

Desires DH 561

Chapter 561

The villa of the MacMillan's was not far away from where Shane lived. It took about 20 minutes to get to the villa of the Browns by car.

Sydney got off the car and entered the villa following the bodyguards.

Shane was in the study, as usual, playing with a handicraft in his hand.

Shane glanced at her when Sydney entered the room. He showed no interest in her and said straightforwardly, "Sydney, I want to ask a few questions."

Sydney blinked her big eyes of heavy makeup and gently said, "Mr. Brown, you may ask whatever you want."

Shane sneered, "You are quite candid. OK. I want to know what the relationship between Anya and Evan is."

When it came to this, her face took on a ghastly expression. Her misery was all their fault.

She bit her lip instantly and said indignantly, "Still fooling around."

Shane frowned. His eyes became savage. "What? Still together?"

Sydney nodded, "Of course. He did so much just for that woman, Anya. Let me tell you, Evan pissed off the people in Fenteon just because of her!"

Sydney was so furious that she said all the things she knew.

After hearing this, he scowled more heavily, his bushy eyebrows turning into a ditch.

The reason why Evan went to Fenteon was to deal with the people in Fenteon who he pissed off?

Unbelievable! Evan loved Anya so deeply.

“Alright. Off you go.” Shane had gotten what he wanted.

Sydney was puzzled for a while. That’s it? Such a freak!

All about Anya?

That was so discomfitin Sydney didn’t want to give in. She wouldn’t go, so she stood right there and said, “It is too late, Mr. Brown. May I st ne night?”

Shane

but he looked at Sydney who looked a bit like Anya.

dent and said yes. She could stay. It may be helpful.

nny. The sultry monsoons in Fenteon passed an upscale hotel in Mavao City up early and had breakfast in the hotel’s restaurant. They were talking about Corfe Organization.

usea and vomiting during pregnancy, Anya was still sleeping.

woke up, it had been half-past eight. Minta had already been up for a while. Now she was searching for something laptop.

A rubbed her eyes and got out of bed, and asked, "Minta, what are you searching for?"

Minta looked back and answered with a smile, "Anya, I have located the position of Evan. He is in this hotel."

As she heard this, Anya's eyes brightened. "Really? He lives here too?"

Minta nodded, "They are in the restaurant. I will keep following them."

Anya nodded, feeling relieved.

Minta was more capable than her. She could contact Evan timely

"How did you do that?" Anya asked curiously.

"Lise this."

Minta dangled a circular locator, less than a fingernail. "Use

"Let's go to the restaurant." Anya wanted to see Evan make sure he was Okay.

Minta agreed. She was hungry too. "OK. You go to wash."

"Okay, Anya said. She went to the bathroom with new clothes.

Fifteen minutes later, Anya and Minta sneaked into the hotel's restaurant on the third floor.

The restaurant was so large. The breakfast took the form of a buffet, so there were a lot of people.

Anya didn't worry about being discovered by them.

She glanced over the restaurant at the door for a while before entering with Minta. Finally, she found the man she was worried about. He was sitting in the southeast corner, near the window,

He was having breakfast with Dan, looking good.

He was fine, which reassured her. She took a plate and sat, beginning to eat their food.

Soon after they sat down, Dan caught a glimpse of Anya and couldn't help but say, "Evan, I saw a girl looking like Anya.

Evan retorted, "Bullshit! That's impossible."

Dan took a closer look at where Anya sat. Anya had noticed about him and turned around and covered herself with a silk scarf. Dan couldn't see her, so he gave up.

He thought,

Chapter 562

Anya covered herself until Dan turned his eyes to another direction. Then, with her nerves eased a bit, she said to Minta "We need to hurry, Minta. I think Dan might have noticed me Drinking her milk, Minta stopped at once. She looked at Dan and Evan and found that they were not looking toward the girls.

"Anya. I assume they can't see us." Minta said, "They sit at a distance of about eight tables from us.

Anya shook her head and speeded up. "He glimpsed at me just now. Just that I turned away quickly to avoid being noticed I'm afraid that they will finish before us, and when they pass by, they may find us."

