

Desires DH 361

Chapter 361

"I am afraid Ms. MacMillan wouldn't agree. But you can file a lawsuit," Mr. Cornwall said sheepishly

"We shouldn't take this to court" Evan stood up and pondered for a moment before saying. "My family doesn't know about the children. If they find out, they might hurt Anya."

F...

"Then what's your plan?" Mr. Cornwall couldn't figure out what Evan wanted to do and sounded out.

"I will talk to her about this first" Although Evan guessed Anya wouldn't agree, he was sure the children must have a father

Nathaniel was a boy, so he needed him more

At night, Anya got off duty after a tiring day. She changed into slippers in the mansion. The children heard something and knew it was her. So, they dropped their toys and rushed to her cheerfully, lovingly hugging her.

"Mom, hug us

"Be good. I am tired tonight. She crouched down to hug them but was too tired to pick them up

She had a heavy workload and had been on the go all day. What was worse, she had to make Olive a gown. She wished she could have three pairs of arms.

Therefore, she didn't have any strength left to scoop the children up

'Babies, let your mother go, okay? She is tuckered out after work, Ellie said tenderly and walked over with a tray of fruits.

"Isn't Cindy home yet? Anya stood up and took the children to the living room

"No" Ellie put the fruit tray on the coffee table and said, "Right, I got a coupon from another kindergarten today. I went there and found it was nice. You can check it out when you are free. I want to sign the children up for it."

Elbe felt the children should go to a kindergarten to get ahead in life.

Anya sat on the sofa and picked up a slice of watermelon, feeding it to Eudora. "Ellie, how did you get the coupon?"

Ellie said with interest, "I have been in luck lately I got it because I bought something I even got 1,500 dollars store credit last time."

And she sold the house easily. She had been in the lap of fortune.

"Really? That sounds awesome" Anya didn't have doubts because it had happened to her, too.

"Yeah, you should go there sometime. I want to order one semester first," Ellie said.

Anya wiped Eudora's mouth with a tissue and asked, "Is it expensive?"

"No. The teacher said we could have 45% off because we are newcomers. Therefore, we only have to pay 3,000 dollars for the tuition. I think it is a great bargain. I have seen its ads in subways and believe it is reliable."

“Okay, I will go there later,” Anya said and continued to feed Eudora watermelon.

Nathaniel took a piece of banana peel and bit it, saying to Anya, “Mom, I want a dad.”

Then Eudora copied him and slurred, “Ded.”

Anya and Ellie were surprised to hear that.

They hadn’t said a word about a father to the children.

Who taught them that? Or did they learn it from TV?

Anya caressed the boy’s cheek and said, “Nathaniel, why did you say that?”

He took another bite of the banana peel and said in a cute voice. “Dad came to us.”

What? Anya was shocked and asked, “Who?”

“Dad” he answered truthfully

Anya frowned and asked, “Who is Dad?”

He blinked and tried to find the right words for it. The man who bought me a Transformer.”

Anya understood who it was, and her face turned sour instantly

Only Evan had ever bought him a Transformer. So, he had talked to them on the sly?

“Nathaniel, have your uncle reached you? Anya asked calmly after she experienced seconds of panic.

Nathaniel nodded honestly

So Evan did meet the kids in private. But Ellie was with the kids all the time. How could he still find an opportunity?

Anya couldn't figure it out. She believed that Ellie was on her side so Ellie wouldn't betray her. But she had to know what was going on.

Without any clue, Anya asked Ellie directly, “Ellie, Nathaniel said that they have seen Evan. Is it possible that you left them for a while for something else when you were outside?”

But this hypothesis was quite lame since Ellie wouldn't leave the kids in isolation.

Anya was just making random guesses.

“I don't know what happened! I have been with them the whole time.” Ellie was also confused. But the kids couldn't elaborate on what happened.

“Think it carefully.” Anya had to figure this out since it was important.

Last time, Cindy took care of the in Scarlett Port, after which Evan stopped coming. She thought that she had fooled him. Why did he change his mind?

What was going wrong?

Anya felt depressed.

“Okay, I will try!” Frowned, Ellie started to recall some details but failed. Nothing seemed strange. She only ran into Evan when she won the prize of 1.5 thousand dollars.

But she was there the whole time and Evan didn’t even bring up the topic of kids,

Then what else?

Ellie racked her brain and suddenly thought about the lesson of early childhood education. The kids had been taken away by the principal. Ellie thought they were being together.

