

Devil Slave 81

Chapter 81 Family Meeting...

As the villagers enjoyed their orgasmic activities, Lenny and Crusher came and picked them like over ripe mangoes that had dropped to the ground.

One after the other, they picked them.

Some of them saw what was happening, but their priority remained mating.

There was even one guy that followed Lenny on his own once he took the woman that he was mounting.

Soon enough, they had taken all the villagers.

However, Lenny felt as if something was wrong. Lenny was not the kind of person that wanted to be a buzz killer, however, in his experience, plans were not always that smooth.

He turned and looked at the faces of their captives.

Just then, he realized what was wrong. No! it was more like who was missing.

It was the old woman that he had saved from Crusher the other time. She was the person that was missing.

Realising this, Lenny immediately ran back to the village campsite.

He remembered where he had seen her and he rushed to that particular cave.

However, she was not there. The only thing that welcomed him was a bowl of the food she was supposed to eat.

The meal looked untouched. Without a doubt, she had not eaten her food.

This meant that she must have also seen when they were harvesting her people and escaped.

"Fuck!" Lenny cursed. If it was true that she had gone, then they was no wasting time here.

He did not know how far she had gone but he was not at the moment willing to find out.

Chasing after an old woman was not the most important priority at the moment.

And for all he knew, old man Buckle was currently searching for him. If he went after her, he could get himself exposed.

That would result into terrible consequences. The best thing to do at the moment, was to finish the reason he had come out in the first place.

Immediately, he turned and went back to the cave.

Crusher had already began the processes of draining the villagers of their blood. They were all hung upside down from the ceiling like pigs in a pen farm.

Many of them still had their erections, but these were instruments that they would never use again.

Incredible cuts were made on their bodies and they were made to bleed down into buckets that Lenny had Crusher had made before time.

Crusher whistled lowly as he butchered the hanging people.

His work was meticulous.

He managed to still keep them alive as he drained them.

Lenny worked into the cave, "we have to hurry up and leave!"

"what!? Now!? but we barely just started." Crusher rebutted.

"Yeah! but if we stay here for long, the old man will come for us."

Crusher frowned, "One got away?"

lenny nodded.

"Okay then, lets speed things up." Crusher grabbed the first person by his side and then with an incredible twist and pull, he tore out the head from the body.

Blood poured out in excess.

Lenny nodded and joined him. Initially, the plan was to give these guys a peaceful death. After all, it was not their fault. It was just their terrible ancestry was from old man Buckle, and their blood happened to be what Lenny and Crusher wanted in the first place.

Heads rolled and in a matter of minutes, all the villagers were completely dead.

Just then, lenny made a very deep cut on his wrist. For the plan to work, they needed to use his blood.

Large amount of his blood poured into the buckets.

Slowly, Lenny was starting to feel weak as a result of the loss of blood. He could practically seeing his Hp reduce.

Just then, there was the buzzing of insects.

Lenny and Crusher exchanged eye contact. Without a doubt, they knew it was time to leave. Crusher rushed outside the cave to peep.

Far off in the distance, he could see old man Buckle and beside him was an old woman. No doubt the person Lenny had told him about.

Crusher suddenly looked in Crusher's direction and saw his peeping.

Old man Buckle immediately waved his hand for the insects to give chase.

Meanwhile, Lenny waved his hands and transferred the buckets of blood into his storage.

"I'm ready!" he called to Crusher.

Crusher understood what Lenny meant. Immediately he got into the cave, he saw Lenny on the ground.

He had fainted from loss of blood.

Crusher lifted him on his shoulder and sped out of the place through a planned route. please visit

By the time old man Buckle and the insects reached his location, it was already too late. He and Lenny were already gone.

The old man screamed in anger.

Crusher took Lenny to a different location. Lenny had lost a lot of blood. it was going to be a while for him to recover.

Once more, the colony entered a frenzied search for the two of them.

After a few hours, Leeny was feeling a bit better, but he was still a bit weak.

"Can you still do this?" Crusher asked, seeing the state of Lenny's condition.

Lenny nodded, "All we need to do is get into the queen's chamber and execute the plan!"

Lenny was still recovering, but his excitement for completing the Major Task pushed him forward.

They maneuvered their way step by step through the caves Lenny had used to escape the first time until they got to the queen's cave.

Just like before, immediately Lenny got close, he started to hear the queen whisper into his head.

However, he did not respond back.

This was the same thing for Crusher.

When Lenny had left this place, he had made a lot of calculative responses about his encounter with the queen.

For example, he discovered how the queen talked to him in his head.

She communicated through a kind of wave. It was just as how radio waves worked.

However, she could only roughly feel the signal reaching the intended target and did not know if the signal had made communication. At least not until one responded.

Before coming to this place, Lenny had made sure to tell Crusher about this.

So far, the plan had actually gone smoothly.

However, immediately they got into the queen's cave, what they saw made them speechless.

Lenny and Crusher frowned hard.

Before them was the queen. However, she was already expecting their arrival and had prepared a welcoming party for them.

She giggled lightly, "I knew you would be back!"

Lenny gave a fake smile, "What gave me away, not kissing you after the last date?" He gave a sarcastic remark.

"maybe," she responded, "or maybe it's just your zeal to let me eat you..." Her voice trailed off, and with the way her tentacles flared in the air, Lenny could tell that her hunger to have him had been aroused.

In front of the Queen were Chimera ants. These ones were a breed that Lenny had not seen before.

They looked like giant beetles with sharp scissors looking limbs.

In front of them stood old man Buckle.

At the moment, the old man was fuming in anger so much so that he the muscles on his face spasmed from time to time.

He had never hated anyone like he did Lenny had the moment. This also included the demons that had enslaved him for most of his life.

Lenny had taken away all he had built for many years in only in a matter of days.

At first, it was Bugger, and then, the crushing of his Dome that lead to the killing of more than half his village.

That event was also the reason why his head was now terribly damaged.

As if that was not bad enough, Lenny had come back for his remaining family.

Even now, he could still remember as they were hung upside down, all of them headless.

That sight had made him nearly run mad.

All the Players were present. However, Lenny looked around for one last person.

"Hey, Queen bug eyes! Where is 'our' illegitimate daughter. Is she not attending the family meeting?"

Lenny was referring to insect-B.

The Queen giggled again. "I had to put her out temporarily. Until I have fed totally on you of course. There is something about you that is so exciting."

As she said this, her abnormal mouth opened bit, revealing rows of teeth arranged in a circular manner.

Lenny gave a carefree smile, "you know all my girlfriends say that about me, until there get a taste of what I can give!"

Lenny waved his hands and his piecers appeared.

He was obviously ready for a fight.

There was suddenly a bit of silence that washed through the room.

And then just as Lenny would dive in to attack, he felt a piecer go through his back and out his belly.

He paused as he turned to the person that had literally stabbed him in the back.

"Crusher!?"

Chapter 82 Knowing Desire And True Betrayal...

Lenny turned to Crusher with surprise in his eyes.

However, Crusher was not yet done.

Once more, he stabbed him with another piecer.

"Hahahaha!!!" The queen laughed in Lenny's head, "I forgot to mention that your friend is also on my side."

Lenny coughed up some blood, "Crusher! but why?"

Crusher had a menacing look on his face, "that is revenge for what you did to my camp. Did you think I will not find out? You raided my camp to get the old man's daughter and you killed all my men. That day, it was not the Chimera ants that did it, it was You. You are the person that killed all my brothers and sisters."

Lenny heard his words and frowned bitterly.

He tried to move and throw a punch, but Crusher dodged it easily and catching Lenny's arm, he squeezed and broke it.

"AHHHH!!!" Lenny Fell to his knees.

"It was these hands right? These hands you used to slaughter them." Crusher grabbed Lenny's other hand and broke it too. This time around, it was from the Elbow.

Meanwhile, As Lenny bled from the mouth, the Queen actually Salivated from the side of her abnormally enlarged mouth.

Firstly, she enjoyed the show that was being put on before her.

After all, the beast was a demon. A good betrayal was always fun to watch. Especially when it was done at the most critical of moments.

Also, after that little taste of Lenny's blood that she had gotten the other time which she used to create INsect-B, she had been craving nothing else but Lenny's blood.

Since her birth, she had never had anything like it. There was something about it that pulled her appetite.

It was like the kind of attraction that bears had towards honey. or ants towards sugar.

Even now, she was only preserving her faint but nonexistent dignity, and that was why she had not rushed over with her big body to devour him.

Crusher gave Lenny a few punches to the face and Lenny bled badly. Blood mixed with saliva poured out of his mouth.

