Chapter 491 - A Moment in Destiny

After Miyamoto received the news, he was searching in the Sea Horizon Resort and then said, "Didn't you say that the signal is from here? Are you sure that the signal is from here? Why isn't she here?"

"Sir, we are searching, and there are still places to be searched!"

"Where is she?" Miyamoto looked at the huge resort and they had searched upstairs and found no one.

The signal could only tell him that she was nearby but they needed to search everywhere. Her phone had been switched off and so no one could contact her at that moment.

He did not know that Renee was being tied up when someone brought her to the resort. She was being forced into a tent and she was unconscious after being knocked down. At that moment, she was still sleeping and did not know what was happening outside. She just felt tired, so she kept sleeping.

Under the sun, Miyamoto stood at the beach and his huge figure looked cold. He frowned when looking at the tents on the beach and gave an order, "I need more people to check every tent!"

"Yes!"

Immediately, those people were approaching the tents.

She was not found yet. Since he heard Renee yell for help from the phone, he had not shut his eyes and there were blood vessels on his eyes. He held his fists tightly, showing that his emotion was not as calm as his expressions showed.

He hoped that nothing had happened to Renee. Otherwise, he did not know how he would be in the future! Due to this incident, he felt extremely sad and desperate in his heart. The world was like a moonless night that was covered by the thick black clouds.

After disturbing many dating couples, they finally found the tent of Renee.

"Mr. Black! She is here!" Suddenly, a man yelled in Japanese with surprise.

Almost at the same time, Miyamoto ran towards the tent and opened it.

His eyes were fixed on the person inside.

Her four limbs had been tied up and she was sleeping quietly like a child. Her long eyelashes were covering her eyelids and forming a beautiful circular shape. She was so adorable. She was so beautiful.

Miyamoto felt relieved and could not bear from rising the corner of his mouth. He made a silence gesture and his well-trained men immediately turned around and then stepped further for ten meters away. They were just standing there and waiting for his instruction.

Miyamoto took out his phone to call Vincent. "I found Renee and she is safe now. How about Leila? Alright, I will send some help to assist you!"

He got into the tent and helped her to untie the rope with his hands. She was not awake yet and Miyamoto frowned when looking at her with his gentle eyes. After a few seconds, he shook her and said with a gentler voice, "Renee, wake up!"

After being shaken, Renee slowly opened her eyes and looked at Miyamoto's eyes blankly. She was stunned and suddenly shouted, "Help! Help!"

"It's me!" Miyamoto grabbed her hands.

"You!?" Renee seemed to feel relieved and frowned because she was puzzled. "I...I..."

"Renee, how are you?" Miyamoto was frightened by her astonished look.

"Me?" Renee stared blankly at Miyamoto who was astonished and worried. "Ah! I was kidnapped! Ah, it hurts!"

"Where do you feel the pain? Where?" Miyamoto asked nervously.

"My neck. Damn! Those people knocked my femoral artery. When I called you to seek help, I was found by them and they did this to me. It hurts! Hurts!"

"Who?"

"I don't know!" Renee shook her head and raised her eyes to look at him. Within the few hours, he became so dispirited unexpectedly and his eyes were complicated when looking at her.

Miyamoto slowly outstretched his arm to touch Renee's cheek with his trembling hand. He said, "Luckily, you are fine. It's good that you are alright!"

As long as she was fine, he felt relieved! "I thought you were killed!"

"Killed?" Renee was stunned and suddenly understood the reason why Miyamoto had been so dispirited. She asked, "Do you become so exhausted because of me?"

Miyamoto remained silent.

At first, Renee lowered her head because she thought that he did not love her and everything was just her imagination. Suddenly, there was a strong force pulling her and she directly fell into Miyamoto's arms. He said with his trembling voice, "Do not run away again!"

He hugged Renee tightly with his arms as if he would like to put her into his body. With it, he could only get rid of the pain and anxiousness that were spreading from his bone. Luckily, nothing had happened to her, because he had been extremely frightened.

When he knew Macey was dead, he was shocked, and his limbs were cold! He was just pretending to look calm but luckily, she was alright!

"Miyamoto, I can't breathe." He hugged her so forcefully to the extent that she truly could not breathe. So, she said it with an unstable breath. If he did not let go of her, she would die in his arms before she would be killed by those gangsters.

After a moment, Miyamoto finally released his arms slowly. Before Renee was able to take a deep breath, a wild kiss was coming.

With the wild kiss, Miyamoto hugged Renee crazily and absorbed her breath in her mouth. It seemed that only by doing so, he could feel her breath and her existence was just for him. Renee was stunned for a while and then she felt dizzy and suffocated. She could not differentiate the dizziness was either caused by the knock or Miyamoto's crazy kiss.

She could only feel the ebullience of her blood in her whole body. Under his lead, her body was like igniting and burning vigorously. All their rationality and emotions had been thrown away and they were only left with their instinct desire.

She put her hands on his body and her face showed sensual and unrestrained enthusiasm. She could only feel that his kiss was following her lips to move downwards and stopped at her white neck. As a result of biting, the pain released more enthusiasm.

Miyamoto was kissing the woman in his arm hysterically and his big trembling hands were gently caressing her soft body. He moved inch by inch and he seemed to ensure that her presence was not just his delusion in desperation.

While breathing and moaning lovely, Renee put her hands softly on his back and leaned on him instinctively.

Miyamoto finally stopped kissing and raised his head. Both of them looked at each other again.

His body was pressed on her and his slender fingers were touching her hair that fell onto her face softly. In the dark, she was familiar to the face that was in front of her. Miyamoto pursed his lips and said, "Although I want to have sex with you now but there is something more important. We need to go and find Leila!"

"What is it?" Renee was stunned. Meanwhile, she was shy because her lips were feel pains after the kissing!

"I will let you know later. You tell me who had kidnapped you..." Miyamoto was helping her to tidy up her clothes and pulled her to stand up.

"A group of gangsters with a chopper that lengths a meter. After I bought the railway ticket, they came and intended to bring me to a place. I was so afraid that I followed them obediently. When the car reached Sea Horizon Resort, I called you secretly, but they found me. I had not had the time to say much before being knocked down by someone! Then, I didn't know what had happened..."

"Totally clueless? Didn't they mention the person who wanted to kidnap you?"

"Nope!" Renee shook her head after thinking.

"Think again!"

Renee thought for a while, "Yes...Ah...I remember. They called a Mr. Palmer!"

"Mr. Palmer?" Miyamoto frowned and asked, "Anything else?"

“Nothing, they asked Mr. Palmer for the upcoming arrangement after kidnapping me.”

“I didn’t know what the answer was on the other side of the phone but then they hung up!”

“Alright!” Miyamoto took out the phone to call Vincent to inform him regarding the current situation here. He also asked him to look for someone called Mr. Palmer! There should not be many Mr. Palmer with such power in F City!

After getting into the car, Miyamoto told Renee what had happened. Leila’s sister had died, and Leila was still missing now. Oh my god!

Why would these incidents happen? Pippa was missing also!

...

Callum West was driving a car with Lennie Newman and they came to a warehouse alongside the beach. “If you want firecrackers, we can buy them. Why do you want to take it from here? Isn't it troublesome?”

Lennie rolled her eyes and frowned. “What do you know? This is a warehouse, and it has everything inside. All these are going to be exported to other countries and we happened to be living in a country where only the quality of those exports is acceptable. The ones sold outside totally cannot be used! Instead of playing with firecrackers, we might end up dying from the explosion!”

“You are thinking too much!” Callum was impatient! “Quick! Where is Carson Palmer?”

“I need to call him. He doesn't know that I am coming yet!” Lennie took out her phone to call him.

Callum parked his car outside the warehouse and all the warehouses were arranged orderly like containers. He had a look at the surroundings and did not have any interest in them.

“Hi! Is Carson speaking? I am Lennie and I am at the warehouse to get some firecrackers. I want those colorful...” Lennie was talking with her phone. “Eh, nope! I want it now. Quick!”

After hanging up the call, Lennie pursed her lips and said, “How dare he want to reject me! Hypocritical man! Hum, I don’t care!”

“If he doesn’t want to give, then let it be over!”

“Nothing! Let’s wait here. He will definitely be here soon! If not, I will tell my father to not take care of him anymore. He is still afraid of my father! Don’t you have any fear of my father also?” Lennie gently raised Callum’s chin with her hand.

Callum frowned and turned his face away to look away from Lennie. “Don’t touch me!”

“You are my man. Why can’t I?”

Callum directly looked towards the outside of the car.

At the moment, Carson walked out from the warehouse.

When Lennie saw him, she immediately said, “You see! He doesn't have the courage to offend me! Open the boot and let’s get some firecrackers!”

Callum remained silent and pursed his lips but opened the car boot.

“Lennie, just let me know how many firecrackers you want will do. Why are you coming here to get them yourself?” Carson did not dare to offend Lennie.

“Carson!” Lennie shouted, “I don’t want to trouble you so I come here to pick them up myself! Carson, why are you in the warehouse? What happened to the company?”

“Some goods needed to be sent to Thailand. So, I need to get it done personally!” Carson gave a signal to his employee with his eyes and then the employee walked towards the warehouse to look for more people rapidly.

“I want to go to the warehouse too. I can get it myself!” said Lennie.

“Ah, Lennie, let’s go to the office. I can call someone to get it for you. Don’t you believe me?” Carson’s expression was not natural because Leila was in there.

Callum hated Carson so he frowned and did not want to look at him.

Chapter 492 - A Moment in Destiny

“Okay, I’ll wait here!” said Lennie, “But you have to get me something good!”

“Of course!” Carson vouched for it.

After 10 minutes, his men were still nowhere to be seen. Lennie was getting impatient! “Carson, where are your men!? Callum, let’s go in and take a look!”

“Lennie! They are coming!” said Carson as he stood in front of them.

“Carson, are you hiding some treasures in the warehouse? Treasures that you cannot let us know about??” Lennie teased.

“No way!” Carson denied.

“Save me...” Suddenly, someone was yelling for help!

Callum’s ears twitched!

Carson was taken aback, he quickly said loudly, “Lennie, are you thirsty? Let’s go have some tea! We may need to wait a bit longer since those are really heavy and it may take quite some time for them!”

“Save me...” The voice was so familiar!

Callum could tell that it was Leila!

He frowned and wanted to listen to it closer, but there was no more noise.

He looked at Carson and Lennie puzzledly, “Did you guys hear someone yelling for help?”

