

Desperation 89

Chapter 89

The host deliberately teased the audience, saying, “Dear viewers, Ash, our mysterious guest, will appear later. Please keep your eyes peeled and wait!”

Upon hearing this, the viewers in the livestream were frustrated and annoyed at being kept in suspense.

However, despite their complaints, not a single person left the livestream.

They were just too curious about Ash’s true identity.

The viewers of the livestream continued to skyrocket.

Since this was a music variety show, the host invited Bryce and Matthey to perform one of their new songs live as a promotion.

Bryce performed Dark Faith.

Then, Matthew sang the lead single from his album, which he had composed himself.

Both of them displayed comparable singing talents, making it hard to declare a winner.

However, in the livestream, Bryce seemed to have more supporters.

Matthew’s fans scoffed, arguing that even though Dark Faith sounded good, Bryce didn’t compose it himself.

In contrast, Matthew’s song was his own composition, showcasing his talent.

[Of the four guests on the show today, only our Matthew can write songs!]

[Ha, some people don’t release new songs, nor can they write music. I wonder why they’re even on a music variety show. Yes,

I’m talking about. Ashley. What does she have besides her beauty?]

[Good thing she has cut ties with Matthew. Our Matthew doesn’t have to be dragged down by her anymore!]

Ashley’s fans couldn’t stand it anymore.

[So what if she can’t compose? Ashley is on the show because the production team invited her!]. Please bookmark site novelxo.org to read latest content. If you want to read light novel please visit allnovelnext.com to read fastest content.

On the set, after Bryce and Matthew finished performing their new songs, the host chatted with them about the creative process behind their music.

Then, the host divided the four guests into two teams, with Ashley and Bryce on one team and Matthew and Jessica on the other.

Holding the microphone, the host announced. "Now, let's move on to a music-related game. Ashley and Bryce's team will write four lines of lyrics on the spot.

"Meanwhile, Matthew and Jessica's team will compose a tune on the spot. You don't need to complete an entire song, just the melody for these four lines of lyrics."

Although Bryce wasn't good at composing music, he was adept at writing lyrics.

He had written the lyrics for all three of his new songs.

In less than two minutes, Bryce's inspiration flowed, and he wrote four lines of lyrics. He then passed them to Ashley, whispering,

"How's this?"

Ashley glanced down at them and replied in a hushed voice, "Pretty good."

Bryce smirked with a hint of arrogance. "Who would dare to criticize my lyrics?"

Ashley gave him a sideways glance and smiled slightly, "I've seen your lyric-writing skills. When will I get to see your pole dancing skills?"

Bryce was momentarily speechless, taken aback by her unexpected comment.

Annoyed, he thought, 'Damn it. The words 'pole dancing' are like a fatal. blow!'

Bryce then wondered if he had lost his mind back then and thought, "Why on earth did I ever mention pole dancing in front of Ashley?"

Because Ashley and Bryce were speaking in hushed tones, the livestream audience couldn't hear them, which sparked their curiosity..

[What are those two talking about? Is there something we VIPs aren't privy to?]

[Has anyone else noticed that Ashley and Bryce seem to have a bit of chemistry?]

[What??? @Ariml, hey, come here! Someone is randomly shipping a couple here!]

On the other side, Matthew and Jessica were still working on composing their music, and it looked like it was going to take a while.

A viewer wondered: [Why don't they let Ashley and Bryce's team compose?]

Matthew's fans immediately chimed in: [Are you joking? Bryce should stick to writing lyrics. As for Ashley, she can't compose or write lyrics. She should be grateful just to appear on the show!]

After nearly 30 minutes, Matthew finally completed the composition for the four lines of lyrics.

The show's crew had already prepared a piano.

The host invited Matthew to play the tune on the piano and sing the lyrics along with it.

Dressed in a crisp white suit, Matthew approached the piano and sat down. His fingers gracefully danced over the keys, playing out the melody he had composed.

After Matthew's performance, the host asked the other three guests for their comments.

With eyes brimming with admiration for Matthew, Jessica smiled, "Matthew, you played so beautifully. This is my first time witnessing someone compose on the spot. It's amazing!"

Then, the host turned toward Bryce.

Bryce lifted his microphone and said, "I've witnessed someone else live. composition."

The host quickly asked, "Can you share more about that?"

With a cheeky grin, Bryce confidently responded, "Ash had composed two songs for me in just 15 minutes."

As soon as he finished speaking, the livestream's chat exploded.

[Wow! Two songs in 15 minutes! That's the genius Ash for you!]

[Umm, but it took Matthew 30 minutes to compose music for just four lines of lyrics...]

[When is Ash coming on? I'm dying of curiosity here.]

Next, the host looked towards Ashley for her comments on Matthew's live composition.

Ashley picked up the microphone.

But before Ashley could speak, Matthew interjected, "I don't need feedback from someone who doesn't understand how to compose a song."

His words were clearly directed at Ashley.

Ashley didn't respond but simply glanced coolly at Matthew, her beautiful eyes brimming with disdain.

Matthew sneered inwardly, thinking, 'What does Ashley know? She was, totally inadequate to critique my work!'

After the live composition segment concluded, the host excitedly announced.

now, let me viewers, I know you've all been eagerly waiting. So now, let me formally announce that the legendary Ash is about to come!"
