Chapter 561: Beheading Gun Demon!

Tenpyo Saka was a beautiful young woman dressed entirely in black, with her hair in a single ponytail. Her exquisite features were expressionless, and her figure was captivating, with a pair of huge and perky breasts that threatened to burst out of the clothes.

She was a Spirit and Agility dual-attribute Evolver, reaching a level of 66. Her main skill was the Second Order Stealth, as well as 5 different shinobi-related skills. The Second Order Stealth caused her to be virtually undetectable in the dark. At the same time, she could twist the perception of others while she was moving. As long as she didn't attack, it was hard for anyone to realize what had hit them. If she stayed still and didn't move, even Yue Zhong who was a Spirit-based Evolver would not be able to determine her existence.

She was like a ghost in the dark, watching and waiting silently. From time to time, any unfortunate Kingdom of God soldiers that crossed her path would find their hearts pierced by a sudden sword, or their heads decapitated.

Although she was not as overbearing as Yokoshima Fuwa, the number of experts fallen at Tenpyo Saka's hands were not little.

The 4 Demons of Takama-ga-hara were all apex existences among Evolvers. The moment they joined in the fray, the Kingdom of God was basically suffering casualties one after another. The tides were once again turned, except this time, it was at the hands of these 4.

Of course, if it were just them against the 24 assault helicopters and 3,000 elite soldiers of the Kingdom of God, they would also just be charging to their deaths. However, with the 5,000 Japanese soldiers behind them, as well as the 30 assault helicopters on their side, they absolutely possessed the means to win the battle.

"These guys are strong! These Japanese Demons..." Yue Zhong watched as the 4 Demons slaughtered their way through their enemies, and his eyes were filled with shock. They were similar to him in terms of strength, and each one of them was more than enough to deal with a small troop.

The world was vast, and experts were plenty. Every corner of the world boasted their own talents and pride. These 4 Demons were the geniuses of geniuses in Japan.

He eyed them and a killing intent flashed past his eyes: "They must be killed!"

The battle strength of these 4 Japanese Demons were too strong, if they were allowed to live, they could become an obstacle to Yue Zhong in the future. After all, a mountain cannot hold two tigers, Yue Zhong still wanted more resources out of Japan. Hence, he could only snatch it from the hands of others.

"The most threatening one would be that sniper!" Yue Zhong saw another assault helicopter in the skies being destroyed by a single bullet, and a killing intent arose in his heart.

Gun Demon Kanagawa Soma's destructive abilities were too terrifying. Yue Zhong might die in one hit if he wasn't careful. He looked towards the direction where the bullet came from, and quickly flitted through the darkness.

Yue Zhong had done his fair share of sniping, and he could tell the possible direction which Kanagawa Soma might flee in. He settled on a position and summoned a clone, sending the clone towards the other direction.

With the clone, he would see what the clone sees, just that he would not feel any pain suffered by the clone.

As he ran towards the location, he continued to observe the skies, watching out for the next shot.

After 5 minutes, another beam of light shot out from another side of the hill, causing an Eurocopter to burst into flames and crashing into the ground.

"It's there!" Yue Zhong eyed the part of the hill, and activated his Shadow Steps. His speed was pushed to his maximum limit, and he charged over.

Yue Zhong's clone also made its way towards that direction.

Very soon, the location where the shot came from was bombarded by countless projectiles. The hill was shaken, and bits of earth blew up all around.

"Got him!" With his enhanced night vision, Yue Zhong saw the Gun Demon Kanagawa Soma leading a team of 12 subordinates towards a location. His eyes flashed with joy and he quickly shot after him.

"Enemy! Kill him!" As one of the 6 Demons of Takama-ga-hara, Kanagawa Soma was strong and he had the Night Vision ability as well. Discovering Yue Zhong, he barked out an order, and prepared his Falcon Sniper to aim at Yue Zhong.

The moment he took aim, Yue Zhong felt an incredible sense of danger. He could tell that if he were hit, then even with his Endurance of over 194 points, plus the Type 3 Beast Hide, Level 4 Defensive Vest as well as his passive Steel Body, he would not be able to block it fully.

He immediately evaded to one side, hiding behind a tree, making use of the surrounding fauna to get closer to Kanagawa Soma.

