Chapter 591

"I don't agree with the autopsy Laura said savagely as David was here, Judy saw Dan in Tom's room at their wedding night. When Dan left, Tom died! Ask Judy if you don't believe me."

She pinched Judy's arm right away. Judy was in pain, but she didn't dare to let out a cry. She was the adopted daughter of her family, and her family wouldn't give her any support at all. She could only be cooperative and said, "Yes... Dan did come. He even wanted to... grope me..."

Laura taught her the last sentence.

It was shameful. Judy had to force herself to say these with her nails dug into her palms. After that, she looked at Dan opposite her automatically. She was scared to see his cold eyes and lowered her head.

She didn't mean to frame him.

But if she didn't say so, Laura would make things difficult for her family.

"Enough!" David didn't want to hear more. He stood up and said "Leave! All of you! Do you feel sad about Tom's death? Especially you, Richard. Tom is your son! You are not sad but messing around and embarrasses our family. And the others.... What are you doing here? Are you planning to get the things that don't belong to you?" David was furious, and his heart ached. He had to pat his chest. Dan saw this and walked over. He held David and said, "Grandpa, don't be mad. It's bad for your health."

David eyed Dan and sighed before continuing talking to the others, "I won't give any of Dan's shares to you even if Dan did do something to Tom."

"Go to the autopsy or burn him, David paused and said, 'Or... you can all get the hell out of my house.'" He was emotional.

He had shortness of breath.

Then, he fainted.

Since David was unconscious, the crowd quieted down. They all surrounded and wanted to save him.

It was a mess. Judy just married Tom and was still an outsider. She didn't dare to look at David, so she stood at the corner in fear.

They sent David to the hospital, leaving only Judy in such a spacious room.

Judy wanted to leave, and she walked out of the living room.

Evan was with him and comforted, "Dan, David would be fine. Don't worry."

Dan tried to calm dower and said with a nod, "Thanks"

"Your uncle won't let this go. Do you need my help?" Evan knew an autopsy expert.

"No. 1 can deal with this." Dan was grateful, but this was a family affair.

He could handle this himself.

Evan didn't force him. He thought of Judy and said, "That girl... don't think she wanted to direct at you. Don't put her on the spot."

When he saw Judy, he had a feeling that she wouldn't have the guts to go against Dan.

Dan was not in the mood to think about Judy. He nodded casually and replied, "We'll talk about that later."

Chapter 592

Thanks to the timely treatment, David wat saved, and everyone got relieved.

Evan, who came to the hospital with Dan, left after a short way as the appointment with Anya cromed his mind.

He drove back to Welton Group Pulling over, Evan called Anya to come downstairs for lunch.

It took Anya several minutes to get ready.

Downstairs. Anya became excited at the sight of Evan's car and ran to it without hesitation. When she stopped by the car. Evan got out of the car with terror and lectured her. "Honey, do you remember that you are pregnant? No running"

Anya was speechless

She did forget that she was pregnant, especially when she was busy.

She felt good recently because she didn't have many morning sicknesses.

With a guilty look. Anya stood on tiptoe to kiss Evan and said coquettishly. I hear you. Don't be mad."

"Get in the car. Evan was softened.

He kissed Anya back, and then they got in the car hand in hand.

Soon the driver started the car and headed for the appointed restaurant.

On the way to the restaurant. Anya asked. "You have been to the Bakers. Is everything alright?"

"Totally a mess." Evan twisted his eyebrows. All of a sudden, he felt lucky that his grandparents had only one child, and that was his father.

His father had only one child too.

That was him, Evan.

So, there was no feud over the family property like that farce in the Baker family.

“As for my kids. I should make good family settlements in advance to avoid such a farce.” Evan thought to himself as he would like to have more than one child.

“That bad? What happened? What about that girl?” Anya was curious.

Evan rubbed her nose and said, “Let’s skip this part as it will upset you only. Just enjoy your life, and take good care of yourself and our children.”

“OK. You are the boss” Anya smiled.

Anya who was dependent on him brought Evan a sense of achievement. Evan held her in his arms and said. “My dad will be back from abroad tomorrow. You should meet him with Nathanjel and Ellie”

Anya choked at the news because she was worried that this strange father-in-law would be as picky as Gina

She asked with agitation, “Will your father like a daughter-in-law without a great background?”

“Relax. My dad is not that kind of person.”

Evan thought that his dad care about the relationship and the mother skilling instead of the background.

“Really?” Anya was worried.

She dreaded Gina and didn’t want a picky father-in-law.