Thinking of this, Ellie patted her head and said, “Anya, I know... Maybe Evan was there when I went to the trial lesson of early childhood education.”

“What?” Anya looked at Ellie, “Did you see him?”

Ellie shook her head, “I didn’t. But kids have been taken away by the principal to the entertaining area. I thought they were playing.

“Maybe that’s how he...”

What Ellie said throw Anya in a great panic. Evan came to the kids without any sign and taught them to say “daddy”.

Anya had a hunch that Evan might know something.

She wondered what he would know.

Maybe he was still skeptical about the kids’ identity.

“Anya, I am sorry. I shouldn’t be lured by petty advantages.” Seeing Anya’s sullen look, Ellie knew that she made a huge mistake, so she apologized sincerely, “I am really sorry!”

“Ellie, this is not your fault.” Anya regained her senses and comforted Ellie, “Neither of us can stop him to do what he wants to.”

Ellie nodded. “Then what now?”

Ellie bit her lips and thought for a while. “I need to go out.”

Then she stood up.

Seeing that, Ellie also stood up. “Anya, where are you going?”

“I am going to find Cindy to come up with a solution, Anya said as she was walking to the door. She also took out her phone and texted Evan. “Are you at No. 2 Mansion? I am coming to you.”

Evan texted her back quickly. “I will be there half an hour later.”

Anya texted again. “I will be waiting.”

Then she wore her shoes and went out.

She had to figure out why Evan taugt so.

Chapter 363

No. 2 Mansion was brightly lit.

The maid heard the doorbell ringing and opened the door. It was Anyn. The maid welcomed her warmly, “Ms. MacMillan, come on in. Mr. Welton isn’t home yet.”

Anya smiled, "I know. I will wait for him."

"Would you like something to drink?" the maid asked while walking with her to the sofa.

Anya shook her head and replied, "I am not thirsty. I won't bother you then."

The maid said, "I will make you some bird's nest. Mr. Welton asked me to do that."

Before Anya could refuse, the maid walked to the kitchen and cook for her.

Anya looked at her back and froze for a second. Actually, Anya had no appetite. She came to confront Evan.

He had promised her he wouldn't talk with the children behind her back. However, he broke his word.

What on earth did he want?

Besides, she had made love to him. Why wasn't he satisfied?

She had no clue what he was thinking about.

In fact, he never opened up to her. She couldn't enter his heart or know who he really was. She was just a booty call.

She went off into wild flights of fancy and couldn't calm down.

She waited on the couch biting her lips anxiously for about 20 minutes before Evan came back.

Soon, the door to the mansion was opened,

He appeared in the doorway in a well–pressed suit.

Anya looked back at him and rose to her feet. “Evan, there is something I want to ask you.”

“What is it?” Evan glanced at her and walked over slowly. His voice was gentle, but his gaze was deep and unfathomable.

He was collected.

She couldn’t tell his emotions from his expression.

“Did you talk to Nathaniel and Eudora?” She went straight to the point because he was too smart to fool.

Therefore, she didn’t need to waste her time beating around the bush.

He stared at her in silence for a while before admitting, “Yes,”

It was confirmed. Anya was pissed off and glared at him, balling her fists. “Didn’t we have a deal? I would sleep with you, and you won’t disturb my cousin’s children!

“Besides, the paternity tests have shown they are not your children! Why do you have to pester them?”

“You even asked them to call you dad. What do you want? Anya was keyed up, and her voice became shriller. The maid heard her and hurried over.

“Miss, sir, what is going on?”

“Go home first. We need to talk to her alone.”

The maid didn't dare to ask anything else and took off her apron. Then she grabbed her bag and left the mansion.

Then Evan said, “What about you? Why did you lie to me?”

Anya froze for a moment and glared at him, her chest heaving. “What do you mean? When did I lie to you?”

Evan chuckled. Then a menacing grin spread across his handsome and nonchalant face. He approached her and grabbed her waist, pressing her against himself. “You think 2 paternity tests can fool me?”

“Anya, you underestimate me.”

Chapter 364

Anya was shocked. She widened her eyes at the man with a skeptical look. “What were you saying?”

“You know what I said!” Evan couldn't be bothered to get mad at her, but she had lied to him twice and almost made him believe that those children were not his.

“Do you want me to show you the real paternity test again?” Evan suppressed his anger and said in a soft tone.

No matter how soft the tone was, the words sounded harsh in Anya's ears.

She knew he was not lying about the investigation, so did he want the kids? Anya's eyes were blurry.

