

Deeply 570

570 The missing memory (2)

The Secretary was in so much pain that he gasped, but he still persevered in gossiping. boss, what do you mean by that? Didn't miss su divorce President PEI? What main palace?"

"Who told you that they're divorced?" The lawyer asked instead of answering.

The Secretary frowned and thought for a while, then said, " "Didn't miss su ask you to prepare the divorce agreement?"

"You're going to get a divorce just because you've prepared the divorce agreement? You've studied law for so many years, have you returned all your years to your teacher?"

The lawyer couldn't help but hit the Secretary's head again. with your talent, I must have been possessed back then to take you into the company!

The lawyer was so angry that he slammed the door and went back to his office. The Secretary hugged her head, which was hurting from the lawyer's knocking. She then remembered that miss su had indeed taken out the divorce agreement from here, but she had never brought it back to register it. Did that mean that miss su and President PEI had never divorced?

—

When su Wanwan came out of the lawyer's building, it was already noon. Nanny li wasn't at home today and there was no one at home to cook. Su Wanwan thought that since she was already out, she could eat outside before going back. She could also take Baobao out for a walk on the way, so that he wouldn't be cooped up at home all day.

little Zeze, let's have dinner outside today. After dinner, I'll take you shopping and buy you some toys, okay? "

The baby seemed to understand her words. He grinned and chuckled at her. Su Wanwan kissed his small cheek, opened the door, and put him in the child's seat in the back seat. Then, she went back to the driver's seat, started the car, and drove to the nearby shopping mall.

The car drove into the underground garage. Su Wanwan parked the car, got out of the car, took out the baby stroller from the trunk, and then carried Xiao Zeze into the car, letting him sit comfortably. She then said to him, " "Little ze ze, let's go eat."

Xiao Zeze yelped and his black eyes rolled around.

Su Wanwan pushed Xiao Zeze to the elevator in the underground parking lot and took the elevator directly to the floor of the shopping mall's food and beverage section. She picked a restaurant with more plain dishes and walked in.

After dinner, su Wanwan pushed Xiao Ze downstairs and walked towards the children's area. The children's area was next to the jewelry area. Xi Zhiwei happened to be here today to look at jewelry.

She had originally wanted to ask PEI Munian to come and watch the movie together. After all, they were getting married and she had to buy a ring. However, as soon as she called, PEI Munian said that he was in a meeting. Out of ten calls, she said that she was in a meeting nine times and could not get through the last time.

Sometimes, when Xi Zhiwei thought about it, she did not know what she was insisting on. She clearly knew that this man's heart was not with her, but she was not willing to give up.

But fortunately, her efforts weren't in vain. At least Yingluo could marry him now, right?

When Xi Zhiwei thought of this, all the anger in her heart disappeared. She said heroically, " show me the best diamond rings here.

"Alright, Miss Xi, please wait a moment."

The shop assistant brought out a few rings and carefully took them out of the box with gloves on. She handed them to Xi Zhiwei. Xi Zhiwei raised her hand and put them on her ring finger. Her fair and well-proportioned finger, against the beautiful diamond ring, was extremely beautiful. Xi Zhiwei's lips curled up and she raised her hand to admire it under the light.

When she raised her head, she inadvertently saw a familiar figure standing in front of a children's toy store.

Xi Zhiwei's eyes suddenly turned cold. Then, her eyes subconsciously swept to the pram in her hands.