

Deeply 436

436 Uninvited guest (6)

PEI Munian took the book from su Wanwan's hand and put it back on the bedside table. Then, he picked up su Wanwan's hand and turned it over so that her palm was facing upwards.

He stretched out his slender fingers and wrote on her palm, stroke by stroke, until he wrote a word.

He tapped su Wanwan's palm, his black eyes looked at su Wanwan's quiet side profile and opened his mouth. Wanwan, this is your name. Wan, your name is su Wanwan.

PEI Munian spoke very slowly. She read her name clearly word by word, dragging out the last syllable slightly. Her voice was indescribably charming and sweet.

Su Wanwan couldn't help but turn her face sideways and look at him with her big eyes.

PEI Munian kissed her forehead and continued to write on her palm. Then, he said, "Wanwan, my name is here. Mu Nian. My name is mu Nian.

His voice was also dragged out, light and slow, trying to let su Wanwan remember it, best if it could be deeply engraved in her mind.

Su Wanwan kept staring at him. Her lips moved and she unconsciously read along with him, "nianmo, nianmo.

His voice, which had not been spoken for a long time, was hoarse, as if it was filled with gravel. It was sour and unpleasant to hear. However, when PEI Munian heard this voice, she trembled.

Her black pupils quickly enlarged. PEI Munian's hand touched su Wan's face, her black eyes stared at her and she said in disbelief: Wanwan, can you, can you, can you, can you, can you, can speak?"

since su wanwan's surgery until now, she had not opened her mouth to speak. she didn't even make a sound. he thought that he would have to wait for a long time before she could speak.

after the shock, she was filled with excitement. pei munian couldn't help but say, "Wanwan, say that again.

Su Wanwan looked at him blankly, as if she didn't understand what he meant.

PEI Munian knew that su Wanwan's mind was still one-track minded. He took a deep breath, suppressed his agitated emotions, and spoke to su Wanwan again. He slowly said word by word, "PEI Munian, PEI, mu, Nian!

Su Wanwan blinked, then opened her mouth and said with difficulty. It was just that the first two words seemed a bit difficult for her. She held it in for a long time and only squeezed out the last word, "read Momo, read Momo.

Despite this, PEI Munian was already very happy. He hugged su Wan and kissed her lips as a reward. Wanwan, remember this name. Remember it firmly because I'm your husband and the most important person to you.

PEI Munian's kiss made su Wanwan happy. She continued to open her mouth and continued to learn, " old son-in-law, old son-in-law.

His voice was clearly unpleasant to hear, but it made PEI Munian's heart melt. He nodded and his voice became gentler. yes, hubby. Niannian is the husband and Wanwan is the wife.

"Old, male."

PEI Munian hugged su Wanwan tightly again. She only hoped that time could stop at this happy moment forever.

—

After su Wan spoke, her learning ability and communication ability also continued to improve. The caretaker Lin Xiaoxuan had been accompanying her in rehabilitation exercises and was also surprised by her recovery ability.

She was now able to understand some of the words spoken by others, and could also carry out simple communication.

PEI Munian had a meeting at the company today and would be home late. Su Wanwan didn't want to eat first and insisted on waiting for him to come back. Aunt Wu was having a headache when suddenly, the sound of a car coming in came from the door.

Auntie Wu was stunned. Didn't young master say that he would be back late?