Su Wanwan's entire brain felt like it was being pricked by thousands of needles. She couldn't help but hold her head with her hands and her voice trembled from the pain, "my, my bag, there's medicine in my bag."

Gong Lingyu had also been pulled back to consciousness by su Wanwan's painful cries. He quickly turned around and rummaged through su Wanwan's bag. He found the medicine bottle, looked at the instructions, unscrewed the cap, and poured out two pills. He was about to feed su Wanwan but was stopped by Yu Jia with one hand. "let me see the medicine first. Wanwan is pregnant now. You can't take medicine randomly!"

Gong Lingyu handed the bottle in his hand to Yu Jia. Yu Jia quickly scanned the ingredients of the medicine and her eyes narrowed. "you can't take this medicine!"

"But she's in so much pain,"

"Let her calm down first!"

Yu Jia put the medicine bottle on the bedside table and instructed Gong Lingyu to hold su Wanwan's hands and feet slightly to prevent her from accidentally hurting herself. She held su Wanwan's face with both hands and said softly, "Wanwan, look at me. Come, take a deep breath!"

That report showed that su Wanwan's body was fine, so her headache should only be stimulated by the news of her pregnancy. So as long as she calmed down, her headache would naturally ease.

Su Wanwan tried hard to ignore the severe pain. She looked at Yu Jia and followed the instructions from her mouth. She took a deep breath and then exhaled a long breath. This repeated for a while. The feeling of the headache didn't seem so serious, but there were fragmented images that flashed quickly in her mind.

Those images were very unfamiliar, but the person in the images was herself.

She saw her in the image. She was also told that she was pregnant. Her face was filled with shock and bitterness, but she did not see a trace of joy. Just like the photo on the marriage certificate, there was only despair.

Then, the scene changed and the scene became a private room. She and PEI Munian sat face to face. She saw that on PEI Munian's handsome face, there was no longer the gentleness and pampering that she was familiar with, but extreme coldness. Even his voice was chilly, making people feel cold. "su Wanwan, I don't want this child. I will arrange a time to take you to get an abortion. The day you abort it is the day we sign the divorce papers!"

The scene changed again. She saw herself covered in blood as she lay on the bed. She held PEI Munian's hand and begged her to let go of his child, again and again. However, he still pulled her hand away mercilessly and signed his name on the operation consent form.

The pain in her head gradually stopped, but the pain in her heart was a thousand times, ten thousand times more painful than just now. Su Wanwan's hand pressed hard on her heart, tears like a broken string of pearls, falling.

Yu Jia panicked a little when su Wanwan cried like this. Wanwan, does it still hurt? " Didn't you feel better?"

"it hurts, it hurts here!" Su Wan wrung her own heart, the pain made her whole body curl up, but there was no way to relieve the slightest bit of pain.

Yu Jia was stunned, and Gong Lingyu seemed to have noticed something. He suddenly looked at su Wan and said in a deep voice: Wanwan, did you remember something? "

Su Wanwan's Red eyes turned to Gong Lingyu, as if she saw a life-saving straw. Her hand grabbed Gong Lingyu's sleeve hard and asked with the last trace of hope, " "My, my previous child Yingluo was aborted by niannian?"
