su Wan, I said, I don't care about you, no matter what you do!

Su Wanwan was shocked on the spot and looked at him in a daze with big eyes.

PEI Munian glared at su Wanwan, her whole body tensed up. She was like a violent Lion and was about to pounce on her in the next second. put on your clothes and get lost immediately!! I don't want to see you, get lost!"

Tears instantly gushed out of her eyes. Su Wanwan closed her eyes and was silent for a second. Her voice was dead silent, " I'm sorry for disturbing you.