Crusher already had strength that was equal to a gladiator in the A class. While Lenny just had strength Equivalent to Gladiators in the B class.

Especially after that surprise attack, they was only so much Lenny could do. And now, his hands were also broken by Crusher.

Crusher gave Lenny some more punches and then he lifted him up by his neck.

Crusher turned to the queen, "as agreed, I deliver him to you and you allow me safe passage out of these colony walls!"

"Yes, that was the deal."

Crusher threw Lenny before the beetle like insects like he was a used rag he was trying to get rid of.

Lenny tumbled on the ground a little before stopping before old man Buckle.

The old man lifted Lenny by the neck, "in case you are wondering how he found out, I told the queen and she told him. You know, her reach with her mind can actually go beyond these walls. She just intentionally made you think it was restricted to her chambers so that you would let your guard down."

PUNCH!

Old man Buckle gave Lenny a punch to his stomach, "that is for my children that you slaughtered!"

However, even with Lenny's battered and beaten face he still managed to crack a smile at the old man, "killing them was fun," Lenny muttered lowly.

In his anger, Old man Buckle gave Lenny several kicks to the stomach.

"Buckle!!!" The Queen called at him, "I'm waiting for my meal!"

Buckle understood what she meant.

He lifted Lenny by the throat, and brought him closer to the wide opened mouth. However, before he threw him into the heavily teathed mouth whispered in his ear through Gritted teeth, "I know you don't know this, but the queen chews loudly. I'm going to enjoy the crouching sounds of your flesh and bones grind in her mouth."

Old man Buckle Smiled, however, Lenny that had an ugly look on his face suddenly burst into laughter, "what do you mean? I'm the one that's going to enjoy those Crunching sounds!"

One of Lenny's seemingly broken arm suddenly moved and a Piecer from the storage unit appeared through his palm.

Sloush!

A piecing sound was heard as Lenny rammed it through the spider Creature in his chest and through his heart.

As he did, he hit away old man Buckle's hand, and with a quick Round Horse Kick, he Kicked the old man into the mouth of the Queen.

The Queen had been waiting for her meal. And everything had happened very fast.

Everything Lenny had done had been done with extreme speed and accuracy.

Old man Buckle had not expected it and this was also true for the queen.

However, as the Queen's mouth shut to enjoy the delicacy that had been shoved to her, Old man Buckle wondered what had gone wrong.

This was an answer he would never get as he was chewed like a piece of biscuit.

Lenny was an assassin and he had done the most crazy of things just to ensure a firm kill.

One time in his former world, he drank a poison wine before giving the wine to the target and when the person drank it, both of them fell to the ground. However, Lenny had survived while the person had died.

It was basically a survival of the fittest. After all, he knew his own body and knew that he could last far longer than his opponent even though he did not have the antidote.

Such was his ways. He was not one to back out from a challenge because his life was threatened.

Just like when he was shot and was reincarnated into this world.

This was him putting his own life on the line to reach the desired outcome.

Everything that had happened up to this point was well planned.

Lenny was not a fool and already knew that the queen was going to try and seduce Crusher to her own side. After all, it had happened to Crusher's men. There was no way such a proven method was not going to be used again.

Knowing this, Lenny had already informed Crusher that the queen was going to entice him. Of course he did not know that his annihilation of Crusher's camp was going to be used and really did not know that the Queen's mind range was larger than her chambers. However, there was one thing he knew more than her, and that was desire.

The Queen had gotten one thing wrong. She had promised to let Crusher leave the nest. However, it was never crusher's intention to leave the nest. In fact, he liked it here.

This was something Lenny had figured out on his own when Crusher's former group of friends had said they wanted to leave the nest and that Crusher should show them the way out.

According to Crusher, in here as dangerous as it seemed was actually safer than out there.

In other words, the queen was promising Crusher to kick him out of his comfort zone. No man wanted to ever leave his comfort zone.

Meanwhile, Lenny had made a different deal. His deal was that he was going to make this place far more comfortable for Crusher. Naturally, it was easy for one to understand whose proposal was going to be better considered.

Everything that had happened with Crusher breaking Lenny's arms was true, but it was also all an act. It was true that Crusher was mad at him for what he did to his camp, but that past event could not be weighed with the value of his life at the current moment.

With Lenny's experience in this line of work, there had never been a stand off with a boss without the presence of Minions.

Minions usually made his work more difficult. And so he needed to by pass them and get to the Boss. And that was the reason for Crusher's assault on him.

He played along and even collected two stabs from his back to his stomach, all the while stopping the system from Healing him just because he had to make old man Buckle and the queen bring down their guard.

The moment he was handed over to old man Buckle, he had used the Satan system and concentrated all his healing to one of his arms. Of course it was to the one that could easily be healed the most.

And now, he had by passed the minions in front, gotten rid of old man Buckle and while the queen was chewing, he had face off access to her.

Lenny made a high jump in the air. He waved his hands and buckets of blood appeared and he threw them at the queen.

"CRUSHER!!! do it NOW!" Lenny screamed.

Immediately, Crusher lifted a piecer up. He had already lit the Peicer on fire while everybody's attention had been on Lenny.

He activated his Darkline energy and as it mixed in with the flames, he threw it right for one of the buckets in the air.

Chapter 83 Last Kiss...

Lenny had gone to great lengths to reach the Chimera queen. He had even gone as far as hurting himself and putting up a fake helpless act just to ensure that he had maneuvered his way through all obstacles.

Finally, he had made his way through enemy lines and was now face to face with the queen.

However, he had tricked Old man Buckle to the Exit of his own life.

And now, it was time for the final attack.

He threw three buckets of blood from his storage unit high up in the air.

As he did, Crusher had already readied himself.

His hand holding the Darkline energy and flaming spear stretched backwards as far as he could.

His well-fitted muscles stretched to an impressive limit to maximize the output of the shot to be released.

His entire body leaned well. His aim was true, and every practice that he had ever had as a gladiator throwing spears and fighting in the arena came in perfect balance to support his accuracy in this exact moment.

Like an arrow leaving the strained comfort of a bow, he let loose the spear.

ZOOM!!!

A slight sonic sound was heard as the arrow raced through the air.

Crusher already had the strength and capabilities of a Gladiator in the A Class.

If it were times before the apocalypse, this kind of inhuman strength would have tagged him with the nickname 'Superman'.

Even now, the spear racing threw the air was moving with a speed that would have embarrassed a bullet from a gun.

This was it.

The arrow reached the first bucket. However, just before it would reach it, a tentacle caught it right in the mid-air.

The buckets of blood poured on the queens body. However, the arrow could not reach it.

"Hmmm! Darkline energy. Not bad!" The Queen commented in their heads.

"You tricked Buckle to his demise. Then again, I always wondered what he tasted like. However, I am still a lesser Demon. Such acts are but child's play before me!"

She giggled lowly, "Crusher, when I'm done with this one, I shall use you for an after-snack!"

"Shit!" Lenny cursed.

"Fuck!" Crusher cursed.

Lenny could see the ugly frown on Crusher's face. Apparently, he was disheartened as a result of what had just happened.

Lenny's ever ingenious brain went in rapid calculation for what to do.

At the moment, he was before the queen's mouth.

With the kind of speed her tentacles could move with, there was no doubt that the moment he made an attempt at escaping, she was going to capture him.

After their first encounter, Lenny knew that he was nowhere capable of standing a fight against her.

Their only hope was the plan that they had just executed.

Both of them had put a lot of effort and dedication into it. However, the plan had only shown results halfway.

the death of Old Man Buckle was indeed a big deal, but at the moment, it was of no relevance.

As the queen laughed, she had already given a mental order for the Beetle-like Chimera ants before her to attack.

Crusher no choice but to ready himself for a fight.

Lenny felt something come behind him. No doubt, it was the queen about to force him into her mouth.

However, lenny suddenly noticed something of great importance.

He looked at the spear that the Queen had caught and to his surprise, it was still burning in the darkline energy and flame mixture.

Although the flames were slowly dying out, they were still there.

Lenny looked at his beaten and bleeding body.

Instantly, an incredible idea materialized in his head.

Lenny smiled, "hey!" he called to the queen, "i forgot to tell you! You see, I like my women Hot!"

As the Tentacle came for him, He jumped high up in the air. His head stretched backwards and then he summoned as much strength as he could and spat the blood in his mouth from the beating he had received earlier on right for the still flaming spear.

As he did, Crusher far off saw this, and a smile stained his lips.

How could it not?

After all, he remembered clearly what happens when Lenny's blood touched the Darkline and flame mixture.

BOOM!

A sudden explosion was heard as the flames on the spear blew up into white flames that splashed everywhere.