Lennie was busy talking and didn’t hear anything, she shook her head, “How could it be? It must be something else.”

“Yeah, how could someone be yelling for help?” Carson smiled, but he had an odd expression on his face.

Callum looked at him suspiciously. He tried to listen more closely, but he really couldn't hear anything. And then, a few people walked out with a few boxes of firework in their hands. Lennie was excited and Callum was distracted.

Lennie was very excited as she finally got the fireworks she wanted, she was so pleased, “Carson, thank you. We'll be taking our leave!”

“Yeah, just call me if you need more. I'll get someone to send some over, no need for you to come over since it's far,” Carson said in a relief.

“But it's fun getting them yourself!!”

“Alright! You can just come to get some when you want to!”

“Bye!” Lennie waved her hand and got into the car.

Callum looked around suspiciously while driving back and didn't find anything out of the ordinary. He was a bit out of it on the way home because he thought that he heard Leila's voice. But why didn't Lennie and Carson hear anything? Was it really something else?

In front of the warehouse.

Carson frowned and was listening to his subordinate's report, “Vincent seemed to realize that the body they found didn't belong to Leila. He increased the manpower on the search team. Carson, what should we do next...”

“The cargo ship is only reaching in the night. Don't worry, he won't be able to find her within 7 hours! And when they get here, the ladies will already be sold to Southeast Asia for prostitution!” Carson's face turned dark.

In the warehouse, Leila was tied to a pole!

“No use yelling for help!” Pippa scoffed, “Nobody will save you!”

Leila tried to calm down, it was only two of them now. She tried her best to calm her nerves and looked at Pippa who was walking towards her calmly.

Pippa said, “If you're cooperative, you won't be tied up. Look at me, I'm free to walk around!”

Leila shook her head calmly; she was really speechless. She sympathized and felt sorry for Pippa, and she didn't even know how to be mad at her because she was just too pitiful!

Pippa smirked, and her beautiful face turned hideous from her twisted and vile expressions, “I'm waiting for that ugly guy to rape you.”

Leila sighed; she was really speechless.

How could she be so relaxed? Pippa stood afar and looked at Leila's calm face, she felt a bit angry. She walked over and slapped Leila on the face.

Leila was shocked for a moment, her face started to burn and not long after a handprint could be seen. But she quickly remained calm and looked at Pippa's vicious face. That soft and pretty face was now evil and wintry, she wasn't as pretty as before anymore.

"I'm going to kill you! I'm going to be the winner; nobody can get things that I cannot!" She was the winner, only her. Pippa grimaced deeply, her eyes filled with poison and bitterness.

"Did you really win though?" retorted Leila.

"You're really not afraid, not afraid at all!" Pippa yelled hysterically. Her eyes were bloodshot, and she glared harshly at Leila's thin face. She wasn't having it, no way!

"It's not that I'm not afraid, but I know that it's useless to be afraid. I know that Vincent will save me, he will be able to find me!"

Leila stared at the hysterical Pippa with her very calm eyes and looked away. She didn't want to waste her breath anymore.

Pippa's hatred towards Leila became more intense after listening to what she said. She let out a wintry sneer, her pale face which was twisted looked even eerier. Her dark eyes were filled with hate and it was nefarious.

"Yes, he will come. And I'll kill you in front of him!" Pippa's laughter was heinous. She remained placid as she stared at Leila's tranquil face, "Kill you in front of him and make him regret forever."

"That's better, if he's here before I die, I can warn him to not marry someone like you even after I die. He must find someone kind and nice, not some extreme crazy person like you so that he doesn't ruin his own life," said Leila nonchalantly. She glanced at Pippa who looked shocked, and said again, "You are destined not to be loved by anyone and will be alone forever!"

"No! I won't be alone!!" she yelled with all her might and her body trembled from rage. But her eyes that were filled with sorrow betrayed her, she was afraid of not being loved and being alone.

"You're that kind of person and I finally understand. I didn't know, but now I do now!" said Leila coolly. "You fell in love with Miyamoto, but you took his love for granted. You didn't care about him. You think that what you can't get is the most precious!"

Pippa was taken aback; it was only precious if she couldn't get it? Was that so?

She fell in love with the shy and humble Miyamoto at the foot of Mountain Fuji. He was tall, handsome, calm and composed. When he was by her side, he would hold off all the bad things. Wasn't that why she fell in love with him?

Pippa was lost realizing that she fell in love with Miyamoto at first sight. She was too reluctant and was used to being chased after! That was why she lost her way!

She only realized after she gave birth, that Vincent who was younger than her became more mature. He was more amiable and composed, and she felt butterflies in her stomach when she saw him.

But then he got together with Leila. She was sad, disappointed and desolated. She started arguing with Miyamoto a lot, until one day they got a divorce. She used him as a replacement for Vincent.

After that, the White family began plotting their revenge. Vincent had to frame Leila and it gave Pippa hope. She had energy again. But then Leila was in the picture again. Pippa thought that Vincent wouldn't fall in love with either of them! In the end, she was wrong. Vincent fell in love with Leila, the person right in front of him. Pippa's dream was once again shattered!

In the end, she lost Miyamoto as well!

"The most pathetic thing about you is that you don't even realize where your fault lies. You are really pitiful!" said Leila coldly as she looked at Pippa's crumbling expression. She turned her head and looked somewhere else. She didn't even bother to look at someone like that.

Pippa took deep breaths as her skinny body tensed up and she was trembling violently. Her surging emotions slowly calmed down and she glared wintrily at Leila who wasn't even looking at her. Suddenly, she laughed madly, her laughter was peculiar and creepy.

"Leila, you sure have tricks up your sleeve. I wanted to shame you but you shamed me instead. But have you forgotten? Someone is going to rape you."

"You, you're sick in the head!" Leila's aloof eyes turned cold, she looked at Pippa and her eyes were filled with sadness. She was sad for Pippa. "If that's so, then even if you get incarnated, Vincent and Miyamoto won't bat an eye at you! If there's an afterlife, Vincent and I will live happily together!"

Pippa was startled, her heart was filled with shock and she was trembling in fear all over. She used up her might and let out a burst of evil laughter, "Hahaha... Too bad there wouldn't be an afterlife!"

An hour had passed.

Miyamoto brought Renee over and the four of them were gathered in the hall on the first floor of Sea Horizon Resort. They were waiting for the latest news.

Vincent who was waiting impatiently, his usual wintry face was gloomy. He felt a sudden pain in his heart, he was nervous and worried.

Where could she be?

"Who would want to kidnap us? I'm fine, so Leila will be fine as well. But where is she?" asked Renee puzzledly. She thought that it couldn't be Pippa, "If it was Pippa, she should only want to take revenge against me. But between me and Leila, I turned out alright!"

"Pippa turned off her phone, but who else could it be? Leila never offended anyone else." Miyamoto analyzed that situation level headedly and said, "I really thought she sincerely regretted her actions in the hospital, but now..."

He looked at Vincent puzzledly, Pippa didn't call back at all, "Could it be that Pippa was also kidnapped?"

It was weird. First Pippa was gone, then Renee and then Leila.

Vincent tried to remain expressionless, but he was obviously worried. He could do nothing but helplessly wait for the news. There was nothing that he could do.

"Does the credit agencies have any news?" Vincent asked the dreary-looking Arthur.

"No." Arthur looked depressed, and his face was filled with regret. He should stay in the café with Leila and Macey. That way, Macey wouldn't get into an accident.

"Renee, you really don't remember the man's full name?" asked Vincent in a serious tone of voice, "There are many people whose surname is Palmer. It's hard to track so quickly!"

"We should be getting the news soon!" Arthur looked at his phone, waiting for a call.

Vincent was most worried about this. He looked very calm, but his heart was filled with worry and frustration.

If this was normal kidnapping, then the kidnappers would ask for money. They must know that Leila was his wife because he announced it at the airport. The whole world knew about it, but nobody called yet. In that case, the kidnappers weren't after money. They might not care about sacrificing Leila and hence Vincent was even more worried about Leila's safety.

Chapter 493 - A Moment in Destiny

"Ask the police to find every and each Palmer in the city!" Renee said. Since Leila and the Mr. Palmer were nowhere to be found, she believed it might work if they find all of the Palmers in the city.

"They are already doing it!" Vincent said coldly as he took a look at Renee, and he knew how she felt since she was also a good friend of hers.

"No news yet!"

For a moment, everyone in the room fell into a deep depression.

All of a sudden, the sound of hasty footsteps made everyone in the hall keyed up. They didn't know what it was. Good news? Or bad news?

"Boss, the satellite is tracking a signal." Panting, the man reported directly to Miyamoto.

"Pippa's signal?" Miyamoto frowned suspiciously and said to Vincent and Arthur, "I installed some software on Pippa's mobile phone. When she turned her phone on, I could track her!"

"But the signal flashed by."

"Did you lock the position?" Miyamoto asked, raising his eyebrows.

"I'm not sure, but I'm certain they are around the seaside villa area!"

"Will Pippa be there?" Renee exclaimed.

Vincent, who looked indifferent as usual, put on a serious and cold expression on his face.

Taking a closer look at him, one would find anxiety on his indifferent face as he clenched his fists tightly all the time. From the moment he knew that Leila was missing, he had been clenching his fists.

Vincent took the phone and dialed a number. "Chief Brown, I want the CCTV footage of the seaside villa area, and every villa inside!"

As soon as he put down the phone, it suddenly rang again.

It was a strange number. Vincent suddenly stood up from his chair, with a complicated look on his cold face.

"Answer the phone," said Renee in anxiety.

After pressing the hands-free button, a low and confused voice came from the other end, "Hello? Is it Mr. White? "

Hearing this voice, Renee shook. She didn't expect it was Callum.

"Callum?" Vincent was not sure.

"Mr. White, have you met Leila?" Callum was a little uncertain.

"Callum, what do you mean? Why do you ask about Leila?"

"Isn't Leila with you?" Callum asked again.

"No, are you looking for Leila?"

"No, I seemed to hear Leila's cry for help. I'm calling you to make sure if she's with you, or if she's at home. I called her mobile phone, but no one answered!"

"Did you hear Leila's cry for help?" Suddenly, Vincent exclaimed, "Where is it? Where? Callum, where did you hear that? "

"Is she really missing?" Callum exclaimed.

"She's missing! We're looking for her."

At the same time, Renee, Miyamoto, and Arthur all got excited.

