

Desires DH 611

Chapter 611

As everyone was chattering about such big news, Jake came over and he had known that Anya planned to resign.

He felt sorry for her. Anya was a very talented designer, and it would be a great loss to JK Couture if she left.

Therefore, he hoped she would reconsider.

Seeing Jake come over, the designers around them all went back to work for fear that he would scold them.

"Anya, are you determined to resign?" Jake asked sincerely.

Anya nodded. "I don't want the rules of Welton Group to be broken by me." She was talking about the rule that forbade office romances.

Other employees would also have secret romances in the office, which might harm the company's development.

"Well, I'm planning to promote you!" Jake wanted her to stay badly. "You're the most gifted designer I've ever tutored, and we need you at JK Couture," Jake pleaded.

"Mr. Hansoft, thank you for your trust... but I don't want to drag Mr. Welton down," said Anya in embarrassment.

Jake nodded. He understood what she meant, but he did not want to lose such a talented designer. "Anya, we will soon increase JK Couture's popularity. This is a critical period for the company. We really can't do without you, and JK Couture's progress would also benefit Welton Group," said Jake, Jake's words made Anya waver. Evan had originally intended to let her manage JK Couture, but she refused because she wasn't capable of running JK Couture. In terms of size, JK Couture was not too big, nor too small.

That was why she talked to him today about opening a studio.

She planned to start with a studio first, which was a bit smaller, and then to take over JK Couture when she was competent in the business.

"Mr. Hanson, I... I'll think about it and determine what to do." Anya was also reluctant to leave.

Jake saw she was hesitant and immediately said, "Well, I have an idea."

Anya's eyes lit up and she asked quickly, "What is it?"

"You can become a co-owner of JK Couture and continue working as a designer under that name. It's not breaking the rules: after all, a co-owner isn't considered a member of the company Jake continued, "You can ask Mr. Welton to set up a shell company, or start a studio for you."

Speaking of the studio, Anya said at once, "Actually, my original intention was to start a studio."

"That's just wonderful. You can continue working here and run the studio at the same time," said Jake.

Anya thought it was a good idea, so she nodded, "I'll go back and talk to him about it."

Okay" Jake wanted her to stay badly.

They had been working together for quite a long time. While he had a crush on her before, he appreciated her more.

After they made a deal, Jake went back to his office, and Anya continued to work.

Gina also got a problem at the same time.

John withdrew all his sponsorship of Gina after he asked for a divorce. Although Gina had some connections in the circle, she wasn't young anymore.

Despite winning the award for best actress before, she couldn't get as many endorsements as pop stars and online celebrities, at the age of 48.

Also, her range of character types was narrow.

Therefore, she was extremely upset when she learned that all her endorsements had been withdrawn by her husband.

She locked herself up in the company office alone for a long time.

She was very proud before, but now she was so beaten up.

Her husband abandoned her, her son didn't care about her, and even her mother-in-law no longer liked her.

The more Gina thought about it, the more upset she became. She used to be so proud. She had been highly regarded in the entertainment circle. After she married into the Welton family, she was also taken good care of by the Weltons.

Now she got nothing.

She couldn't just do nothing and wait to be abandoned. Gina decided to go meet Anya now.

Chapter 612

Gina called Anya and asked her to have a talk face to face. Anya asked for Evan's opinion. He let Anya ignore Gina since he knew Gina wouldn't realize her mistakes unless she was in despair.

Gina wouldn't treat Nathaniel and Eudora well.

Anya obeyed Evan. She neither picked up Gina's call nor met her.

Gina was angry. However, she could do nothing but go to see John.

When she arrived at the coffee club, she saw a girl playing with John's watch. Gina was so furious that she snatched the watch from the girl and slapped her.

Gina gritted her teeth and scolded, "You bitch! How dare you flirt with my husband?"

The girl's face blushed. She retorted, "Have you seen I flirt with him? If I flirted with him, he would have brought me home."

lirted with his

Gina was furious. "You're fired now. Leave here now!"