Her mind was entangled with thoughts. She had no idea of what she should do.

After a while, she regained her senses and grabbed Evan's clean collar to beg, 'Evan, don't take away my kids!'

Evan didn't parry away her hand. Instead, he reached out to comfort her, "They were also my kids, right?"

"Evan, you will get married. You will have your own child. So leave my kids to me!" Anya shook her head and wanted to talk him out of it.

However, Evan would not relent. He didn't want to get married. What he only wanted was to raise Nathaniel and Eudora.

"Anya, the kids will have a better life with me." Evan lightly said.

Anya shook her head again. She believed that the kids should stay with their mother! "Evan, I am begging you. Don't take them away from me. I have nothing but them!"

"They will also leave without me!"

Her kids were her entire world. Without them, she would soon lose the hope of life.

As Anya finished talking, she started crying. Evan watched her, and his heart softened. He just wanted to love and a better living environment.

give t

the kids his

Meanwhile, he didn't forbid her seeing from her kids. Evan stretched out his hand to wipe her tears and said, "Anya, let's be clear. I don't want to take away your kids."

"Then what do you want?" Anya didn't believe his words because the Weltons would not allow the existence of bastards.

She was not stupid.

"Do you think the kids can grow up happily without a father?" Evan pulled her on the sofa and sat down.

Anya bit her lips, and her eyes were swollen, "The kids will have a father."

"Who?" Evan frowned.

"Mr. Welton, do you think only you can be my kids' father?" Anya calmed down and did not compromise.

She thought what had done could not be undone.

How could Evan let her be with her kids since he would get married?

She didn't trust any word coming out of his mouth.

Of course, she didn't think that Evan would marry her.

"I won't allow my kids to call another man father, Evan said seriously.

Anya sneered, "In that case, I won't allow my kids to call another woman mother."

Evan knitted his brows and stared at the stubborn woman.

This woman would be as sweet as a sheep, but once she was provoked, she would become a cat with sharp claws.

She would not succumb until she got what she wanted.

Chapter 365

“Anya, let’s talk about it calmly.” Evan did not want to enrage her and uncommonly softened his attitude.

Anya did not want to hear his words. “Evan, don’t push your luck. I have been your girlfriend, and you wanted to take my kids away? Why do you take all the advantages?”

Evan got angry hearing her words. “What advantage have I taken of you since I started dating you?” Then he paused and regained his composure as he still wanted to chat with her peacefully. “Anya, let the kids live with me.”

Anya bit her lips and refused him. “I was kept by you. Now you wanna keep my kids?”

Evan did not know how to reply.

He was pissed.

think you are kan

“I am dating you. Why do you think you are kept by me?”

“Is there any difference?” Anya lost her senses.

“I must let the kids live with me. You can either live with me as well or with Cindy.” Evan suppressed his temper and said, “Don’t wanna run away with the kids. I will find you wherever you are in Nordeny.”

Anya was lost for her words.

She was furious but had no other choice. She did not want to move there nor let her kids live with him.

She felt so helpless that she cried out and scolded Evan, "Evan, you are a bastard. You always bully me."

She had given him everything she had. Now her kids could not get rid of him.

Evan felt mortified and hugged her. "Anya, live with me and foster the kids together. Let's give it a try."

Though he did not plan to get married for the moment, he had made it clear that they could live together to see if they were compatible for marriage.

Children were the bonds between them.

He could not be so cruel as to take the children away from her regardless of her feelings,

Despite Evan's plan, Anya did not think the same way. It seemed to her that he meant to stall for time to take the children.

away.

Nevertheless, she had no other solution and nodded after a long silence.

"You can get yourselves prepared before moving in tomorrow." Evan stroked her soft hair seeing that she had given up.

Anya hated to be touched by him and evaded him. "Evan, I agree to move over. But you have to promise me that when you get married, I will raise the kids

“I won’t stop you from looking after them. Is that okay?”

“Evan, Is that okay?” Anya cried again.

Tears streamed down her face and landed on Evan’s hand.

He frowned instantly and softened. He wiped the tears from Anya’s face and nodded in agreement.

He would see how things went in the future.

He only knew that he was willing to raise the two kids with her before marriage.

Anya had her own thought. She was already thinking of how to get rid of him with the kids.

She never believed that Evan would marry her. Perhaps he would even marry another woman.

She could not let another woman raise her babies.

If the stepmother tortured her kids or some accidents happened to them when she was not around, she would go crazy.

She would never let anyone harm them.

