

Desert Heat Chapter 86 - Tips

{Dorian's P.O.V.}

"Dorian, my water broke!" Allie shouted. If the spell wore off, it meant that she was going into labor.

"fvck! Andre, get to the pack hospital and tell Dr. Quinn!" I saw Andre use his wolf speed and run out. "Hold on baby, I got you," I picked her up and speed-walked down the hall. I mind linked the girls and Sam and told Sin to get Allie's baby bag from our nursery on our floor. As I descended down the stairs, I saw Sin ascending.

As I was rushing by through the living area, I could hear people talking and chattering,

"Is that the Luna?"

"Wait, is she pregnant!?"

"When did she get pregnant?"

"Her stomach was flat yesterday,"

As we turned the corner go down the hall to led to the hospital Allie started to scream in pain and starts crying

"AHHH! It hurts! This really hurts!"

"Breathe baby, we're almost there," I tell her.

"It's too early! We're an entire month early!" Allie cries. She was right. She was only four months so I couldn't understand why she was already in labor. I get to the hospital, but before I can make it to reception, I hear Andre,

"Dorian! Over here," he waves me down from the VIP room. I get to the room and sat her down on the bed.

"Dorian, help me change," Allie says breathless. I stand her up and help her get of out her clothes. Andre faces the wall while Allie changes. When she's all changed, I tell Andre he can turn around. "Baby, can I have water?" Allie asks. I was about to go get her some when,

“Not so fast Luna, I need to check on you first,” Dr. Quinn says walking in.

“Doctor, why is she in labor an entire month ahead of schedule?” I ask her.

“Because she is carrying twins. Plus, they are Alpha pups and the Luna is teeny tiny. There isn’t enough room for them anymore, so they’re ready to come out,” She has Allie bend her knees and I see place her hand between Allie’s legs. “Okay, Luna, you’re only three centimeters dilated,”

“So, seven more to go, great. This fvcking*g s.ucks already,” Allie grunted. I couldn’t help but laugh.

“Luna, I need to let you know that because of how small you are, if I feel that you’re not progressing faster enough, or if either of the pups are in distress, we will have to do a c-section okay,”

“But I want to give birth naturally,” Allie whined and pouted.

“We will see if we can do that okay? Right now, take a breather. You should have at least six to eight minutes between contractions for a little while. Then they’ll get closer together,”

“fvck me,” Allie grunted again. I shook my head and smiled.

“Alpha, she can have sips of water, for now. But I’ll eventually have to put her on an ice diet,” I nod my head and Dr. Quinn leaves.

“Oh! Sorry Dr. Quinn!” I look up and see Sin and the others coming in.

“Allie, I got your bag,” Sin says.

“Lavender oil, now!” Allie demanded.

“bh you are lucky you are in labor,” Sin said digging through the bag.

“fvck you skank! Give me my damn oil!” Sin rolled her eyes and pulled out the lavender oil. She placed two drops onto Allie’s wrists and massaged it in for her. Allie sniffed her wrists and relaxed.

“Yo! We’re not too late are we!?” Mikey, Lucas, Sam, and Brandon came in.

“fvck NO! TOO MANY DAMN PEOPLE! GET THE fvck OUT! DORIAN AND SIN STAY! EVERYONE ELSE GET THE FVCK...AHHH!!!!” Allie started to scream from another contraction. I grabbed her hand and it felt like she was going to break it, she was squeezing so hard.

“Love you!” Leah says and everyone walks out except for Sin.

“Breathe baby,” I coo her and wipe her hair from her face. Allie is already sweating bullets.

“Allie, you sure you don’t want an epidural?” Sin asks.

“No, I can do this. I’m a Luna, I can do this,” Allie replies.

“You’re so strong baby, I love you, Allie,” I tell her and kiss her lips while still holding her hand. Allie immediately starts crying. “What’s wrong!? Are you in pain!?”

“No, I want my mom! Dorian, I want my mom!” Allie starts bawling. “Umma!!” Allie yells in Korean. I’m assuming that she is calling for her mother.

“Dorian, tell your mom to get down here! It’s not the same, but Eleanor is like a mom to Allie,” Sin says. I nod my head and mind link my mother.

Mom!

Dorian, sweetheart what’s the matter? Does this have to do with Hank?

No, mom. Listen, Allie is in labor.

What do you mean Allie is in labor?

Mom, Allie has been pregnant. We used a cloaking spell to hide it these last few months. Allie was afraid Tucker would attack again if he found out she was pregnant again, so we used magic to conceal it.

DORIAN ANTHONY SHAW!

Mom, yell at me later. Allie is having twins and she’s in labor a month early. Mom, she needs you. She’s asking for her mother, and for the last year that has been you.

I’m on my way!

“Hold on, baby. My mom is on the way,” I tell her as her crying turns into sobbing and she nods.

“Water, please,” I pour some ice water into a cup and give it to her. She was about to gulp it down and I take it back.

“Sips baby. Dr. Quinn said you can have sips of water,” I hold the cup while she takes small sips. I put the cup back down and receive a phone call. I look and it’s video call from C.J.,

“C.J.,”

“Hey, Leah called and said Allie is in labor. Everything okay?”

“We’re good right now. She’s taking a breather from contractions. How is Brittany doing?”

“I’m alive!! Luckily, our little girl hasn’t broken any more of my bones. Talking hurts. Give Allie my love!”

“I will,”

“Alright man, I just wanted to check-in. Congrats!!” I wave goodbye and hang up.

“I hate this, I fvcking*g hate this!” Allie shouts.

“Language young lady!” I look up and see my mother come through the door with my dad right after her.

“Son, why didn’t you tell us Allie was pregnant again?” my dad asks me.

“Dad, I already told mom. I needed to protect Allie. After what happened last time, we just couldn’t risk the wrong people finding out,”

“I get that son, but we are your parents. Both of your parents. We had the right to know,”

“I apologize dad, but Allie and our pups are my responsibility, I just couldn’t tell you. Plus, mom would have told Aunt Helena and Aunt Bridget, who would have told Uncle Ethan and Uncle Joe, the news would have spread like wildfire,”

“I can see your point son,”

“Plus, I’m glad we hid it. If we hadn’t, then Hank would have told Tucker, and Allie could have been in danger again,”

“When you put it that way, you’re right. I still can’t believe that Hank would betray all of us this way. Betray you and Allison,”

“Betrayal isn’t even the first of it dad. Hank built the bomb that killed Lavender,” the look on my father’s face when I told him this was sheer outrage. My father use to be an Alpha. He technically still was. Once an Alpha, always an Alpha.

“AHHH!! fvck ME!!!” Allie started to scream again. I grab her hand,

“OH fvck!” I scream. Her grip was even tighter than before, and it actually hurt me.

“Why must you two always use foul lang...Oh sh!t!” my mother screamed when Allie grabbed her hand too. My mother rarely used curse words, so if she was cussing, that meant it really fvcking*g hurt. My father and Sin just sat on the couch and laughed. After a minute, Allie’s contraction subsided,

“I’m sorry Eleanor, I’m sorry baby,”

“Oh, nonsense sweetheart. You’re about to give birth to two beautiful babies. You can break my hand all you want. It will heal,”

“You sure you don’t want drugs?” Sin asked again.

“No! I can do this without one! I refuse to get an epidural!” Allie shouts. “Baby, water, please?” I smile and give her the cup again and she takes small sips.

“Rest sweetheart,” My mom says, and Allie nods.

“AHHH!!!!” Allie screams from another contraction. They’re officially two minutes apart. It has been almost six hours and Allie is exhausted.

“Luna, how are we doing?” Dr. Quinn asks as she walks in.

“GET THEM OUT OF ME!!!” Allie screams. “Dorian!!” Allie starts to cry for the twentieth time.

“I’m here baby,”

“I’m sorry Eleanor! I’m sorry Sin!” Allie cries. Allie ended up breaking both of their hands to the point they needed to get casts.

“Luna! I need you to hold still a minute okay?” Dr. Quinn said. Allie tried to stay still. “Okay, this pup is on its side, that’s not good. Luna, I need to try and turn this pup to have their head face down. This is going to hurt!”

“What is...AHHHHHH!!” Allie started screaming bloody murder when Dr. Quinn shoved her hand inside of Allie. “AHHH!! STOP!!!” Allie was in so much pain.

“DR. QUINN!!” I shouted. She was hurting Allie and Bandit was getting restless.

“This pup is too big! We need to do an emergency c-section!” Dr. Quinn ran to the door. “I need a team in here now!” she shouted. Within a few seconds, a team of nurses rushed in and started to push Allie out of the room.

“Dorian!”

“I’m here Baby,” I take her hand. “Dr. Quinn, can I be with her?”

“Yes, Alpha, but we need to get her into surgery now!”

“I’m right here, Allie,” we all go into the surgery room. The nurses have me wash my hands and wear sterile hospital scrubs while they prep Allie for surgery.

“Alpha, we will all also need you to wear a hairnet and shoe covers,” a nurse says. I do as she says, and then she takes me in to sit by Allie. Allie has already been given a local anesthetic, and her head is covered by a small shield to cover her face and neck.

“Dorian, you’re going to be with me the whole time right?” Allie asks.

"Yes baby, I'm going to be here by your side the whole time," I kiss her forehead and hold her hand.

"Okay, we're ready to get started," Dr. Quinn said.

"Look at me baby, eyes on me," Allie looks at me the whole time. She doesn't feel any pain because of the pain killers. "You're so beautiful Allie. You are the most beautiful creature to ever exist in this galaxy. I can't believe that I get to call you to mine forever. Thank you for choosing to stay with me. Thank you for being my mate, my Luna, and my wife. Thank you for being the mother to my children," I kiss her lips. Our kiss was interrupted by an ear-piercing cry.

"It's a girl!" Dr. Quinn exclaims.

"Did you hear that Allie? We have a girl, we get to have our girl," Allie starts to cry. I can only imagine the emotions she was feeling. Just a few hours ago, we found out our first daughter was killed by someone we trusted. Now, we have another daughter. Before I could even take it all in, I heard another ear-piercing cry.

"It's a boy!"

"Did you say, boy!?" I ask.

"Yes, Alpha! One of each!" Dr. Quinn says. I kiss Allie hard and passionately.

"Thank you, Allie! Thank you!" I tell her and kiss her again.