“Don’t worry. In the Welton family... I can have my way, or how could we get married? Little fool!” Evan stroked her cheek and loved her innocence, “I will be with you even if the Welton family holds a different opinion.”

Anya nodded.

She thought, “Evan is right. As long as he takes my side, he will protect me and our children.”

“Come, let me listen... the voice of our baby.” Evan pressed his ear against Anya’s belly, which didn’t bulge yet.

“Can you hear anything? It is only a few weeks old.” Anya laughed at Evan..

The formidable Evan became a loving father at this moment.

“Of course,” Evan smiled, “I can. It is as strong as I am.”

“Come on... How narcissistic!” Anya, amused, laughed happily, and Evan held her swiftly. He held her in his arms, smiled, and gave her a long kiss affectionately.

He wished this kiss could last forever.

Chapter 593

The next day, Jolin arrived.

His flight arrived at 10:30 in the morning. Mdm went to the airport to pick him up. Evan went to pick up Anya. Gina didn’t go to the airport because she was still angry with Anya.

Instead, she was at home, sitting on the sofa and thinking of handling her husband.

Although John loved her, he was a dutiful son. He listened to Men in everything. If Melm asked him to accept Anya, he would agree.

Moreover, if Mdm said bad things about her, he would be angry with her.

No matter how deep he loved her, he wouldn't be kind to her.

Her husband was such a person that would spoil her and do whatever she liked. But he always put Mdm's words in the first place.

Nothing could change his mind.

Gina thought for a while, "I can't accept Anya as my daughter-in-law. She has nothing."

She also couldn't accept her son sending her abroad.

She wouldn't leave the country until Anya left the Welton family

So Gina decided to deceive her husband and Mdm. If John could be on her side, she would be able to stay in the Welton family for a longer time.

Gina immediately went upstairs to dress up herself.

Her husband liked to see her wearing formally.

Gina carefully selected a red dress and then twisted her hair up.

After careful preparation, she headed to the airport.

When Gina arrived at the airport, she was not surprised to find Mdm waiting in the pick-up area, and Evan and Anya hadn't come yet.

Gina looked at Mdm from a distance and hardly could control her anger. It was because of the support of Mdm that Anya was so arrogant

She felt that Mdm was stupid!

Gina stood still and tried to hide her anger before she headed to Mdm..

She greeted Mdm, pretending to be happy and calm. "Mom, her tam".

Mdm looked at her, and she was unhappy to see Gina dressed so well. She sneered at Gina in her heart. "She has time to dress up but no time to take care of her grandchildren"

Anyways, Mdm was very disappointing with Gina because of Eudora.

If Gina dared to mess around a second time, Mem would persuade John to divorce Gina.

Mdm said in a deep voice, "Have you made up your mind?"

Gina didn't say a word and made a poker face. After a while, she said, "I'm here to pick up my husband."

The old lady snorted, "Cina, what I said that day was not just for fun. It would be best if you can be kind to Anya and your grandchildren. Or you have to leave this country and enjoy your own life. It is good for all of us."

After hearing the words, Gina's face turned pale. She realized that everyone wanted to drive her away.

She grabbed the skirt tightly with her fingers and said, "Mom, no matter how good a foreign country is, it's not as good as the Welton family, isn't it?"

"Then treat Anya and the kids well," Mdm said.

Gina's face was even paler. But she had to bear Anya in order not to leave the country. After a few seconds, she said. "Mom, give me a chance.

When Mdm heard what she said, she thought Gina was still willing to change her mind. She instantly replied, "As long as you can be kind to Anya and the kids, you are still one of the Weltons. Otherwise, I will let John divorce you."

Gina was shocked. She didn't expect Mdm to be so mean. She was even more annoyed. "Why do I have to give in for her?" she thought.

But she could only bear it now, pretending to be obedient and nodding.

But her heart was full of anger and hatred.

While Gina tried to hold back her anger, John came through the VIP passage with his assistant.

John is coming." Mdm said.

On the other side, John saw Mdm and Gina from a distance, his face changed, and he stepped up his pace.

Unlike before. John's mood turned bad when he saw Gina this time.

Mdm told him that Gina was bullying his grandchildren. He felt it weird because he didn't think Gina was such a vicious person.

How could his wife abuse her granddaughter so hard that the latter one got into the hospital?

Soon, John stood in front of the two ladies. He greeted Mdm, then looked at Gina. Gina welcomed him warmly.

John looked at her coldly and said fiercely for the first time, "We need to talk today. It is about Anya and our Iren.

