Chapter 44 I won't disturb you IV

PEI Munian looked over and was shocked by the excitement in her eyes.

Even though he knew in his heart that she was only marrying him for the SU family, she was so obvious and so eager that he couldn't help but feel anger rising from the bottom of his heart and quickly flowing to his limbs and bones.

PEI Munian walked over. The sun was shining behind him and it was unusually bright. His body seemed to be surrounded by a circle of light. He was as beautiful as a fairy. However, his handsome face was cold and indifferent.

He looked at her coldly, and his voice was as cold as ice. "What's wrong? You're afraid that if I don't come, you and your su family's wealth will vanish into thin air, aren't you?"

Su Wanwan's expression stiffened slightly. She quickly shut her mouth and stood there with her eyebrows drooped.

Seeing her like this, PEI Munian became angrier. How he wished she could refute him, refute him that she did not marry him purely for glory and wealth. Even if it was a lie, even if it was perfunctory, this was all his wishful thinking.

PEI Munian's heart was filled with anger. The way he looked at su Wanwan was as cold as a knife. His lips moved. He wanted to continue to say something, but in the end, he only snorted coldly, turned around, and walked straight to the registration area.

Su Wanwan stood still for a few seconds, then raised her feet and slowly followed him.

The staff handed the two of them a form each. PEI Munian sat at the side and filled it out with a tense face. There was no joy in her at all. In fact, there was even a hint of coldness exuding from her.

Su Wanwan sat on the other side, silently filling in the information. Similarly, there was no excitement and happiness of getting married.

The staff member looked to the left and then to the right. He was a little suspicious. Did these two people go to the wrong area? They were not here to register their marriage, but to register their divorce?

After su Wanwan finished filling in all the information, when she was signing for confirmation, the tip of her pen paused slightly. Did she really want to marry PEI Munian like this?

PEI Munian happened to see this scene when she subconsciously glanced over from the corner of her eye.

His heart couldn't help trembling.

Su Wanwan was hesitating. Was it because she didn't want to marry him in such a calculative way? Would she have even the slightest bit of feelings for him?

Su Wanwan didn't notice that PEI Munian was looking at her. She was immersed in her own thoughts and the hand holding the pen didn't put it down.

This lasted for so long that it seemed like she would never write again.

PEI Munian's heart trembled violently. The usual cold light in his eyes slowly warmed up following her hesitation, and even the corners of his lips curled up slightly.

The surroundings suddenly became very quiet and everything became illusory. In PEI Munian's eyes, only su Wanwan, who was close at hand, was left.

He looked at her beautiful and delicate face, and for some reason, he was a little lost in thought.

Back then, so many people had pursued him and used all sorts of methods to attract his attention. How could he have fallen for her in the chaotic crowd?

Perhaps it was because on the day of the opening ceremony, he stood on stage and gave a speech. He looked down and saw a girl in a light green dress sitting there, chatting and laughing with the students around her. When she smiled, her eyes curved, and two faint dimples appeared at the corners of her lips. She was so bright and beautiful.

That night when he returned home, he could not get the girl's smile out of his mind in his sleep. He could not forget her.