"Okay, then let's be quicker. Minta nodded.

Anya and Minta rushed their breakfast before they got completely full, and left the canteen without a single delay.

Outside the canteen, Minta checked the time and glimpsed the two men eating their breakfast, saying. "Anya. I am going to stay here and follow them. You can go back to your room now. Don't wait for me."

Anya suddenly went silent. She curled her lips and said to Mintal as if begging. "Minta, can I take a look at him for a few more minutes? I will not bring you any trouble. I will just hide somewhere and watch him."

Anya knew that her presence would certainly distract Evan or disturb his plan because she was carrying their babies

So her most solid support for Evan would be to keep herself safe and let Minta help him.

She would not turn up unless Minta had encountered any trouble.

"Okay, Anya. Can you promise me you will just look at Evan? I have to make sure you are safe. Otherwise, he would be distracted if he knows you are here," Minta said.

She didn't want Anya to take the risk of following Evan with her.

She was trained as a special forces soldier, while Anya didn't.

“I swear I will just peek at him and hide properly,” Anya promised. The precious time for her to steal a glance at Evan was really too short since she was afraid of being noticed by Dan.

“Then let’s hide there,” Minta said and pointed to a bakery beside the other exit of the canteen.

The bakery stood exactly opposite the canteen.

But with the windows, people outside the bakery would not notice who was inside unless they paid much effort.

That was why Minta chose to take Anya to wait at this hotel-style bakery.

After about 5 minutes, Evan and Dan finally finished their breakfast and walked out successively, talking. They really didn’t notice Minta and Anya at the bakery who were staring at them.

The girls saw them walk in front of the elevator.

Anya’s heart beat violently, her dark eyes kept closely on Evan’s side face, and her hands on her knees held together at this time.

“Evan, our baby, and I need you to be safe and sound.” Anya prayed silently.

“Anya, I must go up and and follow them. Promise me to stay at the hotel and do not go anywhere, okay?” Minta stood followed the two men as they entered the elevator.

Anya knew well what she should do, and she would not cause any problem. So she just said, “You take care.”

Minta nodded and said, "Thanks, I will. Goodbye, Anya." Then she trotted to the elevator and pressed the button.

Anya sat on a chair of the bakery, holding her fingers tightly.

She was worried about Evan.

Chapter 563

After they took the elevator to the ground floor, Evan and Dan walked directly towards the gate of the magnificent hotel where 3 black cars had been waiting for them.

Three young bodyguards were in the cars.

Evan and Dan got in the middle car. Then, the car in the first place sped up and left.

The other cars followed.

The black cars raced through the streets of Mavao City, their engines roaring in the hot air, captivating and powerful.

The cars swooshed all the way, leaving smoke trails and wheel tracks on the piccous road.

The sun grew scorching in the sky.

Evan took out two silenced guns from under the seat, one for himself, the other for Dan. "Just in case, take it."

Taking the gun, Dan unlocked the safety with his fingers, then put the safety quickly on. For so long, he hadn't touched the gun.

Guns were forbidden in his country. The last time he touched a gun was when he did business and got blindsided in Barcer.

The situation within his hometown was stable after he returned

Although he rarely touched a gun, he was familiar with its handling..

“Don’t worry. I won’t hold you down, Dan put the gun on his back belt and said calmly, “We both are hard to kill, so we won’t die easily.

Evan smiled at him, “Of course. You’re my best man.”

Dan also smiled, “Nope, you’re my best man. I’ll certainly be married before you.”

“No matter what. We both shall survive and get out of Fenteon.”

“Yes,”

Bo

Id protect each other no matter who married first.

swooshed along the road like leopards, they soon reached Talan’s apartment.

ne bodyguards to stop the cars outside the apartment. Talan was waiting for them there.

around with great alertness when he saw the car stop. He skelped in the first car after finding nothing strange. the cars sped up and left for Dereon’s house.

being the boss of Corfe Organization, Dereon hadn't appeared in these years, living a low-profile and secret life.

wouldn't show up if there wasn't anything significant.

lost of his work was delegated to other people in Corfe Organization.

Dereon himself lived in seclusion.

