Previously, when he came up the mountain to look for her, he almost died from frostbite because of her. This time, because of her fighting, he was almost stabbed in the back by a dagger. It seemed that she was always by his side, and it always put him in danger.

As su Wanwan thought about it, her action of applying the medicine unconsciously slowed down and finally stopped.

PEI Munian sensed that something was wrong and turned to look at her. She was sitting there in a daze, her eyes unfocused and red. He frowned slightly and sat up.

“Wanwan, what’s wrong?”

He sat in front of her, lifted her face, and placed his warm palm on her face. His eyes were as gentle as water. why are you sad again? ”

His fingers caressed the corner of her eyes, and he could vaguely feel a touch of moisture.

Su Wanwan sniffled and wanted to suppress her tears, but she couldn’t control herself. She leaned over and leaned in front of PEI Munian, her hands wrapped around his waist. She felt his strong heartbeat and her out-of-control emotions slowly calmed down.

She opened her mouth and said in a slightly hoarse voice, ” niannian, I’m serious. In the future, if you encounter any danger, you’re not allowed to risk your life to save me again.

She would rather she get hurt than see PEI Munian get hurt. That kind of fear was worse than being hurt.

“Silly girl.”

He thought something was wrong with her, but it turned out to be because of this. It was only right to protect his woman. Was he supposed to watch her get into trouble and do nothing?

Wanwan, I can promise you anything else, but not this.

PEI Munian pushed su Wanwan away slightly and stared at her with her black eyes, full of affection and certainty. it’s not that I’m unwilling, but Wanwan here is unwilling.

He took her hand and pressed it to his heart. that’s an instinct, an unchangeable instinct.

It was his instinct to love her, to save her, and everything related to her. It was impossible for him to change unless he, PEI Munian, no longer existed in this world.

It was strange. PEI Munian did not say anything sweet, but it still made her heart flutter. She felt a tinge of sourness in her nose and the tears that she had tried so hard to suppress gathered in her eyes again.

However, this time, it was not because of sadness, but joy.

Su Wanwan took a few deep breaths, blinked her eyes, and finally stopped her tears. She pursed her lips, squeezed out a smile, and pretended to tease: niannian, you still said that you've never had a woman before me. You're so good at flirting. Who would believe you when you say such sweet words? "

"I really didn't."

PEI Munian's thin lips parted slightly as she spat out each word clearly. The way she looked at her was as if she wanted to drown her entire being into the deepest part of his heart. He kissed her red lips, paused for a moment, and smiled."It's probably because I met you, so I learned it without a teacher."

Before he met su Wanwan, he had never had any strange feelings for any woman. Because of his good brother Xi Zhiqian, he was disgusted and hostile to love. He couldn't even understand why Xi Zhiwei would walk on the road of no return because of love. She was so stupid and weak.

However, when he met his true love, the woman he loved the most in his life, he suddenly had an epiphany. He knew how ridiculous his empty talk in the past was, and he could truly understand his good brother's feelings.

When love was sweet, it could make people feel endless happiness, but once it was painful, it was also the most fatal injury.