Chapter 594

Having scolded Gina, John helped Ms. Welton to get into the car. Gina stood at the departure lounge, trembling out of Hanger.

She dressed up to delight John, but he...?

53%

Her husband was on Ms. Welton's side. But she wasn't surprised at all. John was famous for being filial. If Ms. Welton wept a bit, he would even kneel to amuse her.

But she wouldn't yield. Why did she have to accept Anya?

Besides, she only said that in consideration of the Weltons' future. No one would like to see the successor of the Welton business empire was delivered by a downscale woman.

Gina believed in what she had done.

Since she wanted better genes, she would have to set high bars for her future daughter-in-law.

So that she could feel proud as well.

Gina sulked for a while. Seeing that none of them paid attention to her, she lowered her eyes and tried to hold her anger back. Anya was gonna be her dress designer anyway. She would still be able to cope with her..

Gina held her anger back. She'd better go home first.

But after John helped Ms. Welton got into the car, he sighed and said, "Mom, it's a surprise or nothing. Evan did give us a huge surprise."

It was John's first time getting a call from Ms. Welton. It was about his son's marriage and two kids. Three.

John felt shocked at first and then he felt overjoyed..

He wanted a grandson a long time ago. He had been expanding the business for Evan abroad. He did want to have some rest and play with his grandkids at home.

"Indeed. I'm so happy to have this pigeon pair." Thinking about Nathaniel and Eudora, Ms. Welton couldn't help but grin. John, you have to see these adorable kids. Nathaniel looks exactly like baby Evan. And Eudora, she looks like a doll."

"By the way, Anya is expecting a third child now. Our Welton family is gonna get bigger then. We don't have many kids. You are the only one of your generations and so is Evan. The household is just too quiet. But now things are different. Anya is a good girl. She brought liveliness into our family."

John nodded with full expectation, "Sure."

“But... It’s good to have so many babies. But your wife...she seems determined to find a girl of good quality,” Ms. Welton felt delighted when she thought about the babies. But she was blown up once she recalled that Gina abused Eudora. She then thumped John. “I only want you back to warn you that if your wife tries to mistreat Anya and the kids, I’ll make you divorce her.”

“We can’t afford to have such a witch

in our family.”

Ms. Welton wasn’t joking. She was planning it for real. But John still had feelings for his wife. He paused and said, “Mom, I’ll talk to her. She’s Evan’s mom after all.”

“She used to be different.” John didn’t want to divorce Gina. They had been together for decades.

Most importantly, Gina had never done such a horrible thing.

John believed she deserved a second chance.

Chapter 595

After getting a call from John, Evan had to make a U-turn on his way to the airport.

When he got back to the mansion, Evan held the two kids into the car with one in each arm.

Eudora didn't know they were coming back to her grandma's place. She thought Dad and Mom were taking her to somewhere interesting, so she seemed quite happy. While Evan and Anya hadn't known that Gina had caused trauma in Eudora.

They thought she would be fine since she was saved.

So they took the kids back to the villa.

When they got there. John and Ms. Welton had been back. Gina was also there.

When Evan parked his car, Anya held Nathaniel out of the car first. Once he saw it was the villa his grandma lived in, he started to tug Anya's clothes, saying, "Mom, don't..."

"Nathaniel, what are you talking about?" Anya didn't understand.

"Don't... here..." He wanted to say "Don't come back here, never

The horrible grandma lived here.

She abused his little sister.

"It's OK. We'll just stay here for a while and be back. You haven't seen Grandpa, right? Grandpa is back!" Anya tried to calm him down.

Nathaniel answered. He forgot about his horrible Grandma at once. He started to feel curious about his grandpa.

But when Evan took Eudora out of the car, Eudora hid her head into Evan's shirt at once when she saw Gina. She tugged Evan's shirt and couldn't help but tremble.

Evan thought she was cold. But it wasn't cold at all. She shouldn't tremble like this.

Evan couldn't help but ask Eudora what had happened.

But Eudora couldn't talk. She couldn't tell him that she was scared. She was scared to see her grandma.

So she could only tremble in his arms.

"Anya, why is Eudora trembling?" Evan didn't know about kids. He had to turn to Anya for help.

Anya took Eudora over and touched her forehead. She didn't have a fever. "She seems fine. No fever. Maybe we should take her in?"

She wasn't sure.

Evan nodded and held the kids into the living room..

When they got into the living room, Ms. Welton and John were already there. So was Gina, with a straight face though.