Chapter 366

* UN 6x 15:19

Anya looked pale when she returned to Cindy’s apartment. The two kids were playing with toys in the living room. Anya did not want to affect their mood and sat silently beside them to figure out a way herself.

Ellie walked over when she saw Anya sat there in frustration.

“Anya, what’s wrong? You look so upset now. Don’t scare me,” Ellie asked in a whisper.

Anya glanced at Ellie, and her nose twitched. She did not want to cry as tears could not solve any problems.

“Ellie, Evan knew about the kids,” Anya said bitterly.

Ellie

looked at her with surprise. “What should we do now since he knew that?”

“He asked us to move to his house. I agreed in case that he would take my kids away.” Anya said as she stroked her skirt.

She needed to vent her helplessness this way.

“We can’t move to his house. You have not got married.” Ellie was conservative and felt it improper for her to move to his house.

What would others think if they knew that?

Her reputation had been ruined by the MacMillan family. If she moved to Evan’s house, it would be harder for her to find a husband.

Ellie did not wish that she would remain unmarried with the two kids for her whole life.

“I know it’s not proper, but I have no choice,” Anya said in a deep voice. “If I had a choice, I would not be so worried.”

Ellie said after she had thought for a moment, “I could take the kids to another city for a while.”

Anya shook her head. Evan was so powerful, and that would be impossible to deceive him.

Besides, he could always find her even she went abroad..

“Ellie, he is too powerful. Do you think we can get away from him?” Anya continued, “I plan to move there first and then find.

a way out.”

“Do you mean it?” Ellie wanted to persuade her.

She did not expect Anya to move away for fear that it would ruin her reputation.

Ellie thought, “Though Anya had two kids, she was at least single. However, people would gossip if Anya moved to a man’s house.”

Anya knew Ellie’s mind, but the kids would be taken away if she refused to go. She couldn’t let it happen. “Ellie, I have no choice.

“If we didn’t move tomorrow, he would have us moved, which would be embarrassing.”

Ellie let out a deep sigh and frowned. That was what she hated to see. They had made great efforts to evade Evan but were still founded by him. They didn't have any choice.

"Anya, I respect your choice."

Anya nodded, "Ellie, please rest assured that I will try my best to protect the two kids."

"And yourself." Ellie was afraid that Evan would have designs on her. "Don't be..."

Anya pursed her lips. She chose not to tell her that she had already been dating Evan. "Don't worry, Ellie. I won't have an affair with him."

"That's right." She could feel relieved as long as Evan did not have designs on Anya.

After a night of consideration, Anya felt less anxious.

Now that she could not change that, she'd better move to his house first and figure a way out later.

Chapter 367

Early next morning, Anya wanted to go to work but remembered she would move to Evan's house today. Therefore, she asked Jake for half a day off.

She started packing up. She had told Cindy about this last night..

Cindy was shocked.

Evan was overbearing. However, he had known the truth about the paternity tests, so she had to listen to him and move to his house.

Legally speaking, he was Nathaniel and Eudora's father.

Although Cindy was indignant, she couldn't help Anya. Therefore, she also took half a day off and helped Anya move to the No. 2 Mansion not far away.

They packed up the clothes first, and Cindy exclaimed, 'Anya, luckily, you will still live near me. Otherwise, I would be worried.'

"It's okay. I will find another way." Anya was herself today. She had been hopping mad yesterday and hadn't thought this through.

But she slept it off and had clarity now.

She wasn't a match for Evan.

So, it was not wise for her to throw an egg at a rock.

"Call me if you need my help. I won't move, so you can always come here," Cindy promised and patted Anya on the shoulder.

Anya nodded and said, "Got it. Thank you,"

"It is what a bestie for."

"Agreed."

They continued packing, and Ellie gathered up the children's toys and clothes.

Nathaniel noticed Ellie and Anya were packing up again and rushed over holding his Transformer, asking curiously, "Ellie, where are you going?"

"Nathaniel, we are moving into a new house!" Ellie rubbed his head dotingly,

"Where is it?" he asked blinking adorably.

Ellie put their stuff into a huge bag and replied, "Not far from here. It is just next door."

The boy looked at them in confusion tilting his head. They had just moved here. The house was spacious and gorgeous. He could even play hide and seek with his sister.

So, why were they moving?

And next door? Was the house next door this big, too?

He just wanted a huge bedroom and asked Ellie, "Ellie, I want... a big one."

