Chapter 511

“Will this cost us money? If it will, I won’t eat it. We bought porrelge Anya didn’t believe the hospital would give meals for free.

Besides, the box was too exquisite In it were caviar, foie gras, and high-end salad.

It looked like it would cost her hundreds of dollars.

She was in a hospital, not at a party.

She couldn’t believe it was free

The nurse sensed her doubt and quickly explained, “It is free. You should eat it. Right, are you still uncomfortable?”

The nurse was afraid the director of the hospital would blame her and quickly changed the topic.

Anya touched her head which was wrapped in bandages and said. “My head hurts a little.”

“It’s normal. You were cut by the glass shard. The wound is huge. You will be fine once it heals. The nurse examined the wound for her.

“Well, there is nothing else, Anya said.

Then get some rest. You will be fine soon, the nurse smiled and was about to leave. She was afraid Anya would ask her about the food again.

The nurse hastened to pick up her notebook and smiled. "You sh an expression of our hospital's good will."

"Enjoy it. Ms. MacMillan."

Then she quickly flew the coop before Anya could refuse.

sh the food. Don't waste it. This is indeed free. It's Anya was confused and asked Jake with a frown, "Mr. Hanson, what should I do with it?"

"Eat it. The nurse had no reason to lie. I think it is nutritious. You need nutrition." Jake was on the nurse's side.

Because he wanted Anya to get better sooner.

She

ut didn't know how. "Alright, I will try this at for you." He lifted the lid of the box and got the food out.

red her eat and felt she was exceedingly beautiful and gentle. He was moved.

He stared at her, enchanted. Then he remembered they had been about to talk about his boyfriend.

He asked tentatively, "Anya, are you not going to call your boyfriend over?"

She paused for a second and looked unsettled. Jake knew there was something wrong between her and her boyfriend.

“Anya, are you guys okay?”

She quickly shook her head and replied, “Yes. He is just busy.”

“That’s no excuse.” Jake believed her boyfriend should come and visit her if he really cared about her.

It didn’t feel right

“He is on a business trip. She didn’t want to talk about Evan with Jake, because she knew Jake liked her. However, she had learned something from her last blind date.

Most men wouldn’t accept a woman who had children before her marriage.

And Anya had two children.

She didn’t want to lead Jake on..

“Really I thought.. he didn’t care about you. I won’t argue if he is on a business trip.”

Jake dropped the matter but looked disappointed.

He always liked Anya, but she already had a boyfriend.

Chapter 512

Evan reached the police station.

A person in charge of the case led him to the detention room where Cornelius was prisoned.

Cornelius looked pale and was in a stupor. He almost collapsed. He had always cared about his dignity.

Now that he was prisoned here, he didn't know how to face his friends in the future.

How would they think of him?

Since he got restricted here, he had been worried about Sydney and himself. He didn't feel sorry for Anya at all..

That was why Evan got angry with him is Evan had never met any cruel father like Cornelius who hurt Anya severely.

Evan thought the MacMillans were monsters.

"Mr. MacMillan, I only have one question for you." Evan tried hard to repress his anger.

"Mr. Welton, please get me out of here. If you do me this favor, I'll do anything you like to pay you back." Cornelius ignored Evan's words. His mind had been filled with the prison stuff.

Answer my question first."

"OK. Just ask!" Cornelius had taken Evan as his last hope.

"How could you hurt Anya like that? Aren't you her father?" Evan asked word by word.

“Father?” Cornelius was furious. “If she does take me as her father, she shouldn’t have done all those evils to me. She broke our family and lost Sydney, Didn’t she deserve it?” Cornelius poured out all his complaints,

Evan sneered. He picked up the glass next to him and splashed the water over Cornelius’s face. “You don’t deserve a daughter like Anya

Cornelius wiped off the water on his face. He then figured out what was going on. He hurried to shout, “Mr. Welton, as long as you get me out of here, I’ll apologize to Anya. I’m begging you!

However, Evan didn’t care about Cornelius’ fake apology. He had decided to keep Cornelius here.

Melissa and Mdm MacMillan were worried after they got to know what had happened to Cornelius. Mdm MacMillan had been sick on the bed for several days out of anger towards Anya. If it had not been for the news about Cornelius, she would have recovered.

Melissa almost sent her to see a doctor.

Mdm MacMillan came to the police station with Melissa to bail Cornelius. To their surprise, the policemen told them that Anya would not let Cornelius go and that Anya didn’t care about their relationship but just wanted to teach Cornelius a lesson.