"He's damn fast! He's actually faster than an Agility-based Evolver like me!" Kanagawa Soma felt a chill creep up his back at the sight of Yue Zhong's speed.

The 12 subordinates following Kanagawa Soma were his personal guards, every one of them possessed a Level 3 ability, their Enhancement levels at least 40 and above.

One of them quickly slapped the ground, and activated his Plant Manipulation activity, causing a long vine to shoot out towards Yue Zhong.

The rest of the 11 soldiers quickly fired their rifles. They knew that sweeping fire was a more effective method against a speedy existence like Yue Zhong. After all, they had no way of locking on his position, and could only rely on a rain of bullets to hit him.

Kanagawa Soma wielding his Falcon Sniper and took a deep breath to calm himself down, his eyes cold and his focus pushed to its maximum. He could tell that Yue Zhong was a peak-level expert like him, and he might only have one chance to fire a bullet.

“Powerful!” Kanagawa Soma had not fired yet, but the pressure he emitted caused Yue Zhong to feel the danger. He had to maintain his own focus, otherwise if he was hit, he would definitely suffer. He forced himself to keep moving at a high speed.

Yue Zhong was testing the waters, trying to get close to Kanagawa Soma. After all, snipers were weak in close combat. Most top snipers would allocate their precious skill points into their sniping abilities. That was why they would lose out in close combat.

Yue Zhong had just gotten closer when he suddenly felt an intense danger. His heart turned cold, and he twisted towards another tree and leaped back.

A beam of light shot past where Yue Zhong was just a millisecond and caused the tree behind to explode into pieces. Had Yue Zhong been slightly slower, he would have been pierced by that bullet, and his fate would have been sealed.

Dodging that life-threatening shot, he pulled out his own assault rifle, and fired a few bursts towards the general direction Kanagawa Soma was at.

2 Level 40 Enhancers with the Telekinesis ability quickly conjured up psychic barriers to block the bullets.

Since Kanagawa Soma was adept at far-range combat, his subordinates would cover his weaknesses. Should an enemy get close to their Gun Demon, any high level expert could easily kill him. However, if he and his team could pull the distance apart again, even the Tyrant Demon would not be a match for the Gun Demon.

“Strong! Too bad, you have to die!” Yue Zhong leaped behind, and his hands shone with the glow of the Second Order Devil Flame, as 2 mighty Devil Flame Spears appeared and shot towards Kanagawa Soma like shooting stars.

“Be careful!!” Kanagawa Soma’s expression turned to one of horror as he rolled backwards, dodging behind a huge rock.

The 2 Devil Flame Spears collided with the psychic barrier erected by those 2 Enhancers and instantly incinerated them, enveloping the 2 Enhancers in flames.

As they began to burn, they screamed out in spine-chilling agony, and were soon turned to ash.

Seeing this, everyone’s face fell and they quickly dove for cover.

Kanagawa Soma shouted loudly from behind the rock: “Friend! I’m the Gun Demon Kanagawa Soma from Takama-ga-hara. Why are you attacking me? You shouldn’t be someone from the Kingdom of God. Most of the Envoys and Apostles should be in Europe, Africa, India and The Middle East. As long as you join us, we’re willing to confer you the title of a Demon as well. Food and women will be yours. Whatever you want, the Takama-ga-hara would provide. You’ll get the best treatment in the world.”

With such an insane speed and a terrifying Second Order flame ability, Kanagawa Soma immediately came to the conclusion that he wasn't Yue Zhong's match. He had tried to switch tactics to try coax him. After all, an expert like him would be welcome everywhere.

Yue Zhong remained silent and quickly sent out a roaring tornado of flames towards where Kanagawa Soma was.

Kanagawa Soma also had the Danger Perception skill, and he could instantly feel an intense sense of crisis. He immediately leaped to another location.

The fearsome fiery tornado consumed the location that Kanagawa Soma was just at, burning even that huge rock, causing it to split. The 4 other elites of the Takama-ga-hara were incinerated.

Kanagawa Soma was an Agility-based Evolver after all, and even after expending all his strength to dodge, he was still hit in the shoulder by the Devil Flame. The patch began to burn, spreading to his head, and caused his hair to burn.

