

Desires DH 421

Chapter 421

Zachary's clarification spread widely soon online. Because the clarification involved the secrets of the big family and instantly aroused a lot of discussions online.

Everyone wanted to find out who was Sydney.

Fortunately, Sydney did not register on Twitter or post any photos at that time. Thus no one knew what she looked like.

But her reputation was tarnished by Zachary's exposure. It also spread to Nordeny.

The Nordenic celebrities spilled the tea. They planned to expel Sydney from the celebrity group.

They couldn't allow that she affected the reputation of their celebrities.

At the MacMillan's, Sydney saw Zachary's clarification as soon as it was posted online. She was so mad that she hurled the iPad in her hand, and then stepped on it with high heels.

After that, she began to scream heartbreakingly and smashed all the decorations in her bedroom.

She hated Anya who depended on Evan. Anya was trying to destroy her!

Sydney thought,

Sydney suddenly felt very disturbed. She should do something to avoid being destroyed by Anya. She was not reconciled.

She went downstairs immediately. She must meet Zachary who dared to betray her. She wouldn't let him go.

Sydney hurried to the hospital where Zachary was.

She walked straight to him when she arrived at the ward. Regardless of the pain in his leg, Sydney yelled at him, "Zachary, what are you doing? Why do you turn me in? How dare you do this to me?"

Sydney screamed frantically. Zachary was fumed with anger because of being hurt by Evan. There was nowhere to lose his temper until Sydney came 2

Listening to Sydney's screaming, he no longer cared about who she was.

He sat up strenuously and then raised his hand to slap Sydney. "How dare you tell me about this? If you didn't encourage me, would I get hurt? Get out of here!"

Zachary slapped her heavily. Sydney fell to the ground instantly.

Her face became red and swollen. She looked at him in astonishment and couldn't believe that he beat her.

After a while, she yelled angrily, "What do you mean? You are not reconciled to be cheated by Anya. Why do you blame me?"

"Do you like to be laughed at being cheated? You are so timid! Do you think you can hide the truth by hitting me?" Sydney laughed madly.

"Zachary, I will remember what you did to me. Don't regret it!" Sydney finished in one breath and was about to leave.

Zachary put on a long face. He gritted his teeth and said, "Stop, Sydney! I will have a grudge to settle with you!"

Sydney was not afraid of him. Turning around, she looked at him. "What? Your plan failed to take effect. You do nothing but blame me! Is this all you can do?"

"You cuckold!"

Zachary was shocked by what she said. He stared at her but calmed down soon. He was unwilling to lose like this.

So, he said in a low voice, "Okay, let's stop quarreling. We still need to figure out how to beat her. I can't wait to see her lose."

Sydney calmed down and thought he was right.

She was the only one who had the right to drive away Anya.

Chapter 422

After one week, Evan's foot was recovered. He was able to walk. Anya didn't need to be with him all the time.

However, the discussion about JK Couture and Anya, the new top designer, was still hot online, although it was not as hot as before.

People began to forget.

But Anya's opening show still won the favor of many high-rank designers.

Many people went to JK Couture's website to comment on the work of Anya.

On Saturday morning, Evan was ready to leave the hospital. Anya tidied up at home and prepared to pick him up from the hospital. She took her handbag and was about to go out. Two little kids: immediately hugged her thigh and wanted to go with her.

Nathaniel started to beg Anya to take him out to play. "Mom... play... play outside..." He used the words he knew to ask Anya to leave together.

That day was Saturday. Ellie told him that Anya didn't need to work on Saturday. Nathaniel thought,
Chapter 423

At the MacMillan's, Sydney couldn't go back to the Welton Group after her incident was exposed but stayed at home.

Mdm MacMillan went to see Mdm Welton. But Mdm Welton refused to help her. It seemed that Mdm Welton was on Anya's side.

Mdm MacMillan blacked out with anger. She had been lying in bed for several days.

But it was difficult for her to be well as before. She became anxious. Cornelius felt upset about this although he was recovered.