Seeing Anya holding Nathaniel, Ms. Welton said, "Anya, put Nathaniel down. You're still pregnant. What if you get hurt?"

"Granny, I'm fine, Anya answered with a smile.

“You are still at an early stage. You have to be scrupulous. I’ll hold Nathaniel.” Then she reached out to Nathaniel.

John stood first. It was his first time seeing his daughter-in-law and the kids. He had love and care in his eyes. “I’ll hold him.”

They were related by blood after all.

He could feel the connection at first sight.

John seemed much kinder than Gina.

So Nathaniel didn’t resist anymore.

“He does have Evan’s face.” John loved the kids so much. He couldn’t stop looking at them. He played with Nathaniel for some time and then turned to Eudora. “Evan, give me Eudora. I want to hold my little girl as well,”

“Sure.” Evan tried to give Eudora to him.

Gina faked a smile and said, “Just learned that I’m invisible.”

She sounded peaceful.

But Eudora couldn’t stand her voice. Once she heard Gina talking, she burst out crying.

Chapter 596

Eudora suddenly burst into tears. Evan and Anya were both terrified and they began comforting her.

However, no matter what they had done, it was useless. Eudora seemed to have taken a great shock and cried her heart out. Her face was utterly red from crying and she coughed from choking.

Eudora vomited the milk and food she had taken in the morning to the ground.

And she kept crying after that. Even if Anya was holding her, she wouldn't stop.

"Evan, shall we take her to the hospital?" Anya couldn't stop her tears and Eudora was getting breathless. She was afraid that if this continued, something bad would happen to her daughter.

Evan agreed. "I'll have someone fetch us a car." With that, he said to John, "Dad, we will return soon."

"I'll go with you. Eudora is my granddaughter." John was also worried upon seeing the scene and wanted to go with them.

It was the first day of them returning home and John was flustered by the incident.

"Go. I'll take care of Nathaniel." Mdm Welton was afraid that she would add to trouble and decided to stay with Nathaniel.

Gina stayed silent all the time and still wore a long face.

Did that brat's cries matter so much? She would do nothing but just cry all day!

When they left for the hospital, Gina stood up and said, "Mdm Welton, I have to be in an ad and I have to go."

"Eudora will go to the hospital again. Won't you worry about her Mdm Welton grew more displeased with this daughter-in-law.

“Of course I am.” Gina went against her will. “I will call John. Mdm Welton, I don’t have to say all my concerns out, do I?”

Mdm Welton felt it unreasonable but didn’t argue with her.

Seeing that Mdm Welton was silent, Gina shed crocodile tears. Mdm Welton, I know that what I have done is outrageous and I will change.”

“Of course. I have to go to the company now.” Gina deliberately walked in front of Nathaniel to caress his head. Nathaniel wanted to dodge but failed.

“Mdm Welton, I will be good to them” Gina had a plot when she saw Nathaniel.

She couldn’t go against them for now because her son and husband would send her abroad.

She didn’t want this bitch to get the fortune.

She had to protect the family. Thus, she pretended to be good to them and would find a chance to eliminate her.

That was the best solution.

“You’d better be. Any family requires harmony,” said Mdm Welton.

“I’ll be leaving now.” Gina withdrew her hand, took the bag, and went out.

Soon as she left, Nathaniel threw himself into Mdm Welton's arms. "Great-grandmother, I'm scared."

She comforted him.

She replied. "Tiana, she said and the width of the old house the hints tomorrow."

In the hospital.

When Eudora was taken to the hospital, the doctor found nothing wrong with her but she just wouldn't stop crying.

It confused the doctor.

She was crying all the time and Evan had no choice but to ask other doctors for help.

A doctor pointed out the key issue. "Mr. Welton, I suggest you take her to the psychiatrist."

After that, Evan frowned. "What do you mean?"

“She exploded because of great mental shock, so I advise you to do that.”

“Thank you.” Evan carried Eudora and went with Anya and John to a psychiatrist.

The suggestion was proved to be right.

The doctor proficiently dealt with such a situation. After comforting and caressing, Eudora finally eased up and she fell asleep in Anya’s arms.

The doctor looked at Eudora and then at Evan. He hesitated to speak. “Mr. Welton, I don’t know if I should say this.

-“Go ahead”

“She must have been traumatized and will be hysterical when coming into contact with the abuser. Since she is a baby, she can only express herself through crying. Older kids will behave differently.”

Both Evan and John were astounded.

They knew that Eudora had abused Eudora and thought it was not serious.

How could she be traumatized?