"In the seaside wharf. Let me take you guys there. I'm on the way to Beach Road now. " Callum just dropped off Lennie, who planned to go swimming with her friends.

Later, as Callum thought about it, he felt that something was wrong. He heard Leila's call for help clearly. Then, he called Leila several times, but no one answered. He had a hunch that it was wrong, so he called Vincent, but he didn't expect that Leila was really missing!

"We're here, and we'll meet you right away!" Vincent explained quickly. He rushed out quickly as he said.

Arthur ran out, too. "Get ready for the car!" he said.

"You don't need to go!" Miyamoto reached for Renee's hand. "It's too dangerous for you. Wait for the news here!"

"No, I have to go. I'm worried!" Renee said with determination, shaking her head.

Helpless as Miyamoto was, he looked at her with deep eyes, held her hand, and instructed, "If there is danger, protect Mrs. Black!"

"Yes." The subordinate nodded very seriously.

Did he said protect Mrs. Black?!

A strange feeling flashed through Renee's heart...

In the warehouse of the seaside wharf.

Being tied, Leila was startled when the warehouse door opened again.

Pippa started the conversation, "When will you call Vincent?"

With a faint smile, Carson shook his head, and laughed mischievously, "Beauty, who said I will call Vincent? I am going to have great fun with you two and sell you to Southeast Asia. "

"You lied to me?" Pippa screamed in astonishment, "You dare to lie to me!"

"So what?"

Leila sighed, thinking that Pippa was too naive! How could she cooperate with someone like Carson?

Pippa screamed again sharply, rushing towards him. "Ah, you bastard. You go back to your words!"

Looking at the woman who was screaming and kicking, Carson frowned. "Damn, she is crazy. No wonder she stayed in the mental hospital for so long!"

"Come in! Joe! Jim! Collect your reward! " Carson looked at Pippa with a rapacious smile.

"You, what are you going to do?" Pippa was frightened.

So was Leila, who was tied up and struggling secretly. It hurt so much as the rope cut her skin. She was about to break free when Carson came in with others.

She understood that Carson asked his men to take liberties with Pippa, but what about her?

Leila was also frightened at this moment!

"Boss!" Two strong men came in.

Carson looked down at Pippa, who was beating himself. "Pippa is yours. Leila is mine. But she is also yours after I get tired. There are six hours left to get on board. Let's hurry up! "

"No..." Pippa screamed.

"Thank you, boss!" Two men pulled Pippa over and pushed it directly onto a paper box piled with firecrackers. One man was unraveling his belt, and the other pressed Pippa to keep her from moving.

"Carson!" Leila roared. "Vincent will not forgive you! You can't do that to Pippa!"

Hearing Leila's voice, Pippa was dazzled. At this time, she couldn't believe that Leila spoke for her when she was in danger. She was a stupid woman! Pippa cried even more!

"Pippa, kick them, kick them!" Leila shouted in a hurry. "Carson, let us go, or Vincent will kill you!"

"How could he know that I did it?" Carson chuckled, "It's they who are having fun with Pippa! I am having fun with you! Beauty, I've been thinking of you for too long! Today, I finally got my wish!"

Feeling anger boiling up inside her, Leila struggled hard, the blood mark on her wrist getting heavier. She was scared to see Pippa being pressed!

"Jim, this woman is so beautiful!" The young one called Joe laughed evilly, revealing a mouth of yellow teeth. Pressing Pippa's arms, he looked at his partner with an evil smile. "Woman, I'm coming!"

"Ah, no, let me go!" As her fear turned into a cry of panic, Pippa shouted in panic, struggling, but she was unable to break away from the two men no matter how hard she tried.

"Damn, it's noisy!" The young thug glared at Pippa and suddenly pulled off the clothes from her, gagged her mouth with her clothes.

Then he looked up at his partner with a smile, "let me do it first and then you!"

Pippa sent out a painful whimper, and her hand was clamped down, and she felt very regretful.

"Are you monsters?" Leila screamed, no matter what Pippa did, she shouldn't be treated like this. "Let her go. Do you hear me. Let her go!"

Carson swallowed hard as he stared at Pippa's snow-white skin. "No way. It takes us a lot of efforts so that we can take liberties with you!"

"Asshole!" Leila cursed. "Let her go!"

"Don't worry, you will soon be the same as her!" Carson untied Leila from the pillar. When he saw that her wrists were covered with blood, he pretended to be heartbroken. "Beauty, what are you struggling with? I will untie you if you don't struggle, but not now! "

"Let Pippa go!" Leila exclaimed, glaring at Carson.

It was horrible to see a woman pressed down by a man! Pippa was nearly crying her head off, making it unbearable for Leila to take a look at her. Besides, she had no idea what to do. She wanted to kill these men in person. "Pervert, you don't deserve to be human. Pervert!"

Carson just untied the rope on her feet and hugged Leila tightly. The smell of wine came over, "Let's play an interesting game! Aren't you not moved at all? I can't wait! "

Hearing his frivolous word, Leila snarled at the man, who was holding her tightly and breathed alcohol fumes all over her, and gritting her teeth, "Carson, let go! Let me and Pippa go! Otherwise you will be screwed! "

"Beauty, let me have a good time with you." Seeing her beautiful face, his blood was boiling with an amatory look on his face, and his hands were restless. "It's said that the eldest daughter of the Hunter family is a naughty elf, but I take fancy on the second daughter. The more stubborn you are, the more eager I want to have sex with you! You are the real beauty."

With fierce eyes, Leila pushed her knee up in an instant. Carson was shocked. Before he bent down, Leila kicked him on his lower body.

With a bang, Carson was kicked out.

Leila kicked him on his private part!

Carson bent down to cover his lower body and let out a wail. He was unprepared. How could she be so fast?!

"Buddy?" The young thug, who was pressing Pippa, was startled. No one expected that Leila would kick Carson so hard.

At this time, the old one was in high spirits.

With tears in her eyes, Pippa uttered a cry of despair!

Almost at the same time, Leila quickly aimed a kick at Carson's chin!

But this time, Carson was on the guard and dodged her kick!

Chapter 494 - A Moment in Destiny

With her hands tied, Leila stood there, looking at the lustful man, who seemed to be suffering great pain. She sneered, "Fuck yourself!"

She spared no effort to give the man a second kick. Even if the disgusting man was not disabled by her kick, he would not have the mood to touch her today!

"Bitch!" Ignoring Pippa, the old thug directly pounced on Leila and slapped her!

Being tied, Leila could not escape and there was another palm print on her face. It hurt so much.

"Bah!" Leila spits up blood.

"Bitch!" Carson cursed, looking down at his private part! Damn! He couldn't have an erection. It hurt.

"You dare to kick my pennies. Even if I can't have an erection, I will have a good fun of you!"

The young thug was still pressing Pippa, and for a time, the sound around seemed to disappear.

"Buddy, why don't you let me deal with the bitch?" The old thug suggested.

"Bastard!" Carson cursed. "I haven't enjoyed her yet. It's not your turn!"

"But you..." Taking a look at the part between Carson's legs, he wondered if it would work since he was kicked.

"I'll take medicine! Tie her up! I will make her suffer." Carson snorted and then he looked at the young thug who was sexually aroused. He spat and stared at Leila, and then walked outside the warehouse.

"Bitch, wait till I get hold of you!" The old thug threatened, looking at Leila.

There were only four people in the room. Pippa was raped by the young thug. Leila looked at the old thug who was strong and tall, and she regretted that she didn't have a good command of taekwondo.

But if she didn't save herself, Pippa would be in a worse situation.

Fortunately, Carson was not working now, and she had bought time for herself.

"Pippa, get up and resist. Come on, you can do it!" shouted Leila, who looked around, looking for a way of self-help. Then, suddenly, she ran towards the cargo pile upon seeing the fireworks boxes piled there.

"You dare to run, bitch!" The old thug went after her.

Leila kept running and suddenly stopped when she ran to the corner. The old thug, who was unable to stop in time, was blocked by boxes that Leila deliberately knocked over.

Taking advantage of the chaos, Leila gave a kick on his crotch.

"Ah..." he screamed.

"Go to hell!" With that, Leila kicked him again. She had won this way twice in a row, hoping she it could work this time!

"Poof!" He knelt down and hugged himself.

Leila spat, and she was glad that she made it this time!

On the other hand, the young thug had come, and he was about to withdraw when Leila had galloped away!

She saw the clothes on the ground, while Pippa lay on the box, paralyzed.

Pippa opened her eyes which was empty and dull, and her face was pale and expressionless. Suddenly, her hand moved, and she screamed, "Ah..." The sound rang through the warehouse.

With the scream, she jumped up and beat the man who was lifting his trousers.

He was shocked and suddenly figured out what was going on. He took Pippa's wrist, scolding, "You bitch!"

"I'll kill you. I'll kill you!" Pippa screamed and threw herself on the man, with her hand pulling his hair and her teeth biting him!

"Beast." Leila's eyes were red, and she felt sorry for Pippa's suffering. She hated these men!

Under the stimulation of such a scene, Leila went all out and kicked the man's waist straight. The position of the kidney should be the key. The man who was bitten by Pippa had no other parts to expose, only the kidney!

"Ah! Damned women! " He howled. "How dare you!"

"Go to hell!"

He threw Pippa out. It hurt that his waist was kicked! With a frown, seeing that Leila was aiming the kick at him, he dodged this time!

He looked down at the chest muscles bitten by Pippa, blood gushing out of the wound in a flash.

"Damn it." He scolded, turned to look at Leila, "Bitch, I'll kill you!"

As he said, he whipped the box with his belt!

Pippa got up from ground with difficulty, staring at the man with hatred in her eyes. She threw a box of fireworks in the way and blocked the belt.

This was the last chance. Leila suddenly bit her lips with a pale face, blood coming from her lips. Her hand struggled again. Finally, the tightly tied rope could be removed.

As the rope behind was untied, Leila broke free!

Pippa was mad, and she rushed over again, and grabbed his hair. "I'm going to kill you! Kill you!" she yelled.

As she was shouting, Leila held the rope in her hand, and grabbed the rope and roped his neck on the back.

"Leila, help me!" Suddenly Pippa shouted. "Kill him! Kill him! "

"Pippa, I know. We'll kill him!" At this moment, Leila tightly tightened the rope and held down his neck.

She didn't expect Pippa and her would in the end be united together!

"Help! Jim..." He cried for help.

