

Deeply 553

553 Is this what you want?(3)

The next day.

It was an auspicious day for marriage.

Su Zhenhua's health had been getting worse and worse recently. He was plagued by the illness, but on such a good day, he still felt a little more energetic and struggled to get out of bed.

Just as he was about to call someone to help him wash up and put on his clothes, nanny li hurriedly pushed the door open and entered, her face anxious and helpless. old master, bad news!

Su Zhenhua's face quickly darkened as he scolded nanny li. what nonsense are you talking about? today is Wanwan's wedding day. It's an auspicious day. There's only good and no bad!

He paused for a moment and seemed to have realized something. His eyes suddenly focused. could Wanwan be in trouble again? "

Nanny li nodded with a sad face. I wanted to wake miss up in the morning to get dressed, but no one answered after knocking on the door for a long time. I pushed the door open and went in, but there was no one inside. I called miss, but she didn't answer the phone. The wedding dress was just laid on the bed, and there were only two letters on it. One was for you, old master, and the other was for young master PEI.

"What?"

Su Zhenhua walked over with his walking stick and reached out to nanny li. where's the letter? " Give me the letter!"

Nanny li quickly handed over the letter in her hand.

Su Zhenhua's hands trembled as he took out the letter from the envelope. He spread it open and scanned the words on it. His black eyes widened little by little, and anger rushed up to him.

"Evil creature! This evil creature!"

Su Zhenhua never thought that su Wanwan would give up such a good opportunity. It was not easy for PEI Munian to accept her, publicize her identity, and even hold such a grand wedding for her, but she said she wouldn't marry and left!

"Go, go and ask the guard when she left. Get someone to chase after her. We must get her back."

"Yes, I'll, I'll go for a walk now."

Nanny li was just about to turn around and leave when Su Zhenhua's breathing suddenly quickened. She didn't know if it was because he was too anxious. He gasped for breath and couldn't stand firmly. He staggered two steps back and fell down with a loud bang.

Nanny li was shocked and rushed forward. old master, old master, how are you? " Old master, please."

In front of the church, famous cars gathered, and guests in gorgeous and Noble clothes arrived one after another. The huge church was decorated luxuriously and dreamily. A long red carpet was laid from the entrance to the statue of Jesus. The roses on both sides were enchanting and beautiful, symbolizing their fiery love.

PEI Munian was dressed in a pure black tuxedo that wrapped around his body submissively. It made his posture look even more upright and his aura even more outstanding. The corners of his lips curled up slightly. His handsome face was like a god in heaven, stunning everyone.

He stood at one end of the red carpet, waiting for his beloved bride to arrive on the other end.

Time passed by, and the bridal car slowly drove over. Everyone's eyes turned to the church door in unison, waiting for the arrival of the world's luckiest and happiest woman.

To be able to marry PEI Munian, wasn't she the luckiest and happiest woman in the world?

The wedding march played, and the passionate notes seemed to hit everyone's hearts. The church door was slowly pushed open, and everyone held their breath.

The bright sun shone in from outside, and a slender figure stood at the door against the light, slowly entering everyone's eyes.