"No, I won't leave unless Mr. Welton asked me to leave," the girl retorted.

She was bold because she had overheard Gina and John discuss their divorce.

She dreamed of marrying John.

“How dare you?” Gina glared at her and said to one of the staff, “Drive her out!”

The staff replied. “Mr. Welton told us that Ms. Sidney was an important barista. We can’t drive her out!”

Gina was irritated and threw all the things in the coffee club on the floor.

She shouted, “How dare you? I’m Mrs. Welton”

After saying that, she cried.

The staff members were indifferent to her because John had asked them to ignore her.

Their indifference made Gina feel humiliated. She grabbed the girl and fought with her regardless of her status.

The young girl was bold and didn’t mind marrying a wealthy man in his fifties.

She dreamed of marrying a wealthy man.

The girl teased, “You are simply a has-been best actress, while I’m still young to make a baby with Mr. Welton. Can you do this?”

The girl’s words drove Gina mad. Gina grabbed her hair and hit her while the girl fought back.

John sat in his office and watched them fight through the surveillance calmly.

He wanted to teach Gina a lesson.

Therefore, he wouldn’t help her.

After a while, the other staff separated them in case they beat each other to death. Gina's hair and clothes were in a mess.

She looked shabby without a trace of elegance.

lad to leave. A group of ladies entered the coffee club and saw Gina and the the room.

They covered their mouths and almost screamed in surprise, "Gina?"

Gina covered her face in case they recognized her. She said, "No I'm not. After that, she ran out of the coffee club.

The ladies gossiped, "Is she Gina?"

"Yes, she is. What happened to her?"

"She is going to divorce Mr. Welton."

"Really? I can't wait to see what's gonna happen. She's so proud. What will she do after leaving the Welton's?"

"She's not young anymore. She can't gain fame in the entertainment circle. What a pity!"

"No wonder she looks shabby. Has she quarreled with someone? She looks funny."

"Hush, Mr. Welton might be inside."

“Should we have coffee the next day?”

“OK! Let’s leave here now!”

Chapter 613

Gina escaped in a sorry state and saw Stella waiting by the car. She wanted to find something to cover her when seeing her in such a condition.

Gina had gone mad and didn’t intend to hide from anyone. She just casually took a silk scarf to wrap it around her head, and then, she wandered in the streets.

Stella was worried and followed her.

They walked along the streets and Gina stopped until they reached a store for custom-made wedding dresses.

She saw Anya and Evan in it.

Gina watched as they went in and subconsciously followed. Noticing her action, Stella got in as well.

On the floor for distinguished clients in the store...

Evan took Anya to the service area. He wanted her to try on the latest dress.

“The manager told me that there are two wedding dresses that were transported from abroad by air. Give them a try.” Evan sat on the sofa and gently said to Anya.

He had a look of affection, which was something Gina had never seen.

-Her son was always aloof.

Gina was upset.

“Didn’t you promise to let me design it myself?” Anya deliberately said with anger.

“Your belly is bulging and you will easily get tired. Designing it yourself is a good choice, but you have to take care of yourself.” Evan was worried about her for he was afraid that she would be exhausted. He reached out to caress her head.

Anya beamed. “I know that you care about me.”

“Then try them on, will you?” Evan said to the assistant. “Bring us the wedding dress designed by Master Lucas.”

The assistant nodded with respect and went to fetch them the dress that was worth 800 thousand dollars.

The dress was designed by a world-famous master and everything on it was real.

The pearls on it were collected from the sea and the diamonds were dug out by human forces.

The assistant was so envious of this woman. There was actually a man who would spend so much for a dress that would only be worn once.

Soon, three assistants carefully took the wedding dress over.

And they displayed it in front of Anya.

Anya was a designer and her eyes lit up when she saw it. It was so beautiful.

“Do you like it?” asked Evan.

Anya nodded. “I do.”

“Go try it on. Evan got her up.