Pippa bit the man's mouth to stop him from shouting for help.

On the other hand, the old thug 's private part was kicked by Leila while he was in high spirit, watching his friend raping Pippa. Right now, he was sweating in pain, having no time to care about his friend.

Outside, Carson went to the office to find medicine. He was not willing to sell her without having enough fun with her.

After taking the medicine, he decided to have a rest before heading to the warehouse, but suddenly there were a lot of cars outside.

Carson looked out of the window doubtfully. A man with a tall figure came out, followed by several strong men!

"Carson!" At the door of the warehouse office, Vincent walked towards him with tiredness on his handsome face, and he yelled in a cold and deep voice.

"You, why are you coming?"

"Where is Leila? Tell me!" Vincent punched him and asked.

Seeing that the warehouse was surrounded by the police, one of them said, "She's in the warehouse!"

Vincent threw another punch at Carson and said to Miyamoto, "I'll leave it to you! Teach him a lesson!"

"No problem!" Miyamoto nodded, and Carson was bit by several men around him.

Renee shouted, "Hit him. What a bastard! "

Callum couldn't help looking at Renee with mixed feelings in his eyes, and he let out a sigh.

In the warehouse.

Leila tied the young thug to the post and held him in his neck. He was unable to move at all. The buckle around his neck would be tightened whenever he made a move.

Leila picked up the clothes on the ground and put on Pippa. Pippa stepped on his private part, making him let out a miserable cry.

"Ah..." He kept moaning from the pain.

Pippa was startled and her eyes were dull. Her eyes were so dry that she could not shed tears. Her mind was in a whirl, but she saw clearly what happened.

"He's passed out!" Leila was relieved.

"Leila, why?" A heavy pain swept over Pippa's chest, and she grasped on the side of the stiff ground, blood dripping from her fingertips. The pain was extremely terrible.

With a dull smile, Pippa gave up struggling and curled up in corner. Her mind was in a blank. "Why me?"

Leila felt a pain in her heart and hugged her. "Pippa, forget it!"

At this moment, she was at a loss!

Just now, Pippa and her managed to overpower the young thug. In the end, Pippa chose to help her!

"Why do they all like you?"

"Pippa..." Leila was lost for words, not knowing how to comfort her.

The door of the warehouse was suddenly opened.

Leila was shocked, thinking that Carson was coming again!

"Leila?" When hearing the familiar male voice, Leila was suddenly surprised, and she yelled. "Vincent?"

As Vincent quickly ran in, Leila stood up, running to Vincent's side. Vincent held her in his arms!

"Vincent?" Leila timidly nestled in Vincent's arms, taking his hand. "I knew you would come to save me!"

"I'm sorry for your suffering!" Vincent looked at Leila with affectionate eyes. Fingerprints were still visible on her red and swollen cheek, and her wrist had a scratch, blood seeping out along her fair skin.

"I'm alright!" Leila smiled faintly, shaking her head.

All of a sudden, Vincent gave her a kiss.

Leila was startled by the sudden kiss. She felt that there were many people rushing into the warehouse. Subconsciously, she wanted to push him away quickly, but she failed to break away from him no matter how hard she tried.

It was not a gentle kiss, but a kiss with his miss and worry.

Leila sighed. He must be so scared.

In fact, she was scared too!

Arthur gave them a look of pain and looked around.

"Let's get out of here!" Vincent picked up Leila and went out after finished kissing.

Arthur found Pippa, who curled up on the ground with messy hair and empty eyes. He asked in astonishment, "Pippa?"

Leila, who was carried to the car by Vincent, suddenly remembered something, "Oh, Pippa is still in the warehouse!"

"Pippa?" Vincent raising his eyebrows. Leila was the only one in his eyes!

Leila clutched Vincent's arm. "Vincent, she was raped. How miserable!"

Vincent was shocked.

"Leila, Leila!" Renee ran from the outside and Leila got out of the car.

"Ah! I'm so glad that you're OK!" Renee exclaimed, and they hugged each other.

Chapter 495 - A Moment in Destiny

"I'm fine, I'm fine!" Leila said.

"That's good!" Renee was finally relieved.

At this time, Callum came over and took Renee. "Renee..."

In the direction of the warehouse, came Arthur's urgent cry, "Pippa, come out. Come out!"

"Vincent, let's go to see Pippa!" Leila was worried that she would take things too hard!

Callum grabbed Renee, while Vincent and Leila ran to see how Pippa was doing.

The door of the warehouse was closed and Arthur stood at the door. "Pippa, come out quickly. Don't be stupid!"

"What's the matter?"

"Go away! Leave me alone." Pippa cried inside. "I don't care about you."

"Pippa!" Arthur yelled, patting the door of the warehouse, "Don't do anything stupid!"

"Go away, Arthur! I don't want you to die!" Pippa sobbed low!

"Come out. It's no big deal. Pippa, come out. Do you hear me?"

"Arthur?" Leila came running. "What happened to her?"

"I was going to take her out, but she won't and pushed me out. She's locked in. Please find someone to open the door. She seems to have a lighter! It's a warehouse full of fireworks."

As soon as Vincent heard fireworks, he immediately said to Leila, "Wait for me on the bus. Arthur, take Leila to the bus. I'll take care of Pippa!"

"No! Vincent!" Leila insisted to stay.

"Listen to me!" Vincent winked at Arthur.

Arthur could only take Leila's hand and left.

"Pippa, open the door. I am Vincent!" Vincent shouted at the door.

"You go away! go away! You all go away!" Pippa cried.

Leila, who was dragged away a few steps away, shook her head. "Arthur, go to the car. I'm with Vincent!"

"Leila, go to the car!" Arthur shook his head. "You go to the car and wait for us. Vincent and I are here. We will be OK!"

"Evacate!" Arthur shouted and told the staff of the company, "Take Leila away. Keep everyone away from the warehouse!"

They were truly afraid that Pippa would light the fireworks in the warehouse, and the power of a warehouse of firecrackers would be unprecedented.

"Don't pull me!" Leila shook her head. "Arthur, please let me be with you!"

"Leila, listen to me. Don't make us worry about you!" Arthur said with sad eyes. Macey died, and if something happened to Leila, how could he explain to the Hunter family?

At this moment, he tried his best to stay calm and in control. In order to save him, Macey died. He had no idea how to face Leila and Charles.

Suddenly there was a crackle.

"Get out of there!" Vincent suddenly turned back and shouted to Leila.

"Ah! She lit the fireworks, my Goodness!" Leila exclaimed.

Arthur ran outside with Leila, and at this time, the door of the warehouse suddenly opened from inside. The old thug staggered to open the door. "I don't want to die, No! Bitch! It's going to explode!" he cried.

He scurried out, for the fear that he would die.

In the warehouse, came the violent sound of the explosion. Vincent saw Pippa, who was standing in the burning crackling fire and looked at him with a smile. She shouted, "Go, get out! Ough, ough... Fire... Vincent. I don't want you to die!"

"Pippa, come out!" Vincent roared in amazement. He couldn't hear Pippa at all!

But he felt that Pippa really wanted to die. She stood on a pile of boxes instead of running. He saw the boxes were lit up in layers, but Pippa stood still.

Standing on the high box, Pippa burst into a laugh in the crackling firecrackers, and her laughter was crazy and painful. Tears flowed out of the eyes. Tears welling up her eyes, she stared at Vincent with pain. "I still don't know what mistakes I had make. But I don't want you to die with me. Get out of here!" She shouted at Vincent.

Unable to hear her words, Vincent was going to rush in, but Pippa shook her hand desperately, She seemed to roar at him madly, and her hair was scattered, covering her face, which was filled with tears. She cried, "Go!"

Vincent could tell from her mouth that she was asking him to leave! He was in a state of complexity for a while.

And the boxes at the door were blown up one by one, making a loud noise! He watched Pippa disappeared! In the last second, he seemed to see the smile of relief on her face! It was so brilliant and was fixed in his mind!

It exploded!

A loud buzz startled Vincent! Pippa was dead! Although he had wanted to strangle her and he hated her, but at this moment he felt sorry for her as the explosion rang!

"Vincent, run!" Leila's shrill cry seemed to ring in his ear, and the explosion continued. But he still heard Leila's cry. Vincent quickly returned to his mind and ran out!

Pippa died!

Perhaps, for her, it was the best way out!

The explosion went on and on!

"Let me go!" Leila ran back, crying. She wanted to be with Vincent!

"I'll go over there, Arthur. It's too dangerous for him! I will be with him till death!" Leila tried to break from Arthur's hand, shaking her head. She ran to Vincent.

When she looked back, she just saw Vincent running towards her quickly. She could tell that Vincent was shouting, but the sound of firecrackers was so loud that she couldn't hear it clearly. She just saw him shouting.

"Watch out..." Suddenly, there was a loud noise. Something was flying all over the sky, and Leila felt that she was knocked down.

"Vincent..." The moment she fell down, she saw Vincent's body smashed by the rolling shutter door!

She heard the bitter groan of Arthur, who has knocked herself down. Leila's head was also hit by something, and she fainted in pain.

People were screaming, sirens were blaring, and there was chaos all around. Miyamoto and Renee stayed there, dumbfounded. At this moment, their mind went totally blank.

"Help! Help!" Renee screamed. "Somebody helps them!"

After some time, Leila woke up, opened her misty eyes and met her mother Mabel, who was looking at her anxiously.

"Leila? Are you awake? Are you awake?" Mabel said anxiously, stroking her forehead and her hand. She choked as a feeling of joy, mixed with sadness, surged over her, "Thank goodness! You wake up!"

Leila was in a trance. In her memory, she was in the seaside wharf!

"Mom, where's Vincent? What about him?" Leila suddenly asked, "Arthur! What about them?"

"Leila, listen to me." Mabel sat beside her with tears in her eyes. "Vincent is still in the emergency room. He was hit on the head."

"No..." Leila shook her head, tears welling up.

"Mom..." Leila murmured. She lifted the quilt and was about to get out of bed. "I'll go to see him. Hurry up!"

"You can't get in there. Leila, Arthur is out of danger. Leila, Arthur was hit in the leg to save you!"

Hearing her words, Leila said in a choked voice, "Mom..."

"I almost lost you..." Mabel shouted anxiously.

Having no time to speak to her mother, Leila rushed out. "Mom, I'm going to see them!"

"Leila, are you awake?" Renee, who was in the corridor after seeing Arthur was surprised to see Leila. "You wake up. That's great!" she exclaimed.