"Ah!! Save me!!! Save me!!!" His face turned to horror, and he started using his right hand to slap at his head and shoulder, as he began to wail in fright and pain.

"Go to hell!" Yue Zhong appeared in a flash, and pulled out his Crocodile Tooth Saw Blade to slice at the frantic Kanagawa Soma. With the flash of his blade, the head of the Gun Demon was removed from his body, and the strong Japanese Demon of the Takama-ga-hara fell at Yue Zhong's hands.

Chapter 562: Battling Tenpyo Saka!

After chopping off Kanagawa Soma's head, Yue Zhong pointed to another of his personal guards, and a Devil Flame fireball shot out, instantly turning the unfortunate expert to ash.

"Quick, run!!!" The remaining 7 Takama-ga-hara experts shouted out to one another and darted into the forests, escaping for their lives.

Yue Zhong pulled out his Stinger and fired 4 times, causing the brains of 4 of the Agility-based experts. After that, he used his terrifying speed to chase up to the remaining 3, killing them one by one.

Having wiped out the entire team, Yue Zhong quickly retrieved all their equipment and items, before using his Devil Flame to burn the rest of the bodies.

With a Demon status in Takama-ga-hara, Kanagawa Soma had a number of decent equipment. There were at least 6 pieces of Level 4 Treasures on him. Other than those, there was a valuable Level 3 Defense Vest, which possessed +10 to all attributes. It was a truly precious item.

Yue Zhong swiftly headed back to the battlefield, which had reached an intense level.

The elite soldiers of the Kingdom of God were continuously pouring out from within the city to deal with the soldiers of the Takama-ga-hara. All sorts of weapons and explosives were utilized in the clash.

Tyrant Demon Yokoshima Fuwa had brought his team of 12 elite soldiers of above Level 40 to fight, but they had been wiped out. He personally had been injured barely, and fortunately for his Endurance, he had only suffered injuries and wasn't wiped out yet. He continued to slaughter his way through the troops, killing any Kingdom of God soldiers he laid his hands on.

The 5,000 elite soldiers of the Yaro Gang had been thoroughly defeated by the Kingdom of God elites, and they could only retaliate from time to time.

Since the Gun Demon Kanagawa Soma had been killed by Yue Zhong, the assault helicopters in the air had begun their fierce retaliation, and a number of the Japanese assault aircraft began to be destroyed.

On the ground, the 3 Demons of Takama-ga-hara were holding the advantage over the battlefield, but in the skies, the Kingdom of God's assault helicopters were basically overpowering the other aircrafts. The battle was in a stalemate.

"Dogs biting dogs!" Yue Zhong watched the intense battle and pressed a button. It was a radio wave transmission device. The moment he pressed the button, his subordinates over at Yama County over 150 km away would receive his location.

"Which side should I help? Both the Kingdom of God and Takama-ga-hara are my enemies. Letting them wear each other down would be the best for me. Since the Takama-ga-hara is gaining the advantage, I shall dispose of some of their men then."

Yue Zhong glanced at his surroundings and came to a high vantage point of about 2km away from the battlefield. He then whisked out his Falcon Sniper, and took aim at one of the Takama-ga-hara elite soldiers, before pulling the trigger.

Following the loud gunshot, the plant-manipulating Takama-ga-hara soldier, that was over Level 40 and had just torn a Kingdom of God soldier into two, had his head blasted apart.

Yue Zhong's sight in the dark was extremely vast, and could encompass an area of over 2 km away. A single bullet of his could take down a Level 40 elite of the Takama-ga-hara, this immediately caused the higher-ups present to be wary.

The Air Demon Kanzaki Hideo discovered something amiss when the Level 40 elite was sniped, and he hollered with an ugly expression: "Sniper!! He's a powerful one! He's at least 2 km away, does the Kingdom of God still have someone like that hidden?!"

A single powerful sniper was enough to turn the tides of a battle. Gun Demon Kanagawa Soma and Yue Zhong were prime examples of such snipers.

Kanzaki Hideo made use of an earpiece microphone to pass an order: "Saka! Go take care of that sniper!"

From time to time, the powerful shots of the sniper rifle rang out through the air, and each time, the head of an elite Takama-ga-hara soldier would burst open. This was affecting the morale of the soldiers from the Takama-ga-hara. Kanzaki Hideo came to the judgment that this sniper had to be dealt with, otherwise, they would suffer terrible losses.

