

Desires DH 401

Chapter 401

“What’s going on?”

“Did Ms. MacMillan really do that?”

“I know it is a cliché but, never judge a person by his appearance, guys.”

“She never paid her parents’ support? Really?”

“Who knows!”

The guests started whispering and pointed fingers at Anya as if she was the bad guy.

But in fact, the MacMillans didn’t treat Anya well. Why would she support them?

The outsiders could certainly not know the inside story. They would only believe what they saw.

The whispers grew louder. Jake tried to take Anya out of here, so he immediately told Anya beside him, “Anya, let me send you down first. I will report it to Mr. Welton as soon as possible. Don’t worry. We will find out who is behind this!”

Biting her lip, Anya looked at Jake and then eyed the guests expressionless. She nodded and got ready to get off of the stage with Jake.

But the next second, the shelf hanging above the stage had come loose and rocked.

Someone saw it and immediately screamed, “Oh my God! The shelf is falling. Everyone, run!”

Hearing the scream, everyone looked up.

The shelf in the ceiling had shaken badly and was about to fall. Seeing that, the guests shouted in a panic. They got up and rushed to swarm out.

There was an awful lot of confusion at the scene. People shrieked and stepped on each other just to find a way out.

The designers on the stage had started to run down off the stage, while Anya and Jake couldn't leave the stage at once since they walked at the rear.

Jake jumped down to the ground, and then he turned and reached out to catch Anya, trying to pull her down.

But it was too late. The shelf fell with a bang! Evan, who had been sitting in the VIP seat, ran onto the stage and held Anya in his arms as the shelf fell.

And then he flung himself to the floor and protected Anya with his body.

The bodyguards quickly came over to rescue them.

However, when they arrived, they found that the back of Evan's foot was pierced through by an iron pipe, bleeding.

But Anya was held tightly in his arms, safe and sound.

The bodyguards pulled Evan up and take him to the hospital immediately. Anya was helped up too. She stood by in shock for seconds, at a loss. But when she came to her senses, she ran to catch up with them at once.

She cast a glance at Evan's bleeding foot and quickly looked away because she couldn't bear to take another look again. Feeling her heart was broken, she couldn't hide her care for him anymore. She cried with red eyes, "Evan, you have to be okay!"

Evan knew that this injury was nothing to him. It might just need to take some time to get healed. But hearing Anya's words and seeing her tears, Evan was so much touched.

He reached out and touched Anya's hair, "I will be fine. I still need to take care of you all, right?"

Of course, when he said that, he meant Anya, Nathaniel, and Eudora.

Anya bit her lip hard and burst into tears. Evan's foot still didn't stop bleeding. She could tell that the wound was rather deep, which made her so scared that something would happen to Evan.

"Evan, promise me, you have to be okay!" Anya held his hand and cried out. "I can't live with it if anything happens to you."

"I know." Evan touched her face and wiped off the tears on her cheeks.

Evan was getting a little dizzy because he had lost a lot of blood.

He had no energy to say anything more. But before getting into the car, he hugged Anya and said, "About today... I will look into it. Don't worry."

She didn't care about being framed at all. What she was concerned about was his condition!

Evan was the only one who would risk his life for her!

Chapter 402

Evan was quickly sent to the private hospital owned by Welton Group, and Anya followed. When Rain heard that Evan was injured, she drove to the hospital immediately.

The two showed up outside the emergency room at the same time.

One was anxious while the other was angry.

Rain knew that Evan would get hurt as long as he got involved with Anya. Anya was a jinx! But Evan even wanted to be her boyfriend?

Rain glared at Anya, who was also standing outside the emergency room, with resentment. She wished she could skin this bitch right away! And her anger soon drove her crazy.

Gritting her teeth, Rain strode toward Anya and grabbed her by the collar, scolding, "Anya MacMillan, you little bitch! Look what you've done to Evan! He got hurt again because of you! It's always you! You fucking bitch! You will always be a jinx to Evan!"

Rain said through gritted teeth, but Anya wasn't in the mood to argue with Rain at this moment. All she could think about was Evan's bleeding foot, and she could even feel pain at the thought of it as if it was she who had been injured.

"Say something, you bitch! Do you have any idea what Evan means to the Welton Group? Can you be responsible for it if something happens to him?" Rain grabbed Anya's collar and yelled.

She shook Anya so hard that she nearly pushed her against the wall again.

Seeing that, the bodyguard came over to stop her, "Ms. Zachary, please let go."