"Is Leila awake?" In the ward, hearing Leila's voice, Arthur eagerly asked Miyamoto.

"Arthur?" Leila's face was full of guilt. She felt sorry for Arthur, who was hit by fragments on his forehead. Now his head was covered with gauze, and fortunately there was nothing wrong with other parts of him.

Leila was aware that it was Arthur who was protecting her so that she was fine. Hearing Arthur's voice, she trembled for a moment, ran in, saw him lying on the sick bed. She said gratefully with tears in her eyes, "Arthur! Thank you."

"Leila, I'm so glad you're fine!" Seeing that she could walk, Arthur was relieved. A trace of excitement flashed through his dark face. At that moment, he felt that he had a hallucination.

"Arthur!" Leila saw the injuries on Arthur's face. He tried to get up.

Miyamoto immediately said, "No, you can't get up! The doctor said your leg..."

"Miyamoto, take Leila to see Vincent!" Arthur suddenly spoke.

Miyamoto bit back the words he was about to say and nodded. He knew that Arthur didn't want Leila to know that his legs were very seriously injured. Arthur's love was so selfless. Miyamoto did not say anything.

Vincent?!

Leila suddenly flustered at the thought that her mother said Vincent was in emergency. She wiped tears, came forward to hold Arthur's hand. "Arthur, I'll come to you after seeing Vincent. You must take good care of yourself!"

"I will! Leila." Arthur gave her a comforting smile.

Leila turned around and ran out. "Vincent, where is he?"

Looking at her back, Arthur closed his eyes as a darkness flashed through his eyes.

He was so tired, and the first thing he did off the operating table was to ask how Leila was! Finally, knowing that she was okay, Arthur was relieved and fell into a hazy sleep!

"Vincent? Vincent." Leila yelled in a choked voice, looking for him.

"Leila, listen to me!" Renee said, holding her hand.

"Renee?" Leila had a bad feeling in her heart. "Vincent, he is not..."

"No, don't overthink. He's still alive, but his injury is too serious! He haven't come out of the emergency room yet."

"He's still alive!" Leila was relieved as soon as she knew that he was alive. "I'm going to see him!"

"Leila, be prepared!" Renee said.

"What?" Leila asked with nervousness.

Chapter 496 - A Moment in Destiny

"The doctor said he might..." Renee suddenly turned around and her eyes were hot.

"It's going to be okay. No!" Leila shook her head with a pale face.

She opened her eyes wide, with her mouth opened slightly. She was on the verge of losing control.

She began to cry, tears gushing out like a spring, rolling down the corner of her eyes.

"It's going to be all right, " she cried sadly.

She sobbed, biting her lips in despair. "He'll be fine. I have so much to say to him!"

Unable to control herself any more, Mabel rushed over and turned her face around. She stared at Leila with tears. "Leila, Vincent will be OK! God will not be so cruel. We have lost your sister. We can't lose Vincent again! "

"Lose sister? Er! Where is my sister, by the way? " Leila suddenly exclaimed in horror, "Mom, what do you mean?"

"Mrs. Hunter—" Renee stopped her.

"What do you mean? Renee, tell me!"

"Renee, tell her! Tell her the truth! Better a finger off as aye wagging. She has to face the truth! This is what we should face!" Mabel cried.

"Mom!" Leila's face was as pale as a piece of white paper. "What's the matter? Tell me! Please tell me! What happened? What happened to my sister?"

Leila suddenly yelled with her hand holding her head, "Please tell me!"

"Leila, you are strong. Listen, your sister Macey was hit in the back by a car glass fragment after the explosion. The fragment entered the pulmonary artery and she lost too much blood. There was no time to rescue her. She's gone!" Renee said with red eyes.

Mabel was also shedding tears. "Leila, you're the only one in my life!"

"No!" Leila yelled, "How come I lost my sister? No. She just married Charles! How could she die? You're kidding me, aren't you? "

The muscles on Mabel's face were twisted by pain. She opened her eyes wide and tried to fight back the tears. But no matter how tough she was, the fact that she lost her families one by one hit her hard!

"Leila, we must be strong. Vincent will be fine. Trust me, he will!" Mabel gritted her teeth and said, "Doctors are fighting to save his life. You have to be strong. Let's pray for him. He'll be OK. He'll get out of danger..."

"I see!" Leila closed her eyes. When she opened them again, her eyes were as dark as two bottomless pools. She said in a flat voice, "My sister is dead, isn't she? Arthur is injured, and Vincent is still in the ward. Mom, what about Charles? Go find him. He must be very sad. He's supposed to be the saddest person! I'm going to be with Vincent..."

Leila's face was expressionless, and her eyes were deeper and darker. She turned around, wiped away her tears and went to the emergency room.

"Miyamoto, see Charles how he is!" Renee said to Miyamoto.

"Well!" Miyamoto's voice was also calm, tired and flat.

Miyamoto was at a loss now that Pippa was dead! His heart seemed to be empty. He did not know if it was bitterness or what and he just felt emptiness.

Outside the emergency room, several staff members were with Nora, who sat on the bench, and the door of the operating room was closed.

Leila walked over, and there were no more tears on her face. She called out from a distance, "Mom..."

Nora looked up, and saw Leila and exclaimed, "Leila, are you awake? Thank goodness."

When she met Leila at the moment, her feelings were mixed. She knows that Vincent was injured for saving Pippa, so was everyone. Her heart was filled with guilt!

Pippa was dead! She died in the fire after the fireworks exploded.

"Mom! Vincent will be fine!" Leila said in an affirmative tone.

Trying to comfort Nora, she reached out her hand and hugged her tightly. This was the first time that she hugged her on her initiative! They used to be hostile upon each other!

At this moment, they were so close!

They were all worried about the same person!

"Leila..." Nora exclaimed again, looking at her in amazement. This was her daughter-in-law, such a strong girl! She liked strong girls!

If, if Pippa were stronger, perhaps, these tragedies would not happen today!

"Leila," Nora cried again, and immediately her eyes were misty and full of tears.

"Mom! Vincent has promised me that he will be with me for a lifetime. He will be fine!" Leila said briefly, wiping Nora's tears with her sleeve, "Let's wait for him to wake up."

Nora came back and nodded tearfully.

The door of the operating room was opened!

Leila suddenly froze, and rushed over there, only to see that Vincent was pushed out of the operating room with his head wrapped in gauze, his hair removed!

His face suffered from multi scratches. His face was pale and his eyes were closed tightly!

"Vincent! I'm Leila, I'm Leila! Wake up and look at me." Leila thought she was prepared, but she couldn't help bursting out crying when she saw him like this!

Nora also came over. "How is my son? What's the matter?" she asked anxiously.

"He is alive, but he lost consciousness. We are worried that he may become vegetative! Of course, We can't be sure until the patient wakes up. He's still in a coma!" The doctor explained.

"No..." Nora was unable to stand the result and fainted.

"Mrs. White!" Renee quickly held Nora.

Nora was sent to the rescue room and given a shot in the arm.

Vegetative?!

Was this a big blow?!

"Leila!" Renee put her hand on her shoulder.

"I'll come to the ward with him! He won't be a vegetative. I won't allow it. She straightened her back and pushed Vincent into an intensive care unit with the nurse.

Leila went in alone. Everyone else was outside.

The solemnity, the tranquility and the irresistible power in her face shocked people outside. In the intensive care unit, all kinds of instruments were monitoring Vincent.

Leila knelt in front of the bed, fixing her eyes on Vincent!

His face was so pale, and he still pursed his thin lips as usual!

For a while, she just knelt in front of his bed.

Vincent was lying on the bed with his eyes closed.

His hands were hanging on both sides of him, and he had been putting on a drip.

She reached out to hold his hand, trembling. She choked, "Vincent, I know you can hear me! I know you can feel me. I am your Leila. Last night we were still together! You promised me to take care of me all my life! But in the twinkling of an eye, you are lying here! Will you open your eyes soon?"

Her voice was calm and serene, and she continued, "I have a lot of things to say to you. But I don't know how to say in the face of you, do you know how much I love you? I love you so much."

Leila reached out and gently stroked Vincent's cheek, just like stroking a sleeping child.

She gazed at him and added, "Vincent, you are really bad! You are so bad! I still can't help blaming you when I think about what we have gone through! When we met, you were my sister's boyfriend! But I fell in love with you unexpectedly. I was at a loss and felt guilty at that time."

She stopped to catch her breath and said, "Then you said you wanted to marry me! Do you know how I felt that day? I was excited, happy, afraid and sad, because I know that you want to marry me for another reason, not for love. Although I didn't know what your purpose was at that time, I agreed! Because I love you! I don't care what you do! But I can only keep my feelings to myself, and I thought I would keep it to myself all my life!"

"I even thought about being alone in my life. Even if our marriage fails, I will not start a new relationship, because I only love you in my life! Vincent, our baby is gone. I don't blame you for leaving. I don't really blame you. I blame myself! I didn't protect myself well. I understand you didn't trust me at that time. I was sad, and I had to be cold to you. You have been the only man in my heart! You've always been the only one! My love does not allow me to betray you, betray myself."

She rested her head against the edge of the bed, tears gushing into her eyes. She had a moment of silence, and then, she resolutely raised her head and said, "I miss you so much in the past two months since I left you and went to R City! I wished one day you suddenly come to me, take me back, and tell me you wouldn't let me go no matter what happened! But You didn't come! When your mother came to beg me, I seemed to see hope at that moment. It turned out that your heart ached too. You also love me. At that moment, I know how much you love me from your mother!"

Two drips of tears fell on the edge of the bed. She looked up tearfully and looked at his stiff, expressionless face. "Do you know? How happy and excited am I when I see you the next day? But at that time, I pretended to be calm because of my self-esteem! God knows how surprised I am! Maybe I'm a fool!"

"I'm angry because you don't trust me. I love you so much! How can you suspect that I cheated on you? I even hate the touch of other men. I only love you." Leila sniffed; her eyes still fixed on Vincent.

"Fortunately, we were together at last! Vincent, I decided to go home with you yesterday. I want to stay with you all my life. Would you wake up? I need you, and I can't live without you! If you dare not wake up all your life, I will not forgive you, never! Do you want to see me sad? Do you want me to suffer more? "

She said a lot. There were only the two of them in the ward. Outside the ward, Renee was standing there, and Callum came too. He looked at Renee with mixed feelings!

