PEI Munian raised her head slowly, her dark eyes staring straight at Dr. Zhao. They were so deep and dark that Dr. Zhao could even see slight trembling in them. He knew that he was on the verge of a mental breakdown.

Dr. Zhao looked at him for a few seconds and slowly said, " during the operation, miss SU's heart stopped beating for a while. After we rescued her, the blood clot has been removed. She is now out of danger for the time being. However, whether she can wake up or not will depend on herself.

Whether she could wake up or not was up to her.

PEI Munian looked at him in a daze, as if she did not understand what he said.

Dr. Zhao sighed. boss PEI, you don't have to worry anymore. Miss SU's will to live is very strong. She might wake up soon.

Perhaps.

In this world, the most terrifying thing was the uncertainties. This was because it could give people infinite hope, but it could also ruthlessly crush that hope.

He did not want to hear the word 'maybe' at all.

"I want a definite answer. I want her to wake up!"

Dr. Zhao looked at the tall and strong body in front of him, but it was so fragile. If he could, he wanted to give him a definite answer, but unfortunately, he was just a doctor, not a God.

boss PEI, the next 72 hours will be crucial. She's most likely to wake up during this time. If she doesn't, then let's talk about Wanwan.

Dr. Zhao didn't finish his sentence, but his meaning was clear.

Su Wanwan was sent to the intensive care unit. PEI Munian put on a dust-proof suit and walked in.

Su Wanwan's body was attached with all kinds of instruments. That cold voice rang and echoed in the ward.

PEI Munian sat on the chair by the bed. He reached out and slowly covered su Wanwan's hand. He clenched it bit by bit. His hand was even colder than su Wanwan's hand.

"Wanwan."

PEI Munian opened her mouth hoarsely. He originally had so many things to say to her, but at this moment, he could only call out her name. His voice was so low and deep, afraid that if he spoke loudly, she would be frightened by him and disappear before his eyes.

He had never regretted anything in his life. He thought that he would never regret what he had done, but now, he knew that he had always regretted it.

He regretted that three years ago, under her cold words and ridicule, he left in anger. He regretted that three years later, when he met her again, he didn't follow his heart and go up to give her a hug. What he regretted the most was that Huahua clearly had the opportunity in this life to hold hands with su Wanwan, but he chose to take cruel revenge.

Greed was like a snake swallowing an elephant.

At first, he thought that it was enough for him to have her, even if she didn't love him. But when he really had her, he couldn't help but want her heart. Then, he used the stupidest and stupidest way to finally push the person he loved further and further away.

"Wanwan, the greatest misfortune in your life was meeting me, right? I've always been unwilling to admit this fact. I thought that if I didn't admit it, it wouldn't exist. That way, I could continue to deceive myself and others."

"Wanwan, do you still remember? You said you wanted to try being together with Gong Lingyu, but I haven't given you an answer yet. As long as you wake up, I promise you that I'll let you go. I'll let you go, you hear me?"