"Why are you thanking me? This is all, you Dorian. Your sperm decides the gender. Biology 101," I laugh and kiss her again.

"But you had to carry them in this sexy body of yours,"

"It's not going to be sexy anymore after having carried your offspring for the last four months,"

"Please, you didn't even get stretch marks baby. And you're too obsessed with working out to let yourself go. Besides, seeing your body stretch out the way it did while carrying my pups was the sexiest thing I ever fucking*g saw," we both laugh, and I kiss her again.

"Here you go mom and dad," Dr. Quinn said as two nurses handed us our pups. Allie was holding our daughter and I held our son. I was floored. Our daughter looked like Allie, but with my black hair, and our son looked like me with Allie's light brown hair. I looked back at Allie and her eyes were gold, meaning Allie let Mercury take over. So, I decided to let Bandit out a minute.

Bandit, what do you think?

How can two tiny creatures make my heart feel this way? We will protect them with our lives, Dorian.

Bandit gave me back control and I saw that Allie was also given back control.

"Alpha, we will take them, for now, to get their newborn tests done. The Luna has been stitched up and we will wheel her back to her room," one of the nurses tells me. They take the twins and we go back to Allie's room.

"Oh, my goddess, Benjamin have ever you seen anything this beautiful?" My mother asks my father while they each hold one of the pups.

"I have. Our other five grandchildren that Amber gave birth to," my dad replies. I just laugh.

"Dorian, sweetheart, you still haven't told us their names," my mother says. I look down at Allie and she just nods.

"Daisy and Demarco," I tell them.

"Daisy, a beautiful name for such a beautiful princess. Yes, that's you. Oh, you're so beautiful my sweet Daisy," my mom said while baby talking to Daisy.

"Demarco is a strong name, son," My dad says holding Demarco. "Strange. Everything about him screams 'you' Dorian, but his hair and his eyes take after Allison,"

"Daisy is just as beautiful as her mother. Isn't that right? But she has my green eyes and my black hair,"

"Mom, I think you mean MY black hair and green eyes," I tell her.

"Don't listen to your daddy princess, you take after your grandma," I rolled my eyes and shook my head. Allie just giggled. Just then Daisy started to cry.

“Someone must be hungry,” my mother said and handed Daisy to Allie. As she soon as she did, Demarco started to cry too.

“Oh, looks like the little prince wants some food too,” my dad said. I took Demarco from him and my parents left the room closing the door. Allie took off her hospital gown, and I helped latch each pup onto her.

I stepped back and let Allie do her thing. She was a natural. The view I had was perfect. My perfect wife and my two perfect children. I took out my phone and snapped a photo of the view before me.

Lavender, I hope you can hear me, princess. Watch over your brother and sister. Mommy and Daddy will always love you and will always miss you.

I hadn't realized that I fell asleep while Allie was feeding the twins and was woken up by the most beautiful sound. Allie was singing to the pups. I pulled out my phone again and recorded a video. This had to be the most beautiful thing I had ever witnessed and heard. After another minute or so, both pups were knocked out and Allie stopped singing. I pressed stop and just stared at Allie, “Wow,” I said. Allie looked up.

“Oh my god, did you hear all that?” she asked.

“Allie, you never told me you could sing?”

“It's not really something I like to share,” she said shyly.

“I don't know why. You have a beautiful voice baby,” I said and walked over to her. I took Demarco and placed him in the hospital bassinet and then took Daisy and put her down too. I sat in the bed with Allie and just kissed her. I didn't think I could love Allie more than I already did. But seeing and hearing her sing to our pups just made me fall in love all over again, but even more than before.

Desert Heat Chapter 87 - Tips

{Allie's P.O.V.}

It's been three days since I gave birth to the twins. More like the twins were surgically removed from me. The entire pack was buzzing about the fact I concealed my pregnancy using magic. The majority of the pack understood why I did it, but some felt it was unnecessary. Everyone important to us has been nothing but supportive and loves the twins. Because I had to have an emergency c-section because Daisy was blocking the birth canal, I've had to stay in the hospital longer than I would have, had I given birth naturally.

Unfortunately, Dr. Quinn said that my frame is just too small to give birth to an Alpha pup naturally, so if I did end up pregnant again, I would more than likely have to have another c-section. I honestly was not happy hearing that, but there was nothing I could do about that. Eleanor and Ben told Amber about everything. How Hank betrayed the pack, how he was responsible for the bomb, my being pregnant and lying to everyone, and how she wasn't the only Shaw sibling with twins. Amber and Ronnie were upset with everything but were super understanding. They even planned a trip to come down next month with their kids to meet the twins. I was excited to finally meet her pups.

The twins were getting their hearing tests done with the nurses, so Dorian and I were laying down in my hospital bed together.

"Is it wrong that I want to put another pup in you?" he asks

"Down boy! I gave birth three days ago. Let my body heal before you even attempt to put another pup in me,"

"I told you, I will give you as many pups as you want Allie. This means we are going to have lots and lots of se.x," he says to me as his l!ps move closer and closer. fvck, why did this turn me on?

"Dorian, you're bad," I whisper, and our l!ps meet. I let out a small whimper. I was getting hot, and Dorian was getting hard. I had to hold back my l.ust because if I didn't, we were going to have se.x in my hospital bed. But that didn't stop him. Dorian's hand reached behind me and was untying my hospital gown. He moved his hand and grabbed my a.ss cheek. I gasped and he shoved his tongue into my mouth, tasting me all over.

He sat up and took off his shirt and gently laid on top of me k!ssing me again. He pulled down the top of my hospital gown exposing my engorged b.reasts.

"Damn, they're definitely bigger than before," he said touching them gently knowing that they're sore and sensitive.

"Don't get used to it, they go back to normal eventually,"

"Your breasts were perfect before baby, this is honestly a little too much in my personal opinion,"

"Wow, really? I didn't think a guy would ever say a woman could have too much boob," we both laughed. When I first met Dorian, I was a full C, and for a petite Asian girl, that was actually pretty big. After my first pregnancy, they actually grew to a D and stayed that way. Now, after having carried a set of twins almost to full term, and having breast milk forming, my boobs were an E.

Dorian was kissing my jaw and my neck, and I heard him unbuckling his belt, he wanted sex, and I did too,

"Hey, you guys!...OH MY GOD!!" Dorian jumped off of me and I covered myself.

"DANI!!" I screamed. Dammit, Dorian was just about to hit home too.

"I'm so sorry, I didn't think you guys would be getting down and dirty," she said covering her eyes.

"It's fine, you can open your eyes," I tell her.

"Are you even allowed to have sex so soon after having given birth?" she asked.

"I didn't have a vaginal birth, and my c-section cut is almost fully healed,"

"Still, that's kind of risky since you haven't been discharged yet," she said.

"Why are you in here anyway? You sounded excited when you opened the door," I asked.

"Oh, that's right! Sam is in labor!"

"What!?" Dorian and I shouted.

"Baby, help me stand up, we need to go to her!" I told Dorian. But instead of helping me stand, he picked up and carried me instead. I was more than capable of walking. We followed Dani to Sam's hospital room and saw everyone in the hallway.

"Why is everyone out here? Why is no one in there with Sam?" I ask them.

“She’s waiting for you, Allie. She and Lucas only want you and Dorian in there,” Sin said. Dorian put me down and we walked into the room. Dorian, pulled a chair for me to sit in and put a couch cushion behind me for support.

“Come here, man!” Dorian said pulling Lucas into a bro h.ug. “Damn, three days apart huh?”

“Yeah. Sam is a week early, but we all know the due date is never 100% accurate,” Lucas said.

“Sam, why did you want us here?” I asked her, holding her hand.

“Sam and I wanted to ask you both something,” Lucas replied. Dorian and I looked at him. “Dorian, Allie, we want you two to be the godparents to our baby,” Lucas said. I looked at Sam who had a smile on her and I just gave her a big cheese smile and h.ugged her.

“We would be honored Lucas,” Dorian said, and I just nodded my head.

“AHHH!!! HOLY fvcking*g HELL!!!” Sam was screaming at the top of her lungs when a contraction hit. She had been in labor for five hours, and I was exhausted for her. She was only having one pup, I had twins. Eleanor and Benjamin were watching Daisy and Demarco, and only brought them to me when they needed to be fed.

“Sam, you got this! You’re stronger than I am! You’re a team lead, and the best fighter in the pack, you got this,” I said wiping the sweat from her forehead. Sam’s contractions were moving faster than mine, and she was already eight centimeters dilated. It wouldn’t be long now.

“I should have gotten a fvcking*g epidural!! What the fvck was I thinking!?” she shouted.

“Sam, you can do this baby,” Lucas said holding her hand. After what I did to Sin and Eleanor, I opted to not hold her hand. I needed my mine to hold my newborns.

“Sam let’s see how you’re doing,” Dr. Quinn said as she came through the door. She looked under Sam’s gown for a second. “Oh! This little one is crowning already!” She put some gloves on and called for a team.

"It's time baby, you got this," Lucas said and kissed Sam's forehead. Dorian picked me up and brought me to the couch to sit with him.

"Okay, Sam, when you feel the next contraction, you are going push hard," Dr. Quinn said. When her next contraction hit, Sam pushed with everything she had, screaming like a banshee. I don't think I had ever heard Sam scream that way. Childbirth was no joke, especially when you're giving birth to a werewolf pup. Daisy was so big that she blocked the birth canal. She ended up weighing 15 pounds and 4 ounces. For a female pup, she was abnormally large. Demarco was worse though. When I heard his weight, I was glad I had a c-section. Demarco weighed 19 pounds and 11 ounces. This was their weight being born one month premature. It was no wonder my sense of balance was all fvckngd up.

"AHH!!!" Sam screamed as she continued to push. She had been going at it for thirty minutes, and their pup's head was barely out.

"Sam, on this next contraction, I need one final big push," Dr. Quinn said.

"LUCAS HARDWICK!! KEEP YOUR d!ck AWAY FROM ME!!!" Sam screamed while holding him by his shirt. "NO se.x FOR A YEAR!!"

"Okay, babe, no se.x for a year," he said tapping her wrist to get her to let go.

"OH MY GOD!!!" she screamed again as a contraction came on.

