

Desperation 129

Chapter 129

Ashley smiled and stretched out her hand to support Sean, who had difficulty walking. "Mr. Ashworth, I heard Mrs. Ashworth likes the dress. Glory Youveile lately launched, which is named Dimi."

Sean nodded in a daze. "Yeah, my wife likes it very much, but the dress is only for display and not for sale, so I have never got it."

Frankie looked at Ashley's behavior with dissatisfaction and sneered coldly, "What do you mean, Ashley?"

He suspected Ashley had worked against him to stop the Ramos Group signing with Sean.

But he thought Ashley couldn't make it.

Ashley grinned and looked more charming with delicate features.

She glanced at Frankie causally, then looked at Sean solemnly and spoke clearly.

"Joseph from Royal Entertainment would give you Dimi for free, hoping to make up for Mrs. Ashworth's regret.

Sean couldn't believe Ashley's words for a moment, and he widened his eyes slightly in shock. "For real?"

Ashley chuckled reassuringly, "Of course."

After speaking, she waved to Jaden and Joseph and asked them to come over.

Jaden smiled gently, "Joseph will give you Dimi from Glory Youveile for free, Mr. Ashworth."

Sean stared at Jaden for a moment before realizing that the handsome. guy before him was Jaden, the founder of Glory

Youveile.

He then believed in Jaden's promise.

Sean's hands even trembled with excitement.

His wife could finally wear the original dress she had longed for.

Sean looked at Frankie apologetically, and the wrinkles on his face showed the vicissitudes of life. "I'm sorry, Mr. Ramos. My wife still likes the original dress the most.”

Frankie immediately lost his temper and questioned with anger, “Do you want to break the contract, Mr. Ashworth?”

Sean sighed awkwardly, “The Royal Entertainment’s handlers came to me first, and I already agreed to sign with them, but you used my wife to make me change my mind. Now, Joseph from Royal Entertainment can. give my wife the original dress, and I have to sign with them to repay their kindness. I’m so sorry.”

As Sean spoke, he looked at Joseph sincerely. “You don’t need to give that dress away for free, Mr. Fox. I don’t want to take advantage of you and intend to buy it at the original price.”

Ashley’s behavior of giving away the dress for free left Joseph admiring, and his tears almost fell down in affection.

He felt delighted to have Ashley’s support.

When Joseph came back to his senses, he heard from Sean about buying the dress at full price, and he didn’t know how to answer for a while.

Ashley signaled Jaden with her eyes.

Jaden immediately explained, “You don’t need to pay it at full price, Mr. Ashworth. We’ll give Dimi to Mrs. Ashworth for free, and Attelia also agrees with our decision.

“Mrs. Ashworth’s favor of dresses launched by Glory Youveile goes far beyond the value of the dresses, and she gives the dresses a deeper meaning.

“Dimi is now in the collection of the headquarters, and I will arrange to fly it back as soon as possible.”

The dress named Dimi looked particularly elegant, and the older could. bring out its beauty, which inadvertently fit Sean’s wife well.

Sean raised his hand and wiped the corners of his eyes, with tears in his eyes. He choked with sobs.

“Thank you. Thank you so much.”

Before Frankie could react, Sean had already made a deal with Jaden. He couldn't suppress his anger anymore.

He didn't expect Ashley to give the dress away for free, and Jaden even agreed with it.

Frankie thought, 'Didn't they need to ask Attelia for advice?

How did Asislevonese Jaden?'

Bertha had made up her mind. "You don't have to persuade me, Frankie. I have to talk to her. Tell me, where is Ashley now?"

Frankie didn't know where Ashley lived after leaving Ramos Villa.

But just now, when Joseph took Sean to Royal Entertainment to sign the contract, Ashley followed them.

Frankie thought for a moment and speculated. "She should be at Royal Entertainment now."

Bertha tidied up her hair and picked up her handbag. "I'll go find her now.

She needed to talk to Ashley about recent matters.

When Bertha arrived at Royal Entertainment, she went straight into the lobby on the first floor, but the receptionist told her that outsiders were not allowed in without an appointment.

Bertha frowned impatiently and wanted to call Ashley on her mobile phone, but she remembered her number had been blocked by Ashley before.

She had to ask the receptionist to call Ashley's agent, Laura.

In Laura's office, she got a call from the receptionist. After the receptionist explained what had happened, Laura looked over to Ashley, who was sitting on the couch.

"Aldey, the receptionist called and said a lady named Bertha wants to nect you and is waiting for you in the lobby on the first floor. Do you want to meet her?"