They knew that Anya was the most important woman to Evan, so they couldn't let anything happen to her.

But Rain didn't do as they said, because she knew Evan's bodyguards didn't dare to do anything to her. It would be unwise to mess with the Albrechts. So she continued, "Do you have nothing to say? Or do you think I make a point? You'd better leave Evan for good right away, you bitch! Otherwise, the Weltons will definitely not spare you when they come back!"

1/3

Emergency calls only FM

Anya's patience was wearing thin, and finally, she reached out to push her away, "Let go of me, Rain!"

"No! You have to leave Evan!" she gnashed her teeth and shouted. At the moment, she didn't look like a graceful model at all.

Rain was furious, and she believed that she had reason to get mad at Anya.

Evan had never been so badly injured before.

But he ended up in the emergency room after staying with this woman just for a while!

"It's not up to you to tell me what to do! Mind your own business!" suddenly, Anya fiercely retorted back.

Deep in her heart, she knew that she had changed her mind about Evan.

She wanted to be with him as his girlfriend. And as her girlfriend, she had to defend herself!

But sometimes, she still couldn't do anything about it even if she realized her feelings for Evan.

There were too many obstacles in their relationship, including the differences in their backgrounds.

She could only take the initiative and bravely defend herself as Evan's girlfriend.

But Rain got angrier when she heard Anya's words. All she wanted was Anya to leave Evan, even if she knew that Evan would be dating Shyla. But she could get over it as long as it was not Anya who was with Evan. She couldn't stand to see Anya, who was indiscreet about her private life, stay by Evan's side. So, instead of admiring Anya's bravery, Rain sneered, "What did you say? Who are you to talk to me like that? Look at yourself! You are just a plaything!"

Chapter 403

Rain's words were harsh. Other patients passing by all looked at Anya in a very strange way.

Enduring the strange look from others and the humiliation from Rain, Anya bit her lips and said to the guards, "I ask you to pull her away now. Otherwise, I will tell Mr. Welton everything when he wakes up, and you won't work for him anymore."

Anya said seriously. Although she didn't know whether these two guards would listen to her, she had no other choices.

Now she wanted to wait quietly for Evan to be rescued safely.

And she didn't want to get involved in other things.

However, the two guards followed her and dragged Rain away.

Rain, a fair lady, was dragged away by two men. She shouted crazily in the corridor of the hospital, "You are such a bitch, Anya! I will tell the Welton family what you did. You will come to no good end!"

Anya ignored her and waited for Evan at the door of the emergency room.

Soon the corridor became quiet again.

Anya sat down and kept waiting for Evan. The phone in her pocket suddenly rang.

Anya took out the phone and found it was from Jake.

She answered the phone.

Jake said worriedly at the end of the phone, "How is Mr. Welton now, Anya? Is he feeling well?" Everything happened of a sudden and people were crowded in a mess. When he wanted to pull Anya back, he saw Evan rushing towards her.

And the shelf fell, hitting Evan's feet.

Jake was shocked. Evan was the president of JK Couture, and they must make sure of his safety.

Besides, Jake was in charge of the show. However, he didn't expect an accident at the show.

He might lose his job as the managing director.

"He is under emergency treatment, Mr. Hanson." Anya looked at the light above the rescue room, which was still red.

She didn't know how Evan was.

"Take care of Mr. Welton, and I will be there soon," Jake said.

He was so anxious that he forgot to think about why Evan rushed towards Anya at that time.

Was he trying to save Anya? Or did he happen to walk by?

Now he was more concerned about the safety of Evan. He didn't know how he should apologize if something happened to Evan.

"Don't worry, Mr. Hanson. I know what I should do." Anya took a deep breath and firmly grasped her clothes. She was also nervous.

Jake nodded, "Fine. I will go to the hospital soon with the person in charge of the show after we finished. handling other relevant things."

"Okay."

Anya hung off the phone and looked at the light above the rescue room again.

The red light turned green after two minutes. The operation might be over.

Anya stood up quickly. She walked to the door of the rescue room in a hurry.

Soon the door of the room opened.

The doctors and nurses carefully pushed Evan out of the rescue room. Evan was the shareholder of the hospital; they didn't dare to trifle with him.

After receiving treatment, Evan was out of danger.

However, he couldn't stand up right away because of the injury to his feet. He needed to rest for about 10 days.

Chapter 404

“Is he all right now?” Seeing Evan was still in a coma, Anya asked the doctor worriedly.