It seemed that there was no way for them to get Cornelius out.

Mdm MacMillan and Melissa then cried out loud without regard to their identities.

The policemen drove them out for being too noisy. Mdm MacMillan didn’t give up easily. She was just about to make a scene at the gate when Melissa grabbed her hand.

Melissa had noticed Evan’s Bentley She said, ‘Mdm. Evan is over there. Let’s go ask him for help Mdm MacMillan dried her tears and looked at the Bentley. She stantly ran at it with Melissa. They stood in its way.

Seeing this, Evan felt sick

He was still mad at them for prisoning Anya in the basement.

He thought they would be guilty.

But he found he was wrong.

“Mr. Welton, shall I ask them to leave? The driver turned around to look at Evan.

“No, I’ll handle it. Evan rolled down the window slowly with his slim finger.

Mdm MacMillan and Melissa immediately came over. They said “Mr. Welton, we’ll appreciate it a lot if you do us a favor.

Evan glanced at them and sneered, “You want a favor?”

The two women nodded.

“Not until you die.” Evan rolled up the window while the driver started the car which soon disappeared from the two women’s sight.

They were stunned and thought that it was just not Cornelius’ day.

Chapter 513

As Evan was on the way back to his mansion. Hayden sent him on the phone the address of the killer that they had released on purpose.

Exan clicked the link and found that the killer was in a villa in Enton.

The villas there were built many years ago. Few people lived there except for some old people.

Evan looked at the map on his phone carefully.

He pressed the Bluetooth button. "Hayden, go catch him in Easton.

Hayden took the order.

Evan disconnected the Bluetooth. He said to the driver, "Make it fast

The driver nodded and speeded the car.

Within ten minutes, they reached the mansion. When the car passed Cindy's mansion, Evan glanced at it subconsciously. It had been a long time since he saw Nathaniel and Nathaniel last me.

He missed them so much.

But he couldn't visit them, or he would get them involved.

He repressed his emotions and went back to his mansion.

When he entered the house, he saw Minta watching TV in the living room and he hurriedly walked towards her.
"Minta, follow me."

After saying that, Evan went down to the basement.

Minta caught up with him.

Hearing the door, Minta turned around. Evan entered the password and opened the bullet-proof door of the basement. Minta followed Evan to go in Evan went to grab a gun while Minta froze there.

There were many new guns as her first time being there. It looked like a mini bedroom with a glass cabinet against the wall. There were so many guns in it. Evan picked up two small ones and put them into his trouser pocket.

He said to Minta, "I'm not sure whether those people would come to this district, so I need you to do me a favor. Go find Cindy and my kids and bring them here."

"The password is a combination of my birthday and the last four digits of my phone number. You know that."

Minta listened to him carefully and got worried. "Evan, let me go with you. Since I'm experienced, I'll be helpful there."

Evan patted her on the shoulder. "My kids need you more than I do."

But Evan, I'm worried about you

Although they had different parents, Minta had taken Evan as her brother after all these years' company.

She had no relatives,

Evan was her only back

So, she would do anything to protect Evan.

"Don't worry, I can take care of myself well. It's just my kids are too young to protect themselves. Evan said in a deep voice, "I used to be hand-hearted until I met Anya. I've promised to keep her and my kids safe.

Im willing to sacrifice myself for them.

"So, Minta, take good care of them. Don't let those bastards hurt them."

Minta bit her lips silently. It seemed that Evan loved Anya very much. After a while, she said, "OK. I'll do it for you. Just go."

"Thank you." Evan breathed a sigh of relief.

He believed that under Minta's protection, Anya and his kids would get no hurt.

He then left for the Easton without any hesitation.

Chapter 514

In Easton, the breeze rustled through the leaves and onto the stained-glass windows of the villa, moonlight dancing on them, investing the serene night with a mysterious air.

Sydney was in a deep slumber on the second floor.

Then she was wakened with a startle by a thud from the hall.

She looked around in the darkness, and silence ensued. She hastily wiped the sweat off her forehead.

Was it from her dream? Probably. Because she had just had a nightmare.

She gasped for air, and her forehead was dry.

She had been locked here for days. Why didn't the mysterious man take revenge on Anya?

Why on earth?

She couldn't put her finger on it, neither did she know who that man was,

She could only wait. Just when she was ready to sleep again, the thud came again from downstairs.

It was louder this time.

It sounded like a person had just fallen to the ground, and there were whispers.

She cocked her ears to listen.