"Push Sam!" Dr. Quinn shouted. Sam was pushing so hard that her face was turning purple. "There we go!" Dr. Quinn shouted as she pulled out their pup.

"What is it?" Lucas asked.

"It's a boy!" Dr. Quinn shouted.

"YAHOO!!!" Lucas started to jump up and down shouting at the top of his lungs. "A BOY! I GOT MY BOY!!!" I had never seen him act like that. Lucas as always so cool and collected. I looked at Dorian and we both just shook our heads and smiled.

"Go check on him dammit!" Sam shouted. Lucas composed himself and went to go check on their son. I walked over to Sam to check on her.

“How are you doing mama?” I asked her while wiping the sweat from her forehead. Dr. Quinn was cleaning her up.

“I’m good, I’m glad it’s over,”

“Sam! He’s so fvcking*g perfect!” Lucas shouted as he was taking pictures of their new son.

“Let me see him,” Sam said. When the nurse was done cleaning him up, she gave him to Lucas, and he brought him over. He gently gave their son to Sam,

“Oh, my goddess, he is perfect,” Sam started to cry. Lucas k!ssed her on the forehead, and they swooned over their new son.

“Have you guys thought of a name? I mean, I know you guys were waiting until he was born but did you at least think of names?” I asked.

“We did, and this little guy’s name is Keegan,” Lucas says. I smiled at the name. It was a good name and it suited their son perfectly.

“Do you want to hold him, godmother?” Sam asked. I nodded and she handed me, Keegan. He definitely didn’t weigh as much as Demarco, but he weighed more than Daisy’s weight.

“Hi, Keegan, I’m your godmother, but you can call me Daemo,” “Daemo?” Lucas and Sam asked in unison.

“It means godmother in Korean. So, instead of calling me Aunt Allie, he can call me Daemo. It’s actually what Allen is supposed to call me too, but Sin prefers he just call me Tia,” I explain. I was looking at Keegan and he opened his eyes. They were blue like Lucas, but he had a lot of physical features of Sam. Good mix of both his parents. The more I looked into his eyes, I felt something strange.

“Baby, everything okay?” Dorian asked.

“Uhh...I think I’m a little more drawn to Keegan than I should be,” I tell him.

“What do you mean?” Sam asks.

“Dorian, I think I’m holding our future son-in-law,” the feeling I got from Keegan looking into his eyes was the same feeling I got looking into Daisy’s eyes.

“Are you serious!?! Keegan is Daisy’s mate!?!” Dorian was surprised and angry. “I’ve had my daughter for three days, and she already has a mate!?!”

“Monique had a mate before she was even born,” Sam said referring to Andre and Dani’s daughter.

“Don’t worry baby, we still have 18 years before they really figure it out,” I told him. I smile down at Keegan and kiss his chubby cheeks. I give him back to Sam and Lucas.

“We’re going to go now. Seeing that I have exactly 18 years to spend with my daughter before your son takes her from me, I’m going spend every waking second I can,” Dorian said gently pulling me out of their room. They laughed and I rolled my eyes.

“You guys go on in,” I tell the gang and we go back to my room. When we get back Dorian is still complaining, “What’s wrong sweetheart?” Eleanor says while holding Demarco.

“Mom, you won’t believe this, but Daisy already has a mate!” Dorian threw his hands up in disbelief.

“What!?!” both Eleanor and Ben shout. Their shouting woke up Daisy who immediately starts to cry. Demarco was still sleeping like a log.

“Good job!” I shouted at all of them. I sit in the bed and Ben hands Daisy to me. I bring her close and soothe her.

“What do you mean Daisy has a mate, son?” Ben asks.

“Lucas’ son, Keegan. They asked us to be his godparents, so we accepted. Allie was holding him, looked into his eyes, and said that Keegan is our future son-in-law,”

“Are you sure it’s not Demarco?” Eleanor asks. “I mean, it’s okay to have a gay son,”

“MOM!”

“Although she is right, it’s okay if Demarco turns out gay, it’s not him. When I looked at Keegan, I felt Daisy’s essence,” I told them as Daisy fell right back asleep in my arms. “I think that’s why I was so drawn to Sam the further we both got along in our pregnancies,”

“Give me my daughter, I need to hold her close,” Dorian said putting out his arms to take her.

“Stop it, she just fell back asleep. Give her a minute,” I said slapping his hand. After a little while, I handed her to him, and he sat on the couch holding her close. Even though she was a big pup to me, she looked so tiny compared to Dorian’s massive size.

“Here you go sweetheart,” Eleanor said while giving me Demarco.

“God, this boy is huge,” I said while cradling him. “I probably would have died had I still been human carrying these two,”

“Not probably Allison, you would have,” Benjamin says.

“My handsome boy, I wonder who your mate is going to be?” I say to Demarco looking into his eyes.

“Wouldn’t it be crazy if it was C.J and Brittany’s daughter?” Dorian said. I just looked at him.

“You don’t really think that’s a possibility do you?” I asked him.

“Who knows? Baby, all of the pups that have been born to our closest friends, are all mates with each other. The only one who doesn’t have a mate is Katie’s son Matthew,”

“Yeah, but maybe Matthew will be mated to C.J.’s daughter,” Dorian just shrugged his shoulders. “So, how does it work?”

“How does what work, baby?”

“We technically have a future Luna and future Alpha. Who takes over after you?” I asked him.

“It will be Demarco,” Ben replied. I look up at him. “Daisy is mated to a high-level Omega, so, unfortunately, she won’t be able to hold the title Luna,” I frown and pout looking over at Daisy sound asleep on Dorian’s chest. “She will still have Alpha blood, and so will her future pups. But Demarco is a male, and the next rightful Alpha," I nod in understanding.

"Will he become Alpha at 18?" I ask Dorian.

"If that's what he wants. I wanted to be Alpha as soon as I gained my wolf, and so my dad handed me the title through the ceremony that takes place. If Demarco wants it, I'll do it for him as well. But, if he wants to wait just like C.J. did, then I'll support him in that too,"

"It would be nice if Demarco found his mate as soon as he turns 18. As a mother, it hurts to see your children have to wait to find one," Eleanor said softly caressing Demarco's head.

"You don't need a mate to be a strong Alpha, I was strong without one. But having one makes you even stronger. It makes the pack stronger. You have something and someone worth fighting for. You become even more determined to be a better leader and do what's right for your pack and your mate," Dorian said. I look up at him because his tone was a little off. "Which is why once you're released, I'm going to kill Hank," I let out a big sigh. I looked at Ben and Eleanor for guidance.

"Allison, sweet girl, how are you holding up with all of this? We heard that you were the one who banished Hank's wife and pups," Ben asked. I nodded my head.

"Eleanor, if you were in my situation, what would you have done?" I asked her. I honestly felt regret for having done that to Casey and her pups. They were innocent, but I wanted Hank to feel what it's like to lose something he cared about more than anything. The way Dorian and I felt losing our first baby.

"Honestly, had I been in your situation sweetheart, I probably would have done the same thing. I would be too disgusted having his bloodline in our pack," I let out a sigh of relief. Hearing another Luna say she would have done the same thing made me feel better.

After Ben and Eleanor left the room, Dorian was with me on the bed while I was feeding the twins again. It was a moment of peace and tranquility, but it was interrupted by Mikey running in,

"Dorian!!" the look on Mikey's face was sheer anger. Dorian stood up and faced him.

“What!?” Dorian shouted.

“Hank has escaped,”

“WHAT!?!?” Dorian roared and woke up the twins. Both were screaming and crying. Dorian looked back and held all of us. I held the twins close and Dorian shielded us with his body as if we were in danger.

“Dorian...” he turned his head to face Mikey again. “He knows about the twins,” I looked up and tears immediately streamed down my face.

“He’s going to tell Tucker. He escaped and he’s going to tell Tucker about Daisy and Demarco!” I said and started to panic, and the twins were crying even more as if they could feel my negative energy. Dorian used his wolf speed and pinned Mikey against the door by the throat.

“HOW DID HE ESCAPE?!”

“The shackles are broken, and the guards were knocked out,” Mikey said hoarsely.

“Dorian! Let him go!” I shouted. Mikey wasn’t in any real danger, but Dorian’s anger was getting out of control. Dorian let go of Mikey.

“Mikey, are you okay?” I asked

“I’m fine Gizmo, he wasn’t hurting me,”

“Put a bounty on Hank!” Dorian commanded. Did he say bounty?

“Closed or open?”

“Open,”

“How much?”

“Ten million,” Mikey stood at attention, bowed his head, and left. Dorian ran his fingers through his hair as I tried to continue to soothe the twins.

“Shhh...it’s okay babies,” I cooed them. Dorian came over and took Demarco and cradled his head. I adjusted Daisy so I could cradle hers. “Why didn’t you tell me you could put a bounty on someone?”

"I don't typically. My company fulfills bounties, that's how my company makes most of its money,"

"I know that, but if you could put out a bounty, why didn't you put one on Tucker?"

"Disgraced or not, Tucker is an alpha, werewolf law forbids it," I made an O shape with my mouth. The twins were finally asleep again. Dorian put his forehead against mine. "But Hank is a mid-level omega, and his death warrant was already signed by the elders, I had the green light to k!ll him. That's why I told you that I was going to earlier. Remember, what Brandon said, as an Alpha, I can only k!ll a member of my pack if there is a justifiable cause. Hank's crimes were mostly punishable by banishment, but because he was an accessory to the murder of our pup, that is punishable by death,"

"I get that, but are you allowed to put a bounty on him?"

"Him escaping is what allows me to put out the bounty. It's the same as human law. He's a wanted fugitive," I nod my head.

"I assuming an 'open bounty' means that it's fair game? Any bounty hunter can go after him?" I ask and Dorian nods.

"I need to get you and the twins somewhere safe, Allie,"

"No, we are staying right here with you," I tell him firmly.

"Allie, you three are in danger!" he growled

"We're in more in danger if we leave the safety of the packhouse!" I growled right back. "This is not up for debate Dorian. We are staying!"

"Allie, I couldn't survive if anything happens to you or the twins,"

"Nothing is going to happen to us," I tell him and k!ss him.

"Take Demarco, I'm going to see if Dr. Quinn will release you and the twins,"

"Why?"

"Because it's safer in the packhouse," I nod my head, readjust Daisy again and he puts Demarco in my other arm.

