

Desperation 100

Chapter 100

Those reporters at the scene were stunned after hearing Laura's words.

A complete video?

Wasn't the full version that Frankie posted online?

On the stage, Laura took out the USB flash disk that Ashley gave to her. She inserted it into a computer to play the video.

The video was recorded in the living room of the Ramos Villa.

Evan looked at Ashley standing beside the sofa with an angry face and shouted, "Ashley! Do you want to piss me off? Why are you so disobedient?"

With a cold face, Bertha to Ashley and said, to your dad! Do you hear me?"

"Admit your mistake.

Those reporters saw this video and were very impatient.

What was going on?

This video further proved that Ashley did something wrong, and she made Evan and Bertha angry.

However, their expressions changed when they saw the following pictures, and they looked in disbelief.

In the video, Evan yelled at Ashley, "Jessica just broke your doll and slashed your leg with scissors. Why do you cling to it?"

Jessica cried just now."

Ashley stood there, not caring about the wound on her leg. She lowered her head sadly. "That rag doll...was a meeting gift that my grandma when she adopted me from the orphanage... After she passed away, I kept that doll with me..."

However, Evan interrupted her angrily, "I don't care about it. Jessica cried because of you. You must apologize to her!"

Ashley pressed her lips and didn't speak.

Bertha pushed Ashley hard and urged impatiently, "Are you deaf? You damn girl! You must apologize to Jessica right now. How could I have such an annoying daughter like you?"

Ashley was pushed, staggered for two steps, and almost fell.

But she didn't apologize to Jessica.

Evan was so angry that he grabbed the ashtray on the coffee table and smashed it at Ashley's head.

Those reporters were nervous when they saw this.

What would happen if the ashtray hit Ashley's head? It would crash the head and cause bleeding.

Ashley was Evan's biological daughter. How could Evan hit her ruthlessly?

The following pictures in the video showed that the ashtray didn't fall on Ashley's head. Instead, it flew toward Bertha, who was standing beside Ashley.

When Bertha was about to be hit by the ashtray, Ashley pushed her away in a hurry.

With a bang, the ashtray fell to the ground and shattered into pieces.

Bertha fell onto the soft sofa without any harm.

The video ended here.

The huge hall was noisy just now, but now, it was so quiet that people could hear their breathing.

It took dozens of seconds before some reporters stammered in disbelief.

"This... Ashley pushed Bertha away to save her..."

"If Ashley hadn't pushed Bertha away, Bertha would have been hit by the ashtray."

"Bertha had just scolded Ashley, but Ashley still saved her. Who said she was not good to Bertha?"

'Besides, Jessica broke Ashley's doll and cut Ashley's leg with a knife, but Evan and Bertha asked Ashley to apologize to Jessica! How could there be such partial parents?!"

"They are not just partiality but also doited. Ashley didn't even care about the injury on her leg that Jessica cut. She just felt sad about the broken doll, which was the first gift her grandmother gave her, and her grandmother's relic. But Jessica broke it..."

“Oh my goodness! I was very impressed...”

Everyone initially thought Ashley was an unqualified daughter.

But the facts showed that Evan and Bertha were inadequate parents.

They thought Ashley was rude to her biological mother, but the fact was that Evan and Bertha abused Ashley indiscriminately.

Evan hit Ashley with an ashtray without hesitation, and Bertha scolded Ashley with hateful words. They never regarded Ashley as their daughter.

Frankie was Ashley’s brother, but he helped his parents to do bad things.

He posted the incomplete video online to confuse right and wrong, blackened Ashley’s name, and even led netizens to abuse

Ashley online.

Ashley was poor. She had such an impersonal family.

Those reporters looked at each other in embarrassment, not knowing what to say.

They thought they were the righteous party seeking justice for Bertha. But they never expected that they were used by someone with ulterior motives to target innocent and pitiful people...

Those reporters looked at Ashley, who was calm all the time.

A female reporter was deeply moved. She said with tears, “Ashley, is this why you severed ties with the Ramos family? If so, I support you!”

Those reporters speculated that Ashley’s severing relations with the Ramos family was due to her own fault.

Now, it seemed that it was the Ramos family’s fault.

Joseph finally felt relieved for Ashley when he saw the situation reversed.

But he didn’t expect that Ashley had been bullied like this by the Ramos family...

On the stage, Laura looked at Ashley.

Ashley nodded slightly.

Laura knew her meaning. She calmed down, then glanced at those reporters and said coldly, "As for Frankie, he posted the clipped video online, which constituted false accusations and slandered against Ashley. He seriously damaged Ashley's rights and interests.

We have called the police and will prosecute Frankie."

At the Ramos Villa, Frankie saw the reversal of the press conference and stood up from the sofa abruptly. His face was gloomy and looked terrifying.

He thought. Damn it! How did Ashley get the complete version of the video?"

Bertha was very nervous and patted her chest anxiously. "What should we do now? Everything was exposed..."

Jessica supported her and comforted her. "Mom, don't worry. Frankie, even if Ashley said that she called the police, she was warning us. She has always compromised on us. This time, she won't..."

However, a servant hurriedly ran into the living room before Jessica finished speaking.

"Mr. Ramos, the police are here! They said...said..."

The servant hesitated and dared not to speak.

Several police officers had walked in with solemn faces.

"Frankie, we received a call. You posted false news online and defamed Ashley. Your behavior had a huge impact on Ashley.

The evidence is conclusive. You are under arrest."

Frankie clenched his fists. His face was unprecedentedly gloomy.

He thought, 'Ashley, you dared call the police! How could you be so cruel? I'm your brother! Do you really want me to be arrested?!'

Frankie was the Ramos Group's president. If the police arrested him, it would be a great shame for him.