944 Something happened (6)

PEI Munian noticed her movements and clenched her hand even tighter, holding it firmly and not letting her back down.

He held her hand and walked to father PEI. dad.

Su Wanwan pursed her red lips and also spoke in a low voice, " dad.

Father PEI responded to PEI Munian's words, but su Wanwan's words were like floating clouds. He didn't even look at her.

PEI Munian's eyebrows were tightly knitted. She opened her mouth as if she wanted to say something. Su Wanwan quickly pulled his hand. When his gaze turned to her, she gently shook her head.

At this time, standing up for her would only make father PEI hate her more.

PEI Munian closed her eyes and suppressed the dark surge in her heart. He really didn't want su Wanwan to be wronged, but he also knew that his mother's condition was still unclear in the operating room. It wasn't appropriate to fuss about these things.

PEI Munian and su Wanwan stood on the other side and waited in silence.

The night grew darker, and the long corridor was so quiet that even a pin drop could be heard clearly. The atmosphere was particularly heavy and oppressive.

After an unknown amount of time, the red light above the operating room finally went out. The doctor pushed open the door of the operating room and slowly walked out.

Everyone went up to him.

"Doctor, how was the surgery?" Mr. PEI asked anxiously. How's my wife doing?"

The doctor took off his mask and smiled. fortunately, Madam was sent to the hospital in time. Although it was a little dangerous, the two operations were very successful. I have already successfully performed a heart bypass operation for Madam and removed the part where her stomach ulcer is. Her condition has stabilized. When she wakes up, she will be fine after a good rest. But remember, do not let her be agitated in any way.

Surgery successful

These few words made everyone fiercely heave a sigh of relief, especially su Wan. She had been tense just now and suddenly relaxed, her legs actually somewhat soft.

She had experienced her grandfather's sudden death and was really worried that Madam PEI would end up like him. Fortunately, everything was fine, Yingluo.

I'll arrange for Madam to be transferred to a Ward now. You can go and see her later.

"Okay, thank you, doctor."

After sending the doctor off, father PEI turned around and glanced at PEI Munian. before your mother entered the operating room, she kept calling out your name. She was afraid that she wouldn't be able to come out and see you again. You're so sweet.

He paused for a moment, his eyes coldly glanced at su Wanwan, his eyes getting darker and darker. your mother doted on you so much, but you only care about this woman. You took him and disappeared just like that. If something really happened to your mother, ran ran.

"Uncle, let's go and see Auntie first." Xi Zhiwei quickly interrupted father PEI's words and helped PEI Munian out of the situation.

"Hmph!"

Father PEI snorted coldly and didn't say anything more. He let Xi Zhiwei support him as they walked towards the ward.

The corridor quieted down. Su Wanwan hung her head, feeling extremely uncomfortable in her heart. She knew that PEI Munian had arranged this honeymoon to make her happy, but he almost missed his mother's illness. If something really happened to her, he might not be able to make it back to see her one last time.

"Don't take dad's words to heart."

PEI Munian raised her hand and gently stroked su Wanwan's head. She said softly, "Let's go and see mom."

His hand reached over and wanted to hold her hand, but su Wanwan reflexively took a step back.

PEI Munian's hand missed. Her eyes flashed and she looked at su Wanwan.
