

Desperation 113

Chapter 113

Ashley couldn't help but take another look to make sure she saw it right.

Valentin pinned her WhatsApp account to the top of his contacts.

More importantly, she was the only one pinned at the top.

What surprised her more was how Valentin noted her account.

It was the number "61".

Ashley pondered, "What does that mean? My birthday isn't June 1st. That's strange."

Just as she was confused, Valentin flicked her forehead. "What's in your mind?"

Ashley snapped back to reality, touched her forehead, and decided to get down to business first. "I sent a message to you because there is something I want to talk to you."

Valentin walked to the sofa and sat down. "Huh?"

Ashley also walked over. "I blurted out something when I was chatting.

with Joseph. Now that he knows we have slept separately all the time, will he tell Grandpa?"

Valentin looked up at her.

After a few seconds, he tapped on the armrest of the sofa with some regret in his voice.

"What should we do? Ashley, it seems you have to sleep with me every day from now on."

Ashley was lost for words for a while.

She had already been mentally prepared and knew that Joseph would tell Zain.

'Forget it. What's the big deal? We have slept together before. She comforted herself in her mind.

Ashley remembered that strange note and couldn't help but ask, "Valentin, is my birthday in June?"

Valentin stood up in confusion, put the back of his hand on her forehead, and said in a joking tone, "Are you having a fever?"

"Did you even forget your birthday?"

Of course, Ashley didn't forget her birthday.

She only felt so weird about the number.

Ashley went to the airport in the morning to pick up Jaden, who was going to stay in Zyrrinthia for a period.

Jaden's surname was Walter.

The Walter family was one of the ten most noble and established families in Takydo and enjoyed a high reputation.

Back then, Ashley co-founded Glory Youveile with Jaden.

Arriving at the airport, Ashley got out of the car wearing a mask and saw a large group of reporters surrounding the exit.

Jaden liked to be high-profile and told the public about his trip to Zyrrinthia. As soon as the reporters heard one of the founders of Glory Youveile would come to Zyrrinthia, they immediately came over to take photos with their camera equipment.

Seeing so many reporters, Ashley decisively turned around and left.

However, a sharp-eyed reporter recognized her before she had taken several steps. The reporter ran over immediately and shouted her name. "Ashley! Ashley is there!"

His loud voice attracted the attention of the pedestrians around him.

Some passers-by were Ashley's fans and came over cheerfully.

Ashley was helpless and couldn't leave now.

Some fans were so excited that they swamped the place where Ashley stood.

Ashley immediately stopped them and said, "Everyone, please slow down and don't shove."

Being touched by her words, the fans cheered frantically and took the initiative to maintain order.

The reporters outside the crowd held up their cameras and kept taking pictures. "Ashley, why did you suddenly appear at the airport? Will you go abroad recently?"

Ashley answered simply, "I came to pick someone up."

Another reporter asked, "A friend or your family?"

Hearing the question, the reporter next to him snorted, "How could Ashley have any family? The Ramos family is not worthy of her family at all!"

Another reporter immediately stopped him. "Keep your voice down! Frankie and Jessica are not far away!"

Ashley raised an eyebrow with interest and looked not far away. Then, she saw Frankie with a stern look and Jessica who was following him frailly.

The moment Frankie saw Ashley, his face instantly darkened, imbued. with hatred and resentment.

Jessica asked softly, "Frankie, Ashley just said she came to pick someone. up at the airport..."

Frankie snorted coldly, "What kind of person could she pick up? It must be some kind of idle friend she made somewhere! Let's wait for Jaden here. When he comes out, we'll ask him if he could introduce us to Attelia."

Jessica nodded. "Okay."

You say

Frankie asked, "Jessica, did before that you knew Jaden's. assistant?"

Jessica nodded. "Yes, Jaden's assistant and I were classmates in college. I bet Jaden brings his assistant with him to Zyrrinthia this time. When Jaden comes out of the airport, we can get to know him through his.

assistant.

Frankie was delighted. "Jessica, fortunately, we have you. Otherwise, we wouldn't even have a chance to make friends with Jaden."

If they couldn't get close to Jaden, they wouldn't be able to meet Attelia, let alone save the Ramos family's clothing brand.

It made things a lot easier as Jessica knew Jaden's assistant.

Frankie thought, 'That's my good sister, unlike that heartless woman. Ashley only knows how to target our family!'

The reporters nearby heard the conversation between Frankie and Jessica and couldn't help but whisper in surprise.

"No way. Jaden's family background is prominent, and he is the founder of Glory Youveile. His assistant must be extraordinary.

Jessica even knows Jaden's assistant. How could she have so many connections?"

"Although Jessica is not related to the Ramos family, she has been living a rich life since she was a child and is a real debutante!"

Hearing these flattering words, Jessica smoothed her hair gracefully, and her vanity was greatly satisfied.

Ashley came to pick up her unimportant friend, while Jessica had the opportunity to meet the founder of Glory Youveile. This huge difference made Jessica feel proud as if she had proved her superiority over Ashley,

At this moment, there was a noise at the airport exit.

Ashley looked over, and a tall figure came into her view.

He had a slender figure, broad shoulders, and a narrow waist, as if he was born to be a model. His good appearance aroused exclamations as soon as he appeared in public.

The most stunning part was his blue eyes, which were like the sparkling sea, exuding irresistible charm.

Meeting Jaden's gaze, Ashley showed a bright smile.

She thought, "This guy is still as flamboyant as before even after a period."

The reporters nearby immediately took pictures with their cameras.

Jaden came out of the airport with his assistant. When he was about to walk in Ashley's direction, a person suddenly rushed over and stopped him.

"Hello, Mr. Walter, I'm Frankie Ramos, the president of the Ramos Group. So sorry to meet you in this way today. Please forgive my disturbance."

Jaden paused when he heard Frankie's name.

Seeing he was willing to stop, Frankie felt a surge of joy, not expecting he would get the opportunity to talk to Jaden so smoothly.