However, his prestige and reputation were still incomparably ranked top in Corfe Organization. Therefore, if he agreed to let Devin go, Evan would be at ease completely.

Otherwise, Evan couldn't let his guard down.

Thanks to Talan, Dereon agreed to meet Evan.

However, they had no idea if there was a trap set for them by Dereon.

Even though Evan knew it would be extremely dangerous, he had to go for Anya and their children.

However, Minta hailed a taxi to follow them unhurriedly to an outskirts of Mavao City and stopped in front of an extremely ordinary villa.

The cars stopped. Evan, Dan, and Talan all stepped out of the car

Soon, a few young men in black uniform shirts emerged from the villa. As a matter of convention, they performed a cursory search of the outer clothing after talking to Evan for a bit.

Due to this, the guns they had prepared could not be taken into the villa. Also, their bodyguards could not accompany

The three men walked into Dereon's villa without bringing anything with them them.

Chapter 564

After they entered, Minta quickly got out of the taxi. When she came, she quickly hid in the bushes by the side of the villa's fence to observe the situation. The fence here was over 6 feet.

Surely it was unrealistic for her to climb over the fence.

So there was nothing she could do but wait outside to bide her time.

In the villa, Evan and his team were led by the young men in black just now. They walked slowly from the quaint wooden corridor to the main house in front.

The villa was built in ancient European style.

If one didn't know the truth, one would think that it was a house built by a poetic scholar.

However, Evan didn't want to appreciate such a poetic villa. Since he entered, he has been constantly observing the surrounding environment.

One person was standing at every corner of the corridor.

It seemed that Dereon was very vigilant.

The three of them walked to the door of the main house, and the man in black stopped and said, "Mr. Welton, Mr. Baker, please wait inside. Dereon will be here soon."

After a pause, he looked at Talan who was accompanying him. "Mr. Henderson, for the convenience of both you and us, please wait outside"

Talan knew that Dereon agreeing to meet them was for the sake of the Silver Blade Organization.

So he didn't argue. He just said to Evan, "Mr. Welton, I will be waiting outside."

Evan nodded at him and went in with Dan.

At this time, the main house was empty, so was the room.

Only a small coffee table was placed in the middle. A pot of brewed coffee had been placed on the coffee table, spreading the rich aroma in the room.

But no one was there.

"Evan, be careful of fraud," Dan observed the surroundings and reminded Evan.

Evan understood and said, "Let's sit and wait for him."

Dan nodded.

The two sat down at the coffee table and waited for Dereon to come, but after waiting for half an hour, the man come.

still did not

Dan couldn't sit still. He wanted to go out and have a look. Evan held him down and said, "Wait for a second, we are playing the passive role here. Don't panic first."

Since Dereon agreed to meet, he definitely was willing to meet him.

Even if he wanted to assassinate Evan, there was no need to let him wait for half an hour. Besides, Talan was still outside. It Dereon was really afraid of-the power of the Silver Blade Organization, he wouldn't risk killing Evan.

So Evan still waited patiently.

Dan pondered a little, then continued to sit and wait.

On the other side, in the hotel room, Anya didn't want to create any trouble, so she stayed and waited. Ten minutes later. someone knocked on the door. Anya was not alert and went straight to open the door.

As soon as the door opened, she was sprinkled with a handful of white powder. Before she had time to react, she felt that everything went black, and lost her consciousness.

When she woke up again, she was lying in a very old-fashioned room.

Anya got up instantly and wanted to call for help, only to find that there was a ball in her mouth. The ball was tied with an electronic strap, and a code lock was set on it. She couldn't take it off and couldn't shout.

However, with the experience of being kidnapped by Hua Shao last time, Anya was much calmer this time, and she began to fumble to open the door.

As soon as her hand touched the doorknob, the door opened automatically, and Anya took a step back in an instant.

She looked up.

A bald middle-aged man was standing at the door, wearing a gray silk shirt. The man had sparse eyebrows and a dry and thin face. He had protruding eye sockets with serious dark circles. On the whole, he looked like a catfish.

This was not the worst. The worst thing was that there was a long scar on his left cheek, which winded all the way from the cheek to the neck.