Ellie understood what he meant and sighed resignedly, "The house we are moving into is also huge. You can still play hide and seek with your sister."

He was tickled pink and clapped his hands, spinning around.

Then the doorbell rang.

Ellie got up to open the door and found Evan, his assistant, and his lawyer.

Ellie didn't look happy when she saw them, saying in a displeased tone, "Hello, Mr. Welton."

"Are Nathaniel and Eudora in there?" Evan ignored her icy attitude and asked politely.

She still replied in a frigid tone, "Yes, come in."

She didn't like him but knew she couldn't afford to offend him.

Nevertheless, she wouldn't be nice to him anymore.

Evan walked into the house and saw the children playing by the sofa.

He trotted to them and said, "Nathaniel, Eudora, do you want to live with Dad?"

The children looked at him in confusion. Ellie walked over and said, "Mr. Welton, they are just little kids."

"I know. That's why I want them to live with me so that we can get to know each other." Evan didn't ask the children to call him dad but ruffled their hair lovingly.

Chapter 368

Every's words made Ellie speechless. She looked at them with a long face.

Not long after, Anya and Kate finished packing up and went downstairs with luggage.

Evan asked the bodyguards to help them carry the luggage. He picked up Nathaniel and Eudora, saying to Anya, "Let's go home"

His words didn't carry much emotion, but in Kate's mind, it was like a husband taking his wife home.

But she knew Evan wouldn't marry Anya, so she dropped the idea.

"Even, the children are still unfamiliar with you. Don't ask them to call you Daddy so soon," Anya followed up and reminded.

Evan understood and turned around, saying, "I know."

With that, he carried the two kids and headed for the No. 2 Mansion.

Anya glanced at him, bit her lips, and followed him.

The moving went smoothly. The two kids had spent some time with him before, so after arriving there, they quickly got familiar with him. Seeing the sweet scene, Anya became somewhat jealous.

What ungrateful kids! How could they get so close to Evan?

Anya stood aside with jealousy and watched for a while. She must go back to work later.

Anya was about to go to the company. Evan put down the two Anya.

kids and let Ellie took over. He walked out with Outside the mansion, Anya ignored him and kept walking. Seeing this scene, Evan suddenly turned gloomy. He walked over, reached out, and grabbed her hand domineeringly.

But his tone was tender. "Are you still mad at me?"

He hadn't been in a relationship before, so he had no experience of coaxing a woman. Last night, Anya was angry, and he was angry too.

Because she lied to him about this.

But men should be more tolerant. So, he held back his anger and coaxed her.

“I’m not mad.” Anya wanted to break free, but he was too strong

He held her hand so tightly that she couldn’t pull her hand out.

Anya could only give up.

“Aren’t you mad?” Evan pulled her into his embrace and said, “Baby, don’t be mad! Live with me and raise our kids together, alright?”

He had never been so patient with a woman before.

He was so humble right now.

“Everything of mine is yours. You can buy whatever you want to buy.”

Evan kept softening her up.

Anya looked at him with a straight face. She didn’t need his money. What she wanted was after he got tired of them, he could let them leave. That was all.

But he wouldn’t give her the chance.

She wanted to take the children away from her.

Anya wouldn't be so naive to believe him and stay by his side.

She gritted her teeth and said, "After you get married, please give the children back to me, OK?"

"If you agree, I'll stay with you and raise the children together."

Evan narrowed his eyes. Was that all? He didn't know what would happen in the future, so he could only say, "OK, I agree

"Will you go back on your word like before?"

"No!" Evan answered seriously, "Do you want to sign an agreement?"

"Good." Hearing that he agreed, Anya felt a little relieved. Evan took the chance to pinch her chin and said, "Can I kiss you now?"

Without waiting for Anya to agree, he lowered his head and kissed her. He needed to dote on the little woman who rebelled.

Then she would be good in the future.

Chapter 369

After the domineering kiss, Evan didn't do anything that crossed the line. Instead, he sent her to the company in person.

At the company, Jake came to ask about her situation with concern.

Anya didn't want to tell him the messy things. She just said that she took a leave because she was feeling unwell. Jake believed it and told her to take care of herself before returning to work.

JK's

I's team didn't have to go to the show this afternoon.

As a result, Anya had time to help Olive design her dress. After she was done, she would call Olive to see the draft.

If she didn't hurry, it might be late.

Olive soon picked up. She was in Shane's villa now. Normally, Olive would not pick up Anya's phone, but when her phone rang, Shane saw it.

