

Desperation 115

Chapter 115

Jaden looked at the screen of Ashley's mobile phone and saw the sender of the email was Frankie at a glance.

The email was: [Hello, Attelia. I'm sorry to contact you in such a discourteous way. I tried to meet you through Mr. Walter, but unfortunately, I didn't get the chance. The Ramos Group's clothing brand. once joined the Millein Fashion Association, which you approved. I wonder if you still remember it. But a few days ago, the Ramos Group's clothing brand was suddenly expelled from the association for unknown reasons... Not long ago, I heard you retired from Glory Youveile. I sincerely ask if you are willing to take up the position of chief designer of the Ramos Group. We will offer you the most handsome salary. I know that given the current situation of the Ramos Group, it would be outrageous to invite such a famous designer like you, but I still want to take the liberty of asking if I can have the honor of meeting you.]

After reading this email, Jaden didn't know how to describe his mood. He just thought it was ridiculous.

"Is Frankie an idiot? You didn't even want to be the chief designer of Glory Youveile. How dare he invite you to be the designer of the Ramos Group? He must be dreaming!"

Ashley sat on the armchair nearby, leaned back, and said, "Frankie values profit the most. Now that the Ramos family has a negative image and bleak business, he urgently needs someone to turn the tide."

Jaden read the email again. The more he read it, the more ridiculous he felt.

"Frankie begs you to help him bring the Ramos family's clothing brand back to life. But he was so tough when he bullied you before.

"Will you meet this bastard?"

Ashley raised her eyebrows. "I can't believe he's giving me a chance to screw him up right after I came up with this idea. Oh, let me think about. how to give him a surprise."

Jaden heard this and squinted his blue eyes with a surprised look. "Dear, are you serious? Are you no longer defending the Ramos family but are starting to take the initiative to deal with them?"

Ashley glanced at him coldly. "Don't call me dear."

Jaden was a mixed-race man and grew up in a more open environment. He was outgoing, and he always called her "dear" or said "I miss you".

He was not angry but smiled. His eyes were deep and charming. His sea-like blue eyes were even more beautiful when he smiled, making look handsome and attractive.

While Jaden and Ashley were talking, Damon had already placed the luggage.

Ashley glanced at the time and was about to get up when her mobile. phone rang. It was a call from Valentin. She answered it, said a few words, and then hung up.

Jaden glanced at the caller ID and raised his eyebrows slightly. "This name... I have seen it. Isn't it..."

Ashley opened a bottle of water and took a sip. "Valentin."

Jaden nodded excitedly. "Yes! The man is your fiancé. He has a so-called engagement with you, right?!"

Ashley was stunned.

She almost spit out the water in her mouth and hurriedly wiped the water stains from her lips with a tissue. Her eyes widened in surprise. "How did you know it?"

Jaden shrugged and said casually, "Isn't it common knowledge?"

Ashley put down the tissue and said, "Don't mention it again."

Upon hearing this, Jaden smiled, "Dear, did I say something wrong? Well, I'll listen to you anyway."

Ashley didn't answer him. "Good. Don't talk nonsense anymore."

She thought, 'My fiancé? It sounds weird.

Jaden shrugged and continued, "I didn't talk nonsense. Didn't Valentin grow up with you and have a so-called engagement with you? So, to some extent, he is your fiancé."

Ashley looked at Jaden, feeling amused and puzzled. "I have only mentioned these things to you twice, and you remember them quite clearly."

Jaden smiled, "Of course. I remember everything Attelia told me."

Ashley rolled her eyes at him.

Jaden thought for a moment and squinted his blue eyes. "Don't take the so-called engagement seriously."

"Okay, let's not talk about this for now! Ashley stood up, not wanting to talk to Jaden about this anymore. She waved her hand generously as if she were queen. "Go. Let me take you to eat!"

Ashley took Jaden and Damon to the restaurant for lunch.

After lunch, Jaden asked Damon to return to the villa first. He wanted to take a walk on the street with Ashley.

There were lush sycamore trees on both sides of the road. The wind blew, and a few leaves swirled and fell on pedestrians' shoulders.

Jaden saw a men's clothing store and walked in with interest.

Ashley shook her head helplessly. Jaden liked various trinkets. She put on a hat and mask and followed him into the store.

Jaden glanced around the store and was not interested in these expensive clothes.

Suddenly, his blue eyes widened slightly in surprise. He picked up a unique brooch.

This brooch was not as gorgeous and noble as the usual ones but had the shape of medieval armor, which was very special.

It was a men's clothing store. Ashley had nothing to buy, so she leisurely leaned against the counter and waited for Jaden.

Seeing Jaden interested in a brooch and hesitating whether to buy it, Ashley got a little bored waiting for him. "Haven't you decided yet? You're not short of money anyway, or I can buy it for you as a gift."

Jaden turned his head and looked over when he heard this.

Under the bright light of the store, he looked at the woman in a red dress. She had tender skin and long, wavy hair. Her delicate fingers were tapping the glass counter rhythmically. It seemed that she got bored waiting for him.

Ashley took out her bank card and was about to pay for him.

Jaden smiled and walked toward her. "Dear, are you so impatient when shopping with me?"

Ashley squinted at him. "Dare you call me dear again?"

Jaden suddenly felt that there was a hint of threat in her voice. He raise his hands in surrender. "Okay, okay. I've already chosen."

Only then was Ashley satisfied. She saw a pair of men's cufflinks not far away. They were made of obsidian and had a nice shape. She smiled and decisively bought them.

She thought, "The pair of cufflinks are quite suitable for my fiancé...Valentin very well.

Jaden saw that Ashley had just bought a pair of men's cufflinks. He looked at her and asked, "This pair of cufflinks are not for me. Who did you buy it for?"

Ashley didn't bother to answer.

Jaden covered his chest with a sad look, and his blue eyes were full of depression. "You are going shopping with me but thinking about another man. Am I still your best partner?"

Ashley was speechless.

Joseph drove a flashy pink sports car and stopped at the Kingsley Villa. He got out of the car, slammed the door, and ran toward the living room. "Valentin! Valentin!"

He rushed into the living room and saw Valentin coming down the stairs, He immediately ran over and asked, "Have you read today's news?"