As one would expect, some of it fell on the humongous body of the Chimera Queen.

once more, coming in contact with the blood that Lenny had poured on her earlier on.

White flames immediately traced the blood on her body.

Burning in every direction that the blood had flowed to.

"AHHHAHAHHAH!!!" She Screamed and screeched loudly as the white flames burnt her body.

However, Because of the size of the beast's body, the flames did not reach every part.

this was something that Lenny's eyes quickly took notice of.

However, Lenny still had more blood from where that came from.

He waved his hands and three more buckets of blood went up n the air and poured on her body.

Like a gallon of fuel poured on a piece of burning paper, The white flames sizzled wildly as they expanded their reach all over her body.

Her tentacles went wild in every direction. Even going as far as to smack Lenny away.

Lenny made a tumble on the ground.

he tried to stand up, but that tumble had broken one of his legs.

before him was one of the beetle Chimera ants.

At first the ant did not attack him.

However, the Queen screamed for his death through the burning flames that ate at her flesh.

Lenny rolled over to the side as the big, sharp mandibles of the Beetle like Chimera ant came down on him.

He waved his hand for a piercer from his storage unit, however, he discovered that he was unfortunately out of them.

The Chimera ant came down at him. But just before it would reach, a punch sent its big body flying a distance.

Crusher had fought his way and reached him.

Crusher looked around the place, defending Lenny at all costs.

"Was that all the buckets?" he asked Lenny as he pointed to the queen.

Lenny could see the Queen had activated her Darkline energy to quench the fire. This was one aspect that Lenny had forgotten. After all, The Chimera queen was a lesser demon. There was no way that she was a lesser demon and did not have Darkline energy.

"No! I still have some more," Lenny responded as he tried to get on his feet, "But my leg is broken. It will take a while for me to heal properly."

"That is time that we don't have!" Crusher frowned.

he was right. Although it was slow, the Queen's darkline energy was helping to slow down the burn.

Lenny waved his hands and four more buckets appeared.

Crusher immediately took them and threw them in the direction of the queen. One of them missed as a result of her flaring Tentacles hitting it. fortunately, three of them made it atop her body, therefore increasing the flames.

The Beast screamed loudly.

By now, a large chunk of its body had burnt and melted off.

Its skin with its acid blood boiled like water over a stove, releasing pungent gas into the air.

A good portion of her many eyes had already been melted. And the fire had even spread to her tentacles.

However, Lenny could see that the Queen still persisted for life.

It flared wildly and its Darkline energy was still active.

"Its not enough!" Crusher whispered, "is that all there is?"

Lenny frowned and waved his hand. Only one bucket appeared. "This is the last bucket!"

crusher nodded and was about to throw it. however, at this time, The queen opened her mouth wildly and deep inside it, lenny saw something glowing.

he had good eye sight and even though it was a bit difficult for him to see it, the moment he had his eyes on it, the Satan system gave an alert.

<Piece of Lucifer morningtstar Detected>

Lenny's eyes widened in surprise.

this was it. This was what he had been searching for earlier on. that time, he had thought that it was under the beast. However, he had gotten it wrong.

After all, this was an important treasure. The queen had not kept it close to herself, but rather, inside herself.

Lenny immediately stopped Crusher from throwing the bucket.

"Wait! I have a better idea instead!"

Lenny picked up the bucket in one hand, Crusher gave him another spear with Darkline energy with fire.

Afterwards, he Picked lenny up into the air.

"Are you sure about this?" Crusher asked Lenny one more time.

Lenny nodded, "Remember to aim for the mouth!"

Crusher nodded. "If you die, I will make a stone grave for you here!"

Immediately he said those words, he spined Lenny around for more momentum and then he threw him.

Right towards the mouth of the Queen.

As Lenny reached the queen, he smiled, "My lady, open up, I have come for my last Kiss...."

Chapter 84 The Colony Ends...

In Crusher's opinion, this was probably the most stupid plan ever. In fact, it was so stupid, that it was practically suicide.

Crusher wanted to advise against this, but the look on Lenny's face said otherwise.

In fact, it spoke volumes of his determination and craziness.

Lenny even had a smile on his face in anticipation of what he was about to do.

Crusher knew that there was no backing out.

Besides, hurting the beast from within was also a good idea.

However, Crusher could not just see how Lenny was going to come out of this in one piece.

Even if the fire did not hurt him, that did not mean that the queen was not going to be chewing him in her anguish.

Crusher knew that this was possibly the last time he was going to see Lenny.

He sighed as he made up his mind. Striking the spear's tip on a rock, it lit up in flames. This spear had already been prepared ahead of time by pouring flammable substance from a Chimera ant.

He willed and the Darkline energy appeared around the spear's tip, mixing with flames ever so perfectly.

He handed it over to Lenny along with the bucket of blood.

"Are you ready!?" Crusher asked one last time.

"Yes!" Lenny nodded. Surprisingly, his body actually shook in excitement of what he was about to do.

All this while, Crusher was still involved with fighting and killing the Chimera ants around the place.

In other words, he was practically multitasking.

But this was something that he did with exceptional ease.

H grabbed Lenny by the arm and leg and then he spinned a little before throwing him right in the direction of the queen.

Some of the Queen's eyes had not been damaged.

She did not know what Lenny was planning, but she knew one thing for sure.

If she consumed Lenny, then with the quality of blood he had, she was definitely going to get healed.

There was also the possibility of evolving further. The quality of blood he had was just that good.

Thinking this far she opened her mouth to receiving the human flying him her direction.

And immediately Lenny entered her mouth, she shut it close.

Crusher looked in the Queen's direction. A part of him was very worried as to what had just happened.

The moment Lenny entered the queen's mouth, her mouth moved in a chewing manner, and some blood leaked from the side of her mouth.

There was a short silence that seemed to last forever.

However, the Queen's remaining eyes suddenly turned a shade of red and then her mouth was forced opened by white flames.

Boom!

A small explosion was heard. The Queen opened her mouth as she tried her best, activating more of her Darkline energy to extinguish the fire.

Inside her opened mouth, Crusher could see a person in white flames.

From the way he rolled around in the mouth, he was obviously in pain.

Crusher watched this and guessing the end result, he frowned tightly.

As far as he was concerned, Lenny was dead.

However, unknown to him, Something else was happening inside the queen's mouth.

The last time Lenny had come in contact with the Darkline energy and fire mixture, it had been absorbed into his body.

And now, he was coming in contact with it again.

The moment Lenny had entered the queen's mouth, he had poured the blood on his own body, and lit himself up in the flames.

Just like the first time, these flames travelled through his veins and just like that, he felt his consciousness being pulled from the familiar world into himself.

Once again, he saw it. It was just like the previous time.

He could see a figure of his soul in the dark sky.

And then he could see Darkline energy tracing from all sides, following his veins and into his chest.

The last time that something like this happened, the center point of his chest had glowed in a white light and then that light had suddenly gone off.

However, this time was totally different.

For some reason, the light did not stop. Infact, it only got bigger brighter and brighter.

Lenny felt the fire burn in his chest.

He could literally feel the flames originate from inside him.

The Queen had activated all of her Darkline energy to combat the white flames but it was of no use.

It burnt everything. This included her proud sharp teeth. Even as they sank deep into him.

Lenny could feel pain from both ways. The fire in his chest and the razor sharp teeth hungry for his blood.

This caused a push and pull between Lenny and the Queen.

She was absorbing his blood to heal herself and he was absorbing her Darkline energy into his body to fuel the white fire in his chest.

Although it hurt a lot, Lenny knew instantly what to do.

This was a tug of war he had to win.

He remembered what the system said about

The MAJOR TASK.

He could use any and all his abilities for as long as he wanted to.

Lenny went through the abilities he had in his mind and then he settled on one he was sure was the most perfect for this occasion.

RABID DOG!!!

This was an ability that Lenny avoided using in this place as much as possible because of what had happened the first time.

RABID DOG had made him weak for a while after usage. But in this place, it was the best to use.

The moment he activated it, everything increased exponentially.

The rate at which he absorbed the beast's Darkline energy increased rapidly, the rate at which he healed and also bleed increased therefore, the rate at which the flames burnt on and around his body also increased rapidly.

It was at this time that the Queen opened her mouth and screamed loudly for the pain.

However, Lenny was still not satisfied he waved his hand using the spear he had entered with as a weapon for destruction.

He waved it around in his mad state, making terrible tears inside the beasts body.

At around the same time, he heard a beep from the Satan System.

Lenny turned in the direction that the System had directed him.

And there it was.