“Doc, can she be cured?” Anya heard what the doctor said and her eyes reddened.

“She can, as long as she stays away from the abuser. Otherwise, it may get more serious,” said the doctor.

Anya nodded.

Evan knew what he wanted to talk about and followed him out.

After getting out of the ward, John popped a question, “Does she become like this because of your mom?”

Evan didn’t give a clear answer and just said with furrowed brows, “Dad, you know what to do.”

John understood. “I will go find her.”

“My suggestion is that you take her abroad.” Evan knew his mother well. She would never change. “You know what kind of person mom is. She will never compromise once she is obsessed on

“Don’t be deceived by her sweet words. If she sincerely accepts Anya and the kids, I will let her return. You’ve seen the situation. Eudora has become like this because of her.” Evan’s voice grew lower.

He was stuck between his mother and his wife and kids.

He had to balance them.

“I know.” John sighed and said apologetically, “Evan, I like Anya and the kids and I am on your side.

“I will take care of your mom.” He happened to want to talk with her about Anya.

Evan nodded.

He neither wanted his mother to do anything to harm the kids nor accidents on her. He just wanted a peaceful life with Anya. and the children.

If she would lay hands on the kids, he would cut off from her.

Chapter 598

After John went back. Anya stayed to be with Eudora. She had fallen asleep with the help of an expert. But would she cry again once she woke up?

Anya felt heartbroken. She didn't expect the whole thing to be this terrible.

She thought Eudora was just startled. She never thought she would develop PTSD.

But she forgot that Eudora was always timid. She was easily scared. She didn't see Gina abuse her. She only heard from the maid that Gina lifted her and threatened to throw her away.

She examined Eudora and didn't find any wound.

She didn't pay much attention since then.

young to

She regretted it. She was too heal after being terrified. Neither Evan nor she ever thought it was a big deal.

Anya was so sorry. The more she thought about it, the more she blamed herself. She couldn't help but weep.

Evan chatted with John for some time outside the ward. Once he pushed in, he saw Anya crying.

He marched over and held her in his arms at once. "Stop crying. I will never let it happen again."

Anya held him tight with tears full of her eyes. "Evan, I'll never take her back again."

"I know." Evan fondled her hair and said, "Granny and Dad will visit the kids in the mansion."

OK

"I'll make sure she has the best therapist. Don't worry. Nothing's gonna happen to our girl" Evan touched her hair again.

Anya nodded. But she couldn't stop crying when she thought about how Eudora puked and cried just now.

Evan knew she must be heartbroken, so he held her and tried to comfort her.

Then Anya was calmed down. Her phone rang. It was Stella.

Anya let Evan go and picked up the phone.

"Ms. MacMillan, are you done with the draft? Gina would like to see it," Stelle said straightforward.

Anya wasn't in the mood for work. She apologized, "I'm sorry, M. Stein. Is it OK if I give it to you tomorrow?"

Then Stella said coldly, "Ms. MacMillan, can you eat today's lunch tomorrow?"

"We had an agreement first. If you can't hand us the draft, you have to pay the penalty. You know that, right?" Stella said.

Anya frowned. "It's just a draft. Why do I have to pay the penalty for an uncompleted draft?"

"It's the pact. You have to understand whom you are designing the dress for. It's for our Oscar winner! You should feel honored!"

It was an insult.

Anya wanted to break off the contract. But she was never a quitter. So she held her anger back and said, "Ms. Stein if I have to hand my draft today, I can only hand it tonight."

Her daughter needed her in the daytime.

"We don't have much time Ms. MacMillan, you have to give it to us now." Stella said arrogantly. "Or the penalty will do. That will be 200,000 dollars"

"*200,000 dollars?" Anya couldn't believe what she had heard.

It was only a draft.

When Anya was about to argue with her. Evan got pissed off. He overheard some of the conversations. That was abuse. He got furious and snatched her phone. "200,000 Send the account number over. Don't bother her anymore!"

Then he hung up the phone at once.

Chapter 599

“Why did you hang up my phone?” Anya said. She still needed to discuss something about the penalty.

“Don’t you know that he was messing you about?” Evan returned her mobile phone and said.

“I knew it. But I’m not that kind of person who easily gives up.” Anya said. The point was that she didn’t want to lean on him with everything.

She wanted to be powerful and to stand by his side one day when they could embrace the highest status.

Enjoy the same view with him.

This was her future goal.

She didn’t want to be a woman relying on him, but an outstanding woman appealing to him.

“I don’t want you to be overwhelmed,” Evan said.