I let out a deep sigh after Dorian leaves. I looked down at the twins and pray to the moon goddess and every higher power there is to watch over us.

Desert Heat Chapter 88 - Tips

{Hank's P.O.V.}

I have been sitting in the cellar for three days now. I have no idea where Casey and my pups are. I have tried to mind link her, but she is blocking me out. I'm pretty sure Casey wants nothing to do with me. My actions got her, and our pups banished. My entire family is considered to be rogues and I have been sentenced to death.

I can't believe the Luna would stoop that low. My wife and pups were innocent, and they didn't deserve that punishment. Casey was right, the Luna was a bh. She played Casey into thinking she wanted to be friends but left Casey hanging out to dry just because Casey was too busy raising our pups to do anything. What did the Luna expect from a full-time mother? She had no empathy for my wife, and so she opted for Hardwick's wife, Sam. bh being friends with another bh, how typical.

I had to figure out a way to get out of here. I needed to find Casey and our pups. My thoughts were interrupted by the guards coming into my cell,

"Can you believe it?"

"That's crazy, using magic to conceal her pregnancy," what were they talking about?

"Now it makes sense! Those se.xy witches that were coming by every month,"

"What are you two idiots talking about?" I ask them.

"Are we allowed to tell him?"

"Why not? He's a dead man anyway,"

"For your information, you backstabbing piece of sh!t, the Luna gave birth three days ago,"

"What are you talking about? The Luna wasn't pregnant!" I spat

“Oh, but she was. She had her witch friends use magic to conceal it these last few months,” I couldn’t believe what I was hearing.

“Werewolves using dark magic is forbidden!” I said.

“Who said it was dark magic? They used good magic, and rumor has it, the Alpha got permission from the elders,” So, the Luna was pregnant all this time, and gave birth three days ago? That means she gave birth the same day she banished my family. I lost my family and she gained hers!?

“Tell me, what did they have?” I ask them.

“The Luna gave birth to twins,”

“SHE WHAT!?” I was outraged. I lost my two pups and she gained two pups. This was outrageous. I was more than pissed off at this point. The Alpha and Luna would pay. I had to get out of here. “ARGH!” I roared thrashing in my cell pulling on the chains.

“WHAT THE fvck!?”

“QUICK GET THE WOLFSBANE!” One tried to hold me down, but I kept fighting, using all of my strength. Luckily, I wasn’t being held down my silver chains. I pushed off the one guard holding me down and threw him into the wall knocking him out. I used all the strength I had and pulled one of the shackles free from the wall. The other guard tried to mind link for backup, but it was too late. I swung the loose chain hitting him square in the head. He was out, but not dead.

I was weakened by the adrenaline, but I needed to keep my strength up. I concentrated hard, and tapped into my wolf,

Hondo! We need to shift!

Why should I!? I’ve lost my family because of you!

If we survive, we can find them! Now take over dammit!

Hondo took over and we shifted breaking the final chain. We immediately shifted back. I took the clothes from one of the unconscious guards and snuck out of the cellar into the main packhouse. Sure enough, everyone was buzzing about the Luna’s new babies.

“Did you hear? Sam had her baby today,” I heard an omega. I knew Lucas and Sam were expecting, but the fact that they get have their pup and I don’t get to have mine made my bl00d boil.

You are an imbecile Hank!

Why?

Don’t you get it!? This is what the Luna felt when you helped Tucker k!!l her unborn pup! I told you to fight it! I told you that if they ever found out we would lose everything, and now we have!

Not if we can find Casey and our pups, mutt!

I wouldn’t be surprised if Casey and Aspen reject us!

Hondo was right, it was a possibility that Casey and her wolf Aspen would reject us. But I couldn’t think about that now. I needed to get to Tucker and inform him of the new Alpha pups. I snuck out of the packhouse with ease and made my way to the far east side of the territory where were little to no guards. I forced Hondo into shifting again and scaled the wall to avoid detection. Once we were in the clear, he took off running.

I could hear the alarms sounding and Hondo ran as fast as could. We were finally in the clear and we made our way to Tucker’s hideout. It would take a few hours to get there even in wolf form.

{Allie’s P.O.V.}

Two weeks later

There hasn’t been any word on Hank or Tucker yet. Mikey and Ethan used their connections overseas to get more bounty hunters involved. Mikey had even left for a few days to try and find Hank himself.

Dorian has kept me and the twins on lockdown. We are not allowed to leave the packhouse grounds. We needed three chaperones if we ever went outside. It felt like it was when I first move into the packhouse hiding from Devin. Dorian was paranoid, and he had a right to be. I never argued with him about it. I knew he was being overly cautious, and I couldn’t fault him for that. I loved him for it.

I was also right about Keegan and Daisy. After only two weeks, those two are inseparable. We have to wait until they are passed out to pry them apart. Because of this, Lucas and Sam have agreed to sell back their townhouse to Dorian and move into the packhouse on the second floor. That and Lucas was afraid Sam and Keegan would also be targeted by Hank now.

I was in the nursery changing Daisy when Sam came in with Keegan,

“Hey future in-law,” she said

“Hey,”

“Do you mind if he naps with Daisy?”

“Of course not. I just need to feed her and put her down. Demarco is out like a log right now,” I said pointing to his crib.

“Oh, so he’s like you when you sleep,” she teased. She was right though; I was a heavy sleeper. The only things that could wake me up were alarm clocks, Dorian’s d!ck, food, and the twins crying.

“Shut up,” I say to her not wanting to admit out loud she was right. “Oh, my princess, you are already getting so big,” I say to Daisy as I pick her up and position her to be fed.

“Have you tried pumping yet?” Sam asked.

“Pumping? Girl, the twins s.uck me dry every time they feed. There’s nothing left to pump,” I tell her, and she starts to laugh.

After about ten minutes later, Daisy falls asleep and unlatches on her own. I pick her up, burp her, and place her in the crib with Keegan. I grab the baby monitor, shut off the lights, we leave them to nap in peace. We go down to the second-floor nursery to check in on the others, as soon we get to the second floor, we hear screaming. Sam and I run to the nursery, see Leah on the floor violently shaking, her eyes were glowing,

“Leah!” I shouted. “Leah, talk to me, what do you see?!” she couldn’t respond. Whatever vision she was having, it was bad. “Sam, mind link the Dorian and the others! Tell them to get home now!” I commanded. Dorian and the others were at the office interrogating the rogue. The fact that he was still alive was beyond me. But since Hank escaped, they only had the rogue. He never gave up Tucker, even though Dorian told him he knew about Hank.

“Lucas said that they’re already on the way. Apparently Brandon could feel Leah’s panicked state and they took off,” Sam said. Leah’s ability to see imminent danger meant that something was coming, and it was close. The more threatening the danger, the faster she got the vision, so it gave us time to prepare.

Once Leah calmed down, her eyes turned back to normal, but she was sweating bullets. This was the strongest vision she ever had.

“Leah, can you hear me?” I asked her. She nodded. Sin helped her sit up. “What did you see?”

“We’re going to be attacked, and we’re going to be outnumbered...By a lot. A lot of people are going to die, mostly on their side, but we’re going to lose a lot of people,”

“When? Can you tell me when?” I asked.

“I saw the full moon,” she replied.

“When is the next full moon?” I asked no one in particular.

“Allie, it’s tonight,” Sam said. I stood up and looked at her. I had to gather my thoughts and stay calm.

“Leah, what time did the attack start? What did the sky look like?”

“It was dark, the moon was out when it started,” she replied.

“Okay, it’s roughly two o’clock right now, and the sunset is at...” I pull out my phone to check the weather app. “...it’s at roughly eight tonight, so we have about six hours to prepare,”

“What we do Allie?” Dani asked. Before I could even answer, I could hear screaming from downstairs.

“ALLIE!!”

“LEAH!!”

“SIN!!!”

“DANI!!!”

“SAM!!!”

All of the guys were home and were freaking out. I mind linked Dorian,
Second-floor nursery!

Immediately I could hear a stampede coming up the stairs and down the hall. Dorian came in first and scooped me up and cradled my head. All of the guys embraced the girls and the pups that were in the nursery.

“Sweetcheeks, are you okay!?” Brandon shouted cupping Leah’s face as she held Sawyer.

“I’m fine, it was just a vision,” she replied.

“Just a vision? Leah, I could feel your panicked state all the way at the firm!” he said to her face and hugging her tight again.

“Baby, are you okay?” Dorian asked me. I nodded my head. All of the guys check on us making sure we were all okay.

“Sam, where is Keegan?” Lucas asked.

“Napping in Daisy’s crib,” she replied.

“Allie, are the twins napping too?” Dorian asks, and I nod. As soon I do, I hear multiple crying through the baby monitor. Dorian puts me down. Sam, Dorian, Lucas, and I go to our nursery on the third floor. We open the door and sure enough, all three of them are awake.

“Keegan... Mommy and Daddy are right here,” Sam says picking up Keegan.

“I got you, princess,” I say to Daisy.

“Come here, big man,” Dorian says as he picks up Demarco. Once we get the pups to stop crying and fall back asleep, Dorian calls a meeting in his office with all of us, and everyone’s parents. The last time we had this many people in the office was the day we got married.

“Son, what is going on?” Ben asked.

“Dad, Leah had a vision of us being attacked, tonight,” Dorian says. All the parents gasp.

“What’s the plan?” Ethan asked.

“Since we know what know roughly what time they will be here, we will have plenty of time to gather the fighters and hunters, perch all of the snipers, and hide away all of the women and young pups. We will be outnumbered, that’s a guarantee according to Leah’s vision, but Leah did say that we will have fewer casualties,”

“But casualties none the less,” Joe said.

“Mom, Aunt Helena, and Aunt Bridget, you will each be in charge of getting women and pups into the panic rooms throughout the house. Sam, you and two female fighters will each guard a panic room in case someone slips past into the packhouse,”

“Yes, Alpha,”

“You three!” He says pointing to Leah, Sin, and me. “You will stay in the panic rooms! You will not come out!”

“But Dorian...”

“NO BUTS ALLIE!” he roared making me flinch. “I CANNOT LOSE YOU! I WILL DIE!” he shouts as he grabs the side of my neck with both hands. “Do as you’re told and stay hidden. I am begging you, baby,” I nod.

“Dorian, I can help though,” Sin said.