Anya nodded again and followed him to the dressing room.

Evan was waiting outside as the assistants helped Anya wear it.

She walked out after she was done.

The dress was inlaid with diamonds and pearls and Anya exposed her shoulders while in it. She looked like a fairy and even an abstinent man like Evan was fascinated.

His wife was always charming.

“Do I look good?” Anya caressed her belly and turned around.

Indulgence filled Evan’s eyes and he wore a smile on the corner of his mouth. He approached her, took her hand, and said like a profession, “You are so beautiful that I can’t wait to marry you.

Anya flushed at such a sentence and felt somewhat embarrassed.

However, in her heart was sweetness.

“Can I kiss you?” Sensing her shyness, Evan had such a desire as he lowered his head to kiss her.

Anya didn’t want to be kissed in front of so many people and stopped him. “Not now. There are outsiders here.”

“It doesn’t matter. I will kiss you just once.” Evan didn’t care about being watched for they would make it public soon.

They didn’t need to hide it from anyone.

Anya couldn’t resist his passionate eyes and nodded to compromise.

His kiss was gentle and he let go of her soon. But afterward, he hugged her with more affection.

Gina, who was not far away, had reddened eyes when seeing this scene. She quickly went downstairs and left the store because the image of her being in love with her husband surfaced in her mind.

But why had everything become like this?

Both her husband and son abandoned her and they even treated her as an enemy.

Gina couldn’t help crying after leaving the store.

She was utterly wrong.

She didn’t deserve so much love.

Chapter 614

Gina squatted down on one side of the road and cried for a long time. Clarice was almost heartbroken seeing that Gina cried so sadly. She said, “Gina, don’t be sad.”

Just now she saw that girl when she entered the bridal shop with Gina.

She once gave her a hard time in JK Couture, never thinking that Mr. Evan loved her so much.

Clarice felt lucky that she didn't go too far, or she would lose her job in entertainment. However, it seemed that Gina was not satisfied with Anya.

It didn't occur to Gina that Evan insisted on marrying her.

Clarice felt pity for Gina. She had worked for her for such a long time and she had never seen her so sad and miserable as today.

In the past, she was exquisite and elegant, surrounded by bodyguards and servants. But now, she looked like a woman who was driven out of her house.

"It seems that I have made a big mistake, Clarice" Gina wiped her eyes and stood up, looking at the busy traffic on the road.

"Gina, everyone makes mistakes. It's OK as long as we correct our mistakes. This was all Clarice got because she did not know what exactly happened.

In case Gina might commit suicide.

Though not as popular as other young stars, she was still famous

Clarice would be held responsible if something bad happened.

"If you treated someone very badly and caused her mental illness, do you think that person would forgive you?" The cry made Gina feel dizzy. This was the first time that she felt so helpless and tired.

It seemed that her life had lost all meaning.

"What?" Not knowing what had happened, Clarice was in a daze-

“You see, if you were she, you would not forgive me,” Gina said mockingly.

Clarice shook her head at once and said, “Gina... how do you know that she won’t forgive you if you don’t even try? People say that a fault confessed is half redressed. Things will get better if you make up for her.”

Clarice didn’t know how to make her feel better. That was all she got.

*I always want my son to marry a girl from a wealthy family. But in fact, I didn’t come from a wealthy family either. Gina said slowly and mockingly.

Clarice was a little surprised.

She thought Gina was also from a wealthy family.

“I went into entertainment because of my face. I was lucky to have met John. He didn’t care about my background and married me. Because I had a humble background, I wanted my son to marry a girl from a rich and influential family to bridge the gap.

“It turned out Evan didn’t care about it just like his father. Instead, people who rose from obscurity just like me cared too much about it.”

Because she didn’t want to lose face in front of other rich ladies.

As she spoke, her sharp eyes became tender somehow.

It was all about her sense of inferiority.

So she craved for a wealthy daughter-in-law to make up for her humble background.