It was only a drop of gold blood and it was even covered by a what looked like a thin bubble firm. But Lenny could feel two things from it.

Firstly, he could feel the strong power that radiates in low waves from it.

Secondly, he could feel the strong call it gave.

It was like the drop of blood was a part of him and it was hungry to return home.

Lenny stretched his hand to reach for it. However, it immediately rushed to him like a child desperate to return home.

Even before he knew what to do, the thin bubble firm around the gold shining blood broke and the blood rushed into his chest.

The moment it touched his chest.

The Queen sensed it. "NO!!!" She screamed through her pain.

However, loss of Lucifer's blood was the least of her worries

The moment the blood merged with Lenny, the white flames from his body blew up extraordinarily, burning everything around him.

The Queen gave it all she could but she was burnt to crust from inside out.

The white flames where so hot that Crusher where he was had to take several steps back.

After a while, he could no longer take it and dived into a cave.

The chimera ants that were in the room were all burnt off as the white flames filled the entire queen's chamber.

These flames burnt for several minutes, but slowly, it calmed down after there was nothing else to burn.

Crusher peeped into the chamber and what he saw left him speechless.

Lenny stood in the nude with white flames all over his body.

Slowly, the flames died down.

There was a certain pressure that Crusher knew he felt in the presence of the Queen. Right now, he could see that she was obviously dead.

However, he still felt that pressure.

Yes! That pressure had not been destroyed. Rather, it had been totally absorbed.

As crusher looked on, he could swear that he saw the flames slightly form the silhouette of big broad wings behind Lenny, and then when he rubbed his eyes and looked again, the wings were gone.

Lenny slowly raised his hand. In his head, he had a long series of alerts that filled his vision.

However, he the most prominent one that stood out from all the others was

<Congratulations Host Rank unlocked. Rank 1 Lesser demon>

Lenny was very curious about this and wanted to explore more, but the fatigue from using Rabid dog flooded his mind like and his body.

Slowly, Crusher came out and looked at him.

Lenny looked at Crusher and then the Fatigue took total control and he fell on his face.

Crusher immediately rushed to help him.

Crusher coming for him was the last thing he saw as he fainted....

Chapter 85 Entering The Lesser Demon Ranks.

The alerts fell like there were rain from the sky.

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

<Congratulations...>

There was so much of them. Lenny could definitely not keep count.

However, he was not in a situation where he could even keep track.

After what had just happened, his mind had entered a state of derp fatigue.

There was nothing he wanted more at the moment than for him to have a nice rest.

He tried to take a step forward, but just as he stepped forward, the Fatigue spread through out his body and he found himself falling to the ground.

His world suddenly went blank.

"Not bad! You finally reached the first rank!"

Lenny heard a light voice that was very familiar to him. however, it felt both far and near.

He opened his eyes and found that he was floating in the dark of space.

"over here!" The voice called to him once more and he immediately turned about. However, as he did, the Bright light that came into his eyes made him sharply look away.

He couldn't peep even if he wanted to.

It was as if he was looking right at the sun with a magnifying glass.

"oh, yes! You can't do that yet. You are still far too weak. But I felt it necessary to congratulate you personally once you reached this stage."

Instantly, Lenny knew who it was. "Lord Lucifer!?"

Lucifer laughed a bit, "actually, this is me and yet it is not. It is but a tiny piece of my consciousness from the piece of me you absorbed. This is evidence that you are walking really hard. You are already able to hunt for parts of me. However," Lucifer's voice suddenly became stern, "You should know that they are orders that also desire my power. Many of them are so strong that you would not even be considered an ant in their presence. Because of the apocalypse coming to this world the way it did, this world has increased in size by several times. Pocket spaces and planes now occupy different coners of the world. Some were even formed by my body parts. If you want to overcome the danger that is to come, you had better make sure you find these planes."

The moment Lucifer was done talking, the bright light started to fade away slowly.

"Lord Lucifer! Wait!!! Tell me how I can find these planes."

"Once you see them, you shall know. And remember, the servants of the outer world gods are coming." Lucifer's voice faded as the light disappeared.

The next time Lenny opened his eyes, he was surprised to see the ceiling of a cave.

It was decorated with glowing moss on all sides.

Remembering that he was fighting the queen of the Chimera ants, Lenny immediately pushed himself up.

However as he did, the force of the push made him ram straight into the wall, breaking it like it was biscuit on his path.

However, even though he hit the wall hard and even broke through it, he felt next to nothing.

He pulled himself out of the wall.

However, stepping out, he's feet sank into the earth like it was mud.

This took him by surprise.

He took several steps forward. He's body felt as if there was a lot of strength. However, he felt all over the place. It was like he could not control his own body.

Just then, his senses caught the sound of something approaching.

Immediately, his eyes moved to the entrance of the cave.

The moment he saw the silhouette enter the cave, he instinctively stretched his hand and a blast of white flames was shot out.

Crusher had gone out to get some food.

The moment he entered the cave, he saw a blast of white flames ball rushing for his face.

Instinctively, he dived to a corner.

The blast, destroyed that side of the wall.

"Seriously!? Be careful where you point that thing!!!" Crusher screamed at him.

Lenny saw who it was and dropped his hand.

However, he could not believe what he had just done.

He took a look at his hand. There, some of the white flames still remained.

There was suddenly an alert from the system.

<5 points of magic used.>

"Huh!?"

Crusher stood up from his feet, "be careful! You are no longer the same as you used to be. you are now..." Crusher paused searching his head for the right words.

He decided to settle for something simple for now, "stronger!"

"Stronger!?" Lenny raised a brow at him.

"Yes! Stronger! Like a demon."

Lenny heard Crusher's words clearly and he remembered the words that the system had said before he passed out.

He also remembered clearly the dream he just had.

Just out of curiosity, he willed and the Satan system appeared before his eyes.

//Welcome to the Satan System//

Although it did not look like much changes had been made, Lenny knew that a lot of changes had certainly been made.

He had effectively moved from being somewhere within the B class according to gladiator ranking, all through A class and landed as a rank one demon.

This was an incredible increase in strength. It was no wonder he could not control his power, and while the hard rocky Eartha felt like mud to him.

Even his muscles felt like they had been given a jolt and we're In a ready state to fight.

It was a really amazing feeling to have.

Also, he had acquired another Title.

Although he did not know what it could do, he was very excited about what was to happen next.

All of sudden, there was a rumble that shook the cave.

Lenny turned to crusher. "What is happening outside?"

Crusher smiled as he sat. A bug was in his hands and he took a deep bite from the unlucky thing even though it was still alive.

As he did, it screeched and flared it's limbs, but Crusher did not care.

He enjoyed his snack. After a good swallow, he turned to Lenny.

"The queen is dead! What do you think is happening outside? It's total chaos man. There is no one in charge. The colony is in total chaos. They are eating each other out there. The worst part is that this colony is not like the usual one. There are no winged reproductives to take over the place."

Hearing this, Lenny suddenly remembered the presence of insect-B.

"I'll be right back!"

He walked out of the cave. It was just like Crusher had said. It was total chaos.

Even now, he could see the creatures eat and kill each other.

Lenny already knew his way through the cave. As he moved, all the insects avoided him as much as possible.

This was something he noticed. It was not like before when everything was after him.

He even came across a group of Centipede Chimera ants. However the moment they saw him, they ran in different directions.

For Lenny it was like a walk in the park. It was Smooth and with the accompanying chaos of fights on either sides.

Lenny could close his eyes and hear a piano piece from Beethoven.

It was like a marriage of peace and violence.

In his life, this was the first time he experienced such an equilibrium.

He moved through the colony. At first he walked and then he jogged and before he knew it, he felt like pushing to enjoy his strength and he charged through the colony like a bullet.

He finally arrived where he intended.

This was the Queen's chambers.

At first he went to the main room where the queen used to be.

As expected, she was no longer there. Only ash remained on the ground.

Lenny walked to the center of the chamber and then he activated his presence ability.

His senses spread all around the chamber and even beyond.

As it did, he could hear alerts from the system.

His ability presence was no longer like before. Now, it was restricted only by the amount of Magic energy he had. The magic points went down.

However, he did not stop. He was aiming at finding something. Or rather someone....

Chapter 86 Leaving The Colony...

Lenny did not waste anytime and he used his magic points as much as possible.

He did not care for the reducing points.

For his future plans, it was best that he found what he was currently looking for.

His senses spread out in all directions like a wave.

through his mind's eyes, he could see and sense everything around him.

Everything that crawled, fought or even tried to survive in this chaotic place. He could feel it from his senses.

he could feel every stone. Their cuts, curves shapes. In many ways, it was even clearer than he was using his eyes.