“SIN!” Mikey shouts

“I CAN THEIR MINDS IN WOLF FORM!” she defends herself.

“But you can only do that when you’re out in the open! The answer is no! Honey, I am not going to risk losing you either! You will stay hidden with Allen!” Mikey said holding her shoulders.

“No Leah!” Brandon shouts almost as if he knew she was going to try and protest as well. She lowers her head and nods.

“I can help,” Dani chimes in.

“Dani!” Andre exclaims.

“I’m a vampire! I know how to k!ll a wolf. One bite of vampire venom is all it takes,”

“But you have to maintain the bite for five seconds, and in battle that is like five hours,” Andre says to her. “You cannot stay in one position for that long, you will be an open target,”

“Not if I shimmer while maintaining the bite and feed at the same time to prevent myself from getting weak,”

“How do you feed and k!ll at the same time?” Brandon asked.

“The first bite I do, I will drink some of their bl00d, and then immediately thereafter, I can inject them with vampire venom,”

“Andre, is what she says possible?” Dorian asks. Andre nods. “Fine, Dani, you will fight alongside us, but you stay with one of us or Lucas, do you understand?”

“Yes, Alpha,” Dani bows her. She looks at Andre who is torn about this but gives her his blessing anyways.

“Okay, it’s just past three, everyone, take a few hours with your love ones. At six o’clock sharp, we get to work and start to prepare,” Dorian says. Everyone nods and leaves. Dorian and I soon follow. We go to check on the twins, but see that Ben and Eleanor are already in there.

“You two, go spend time with each other, we got this,” Eleanor says. Dorian and I both nod and go to our room.

When get there, Dorian locks the door and pulls me into a k!ss. Our k!ss becomes deeper and more sensual, and we start to remove each other’s clothes. He takes off his shirt and my shirt, I take off his pants, he kicks off his shoes and takes off his socks. He unclasps my b.ra and then rips off my shorts. I normally would get mad at that, but this wasn’t the time. I pull down his boxers and once we are both fully n.aked, he picks up and gently lays on me the bed.

As he was getting on top of me, I could see his full erection and I was already soaking wet. There was no time for foreplay. Dorian sat on his knees, gently rubbed his hips against the lips of my sweet spot, spreading my juice everywhere. After a few rubs, he guided himself in. Once he was fully in, he grabbed both of my hands and put them above my head, his body towering over me as he began to thrust his hips.

“Ah, Dorian,”

“Mmm...Allie,”

“Fvck,” I moaned as he picked up speed. Dorian kissed me as he continued to move his hips, thrusting in and out of me in a smooth and fast-paced motion. It felt so amazing. Dorian let go of my hands and lifted one of my legs onto his shoulder and pushed the other out at an angle opening me up.

He continued to demolish my pussy with force, and I felt him go deeper and deeper with each thrust he did. He started to bottom out each time, pushing in for a second, then picking up his rhythm again.

“Keep doing that baby, I’m going to cum,” I tell him. He grabs my hips and pulls me into him fast and hard. I immediately have an orgasm and squirt all over him. It doesn’t even faze him. He puts my legs together, hugs my thighs, and continues with his way. The tightness that formed from this position instantly gave me another orgasm.

“Yes, baby, cum all over my dick,” Dorian says. Once I finish spasming, Dorian turns on my side, lays down behind me, lifts my leg, and pummels me from behind. Dorian would normally grab my breasts in this position, but he knows they are sore from breastfeeding so he doesn’t. Instead, he kisses me again and just moves his hips as fast as he can. I break out in bliss because of the wave of pleasure that just took over my body in this position.

“Yes, oh my god, yes! Just like that, just like that, baby,” I say as our lips are still touching. “Oh god, fvck I’m going to cum again,” Dorian starts to groan as I tighten my walls to make it feel even better. Sure enough, I cum again, and start to convulse. Dorian pulls out and holds me tight as I come down from cloud nine. As I do, Dorian lays flat on his back and positions me into a reverse cowgirl.

I guide him back into me, and lean back, resting my hands on his chest as he lifted his knees and started his assault again. The sound of our skin slapping together with every movement he did along with our moaning and groaning echoed in our room. If the balcony doors were open, you could probably hear us across the desert.

“fvck, fvck, fvck!” I scream. Dorian adjusted himself and put me into a full nelson position. Dorian started to do this more often when he realized how flexible I was. I never knew what it was called until Sin showed it to me in a p0rn video a few months ago. It honestly the hardest position to be in for me, but it was also the most pleasurable. The angle Dorian entered hit my g-sp0t on every time.

“fvck Allie! You’re so tight!” he shouted from behind me.

“More baby, keep going, make me c.um again,” I moaned and begged. After a few more good thrusts, I had a hard org*asm and it shot out like a water hose. “AH! HOLY fvck!” I screamed. “Ohhhhh...fvckkk...” I bucked my h!ps as my juices kept shooting out. Once it stopped, Dorian had me turn around and let me take the reins. I put one hand on his th!gh, and the other on his pelvis and started to grind and rotate my h!ps. I squeezed my walls around his d!ck and making it that much more intense for the two of us.

Dorian grabbed my h!ps, but I grabbed his hands and put them over his head, interlocking our fingers, and k!ssed him hard. He gave me his tongue and I s.ucked on it as I started to bounce my h!ps as hard as I could on top of him.

“Ah, baby, your p.ussy feels so good on my d!ck!” Dorian moaned. He pushed himself up, grabbed my h!ps again, and started to use me as a se.x toy. He took full control again, and I just held on for dear life. “fvck! I’m going to c.um!” he shouted. His rhythm was starting to falter, and I knew it was super close.

“Dorian! I love you! I love you so much, baby!” I tell him pulling his face close to mine.

“Allie, I love you, baby. fvck I love you,” we looked into each other’s eyes and knew what the other was thinking. We were both about to c.um, and we bit each other’s marks at the same time. I screamed and he roared shaking both of our bodies. I c.ummed all over him again, and I felt him release his warm seed into me. We held each other tightly, never releasing our bites, and just breathed through it.

Once we both calmed down, we gently let each other go and sealed each other’s wounds. I placed my forehead against his and watched as his eyes turned gold, and I started to see green in my vision. Our souls were feeding off of each other. He kissed me tenderly, then, something hit me out of the blue, “Dorian, what time is it?” I asked. I saw him look at the clock behind me.

“It’s a quarter past four, why?”

“We have time,”

“Time for what, Allie?”

“To call for help,”

Desert Heat Chapter 89 - Tips

{Tucker’s P.O.V.}

Two and a half weeks ago

I was sitting in my office waiting for some news from our source at Desert Moon but had not heard anything in a while.

“Tucker!” I heard my brother Thomas as rushed into my office

“What is it?” I asked

“The source, he was made! He’s been arrested!”

“WHAT?! How do you know that!?” I shouted.

“He sent me the S.O.S. I called and was on speaker when it happened,” he explained. I roared in outrage. How could have they known Hank was my source. An entire year of planning wasted. “Tucker, do you think he will talk?”

“He’s probably already dead, so it doesn’t matter,”

“Tucker, we need to plan the attack. If the Alpha of Desert Moon finds out the source has been working with us...”

“We’re not ready yet! Half the men are still in the hospital from injuries sustained during training alone!!” I shouted. Just then, our other brother Trevor came in.

“What do you want?” I asked.

“You guys need to see this,” he turned on the news.

“...it is a sad day in the werewolf community. Desert Moon pack as announced that they have had a traitor amongst them. A prominent member of the pack was found to have been leaking information to a rival pack for almost a year. His name has not been released, but our sources are saying that this pack member’s family has been banished by the Luna as punishment for his crimes. Although news of his own punishment is yet unknown, sources are saying that Alpha Dorian Shaw is pushing for the death penalty...”

Trevor turned off the T.V. and both of my brothers looked at me.

“Tucker, what we do?” Trevor asked.

“Did the news say that his family as banished?” I asked making sure I heard the news correctly.

“It did,”

“Find her and his pups, bring them in. Maybe we can leverage her,” I tell them. Both of them leave and I lean back in my chair. Time was running out. If Hank was captured, then it was only a matter of time before Desert Moon found me.

Three days later

“Tucker!”

“WHAT!?” I was getting so annoyed by Thomas’ constant barging into my office.

“We found them!”

“Found who?”

“Hank’s wife and pups, we’ve brought them in,” I looked up, and in came this a small woman and two young pups.

“You must be Casey,”

“Who the hell are you? And why am I here?” she asked with a strong country accent. Cute but annoying.

“My name is Tucker Harold, I’m the Alpha of this pack,”

“Tucker Harold!? You’re the one Alpha Shaw has been looking for! You’re the one that tricked my husband into helping you!” she shouted backing away with her pups.

“Do not be afraid, I will not hurt you,” I tell her being as calm as possible.

“What do you want?” she asked

“I need your help,”

“With what?”

“Getting information on Desert Moon, Hank told me that you were friends with the Luna for a while,”

“I wouldn’t exactly she and I friends. She was a bh who got angry because I couldn’t make time to hang out. I’m a full-time mother and housewife, I didn’t have time to go shopping, go out to lunch, or sh!t like that,”

“So, you’re not friends with the Luna,” I wasn’t sure if this was a bad thing or good thing.

“No! fvck her! She banished my pups and me! All because of my husband’s crimes helping you! I don’t care how pissed someone is, you don’t do that young innocent pups!” she spat.

“You’re right, you don’t,”

“You’re one to talk! You k!lled the Luna’s unborn child!” she sneered. I was hoping she wouldn’t know that it was me.

“Well, technically, your husband built the device for me, and my men detonated it,” I tell her trying to clear my own conscience.

“Be that as it may, it was done on your order, so you’re just as guilty. So, why the fvck would I want to help you?”

“Revenge against the Luna for banishing you and your pups,”

“I’m a rogue werewolf now, what can you offer me in return?”

“Sanctuary, Casey, for you and your pups. If you haven’t noticed, my pack is a pack of rogues,”

“What?” she looks around confused. “How is that possible?”

“It’s a long story, one I will share later, but...”

“CASEY!?” I was interrupted by Hank who came charging in.

“Oh my god! Hank!?” I watched them embrace each other.

“How are you here, Casey? How did you find this place?” he asked her.