By this time, over a dozen people from Takama-ga-hara had been sniped by Yue Zhong. Their rate of advance was slowing down. The Kingdom of God soldiers were still engaging in their assault on Yokoshima Fuwa, causing the Tyrant Demon to have no choice but to dodge. His killing speed also decreased drastically.

Each bullet carried a force that could not be underestimated. Yokoshima Fuwa could easily defend against a few hundred shots, but as they piled on, reaching thousands and even tens of thousands, it was still enough to injure him. Other than the bullets, there were explosives and rocket launchers as well. Even in his Dragoon state, he could not just blindly take on a hit from a rocket.

Tenpy Saka immediately disappeared into the night and brought her remaining 7 witches towards Yue Zhong's location.

"Enemy? Witches?" Yue Zhong's choice of location allowed him a good view of the battle field, and he knew that sniping the elites of Takama-ga-hara would invoke some response. Therefore, as he continually observed the surroundings, he noticed 7 female Enhancers above Level 30 decked in witches' clothings closing in on him.

These women were all ordinary looking, and had even statures even more burly than men. In fact, other than those female Evolvers that had naturally awakened, most high level Enhancers had buff bodies.

The 7 of them flickered with killing intent, launching their individual abilities towards Yue Zhong. Each of them had speeds surpassing an S2, and could easily take down the special forces of pre-apocalypse times. When they joined hands, they were more than enough to take down most snipers.

"Too weak!" Yue Zhong watched as they drew closer with a cold light in his eyes, pulling out his Black Tooth Blade and waved it in front of him, instantly slicing 2 of the witches in two.

The remaining 5 were unfazed by the tragic fate of their comrade, instead, they became enraged and launched their attacks more fiercely.

Yue Zhong's blade slightly quivered, and 5 blade beams shot out towards the 5 witches. Their bodies were instantly sliced into many parts, fresh blood splattering everywhere.

Just as Yue Zhong slaughtered the remaining 5 witches, a sense of danger arose in his heart. He hurriedly activated his Shadow Steps, and leaped to one side. He abandoned his blade, while shooting for a wide area like a cannonball.

Without a sound, or even the slightest sign, a dagger appeared as it slashed towards Yue Zhong, turning in a mysterious trajectory that sliced through his right shoulder.

The sharp dagger immediately released some brilliant light, tearing apart the Type 3 Mutant Beast hide and his Level 4 Defense Vest, until it hit Yue Zhong's skin with a crisp sound, not able to proceed further.

Yue Zhong's Endurance was extremely high, reaching 194 points. Coupled with his Steel Body, even normal bullets could not penetrate his skin. That sharp dagger had sliced through his Type 3 Mutant Beast hide and his Level 4 Defense Vest, and had lost much of its power by the time it reached his skin.

Yue Zhong saw the assassin clearly, it was precisely that beautiful and petite woman, with that incredibly sexy body. She was the Shinobi Demon Tenpyo Saka.

Yue Zhong's pupils constricted as he cast his Art of Fear, sending an oppressive Spirit attack towards her. Against Agility and Strength-type opponents, the Art of Fear was extremely useful.

Tenpyo Saka was, however, an Agility and Spirit based Evolver, and Yue Zhong's Art of Fear didn't affect her much.

As her attack had failed, Tenpyo Saka immediately flashed, intending to disappear into the forest. Retreating the moment an attempt failed, this was the assassin way for Tenpyo Saka. She had assassinated many enemies stronger than her even prior to becoming one of the 6 Demons of Takama-ga-hara. She could survive and killed so many, because she was that prudent.

"You want to leave! Not so easy!" Yue Zhong's eyes flashed coldly, as he activated his Shadow Steps and dashed towards her.

When he activated that skill, Yue Zhong's speed was pushed to the maximum, even 30% faster than an Agility-based Evolver like Tenpyo Saka.

In a few breaths, Yue Zhong had caught up to her, and he wielded his weapon, slicing through the air.

A cloud of smoke suddenly burst out from her body, enveloping her entirely. This was one of the skills that she had, Ninjutsu: Smoke Release.