“Gina... Maybe... you can try to talk to them.” Clarice comforted her.

Gina didn't reply immediately. Looking at the bridal shop in the distance, she said, "I will. Let's go back first." At least she had to make up for Eudora.

Clarice nodded. "I'll drive."

Chapter 615

In a bridal shop.

After changing out of the wedding dress, Anya walked to Evan. She wanted to go slowly. "You don't want to try more dresses on?"

"No, I like the first dress that I tried on. She loved that dress at first sight.

After all, it was made by a famous designer.

home now, but Evan stood up and said

"Then I'll order it for you. I don't want you to be so tired." Evan touched her face gently and continued, "Just now, someone came here."

Anya raised her eyebrows and looked puzzled. "Just now? But I didn't see anyone.

They were in the VIP lounge. Anya didn't see anyone but some staff.

Evan rubbed at her nose lovingly and said. "My mother came here just now."

Hearing that, Anya was nervous. "Where is she now?"

Evan held her hand and went downstairs slowly, saying gently. "I guess she's not here now. She will accept you as her daughter-in-law since she chooses to come here."

-Evan knew his mother well.

She was a proud woman and it was difficult for her to give in. However, she would change her attitude when she realized she had no choice.

"How can you be so certain of this?" Anya asked curiously.

Anya thought Evan was truly a strong man because he seemed to manage all the things well.

When his mother had problems with his wife, a man normally would criticize either his mother or his wife.

After all, it was so hard to make both sides happy.

However, Evan dealt with this issue in a peaceful way.

Evan smiled and said, "I'm sure of everything. Don't worry about that. You should only take care of yourself and the baby. Since my mother knew she was wrong, she will be nice to you."

Anya nodded and smiled.

Now, Gina didn't dare to do anything. Many entertainers had been spreading the gossip about whether John would divorce her. However, Gina made nothing of it. She only thought about what she could do to make up for Eudora.

A few days later, Evan and Anya planned to go to the spa.

Evan wanted their relationship to be known to the public for two reasons. Firstly, he wanted everyone to know that Anya would be his wife. Secondly, he intended to have a wedding as early as possible.

Therefore, Evan had asked the PR department to notify the media of the news that he was going to get married before going to the spa.

Thus, a lot of news about the marriage of the CEO of Welton Group was posted on social media.

The news had spread quickly.

Soon, Shane and Sydney knew that as well. Although they knew Anya was Evan's girlfriend, they didn't expect Evan would marry her.

Shane liked Anya, so he was annoyed to know Anya was going to get married to Evan.

Evan did better in business than Shane. Now Evan n even got the woman Shane li

Thought of this, Shane couldn't control his anger.

Sydney was also vexed. Her family went bankrupt because of Anya, but Anya was going to have a happy marriage.

Sydney intended to stop Anya from marrying Evan.

Therefore, she went to the study to see Shane after knowing the news.

Shane was busy with his work and Sydney's appearance displeased him. He said sullenly, "What are you in for?"

"Mr. Brown, do you know that Anya is going to get married?" Ignoring his impatience, Sydney walked over and said sweetly.

Shane glanced at her and took a sip of coffee. Then he said indifferently, "What do you want?"

Chapter 616

"It was her who bankrupted us and got us trapped in poverty. How could I not hate her and said, "Mr. Brown, you are also pissed off at her, aren't you?"

Sydney walked to the desk of Shane.

Shane put down his coffee cup and sized up Sydney, who would not leave his villa. Then he tittered, "I don't need you to remind me of that, Ms. MacMillan. Don't beat about the bush."

Though the news of the marriage between Evan and Anya threw him, he would not show his emotions before Sydney.

"Anya's mother used to work as a prostitute. My father liked her and had a one-night stand with her. She got pregnant and forced my father to marry her. Do you think the Weltons would tolerate that if they know it?" Sydney said as she sneered.

"A prostitute? That should be traced back to dozens of years ago. Do you have any proof?" Shane picked up a thing on his desk and said as he turned it over.