“I sent my brother’s to find her, Hank,” I tell him. He looks up at me while holding his oldest pup in his arms. “Why are you n.aked?” I ask

“I came here in wolf form,”

“Wait, I thought you were captured?”

“I was. I escaped,”

“Resourceful, I see,”

“There’s something you need to kn...”

“TUCKER!” I heard Trevor.

“NOW WHAT?!” I roared.

“You need to see this!” he said and turned on the T.V.

“It is a time of celebration in the werewolf community. Just three days ago, the Desert Moon pack announced that they had a traitor in their pack. Now, sources are telling us that, that same day, the Luna, Allison Shaw gave birth to twin Alpha pups...”

Trevor turned off the T.V.

“HANK! YOU SAID NOTHING ABOUT THE LUNA BEING PREGNANT!!” I was seething in anger.

“That’s what I was about to tell you, Tucker. The Alpha and Luna used magic to conceal the pregnancy for the last few months. They hid it from the entire pack. No one knew,” he tells me.

“How do you know all of this Hank?” Casey asked him.

“The two it guards that were assigned to watch me couldn’t keep their mouths shut. Allie is not the only one that gave birth, Sam and Lucas had their pup today too. Hearing that they were all happy and in love with their pups, while you were banished, and goddess only knew where you were outraged me. I did everything I could to escape. I was going to come to Tucker, and then try and find you,”

“Why did you do all this Hank? I deserve an explanation! Why did you betray our pack!? Your actions got us banished you, bastard!”

“Tucker offered me something in return for my allegiance,” he told her. I just sat back and watched. I wonder how she would handle what he was about to tell her.

“What did he offer you?” she asked him.

“After Tucker killed Dorian, he was going to give me the Desert Moon pack. I would have been the new Alpha and you would have been Luna,”

“WHAT THE fvck!?! ARE YOU OUT OF YOUR CORN FED MIND!?”

“Casey,” I interjected

“I understand your frustration and shock, but don’t you think that taking over Allie’s position would be the best way to get back her for banishing you and your pups? You can banish her and her pups in return,”

“What would that do for you?” she asks

“I get what I want,”

“And what’s that?”

"I get Allie to myself. You see, I had a mate, but she was a low-level omega, and was unattractive. I rejected her on sight, but she refused to accept the rejection. So, I drugged her and had another omega impregnate her. That allowed my father to banish her, forcing the mate bond to sever. The next day, my brothers and I went to Kane Beach Club which is where I met the Gamma female. But when I saw Allie. This itty bitty little Asian werewolf. I wanted her, but then I saw her mark. She was taken. I didn't care though, because I always got what I wanted. But then her mate showed up, and she told me his name. I knew I was sh!t out of luck. I thought that was it, but no. That fvcker had to call my dad and arrange a meeting. My dad was weak and agreed to rescind our birthright. Alpha sons, being classified as Omegas all because I wanted to have fun with the Luna. So, I k!lled my father; therefore, voiding the contract he signed with Dorian Shaw, and took my place as Alpha,"

Hank and Casey just stood there staring at me. I expected them to be understanding, but what came out of Casey's mouth was not what I expected

"You are one fvckngd up son of a bh!! You ruined my life, the life of my family, and even Allie's life when you sent a bomb to her gender reveal party last year, all because you weren't happy with the mate you were given?"

"I told you, that as an Alpha's son, I get what I want,"

"You're perverse and I want nothing to do with you're sick and twisted plans. Hank, we're leaving,"

"Casey baby, stop,"

"HANK! WE ARE NOT GOING TO SIDE OURSELVES WITH THIS LUNATIC!!"

"If you walk out those doors, my men will not hesitate to k!ll you," I tell them. "You know what I am capable of, Casey. I k!lled Allie's pup before it was even born, do you think I won't k!ll yours?" I smirk.

"STAY AWAY FROM MY FAMILY TUCKER!" Hank shouted.

"As long as you do what I say, Hank," I see them look at each other and easily give in. I knew a mother would never put her pups in danger. Speaking of pups, I needed to k!ll these Alpha twins. The fact that they were even born makes me sick to my stomach.

“What do you want from me?” Hank asked.

“Train my men and get them ready for war. We attack the next full moon,”

“That’s in two weeks!”

“Then I suggest you get started, Hank. As long as you do what you are told, your family will not be harmed. They will be treated as members of my pack. Once Dorian Shaw is dead, I will take Allie as my own, and you can have Desert Moon as we agreed,” It was so easy to make him give in again. Hank was as hungry for power as any dominant male wolf. Casey had no choice but to give in if she wanted to keep her pups alive.

In two weeks, I would finally get what I have been working so hard for. A chance to finally have the perfect mate.

{Allie’s P.O.V.}

Present-day

“To call for help,” I said.

“Help what for?” Dorian asked me.

“Dorian, we have allies! Mojave Mountain is only two and a half hours away, we can call C.J. and ask him to spare some men to help us. We can have Brandon call Bryce and other werebears to help, he said that we could call anytime for his help remember. Yellow Moon would help us too. If we offer an alliance in return. They’re only five hours away. If we call Deacon now, they could get here just as the fight breaks out,”

“Leah said the fight started at sundown,”

“Dorian, I said that we have until sundown to prepare. Leah’s vision took place at night when the moon was already in the sky,” I told him. His eyes widened.

“We can also ask the bounty hunters for help. If Hank escaped and went to Tucker, then he would be there during the battle right?” Dorian just shrugged.

“What if he isn’t?” he asked

“Then, maybe we can leverage the bounty hunters to help take out Tucker’s men. Offer payment for each kill,” I knew my idea sounded way off the wazoo, but I was desperate.

“I would have to check with the elders about that one, but I think you’re onto something baby,” he said. It was then I realized Dorian was still inside of me, and he was getting harder by the second.

“DORIAN, TAKE YOUR d!ck OUT AND GO MAKE THOSE CALLS!!” I shouted. He immediately lifted me off of him and got dressed. He came back to the bed, k!ssed me hard, and ran out of the room.

{Dorian’s P.O.V.}

Allie was a fvcking*g genius. I had not even thought about asking for help from other packs and bounty hunters that were in the country looking for Hank. I mind linked Mikey, Brandon, and Lucas, and sent a text to Andre to get to my office. I felt bad knowing they were probably fvcking*g their mates, but this was urgent, “Dude, you better have a good fvcking*g reason for this!” Brandon said as he walked in.

“Seriously, I was about to go into round three with Sin!”

“Dorian, my friend, Dani’s mouth was doing wonderful things to me, so this better be good,”

“Boss, I respect you, but Sam and I were just getting started after putting Keegan down,”

“Quit your fvcking*g b!tching!” I shouted. “Brandon, call Bryce and see if he and some of his werebear friends will be willing to help us,”

“What? What do you mean call Bryce?”

“Bryce has an alliance with Allie remember!?!” I shouted.

“Oh sh!t, that’s right!” Brandon pulled out his phone and started dialing.

“Lucas, call C.J. at Mojave Mountain and see if he can spare some of his men to help us,” Lucas nodded.

“What about us?” Mikey asked pointing to himself and Andre.

“Give me a minute on that, I have a call to make to Yellow Moon,” I tell them. They sit and wait.

The call to Yellow Moon went smoothly, and Deacon agreed to help us in exchange for a treaty and alliance with our pack. He spared no time in getting his men together and made their way to our packhouse. Based on Allie's timeline, they would get here not too long after the battle starts. It would catch Tucker and his pack off guard. Yellow Moon was a pack of fighters just like ours. They weren't as big, but they had more than enough to give us the upper hand.

I contacted the elders and pitched Allie's idea of using bounty hunters to help kill Tucker's men and offering payment for their kills. Luckily, because Tucker was a disgraced Alpha, the elders had already signed his death warrant after we figured it was he who killed our first pup. It was just a matter of finding him. The elder's agreed that his entire pack needed to be wiped out and allowed us to use bounty hunters.

I had Mikey get on the wire about it and advertise that in addition to killing Hank, every hunter that came to help would receive $50,000 for every member of Tucker's pack they killed. It didn't take long before bounty hunters started to answer and start showing up at our territory. Some were hunters that my company had contracted out to before, so we had good professional relationships with them. Other's I had never seen, but they knew Mikey and Ethan based on reputation.

I was sitting in my office with Allie, Brandon, and Mikey, while everyone else helped our guests get situated. We still had two hours before sundown. Allie was on my lap and I couldn't keep my hands off of her,

"Dorian, stop," she said while pushing me away.

"I can't, you and that big brain of yours may give us the upper hand we need. Have I ever told you that your intelligence is fvcking*g a turn on, baby?"

"Dorian!" she giggled as I kissed her neck.

"Speaking of intelligence, it a took while Dorian, but I got that thing done you wanted me to do," Mikey said.

"It's done?" I asked. He nodded and handed me the file.

"What is that?" Allied asked. I smiled and handed it to her.

"It's for you, baby. Open it," She looked at Mikey and me and opened the file. I saw her eyes dart back and forth as she read the document. She looked at me with her eyes wide.

"Dorian is this..."

"It is,"

"But how? When?"

"On our flight to the Bahamas, when you were reading your book, Sin told us that you only had your high school diploma and that you never got to go to college because of Devin, even though you had a full ride. So, I had Mikey look into creating a scholarship using the company name. An engineering scholarship for underprivileged students. Based on GPA, they can receive up to a full ride to any University in the state of Nevada as long as their major is engineering. And you, my beautiful wife, are the first recipient of this said scholarship," I could see tears forming in her eyes when she realized what this meant.

"Are you telling me that I can go back to school?"

"Yes baby, you can go back to school and not pay a penny for it. Full ride baby," she put the papers down and hugged me as tight as she could.

"I want to jump your bones so badly right now Dorian," she whispered in my ear.

"I would love nothing more than for you do that, but we need to win this war first," I tell her, and she nodded her head. She got up from my lap and went to Mikey.

"Thank you so much Mikey!" she shouted, and she jumped into his arms.

"Oh, you're welcome Giz,"

"Gizmo, I have a surprise for you too," Brandon said. Allie let go of Mikey and looked at him. He pulled his sketch pad from the drawer in my office and flipped a few pages.

"OH MY GOD!!" Allied exclaimed. "Brandon, this is amazing!"

"Is this what you envisioned?" he asked

“That and more! The coloring is so perfect!!” she jumped up and hugged him too. “Thank you! Thank you so much!”

