

Deeply 414

414 Try to be together (4)

PEI Munian suppressed the doubts in her heart and held her hand as they walked into the church.

At this moment, the church was empty and extremely quiet. Only the sound of their footsteps echoed in the large church.

They stopped in front of Jesus. PEI Munian turned her face and looked at su Wanwan. His black eyes stared at her face for a few seconds before he said in a low voice, "Wanwan, why did Wanwan want to come here?"

Why do you want to come here?

Su Wanwan raised her head. The statue of Jesus in front of her was blurry and only had a rough outline. She curved her lips, put her hands together in front of her and closed her eyes.

She came here because Yingluo had a regret.

She didn't want this regret to remain in her life. She wanted an end to it.

Su Wanwan prayed silently for a few minutes and opened her eyes again. She didn't answer PEI Munian's question and only said softly, "Lingyu, five minutes. Can you stand quietly beside me for five minutes?"

"Wanwan?"

"I'll be done in five minutes."

PEI Munian didn't know what su Wanwan wanted to do, but no matter what she wanted to do, not to mention five minutes, he could give her a lifetime.

"Alright," he said.

Su Wanwan smiled.

Her hand groped around and held PEI Munian's hand, their fingers intertwined.

She closed her eyes again and imagined the man beside her as PEI Munian, the only person she had loved and hated deeply in her life.

He owed her a wedding, and he owed her a 'I do'.

She knew that her obsession was laughable, and she knew that this farewell ceremony was even more laughable. However, she could only truly let go if there were no more regrets in Yingluo's heart.

If she really couldn't wake up tomorrow, at least in this life of hers, she had bravely loved, chased, suffered, and hurt. She didn't live in vain.

When she saw her baby, she could even tell him that her mother did not let her down for her love. She was brave from the beginning to the end.

It was as if the wedding march really rang in su Wanwan's ears. She held PEI Munian's hand and slowly walked in from the other side of the red carpet. The guests looked at her with a smile. There were her parents, grandfather, sister, PEI Munian's parents, and her relatives and friends. Everyone was blessing them.

She looked at PEI Munian. That handsome face was the same as the young man in white when she first met him. His every frown, every smile, and every move he made on the high platform was the most fatal poison in her life.

They stood in front of Jesus and made a solemn oath.

I, PEI Munian, am willing to take su Wanwan as my wife. Whether rich or poor, healthy or ill, I love her and respect her. Even death can not separate us.

"I, su Wanwan, am willing to marry PEI Munian as my husband. Whether rich or poor, healthy or sick, I love him and respect him. Even death can not separate us."

—

It was night.

She didn't know if it was because of her headache or because of tomorrow's operation, but su Wan fell asleep and suddenly woke up from her dream. Her hand moved slightly and actually touched an arm, as if someone was sleeping on the bed.

Su Wanwan was a little surprised, but then she understood. This should be Gong Lingyu.

She had already asked him to go back, but she didn't expect him to stay here.

The corners of su Wanwan's lips unconsciously raised. She turned her face to the side and faced Gong Lingyu. The ward was very dark, with only the moonlight pouring in through the window. She didn't know why, but her eyes were not as blurry as before, and she could vaguely see the light.