Nowadays, men and women were all in a relationship that was fast-forwarded, not to mention those who met through blind dates. They were all heading straight for marriage. There were so many cases of blind dates and flash marriages. Even if she and Dr. Xu did not flash marriage, their progress should not be crawling like a snail, right?

"I'm busy, and so is he. We don't have much time to meet."

"What busy? it's just an excuse, okay? If they really like each other, they'll make time to meet no matter how busy they are. Furthermore, they'll unconsciously want to get closer to each other." Su Wanwan retorted, "in the end, I just don't like it enough."

You just don't like it enough, right?

She was very calm and comfortable when she was with Dr. Xu. Perhaps he was a little slow to warm up, or maybe it was because he was shy, but he was still very obedient to her. The first time they held hands was when they accidentally touched each other while walking. He then tentatively held her hand and sent her to the door of the house. He gently kissed her forehead.

What did she feel?

It seemed like there was a feeling, but it also didn't seem like it. She wanted to follow the rules and let nature take its course.

Although he didn't want to admit it, Yu Jia thought that Su Wanwan might be right. She did have a good impression of Dr. Xu and liked him quite a bit. However, Wanwan just lacked that little feeling. It wasn't like when she was with Gong Lingyu, where her heart was always beating uncontrollably. Whether it was because she was angry or her heart was moved, she felt that her whole person was alive.

Gong Lingyu's handsome face involuntarily surfaced in her mind. Yu Jia was shocked and shook her head violently. Why did she think of that bastard again?

Su Wanwan looked at Yu Jia's reaction playfully and smiled. "What did you think of?" "Have you thought of Lingyu?"

Almost as soon as she finished speaking, Yu Jia retorted, "who misses him!"

Su Wanwan's eyes were full of understanding. Yu Jia's eyelashes trembled slightly and she couldn't help feeling guilty. Then, she became angry from embarrassment, "are you my best friend? you should guide me to the right path."

Su Wanwan raised her hands in surrender. "Okay, okay, okay, I won't talk about Lingyu anymore. No matter what your decision is, I will support you."

Pausing, she furrowed her brows and continued, "But the progress between you and Dr. Xu is worrying. Yu Jia, since you've chosen him, you should get him as soon as possible. Don't let your heart waver, it's too tiring. Moreover, Yingluo and the other two have been entangled with each other, so all three of them will get hurt."

Don't let your heart waver.

As if he had woken her up from a dream, Yu Jia pursed her thin lips slightly. She had her own reasons for not making any progress with Dr. Xu. When she was with Dr. Xu, she would always think of Gong Lingyu unconsciously, and Gong Lingyu would appear in front of her from time to time to shake her heart. If this went on, she would only be in a difficult situation.

She wasn't a hesitant person, and she didn't like to drag things out. Because of Gong Lingyu, she was about to become someone who wasn't herself.

Yu Jia closed his eyes and bit his lower lip. Wanwan, you're right. We can't continue like this. I need to have a breakthrough with Dr. Xu!

"But how does Yingluo break through? I can't just sleep with him all of a sudden, can I?"

Su Wanwan's dark eyes turned and she had a flash of inspiration. yes, you ask him to go on a trip. When a man and a woman go on a trip together, everything will happen naturally.