He couldn't watch her go on like this as a son of Mdm MacMillan.

Thus, Cornelius knocked on Mdm MacMillan's door to show his concerns in the early morning.

Mdm MacMillan was still anxious and couldn't listen to him. He had no choice but to beg her to stop being upset like this.

"Mom, please. Don't be like this, OK? You have to cheer up." Cornelius sighed and brought a bowl of soup to feed Mdm MacMillan.

She glanced at him angrily. Cornelius was so cowardly. Everyone was thinking about how to beat Anya but him. He pretended that nothing happened after he was recovered.

He also didn't care that Sydney was kicked out of the Welton Group.

What could Sydney do without a good reputation?

"Cornelius, you want me to eat something. But how? What can Sydney do now? Have you ever thought about it? There is only one girl, Sydney, in the MacMillans. Can you tell me what we can do?" Mdm. MacMillan said in a low voice and gritted her teeth. She clutched the pillow tightly.

"It's all Anya's fault. Why doesn't she go to hell? She will kill us."

good idea. "Mom, let's think about it later. Do you want to have some soup now?"

"Go out! I don't want to eat. What will you do if I die?" Mdm MacMillan rasped.

Cornelius felt tortured by worries. He was afraid that Mdm MacMillan would hurt herself like this, without eating or drinking. He would be the most unfilial one in the MacMillans if she died. How could he meet other family members in the future?

"Mom, I will find a way to solve this problem, OK? Don't worry," Cornelius promised.

Mdm MacMillan glanced at him. She was not so angry. She just disliked Cornelius' attitude on this matter. She said, "Then you come and feed me."

Cornelius nodded. "Mom, we can solve this problem soon after you are well, right?"

Mdm MacMillan nodded and said in a low voice, "I regret letting you marry Anya's mom. She made Old

Mr. MacMillan happy when she was alive. She didn't respect me and even cursed me. You don't need to be sorry about her daughter."

Cornelius nodded, "Mom, I got it. Anya is not my daughter now. I only have one daughter who is Sydney."

Mdm MacMillan was satisfied and began to eat breakfast.

But Cornelius became anxious. What could he do?

How could he deal with this problem?

He worried about it for a while. He left the bedroom to find his friend to think about solutions when Mdm MacMillan finished her breakfast. Anya had the Welton Group to depend on. She would be against.

the MacMillans.

He must be cautious.

When he walked out of the bedroom, he saw Sydney went downstairs with a small suitcase. He asked, "Sydney, where are you going?"

Sydney put on a long face and said, "I will go to Selolia to visit Evan's mom."

Chapter 424

Upon hearing this, Cornelius was stunned. What was the deal of going to Selolia to meet Gina?

Cornelius couldn't think of the reason, so he could only ask, "Sydney, what are your plans?"

Sydney looked at her father and said, "Dad, Anya is now trying to force me to apologize. I can't do it. I would rather die! So I've got no choice but to go to Gina.

"She dislikes ordinary women like Anya who were kicked out by our family. Then she will take care of Anya for us."

Sydney sneered complacently at the thought of Gina picking on Anya.

She thought, "Want me to apologize? Never!"

"Um... Will it really work?" Cornelius was worried that he couldn't report to Mdm Welton. It would save him some trouble if Sydney's plan worked.

Neither would he worry that Mdm Welton would go on a hunger strike to upset his daughter.

"It will work. Gina wants a lady from a wealthy family, not a nobody." Sydney was pretty confident about this. The last time she attended a celebrity gathering, the organizer was a friend of Gina, and she made it clear that Gina wanted a celebrity to be Evan's girlfriend.

What did Anya have? Indiscriminate, divorced, and kicked out of the MacMillan family. She was no longer a celebrity.

Anya had nothing left. It would be weird if Gina would like her.

Cornelius understood. "Sydney, hurry up then. Don't waste time. Mdm Welton was already gaunt."