Unfortunately, the walls were too thick for her to hear. She put on a thin coat and went downstairs on slippers.

The corridors were quiet and cheerless.

She felt like she had been in a medieval haunted castle. Then chilly breezes stirred her nightwear.

She felt cold all of a sudden.

She crossed her arms before her chest and walked downstairs gingerly. She reached the last flight of stairs and didn't dare to pany further. She saw a bloody scene in the living room and was scared out of her wits. Her face turning ashen, she overed her mouth hard to gulp back her scream. She watched with widened eyes as a man's throat was slit by a bunch of men wearing human skin masks. Then they removed the tracker installed by Alex from the body's windpipe.

The black tracker was stained with blood. She had never seen something like this before and almost fainted from fright.

She exerted herself to remain calm.

A man wiped the blood off the tracker and handed it to his leader

The leader should be the mysterious man.

She felt she was in the den of criminals. These men were horrible. She just wanted to get back at Anya. Although she had thought about killing Anya, she had never imagined it might be so cruel.

She just wanted other men to have Anya, so that Anya could only marry the vegetable.

While this group of killers wouldn't show mercy. Sydney regretted her decision but was afraid they would kill her, too. Since then, she had to stick to this road.

She pulled herself together and stared at them.

The leader snapped the tracker in two, and another man said, "Evan will make a move tonight."

The leader snorted coldly. "Let's go."

"Should we take Sydney with us?"

"Yes, she is still useful," the leader said in an icy tone and left.

The other men poured some kind of acid fluid onto the body, and it was soon dissolved.

Then they dragged Sydney outside.

Chapter 515

Dragged by a man. Sydney asked, "Where are you taking me?"

"Shut up! Don't ask any questions. The man didn't answer her question and forced her into one of their cars. Then they started their cars and drove away from the Three black Mercedes successively sped out of the villa.

They were about to transfer to their next safe spot.

However, when they just got onto the main road outside the villa, Evan's bodyguards drove closely after them, and Evan followed shortly afterward.

Instantly, those eight cars started a race against time on the road in darkness.

Looking at Evan's car in the rearview mirror, the man in the Mercedes ahead sneered coldly, "Being able to find me so soon, he certainly lives up to the training he received in Silver Blade."

“Sir. please go first. We’ll handle them,” the man’s bodyguard said Something flickered in the man’s eyes. He said, “It is between Evan and me. Since now he has found me, we’ll get it sorted. today. I won’t bother to fix him later.

“Yes, Sir.” The man’s bodyguards didn’t dare to say anything more.

Then the man stepped on the accelerator and sped up his car. Behind his car, Evan gripped onto the steering wheel with both hands and kept following him closely.

Soon Evan’s car was almost colliding with the Mercedes acad.

The man curled his lip coldly and suddenly turned his steering wheel to the left end. With a grating sound made by the wheels, his car immediately moved to the left side at 130 and the rear of the car was thrown onto the head of Evan’s car, almost turning Evan’s car over

Evan had been trained to deal with this kind of situation before, so this was just a piece of cake for him.

He also turned his steering wheel to the left end and instantly stepped on the accelerator to crash into the Mercedes when in front of them were driving ahead.

cedes had immediately turned around and slid onto the shoulder, almost turned over.

apping onto his steering wheel, the man in the Mercedes held the rear of the car steady. He got furious, thinking Evan deserved his name.

“Burst his tires!” the man ordered his bodyguards in rage.

They immediately took out their guns and started to shoot at Evan’s car from the windows.

The silent road was suddenly full of the sound of gunfire.

Evan’s bodyguards already caught up with them and fended off the bullets for Evan,

The fierce gunfire continued for a while.

However, Evan’s car wasn’t damaged at all, while the man’s Mercedes got a shot, which burst his tire, leaving his car whirling on the road

Unable to drive the car away, they all got off and prepared to flee, dragging Sydney.

Otherwise, that man might take the for Kim again

Frustrated that Anya and their kids might get hurt, so he had no choice this time

Shower, it was not easy for Evan to catch him. Bean and his bodyguards spent more than half an hour in the first beside the road before they finally caught up with the man

Chapter 516

Some birds flitted above the gloomy woods.

The two men threw away their guns and continued to fight. Evan knew his opponent was also trained and was ready to fight him to the death. After a while, Evan had the upper hand.

Evan landed a kick on his enemy’s belly.

The man kneeled and covered his belly in pain.

Evan gave him another kick, and the man collapsed to the ground. Evan walked over and pressed his knee against his back, ripping off his human skin mask.