The dense smoke blocked Yue Zhong's sight, and his blade landed on thin air. He held his breath, and activated his Devil Flame Armor, instantly preventing the smoke from touching him. He was worried that the smoke might contain poison.

Under the cover of the Second Order Stealth skill, Tenpyo Saka disappeared amidst the smoke.

Yue Zhong looked around, noting that her presence had disappeared entirely. Even someone as strong as him could not detect the user of a Second Order Stealth skill.

"Strong! This woman truly deserves to be one of the Demons of the Takama-ga-hara." Yue Zhong glanced left and right, while feeling a chill in his heart. His perception was strong, and in the dark, it was enhanced further. Nothing could escape his senses. Yet this Tenpyo Saka had managed to escape his detection. She was truly a terrifying shinobi.

He thought silently: "She must still be somewhere near. If she left quickly, there would be the sound of wind. Since I can't hear anything, she must be staying still, or moving slowly."

Chapter 563: Capturing Tenpyo Saka!

"Since you won't come out, I'll force you out!" Yue Zhong swept his gaze around, and immediately activated his Devil Flame. With his right hand, he sent out a long burning tornado outwards, and the woods started burning.

Since Yue Zhong had no means of detecting the Shinobi Demon in her Stealth, he had to resort to extreme measures. Lighting the entire forest would force her to reveal herself at some point.

Yue Zhong's sense were unable to pick up any trace of Tenpyo Saka was because she was moving slowly and could distort his perception. The moment she made any abrupt movements, Yue Zhong would discover her.

The moment the blazing tornado swept past a certain patch of the forest, there was a silhouette that suddenly burst towards the distance.

"Found you!" The moment the silhouette appeared, Yue Zhong flashed, and charged towards the direction.

In a span of 10 breaths, Yue Zhong had caught up to Tenpyo Saka and without mercy, he launched an assault towards her.

From her body, a cloud of smoke billowed out, blocking his sense of sight.

"The same trick won't work twice!" Yue Zhong laughed coldly, and cast his Devil Flame, causing 10 fireballs to burst out through the smoke, aiming for Tenpyo Saka.

Tenpyo Saka relied on the Ninjutsu: Smoke Escape and coupled with her Second Order Stealth to confuse Yue Zhong's sense. This would allow her to escape. Without the defensive cover of the smoke, it caused her to be unable to employ her escaping arts.

Facing the 10 fireballs, Tenpyo Saka had no choice but to raise her hands to block her face. She twisted her body and managed to evade most of them.

Unfortunately, 3 of them still managed to hit her squarely, and began to burn her Shinobi clothes.

She quickly grabbed her clothes and tore it off, revealing a silver layer of a Type 3 Mutant Beast hide.

The black Shinobi clothes were incinerated into ashes.

In the dark, the silver Mutant Beast hide accentuated Tenpyo Saka's incredible body, giving her an even more alluring charm, like a demoness in the night.

Tenpyo Saka stared fixedly at Yue Zhong, speaking in a clear and melodious voice: "You're not from the Kingdom of God!"

Although the Kingdom of God was currently the leading organization in the world, their roots were in the west. Their core members were all Europeans, there would be very few Asians that were as powerful in their upper echelons.

Yue Zhong stared back and said: "Surrender! You're not my match."

Tenpyo Saka nodded without expression: "En! You're strong. To deal with you, it would take the leader of Takama-ga-hara Tetsuo Nendori-sama to handle you personally."

There were 5 Demons as well as the Lord Demon of Takama-ga-hara, a total of 6 Demon-class experts.

This time, in order to catch the Kingdom of God off guard, Takama-ga-hara had deployed 4 of their Demons. If they had launched a joint effort against Yue Zhong, he would have at most a 30% chance of surviving. However, alone, Yue Zhong had confidence in dealing with any of them.

Tenpyo Saka asked: "Why are you helping the Kingdom of God? They're an organization over at Europe. They came to Japan to seize our space and resources. They're our common enemy!"

"Wait till you surrender, or become a corpse, I'll tell you then!" Yue Zhong's eyes flashed coldly, and activated his Gravity Manipulation. A two-fold gravitational force pressed down on Tenpyo Saka's body, as Yue Zhong's Black Tooth Blade swung towards her.