"Dad, I gotta run. Take care of the family, would you?" Sydney took the suitcase and strode out.

As he was looking at the back of his daughter, Cornelius' heart was instantly relieved.

He hoped it could work. Although Ally was a killing Anya. After all, she was his daughter.

He just wanted her to disappear quickly.

It would be the best for everyone.

In the private hospital.

Anya rushed over there to pick up Evan. Evan was chatting with his assistant about the Welton Group's basic situation during this period. The assistant reported carefully.

Evan listened, confirmed that there was no problem, and let him go out.

As soon as he left, Anya rushed over, panted, and pushed the door in. Evan took a look at her, and said indulgently, "You ran all the way here?"

Anya smiled and shook her head, "No, I just ran down the corridor." After a pause, she took a look at his outfit. It was handsome and expensive. She felt a tremble in her heart and said, "You are good to go?"

"Yeah." Evan nodded. "Let's go, I haven't seen Nathaniel and Eudora for several days."

Speaking of Nathaniel and Eudora, Anya smiled and said, "When I came out this morning, they were still clamoring for you."

However, having said that, she suddenly realized that she seemed to enjoy updating the children's daily life with Evan.

This kind of feeling was terrible.

But it was also beyond her control.

Anya took a deep breath and stopped talking about the children.

However, a sexy smile curved Evan's thin lips, and the gentleness in his eyes grew slowly because Anya was chatting with him about the children.

She was no longer as resistant and disgusted with him as before.

She was like his wife. Thinking of "wife", Evan suddenly had an idea.

He got along well with Anya during this time. Maybe he should consider marrying her?

He was busy with his career now and had no time to socialize with other women. Anya was enough for him, not to mention that she gave him two children.

This was the bond between the two of them that no one could ever erase.

Chapter 425

The two soon packed up and returned to the mansion from the hospital.

The kids saw Evan, who they hadn't met for a long time, and excitedly rushed over to hug his thigh. They even wanted Evan to hug them.

Anya didn't allow it. Though Evan's foot had healed, he couldn't use too much strength for it may lead to sequelae.

Thus, when she saw that the kids demanded a hug, she stopped them. "Nathaniel, Eudora, you have to be good. Your daddy just returned and is tired. We have to let him rest, okay?"

Nathaniel didn't understand it and tilted his head to ask a question, "Daddy, why are you tired?"

He couldn't pronounce the words perfectly and it sounded so adorable.

Evan was amused into laughter. He bent down hugged both of them into his arms. "Did you miss me?"

Nathaniel and Eudora intimately hugged his neck and Nathaniel loudly replied, "I miss you so much!"

Eudora could barely talk and murmured in response.

She meant that she missed her dad very much.

Evan was satisfied with their answer and couldn't help kissing them.

Anya was still worried. "Evan, you are just healed. Are you sure you will be fine?"

"Don't think me as a woman. It's just a small wound." He was always tough and had exercised a lot, so he recovered soon, and carrying the kids wouldn't be a problem.

Anya was afraid of sequelae for he was injured for her sake.

She was obliged to protect him from injuries.

But he didn't seem to have any problem and Anya believed what he had said.

Afterward, Evan had fun with the kids by the sofa. Nathaniel remembered that his mother promised hi to take him out in the morning and tugged at Evan's shirt. "Dad, play out..."

Evan petted his head. "You want to play outside?"

Nathaniel nodded. "Yeah!"

"Fine, then shall we go to the amusement park?" said Evan with indulgence.

Anya couldn't help reminding him again, "Are you sure you are okay?"

Evan glanced at her. How fragile was he in her eyes? How could she think that he couldn't move around with slight injuries? Thus, he leaned closer to her ear, bit her earlobe, and said, "Don't worry, I have the energy to have sex with you tonight."

Anya soon flushed at his flirtatious words.

She never wanted that.

However, though it was embarrassing, Anya had a thrill. Probably, she had fallen for him so she would feel this way.

