497 What's your relationship with her (7)

Su Wanwan paused for a moment and quickly searched for the most threatening thing in her mind. However, after thinking about it, she only had one sentence, " otherwise, I'll run away from home! You won't be able to find me again!"

After su Wanwan said this, she felt that there was no imposing manner, but her mind was empty now and she couldn't think of a more intimidating threat.

She had accidentally stepped on the thing that aunt Wu was most afraid of. Young master had instructed her to look after young Madam. If she went missing, she could not bear the responsibility.

"Okay, okay, okay, young Madam, don't be angry. I won't tell young master. I promise I won't!" Auntie Wu covered her mouth with both hands.

Su Wanwan returned to the villa. The first thing she did was run to the bedroom and rummaged through the room for the so-called marriage certificate.

Auntie Wu followed behind her and tidied up the things that she had messed up. Even though she sighed, she still tried to persuade her. young Madam, you can take your time to search. There's no need to be so anxious. You'll definitely find Hanhan.

Su Wanwan turned a deaf ear and buried her head in it. However, she searched the entire bedroom and still couldn't find the marriage certificate. She stood up and walked towards the study without saying a word.

After a while, all kinds of documents were scattered everywhere, but there was still no marriage certificate.

Furthermore, in the process of rummaging through the villa, not only did she not find a marriage certificate, but she also did not find any items that they loved each other. Usually, couples or lovers would have intimate photos or couple tokens of their love. However, in this villa, she and PEI Munian were clearly the same. His things belonged to him, and her things belonged to her. How did they look like a loving couple?

Su Wanwan was stunned in place. Her eyes reddened even more and tears were spinning inside. She bit her lip and raised her head, trying to force her tears back. She didn't want to look like a pitiful worm.

Aunt Wu also didn't expect that the marriage certificate was actually not at home. To think that she still vowed solemnly. Now, she was slapped in the face. She was a little embarrassed to face su Wan.

"It seems that niannian and I are really not married, Yingluo."

Su Wanwan spoke in a low voice. She slowly looked at aunt Wu, who had her head down. She sniffed hard and tried to keep her voice calm, " aunt Wu, tell me the truth. What exactly is my Wanwan? "

Of course, she was his wife!

But aunt Wu also knew that even if she answered like this, su Wanwan wouldn't believe it. The key was still the marriage certificate. She thought, with how much the young master loved the young Madam, it was impossible that he didn't get the marriage certificate back then. And the marriage certificate couldn't be thrown away so easily. He must have kept it.

But if the certificate was not in the villa, where could it be? Was it at the old mansion? Or in the company?

Auntie Wu thought for a while and felt that it was more likely that he was at the company. After all, after young master moved out, he would only go back to the old house for a meal during the holidays. It was impossible for him to bring the marriage certificate back. The young master had been in the company for so long that he had a second home.

The more Auntie Wu thought about it, the more she felt that it was possible. Her eyes lit up and she quickly said, " young Madam, if the marriage certificate isn't here, it should be in the office!

"The company?"

Su Wanwan stared at aunt Wu suspiciously. She clearly said that she was definitely at home, but now she's at the company? Could she still believe her?

Aunt Wu seemed to have seen through su Wanwan's thoughts and helplessly said: "Young Madam, you'll know when you go to the company."