Chapter 497 - A Moment in Destiny

Leila said, holding Vincent's hand tightly, "Wake up and look at me? Tell me, you're OK. You're so strong, so healthy! "

But Vincent did not respond whatever she said, tears falling down her cheek.

Suddenly she got excited. "Listen, if you don't wake up, I'll die. I'll make you regret it all your life. Even if you wake up, you can't find me! Do you hear me? Wake up! No... I am wrong. I will not die. I will be with you forever! I won't leave you, and you can't leave me. I'll be with you all my life! "

She yelled wildly, fiercely, bitterly.

Outside the ward, Renee said goodbye and wiped away the tears from the corners of her eyes.

Callum was speechless.

Mabel's heart ached as she looked at her with tears in her eyes! She wished that they could be with each other.

All of a sudden, Leila, with tears on her face, seemed to hear a voice!

She heard a familiar husky voice in her ear! "If I don't wake up, I'm afraid you'll become a crybaby!"

"Vincent..." Shocked and surprised, Leila suddenly looked up at him!

He closed his eyes, and there were two beads of tears welling up from the corner of his eyes, slowly running down his face!

"Vincent..." Leila uttered a cry of joy, and immediately stood up and approached his lips. "Vincent, I'm Leila, your Leila. Did you speak just now? Did you speak?"

"When can you call me honey?" Vincent finally slowly opened his eyes, where were so dark and deep!

They gazed into each other, thousands of words welling up in their heart. Leila's tears dropped on his face. "Are you awake? You're really awake?"

"Silly girl!" Vincent sighed!

Leila lowered her head and put her lips on his'. She called out again, "Vincent."

"I'll go on sleeping if you don't call me honey," he snorted. A trace of frustration flashed past Vincent's cold face. He simply couldn't do anything with Leila, who still refused to call him honey when he almost became a vegetable! But he was glad to know how she felt.

He suddenly kissed her on her lips with a faint smile on the corner of his mouth.

"Leila, I love you!" he said!

"Vincent! Vincent." she exclaimed, and they were kissing affectionately!

Outside the ward, Renee and Mabel embraced each other.

"I'll tell Nora!" Mabel wiped her tears. Laughing and crying, she rushed to find Nora to tell her the news.

"Oh! It hurts." Vincent gave a low cry.

"What's the matter?" Frightened, flustered, Leila quickly looked up. "How did I hurt you? What's wrong? Vincent."

"I feel a pain in the head!" It hurt when he turned his head because he had surgery!

"I'm sorry. I'm sorry!"

"How's Arthur?" Vincent asked.

"He's in the ward. He's OK!" Leila said in a hurry.

But she didn't know that Arthur's leg was smashed to the tendons and nerves was affected. Maybe he would be disabled all his life.

Outside the mortuary.

Miyamoto passed a cigarette to Charles and held one in his hand.

Charles looked at Miyamoto with dull eyes. Standing at the door of the mortuary, he felt light-headed and soon blacked out.

"Charles," Miyamoto called in shock, and he held him immediately, "Someone sends him to ward!"

Being enveloped in sadness, Charles stood outside the mortuary for ten hours, motionless. But it could not change the fact that Macey had died! The lively girl now was frozen in the freezer, and he lost her forever!

A month later!

Carson was sentenced to death for smuggling, homicide, kidnapping, rape and so on. He was sentenced to death and executed immediately!

Vincent was discharged.

But Arthur ended up sitting in the wheelchair, and he refused to see anyone because he was dejected that he might be disabled.

When Leila got news from her mother, she was filled with guilt. She clearly remembered that when he put her down, he made a dull hum.

Out of guilt, she had no smile on her face. Not only her sister and Pippa were gone, but Arthur lost his health. Did she deserve to be happy?

It seemed that her happiness was related to Arthur.

Arthur, however, left the hospital by himself, in order not to bring pressure on Leila. Later, Leila learned that he went to his grandaunt! She called his grandaunt, but she told her that Arthur was not doing well, and he was getting thinner and thinner!

"Leila, are you worried about Arthur?" How couldn't Vincent know what was on her mind.

She decided not to pretend to be strong.

Tears were trickling down her cheeks.

Vincent hugged her tightly.

Vincent knew what she wanted to say, and he said before she had a chance to say. "I am worried about him. I know his legs won't be recovered for the time being, so we can't be happy for real! How can we be so selfish? Leila, do you want to see him? You want to stay with him and encourage him to do the treatment, right? He refused treatment because he was guilty of your sister! I got it, and I know what's on your mind!"

"I..." Leila opened and shut her mouth, saying nothing.

"I know!" Vincent said with a faint smile, "I know the best doctor! You want to take care of him, don't you? "

"Vincent!" Leila exclaimed.

"I know what you want to say. We cannot be so selfish, and we can't be relieved until he is fully recovered! I'm okay with you taking care of him, and I'll wait for you! Wait until you have no pressure to be with me!" He told her affectionately.

"Vincent!" Leila cried and she wept with tears of joy. "I can't believe you know me so well. I want to take care of him and to be with him during the treatment! His grandaunt said he refused treatment at all. We need to help him! My sister died for requiting favor, and he is injured for protecting me. I'm supposed to help him!"

He smiled, looking at her and his eyes were full of love.

"But what do you do?" She asked softly, stroking his face.

"What do you say?" He squinted at her.

"I don't know!"

"I am well. My brain was operated on, but I was lucky and alive!"

Leila looked up at his handsome face, dotted with shallow scars. Because of the surgery, his hair was gradually becoming hairy, making him look better.

But he was lucky to be alive after the accident! How could she live without him?

"Take care of Arthur. We'll be relived if he's fine!" He said.

"Vincent! I love you." Leila tiptoed, pulled his neck down and kissed his lips.

"Hey, I am very petty. In particular, I can be very possessive about my woman, but I also care about the Arthur. He is a good friend of mine! Besides, the company also needs him. When he is OK, he has to work, and I will travel around the world with you!" Vincent said with a smile, and he hugged Leila in his arms and kissed her cheek.

"Everything will be fine, and he will be fine! We'll all be fine!" Leila was so grateful that Vincent was very magnanimous.

"Yes. If he listens to the doctor and cooperates well, everything will be fine," he said firmly. He held her tightly. He was comforting her, and he was probably comforting himself.

"Honey..." Leila called him, raised her head and looked into his black eyes.

"Well? You're finally going to call my that?" He lowered his head and looked at Leila in surprise. "It seems that my sacrifice is not in vain!"

"I love you."

He smiled and kissed her affectionately.

"I love you, too."

As they finished kissing, she took him to the bed.

"Honey." Gently putting him on the bed, she sat on it too.

"No." He resisted, looking at her worriedly.

"Why not?" Leila asked as her restless hands wandered around him.

He was still and he swallowed hard.

She knew he wanted it!

They hadn't had sex for a whole month because of his health condition, and there were funerals and now Arthur's legs were broken. All the pressure was brought in their heart, which was why they didn't have sex!

How could he, a person who had vigorous sex drive, not want it.

"No." He turned his head back and was a little away from her.

She was smiling and approaching step by step, like a wolf.

"I'll go to visit Arthur's grandaunt tomorrow and help Arthur cheer up!" She said in a coquettish way, rubbing in his arms, "We may not meet for a long time!"

Her soft chests were against him. He breathed heavily and his eyes were burning with fire of desire.

He couldn't wait!

"Honey..." She kept seducing him and whispering in his ear and licked his lips lightly with hers.

In a moment, his desire finally defeated his reason. He was turned on.

"Leila!" He took a deep breath. She held him and helped him to undress! He was a man who could worry about Arthur and her, and a very possessive man who could make sacrifices and concessions. How could she not love him?

He could not resist the temptation and covered her with his body.

Their heart leaped...

After taking off each other's clothes, they finally merged into one, physically and spiritually!

They couldn't help but groan, which was very seductive.

She could feel that her body was going to be blown up!

It was so hot...

Gradually, as their hearts beat raced, his low roar also became heavier, and his body was already tight to a certain limit.

Finally, in a fierce sprint, he gave himself a hard release.

She was filled with the flow of liquid, which only belonged to him. Leila closed her eyes with sweet satisfaction!

Chapter 498 - A Moment in Destiny

Pippa was buried in a cemetery on the western outskirts of F City.

After the death of Pippa, Renee and Miyamoto felt it awkward to get along with each other.

Miyamoto no longer clung to her. He often fell into deep thoughts and occasionally turn his gaze at her, but Renee did not know what he was thinking.

Renee could not stand it and finally told Miyamoto after Pippa was buried, "Since you are so sad and miss Pippa so much, be a widower for her! Don't bother me anymore. I'm really tired. Your life is too complicated. I don't want to live that kind of life. Let's break up!"

Renee didn't care about what Miyamoto answered, turned around and left!

Unexpectedly, Miyamoto didn't give any explanation but ordered his man, "Protect Renee!"

Three weeks had passed since that day. Miyamoto's man made a report about what Renee did every day. Renee lived in Pearl Community. Miyamoto's men guarded at the gate. When Renee went out, they would follow her and protect her.

Renee thought they were spying on her!

She couldn't bear it anymore and shouted to Miyamoto on the phone, "Miyamoto, let your men keep away from me. They follow me wherever I go. Can you leave me alone?"

"They're protecting you!"

"I don't need protection!" Renee shouted with anger. "I am not the head of some state. I am just an ordinary person. I don't need bodyguard when I go out. I like to live a free life, so please stop disturbing me!"

"Alright! I'll tell them to go back!" After the silence, Miyamoto agreed to withdraw his men.

His men received the phone, nodded, and left!

On the street, Renee stuck her tongue and felt much more relaxed. She would not be followed and watched at any time. So, did it mean that their relationship was over?

It was like she and Miyamoto had been sex partners all this while. The joy was always transient, wasn't it?

Forget it! She and Miyamoto had been over anyway. Renee shook her head and continued shopping. She was thinking whether or not she should find a job.

"You don't like being followed by bodyguards?" Suddenly, a familiar male voice came to her ears. Renee was looking down and saw a pair of black leather shoes. When she raised her head, she saw a tall man in the suit. Then her gaze met Miyamoto's!

"Why are you here?" She paused and said calmly. As she turned away, she felt Miyamoto wanted to say something, but she decided to ignore him and stride forward. She would pretend not to see him.

"Since you don't like bodyguards, I come to keep you company!" His voice sounded from behind.

He hadn't seen her for three weeks!