In the afternoon, Evan took the two kids to the nearby amusement park.

This was the second time they had been here. During their first trip, there were just mom and Ellie. And this time, they had Ellie and both of their parents with them.

The little fellows were a lot happier.

They pestered Evan to go with them every time they saw something delicious or entertaining. Evan spoiled them and would always agree. Anya almost felt jealous.

The two were glued to Evan after they returned and ignored her.

What ingrates!

Anya sighed and walked to them. "Evan, that project is too dangerous. Don't take them there just because you pamper them. They can get hurt."

"Then, how about something else?" Evan noticed the sign and wouldn't take the risk.

He held Eudora in his arms to another project when a reporter came out of nowhere. He knew Evan and originally, he came to the amusement park for something else.

But he didn't expect to bump into Evan, who had a kid in his arms. This would be explosive!

Everyone knew that Evan was single and was a top-notch bachelor.

But now, he was in the amusement park with a kid. Was she his illegitimate daughter or that he had a hidden marriage?

The reporter didn't have time to think and grabbed the camera to take photos.

Just after two photos, Anya discovered the camera and flustered. She said to Evan, who was walking ahead, "Evan, there's a reporter taking photos of you! Protect Eudora from him!"

and meanwhile, the bodyguards had gone running after the journalist.

When the journalist was gone, Anya hurriedly came over and asked with worry, "Evan, is there any problem? They cannot be exposed." She didn't want her kids' pictures exposed to the whole world.

By then, her kids would be called bastards.

This was the last thing she wanted to see.

"Don't worry. I won't let the kids be exposed." Evan also didn't want the kids exposed. This was his bottom line. The things with the Welton family were too complicated.

Before he handled his relationship with Anya well, their kids couldn't be exposed. Otherwise, an uproar would be caused.

Anya knew that Evan was a capable man so she was relieved then, "Okay."

Due to the sneaky photography, they were not in the mood for playing anymore. Evan and Anya decided to take the kids back home first and then, he would deal with the journalist.

Hence, they went back home together.

After they arrived at the mansion, Anya stayed with the kids while Evan went to the company.

Unfortunately, the journalist was too shrewd. After all, he used to be a paparazzi. After he took the picture of Evan holding a kid, he immediately sent it to the chief editor. The chief editor believed it would make breaking news.

Of course, he couldn't miss it. Whether he would offend the Welton Group or not, he published the photo with determination at once.

While the bodyguards of the Welton Group took down the journalist, the photo of Evan holding a kid in the amusement park had been widespread online.

Chapter 426

Evan quickly pressed Eudora's head on his chest in case that the journalist would get a picture of her and meanwhile, the bodyguards had gone running after the journalist.

Of course, he couldn't miss it. Whether he would offend the Welton Group or not, he published the photo with determination at once.

While the bodyguards of the Welton Group took down the journalist, the photo of Evan holding a kid in the amusement park had been widespread online.

Fortunately, the journalist didn't get the picture of the face of Eudora but her back only.

Yet, this was astonishing enough.

Shortly, there were heated discussions online. Evan was always a trendy topic because he was the No. 1 rich man in Norden, who was only 28 years old.

He was an eligible bachelor!

Rumor had it that he was single but now, his kid was exposed. Everyone started to spill the tea at once.

[I thought Evan was single and free of scandals. How come he has a kid now?]

[He is absolutely not free of scandals. How is it possible? How can a successful businessman like him have no woman? He must be married secretly.]

[No way! Seriously? I love Evan's handsome face so much!]

[Excellent men are always low-key. They either stay free of scandals or get found to have a kid.]

[Who is the mom? She is not in the picture?]

[For an outstanding man like Evan, his wife must be some lady from a big family. It cannot be a plain Jane.]

[If only I could see what the kid looks like! Is it pretty?]

The netizens kept discussing the breaking news today. However, within the Welton Group, the journalist captured by the bodyguards was terribly scared now. He knelt before Evan and begged for mercy, "Mr. Welton... I was doing my job only. Please spare me."

