"Hey, Lingyu, what a coincidence!" Su Wanwan opened her mouth and greeted the man.

Gong Lingyu was a little absent-minded. In the beginning, it was as if he didn't hear su Wanwan's voice and walked straight ahead until su Wanwan walked in front of him and raised her hand to wave.

Gong Lingyu's eyes regained focus. He looked up at su Wanwan and was also a little surprised. Wanwan, long time no see.

"Yeah, long time no see." Su Wanwan smiled at him with curved eyebrows and eyes.

Gong Lingyu looked su Wanwan up and down and asked with concern, "Wanwan, I heard that you got injured in Switzerland. Are you feeling better now?"

"I'm fine now. Thank you for your concern." Su Wanwan responded and said, "what about you?" Why are you in the hospital? are you sick? You didn't seem to be in good spirits just now."

"No, I'm here to find someone."

Su Wanwan immediately understood. Yu Jia?"

Gong Lingyu only twitched the corner of his lips and did not answer.

Su Wanwan looked at his expression and knew that he had probably hit a wall. She and Yu Jia had been good friends for many years and knew her character. Perhaps it was because her family was not rich, but she was more mature and rational than girls of the same age. She knew what she wanted and how she should go. Once she decided on something, she would not easily change it.

As for Lingyu, she really didn't know what he was thinking. Last time, she told him about Yu Jia's whereabouts and asked him to reconcile with Yu Jia. In the end, after that night, she didn't know what happened, but Yu Jia didn't want to mention Gong Lingyu anymore. As far as she knew, Yu Jia and Dr. Xu officially dated after that.

She opened her mouth and wanted to ask Gong Lingyu's opinion, but she suddenly stopped. Although she was biased towards Gong Lingyu, an outsider couldn't interfere in a relationship at will. She also had to consider Yu Jia's opinion.

Gong Lingyu did not seem to be in the mood to talk about this. He smiled and asked, "why are you at the hospital?"

"Ah, I'm here to find Yingluo."

The two words Yu Jia were on the tip of her tongue, but she swallowed them back. Su Wanwan said vaguely, "I have a little cold, so I came to take a look."

"The weather has turned cold recently. Take care of your health."

Gong Lingyu paused and hesitated for a moment, but he still said in a low voice, "I've seen uncle's statement. How is brother PEI Jingjing?"

GE Yingying

It had been a long time since Gong Lingyu called PEI Munian " brother. because of her, there was a gap between him and PEI Munian. Su Wanwan had always felt quite guilty. Now that she heard him call her brother, su Wanwan couldn't help but smile. It seemed that Gong Lingyu had really let go of his feelings for her.

yes, he's doing fine. Don't worry. When he's done with his work these few days, we'll be preparing for our honeymoon.

Honeymoon? How could he still be in the mood for a honeymoon at this time? It seemed that the right of inheritance was indeed not that important to PEI Munian. He had to admit that if it were him, he might not be able to give it up so easily. He did not seem to be so indignant about losing to PEI Munian.

that's good. I've always been quite bold. Wanwan, you didn't choose the wrong person. Gong Lingyu's voice was a little bitter, but it was more of a relief.

"I still have things to do, so I'll be leaving first. Have fun."

Su Wan nodded her head. mm, goodbye.

When su Wanwan pushed open the door of Yu Jia's consultation room, Yu Jia's hand supported his head and he also looked like he had lost his soul.