Seeing that Anya called, Shane ordered Olive to pick up and asked Anya to come to his villa.

Olive was unwilling in her heart. She didn't like Shane, but Shane was rich and powerful. She wanted to get some resources for herself through him. If Anya came, all her efforts would be in vain.

Olive pretended to be jealous and refused. "Mr. Brown, am I not good enough for you? Why do you want another woman to come over? I'm jealous," Shane didn't bother to argue with her. He put on the shirt and said in a rude tone, "Cut the crap. Pick it up.

"Let her immediately come to my place."

Olive knitted her delicate eyebrows and bit her lips, saying, "Mr. Brown, I don't want her to come."

“Are you picking it up or not?” Shane was impatient. He glared at Olive and said, “Don’t pretend to be jealous. I know what you are made of. If you piss me off, I will kick you out of my villa today.”

Olive was shocked. She dared not to fake jealousy and hurriedly picked up, “Ms. MacMillan, come here right now.”

Hearing Olive’s unusual tone, Anya frowned in doubt and pretended to be caring. “Mr. Boyer, are you alright?”

‘Ms. MacMillan, I’m fine. Hurry up and come here.’ Olive was hateful but she was still tender on the surface.

“Alright, send me the address. Mr. Boyer, you must make the decision as soon as possible. Otherwise, I can’t finish making your dress on time.” Anya said calmly and nicely.

Olive didn’t care about her dress right now. She was worried if Anya came, Anya would snatch Shane from her.

She could lose such a rich man.

“I know. Ms. MacMillan, be quick.” Olive suppressed her dissatisfaction and hang up. Then she looked at the man who had suited up and said gently. “Mr. Brown, I asked her to come over

Shane put on an evil smile. “Good! Clean yourself up and wait for her.”

Olive nodded, picked up her underwear and dress on the ground, and went to take a shower

Shane stood at the bedside and went downstairs to wait for Anya.

Anya was with Evan now, but Evan might already be sick of her

He didn't care about her history

After all, she was Anya

He had been falling for her for a long time.

Chapter 370

Olive gave Anya the address, it was a fancy villa

The neighborhood was familiar to Anya Evans grandmother seemed to live here Olive's villa was across the street

The two villas were very close it was a wealthy community of Norden

Anya didn't think too much she was going to Olive's villa with her design.

She would stop trying if Olive was still unsatisfied

Anya couldn't make a dress in such a short time. She did not care if Olive could wear the latest dress.

Anya put her designs in her bag and took the elevator She met Sydney when she walked out of the elevator. They looked each other with disdain

Anya didn't want to waste time arguing with Sydney. She walked straight to the door

But Sydney said evilly as she got in Anya's way with her arms crossed, 'Anya, Dad is sick. Do you want to come back home?

"Don't tell me that you're busy"

Anya looked at Sydney. "You are there for him Anya didn't want to be so heartless it was just that Cornelius was a hombler"

He never cared about Anya and let Melissa bully her

Anya tried to ask Cornelius for help when her mother was very ill. But Cornelius refused After that Anya thought Cornelius was dead and buried

"You're so heartless. Dad is thinking about you all the time," Sydney said sourly

"I don't care I won't be tricked again" Anya was not stupid. They had tricked her once. She would not fall into the Sydney got anxious Cornelius was very ill for real. Melissa and Sydney wanted Anya to come back. But Anya didn't buy Sydney was angry.

"You're so cruel!"

"You too!" Anya glared at Sydney "I asked you for help when my mother was sick. But you did nothing" Anya didn't want to talk about it it was a sore point with her

She walked out before Sydney said anything

The MacMillans had kicked Anya out of the family, so Anya didn't care about them at Sydney was pissed off and goggled at Anya's back with hatred. Her nails dug into her palms was Evan's girlfriend, so Sydney could not harm Anya. It would take a long time for Zachary to recover.

Sydney hated Anya so much that she wanted to kill Anya now.

Anya had walked out of the company. Sydney subdued her anger and called Melissa. "Mom, Anya doesn't want to go home."

"I knew it. She was tricked last time. She would not buy it again," Melissa said coldly on the other end of the phone.

*So what can we do now?" Sydney wanted to destroy Anya.

Melissa snorted, 'Ill let everyone know that she is a heartless daughter."

Sydney smiled happily, "Mom, you're amazing. She joined an international fashion show. We could expose it at the show. She has no escape then."

"That's what I mean." Melissa grinned.

Melissa and Sydney had made up their mind. They would sling mud at Anya when Cornelius was sick.