Evan was fiddling with a sculpture that looked like a sharp sword on the table, saying coldly, "Doing your job? So you must expose my personal life? Is your job too outrageous?"

The journalist planned to scapegoat his supervisor tremblingly, "It... It was my supervisor's order!"

"I don't care who gave you the order. You spilled the beans without my permission, which upsets me so much. What do you

Chapter 427

Frightened by Evan's words, the journalist trembled nonstop and then faltered in fear, "Mr. Welton, please let go of me."

It was really for a living that he dared to take the photo.

He didn't mean to take the photo stealthily on purpose.

However, Evan wouldn't listen to his explanation. Instead, he only ordered, "Remove the news. Otherwise, you would know the consequences."

The journalist nodded in a flurry. Of course, he knew the consequences. He would lose his job and probably, his life too. Instantly, he replied with clasped hands, "Mr. Welton, I have to call the chief editor. Only he has the power to remove the news."

"Call him right now." Evan twisted the sculpture of the sword. The sculpture was so vividly made, the blade of which was glistening. It looked as if the blade would be directly stabbed into the journalist's heart.

The journalist became increasingly frightened. He kind of regretted it. Actually, he thought it wouldn't be a big deal but it turned out that he was so wrong. Without thinking much, he immediately took out his phone and called the chief editor.

The call was picked up.

The chief editor was about to congratulate him on the breaking news when the journalist said, "Could you please remove the news right now? We cannot offend Mr. Welton."

The chief editor didn't know that Evan had caught his subordinate so he said dismissively, "What are you afraid of? The rich won't care about this."

"Please... We really can't mess with Mr. Welton." The journalist was afraid that Evan would fly into a rage.

He would be doomed if Evan vented his anger on him.

“You are such a wuss! What are you afraid of? Everything will be fine. I’ll get you covered.” The chief editor got a bit grumpy. It was news only. Why did he have to be so frightened?

Evan was such a busy man. Even if the news about him had been divulged, he wouldn’t bother to make trouble.

“Please...” The journalist was going mad. How could the chief editor be so arrogant?

“Give me the phone.” Evan was listening to their conversation aside. It seemed that the chief editor was not afraid of him at all. What a bold man! This man dared to make a profit by exposing his personal life

Evan threw the sculpture to the feet of the journalist and snapped with his eyes simmering with rage.

The journalist didn’t dare to disobey him and immediately passed the phone to him respectfully.

“You are the chief editor who spilled the beans about me?” Evans took the phone and said in an angry voice.

The chief editor was still fearless. Nevertheless, upon hearing Evan’s voice, he was instantly frightened, his face turning pale at once. He immediately put on an ingratiating smile rather than a cocky face, saying, “Hello... Mr. Welton? Is there any misunderstanding?”

Evan snorted, “Misunderstanding? You took it a matter of course to make money by exposing my personal life just now. Why do you sound so afraid now?”

“No, definitely not... You must have heard me wrong.” The chief editor wiped the sweat off his forehead and smiled obsequiously.

“I don’t have time for this. You know why I’m talking to you, right?”

“Yes, I do.” The chief editor was so terribly frightened. He thought that the rich like Evan wouldn’t care about such a scandal.

Why did Evan deal with this on his own?

The chief editor didn’t dare to think too much. He could only cover his chest and promise in fear.

After he promised to remove the news, Evan hung up the call and threw the phone to the journalist, to how to clarify the fact, you know what to do, don’t you?”

The journalist kowtowed and said, “Yes, I know. Please rest assured.”

“Get lost.” Evan didn’t want to use force because he was a father now. He shouldn’t beat others at will.

Having got his permission, the journalist got up and hurried away.

Chapter 428

As the journalist left, Evan said to his assistant, “Keep an eye on this. All the records online must be erased.”

Hayden nodded, “Mr. Welton, please rest assured.”

After saying that, Hayden left for work. Evan called Anya and asked her to rest assured.

