Chapter 51 Payment in installments (1)

PEI Munian stormed out of the door angrily.

When she walked out of the door, she even tripped over the suitcase at the door and almost fell.

He angrily kicked the suitcase, and it flew a few meters away. When it fell to the ground, the lid opened, and the clothes inside scattered out.

PEI Munian glanced at it and the anger in her heart became even more suffocating.

Su Wanwan was already married to him. This would be her home in the future. However, there were only one or two pieces of clothes in her suitcase. It could be seen that she was always ready to leave.

She wanted to kick him away after she had used him? Heh, how could there be such a cheap thing in the world?

PEI Munian clenched her fists tightly and snorted coldly. Then, she took out her phone and made a call.

After PEI Munian left, the bedroom was so quiet that only Su Wanwan's light breathing could be heard. She opened her eyes wide and stared at the white ceiling, her eyes turning red little by little.

If there had never been anything good between her and PEI Munian, would she not be so sad now? And if Ran Ran didn't love PEI Munian so much, would he not hurt her no matter what he said?

However, the good times in the past had long disappeared after she found out about that matter, Yingluo.

Su Wanwan didn't close her eyes for almost the entire night. It wasn't until the horizon started to turn white that she fell asleep in a daze. When she woke up again, it was already evening.

She was a little dizzy from hunger and was about to get up to find something to eat when there was a knock on the door.

Su Wanwan's heart suddenly thumped and a trace of fear rose. PEI Munian couldn't have come back, right? But that's not right. If it was him, he would have pushed the door open and come in directly. Why would he knock on the door so politely?

Su Wanwan was still thinking about it when a respectful female voice came from outside the door. "Young Madam, are you awake?"

Young Madam? Was it a servant?

When she came yesterday, there were clearly no servants!

Su Wanwan propped up her body, lifted the quilt and got off the bed. She walked to the door and opened it.

There was indeed a middle-aged woman in a servant's uniform standing at the door. She saw su Wan and couldn't help but smile: "Young Madam, you're awake?"

Su Wanwan's eyebrows furrowed slightly and she said softly, "you're a servant here?"

yes, young Madam. After young master moved out, I've been taking care of him. My father's family name is Wu, so you can call me Auntie Wu. Auntie Wu replied.

"Then you ran away yesterday."

Aunt Wu seemed to know what su Wanwan was going to say and went along with her words, "I had something to do at home yesterday, so I took a leave of absence and went home.

"So that's how it is." Su Wanwan smiled and said, "Hello aunt Wu, I'm su Wanwan. In the future, I'll have to trouble you more.

you're too kind, young Madam. If there's anything you need, just let me do it.

Su Wanwan originally wanted to make some small talk, but unexpectedly, her stomach started growling. Su Wanwan's face turned red and she was quite embarrassed.

Auntie Wu acted as if she didn't hear anything and said without a change in her expression, "young Madam, dinner is ready. Do you want to eat now?"

Su Wanwan wanted to nod her head directly, but she suddenly thought of something and shook her head. wait for PEI Munian to come back, then eat.

young Madam, there's no need to wait for young master. He just called to say that he won't be coming back tonight.