"I do have. I can go home now to get it." Sydney made no secret of her excitement and left for home.

in Nordeny.

Comparably, Shane was calmer. He was curious how come he did not know that Anya's mother used to be a prostitute.

As far as he could know, Anya's mother should be a talented beauty that had graduated from a top university

Though her mother didn't come from an affluent family, she should not be that poor to be a prostitute.

Perhaps there was a story.

Shane failed to figure it out and could only wait till Sydney got the proof.

When Sydney returned home to find the proof, Anya was busy preparing for the spa and the disclosure of their relationship.

Gina also knew that they were going to the spa with Eudora.

After two days of repentance, she drove to a supermarket with her assistant and bought many toys and snacks that would be fancied by kids. Then she headed back to the mansion.

She did not knock on the door when she arrived. John had told her that Eudora suffered post-traumatic stress disorder because of her.

And Eudora would get sick at the sight of her.

She was afraid that Eudora would be scared if she showed up suddenly.

Therefore, she gave Anya a phone call.

Anya answered her call when Gina felt embarrassed and did not know what to say.

After all, she used to be the best actress that had been honored by so many people.

It was really embarrassing to talk with her as Gina had fallen out with her.

She just held the phone without a word. Anya heard no voice and could only speak first, "How can I help you?"

Gina opened her mouth when she heard Anya's voice. "I am sorry. Anya, for everything."

As Evan had expected, Gina apologized to her.

"I am also sorry for Eudora's thing. As her grandmother, I did not take good care of her and even scared her." Gina took a deep breath and continued, "I don't know if you can forgive me. I know I made a mistake after so many things.

Gina sounded sincere. Anya knew she was telling the truth and thought for a short while. She fears you."

"I could try to let her accept me gradually."

I need to discuss it with Evan. I got to go."

Before Anya hung up. Gina said hastily, "Anya, I am sorry."

Then she hung up the phone. She did not expect that Anya could forgive her so soon.

53%

Do not see you now.

All she wanted was to reunite with her family and embraced Anya and the children to be part of the family.

She wanted to achieve that no matter how long it would take.

Chapter 617

The cat dandy was surprised by Commode Later, ya sent a message to Evan. "Evan, Gina apologized to me and wedding for Radio Burdday yes Regipto you who to for "

hops sted her you worried I mugh the rude to your mother

Sing than conddaughing, "You podp

"four form to your mother?

cordeon your own of Contrally regrets what she did, you can allow her to meet Eudora

I know. By the way I plan to sign today and work in 1 Costure as a partner. If so, people wouldn't gossip about our office at Korut Baran worded. He loved the new out of the window and typed down the words flirtatiously.

"Anya, what do you

Se hably. He had her pressing his sensual pan

Town of 23 grand and be sued after Says. It was torturing for him to restrain himself.

what he wanted and implied namfully, "I thought you saw what I wore this morning. I wear a white shirt.

 tyre for

It was Otowwe kweed that she who wore the skin for her.

need with pen and continued, "I want to see it?

kupan beating fast when she sew this message She knew that Evan had been suppressing his lust and he was in an

Thentar bugs wanted to do thing he could to satisfy her

ed her phone and took a well and sur

He regretted what he had done. He shouldn't have thrted with Aya when she was pregnant. He felt lust just because of her

Framed himself doom He duurt ask Anya for more photos because he needed to focus on working Alter mark, Fran had something to deal with Thereone, Anya went back to the mansion alone.

Four right, worhabdren were astery and tan went back

Fren kid the cabiners bestream first and save them deegang For fear of awakening them, he sat by their bed for at

Sitting on the bed Anya was reading a designing magazine. She wore a loose silk gown

Her face was white and beautiful and her long black hair hung down on the shoulder. The gown was cut low over the bosom, leaving her fair skin exposed Anya turned the page with her white and slender fingers.