It was like a disgusting snake.

Anya frowned and looked at the middle-aged man warily.

Chapter 565

“Ms. MacMillan, welcome to Fenteon,” the bald man said with a gold face, Tm Dercon Shea and Devin Crick works for me. Do you know him?”

Devin Crick?

Anya was stunned.

“Judging from your expression, I think you know him.” Dercon said with a smile and told the man behind him to grab Anya. “Ms. MacMillan, let’s play a game, shall we? If you win, I’ll let you go. Otherwise, someone will die.”

Anya couldn't utter sounds as she was gaged. She looked at him fearfully.

Did he mean Evan was here too?

"I always keep my words. I know you two come to me because of Devin. But... there are rules in my place and you need to follow them. Ms. MacMillan, are you in?" Dereon continued.

The man who grabbed Anya entered the password on her gag. And then it was loosened.

Anya could finally speak. She kept breathing. "What is it?"

"An eye for an eye. One of you must pay for what you've done, right?" Dereon said slowly with a cold face.

Anya was shocked and thought, "How could he be so sinister?"

But they had no choice but to follow his rules. Anya bit her lip with her eyes red. 'I don't want to play. Can I just choose myself?"

"You have such a deep relationship. Great." Dereon looked at her seriously.

He kind of appreciated her when hearing her words.

"Stop talking nonsense. You said someone should pay for it. Then I'll be the one. Just let Evan and the others go." Anya was scared.

But she was fearless when thinking of Evan as she wanted him to be safe.

She would do it if one of them must die.

“Good.” Dereon mouth twitched a little as he hadn’t seen such a brave woman for a long time.

Dereon looked up at the man and he took Anya out. Dereon went into the house to see Evan.

Evan and Dan sat still in the house.

Dereon came in.

Seeing him, they both stood up and said, “Mr. Shea.”

In Cameron, Evan was powerful and influential.

But he knew he had no connections abroad.

He was being cautious as Dereon was the boss here.

Dereon said with a faint smile, “I know why you are here. But my man was gone and that is my business.

“Mr. Shea, we can talk about it. Evan said in a low voice.

“There is nothing to talk about. Please leave, Mr. Welton, Dereon said coldly while observing him.

“Mr. Shea, we won’t go unless we have solved the problem, Evan said firmly.

He looked at Dereon seriously.

Dereon sneered, “All right then. Let’s play a game, Mr. Welton.”

“What game?”

“If you dare to play it, we can wipe out the past and work well together. Otherwise, we’ll call it a day.”

“OK”

“You or your girl. One of you must die here or we won’t let you go. Just choose,” Dereon said tonelessly.

Evan’s face darkened while Dan was clenching his fists.

“Do you dare?”

Evan said without hesitation, “We don’t need to play the game. I choose myself. Let them go.”

He was satisfied as he had had Anya and the kids. It was enough.

Chapter 566

Hearing this, Dan frowned at once and said in a low voice, “Evan are you crazy?”

“You haven’t done anything yet. Why just agree to end your life so easily?”

“Anya and my children need to survive,” Evan said in a deep voice.

Even if Evan thought of a way to knock down Dereon, others who followed Dereon would take revenge on Evan since Dereon was so powerful in Fenteon.

Therefore, Evan didn’t want Anya and his children to live a life of fear.

“There must be other ways.” Dan didn’t want Evan to give up easily.

Dan couldn’t understand Evan since he didn’t have children.

Power was useless to a man who had weaknesses. After all, he was just a father of his child

He had to protect his family.

“It’s the only shortcut,” Evan said calmly, “Dan, please take care of Anya and Nathaniel in the days to come.”

Dan didn’t want him to give up. He said angrily, “Fuck you. Why should I take care of your woman and children? If you want to, do it yourself!”

Then Dan grabbed his collar and tried to persuade him, “Evan, did you hear me? You have to take care of them by yourself. Don’t count on me!”

While Dan was cursing, Dereon on the side suddenly clapped.

He said with his hideous face and an incomprehensible coldness “How touching it is! Are you showing off your friendship, Mr. Welton?”