However, it was no use removing the news quickly. The news was still known by some people, like the relatives of the Weltons. The moment they learned about it, they immediately called Mdm Welton for confirmation.

Mdm Welton didn't know that at all. Of course she said it was a misunderstanding.

Hence, the relative showed her the screenshot. She immediately recognized her grandson who was carrying a little girl.

Mdm Welton felt something was wrong and then called Evan for confirmation after the relative left.

Evan couldn't tell her the truth so he could only tell her that he was framed with a photoshopped photo.

Mdm Welton was suspicious but she couldn't get any more information so she had to hang up the call first.

However, Mdm Welton was a sophisticated woman anyway. Of course she wouldn't believe Evan's excuse. Especially, the photo didn't look like a photoshopped one.

She knew what a photoshopped photo was.

Having thought back and forth, Mdm Welton believed that her grandson was hiding something from her. If he did have a kid, who was the kid's mother?

She mulled it over and reckoned that the most possible woman was Anya.

Of course, it was her guess only. She must look into this on her own.

In Auspear, Selolia.

Sydney finally arrived in Selolia after a flight that took more than ten hours.

Then, she immediately went to a hotel and checked in. After putting away her luggage, she didn't want to waste her time. She must meet Gina now so that she could shake away the humiliation she had suffered due to Anya.

Of course, she must be dressed up before meeting Gina. Thus, she took a shower, put on a decent dress, and then headed to the wealthy suburb of Auspear to visit Gina..

Now, Gina was having afternoon tea with her friend.

The two noble ladies were enjoying themselves.

Sydney's unexpected visit was quite a bummer for Gina. Hearing the report of the butler, she immediately frowned and said grumpily, "Don't bother me with some unknown visitor."

The butler replied, "Madam, Ms. MacMillan said it was about Evan."

Since it was about her son, she finally agreed to meet Sydney, "Let her in then."

The butler nodded and then invited Sydney inside.

After a while, Sydney followed the butler into this high-end apartment.

As expected, the Weltons were far richer than her family. Even their apartment abroad was worth a few million dollars.

And they also had lots of properties at home.

Amidst her calculations, Sydney followed the butler to meet Gina, "Madam, Ms. MacMillan is here."

Gina took a glance at her and then said in an indifferent voice, "Well, what brings you here today?"

the engagement with her. Now, she has been experieu by my say, muy distance from her.”

“I don’t want Evan to be swindled by my sister out of all his money so I’m here to meet you.”

Chapter 429

After saying that, Sydney stood aside and waited for Gina’s comment. However, Gina couldn’t comment at all. She was shocked beyond belief.

Her son was with an indecent woman?

How was it possible? She knew her son well. He was such a chaste man that he couldn’t fall for an ordinary woman.

Surely he couldn’t have a crush on some indecent girl.

Gina sat there in a daze. Her eyebrows were knitted in grimness rather than shock now. She asked in a serious voice, “Is what you said true?”

“I swear. If I was lying, I would die of a car accident when I got out of the door.” Sydney raised her hand and swore at once.

Generally, people wouldn’t swear like that.

Gina had no reason to doubt her. However, why did this woman come here only for this matter? What was her catch? Gina was not a brainless woman. Having experienced a lot of things in the entertainment circle, she had become exceedingly shrewd.

So, with the corners of her eyes raised, she asked with a fake smile, “Ms. MacMillan, why did you come all the way to tell me about this?”

“Because I got dismissed by my sister. I loved my job.” Sydney started to wipe her tears, sobbing in a trembling voice.

She looked so pitiful.

No one would doubt her.

“Gina, you may not believe this but I can’t help it. I’m so angry that I rushed here uninvited. I know only you can do justice to me.”

Gina thought about it and then said, “Ms. MacMillan, I’m well noted now. Thank you for telling me about

1. it. You can leave now.”

Sydney was quite sensible. So, she wiped her tears and said goodbye to Gina politely.