Evan stood in the doorway and fixed his eyes on Anya. He felt so hot and wanted to touch her. Then he unbuttoned his collar.

He needed to cool himself down.

His wife was so pretty, but now he couldn't touch her. That may be the worst thing of his life.

Chapter 618

Anya finally noticed Evan after he stood in the doorway for a while. She closed the magazine and asked him, "Why are you standing there?"

She felt that someone was standing in the doorway when she was reading magazines. Her instinct was soon proven right.

"I'm admiring my wife, Evan said under the light. There was a gentle look on his face. He continued, "I feel that I shall meet and marry you much earlier.

"Then I wouldn't have been alone for twenty-eight years."

Anya smiled sweetly to herself upon hearing his words. She said, "It's not that late now."

Evan nodded. He walked slowly to her and wrapped her in his arms. Then he left a gentle kiss on her forehead and said, "We will go public tomorrow. Are you scared?"

"Not at all. I won't be scared if you are by my side," Anya replied gently. She wrapped her arms around his neck and kissed him back softly.

"That's good. You know how to care for your husband." Evan pinched her nose. He put her on his lap and felt the baby's heartbeat in her belly which was still quite flat..

Evan was slightly thrilled, "Am I going to be a father in about nine months?"

He already missed Nathaniel and Eudora's birth and childhood. Now he didn't want to feel regret for this baby, too.

Anya asked him, "Are you happy that you are a daddy once more?"

Evan smiled, "What do you think?"

"We must remain our balance among the kids after the baby is born or they may feel uncomfortable." Anya was afraid that Evan would pay all his attention to this baby instead of Nathanie and Eudora.

"Don't worry. I will," Evan said. He would treasure Nathaniel and Eudora as much as this baby.

He would give everything he had to his kids.

Anya nodded and buried her head in his arms. She felt very happy now.

She had everything. She had her husband, her kids, and people who cared for them like Mdm Welton.

She felt that her deceased mother would be happy to see this. She would never lead a hard life once again.

At the same time, something happened at the MacMillan's.

Sydney rarely came back, but she did it today. Melissa grabbed her by the hand and checked her again and again. She was afraid that Sydney might be abused at Shane's place.

She was finally relieved when she found out that there was no scar.

Although Shane was wealthy, he was kind of a freak. He loved torturing women. Melissa didn't agree to send her daughter at first, but the MacMillan family needed a strong sponsor given the dilemma they were put in now.

Otherwise, they wouldn't be able to survive.

Melissa had to let her daughter go to Shane's place.

"Sydney, you had a rough time. We wouldn't be like this thought about Anya.

if not for Anya." Melissa ground her teeth in hatred when she

That bitch ruined the MacMillan family.

"Mom, I come back for her this time." Sydney hated her, too.

She thought to herself, "We are in such a desperate situation while she marries a rich husband. How can I stop envying her?"

"What happen to her this time?" Melissa rarely left home recently. She didn't know about what was going on outside.

“Anya will marry into a wealthy family!” Sydney said with deep hatred.

Chapter 619

“Really?” Melissa was shocked. The Welton family was one of the best giants in Nordeny. Why would they accept a girl like Anya?

Melissa couldn't believe it.

“Do you think I'm joking with you?” Sydney frowned and continued, “Mom, I came back to discuss this with you. You also know the previous scandals of Anya's mother, right?”

“What do you mean?” Melissa asked with a frown, not reacting for a moment.

“Have you forgotten this? You told me Anya's mother used to be a hostess in a nightclub when she was in college and knew my father because of it, right?” The MacMillan family rarely mentioned this because it was a scandal.

But this would be known sooner or later.

Melissa finally remembered this, “Yes, indeed.”

Back then, Anya's mother was one of the most beautiful girls at Nordeny University of Political Science and Law. However, somehow, she went to the nightclub to work for a while.

During this time, she met Cornelius.

“Then she became pregnant suddenly and married him in a hurry?”

