

Deeply 29

Chapter 29 No Matter who I Look for, It Won't Be You (13)

Everything that happened last night wasn't a dream... it actually happened?

Su Wanwan's eyes widened in disbelief and her mind went blank. She stood rooted to the spot, unable to come to terms with it.

After a long while, she finally understood the situation she was currently in. A deep fear surged up in her heart.

Although her memories of last night were a bit vague, she still remembered that it was her who had broken into the bathroom, her who pestered Pei Munian, and it was also her who took the initiative to hug and kiss him.

She knew very well how much Pei Munian hated her, yet last night she still...

Su Wanwan shuddered. She had zero courage to linger in Pei Munian's embrace. Suppressing the trembling in her hands, she gently moved away from his arm that was wrapped around her waist. Then she gently lifted the quilt off and got out of bed, trembling.

Their clothes were scattered all over the floor and mixed up with each other. Su Wanwan squatted and rummaged through the clothes, but she only managed to find her bra and panties. Her dress was nowhere to be found. She looked up and scanned her surroundings. In the end, she realized her dress was pinned under Pei Munian's body.

Su Wanwan quickly put on her bra and panties. Then she tried to pull her dress out from under him but was worried about waking Pei Munian up. She tried tugging on it a few times but still couldn't get it out. After thinking about it, she decided to just put on the bathrobe lying on the sofa and call someone to send her clothes after she got out.

After Su Wanwan was neatly dressed, she picked up her bag and tiptoed to the door. However, she had just taken a few steps when a sneer suddenly rang out from behind her, "You're leaving just like that?"

Su Wanwan's back stiffened. Before she could respond, the man behind her had already taken a huge stride forward. The next moment, he grabbed her shoulders and forcefully turned her body around, after which he ruthlessly flung her back onto the bed.

When her back hit the soft mattress, Su Wanwan instinctively wanted to get up. However, his tall and sturdy body was already hovering over her, and his hands were propped up next to both sides of her face, practically trapping her beneath him.

His dark eyes stared at her fixedly and his lips were curled up slightly but there was no humor in the depths of his eyes. There was only an endless callosity and coldness.

"I wonder who it was last night who said that 'no matter who I look for, it won't be you'? But what happened in the end? Not only did she sneak into my room, but she even shamelessly stripped naked and seduced me. Su Wanwan, why are you so cheap?"

His voice sounded gentle with the lethargy of a person who had just woken up. Yet his words were so cruel. They were so ruthless that it felt as if countless sharp knives were slashing her in an instant.

Su Wanwan's face immediately turned pale. Fortunately, the lighting in the room wasn't great, so he couldn't see how hurt and vulnerable she was.

She bit down on her lower lip hard. Su Wanwan really wanted to defend herself and explain that she didn't sneak into his room. She remembered she had laid down in her own room, so she didn't know how this suddenly became his room. She wanted to explain that she hadn't intended to seduce him. She simply wanted to take a bath because she was just too hot. She didn't know that he would be in the bathroom. However, she also knew that Pei Munian wouldn't believe such an explanation. Even she thought that her explanation was feeble.

Su Wanwan lowered her gaze slightly to prevent him from seeing the sadness in her eyes. Swallowing, she tried her best to keep her voice calm as she muttered in a low voice, "Believe it or not, I didn't do it on purpose. What happened last night... you can just take it that nothing happened."