The doctor didn't know who Anya was. Since Anya was here, the doctor guessed that she might know Evan. Therefore, the doctor didn't dare to trifle with her and said, “Don't worry, the steel pipe didn't hurt his leg badly. He will be fine after ten days.”

“Thank you!” Anya was finally relieved.

She thanked the doctor for his help.

The doctor smiled and said, “You are welcome. Now we will arrange him to the VIP ward, where he could have a good rest.”

Anya nodded.

The VIP ward was on the top floor of this private hospital and was the only room on the top floor, where the living room, dining room, and washroom were all available.

Living in the VIP ward was like living in a villa.

Besides, the only access to the VIP ward was the special elevator, which could protect the privacy of the patient well. And no media or stranger would be allowed to visit.

Evan could have a good rest here.

Anya took care of Evan personally after he moved into the VIP ward.

However, Evan was still in a coma because he lost a lot of blood at the show. Anya stayed in the ward for a while and left for fear that she might disturb him. She decided to go back to the mansion and take some clothes for him.

When Anya left the ward, she saw Jake walk towards her in a hurry.

He walked so fast that his face turned pale and was bathed in sweat.

Jake asked Anya anxiously as soon as he saw her, "Anya, is Mr. Welton here?"

"Yes. He is having a rest. We shouldn't disturb him," Anya said while looking at the ward.

Jake nodded and asked, "Is he alright?"

"He is fine and needs some rest."

"Thank goodness!" Jake patted himself on his chest. He worried that something would happen to Evan.

If so, he might be sued by the Welton Group and live the rest of his life in jail.

"Sorry Mr. Hanson, I have to go now." Anya wanted to go back and take some clothes for Evan.

"Fine. How are you feeling now? Are you okay?" Jake asked.

"I am fine." However, Anya knew she would have gotten badly injured or even lost her life if Evan hadn't come to save her.

"Well, that's great." Jake felt relieved. He paused for a while and said, "I have called the police and asked them to investigate this incident. If it was planned by someone, we will never let him get away easily."

“Besides, the news that Mr. Welton got injured shouldn’t be released in case the Welton Group was left in total disarray.”

Anya understood what he meant and agreed.

“Then you may go back now and have a rest. After all, we have both suffered a lot today,” Jake said with concern.

Anya nodded and left.

She suffered a lot today, from what Amber did to her to the photo of the sick father displayed at the show.

She knew the MacMillans wanted to destroy her.

Sydney had asked Anya to go back to the MacMillan family, but Anya ignored her.

The MacMillans were simply jealous of her success.

Anya wondered, “Why would my family be so cruel and even want to destroy me?” She felt extremely furious and clenched her fists every time she thought of what the MacMillans had done to her.

She would never let the MacMillans get away this time after what they did at the show.

Anya wanted to teach them a lesson. Otherwise, they would think that she was a pushover and could be bullied easily.

Chapter 405

Carol was in the hospital.

Although she suffered a slight concussion, she was not badly hurt, so she recovered quickly and could walk around after a good night's rest.

When she came around, she watched the news about the show of JK Couture.

Chapter 406

When Evan came around, he felt exhausted. Fortunately, he often took exercise and kept strong.

Therefore, the injury to his foot was not a big deal for him.

He would get well soon.

However, the news that he was hurt soon spread throughout Nordeny. When Dan knew that, he immediately went to the hospital to visit Evan.

When Dan went into the ward, he saw that Evan lay propped against a pillow and heard Hayden reporting something.

Dan looked at Evan and found that he was in good spirits, so Dan said with a smile, "You look well.

"Well, you must be happy since you came to Anya's rescue."

Dan bantered with Evan and came up to him. Hearing that, Evan waved at Hayden and Hayden went out of the ward. Then Evan put on a faint smile, "Don't make fun of me. How do you know that soon?"

Dan came up to Evan and said, "The news about you is trending all over the Internet. I'm worried about you, so I come to see you."

"I'll ask someone to handle this," Evan frowned and said resignedly, "If those shareholders know that, they would call Mdm Welton to ask what happened to me."

“Don’t worry. I have already helped you deal with that.” As Evan’s best friend, Dan had solved that problem before Evan told him.

“Really?” Evan was shocked to hear that since he never thought Dan would smooth it out so quickly.

Dan smiled, “Since this matter would hit you, I must help you settle it.”

Hearing that, Evan nodded, “Thank you.”

“You’re welcome. Would you like to invite me to dinner in your free time?” Dan patted him on the shoulder and then asked, “Are you OK?”