“You’re welcome, Gizmo,”

“What is it?” I asked. Brandon showed me the drawing. “Holy sh!t, this is fvcking*g sick,”

“I told you, man, you were going to like it,” Brandon replied. The drawing was of Mercury and Bandit’s faces fused together to make one wolf’s head. But the eyes colors were inverted and the red desert moon behind them.

“When this is over, I want this on the empty space on my back Brandon,”

“You got it. Oh, before I forget, I got the names for Daisy and Demarco done too,” he tells Allie and shows her.

“Perfect!” she says while looking at them and then shows them to me.

“Where are you going to put those, baby?” I ask.

“Here,” she says and holds up her wrists. I smile and nod.

“Well, my wrists are full, so I’ll have to them on my ankles,” I tell her, and she smiles.

“Where did you want to put Lavender’s name?” she asked. That was a good question. My body was almost fully covered in tattoos, finding room would be hard. Allie’s body was a blank canvas, so it was easier for her. “Stand up,” she tells me and so I do. She grabs the hem of the shirt and lifts it up halfway and starts to examine my body.

“Allie, there’s not a lot of room,” I tell her as she keeps looking.

“Sorry babe, but I got to pull your pants down a little,” she says as she unbuttons my jeans. She pulls it down slightly and starts to focus on a spot on my hip. “Brandon, do you think the smaller version would fit here?” Brandon walks over and looks too.

“Yeah, I’d have to shrink it a little more, but I think that will do,” he replies.

“Perfect,” Allie says and fixes my pants for me. She looked up and puckers her lips and I give her a kiss. I look over and Brandon’s eyes are clouded over.

“Dorian, Mojave Mountain has just arrived, and they brought a lot of people,” he said.

“How many is a lot?” Allie asked. We all looked at each other and went out front to see for ourselves. When we got out front, only one word came to mind at what we saw before us,

“Whoa,”

Desert Heat Chapter 90 - Tips

{Dorian’s P.O.V.}

“Whoa,” Allie said, and we all looked at the crowd before us. There had to be at least a hundred men and women. From within the crowd, C.J. appeared,

“What are you doing here?” I asked him.

“I came to help my other family,” he replied.

“C.J., what about Brittany?” Allie asked.

“She had her c-section two days ago, my mom is looking after her and Arlene,”

“Arlene?” we both ask

“The name we gave our daughter,” he said.

“Awww...” Allie swooned.

“Baby, not now,” I tell her. “C.J., you should be home with your family,”

“They’re in good hands. Besides, Brittany is the one that told me I should go,”

“She did!?” Allie exclaimed.

“Brittany and I owe our gratitude to you both for helping us find each other. We were already aligned because of Leah and Brandon, as well as the Murphy girls, but you helped me, another Alpha find his true mate, and for that, I owe you my life,” he said and bowed his head to Allie and me. I looked at the others and they didn’t know what to say either.

“C.J., how many people did you bring with you?” Allie asks.

“I brought all of my warriors and fighters,”

“WHAT?!” we all exclaimed.

“I would also like to introduce you to my new Beta,” he looked back, and a guy around our age stepped forward. “This is Gene, he and I grew up together. He’s a few years younger than I am, but after seeing how responsible he is, he skills in fighting, and his amazing ethics, I decided to name him Beta,”

“Alpha, Luna, Beta, Gamma, Delta, and Lucas,” It is an honor to meet you. “Beta Brandon, I hope that you and I can work closely together. I would love to learn from you,”

“Beta Gene, it would be an honor to work with you and show you the ropes,” Brandon said.

“Hmph,” I looked down at Allie who has her finger to the chin.

“Allie?” she just smiles. “Seriously?”

“We can talk about that later,” she says. I was about to say something when people started to scream.

“BEARS!”

“NO ONE PANIC!” Allie screams. “They’re with us!” everyone looked at Allie and then made a path for the bears. Two bears led the way with about a dozen behind them. One of them was huge and the other was smaller but still fairly large.

“Uhhh... I figure the big one is Bryce, but who’s the small one?” Brandon says.

“Siobhan!?” Allie exclaims. The bears all change back into human form, and sure enough, the other bear was Allie’s friend Siobhan. “Get her something to cover up in!” Allie commanded

“No need, Allie girl,” Siobhan told her.

“Allie, we will not be staying in human form long. We came to offer assistance as promised.” Bryce said.

“Allie, we brought a lot of friends as you can see,” Siobhan added.

“Where did you find all these bears?” I ask Bryce.

“Some work for Mr. Kane at his various clubs, the others are friends and family members. They are just as grateful to Allie as I am that I was able to find my partner. Although bears are independent, we do believe in finding allies wherever we can. Every bear here is willing to have an alliance with your pack, in exchange for their help in this war,” Bryce said. I look down at Allie who is just smiling. I look at the others and they nod in agreement. I look at Bryce and put out my hand.

“I, Dorian Shaw, Alpha of the Desert Moon pack, hereby offer my alliance with the werebears standing before me and my Luna, Allison Shaw,”

“ALPHA!!” I heard one of the guards from the territory running to us. “Alpha, one of the bounty hunters received a tip that a convoy is heading this way. There were rogue wolves running around mountainside as well,”

“That as to be Tucker!” Brandon said. I nodded in agreement.

“Mr. Shaw, the bears and I will surround the territory and stay hidden until it is time,” Bryce said. All the bears shifted and took off.

“Allie, remember what I told you,”

“I know Dorian, I promise to stay hidden,” I pulled her into a kiss, and she went back inside. Once she was safely back inside, I started to give out orders,

“C.J., you and your pack follow the bears and stay hidden along the mountainside,”

“Let’s move out!” C.J. ordered his pack.

“Mikey gather the bounty hunters and have them hideout through the townhouses,” he nodded and went inside to gather all of the bounty hunters that were already waiting. “Lucas, order all of the snipers to take their positions. Perch them everywhere! Silver nitrate bullets only!”

“Yes, Alpha!”

“Brandon, get every fighter out here, and ready to go!” He nodded his head and his eyes clouded over.

“Andre, go find Dani, and make sure she’s ready to get started,” he nods his head and goes inside to find her. Once everyone has their orders, I head back in and see that Allie has taken charge and is getting all of the elderly, women who aren’t battle-trained, and pups into all of the panic rooms. Sin, Leah, and other omegas are gathering extra food and water for the rooms. Our mothers and the nannies have all of the pups

“Mom!” I stop my mother who has Daisy and the nanny has that Demarco. I take one at a time, giving them h.ugs and k!sses. I k!ss my mother’s cheek and send her to the panic room. I thought it would look like a madhouse, but Allie and the others are doing an amazing job keeping everyone from panicking.

Once everyone is situated, the only people left are Allie, Sin, Leah, and Sam. After a minute or two, all the guys come back in and Andre comes down the stairs with Dani.

“This is it,” Mikey says.

“Michael Rays, your a.ss better come back alive! You have a son to raise!” Sin says while poking him in the c.hest. Mikey h.ugs her as tight as he can.

“Sam, protect the Luna but stay safe. If anything happens to me, Keegan will need his mother,”

“Shut the fvck up Lucas, you better stay alive, otherwise I’m going revive you just k!ll your a.ss all over again,”

“Sweetcheeks, we have a better chance at surviving because you saw what was coming,”

“Brandon, you better come back to Sawyer and me. I will never forgive you if you leave us!”

“Dani, remember, you stay my side, or with one the ranked members and Lucas. Do not deviate from the plan,”

“I understand Andre. I promise I will stay close by,”

“Allie,”

“Dorian,” She ran into my arms and I scooped her up. “You.stay.alive, do you hear me, Dorian Shaw? If you die, I die,” she says with a broken voice. I held her tight and was about to answer when Allie started to shift in my arms.

“What the fvck!?” I put her down and saw that all Leah and Sin were shifting as well.

“Why are they shifting!?” Brandon asked

“I have no idea!” Mikey replied.

“Allie! What are you doing!?” It was too late; Allie was mid-shift and couldn’t respond until she was done.

{Allie’s P.O.V.}

As I held onto to Dorian, telling him that his a.ss better stay alive, Mercury suddenly took over without notice and forced us to start shifting.

Mercury! Moh haneun guhyah!?! (What are you doing!?)

Taking over!

Why!?

She didn’t answer. I could hear Dorian asking me what I was doing, but I couldn’t answer mid-shift. Once I was done, I looked around and saw that Venus and Jupiter were also present.

Sin! Leah! What the fvck!?

I don't what happened! Venus just shoved me aside and forced me to shift!

Same! Jupiter just took over!

I looked at Dorian and I could tell he was confused but angrier than anything else. Dorian then mind linked me,

Allie! What are you doing?!

I didn't do anything! It was Mercury! She took over! All of our wolves took over! We don't know why!

Mercury! Why did you and others force the girls to shift!? He asked her.

Because we are meant to fight alongside you, my love.

Mercury!! What are you talking about!? Allie needs to stay hidden! She is the target!

Dorian, my sisters, and I are stronger than you realize. You will need us to take down Tucker and his pack.

Allie and the others are not fighters!

But we are! We are blessed by the mother goddess! We are stronger together! All six of us!

After she said, she let me take over again and we shifted back. Once I was back to human form, I saw that Leah and Sin were too. The three of us were stark n.aked so Sam and Dani brought blankets from the couch,

"Yo! What the fvck was that about!?" Sin said.

"What the hell!? Venus has never forced herself out that way!" Leah whined.

"All six of us?" I repeated. I looked around and she meant Dorian, Brandon, Mikey, Leah, Sin, and me. The six high ranking members. I just looked at Dorian was even more confused than before.

"ALLIE WHAT THE fvck!?" Dorian shouted. I just held up my hands because I had no idea either.

“My, your foul language will make my ears bleed dear boy,” came a voice. We all started to look around, and that is when I realized I wasn’t the only one who heard it.

“Selene?” I said. Sure enough, a burst of white light appeared in the living room and there stood Selene.

“What in the world?” Dani said.

“Dorian, is this who I think it is?” Andre asked. We all nodded.

“Who is that?” Dani asked.

“That is the moon goddess, Dani,” he replied. She made an O shape with her mouth and looked back at Selene.

“Selene, what are you doing here?” I asked her.