Dan was angry now. He rolled up his sleeves to beat Dereon after hearing this.

Evan stopped him in time, and said in a low voice, “Don’t do anything rash and take risks for me. I’ve decided.”

“I can’t watch you die here in vain. Dan was so angry.

His clenched fist on the side of his leg began to rattle.

“Stop it.” Evan glanced at him. Then he looked at Dereon and said, “Dereon, if you want to end my life, just say it.”

Dereon laughed suddenly. He looked at Evan in appreciation rather than coldness, “Mr. Welton, you are so loyal to your friends.

“Then just follow me.” Then he went to the other side door.

Evan followed. Dan grabbed him at once. “Evan, don’t go.”

Evan pulled him down and took out a pen from his pocket. This is a recording pen. They didn’t let him take it out during the search just now. Then he handed it to Dan and said, “Dan, I’m happy to meet you. Our friendship for more than ten years has not been in vain. While I am still alive, remember to take my will.”

He must make sure to hand over part of the Welton Group’s equity to Anya’s two children.

Chapers (ed)

Then he followed Derin Pan became much angrier with this pen in his hand.

The field the pen tightly. Hesitating for a few seconds, he followed in strides. “Even if Evan wanted to die, someone has to take care of him.”

He thought right

aid,

door.

However, when Dan walked in through the side door, he discovered that the side door was a corridor linked to the garden mode. And now Exan and Dereon seemed to have disappeared suddenly

Dan felt something was wrong at once. He walked faster to go

Chapter 567

When Dan walked outside and entered the garden, he was puzzled by what he saw

Evan was holding Anya tightly in his arms in the middle of the garden.

And Dereon was standing beside them.

Dereon was peaceful. He was no longer the guy who tried to kill Evan maliciously.

“What happened? Am I hallucinating?” Dan wondered.

He pinched his eyelids hard, and they hurt. So that was not a dream.

Dan walked towards Evan and Anya and asked, “Evan, what happened?”

Evan reluctantly ended the hug. He looked at Dan and replied, “It’s all settled.”

“How?” Dan asked.

A few minutes ago, Dereon wanted to kill Evan, and it was all settled in a flash.

And how did Anya manage to appear here?

Did he actually see her that morning?

84%

“Talk to you later. I have some things to discuss with Mr. Shea. And he turned to Anya and suggested, “Will you wait for me here, babe?”

Anya agreed. She grabbed Evan’s hands and said, “Please be careful. I will wait right here.”

Evan patted her head gently and nodded.

And he left with Dereon.

Dan followed them. He wanted to make sure Evan wouldn’t be hurt by Dereon. And Anya was left alone in that classic garden.

She sat on the brim of the pond in the garden, and watched the goldfish swimming, and prayed for Evan’s safety.

Anya was sile

A bear

be the goldfish.

Coman approached her. She was wearing an elegant dress and carrying a box of fish food. She sat Are you Ms. MacMillan?”

sh food in the pond.

rted to chase after and fight for it.

that beautiful woman and asked, "May I ask who you are?"

urprise, she replied in fluent Cameronese.

ere brave back then." She didn't answer Anya's question. She looked at her with approval, "I haven't seen such a iful love in a long time," she said.

and she continued feeding the fish.

Anya frowned and wondered if that woman was Dereon's wife.

But Anya wouldn't ask her again about her identity. They were already in a dangerous situation, and she wouldn't dare to expose themselves to any other threats.

"I don't want anything to happen to my husband, We have two children, I wanna raise them together with him," she said with a begging voice.

The woman smiled, "He said the same words a moment ago!"

Anya didn't know.

"This is why I was moved." She smiled again. Her smile was mild and gentle.

Anya was unable to link this woman to Dereon...

“Don’t worry. Your husband will be fine. Love like yours should be cherished.”

Anya thought of something all of a sudden and asked, “You are the reason we were not killed by him?”

The beautiful woman didn’t deny it, “Half the reason. The other half was he wanted to invest and expand his business in Cameron. But your husband has to pay for what he did.

“Henry was arrested in your country. He was Dereon’s left hand,

That woman said slowly with a tender voice.