A handsome face with scars emerged in the pale moonlight.

Half of the man's face was ruined. He must have been handsome, but now he was just scary.

Sydney covered her mouth from fright and hid behind a tree. But she still looked at them.

She had thought the man was handsome since he had a charming voice. But it turned out his good looks had been ruined

However, the more important thing was that she might also be captured by Evan when he had defeated the scarred man.

Eva would think she was with his enemy.

She was terrified at the thought and feared she would go to prison.

But she wouldn't let that happen and snuck away while Evan wasn't paying attention.

The two men were left alone.

Evan took out another gun that had been hidden and pointed it at the scarred man's head, saying coldly, "You have been watching me, right?"

"Devin Crick from the Corfe Organization in Fenteon!"

Devin sneered, and his amber eyes glinted like those of a bloodthirsty ghost in the brother. "Shouldn't you pay it with your life!"

light. That's me. You killed my

"Your brother was a drug dealer. He would have been brought to justice by the authorities if it hadn't been me." Evan looked at Devin coldly and pressed his gun against the back of Devin's head

Devin was from the dark side, so he wasn't afraid of death

He had been ready to die since his plan of vengeance was in motion.

He would die if he failed, anyway.

Devin smiled fearlessly, "If you want to kill me, kill away. If you don't do it. I will kill you later."

"I won't have blood on my hands, because Cameron is a country of law and order." Evan replied, "I don't need to kill you because you will face the death penalty"

Devin didn't say anything else. He was glad to die for trying to avenge his brother.

But he hated himself for not being able to kill Evan

Evan noticed he stopped struggling and called the bodyguards over. Soon, the police arrived

Chapter 517

The car stopped at the hospital where Anya was. Evan got out of it and made a call.

After several beeps. Minta picked up the call. "Minta, bring the kids out."

Minta was with the kids and Ellie and when she received the call she popped a question, "Evan, is everything okay?"

For now. Come out." ..

Evan gently.

Minta could tell from his calmness that everything was fine. "Alright then, I will take them out soon."

Minta hung up and asked the kids and Ellie out. "Ellic, everything is okay and you can go out now."

Minta gently said it but Ellie didn't show any gratitude. She knew that Minta was the one Evan was going to engage with.

If Minta didn't say that the kids were in danger, she wouldn't have brought them here.

"Thank you, and tell Evan not to visit us again to as to save us danger," said Ellie with rage.

Minta knew that she had misunderstood her relationship with Evan, so she tenderly explained, 'Ellic, this is a misunderstanding and I will explain soon.'

"Why bother?" Ellie didn't want to hear it for she didn't think Evan was reliable.

How could such a wealthy guy like him be loyal to Anya?

If they were married, they would fight over the custody of the kids.

It would be better to live separately.

Nothing could be better than this.

“Evan always loves Anya and our engagement is used to protect her and the kids. That guy is dangerous and Evan was afraid that she would be hurt,” Minta patiently explained.

Ellie, however, didn't buy it. “Minta, thank you for taking us here Sin said that there are dangers, we will never come to you again.

“That's all.”

After

ok the kids' hands and got them out of Evan's mansion.

them and did some further explanation. However, she wasn't good at persuading and gave up that when Evan and Anya reasoned with Ellie, she would believe in it at Anya didn't buy Evan's explanation.

van suddenly showed up in the ward and wanted to embrace her, Anya pushed him away in fury. “Evan, what are doing here in the middle of the night? Aren't you afraid that your fiancée will be angry?”

“Anya, my fiancée is a fake one and what has happened is a misunderstanding. Now that the matter has been solved, I will explain myself.” Evan wasn't angry. He just wanted to caress her and reached out. However, Anya slapped his hand.

She hated it. Since he had engaged with Minta, how could he say that everything was a misunderstanding?

Nobody would believe it!

And what did he mean by doing so? Playing with women's feelings?

She was the first victim and Minta was the second?

He said that to protect her, he pretended to date Minta. However, it became true later. She asked him but he didn't reply and only at this moment did he come to her, saying that it was all fake.

How could she believe it?

If the engagement wasn't real, why didn't he reply to her in the first place?

He didn't clarify, either.

Therefore, Anya thought that he took advantage of the kidnapping to play with her feeling. The more she thought this way, the more irritable she became. "Evan, get out. I don't want to see you!"

Chapter 518

"Calm down, or your wound might tear open Evan made no response to her anger and touched her wound gently

Thave punished the ones who have hurt you. Only Sydney ran away, but she's no big deal since she's alone"

Evan didn't notice that Anya's eyes smoldered with anger.

