

Deeply 394

394 I don't want a child (4)

Auntie Zhang's phone was in her pocket. If she got it, she would know who her employer was. Mr. PEI had repeatedly told her not to let her know.

Aunt Zhang quickly turned sideways and avoided su Wan's hand. Then she covered her pocket with force and anxiously explained, "miss su, don't think too much. I didn't send someone to monitor you. I just came to take care of your daily life.

"Ha, if you're really innocent, then let me take a look at your phone. Auntie, I'm not stupid, but I'm not stupid! I trusted you so much, but you're helping someone else to monitor me?"

The more su Wanwan spoke, the angrier and more agitated she became. When she found out that she had been monitored all this time, she felt fear, despair, and anger.

She didn't want anything anymore. She had already let herself leave their world. She just wanted to find a small shelter and give birth to the child. If she was lucky, she could still live, then she could watch over her child for the rest of her life. If she wasn't so lucky, at least she could give birth to the child safely and let her sister take care of it. This way, she could leave this world in peace.

And the result?

Was everything just a delusion?

Was even this small wish of hers a delusion?

miss su, I'm really sorry, but please believe me. I don't have any ill intentions. I really want to take care of you and the child.

"Trust you?" Su Wanwan mumbled and repeated these words, finding it more and more ridiculous. from now on, I only believe in myself. I don't believe a word that anyone of you says!

In this world, she was the only one who could be trusted. She could no longer trust anyone else!

"Give me the phone!"

Su Wanwan berated and reached out to snatch it. She must know if it was Grandpa or PEI Munian!

"Miss su, please don't be like this."

Aunt Zhang persuaded while avoiding, but su Wanwan was in hot pursuit. As the two people struggled and twisted, it was inevitable that there would be some physical friction. Su Wan's stomach seemed to have been accidentally touched by aunt Zhang. Her stomach was already in pain. Now with such an impact, the swelling pain suddenly attacked. Su Wan painfully cried out, "ah—" and her face turned pale.

Auntie Zhang was so scared that her face turned pale. How could she care about her phone? she quickly reached out to help su Wanwan up and said in a trembling voice, "miss, miss su, are you, are you alright?"

Su Wanwan's hand covered her stomach. It was so painful that cold sweat suddenly appeared on her forehead. She felt that her stomach seemed to be pulled by something, stirred, and something was flowing straight down.

it hurts, Yueyue, it hurts, Yueyue, send me to the hospital. Hurry, hurry! Su Wanwan's hand tightly grabbed aunt Zhang's hand and shouted with difficulty.

Only then did aunt Zhang react and nod her head repeatedly. Okay, okay. Miss su, don't be afraid. I'll take you. I'll take you to the hospital.

Aunt Zhang used all her strength to help su Wanwan up and then carefully walked out. Su Wanwan gritted her teeth and forced herself to walk forward step by step.

They left the apartment and went downstairs. Auntie Zhang helped her into the car and closed the door. She returned to the driver's seat, started the engine, and drove away quickly.