After she left, Gina immediately pondered over the matter with a frown. It happened that the butler brought the iPad to her, on which the domestic breaking news was reported. It was about Evan.

Gina took the iPad and checked the news with her eyebrows furrowed.

After reading the news, she was deeply disgruntled, simmering with rage.

Her face was as black as thunder.

How could this be? She had been abroad with her husband for one year or so only and so many things had happened at home?

Who was the little girl's father?

Was she Evan's daughter? No, she couldn't be. Gina didn't think her son was such an easy man.

Therefore, to confirm whether the news was true or not, she called an assistant of the Welton Group right away. She was clear that she might not be able to get the answer if she directly called her son. Hence, she could only call the assistant she trusted.

The assistant got the call from Gina. Of course, he didn't dare to trifle with her. He told her about the news honestly without letting her know that the little girl was Evan's daughter. What he said was that the news did exist but it was fake and arranged by someone.

Gina trusted him so after hearing him out, she didn't feel suspicious as Mdm Welton did. The kid's matter could be untruthful.

Yet, was what Sydney came to tell her also untruthful?

So, her son was seeing Anya at home for real?

The more she thought, the more anxious she got. Never could she allow such a woman to badger her son. She must get rid of the woman!

Of course, she wouldn't let her son know about this.

Otherwise, he might stop her.

Thinking of that, Gina immediately let the butler send her all the information about Anya. She had planned to stay here until the end of this month. Now, she changed her mind.

Since such a matter had happened at home, she couldn't continue staying in Auspear.

She would book the tickets and return home with Shyla tomorrow.

Chapter 430

The news that the CEO of Welton Group had an illegitimate daughter had been deleted, but the discussion was still trending.

People began to suspect whether the news was real. If it was real, then who was the mother? Or the child didn't have a mother.

Maybe Evan used surrogacy.

People were discussing the different possibilities. Evan knew even if the news was deleted, people would still remember it, so he ignored it. The biggest consolation for him was that the child's appearance was not exposed.

When Evan came back from work at night, Anya couldn't let this matter go, so she went to talk to him in the study.

Anya's expression was gloomy. Evan knew this matter was a big blow to her, so he grabbed her hand and said, "Don't worry. I've deleted all the news online. There is no children's photo. It will be fine."

"But people are still gossiping about it." Anya was worried if the Weltons knew about it, they would take her children away from her.

Evan didn't have the intention of taking the children away.

But if they parted ways one day, he might want to take the children away. She couldn't let it happen.

She had nothing to compete with them.

So, she was afraid.

"So what if they are gossiping? We didn't admit it, and they don't have the children's photo. Why do we care about those irrelevant people?" Evan stroked her pitiful face. Why was she so afraid?

He had taken care of this matter.

Even if they were still gossiping, they had nothing to do with Evan and Anya. They were just gossiping for fun.

Anya's mind was messy. She had thought that one day, her children would be exposed, but she didn't think about how she should deal with it. Now, it really happened. She was in a panic.

Evan kept comforting her, but she still felt uneasy.

In Evan's eyes, she looked pitiful in this way. So, Evan felt ached for her and wanted to dote on her even more.

He suddenly picked her up and put her on his legs.

Then he pinched her chin, lowered his head, and kissed her gently and domineeringly.

Being kissed, Anya couldn't help but tremble. Evan was a great kisser. Not long after, Anya had forgotten about the trouble and enjoyed herself in the kiss.

She laid in her strong arms, trembling.

Soon, one thing led to another. He domineeringly possessed her body.

After the passionate sex...

Sweat covered Anya's body, and she felt weak. She couldn't move at all. Evan kissed her lips with satisfaction and comforted her, "Don't think about it. It's over. No one will care about it."

"What if the Weltons know?" Anya asked in a slightly trembling voice.

"Then make it public." Evan wanted to do it a long time ago.

During this period, Evan felt warm being with Anya. At least, he felt at home.

So, there was no disadvantage for him to make it public.