Feeling his care for her, Anya smiled and said, “I know. I can handle that.”

“Is this a new case?” Knowing she was too ambitious to change in a short time, Evan stopped arguing with her and switched the topic.

“Well.” Anya nodded and said, “A gown designed by a famous movie actress, but I have no idea who she is.”

“A movie star?” Evan narrowed his eyes and thought, “Is it his mother?”

Evan didn’t say anything thereafter and waited for Eudora to wake up with Anya.

Eudora slept for quite a long time. When she woke up and saw the white ceiling, making sure she was not at her witch grandma's house, she just stayed at her bed and looked at her dad and mom, quiet and without crying.

Seeing her serene face, Anya could set her mind at rest. But she planned to keep Eudora company for the whole day to make up for her.

She could finish her design later.

With her parents' company, Eudora's was quite calm. The doctor discharged her after he checked her and made sure she would not cry.

Anya carried Eudora back to the mansion. Evan asked Ellie to take care of Eudora, for the concern of Anya's exhaustion. Eudora didn't cry with Ellie's company and a familiar environment.

Anya went upstairs, intended to revise her design, and then send it to the assistant, Gunner.

But Evan stepped in while she entered the study.

Evan held Anya from behind and lifted her. Frightened by him, Anya said, "What are you doing? I'm revising my design!"

"Do you know there's a baby inside you right now?" Evan said, as he held her hands, sat on the chair, and put her on his legs gently

"I know. I will rest if tired." Anya felt touched by Evan's care.

But Evan watched her eyes affectionately, and with a spoiling, compelling tone, he said, "I don't allow you to be overloaded."

Seeing his uncompromising attitude, Anya pretended to be annoying. "You promised you would not interfere with my career." And she couldn't help hitting on his chest gently, as if sulking.

Chapter 600

"I want more and more.." Evan touched her lips with his.

It was warming up.

Anya was turned on. She couldn't help but quiver a bit.

Evan held her tight and touched her back as if he was comforting a kitten.

But it wasn't helping at all. It was suffocating for her.

She was haunted by the warmth of his tongue.

She was floating on clouds.

53%

When Evan licked her tongue harder, Anya couldn't help but step back. She stopped him. "Evan. It's enough. I can barely hold myself."

"It never is. You know I can't touch you. So please do let me kiss. Right?" His voice was extremely attractive.

Anya felt her heart was burning out of the chest.

He hadn't slept with her for quite some time. So Anya gave up and let him steal the kisses.

But he kissed her for an hour...

Her lips got swollen up.

But he wouldn't let go of her.

He kept kissing her until Anya could no longer hold it anymore. Finally, Evan said with a smile, "Honey, you seem tired. Would you like to take a bath?"

A bath?

Anya froze. She blushed at once. She said with her hand covering her lips, "I... I haven't done my draft yet. No. I can't take the bath."

She would fall asleep after a bath.

She wouldn't be able to finish her draft by then.

"Stop struggling. Just take a bath and relax." Evan took her to the bathroom as he spoke..

In the bathroom, a maid was already there to help with the water while another was putting petals into the tub.

Since they had all moved back, Evan hired a few more maids to help take care of both them and the kids.

The two maids didn't leave until they had filled the tub with water and petals.

After they left, Evan began to take off Anya's clothes. Anya wanted to refuse, but he was just way too strong. He tore her dress apart.

She couldn't help but complain when she saw the rags. "It cost me a few hundred dollars!"

"I'll pay you back with some worth thousands." Evan didn't stop.

He was good at it.

Anya felt bashful.

But it seemed that they hadn't been having their love moment like this for some time because of what happened between Gina and Eudora.

She felt a bit shy, but she finally yielded after resisting a little bit. She took the bath eventually.

She thought Evan would watch her from outside, so she moved downward on purpose for less exposure.

Yet as she was taking the bath, Evan started to take off his clothes as well.

His good figure was revealed after he took his clothes off. Anya had seen the abs before, but never this close.

She covered her eyes with a blush.

Then Evan stepped into the tub and pulled her into his arms. Then he lied down with her. "I'll be at your service."

Anya froze.

So embarrassing.

She didn't need his service.

"I can do it myself."

"I've never served anyone else before. You are my first customer. Evan blew some air to her car with a smile.

Anya blushed more. She pretended to stay calm and said, "Should I pay for your service then? How much?"

"I'm not on sales." Evan smiled. His wife had just learned how to be mean. He kissed her ears and said, "I'm only at your service, for free.

Anya was turned on.

She could barely stand it anymore!