Anya was terrified, “Make him pay? They won’t hurt him, will they?” She didn’t know much about mafia rules, but she felt that they wouldn’t let them go this easily.

Seeing her frightened, the beautiful woman squeezed her hand gently and added, “They won’t hurt him. Your husband just has to pay for it in the business transactions.”

Anya was relieved.

Chapter 568

“Thank you!” Anya looked at the beautiful woman.

“You’re welcome. I’m fed up with this kind of life. I don’t want him to kill people anymore, the beautiful woman said softly as if she saw through life.

“Killing people is a bad thing. People will get what they deserve

Anya nodded without saying any word.

They sat on the stone steps around the pond while looking at fish competing for food.

Around an hour later, Evan and Dan walked out of the house. Arrya stood up as soon as she saw Evan and walked to him. "Are you OK?"

Evan touched her hair gently. "Yes, let's go."

Anya glanced at him to make sure he was OK. Then she grabbed his hand and left together.

The beautiful woman stood beside the pond watching them walking away.

She looked at them gently.

Many years ago, there had been a man willing to die for her. However, she had fled from him since she was afraid of death.

Then, the man died.

She met many men in her life, including Dereon.

No one was willing to die for her without hesitation like that man

Anya, Evan, and Dan left the villa.

Minta had been hiding in the bushes. She stood up and walked to them when seeing them come out safely.

Minta said worriedly to Anya, "Anya, why have you come here? asked you to stay at the hotel."

She realized what was wrong after saying that.

She thought, "Anya shouldn't have known this. It's me who has accidentally disclosed it."

Minta lowered her head and apologized to Evan, "Evan, I'm sorry I have said too much so that Anya has come here."

"It doesn't matter. Let's return to the hotel now." Evan didn't blame Minta.

It was OK that everyone was safe.

Minta nodded.

Hayden was surprised and worried when he saw Minta.

He thought,

Hayden felt guilty.

What they needed to do at first was to leave Dereon's place. They got into the car and left.

The car arrived at Talan's apartment and dropped him off. Then they returned to the hotel.

Before they reached the presidential suite, Anya couldn't help but ask Evan.

"Evan, what have you promised the boss?"

"Will you lose money?"

I

84%

Evan touched her nose and said, "Your safety is more important than money. I can earn more money, but your.." He didn't finish his words because it was something bad.

He continued, "Now it's settled. Don't worry."

Anya didn't know about the business, but she agreed that money was less important than their safety.

"You're pregnant. Why have you been there? What could I do if you were in danger?" Eyan scolded her.

Anya knew that she was too impulsive because she was worried about him.

"I'll come to you if you're in trouble next time. You're the dad of my children. I can't let them have no dad, seriously while raising her head.

Evan was moved by her words.

He thought,

Anya s

Said

Chapter 569

"Get back to your room and have a rest. I have something to discuss with Dan, Evan said while holding her. He touched her belly and said gently. "I don't want our baby to be frightened."

“OK. I’ll take good care of it.” Anya purred adoringly.

She was so happy.

“Great.”

Then they hugged each other in the elevator. Evan escorted her to the presidential suite and went to find Dan

Dan was looking at the scenery outside the window, feeling a bit upset.

It was the first time that he had experienced the despair of losing his close friend.

He felt bad.

He wished it wouldn’t happen again.

The doorbell rang when he was pondering.

Dan opened the door and saw Evan

He knew why Evan came and sighed, “Come in.”

Evan said. “Thank you for today

Dan shook his head. “For what? I didn’t do anything.”

“You come here with me. That means everything.” Evan was grateful to him.

Evan smiled. "Well, don't rush in next time. I've only got you."

Evan patted his shoulder and said. "I know."

"It's settled then. Dinner's on me. Let's get drunk, shall we?"

Dan shrugged. "Cool."

Evan booked a table in a fancy restaurant nearby and had a great dinner.

Evan was quite pleasant tonight. He usually didn't drink but that day he drank two bottles with Dan.

When they finished, they all got drunk.

Anya couldn't even scold him as he was in a coma. Therefore, she had to ask Hayden and a bodyguard to help them return to the hotel.