“I’m fine, but it takes some time for the wound to my foot to heal,” Evan said.

Dan looked at Evan’s foot packed with gauze and said, “You risked your life to save Anya. You care about her since she gave birth to two babies for you.”

Evan snorted, “I would do this even if I don’t know that.”

Dan was greatly shocked to hear that and said, “Are you in love with her?”

Evan smiled without saying anything.

Now he fell in love with Anya and wanted to marry her.

“But...” Dan was afraid that the Weltons would deal with Anya. When they were talking about that, someone knocked at the door.

Then Anya said, "Evan, I'm coming in."

Hearing that, Dan changed the subject and said with a smile, "Speak of the devil. Your sweetheart is coming."

Evan glanced at him and then said, "Come in."

The door opened.

When Anya carried Evan's clothes and came in, she saw Dan and greeted him with a smile, "Hello, Mr. Baker."

Dan replied with a smile, "Hello, Ms. MacMillan."

"Evan, I bring you a change of clothes in case you don't feel comfortable when you wear a hospital gown." Anya went to the bedside and looked at Evan with eyes softly glowing.

Chapter 407

"Thank you." Evan's heart overflowed with tenderness.

"Sydney and Zachary?" Anya was shocked to hear that because she thought the MacMillans did that.

Anya put on a serious face and thought about that. Evan grabbed her soft hands and said, "Although they found hackers to slander you, you don't need to worry about that. I'll help you."

His hands were warm which gave her strength.

Anya was touched and said, "How can you help me?"

“You kiss me first,” Evan said in a soft voice and stroked her chin.

Seeing his good looks, Anya blushed with shyness. However, she didn’t refuse his request and kissed him.

When she was ready to straighten herself up, Evan pulled her into his arms and took the initiative to kiss her.

He kissed her passionately, thrusting his tongue into her mouth.

Anya blushed and her heart beat faster.

She couldn’t deny the fact that Evan was great at this.

She could feel herself getting lost in his kiss.

“Evan, stop. You are still injured,” Anya said in a soft voice and her tongue was tingling.

Then Evan let go of her.

He said with a smile, “I’ll call Cornelius to talk about that. I think he wouldn’t dare to answer my call.”

Anya blushed and looked at him, “Then what? What are you going to do? Would you want to ask the MacMillans to clarify that like Amber?”

“Yes.”

Chapter 408

“Don’t worry.” There was nothing Evan couldn’t do let alone that small matter.

He didn’t think it was difficult to deal with that.

“But...” Anya was still worried about that.

“Don’t worry. I have asked someone to do that and you just need to watch the news.” Evan softly touched her face and said, “As for Sydney, I’ll fire her. Besides, you can ask her to apologize to you face to face or on the phone. It’s up to you.”

“I want to see her beg for mercy.”

Evan smiled, “OK.”

He paused and then continued, “As for Zachary, I’ll help you take revenge on him.”

Hearing that, Anya was deeply touched and loved him more.

Then Shane turned around and got back into his chair. At that time, he heard someone knocking at the door.

He said impatiently, “Come in.”

His assistant went into the office with an 18-year-old high school girl.

When they came in, his assistant closed the door and pushed her in front of Shane, saying, "Mr. Brown, she is a virgin."

Shane stroked his chin and looked at that girl. He was shocked to find that she looked like Anya.

He grinned and said, "You can get out of here."

Hearing that, the assistant walked out of the office.

Then Shane loosened his shirt collar and said to that shy girl, "What's your name?"

"My name is Bryanna MacMillan," she replied tremulously.

Bryanna looked at Shane timidly.

"Bryanna MacMillan?" Shane repeated it.

He thought, "Her family name is MacMillan and she looks like Anya."

Shane smiled and said, "Let's have a meal." Now he wanted to play a constant game of cat and mouse with Evan and Anya.

Hearing that, Bryanna nodded because she needed money.

Chapter 409

In the MacMillan family...

Since Cornelius and Anya's affair was exposed online, Mdm MacMillan had believed that their revenge

1 plan wouldn't go awry.

But when she checked her smartphone in the afternoon, she found all the news about Cornelius and Anya had disappeared. It seemed that someone had cleaned it up.

Sydney got out of the car, weeping, holding her purse in her hand. She slammed the car door shut and walked with quick steps into the villa.

As soon as she entered the living room, she flung herself into Melissa's arms and cried, "Mom... Anya is a bitch... She's so cruel!"