After a while, his senses caught hold of a particular chamber.

"Found you!" he whispered.

immediately, he kicked against the ground and rushed in the direction of his senses.

He did not go through twists and turns.

For his level and strength, there was no need for him to go through long processes. After all, these walls were like biscuit before his fist.

he rushed for the shortest route.

breaking through the wall like it was made entirely of paper.

The broke through the walls again and again.

Finally, he got to it.

This was a chamber that was well kept.

All around the place, Lenny could see different creatures in green bubbles. No doubt, these were the other failed experiments that the queen had.

She had not disposed of them but kept a collection of her work.

In truth, this was actually a good thing.

After all, one needed to come back to their mistakes and make necessary corrections.

Lenny saw the most deshaped of creatures.

One of them even looked like it was a person but with al their organs on the outside instead of the inside.

Even for him, that was messed up.

Apparently the queen went into deep research on trying to replicate making human beings.

However, at the end of the day, she was but a lesser demon. She was confined here and there was only so much she could do with the materials she had.

To add salt to injury, she even had the drop of blood from Lucifer but had no way of absorbing it.

Of course Lenny defeating the queen played a huge reason for his boast in strength.

However, without a doubt, it was because of the blood of Lucifer that he acquired that allowed him to grow past the A class and reach the first Rank of the lesser demon stage.

Even now, he could feel that his body had not fully absorbed the power of just one drop of Lucifer's blood.

Then again, the legends had it that Lucifer morning star was not just a god, but an Arch angel. His blood was definitely purest of the pure. Even with everything Lenny had been through, and all the training that made his body as hard as iron, he was still not enough to absorb all of the blood from Lucifer morningstar. It would take a while for his body to fully absorb it.

According to the dream he had, there were still other body parts.

After the issues he had to settle back at the Arena, he was definitely going to search for the parts of Lucifer.

Lenny strolled around the chamber. This place looked like the lab of a crazy evil scientist that was obsessed with human evolution. Then again, it was.

As he walked through, he could see that some of the creatures were awake and their eyes followed him steadily. Most of them pulled away from him even inside their bubbles.

Without a doubt, they could sense the power he carried and it made them afraid.

Lenny walked a good distance. And then he stopped before a green bubble with the target he had in mind.

unlike most of the others here, Insect-B had her eyes closed. This was the handy work of the queen. Most likely because of what had happened the last time.

She was afraid that Lenny would be able to influence Insect-B again and therefore kept her far away, and out of comission.

From What Lenny remembered, he should be able to control Insect-B because of his blood in her body.

However, Lenny knew that assumption was the mother of all fuckups.

He was not willing to make such an assumption.

Although as he was now, Insect-B could not actually do him anything, but that did not mean that the queen did not put things in her. For example, a kind of self destruct button.

Lenny had use for her and did not want this to happen.

he suddenly remembered a particular title that he had newly acquired. if he was not mistaking, that particular title could come in handy

Immediately, he looked into the skill. And just to be sure, he had the system explain the Title in detail.

<White prince: In the heavens, it is said that Lucifer morningstar fought a war against Angel Michael. in that battle, he had influenced half of the host of angels to fight on his side. This is both a fraction of that ability.>

Lenny saw the description of the skill and was dumb for words. It was even better than he thought it would.

Lenny remembered that his mother in the other world called the devil a liar. however, from what he just learnt, it was obvious that it was not so.

Lucifer morningstar was just misunderstood. He was not a liar, but an 'Influencer'.

Angels were high glorified beings. They were nothing like humans. And the records had it that Lucifer could influence them with but a word from his lips.

Lenny chuckled a bit. this was exactly what he wanted.

Lenny immediately touched the green bubble, breaking it and grabbing her head.

as soon as he did, she opened her eyes.

"Your loyalty stands with me!" he muttered lowly.

His voice to her was like the echoe of a million low tuned voices.

immediately, her eyes seemed to lose focus and then regain them again. "My loyalty stands with you!"

She stepped out of the bubble.

Lenny nodded at this. He had effectively overridden any order that she had before his own.

According to what Lenny remembered the queen saying, Insect-B was the best she had ever produced.

This meant that these deformed lifeforms in these chambers were all beneath her.

"Take control of the colony!" Lenny ordered her.

She nodded.

She took a few steps forward, and then her mouth opened abnormally and a silent sonic wave went out into the colony.

That was all it took. Every creature that heard it. Whether fighting for its life or feeding on another creature immediately stopped what they were doing.

They all immediately went answered to her cries.

Lenny waved his hand, and a wave like he was slicing through the air was sent out by the force of his hand, effectively destroying all the bubbles.

"I'll leave things in the colony to you!" he walked up to her and grabbed her jaw, opening her mouth.

He made a cut on his tongue with his teeth.

And then he let the blood flow from his mouth into her own.

The moment it did, Insect-B shook.

Lenny's blood was already special from the beginning. Now, however, after taking in a drop of Lucifer's blood, he had become many times stronger than he used to be, and his blood had also become much more special.

"That should be enough strength for you to run the place. Follow me!"

Lenny turned and like a gust of wind, he moved.

insect-B also moved after him.

She followed him and arrived at the cave where crusher was staying.

"what did you do? They have all stopped fighting?" Crusher asked.

"Its not me! Its her." Lenny pointed at Insect-B behind him.

The moment Crusher saw her, he was ready to attack. However, Lenny stopped him.

"She is with us now!"

Lenny explained that Insect-B would be in charge of the colony. He was going back to the Arena.

Lenny was a very, very, very, very!!! petty person. he had unfinished business back in the Arena.

The order of gladiators had to pay for crossing him. In fact, the entire Arena and even the demons were going to pay.

He was not some weak fry that he used to be before. Although he was just in the lesser demon rank, he was strong enough to roam the world.

Naturally, Crusher was not going to go with him. He preferred the satisfaction of these caves.

Besides, the ants could no longer bother him.

Lenny took a look at Insect-B.

"You will send him some insects that will feed on from time to time. If you hunt any mutated rats, send them over too. And also present yourself for him to service from time to time!"

Her upper body was that of a human woman, while her lower body was that of an insect. However, knowing Crusher, he knew that he would not mind. Crusher could practically stick it in anything. Just as long as it brought him pleasure.

And in this screwed up place, Insect-B was practically a bedroom delicacy.

Besides he had plans for the future that Crusher could be handy in the future.

Insect affirmed to the order.

After which, Lenny left the place. He's aim was simple. he was going back for revenge.

Chapter 87 Back To The Arena...

In the Arena, Gladiators fought for the entertainment of demons.

Slashing and striking at one another for the chance to see and breathe another day, only to repeat the same survival mode again and again.

Another fight was drawing to a close and the Demons were ever excited for the glorious entertainment that the chaos of fights provided.

Deep within the ground. Beneath the rumbling ground of the Arena, so much activities happened in many of the class areas.

In a particular class area, the Gladiators were training hard to the supervision of a Demon instructor.

This was instructor Bodat.

The frog looking demon was ever strict with his tutoring and even lashed his whip from time to time.

Whipping the Gladiators into shape for their slacking.

At another corner, some human women were in labor. Producing more children that would serve as food or as gladiators for entertainment.

In yet another part, some gladiators had spent their points on acquiring F class females that they could spend their time on.

They pounded the women over and over again. Making sure that they got the worth of their points from the sensual pleasure the women provided.

In yet another part, deep within the caves that formed the underground area that the demons occupied as their own resting area, Some demons were having fun with both human males and females.

Some of them were mating with them, while some other humans were placed on a big stick that went into their nether regions and out their mouths.

The Demons slowly roasted them over a fire like pigs.

All these things went through Lenny's senses. With Magic points, he could spread his sensing ability to a very wide reach.

His Magic points went down slowly. But it was not enough. He needed the perfect route back into the Arena.

Suddenly, his senses went to an even further place. This was a room just beyond the area where the demons stayed. it was sealed shut with a big, strong metal door.

On it, was Written: Magistri.

Lenny remembered how terrifying the Magistri was. In fact, even the demons feared him. However, just out of Curiosity, he wanted to see what was behind this door.

His senses went past the metal door. However, the moment it did, he came across a pair of deep red eyes, "Who are you!?"

Pow!

He felt as if he had been smacked back physically.

Lenny opened his eyes. He coughed out a bit of blood to the side. But it was not just his mouth. Even his nose, eyes and ears all leaked of blood.

Apparently, he was still not as strong to face that guy. This was something he had to take note off as he moved forward.

Meanwhile, the Magistri hissed lowly. he looked around and noticed there was no one there. "Maybe its just me!" he turned his head and went about his business.