She continued to face him without any expressions, instead, she raised a dagger to block, before her entire frame was sent flying back a few meters. She then tapped the ground lightly and changed directions to flee.

Her assassination skills were terrifying. If comparing techniques, even Yue Zhong could not compare to this born-and-bred assassin. However, in a frontal clash, she wasn't Yue Zhong's match. She knew this clearly.

Yue Zhong laughed coldly, and his body flashed, chasing right after Tenpyo Saka like a lightning bolt.

Just as Yue Zhong was about to reach her, she reached behind with her hands, and 10 kunai shot towards him.

Yue Zhong used the huge Black Tooth Blade to deflect the kunai, and they were sent tumbling away. He appeared in front of Tenpyo Saka, and his left hand shot out like a cannon towards her.

At such a close distance, Yue Zhong's fist surpassed the sound barrier and caused a powerful sonic boom as it came crashing into Tenpyo Saka's back. She was sent flying into a tree, before she spat out a mouthful of blood and crumpled to the ground. Evidently, even with the Type 3 Mutant Beast hide and Level 3 Defense Vest, she had been gravely injured by that single fist from Yue Zhong.

Yue Zhong's hands flipped, and a collar made of bombs appeared in his hands. He then fixed it onto Tenpyo Saka's neck.

The collar bomb was a means of shackling Enhancers and Evolvers. To these high level experts, ordinary cuffs were of no use. Only with these advanced products would the experts be obedient.

The ingenuity behind the creation came from a Japanese film. The moment one wore such a collar, other than those with the Metal Manipulation or Electricity Manipulation abilities, or insane body tempering abilities, most other Enhancers and Evolvers had no means of fending against it.

Yue Zhong eyed Tenpyo Saka and barked coldly: "Get up! I know you're awake. Don't think of killing me. If I die, after 3 days, that collar bomb will automatically go off. No one can save you."

She opened her eyes and stared at Yue Zhong coldly: "What do you want?"

Yue Zhong waved his right hand and a transparent silk shot out to wrap around her body, at the same time, sucking her Stamina: "You can stay here obediently."

After capturing Tenpyo Saka, Yue Zhong whisked out his Falcon Sniper, returning to his vantage point and resumed sniping the elites of the Takama-ga-hara.

As for Tenpyo Saka, she was tied to the tree and watched Yue Zhong kill the elites of her faction, maintaining her calm and silence.

In the battlefield, one Deity had charged out in madness, dodging countless bullets and killed 3 Adjudicators one after another. He even destroyed one defense point. Under his relentless assault, the Kingdom of God soldiers were slowly forced back.

Behind him, a large number of Japanese troops hollered out in triumph, and rushed forwards to conquer the lines.

Peng! Just as the Deity was about to kill another soldier of the Kingdom of God, his brains were blasted apart, and the red and white brain matter splattered onto the floor.

Witnessing such a horrifying scene, the Japanese soldiers immediately lost their composure, and began to hide behind cover, not daring to advance.

Kanzaki Hideo heard the gunshot and his expression fell: "Did Saka fail? Shit, we miscalculated. Seems like there's a Demon-level expert behind the scenes. What do we do now?"

At that time, both sides were already embroiled in their final charge, should one side fall, then it was the final result.

The Takama-ga-hara Demons were strong but they weren't military tacticians. They had not much preparations in terms of strategic warfare. He had already deployed all his troops, and even the Demon experts had rushed out to suppress the Kingdom of God soldiers. If they were to retreat now, their entire troop would fall.

Yue Zhong continued to snipe a few more Takama-ga-hara elites before he stopped. He required both sides to be at an equilibrium. Only then he would come in at the last possible moment to sweep them both up.

Half an hour later, 4 Thunder Fighters flew under the cover of night and landed near Yue Zhong's position. Yao Yao and 23 other elite soldiers stepped out.

Tenpyo Saka saw the 4 Thunder Fighters and her cold expression finally showed some hint of agitation: "Thunder Fighters! You guys are from the Kingdom of God?!"

The Thunder Fighters were the products of the Kingdom of God, and were the worst nightmares of their enemies. Takama-ga-hara had also tried to devise ways to deal with the Thunder Fighters, however, other than the Gun Demon Kanagawa Soma, not even 3 could deal with them. Of which, one happened to be the leader Tetsuo Nendori.