She didn't want to hear him talk.

She wanted him to leave.

Anya pushed his hands off and said reluctantly. "Mr. Welton, please leave me alone. I need some rest.

“OK then. I’ll take Minta here to visit you tomorrow” Evan didn’t want her to get mad so he didn’t touch her anymore. He sat on the sofa and intended to look after her.

“Mr. Welton, get out.” Anya jumped out of the bed and tried to drive him away when she found that Evan intended to spend the night here.

Evan noticed that she stood barefoot on the floor. He knew she was angry.

He frowned and walked up to her without a word. Suddenly he grabbed her by the waist and put her back on the bed. “Stay in bed/or I will force you to.”

was a serious warning.

“You have no right to dictate to me,” Anya retorted.

She felt betrayed by Evan. She wanted to lose her temper now,

Anya acted like a silly girl who could see nobody but her lover.

She was not afraid that Evan might be mad.

She wanted to punish him for his betrayal..

Evan looked down at her pretty face. She looked cute even when she was angry. He wanted to kiss her on her rosy lips.

“Evan sa

Low voice.

“Yes, I have, because we slept together and had great sex,” Ev

“So dirty... Anya was embarrassed.

Her face turned red.

“I can be even naughtier.” Evan pressed her on the bed and tucked her up.

“Mr. Welton, get out of here.”

She bit her lips and looked aside.

Evan kissed her on the cheeks and caressed her hair. “I’ll take Mita here and explain everything to you tomorrow. It’s all for you and our baby

Evan comforted her in a gentle tone.

Then he left the room.

He sat on the bench outside the room and intended to spend the night there.

Chapter 519

Anya lost her sleep until late night. She woke up late the next morning

Jake went to the hospital with breakfast to visit Anya. He was worried about her. What was more, her boyfriend was absent.

Jake thought there was something wrong with their relationship

It was a good chance for him to win her heart.

Jake walked to the patient room and found there were several bodyguards in the corridor.

Evan was sat on the bench outside Anya's room, talking on the phone.

Jake was confused.

Anya touched her cheeks with her finger. She blushed.

Chapter 520

Jake sat on the bench at a loss. He didn't know what to do next.

He was all at sea.

He had no idea that Evan would be Anya's boyfriend. "I hear that Mr. Welton's engaged recently."

"How come he is Anya's boyfriend?"

Jake couldn't figure it out. He sat on the bench until Minta came, who was said to be Evan's girlfriend.

Jake stood up and asked her, "Excuse me, Ms. Hester. Are Mr. Welton and Anya seeing each other?"

"Then are you two engaged?"

"Mr. Hanson, it's privacy." Minta refused to answer his question. She knew that Jake was Anya's boss. "I have to go."

"I'm sorry Jake knew Minta was right. He shouldn't ask about Evan's private affair.

Jake stopped asking.

Minta went into the room. Jake looked at the breakfast he had bought and felt embarrassed.

He had tried hard to win her heart. It was in vain

Jake knew he couldn't rival Evan. He would lose.

she was Mr. Welton's girlfriend.

He threw the breakfast into the trash can and went back to the company.

Minta came into the room and saw Evan and Anya were wrestling together.

Evan wanted to hug Anya and the latter struggled.

The atmosphere in the room turned romantic. Minta felt embarrassed to interrupt. She cleared her throat.

"Hi, Evan, Ms. MacMillan

"Come in. Evan noticed her let go of Anya who was punching him.

Minta came over.

Evan decided to leave them alone and talk. "You two stay in the room and I'll get her some food."

"OK" Minta nodded.

Anya bit her lips and refused. "I don't need your food, Mr. Welton

"Yes, you need." Evan knew she was in a temper. He caressed her hair and left the room.

The door was closed.

Minta sit on a chair and looked at Anya. "I'm sorry, Ms. MacMillan. Recently I have caused some misunderstanding between you two."

Anya looked back in disbelief, "Aren't you angry with him?"

Minta shook her head and smiled. "Ms. MacMillan, believe me, we are not lovers. He was forced to engage with me.

"He did this for you and your baby."

Minta explained sincerely. Anya vacillated.

"Did Evan do thus for me?" she thought.

Anya frowned and asked, "Why did he ignore my messages?"

"He's doing this to fool the mystery man. We plan to tell you everything until we catch the man.

"We caught him last night."

Anya was at a loss. She thought she might have wronged Evan.