Lenny rested a while. His injuries were not that bad, but this was a lesson he had learnt. After all, he had gotten quite brazen and cocky since he entered the demon Rank.

All the while, he had passed his senses through the other demons and nothing had happened. But the moment he got to this magistri, his life had become in danger.

Lenny sighed, as he sent his senses once more.

This time around, he avoided the Magistri's area as much as possible.

His senses went to a much deeper reagon. Only just arriving here, he instantly recognized the place.

This was the F class area.

He could see as those of the F class worked hard. The F class was in charge of basicaly keeping the other classes running properly.

They planted the food which were mushrooms that were later mashed and served to the gladiators as food.

They were also in charge of taking care of the newborns and children until they reached a fighting age.

And lastly, they were used as pleasure materials.

At the moment, A good number of them were tiling the ground.

Lenny smiled. This was his target.

....

"I want to get strong and get out of this place," a young boy farming the ground whispered to his fellow mate.

"I heard that if we become strong enough, we can reach A class and get our freedom to the outside world." The other boy nodded in agreement.

"Yes! i heard that too. Even the demons talk about it." The first boy added.

"I heard that in the outside world, we can eat as much Mushroom paste as we want and that we don't have to pay for it with points."

"Really!?" The second boy had his eyes wide open in surprise.

"Yes! I heard that there are big Mushrooms. Erm... yes! I remember it now. There are called trees."

The first boy rubbed his stomach, "that would be so nice. I didn't get enough Mushroom paste this morning. I gave the remaining to my mother. She is sick and has not eaten for days."

The second boy sighed. He placed his hand into his pocket and then he brought out a small wrapping the size of five pebbles. He looked around to make sure that none of the demon supervisors could see them, and then opening the wrap, he brought out a small black lump.

This black lump had a stink to it, and it was obvious that it had been in the boy's pocket so long that it was about to go bad.

However, both boys looked at it with obvious desire in their hearts.

This was a lump of meal.

Both boys looked at it and it made them swallow hard.

"Don't worry! you are my friend. I can share a little with you."

However, just then, the boys felt a presence behind them and immediately turned about.

Unfortunately, it was as they feared.

It was Demon.

"Hmmm! What do we have here!?" the demon snatched the black lump, "so you little maggots have the guts to take food out of the meal hall. I am sure you know that this is an offence. No meals can leave the hall."

As the demon talked, the boys stood stricken with fear.

they swallowed hard. They both knew what was going to come next. After all, it was common knowledge that taking meals out of the Meal Hall was against the rules.

The punishment for disobedience was two days without food and double the work.

The demon had what looked like a snake head. As it talked, it hissed from time to time.

It enjoyed the despair in their eyes.

"Both of you will be getting punished for this!" The demon hissed again. It waited a few seconds to allow tension to build and then it sighed lowly.

"You know what? I'm feeling a bit generous today," the demon had a solemn look on its face, "so I'll do you both a favour. If you tell me who brought this out of the meal hall, I will let you go without punishment, and even allow you to eat it!"

Those words took the boys by surprise.

They both looked at each other and contemplated whether to talk or not.

The Demon saw the look in their eyes and knew without a doubt, these two were definitely going to break and snitch each other.

The demon already had a cocky smile on its face.

These children were of the F class area.

One of the roles of the demons in this Class area was to teach the children. Of course, this included sowing deep levels of distrust for one another.

This would make it difficult for them to trust one another in the future.

The demon could see that only a little more push and they would break.

"I will count to ten. If any body talks before then, I'll let you go and you get to eat this."

The demon started his count, 1

2,

3,

4....

He had gotten to eight, and he could see that boy number one's mouth was already opening. without a doubt, he was going to break.

9... and

"It was hi..."

BOOM!

there was suddenly an explosion from beneath their feet.

The Demon was taken back by this and moved several steps back. So did the boys.

All of a sudden, there was a hole in the ground.

Dust went out in all directions, and some other demons attracted by the noise rushed for their direction.

The dust slowly cleared and a person covered in cuts and blood all over his body came out of the Hole.

This took everybody by surprise.

However, there was suddenly a large number of giant bugs rushing out from within the hole.

Immediately, The demons set out to work, killing the bugs.

"Seal the Hole," a demon instructed and the other demons immediately responded.

A while later, the hole was sealed and all the insects killed.

The person that had come out of the hole was passed out on the ground.

From the looks of it, he had fought for his life through all those giant bugs to find a way out.

The snake demon turned him over. He could see a tag on the chest of the person. It wrote: E999
Chapter 88 The Prodigal Son Treatment...

Three Demons stood over Lenny.

Each one of them had a snake head. They were part of the trainers in this session.

The F Class was the foundation of the Arena. It was also the biggest of all the class. It had at least ten times the number of humans and half humans the size of the E class.

Not to compare its size to that of the other classes, of which it was many times larger.

"This looks like one of those brats that tried to escape." One demon commented.

"Yes it does, but it seems like he went the wrong way. Her children must have made things hard for it and he came back!" The second demon commented pointing at the Insects that they had killed from the hole.

"What do you think we should do with it?" The last one asked. However, the demon's tongue licking its lips already betrayed its intention. "I think we should just eat it!"

The first demon nodded his head, "I think so to, but even if we want to, we can't."

This made the third demon frown. It was true that they were not allowed to take a bite. They was just nothing they could do about this. Demon rules were absolute. Room for disobedience was like seeing a unicorn, or seeing the moon turn green.

Such was their ways. Orders were orders.

"Then, they is only one thing we can do," The second demon looked at the other demons and they nodded in agreement, "we will take it to the Magistri!"

The first Demon nodded.

The Demon tied its whip around Lenny's leg and pulled him along on the ground like he was pulling along a disgusting luggage.

All the half humans watched as he was pulled away, each of them whispering and having their own guesses as to what was happening and why it was happening.

The demon pulled Lenny along. However, just when it was about to leave the F class gate, a face that Lenny was most familiar and acquainted with.

It was none other than Potty. This was the same frog looking demon that had wanted the mother of this body that Lenny had occupied but had not gotten it because F999 then had proven stubborn. Potty had sent F999 to the D class in secret to die. But then, Lenny had reincarnated in this world and into this body.

Pulling a human on the ground like a bag of feaces was not new around this parts. However, the moment Potty passed the demon, he could not help but subconsciously look at the figure of the bloody mess that was being pulled along.

And then right on Lenny's chest, he saw the tag, E999.

immediately, Potty stopped the demon.

There was practically no body in this place that was as familiar with Lenny as he was. hE saw the bloody face and then he looked at the demon with a brow up.

"It was not me!" the demon replied even before he was questioned. After which he proceeded to telling Potty how Lenny had appeared and where it was taking Lenny to.

Potty shook its head, "We shouldn't take it to the Magistri. He will just punish Bodat for allowing it escape in the first place."

"Then what should we do with it?"

"just give it back to Bodat! i have seen how he handles things. He will definitely be very creative with its punishment."

A few minutes later, Lenny was dumped before Bodat's presence.

Bodat was the instructor in charge of the E class region.

He was a very strict demon and took discipline very seriously.

"Growth sprout! Hmmm!" Bodat frowned as he looked at Lenny that had been dropped before him,"As one in charge of your life, I promise to make a Prodigal-son-welcome example out of you!"

"Take him and tie him to the post!" Bodat ordered some of the Gladiators and they immediately did as he requested.

Lenny was brought to a Crucifix and nailed to it. Of course, for the first few times that the y tried the big thick nails, for some reason, they all could not enter into his palm.

Lenny had to intentionally Direct the system on bringing down his defenses for the nails to penetrate through his skin. Nine nails were used on each arm to hold him in place. They were spread out across his arm all the way to his Elbows.

These were obviously not normal nails. The nails were as thick as a baby's fore arm.

Of course, they came with excruciating pain. However, Lenny had activated his pain and pleasure technique. The Arena did not treat those that ran away amicable. Or even welcome them back with opened arms once they returned.

Punishment was punishment. It was for this reason that Even though the would outside the caves was not safe, Crusher preferred to stay within the Chimera colony than to go back to the Arena.

However, Lenny was very stubborn, and twice as petty. He had promised a group of people that he was going to come back for them. He was practically willing to crawl through the extremities of hell just to keep his promise.

Being nailed to a cross was practically nothing.

Nine Thick nails on each arm and the same number on his legs. This was directly from his thighs to his ankle.

Even his Knees had been nailed through.

Blood seeped through his body slowly to the ground, and even Lenny could tell that his 'Hp' was slowly going down. However, he had a remarkable amount of that.