Anya and Minta followed behind.

When they arrived, Hayden put Evan on the bed and left.

Anya frowned when seeing him. She went to the bathroom to take a hot towel and then helped him wash his face.

She unbuttoned his shirt to cool him down but Evan suddenly opened his eyes and looked at her. He thought he was in a dream.

He pulled Anya over to the bed and wanted to do it with her.

But Anya was just pregnant now.

Her condition was not stable so it would be bad for the baby.

Evan kissed her fervently and tore her dress. She immediately slapped him and shouted, "Evan Welton! Wake up! I'm pregnant now!"

"Don't touch me!"

Evan was shocked by her voice and the slap, which made him sober up. He narrowed his eyes and realized he was not dreaming.

He got off her and rubbed his head. "I'm sorry... I was drunk..."

Anya said, blushing. "You idiot. Why did you drink so much?"

"I won't do it next time... Evan mumbled. He still wanted to kiss her so he lowered his head. "Let's get married as soon as we're home, OK?"

Anya nodded with her face turning red.

Chapter 570

They fell asleep after the intensive sex. The moonlight fell across the suite of the Mavan Hotel, covering the sleeping couple with a thin layer of feathers.

The dawn came and the suite was lightened up by the sunshine.

Anya woke up in Evan's embrace. She prepared to pack the luggage after taking a shower.

As Anya slightly moved, Evan opened his eyes and tilted his head to look at Anya.

He looked a little lazy and handsome when he woke up, his eyes deep and his black hair soft. Anya was deeply immersed in his charisma. She slept with Evan a few times but she never had a chance to wake up with him.

Anya's heart beat fast when she saw Evan's handsome face.

He looked just like a prince.

Anya blushed.

She blinked and said in a sweet voice, "Are you awake? I thought you'd sleep more."

Evan smiled warmly. "I woke up when you moved."

H

Evan strived to control his desire last night. He wouldn't have sex with Anya when she was pregnant. But he was eager to caress his girl when holding her.

Anya said upset, "Are you blaming me for waking you up?"

"Of course not." Evan couldn't blame her. He just wanted to say that he only had light sleep for fear of touching Anya's belly

Evan felt excited about the coming baby. He reached out to touch Anya's belly. She felt an itch and laughed while pulling away Evan's hand. "It's so itchy. Don't touch me like that."

“Then I’ll be gentler. I want to feel our baby.” Evan suddenly slowed down and gently placed his palm on Anya’s belly.

It was a miracle of life.

It was a child of their own.

He failed to spend much time with Nathaniel and Eudora when they were babies. He wouldn’t be absent in his third baby’s childhood. He will begin to take care of the baby before it was born.

He would be a responsible father of Nathaniel and Eudora, too.

“Will it be a boy or a girl?” Evan gently touched Anya’s belly with his hand.

How would Anya know the sex of the baby? “Do you want a boy or a girl?”

“Either a boy or a girl would be perfect. But I kind of hope it’s a girl.” A daughter felt like his little lover.

Anya smiled and said, “Why? Do you prefer a daughter?”

Evan didn’t deny it. “I’d like to declare that I like Nathaniel very much, but for men... they adore their daughters ... After all, men only spoil their daughters and wife, not their sons.”

For Evay, boys and girls should be raised in different ways.

Evan will adore his daughter, and wife. But he wouldn’t spoil his son..

Hearing this, Anya felt warmth in his heart. She was satisfied as long as he loved his children.

"I know." Anya gently covered the back of Evan's hand with her palm. "Let's get up and go home. The children must be thinking about us."

Evan also wanted to see them. He had been avoiding seeing them recently because of those things.

If he settled these matters well, Evan could enjoy being with his children.

"Then get up." Evan put back his hand and got up. Then when Anya was about to get out of bed, he picked her up and carried her to the bathroom. "You are the apple of my eyes. From now on, the Weltons will take care of you more carefully."

"You don't have to do anything."

"Then I am going to be spoiled, right?" Anya said with a sweet smile.

"I'd like to spoil you so that I can take care of you for the rest of my life." Evan lowered his head and gave her a lingering morning kiss.