When the elites came down, they shot Tenpyo Saka a glance, before looking back at Yue Zhong. Their eyes flashed with a strange glint, but they were intelligent enough not to say anything.

"Boss! I'm here!" After another half an hour, Bai Xiao Sheng led the group of elites, combined with the Japanese and Chinese survivors, and the newly subjugated armed forces of 600 over.

While there were 600 members of the armed forces, over 500 of them were a motley bunch. They were just barely fitter and burlier than the rest. The true Enhancers amongst them were only 20, and they were pathetically weak.

However, like this, there looked to be over 700 people under Yue Zhong.

He ordered the pilot: "Good! Wei He! I order you to launch an assault on that group over there. Make use of the cluster bomb to annihilate them!"

"Yes! Sir!" Wei He saluted Yue Zhong and quickly piloted the Thunder Fighters over.

Under Yue Zhong's orders, the 4 Thunder Fighters immediately joined in the fray.

At that time, after an intense clash, only 2 Eurocopters were left, as the 4 Thunder Fighters approached, all the Kingdom of God soldiers cheered, while the forces of the Takama-ga-hara felt the blood drain from their faces, their eyes full of despair.

Chapter 564: Defeating the 2 armies!

The moment the Thunder Fighters entered the fray, they began to release their cluster bombs and incendiary bombs. In an instant, the entire region rang out with explosions, as dust rose in the air, and flames blazed outwards. The entire battlefield shook from the impact, and numerous Japanese troops were either blasted apart or swallowed by the flames.

The soldiers of the Takama-ga-hara had fought for over 2 hours, and they were getting exhausted. Having reached their limits, and facing the brunt of such destruction, they collapsed entirely, and began to run for their lives.

Kanzaki Hideo saw it and he sighed and quickly ordered: "Everyone!! It's our loss!! Fuwa, retreat!!"

At this time, the Takama-ga-hara had no means to deal with aerial attacks, plus the 6 aircrafts were more than capable of suppressing all the troops of Takama-ga-hara. Even if Kanzaki Hideo and Yokoshima Fuwa were strong, they could not turn the tides around with just them.

At the same time, Yokoshima Fuwa's Dragoon Transformation had ended, and he had almost expended all his strength. If he continued to battle on, he would definitely face some danger.

Those transformation abilities would grant a huge boost in strength for a short period of time. However, when it ended, the Enhancers would be weakened for a period of time. During this period, they would be reduced to less than half of their fighting capabilities.

After receiving that order, Yokoshima Fuwa immediately turned around and escaped into the darkness.

Yokoshima Fuwa, such a Demon-level expert, actually abandoning his subordinates to run. This led the Takama-ga-hara's already collapsing mentality to crumble even further. All the Japanese soldiers lost their will, and began to escape in various directions.

“Attack!! Attack!! Eradicate them!!”

The astute commander from the Kingdom of God saw the retreating Japanese and swiftly brought his troops to give chase. If they didn't annihilate these Takama-ga-hara soldiers, in the future, this faction would definitely become an obstacle to the Kingdom of God. Hence they had to go all out to wipe them out with this chance.

As the soldiers from the Kingdom of God gave chase, a large number of the Japanese soldiers fell and died.

“Do it!” At that moment, Yue Zhong ordered coldly.

Under his orders, the 4 Thunder Fighters suddenly switched targets and gunned down the remaining 2 Eurocopters.

“Why?!”

They had no chance to react, and were destroyed completely, becoming 2 flaming balls as they crashed to the ground.

“What's going on?” Seeing the 2 Eurocopters being destroyed, all the soldiers from the Kingdom of God felt bewildered.

At the next moment, the Thunder Fighters that were assumed to be the trump card of the Kingdom of God began to fire upon the ground without caring for sides, bombing the soldiers and blasting them.

On the battlefield, the sounds of explosions rang out constantly, as many elites from both the Kingdom of God and Takama-ga-hara were blasted to pieces. Many soldiers from both sides fell under the relentless assault of the 4 Thunder Fighters.

Jonas, the commander of the Kingdom of God's Japanese Arm , screamed out in anguish: “How did it become like this? How did it become like this?! Aren't they our comrades?!”