Her back was still thin. She wore a long black dress with her long hair put up. Her slender and beautiful neck was exposed, and a wisp of her hair hung down. When she walked, her earrings were wobbly and shiny.

She strode forward and he followed. She was on heels of five centimeters. Her figure was slender and enchanting. The crowd threw their gaze at Renee.

Miyamoto didn't like others looking at Renee, especially when they put on a lustful and surprised look. She was so eye-catching when she stood on the street.

"Renee..." He heard himself muttering, but Renee pretended not to hear him and continued walking.

He stepped forward and reached out to grab her wrist.

She turned around with anger, but she suppressed her anger when she saw him. She looked at him with a light smile and watery eyes. She put on a disdainful expression, "You don't want to be a widower for Pippa? So, you come to see me?"

"Do you have to be so aggressive?" Miyamoto was stunned and realized why she was angry. "You are jealous of Pippa?"

"I'm jealous of her?" Renee was shocked! "How was that possible? I am in a carefree mood now. Are you kidding me? Let go of me. I don't want to have any contact with you. I'm so tired!"

"Let's talk!" Miyamoto gently smiled.

Renee frowned and threw a cold gaze. When she saw the person behind Miyamoto, she put on a faint smile and greeted that person. "What a coincidence ... Callum! You said you wanted to talk to me, didn't you? I'm free today!"

Callum appeared, walked to Renee surprisedly and said in a surprised tone, "Renee, you are willing to talk to me?"

When Miyamoto was stunned, Renee shook off his hand, "Let's go. I'm free today!"

But Miyamoto put on a gloomy face because of Callum!

Renee was willing to listen to Callum's explanation. Did it mean that she was willing to make up with Callum? This annoyed Miyamoto. When he saw them walking towards the cafe, he followed them without a word.

Renee turned around with an indifferent look and said to Callum in a low voice, "I'm sorry for making use of you. I just want to get rid of Miyamoto. Don't follow me anymore. Thank you!"

"Renee? Callum was stunned. "Don't you—"

"I don't have time to listen to your explanation. It makes no difference to me."

They walked into the café and Renee said, "A back door is over there. Get out! I want to drink coffee alone. Don't disturb me!"

"Renee!

"Leave me alone!" Renee snorted and walked toward a quiet corner.

She felt tired!

She felt tired of dealing with men!

"What would you like to drink, miss?"

"Black coffee, please!" Renee said.

Callum looked at her from a distance, and sighed. He looked at his watch and turned to leave. If he had nothing else to deal with, he would stay and explain to Renee!

Coffee was set. Renee was drinking coffee quietly and sank into the sofa. Her sight was blocked by the highchair. She felt very lonely...

"In order to get rid of me, you made use of your ex-boyfriend? Renee, are you too unprincipled?" Miyamoto questioned Renee in a low voice!

He kept showing up!

Renee suddenly turned her head and found that Miyamoto was looking at her with passion! He stood there like a king!

Renee was stunned for a moment, smiled and hooked her fingers towards Miyamoto.

He froze for a moment and breathed quickly because she seemed to seduce him with the gesture!

He sat down beside her. She got close to him, exhaled her breath to his ear and snorted, "Does it have anything to do with you? What are you to me?"

"I am your betrothed!" His pupils constricted in an instant. He found himself having a strong urge for Renee. Otherwise, he would not have a hard-on when she seduced him just now.

"I don't want you to be my fiancé anymore. Anyway, we are not husband and wife. We don't need to get divorced!" Renee took her coffee and took a sip. "Now, you're no longer my betrothed!"

After Renee put the cup down, Miyamoto took the cup and took a sip.

Renee blushed! "Why don't you just buy yourself a cup of coffee if you want? Why do you drink mine? You are too disgusting."

"I don't mind!" He stared at her fair face. In the dim light of the cafe, he could see the light makeup she wore and the faint eye shadow around her eyes.

"What a joke! I am sick of you, okay?" Renee giggled and pushed him away, "Keep away from me, okay?"

Hearing that, Miyamoto smiled happily because he noticed that Renee was nervous.

"You're scared and nervous!" He threw his arms around her and pressed her against the sofa. He got close to her and exhaled breath to her lips. "Are you afraid of loving me?"

People passing by could hardly notice them in the corner. The chair back was high and the passers-by couldn't look through the window. But it was not uncommon to see couples act intimately in the cafe.

"Fall in love with you?" Renee snorted. "It's you who pester me. It's you that fall in love with me!"

She smiled with disdain and anger in her eyes, but she looked seductive in his eyes. Miyamoto was stunned. He didn't get angry but smile. He had such a strong desire that his heart skipped a beat. He looked at her and his heart was pounding. "Okay, I fall in love with you!"

Renee was stunned!

She came to her senses and snorted. "A man who is grieving over his ex-wife's death but falls in love with me? His love must be worthless."

He was stunned for a moment and felt frustrated at her accusation. He withdrew his hands and held her tightly in his arms. Her slender figure was pressed against his chest. He lowered his head and kissed her, but he wanted more.

He let go of her, got up and threw a bill on the table. He held her and walked outside. Renee was shocked. When she came to her senses, she had been in the car.

Before she could retort, his kiss fell on every inch of her body. As she retreated, he got closer, "Let go of me!"

Renee was pressed against the seat. Miyamoto was on her top and stretched his hands into her dress.

"Let me go!"

What was wrong with him?

Why was he in heat like an animal when he was together with her?

Renee was enraged, pushed him hard and bit him.

"I'm sorry for ignoring you recently!" He whispered. Renee realized men were terrible creatures after all. She couldn't resist him with her strength. He was a gentleman, but he turned into a rutting beast the next moment. She was no match for him.

Chapter 499 - A Moment in Destiny

"Miyamoto, can you let me go?" Renee glared at him, stopped him with her hand and grab his hands. Even if she had used great strength, she could not stop Miyamoto. He kept caressing her body.

"I'll never let go of you!" They were in the car. Although the car windows were tinted and the passers-by could not see the inside, Renee could see the outside. She was shy and scared!

He was on top of her and his penis was right in the middle of her legs. She could feel the heat, but she didn't want to...

Because she felt his grief over the death of Pippa!

She had mixed feelings.

Miyamoto loved Pippa very much before. If he was indifferent to Pippa's death, he would be immoral like an animal.

But if he cared about it too much, his future wife would live a hard life! Renee felt it difficult to be with Miyamoto, so she didn't want to marry him!

In other words, she didn't think Miyamoto was wrong! But they shouldn't have known each other!

When his kisses were passionate and fierce, she felt that Miyamoto loved her, but she couldn't accept him.

His kiss was imperious and manly. He kissed her from her lips to her neck, and then he tried to unzip the zipper of her dress, but it was on her back. He was so hurried that he failed to do it. When he kissed her cheek again, he paused.

The corner of her eyes was moist with tears and tasted salty. He murmured and didn't dare to move, "Renee..."

How could that be? She was fine and strong. She shouldn't have cried. What happened?

She pushed Miyamoto and said huskily, "Stay away from me!"

He retreated to his seat and saw the tears on her face as she wiped them, "Miyamoto, don't come to me again, okay? If you want to have sex, there are plenty of women on the street. I'm not right for you. Don't expect to play with me again!"

As she spoke, she reached out to open the door but was stopped by him. "Renee, you mistook me. Let's talk!"

"I didn't!" She said coldly.

"Renee... I'm sorry for neglecting you!" Miyamoto said in a panicky tone.

"No! You don't need to say sorry!" Renee shook her head. "I'm not a pet of you. I am Renee. I am strong! I can be happy without a man. You make me unhappy, so I don't need you anymore. You said that you wanted to marry me, but your ex-wife is still in your mind. I don't need a man like you! Got it?"

Renee's big and bright eyes were filled with sadness. She was always happy and people around her would feel worried about her when she was in sadness.

"Renee, please listen to me!"

"Stop it!"

Renee was in a mood. She had stopped crying, but she still felt uncomfortable. She shook off his hand and looked tired.

"I have to go..." She did not want to quarrel with him and said lightly. She wanted to open the door to get off, but Miyamoto didn't let go.

He said, "Let me take you there!"

"No need!" Renee was stubborn. "I don't want to scold you!"

He made her want to curse!

"Then listen to me!" he shouted, looked at her and calmed down, "Can you listen to me?"

He murmured, reached for her hand, but she dodged.

"Say it!" She murmured weakly. She didn't want to waste her words. She would go after Miyamoto finished speaking.

"Renee, I know you are angry about my reaction after Pippa committed suicide!" Miyamoto said quietly, "To be honest, I think you may have misunderstood!"

"No! I didn't! I know it's common. She is the woman you once loved! I can understand that you're upset. She's the mother of your child! If Callum or even Macey died, I would feel very sad. Humans have empathy. I didn't misunderstand you. I support you! I feel very sad about Pippa's death, not to mention you."

"But you want to leave me because of that!" Her words made him feel sad. "You're still mad at me!"

"I'm not!"

"I can feel it."

"Well, I'm not angry. I'm jealous... You said that you would marry me and forget Pippa, but you lost your mind for that woman!" She said frankly and felt much better.

She couldn't stand that Pippa was in Miyamoto's mind, nor could she pretend to be tolerant.

He smiled suddenly. Renee was puzzled and more embarrassed.

"Renee! You're jealous!" He spoke.

"Yes!" She snorted.

"You're in love with me!"

"I don't know!" Though he was right, and his reaction was common, she felt very uncomfortable.

"Renee, you are a sunny girl. We have the similar experience, so we can attract each other!"

"I am not attracted by you!"

"Okay! You attract me!" Miyamoto admitted.

She rolled her eyes and looked away, like a fussy child. "It's you that haunt me."

"Pippa died. I did have mixed feelings!" He said sincerely. "I felt I had the responsibility!"

As he spoke, she felt a pain.

"I don't know how to love. Pippa came into my world like a fairy. She was my first woman! My mother told me to be constant in love, so I felt Pippa was my lifetime partner!"

Renee listened to him quietly and felt her breath seemed to pause for a while.

"I want to possess her instead of loving her! When she tried to leave, I had changed. I became ruthless and even abused her. I begged her, but I didn't let go of her! Her death had something to do with me. If I had let go of her, gave her some space and stopped pestering her, she wouldn't have died! After she died, I felt a bit empty and couldn't tell what kind of feeling it was. The memories about her came to my mind! She died. I am very guilty. I don't know how to explain to Owen. Pippa and I are not good parents, and we are not nice with the child..."

