572 The missing memory (4)

Su Wanwan gasped in pain and staggered a few times. Fortunately, her hand held the door so she didn't fall. But when she recovered her senses, the pram in front of her had disappeared.

Su Wanwan's Black eyes suddenly widened. She just pushed it and the baby's cart was not far in front of her. How did it disappear?

Su Wanwan couldn't care about the pain on her side waist. She stepped forward in horror and looked left and right to search, " baby, Xiao Zeze!

Because of fear, her voice was loud and sharp, echoing in the huge underground garage. Little Zeze suddenly cried, perhaps because he heard her voice.

The child's cry entered su Wanwan's ears and she immediately ran in the direction of the cry.

Xi Zhiwei took advantage of su Wanwan's inattention and quickly pushed the baby Cart away. Because there was a surveillance camera on the elevator side, she pushed it to the emergency exit and closed the door. She took out a small pair of scissors from her bag and prepared to cut the child's hair. She wanted to do a DNA test to see if he was PEI Munian's child.

She did not expect the child to suddenly start crying. Xi Zhiwei was so shocked that her hand trembled and the small scissors fell to the ground.

Xi Zhiwei quickly covered the child's mouth and said in a deep voice, "Don't cry!"

The child was scared by her actions and cried even harder, his little hands scratching her non-stop.

"Shut up! Stop crying!" Xi Zhiwei berated. The more nervous she was, the harder she covered the child. The child's face was red from the lack of oxygen.

The sound of su Wanwan's footsteps came closer and closer. Xi Zhiwei could vaguely see her running figure through the glass on the door. Xi Zhiwei knew that if she didn't leave now, su Wanwan would probably catch up and see her. And she couldn't take the child away. After all, if she walked out, everyone would recognize her. If she were to carry a child in her arms, it would definitely cause a commotion.

Seeing su Wanwan run over, Xi Zhiwei hesitated for a few seconds and had to give up first. If su Wanwan found her, it would not be worth it!

After Xi Zhiwei let go of the child, she turned around and ran up the stairs.

When su Wanwan pushed the door of the safe passage, she happened to see a figure disappear at the turn of the stairs. She shouted, " "Stop right there!"

She subconsciously wanted to chase after him, but the child coughed badly and immediately pulled back all of su Wanwan's attention. She saw that the baby's cheeks were red, his breathing was rapid, and he even choked from time to time. Her whole heart ached.

Damn it, what did that person do to the baby?

Su Wanwan quickly picked up the baby and coaxed him gently. Then she took out her phone and called Yu Jia.

Su Wanwan drove to the hospital. Yu Jia had already made an appointment with a pediatrician for her. After the doctor examined Xiao Zeze, he said, "Don't worry, the baby is probably just frightened and has some breathing difficulties. Someone probably covered his mouth and nose, but he'll be fine after he recuperates."

Su Wanwan listened to the doctor's words and her suspended heart finally settled down. She let out a big sigh of relief. It was as if all the strength in her body had been drawn away. She was really scared to death just now.

Yu Jia exploded and stood up from the chair. what? Who was so wicked? Cover the child's mouth and nose. If you're not careful, the child will stop breathing!"

She quickly looked at su Wanwan and pulled her, "Who was the one who pushed the child away? Did you see clearly?"