His body was already as tenacious as that of a Lesser demon. There was no way that something so minute could truly hurt him.

A bell was rang in the E class and all the gladiators were forced out of their resting place and into the training area.

As it was customary, escapees are to be punished crudely in front of other Gladiators.

Here and now, Lenny was about to become an experimental subject for the rumored punishment he had heard a lot of news about.

Lenny looked by his side. Instructor Bodat stood with his whip unleashed. Before him, were the gladiators of E Class. They all gathered slowly.

As they did, Lenny searched the crowd for very particular faces.

The first person he recognized was E444.

This was the person Lenny had bitten off his mouth.

Till this moment, He was still lipless. On Seeing Lenny, he frowned tightly.

Without a doubt recognizing him on first sight.

The next person that Lenny exchanged eye contact with, was E666. Her expression was still one of surprise but it was more profound. After all, she had seen as Lenny jumped into the hole of Chimera Insects.

She had already prescribed him dead a long time ago.

More familiar faces showed up within the crowd. For example, E4004 and even Pocket. However, the one person Lenny wanted to see the most was not here.

E7007 was not within the crowd.

"This growth Sprout right here, violated the Rules of this sanctuary!" Instructor Bodat's voice was loud for all to hear, "It tried to leave this loving and caring home that has provided for it since it was nothing. It tried to leave it's brothers and sisters behind. But you see, the outside world is a very harsh place, and you can only find true peace in the this Arena. Today, We will be reminding it of that. The Punishment would be as follow: Six thousand, six hundred and sixty six lashes, and boiling oil For the purification of its sin. If Its survives, it may rejoin its brethren and we shall welcome it with open arms!"

"HUH!!!"

The Crowd gasped at Lenny's punishment Criteria.

The truth of it was that, there was no way anyone was going to survive such harsh punishments. If lenny did not die from the Crucifix, he was definitely going to die from the Lashes, and the Boiling oil was just to make his meat tender and nice for the demons to enjoy.

The punishments that the Demons gave whenever one that escaped was caught or returned only ensured that there was only a way out, and that was death.

All that Talk about him joining up if he survived was trash talk.

However, punishments were also given based on the class.

Punishment that was given to a gladiator that escaped from the A class was definitely different from the one given to a Gladiator of the E class.

Mainly because of their strength and evolution difference.

For a Gladiator in the A class, a time on the crucifix was not going to do anything. Unless of course, the person was left in that position for at least two weeks.

Their bodies were just that durable. However, a person in the E class was totally different.

In other words, Lenny's death was as sure as breathing air.

Ten Gladiators were given whips. These whips were just like the one instructor Bodat used.

They all lined up extended from one another.

Their target was Lenny.

Instructor Bodat stood by the side.

"Begin!" He ordered.

Chapter 89 Walking Away Oily And Shiny (New Major Task)

By the side, A big pot that could carry ten people was placed on fire to boil. Many people looked at it and fear made them back off.

The first punishment had began.

The Whips came down like the descent of lightening on Lenny's Body.

Each sting of the whip was worse than a hundred bites from a poisonous snake.

These whips were tuned especially for training Gladiators. They were made from animal skin and had been baptized with Darkline energy.

It is said that they could even be used to cut iron. However, because of the demon Blood in Half borns, they could stand the sting of the whip.

But that did not mean that it did not hurt.

Also, it cut the skin finely.

This was not the first time that Lenny was receiving the whip.

Back then, he had received the whip because he disobeyed orders. back then, the pain from the whip was so strong that he had nearly ran mad from it. He had to activate a secret technique that he learnt from the Monastery of pain and pleasure if not, he would have definitely gone insane from the pain.

Such a thing was a regular sight in this place.

It was the pain from whipping back then that helped him get total control of his sense of pain and pleasure.

However, that was back then when he was new to the place and his strength was not even worthy of being called a proper E Class Gladiator.

Back then, he was but a weak, skinny fellow with a lot of arrogance.

the only thing that had changed from that time till now, was the fact that he had was no longer skinny and weak, and the arrogance he had greatly multiplied.

The whips came down on Lenny like raindrops.

All parts of his body were exposed to it. And these gladiators did not care where they hit. Sometimes it was his chest, other times, it was his thighs, and other times, it was his face and his groin area.

They did not care. It was not their problem.

As they whipped him again and again, they enjoyed it. And some of them laughed wildly as they beat him hard.

One of which, was especially E444. The person that Lenny had removed his lips. he wanted revenge and this was his chance to have it.

He especially targeted Lenny's face. He wanted to peel off his lips too.

At first Lenny frowned and made a crying face. However, he was soon bored by this. All of it was just too boring.

he just lay there and collected the beating.

His body had been baptized by much stronger and superior energy. This gladiators beating him felt like he was getting whipped by babies with toys.

Along the line, he even yawned.

This made Bodat frown, but he did not stop the Gladiators. As far as he knew, this might have just been Lenny faking it. But then again, he could see that the whips were not even making cuts on Lenny's skin as they did before.

The beating did not stop until the total Number of Six thousand six hundred and sixty six was reached.

The gladiators breathed heavily. Some of them even wiped the sweat from their faces. They were obviously tired from the activity.

After all, the whips were heavy, and because of the darkline energy in them, they drained stamina.

The beating was finally over.

The Entire hall was suddenly quiet.

And then they could all heard it.

It was a SNORING sound.

When they looked around to check who was sleeping and snoring during such an important occasion, they discovered it was the person they had been whipping tirelessly.

This made Instructor Bodat frown hard.

He collected one of the whips from the gladiators, and putting his own Darkline energy in it, he whipped Lenny on the face.

"huh!? Is it over already!?" Lenny opened his Eyes. He Yawned once more, and then he looked at the stunned faces of the crowd.

he immediately remembered his situation, "Oh yes! sorry! AHHAHAHAHAH!!! IT HURTS!!! AHHAAAHHHHA!!!" He screamed on top of his voice.

However, he looked at their faces, and it was clear that they were not buying it.

Cough!

He coughed Awkwardly, "Okay! not buying it!?" he raised a brow at them, "in that case, let's get this over with."

Lenny Suddenly moved his hands and the nails that had him to the crucifix were Forced out of his body.

Like the subtle ring of a bell, the big, heavy nails fell to the ground one after the other.

After his arms, the nails on his Legs were also removed. They came out of his body like big drops of sweat.

It was practically effortless.

Lenny jumped down from the Cross.

Everyone looked at him in surprise. They watched as the big see-through holes on his arms and legs healed shut before their very eyes.

lenny looked around and at the Instructor. He took a step to walk away. However, he suddenly stopped, "Oh! forgive me Please! I forgot that I still need to clean up."

While Whistling, he walked towards the Big pot of now boiling, bubbling oil.

And then he did the most ridiculous thing ever, "CANONBALL!!!" He screamed as he grabbed his legs and jumped into the Pot of Boiling Oil.

SPLASH!

The Oil splashed in all directions, pouring on those that were closest to the pot.

"AHHH!!!"

Several people screamed as the oil splashed and burnt their bodies.

Everyone stayed as far as they could from the Pot.

At first there was no sound from the pot, and they were sure that Lenny had become fried meat.

Time strolled by slowly, and then Lenny suddenly rose from the Pot of oil.

Everyone backed away some more.

He stood in his nude. The oil had washed away the blood and dirt stains on his body.

He now looked Shiny and the oil helped exaggerate the build of his very slim and fit muscles.

Slowly, he moved through the boiling oil to the edge and scaled over it. As he landed on the ground, some of the oil fell from his body to the ground.

Lenny waved his white long hair, and then he walked towards Instructor Bodat that still had his eyes on him, but with his mouth opened in surprise.

"These were your words Instructor! I can join the Arena once more if i survive my Punishment," Lenny smiled.

he could tell from Looking In Instructor Bodat's eyes that he wanted to say something, but he couldn't.

lenny turned about. He walked up to E444. this particular one had been enjoying whipping him.

"Remove your clothes!" Lenny ordered.

A few seconds later, the dumb for words crowd watched as Lenny walked away into the Cell area to take a nap.

Instructor Bodat frowned tightly. He was very angry. However, there was nothing he could do. He had already given his word that if Lenny made it through the punishment, he could join the ranks once more.

Surprinsly, his frown suddenly turned into a grin and then a good chuckle, "good! Good!! This is going to be fun."

As lenny walked back, he heard an Alert from the System.

<Congratulations Host. You have graduated from the Primaries>

All of a sudden, he saw the Icon for Daily Task crumble and then the Icon For major Task took its place.

<Major Task Activated>

<Major Task: Revenge on Gladiator Class F>

Seeing this, Lenny Chuckled to himself.