"What's up, my dear?" Melissa wiped the tears from Sydney's face and asked. She didn't know Sydney had been fired from Welton Group.

"Anya has asked Evan to fire me! It took me a lot of effort to find a job in Welton Group... She's so cruel!" Sydney said with gritted teeth.

Melissa frowned. She stared fiercely at Sydney and said in a harsh tone, "How can it be? Has our plan failed to take effect?"

"Evan has known what we've done," Sydney said. She was a bit scared, for she had thought that Zachary's plan was infallible.

But she hadn't expected Evan to find out the truth within such a short period.

"She asked me to quit immediately, and she said I must beg for her mercy if I want to survive in Norden. Mom, grandma, what should I do?" Sydney said while weeping.

She knew Mdm MacMillan would help her.

Mdm MacMillan's face darkened. She rubbed her neck and said, "How dare the bitch threatens us in this way? Is she out of her mind?

“She’s as cruel as her late mother.”

“Grandma, what should we do?” Sydney said while sobbing, “They also want dad to make explanations in their faces.”

“I don’t agree,” Mdm MacMillan said in a frigid tone.

Chapter 410

Mdm MacMillan felt much better after she hung up the phone. She thought she had almost got the things settled, and the malicious look in her eyes changed into a look of satisfaction.

Melissa and Sydney stood at Mdm MacMillan’s side. They also regained their good moods after hearing the talk between the two elders.

Sydney hurriedly wiped the tears from her eyes and said, “Grandma, Mdm Welton has agreed to help us, right?”

Mdm MacMillan shook her head and let out a contemptuous snort. “How’s that possible? I can’t make it clear to her on the phone, so I’ll go to see her tomorrow. I’ll ruin Anya then.”

Mdm MacMillan said, and her lips curved into a triumphant smile.

“Grandma, you need to make it clear to Mdm Welton,” Sydney said earnestly.

“I will,” Mdm Welton looked affectionately at Sydney and said, “I’ll also persuade the Weltons to make you work in Welton Group again.”

Sydney’s eyes glowed at the words. She rushed to Mdm MacMillan and started to fawn over her, “Grandma, I love you. We can all rely on you. You’re awesome!”

“My grandma can address any problem. She’s a superwoman!”

Mdm MacMillan was quite delighted to hear the flattering words.

Sydney was also happy to see her efforts pay off. She tried harder to fawn over Mdm MacMillan and knew clearly that she could survive only through coaxing her grandmother into helping her. She knew she couldn’t have any unrealistic expectations of her good-for-nothing dad.

Her dad was a useless man in her eyes.

If she wanted to crush Anya, she could rely on no one except for Melissa and Mdm MacMillan, Sydney flattered Mdm MacMillan for half an hour, and then the three went to the dining room and had dinner together.

When Mdm MacMillan went upstairs to see Cornelius who was lying in bed, Melissa pulled Sydney aside and asked, “Sydney, do you think your grandma can tackle it?”

She harbored no doubt about Mdm MacMillan’s problem-solving ability, but things were quite different this time. Evan was involved, which make the situation much more complicated.

She thought things wouldn't go quite smoothly.

"Grandma is going to see Mdm Welton tomorrow, isn't she? Do you think Mdm Welton will allow Evan to continue his relationship with Anya if she knows Anya's bad reputation?" Sydney stared at the wall and sneered.

"I'm afraid that Evan will take sides with Anya," Melissa said. She thought Mdm MacMillan had underestimated the gravity of the problem.

Sydney sneered. "It doesn't matter if he takes sides with Anya. Does he dare to go against his grandma? Anya will be ruined tomorrow, and we can just wait and see!" she said triumphantly.

"How dare she snatch Evan from me? I won't spare her!" Sydney cursed inwardly.

"I'm still a bit worried. I think we shouldn't stake our fate on your grandma," said Melissa. She knew Anya was not someone to be trifled with ever since she was forced to cut her finger in Anya's face.

She had thought that Evan wouldn't bother with the domestic trifles of the Macmillan family..

But she hadn't expected him to care much about them.

So she felt the need to find another way out.

"Mom, there's no need to think that much." Sydney had got sick of talking about Anya. "I don't want to talk about her now. I'm going to have a rest upstairs."

Melissa knew it was Sydney's blind faith in Mdm MacMillan that had made her underestimate the gravity of the problem. She wanted to think up another way out, for she knew Mdm Welton may also take sides

WILLI Anya, one stopP

“Okay. Go to have a rest now,” Melissa patted Sydney’s shoulder and said.