

Deeply 399

399 I don't want a child (9)

Su Wanwan was muddleheaded in a vast white world. She was surrounded by fog. She couldn't see the front and couldn't see the way out. She kept running and searching.

her child was missing. she had to find him. she had to find him.

baby, baby, come out quickly. Don't play hide-and-seek with mommy. Be good and come out quickly!

Su Wanwan called out again and again, constantly pushing away the fog in front of her, hoping that her child could appear in front of her in the next second, but Huahua never appeared.

Su Wanwan's tears fell uncontrollably and her voice was filled with sobs, " baby, come out quickly, come out quickly! don't scare mommy, mommy can't live without you. come out!"

su wanwan was careless and suddenly fell to the ground. she wanted to get up, but a lot of blood gushed out from her lower body. that bright red blood printed red in her eyes.

a child's figure slowly appeared in front of her. the child's face was covered in tears. he raised his little hand and said goodbye to her. " mommy, goodbye, goodbye, goodbye, yingluo. " no, don't leave me, baby. Don't leave, don't leave mommy!

Su Wanwan reached out and wanted to hug him, but her hand went directly through his body. No matter how hard she tried, she couldn't hug him.

The child cried and said goodbye again and again. Then, his figure disappeared in front of him little by little until it turned into nothingness. Su Wanwan didn't dare to believe it and pounced over, " don't go, don't ...

A scream completely pulled su Wanwan back to reality from the dream. She suddenly opened her eyes and looked at the White ceiling in a daze and couldn't help but gasp.

The sweat on her forehead slowly dripped down and dripped into her eyes. Su Wan blinked and her consciousness recovered little by little. Her memory also came back little by little.

Many scenes flooded into her mind. Her first reaction was to raise her hand and touch her lower abdomen.

The originally slightly raised lower abdomen returned to being flat. Su Wan's hands trembled, trembled, and slowly stroked, trying to find traces of life. However, there was nothing. She couldn't feel anything. Her child was gone.

no!

Su Wanwan slowly shook her head. She couldn't believe this fact and couldn't accept this fact. Her child was clearly still fine. How could it be gone like this?

It must be a dream. It must be. All of this was just a nightmare. When she woke up, her child would still be fine. Nothing had changed. Nothing!

Su Wanwan eagerly closed her eyes. She wanted to wait for this nightmare to be over so that she could wake up and return to reality!

However, as soon as she closed her eyes, the door of the ward was pushed open. Then, she heard footsteps approaching from afar, step by step, and finally stopped by the bed.

The footsteps were so clear and real that it was impossible to numb himself.

Su Wanwan's eyes slowly opened. The man's face was imprinted in her eyes. At the same time, all her hopes and fantasies were shattered.

PEI Munian

It was him. He was the one who signed the operation consent form, sent her into the operating room, and cruelly aborted her child!

Her child Yingluo was really gone. Gone!