But in the second year after marriage, Melissa met Cornelius at a party. Cornelius was drunk and told her it was too soon. They had sex only once and she became pregnant.

At that time, people probably wondered if this was his child, so he married her.

Melissa's family was not rich, but it was middle class and much better than Anya's mother's family.

Cornelius didn't like that woman at the time, but she didn't know why he would marry her because she was pregnant. Of course, after marrying him, she knew that it was his father's decision.

His father was seriously ill and wanted a great-grandson. Only in this way could he give the MacMillan Group to Cornelius.

Thus, Cornelius married her in a hurry.

"Mom, do you have any evidence or photos? Tomorrow, the Welton Group will officially announce their marriage. I won't make them happy." Thinking of tomorrow's grand official announcement, Sydney was particularly jealous and angry.

"Let me think." Melissa was in contemplation.

She didn't care about it at the time, because when she fell in love with Cornelius, he already disliked Anya's mother. However, he didn't want to say why he dislikes her.

Melissa didn't want to lose him, so she didn't think about it. Now she thought the thing he couldn't tell was not that she was working in the nightclub for a while, but her sudden pregnancy.

Cornelius probably didn't want to be embarrassed or suspect that this child was not his.

"So, he subconsciously disliked Anya's mother?"

Melissa suddenly felt that this made sense and instantly stood up. "Let me find it in my bedroom. Your father took pictures in that nightclub back then."

When Cornelius was young, he often went to places like nightclubs and dance halls.

Chapter 620

“Mom, check this out. Does this man look like Anya?” Sydney exclaimed as if she had discovered a new world.

Since she became a MacMillan, everyone in the family compared her with Anya, saying that she looked worse.

Though they were similar Anya was much more delicate than her.

The so-called similarity was the result of Sydney copying Anya’s style.

Melissa took a serious look after hearing Sydney’s shout. They indeed looked alike. “I think so. I even think that he is Anya’s father.”

“Mom, can Anya not be one of us?” Sydney continued.

Melissa furrowed her brows. “I asked the same question back then but your father guaranteed that she is his daughter.”

“That was for the sake of his self-esteem.” Sydney didn’t believe what her father said.

Nobody would admit to being cuckolded.

“Can you go to the prison and ask dad?” Sydney wanted to ruin Anya’s reputation with this.

At that time, everyone would know that the young lady of the Welton family had a whore as her mother and she was a bastard.

Also, Sydney could find a man to act as Anya's father.

All she had to do was mess with the press conference.

Sydney was excited when she thought like this.

However, she needed backers to complete her plan, thus, she called Shane. "Mr. Brown, I have a big surprise for you."

Shane was bathing and was disgusted with her making a fuss. He said impatiently. "What surprise?"

"Anya is not one of us, Sydney said proudly.

Shane raised his brows. "What do you mean?"

"Isn't it clear? She is a bastard," said Sydney gloomily.

"So what?" Shane replied flatly.

"So we can embarrass them at tomorrow's press conference. Sydney even wanted to cheer up for her perfect plan.

Only she could come up with such a wonderful plot.

"Are you sure?" Shane was afraid that it was a misunderstanding and that Evan would get the goods on him..

I am, so I hope you will help me tomorrow," Sydney said gently

"As long as you are confident, I will help," Shane responded indifferently.

“Tam.

“Okay.” It would be good since someone offered to stand up for him.

Shane hung up and thought about the proposal in the bathtub.

Anya was not a MacMillan

Then, who was her biological father?

Shane didn’t want to dig this thing up. He just wanted to make things difficult for Evan.

The next day, the official announcement of the wedding was imminent.

To join it, Anya let the makeup artist put on light makeup on her and to cover her bulging belly, she didn’t wear a tight dress.

Instead, she wore a loose white laced one.

Everything was ready and Evan came to pick her up for the venue. Nothing happened on the way there and they were immersed in sweetness until they reached the venue.

Just as it was time to make the announcement. Sydney suddenly came in with a middle-aged man.