“Trying to keep the peace,” We all just looked at her. “Dorian, why are you trying to hide Allie and the others?”

“Are you really asking me that? Allie is my wife and the mother to our pups, she is also the target,”

“That does not answer my question,” she replied and just gave Dorian a stern look. “That is your reason as her husband, but what is your reason as an Alpha?” I looked at Dorian and he looked at me.

“Dorian?” I said waiting for an answer.

“Allie is not a trained fighter. She doesn’t know how to protect herself,” his answer made sense, but the way he said it, was almost insulting.

“So, you are saying that your reason for forcing her to hide is not just because you want to protect her but because she is weak?”

“I DIDN’T SAY THAT!” Dorian shouted

“But it is what was implied,” she replied. “Dorian, Brandon, and Mikey have you three forgotten that Allie, Leah, and Sin are blessed wolves with powers and abilities?”

“Of course, not!” All three said unison.

“You sure about that?” Selene’s tone was very condescending. “Allie has the ability to project lust, Leah can see the future, and Sin can read the minds of other wolves when she is in wolf form. Why are you not using those abilities to your advantage?”

“Leah and Sin we get, but Allie’s ability to project lust doesn’t help much,” Brandon said.

“Again, are you sure about that? Dorian, when Allie projects her lust onto you in full force, how do you feel,?”

“In one word, horny,” I press my lips together to keep myself from laughing.

“That’s because you are her mate. Allie, have you tried to project your lust onto another man?” she asked me.

“What? No! Why would I?”

“Project it onto Brandon,” she said. I looked at her she like she was insane, and Leah looked like she wanted to rip her head off. “Just do it,” I look at Brandon and we both look back at Selene.

“Wait, but...” Leah protested.

“It’s okay Leah, just watch happens,” Selene says. I concentrate my lust and I touch Brandon’s arm and project it in at full power. About two seconds later, Brandon starts to sway, completely losing his balance, and falls to the floor.

“Oh my god! Brandon!” Leah kneels next to him. “Allie, what did you do!?” I shrug my shoulders not knowing how to answer that because I had no idea.

“Sacré bleu! What the hell just happened?” Andre exclaimed.

“Gizmo, you knocked him out!” Mikey said. Sam went over and smacked Brandon across the face a few times and he came to.

“Whoa, what the fvck just happened? Why do I feel like I was kicked in the head by horse?” Brandon said trying to sit up.

“Selene, can you explain what we just witnessed?” Dorian asked.

“Allie, your ability to project lust in a s*l manner only works on Dorian because he is your mate and your husband; however, when you use that ability on another man, you put them into a daze that completely discombobulates them,”

“Wait, are you saying that if I project my lust onto another man that’s not Dorian, I scramble their brain?”

“Exactly,”

“So, even though the Luna can’t physically fight, the moment another man touches her, all she has to do project her ability and it will incapacitate them,”

“Leah’s ability to see the oncoming danger will allow her to tell us when someone is trying to surprise an attack and…” Brandon started to say

“…And Sin’s ability will allow her to tell us what Tucker and his pack are thinking,” Mikey concluded.

“Also, all of their powers will be amplified in their wolf forms as long as all three are near each other,” Selene said and suddenly vanished.

“That’s what Mercury meant when she said the six of us,” I said to no one in particular. Dorian looked like he was about to say something when Brandon’s eyes clouded over.

“sh!t, they’re here, Tucker wants to talk,” he said. Dorian and I looked at each other.

“Dorian, we need a decision and we need it now man!” Mikey said.

“BOSS!” Lucas shouted. Dorian was thinking and hard, but he needed to think fast.

“fvck! Allie, you will stay by me at all times do you hear me!?” I nod. “Sin and Leah, shift right now and stay by Mikey and Brandon!” they nod and start to shift.

“Allie!” Sam threw me a tank top and shorts. The more skin I exposed the better.

“Sam, you and the other fighters will stay here as planned!” Dorian told her.

“Yes, Alpha!”

As soon as I was done changing, I took Dorian's hand we all went outside to face that diaper stain Tucker. As we are walking out, I am holding onto Dorian for dear life. I am holding his hand and holding onto his arm at the same time.

"Allie don't be scared. I'm right here baby," I nod my head and we keep going. In the clearing I can see Tucker, and next to him is Hank.

"Ah, look who decided to finally join us," Tucker said referring to Dorian and me.

"Tucker, you're a hard man to find," Dorian tells him. Tucker looks at me and smiles. I break eye contact and hide my face behind Dorian's arm.

"Aw, not happy to see me beautiful," he says to me.

"Tucker! You will not address Allie, you will only address me," Dorian snaps

"I'm not here for you Dorian Shaw. I'm here for her," Tucker says. I give him a death glare and Dorian growls.

"Hank, you must really have a death wish. Siding with Tucker, escaping and then running right back to him. You're even a bigger p.ussy than I thought," Lucas says. Hank growls and Lucas growls back.

"Tell us, Hank! Why did you side with Tucker and betray your pack?" Mikey asked. This I had to hear.

"Simple, Tucker here offered me something I couldn't refuse," Hank replied. We all just looked at him waiting for him to continue. "Tucker offered me, Desert Moon, after he kills Dorian." I gasp and look at him with disgust.

"You killed my baby because you want the pack!?" I sneered. My eyes go black. I never wanted someone dead so much before. Not even Devin or Jessica. Hank helped kill my baby because he wanted to be Alpha.

"All of this because you want to be Alpha? You're just as insane as Tucker!" Brandon shouted and Venus snarled. Just then I got a mind link from Jupiter, and quickly hide my face again, Gross! Tucker is fantasizing about you! Like, full-on fantasizing! I gag when she tells me that.

“This is your one and only warning Tucker, leave now or die,” Dorian says, and I could feel his body starting to tremble. Bandit was ready to go.

“Sorry, Dorian, but you’re the one who’s going to die, and then I’m going to claim that se.xy wife of yours and k!!! your trash offspring!” Tucker shifted into his wolf lunged Dorian and me. Dorian shifted into Bandit catching Tucker’s lunge and knocking me over. All hell broke loose.

People started to shift into their wolves, while some stayed in human form. Even though I was supposed to stay by Dorian, that didn’t work out as planned, so Lucas and Andre came to my side and started to shield me. I watched as bl00d started to spatter everywhere. Heads were being bitten off, gunfire was echoing, growls and roars filled the sky. I looked up and saw the full moon, just like Leah saw in her vision.

As I gazed at the moon, I was grabbed by one of Tucker’s men,

“LET GO!” I shouted.

“Allie!” Andre shouted. I immediately projected my l.ust at full power and the a.ssailant started to sway. As he let go, Andre came up behind him and snapped his neck. “Nice!” he said.

“Andre behind you!” I shouted. Andre was tackled to the ground.

“Luna, stay close!” Lucas shouted. I hold onto his shirt as he is fighting off one of Tucker’s men. The guy puts Lucas in a chokehold. I jump on his back, putting my hands around his neck and project in full force. He loosens his grip around Lucas and falls to his knees. I let go and Lucas snaps his neck. Immediately Lucas is tackled too. I was standing around trying to find someone to protect me but there was no one.

I can see Dani shimmering back and forth from sp0t to sp0t. Leah and Sin are fighting next to Brandon and Mikey.

Allie behind you! I heard Leah. I turn around and am knocked to the ground by Hank.

“Hank!”

“You banished my wife and pups you bh!”

“You killed my pup!”

“Casey was innocent!”

“So was Lavender!”

“I don’t care that Tucker wants you alive, you’re going to die, along with Dorian!” Hank shifted into Hondo and I stand to my feet. Even if I were to shift, I couldn’t outrun him. Mercury was half his size.

“Hondo, please,” I beg, but he just licks his lips and snarls at me. “DORIAN!” I scream as Hondo gets ready to pounce on me, but before he can, he is tackled by a large black wolf, but with silver eyes. I’m watching as they fight,

“LUNA!”

“Apollo! Lucian! You made it!”

“Just in time too,” Apollo said. I look out and see wolves from all over coming in and various humans which had to be the bounty hunters. I feel the ground rumbling and hear loud roars that were not from wolves.

“Holy fvck! Where did the bears come from!?” Apollo shouts.

“They’re friends,” I tell them.

{Deacon’s P.O.V.}

“Let’s go!! Step on it!!” I yell at Apollo go to go faster. We were ten minutes away from Desert Moon and the full moon shone brightly in the sky.

“The car can’t go any faster! I’m flooring it!” he replies.

I was surprised to get a call from Dorian Shaw, Alpha of the Desert Moon pack. When he asked for my help for a war that was taking place tonight, I was skeptical, but then he explained what was going on and that the Luna was the target. The Luna was a kind person, who helped my brother’s and I see the lunatic my father was. She helped us learn the truth, about our birth and how our father killed our birth mother. He was a hypocrite and a disgraced Alpha for more than 20 years and yet made himself out to be this amazing leader.

When Shaw offered an alliance between our two packs in exchange for our help, I couldn't refuse. My pack was strong but having an alliance with a pack like Desert Moon was more than good for business.

"Deacon, I see the territory! The fight has already started!" Apollo shouted.

"Pull over! We'll go on foot from here! We can't let the enemy know we're coming!" he pulls the car over into the desert passing and we go on foot using our wolf speed. I jump over the territory wall and scan the field. There I saw the Luna by the main house being towered over by a man. I watched as he began to shift into his wolf,

"The Luna is trouble!" I shouted to my brothers. I shifted into my wolf Midnight and ran towards the Luna, my brothers following behind in human form. My other men shifted as well and jumped into the fight. Dorian said that his men and women would be outnumbered which would make it easier to determine who was part of his pack. Plus, he said that the enemy combatants were more than likely to be rogues. I made it through the clearing just as the wolf was about to pounce on the Luna.

I lunged at him and we rolled around a few times. I got his scent, but he wasn't a rogue. It didn't matter who he was, he was attacking the Luna, which meant he was the enemy. We both snarled at each other and circled one another. I sensed a little bit of fear in him, which meant he could sense that I was an Alpha. He was big, I had to give him that, but I was bigger. We were about to lunge again when the ground started to shake beneath us. Midnight lifted his head and we saw more wolves coming and bears.

At first, we thought these were more of the enemy's men, but then I heard the Luna,

"They're friends,"
