

Desperation 99

Chapter 99

person, but what did you do? Bertha once said in an in that your

had been left alone since childhood, but as a mother, she has never given up looking for you....

“Bertha is a good mother. She took you back to the Ramos family, but you treated her like that and pushed her down mercilessly.

Ashley, why did you repay her kindness with cruelty?

“You were criticized by netizens all day and night on the Internet, but you attended the press conference as glamorously as before. There was not a trace of haggard or repentance on your face. You don’t think you have done anything wrong, do you?”

Laura frowned, not expecting the reporter to ask such pointed questions at the very beginning of the press conference.

Ashley sat there calmly. She was self-composed, and her eyes were as bright and beautiful as before.

“I’m not haggard because I have a good psychological quality. Huh, are you jealous?”

The reporter was choked up and asked angrily, “Ashley, just admit that you pushed down your mother!”

Ashley looked at the reporter with a disdainful look, and her voice was cold.

“First, I have severed ties with the Ramos family. Bertha is no longer my mother. Sir, please pay attention to your words.

“Secondly, I admit that I did push Bertha.”

Ashley said this calmly, but the effect was like a spark flying into a pile of explosives. The interest of all those reporters was aroused at once.

Several reporters in the front row ignored the rules for a moment and hurriedly asked, “Ashley, you admitted in public that you pushed Bertha down. She is your biological mother. How could you do such a rebellious behavior?!”

“Ashley, Frankie said that except for Jeremy and Matthew, no one in the Ramos family has done anything wrong to you, but you had severed ties with the Ramos family. Can you explain this matter?”

Some reporters stared at Joseph on the stage and asked, "Mr. Fox, Ashley is an artist of Royal Entertainment. Do you still want to protect such a morally corrupt person? Aren't you afraid of being boycotted by netizens?"

The press conference was livestreamed.

Frankie, Bertha, and Jessica watched the livestream, keeping an eye on the press conference.

In the livestream, those reporters kept questioning Ashley. Their kinds of questions were thrust at Ashley like sharp swords.

Frankie felt quite proud that things were developing in the direction he expected.

He had destroyed the original video. Ashley had no way to prove her innocence and could only admit it.

Netizens believed that Ashley was shameless, and her reputation was completely ruined.

However, it was not enough once and for all.

Frankie was thinking about how to find a way to put Ashley in jail so that she could never come out.

In this case, she could never go against the Ramos family and Jessica.

In the press conference hall, those reporters questioned Ashley as if they were attacking a heinous sinner. Their questions were sharp.

Joseph sat on Ashley's left side. His usually carefree face was gloomy at this moment. He was so angry that he wanted to slap

the table and stand

Ashley held his wrist and asked him to calm down.

A tall reporter in the crowd glared at Ashley on the stage and asked angrily, "Ashley, you admitted that you pushed down your mother, then you should apologize to Bertha! And you owe the Ramos family an apology!"

Upon hearing this, Ashley looked at Laura on her right and nodded slightly.

Laura received the signal, stood up, and looked at those angry reporters with a cold face.

"Apology? You are right. Some people do need to apologize.

“The people who should apologize are not Ashley but Frankie and Bertha!

“Ashley is an artist of Royal Entertainment. Today, Royal Entertainment will solemnly seek justice for Ashley. Now, we ask Frankie and Bertha to apologize to Ashley!”

As Laura’s resonant and powerful voice fell, those furious reporters suddenly became quiet. They opened their mouths in surprise.

Apologize to Ashley!

What? Laura asked Frankie and Bertha to apologize to Ashley?

Was she crazy?

Ashley pushed Bertha down, and Bertha was the victim. Frankie exposed this matter and made Ashley’s true colors public. Why did Laura ask them to apologize to Ashley?

When those reporters were still dumbfounded, Laura turned on the laptop at hand and projected the pictures onto a screen.

Laura clicked the video that Frankie had posted online and played it.

In the video, Ashley pushed Bertha away, and Bertha fell on the sofa.

Those reporters saw this and were impatient.

“Ms. Mitchell, we have watched this video countless times!”

“The video shows that Ashley pushed her mother down, and she also admitted it just now. Do you want to deny it?”

“How dare you ask Bertha to apologize to Ashley? Are you trying to force a sad mother to death?”

Laura ignored the noise and those angry reporters’ questions.

She said calmly, “Everyone, you got so much information in this ten-second video.

“Well, I have a more complete video for you to watch.”

Frankie was watching the livestream. He sneered in disdain when he saw this.

A complete video?

The full version of the video had been destroyed by him long ago. It would be impossible for Ashley to find it.
