

Deeply 433

433 Uninvited guest (3)

PEI Munian's last bit of rationality disappeared in an instant. He let out an extremely low growl from his throat and picked su Wanwan up again. He walked out of the bathroom and walked towards the big bed.

Su Wanwan was placed on the soft bed. PEI Munian's tall body slowly pressed down. His hands were on both sides of su Wanwan's cheeks. His black eyes were fixed on her face for a few seconds before he leaned over and kissed her again.

He wasn't as gentle and probing as he was in the bathroom. Instead, he was strong, overbearing, and eager, not allowing her to avoid him.

The air gradually heated up as if there were sparks of fire flickering.

PEI Munian's breathing became heavier and the temperature of her body became hotter and hotter. The blood in her body seemed to be boiling as she shouted.

The veins at the corners of PEI Munian's forehead were slightly protruding, and beads of sweat slowly slid down his perfect facial lines. He was extremely charming. He straightened his body slightly and grabbed the chin of his clothes with both hands. He lifted them up, took them off quickly, and threw them to the side.

A sexy and firm chest, eight beautifully lined abdominal muscles, and that charming mermaid line, completely presented in front of su Wan.

Although there were still many things that she did not understand, everyone had a natural instinct for beautiful things. Just like when she opened her eyes for the first time after her surgery and saw PEI Munian walking towards her, she also thought that he was a very handsome man.

Su Wanwan stared blankly at PEI Munian. She originally had difficulty breathing, but now she felt that she couldn't breathe and was getting more and more oxygen-deprived.

PEI Munian looked at su Wanwan's round eyes and couldn't help but curve her lips. At the bottom of her dark eyes, a bright light flashed.

This was the first time su Wanwan was so attracted to him and watched him like this, unlike every time they were intimate in the past, it was always his one-man show.

PEI MU's anxious voice suddenly slowed down. His eyes became gentle. Looking at her, it was as if he could drown. He lowered his body and his thin lips gently kissed su Wan's eyes. There was no desire, but it was so entangled.

Su Wanwan blinked. Her long eyelashes were like a small brush, brushing against PEI Munian's lips. It was as if she was brushing against his heart, making people's hearts throb.

PEI Munian gently kissed su Wanwan's eyebrows. It was extremely light and soft, as if she was treating her most precious treasure.

PEI Munian's sudden gentleness slowly soothed the fear in su Wanwan's heart. He seemed to have returned to the gentle man who doted on her. His kiss even made her feel quite comfortable. She subconsciously imitated his actions, slightly raised her head, and pecked his face a few times with her red lips.

Su Wanwan's innocent kiss stunned PEI Munian for a moment, then she smiled helplessly.

She didn't know anything now. She was so innocent and naive that no matter how big his desires were, she would easily crush them.

His body was still burning, but the heat in his mind had stopped.

PEI Munian suddenly hugged su Wanwan tightly, using all his strength to hug her so tightly that su Wanwan struggled a little uncomfortably. Only then did he move closer to su Wanwan's ear. His voice was low and unbearable, faintly carrying a trace of resentment and dissatisfaction, "su Wanwan, you must be deliberately taking revenge on my Wanwan.

This way, he could see it, but he could not eat it. This was the greatest torture.