Everybody watched him walk away all of them with Varying thoughts to themselves.

Lenny entered one of the cells and took a position to enjoy his nap.

A few minutes later, the gladiators came back to their cells.

Of course as they came, their conversations were all about Lenny.

Many of them that saw him in their cell instinctively avoided him.

In fact, many people did not want to talk too loud for fear that he would hear them.

A person that could go through the kind of punishment he had gone through and still survive was practically a beast.

No body wanted to be in his radar. After all, this had never happened before.

This was the first time that a person that came back after escaping the Arena had gone through Punishment and still managed to survive.

However, one brave person immediately rushed to meet him.

"You...You are back!" He stammered as he talked. It was clear that he was trying his best to speak through his fear of Lenny, and it was not exactly an easy task for him.

Lenny opened one of his sleeping eyes to see who it was.

It was E701. He had a hard-to-form broad smile on his face. This was the old man Lenny had first met when he came to this place.

Surprisingly, Lenny smiled back at him, "E701! Just the old rascal I want to see." Lenny pulled him to his side, "You looking very good!"

E701 was taken aback by this, however, he did not back away.

"A lot has happened since I was away. Why don't you update me."

Chapter 90 Enjoying The Meal Of Sausages...

Lenny pulled E701 to sit close to him.

The old man swallowed hard about this, but he still did as Lenny instructed.

He had approached Lenny only trying his luck at sticking with a person that was strong. In fact, he was prepared for Lenny to tell him to pay certain tasks. But that did not happen.

Instead, just like the very first time Lenny came, he was only interested in having a conversation.

E701 was an old man that had done whatsoever he could to survive. He had all the latest information about the place and even the crews. He was basically the rat of the Class and the best person to ask for information.

E701 took his time as he explained the current situation of the E class.

After Lenny's escape, the Demons had been stricter with security at the E class. In fact, scaling into the female cell was now three times more expensive than ever.

After all, it was the first time ever that a new gladiator that was barely three days hold in the arena had successfully escaped. As far as Instructor Bodat was concerned, Lenny must have had help and he ensured to make the lives of these old standing gladiators difficult.

Many gladiators entirely gave up on the idea of staying in the E class and instead concentrated on their grinding to get promoted to the next class.

This included many of the famous fighters within the class.

This included E4004, E7007 and some others.

Majorly, all the former chief of crews had been promoted to Class D.

All of them except the chief of the Reptoids.

Some how, he had managed to make life far easier for himself.

Lenny heard these things and nodded. His main target had been to look for E7007. Lenny had beef with this so called former leader of his that needed devouring.

However, E7007 had been promoted to another class. The current leader of the Nameless crew was none other than Pocket.

Lenny nodded at the information he now had.

In other words, if he wanted to get his revenge on some of his prey, he would have to get promoted to the next class.

However, for that to happen, he would need to have enough points, and at the moment, the old points he had were long expired. He needed to get a new set of points.

Getting promoted to the next class was given based on points and not the strength of the individual.

then again, they were still some of his prey in this class. Some of them that he needed to get his revenge on.

lenny laid back in this corner as he thought deep on how he was going to hurt this people in the most skillful of ways.

Just then, a group of gladiators walked towards them.

As they did, Lenny pretended not to see them. They were six in number. These six were familiar to Lenny. After all, they were the same six that had approached him when he first came into this place.

"Hey, Pup! You are in our spot!" One of them talked with stern in his voice.

Lenny opened a eye and looked at the one that had talked, "I know! its comfortable." he closed back his eye.

The Gladiator in front breathed heavily, and water vapour seemed to come out of his nose.

this group of gladiators were half Minatour. Each and everyone of them had bigger heads than usual and they had nose rings that made them look like branded cows.

This was usually their group area.

Although Lenny knew this, he still choose this spot.

One of the Gladiators behind patted the one in front, "Boss! I don't think we should do this. this guy was able to cokme out of boiling oil. He must be tough."

"TOUGH!?" The leader turned and gave a slap to his subordinate that had just spoken up. "I was here when this pup first came into the Arena. From the time he left till now has only been a few weeks. He is not strong. He just discovered his demon ability and you fuckers think he shits Glorious poop or something."

The leader Gladiator frowned, and then he turned to Lenny and the already panicking E701 by his side.

The Leader Gladiator suddenly smiled, "I remember now! The last time, E7007 saved your puny ass from my rod, but this time around, you are going to pay your your rite of passage!"

He suddenly removed the Loin cloth around his waste. his eyes patrolled Lenny's body. It was still slightly shiny and oily from the oil bath he had just taken, an he looked appetizing in the eyes of this crew leader.

The Loin cloth fell to the ground and the gladiator's manhood stood like a rod in front of lenny.

"Crawl over here and suck it!"

The gladiator crew leader had a menacing tone. It was one that did not allow room for disobedience.

E701 by the side was panicking and shaking.

by now, everyone was looking in this direction.

Everybody was interested. Even the women from the female Cell were peeping through their cells to see what would happen.

This naturally included E666. More than anyone, she was interested in seeing what was to happen.

However, contrary to what anyone thought, Lenny did not move from his spot. In fact, he seemed to sink deeper into the spot.

The Gladiator leader got angry, "pick that little fuck and bring him to my cock!"

The gladiators around him nodded and reached for Lenny. However, as they did, Lenny slowly opened both eyes.

As he did, Petrification

His freezing ability was activated.

These guys were too far below his level.

There was no way that his Petrification ability was going to be broken by them.

Lenny's eyes glowed lowly in blue light.

He suddenly leaned forward, and then his hands moved.

SPLASH!*SPLASH!*SPLASH!

Blood went in the air.

And before anyone knew what was happening, Lenny rushed for the Leader Gladiator.

He pushed him to the ground.

"It seems you like to get your Cock sucked a lot! How about you try out the taste for yourself."

Lenny grabbed his head and forced the four sausage bloody substances he had plucked out from the victims he petrified straight into his mouth.

This took the Gladiator by surprise.

He wanted to struggle, however, he couldn't. Lenny's eyes radiated a low blue glow. His petrification ability was activated on the gladiator too.

Lenny forced the four sausages into his mouth.

"Ahhh! I was right. You do like to suck it. You know what!? I don't think sucking on it is enough for you. I believe you might need to swallow it!"

Lenny pushed further, forcing the sausages into the gladiator's mouth.

As he did, the crowd frowned as they watched the creative cruelty that Lenny was displaying before their eyes.

As he forced it in, the reflex of the gladiator took control.

GULP! He swallowed the first one.

"Good boy! you swallowed the first one. Just three to go!" Lenny's smile was menacing. He looked into the eyes of this Gladiator as he forced his hand into his throat.

GULP! The second one went in.

As it did, the crowd gasped at this.

GULP!

The third one went in. By now, Tears were already falling from the eyes of the gladiator.

Lenny forced some more.

GULP!

The fourth one went in.

That was four Bloody manhoods Lenny had forced down his throat.

Lenny Chuckled lowly, patting the gladiator's face, "atta boy! that looks like it was delicious. You finally made your dream of eating rods. I'm so proud of you."

One might think that Lenny was going to allow the gladiator after this. However, that was just a wish.

Lenny grabbed him by his hair and pulled him along. He dropped him before E701.

By now, the old man was panicking. He did not know that Lenny had become that strong. He had just soloed all the gladiators and to the eyes of all watching, he had barely moved.

He dropped the gladiator before E701. And then Lenny went about the gladiator a bit.

"Ahh! It seems like you you broke both your legs the last time you were in the Coliseum!"

Ah he said this, Lenny stepped on both the man's knees.

CRUSH!*CRUSH!

"AHHHH!!!" The gladiator screamed in pain.

All that watched in silence. Meanwhile, as Lenny crushed his knees, he had his eyes in a particular direction.

He was looking at E666.

"oh my! It's seems like you also broke you hands. Please accept my condolences!"

Lenny stepped on his elbows.

CRUSH!*CRUSH!

The gladiator screamed. after which, he fainted.

It was not just the pain that hurt. As a leader, it was more of the humiliation.

Lenny turned to E701, "you look like you have worked hard all this time. Why don't you enjoy. It's my treat this night."

Lenny pointed at the Gladiator's naked ass.

At first E701 hesitated.

However he saw the look in Lenny's eyes. If he did not do it, he might be in the same position as this gladiator leader.

Immediately, he removed his loin cloth and mounted the gladiator's backside.

His penetration woke the already fainted gladiator.

As it happened, no one made a noise. Everyone quiet.

Without a doubt, Lenny had just shown his strength and what he was capable of.