"The first time we had sex in Japan, I decided to be responsible for you and forget Pippa. I'm serious. If you don't trust me, you can get off. I promise I will never pester you again. If you still have feelings for me and you're willing to trust me, I will be pleased to stay by your side! I am a very traditional man. I will be responsible for you for the rest of my life. I won't cheat, go whoring or gamble. I've cut it up with the underworld. I am a businessman now! Please choose me as your spouse."

Renee was stunned. What he said sounded great. However, she still felt it hard to accept his love, so she decided not to embarrass each other.

"I'll get off!" She hesitated and finally spoke!

Miyamoto was stunned and his Adam's apple slid. He failed to say what he wanted and nodded. "Okay!"

"Take care!" Without another word, Renee got off and walked.

The wind blew through her hair. It was getting dark. She felt lonely when she walked in the crowd! Miyamoto's car was parked outside the cafe. He saw her walking into the crowd and disappear, and sighed!

He was also lonely!

Finally, he started the car!

Renee walked forward.

Walking through the crowd, she was knocked aside by the stampede and ran into a man with tattoos of a dragon and a tiger. He looked like a rascal with a gold chain around his neck. Renee felt the gold chain on his neck was like a dog chain.

The man was about to scold but smiled when he saw Renee. "What a beauty! What is your name?"

With that said, the man came over. Renee hurriedly retreated and kept a distance from him, "I'm sorry!"

She endured the sickness and apologized to him. After all, she knocked him! When she was about to leave, she was grabbed by the wrist.

She screamed, felt sick and goosebumps came up. She hated being touched, especially by men who looked so disgusting. "Let me go!"

Miyamoto drove the car and saw Renee be held by the wrist. They were in dispute. He sighed. She had made a decision! He didn't want to pester Renee. He was afraid of hurting her.

He had reflected himself after Pippa died. If he treated Renee in the same way, Renee may get hurt. He had thought a lot these days. He didn't want to leave Renee. If he did, he would never meet a bright and beautiful girl like her!

But she didn't need him! He could only choose to let go! He finally drove the car away! He saw her from the rear-view mirror with attachment to her, but he decided to leave!

Chapter 500 - A Moment in Destiny

"Let go..." Renee shrieked, trying not to vomit.

The man laughed but refused to let go. "You are so lovely. I can buy you a drink! Let's know each other. You bump into me in public. It's the destiny that ties us together!"

"Let go!" Renee tried to shake him off but failed.

When Miyamoto drove the car, he could not help but look at Renee in the rear-view mirror. When he saw that she was being pestered by the thugs, he squinted and frowned. He reversed the car, stopped it, got off and walked up to them directly.

"Let me go!" Renee screamed. "Let go!"

At the same time, the man's arm was seized by Miyamoto!

He appeared like Apollo and became Renee's savior! Renee was stunned! Why did Miyamoto look so handsome?

"Who are you?" When he saw Miyamoto, the thug snorted!

"You're not qualified to know!" He put on a contemptuous and cold smile. He grabbed his arm with great strength.

"I have a crush on this beauty! Ouch..."

Before he could finish, he was punched by Miyamoto. He felt a dull pain and shouted. He was bleeding from only one punch! Miyamoto gave him another blow!

The thug screamed and blood flowed from the corner of his mouth. His face contorted with pain. "It hurts!"

"Boss!" All of a sudden, more thugs rushed out and glared at Miyamoto.

They rushed over together, "Hey, where are you from? What's your name?"

Renee was frightened and was behind Miyamoto in panic.

"You are not qualified to know!" Miyamoto neglected the thug before him, with disdain in his eyes. He kicked the arm of the man who grabbed Renee. Before anyone could do anything, the man fell on the ground. Miyamoto stepped on that man's face and said in a cold voice. "You dare to spoon a girl on the street. I'll cripple you!"

Hearing that, the gangsters were stunned and intimidated by Miyamoto.

"You, who are you?" The man who was trampled was struggling. "Where are you from?"

"Shut up. I don't like being interrupted when I'm talking." Miyamoto gave the man a mocking look and put on a cold and weird smile. Miyamoto gave him a kick. Then his jaw was dislocated.

"Guys, save our boss!" The thugs rushed up!

"Well!" Miyamoto raised his feet and gave them some kicks. Before Renee could do anything, they fell on the ground, which attracted the crowd's attention.

Renee was shocked. How did he do that?

He knocked them down with several kicks. He moved even faster than the martial arts stars! She couldn't see it clearly. She looked up at Miyamoto who maintained a cold face. He turned his gaze at her, with concern and comfort in his eyes.

He looked so handsome when he didn't smile. His fist was so powerful!

He was so manly!

"Go!" He said, held Renee and went to the car.

Those who lay on the ground and wailed didn't catch up with Renee and Miyamoto to stop them.

Renee kept silent and was pulled to the car by Miyamoto. She was immersed in that fight just now. Was it a dream? He was so handsome.

Miyamoto did not speak but drove her to Pearl Community.

"Thank you!" Renee thanked Miyamoto and felt somewhat embarrassed.

Miyamoto did not speak and remained a cold face.

"How did you do that?" Renee was really surprised. She glanced at the man beside her. She didn't know that Miyamoto was so good at fighting. It was amazing. "Was it Kung Fu just now? How long have you been practicing?"

Renee had the urge to roll her eyes. Miyamoto was stunned, curled his lips and looked at her. "What do you think?"

Being looked by Miyamoto, Renee was a bit shocked and felt hot all over her body. "You do use Kung Fu? Have you ever practiced some secret moves?"

Miyamoto was stunned for a moment and put on a smile. His face twitched, "There is no secret moves!"

"You're so great!" She was stunned and felt it was too exaggerated. She threw an embarrassed look at him. "Forget it!"

Miyamoto looked at her again.

Renee was confused, looked down at herself and explained, "I bumped into that man. He said he wanted to buy me a drink. I didn't go, since I didn't know him..."

"You don't need to explain to me!" Miyamoto said in a deep voice.

"Yes! I don't need to do it. But thank you anyway!" Renee put on an aggrieved look and murmured with her hands folded.

Looking at her embarrassed look, Miyamoto put on a faint smile.

"Are you sure you don't need a bodyguard?" Miyamoto smiled and said in a deep voice.

"I'm fine. Accidents happen sometimes. I will be careful next time. There are still the laws. It's so terrible!" Renee smiled and looked at Miyamoto with guilt. He had practiced Kung Fu. She'd better stay away from him. Otherwise, she may be killed by him! "Take me to Pearl Community!"

Without saying a word, he drove the car to Pearl Community.

Renee felt herself unwelcome and decided to be silent.

When the car came to Pearl Community, Miyamoto said, "You will be safer if you go out in more reserved clothes!"

"Well!" Renee got off at a loss and wanted to thank him again, but Miyamoto didn't pause and drove away.

Renee was stunned. She blinked her eyes and looked down at herself. She was wearing a skirt and high heels? Did she have any fault? His attitude was so bad!

But she suddenly realized that she had cut it up with him! She didn't have to care about his attitude.

When Renee got back to Leila's apartment, Renee rolled her eyes. Forget it! She would like to travel and then get a job.

The next morning, she received a call from Leila. Leila said she would go to City R to take care of Arthur. Renee said without thinking.

"I'll go with you!"

"We're going now. Are you sure?" Leila asked on the phone.

"Of course. I'm free anyway!"

"Okay, let's go together. I'll pick you up!"

"Okay!" Renee hung up the phone and packed her luggage. She changed her clothes, took a suitcase and a small bag, waiting for Leila.

Vincent didn't drive a car himself but asked his driver to drive a touring car. When Renee went downstairs, she saw Vincent and Leila sitting in the backseat. "You are on good terms!"

"You and Miyamoto are on good terms, too!" Vincent replied.

"Well! Don't mention him. Leila, you should watch your man. He is too gossipy." Renee rolled her eyes, opened the door of the passenger seat and sat beside the driver, "Hey, boy, let's take care of each other all the way. If you feel bored, I can tell a joke to you! Don't disturb them behind. Let them get tired of showing affection!"

"Thank you, miss!" The driver smiled timidly. He was young.

Renee smiled brightly, "Don't mention it. Just call me Renee. Hey, you can ignore us, or you just separate the space!"

"Thanks!" Vincent said and reached out to press a switch.

"No need!" Leila stopped, "We'll arrive soon and we can be talking all the way!"

"Leila is so sweet!" Renee put on a complacent smile and leaned on the seat. "If you go to see Arthur, you must take me. Is he still frustrated?"

"Yes!" Leila sighed with worry.

"We must cheer him up this time!"

"Does Miyamoto know that you are going to City R?" Vincent asked in confusion.

"It has nothing to do with him. Vincent, can you not mention that man?"

"Do you quarrel with him?" Leila was also puzzled. "After you've experienced so much, shouldn't you cherish each other? What happened to you?"

"You cherish each other. I don't want to cherish him! I'm too tired. I'll take a nap. You go on chatting!"

Vincent and Leila looked at each other, not knowing what had happened!

Pippa died and Macey had gone. Charles was very lonely. They believed that Renee and Miyamoto could live a happy life, but Renee and Miyamoto seemed to be in conflict.

It was sunny today and the sky was clear without a cloud. The sun was high in the sky. It was bright but not dazzling.

When the car came to a highway toll booth, Vincent frowned and said, "Isn't that Miyamoto's car?"

Hearing that, Renee was stunned. Miyamoto's car was really ahead. Did he also go to City R?

"It's really Mr. Miyamoto's!"

"Ray, beep the horn!" Vincent ordered.

Ray beeped the horn several times. Miyamoto was confused and found the car behind him was Vincent's. Miyamoto drove the car aside and waited.

"What are you doing?" Renee didn't want to see Miyamoto after what happened last night.

"I think we need to say hello to him. It seems that he is driving to City R! What a coincidence!"

The car stopped at the toll booth. Vincent got off. Miyamoto saw him and stopped there.

"You going to City R?" Vincent raised her eyebrows.

"Well! To get some fresh air!" Miyamoto nodded and asked, "Are you going there too?"

"Yes! A third wheel is in our car. Why don't you pick her up? Do me a favor! I'll be very grateful to you."

Miyamoto did not know that Renee was on the touring car, "Okay, let her get on my car!"

"Thanks!" Vincent opened the door and pulled Renee down. "You take that car. Don't be the third wheel anymore! We can't bear it!"