The elites of the Kingdom of God had charged out from behind their cover to chase after the Japanese troops. Who knew, all of a sudden, the Thunder Fighters had suddenly unleashed carnage and rained destruction down upon everyone on the ground. The entire battlefield turned into a sea of flames, as countless soldiers screamed and wailed out, before being burnt to death. It was practically a scene from hell.

Under that horrifying assault, the Kingdom of God troops were also blasted and they lost all sense of order, each and every soldier dispersing and escaping in various directions.

At this time, Yue Zhong came charging forward with his 700 subordinates, launching a frenzied assault on the retreating Japanese and escaping Kingdom of God soldiers.

By now, both sides were already exhausted, and their morale low. Out of nowhere, Yue Zhong's forces might be a motley bunch, but they came charging out with high spirits and ferocious intent.

The intense battle continued for another 2 hours, before finally settling down. Yue Zhong had captured 2,000 Kingdom of God and Japanese troops. Many others had escaped into the woods, disappearing entirely.

By now, there were many places burning within the city. Mobs and riots had broken out, and it was chaos everywhere. A large portion of the Yaro Gang's forces had been wiped out by the Kingdom of God. However, a small faction still held out in the inner parts of the city.

Within a villa, numerous soldiers of the Yaro Gang were currently fortifying their defences. If any power without enough firearms or heavy power, they would have to pay a steep price to attack this final stand.

Yue Zhong gazed at the villa and gave an order: "Fukui Honten, go now and advise the Yaro Gang to surrender to me. If you succeed, I will bestow rewards upon you."

Fukui Honten's face fell and he immediately got on his knees to beg: "Sir! Please, spare my life! Spare my life! The Yaro Gang kill without batting eyelids, they will definitely take my life!"

Yue Zhong eyed him with a strong killing intent: "Do you think only the Yaro Gang know how to kill? Am I so merciful? This is an order, and orders are absolute! Those who disobey will be executed!"

Fukui Honten helplessly mustered his courage: "Yes! I understand. What are your conditions, Sir?"

"Tell them to surrender unconditionally, I will guarantee that their daily lives would not be affected."

With the Thunder Fighters, he could easily destroy the villa. Having such a trump card, Yue Zhong was obviously confident of his chances.

"Yes! I understand!"

Fukui Honten then gritted his teeth and raised a white flag as he walked towards the territory of the Yaro Gang.

2 soldiers quickly walked out and escorted him in front of a high-ranking officer, Kazuki Nobuhiko.

The Yaro Gang member wielded a sharp knife and emitted a strong killing intent as he spat out: "Who the fuck are you?"

Fukui Honten felt the killing intent and his face turned pale as he stammered: "I'm Fukui Honten, I was sent here as an envoy by the leader of the army outside, Yue Zhong."

Although Fukui Honten was huge and burly, able to kill zombies easily, he was actually a timid coward. He was currently intimidated by Kazuki Nobuhiko's aura, and felt that he might be killed if he wasn't careful.

Kazuki Nobuhiko frowned: "Yue Zhong? He's Chinese?"

Under the threat of death, Fukui Honten immediately bragged about Yue Zhong's power: "Yes! He's Chinese, however, he has over 3,000 elites under him, and 20 assault helicopters. The Kingdom of God and Takama-ga-hara were defeated by him earlier. He even killed 2 out of the 6 Demons of the Takama-ga-hara and captured one. The Shinobi Demon Tenpyo Saka is currently his captive."

"You see the helicopters in the skies? Those are his. They're called Thunder Fighters, and they're the more advanced aircraft weapons you will find. Each of them possess the power to raze a city to the ground. There're countless bombs, incendiary bombs, and even cluster bombs. Should you guys resist, then he would order the decimation of the entire region. By that time, you guys will only die without even knowing what hit you. On account that we're all Japanese, I tried to advise Yue Zhong-sama to spare you guys. I even volunteered myself as envoy to come and contact you guys." On one hand, Fukui Honten continued to brag about Yue Zhong's power, while earning some face for himself. He hoped that he could get out of Kazuki Nobuhiko's hands with this.

The stronger they understood Yue Zhong to be, the safer Fukui Honten would be. He knew this, that was why he spared no effort in blowing Yue Zhong's trumpet.

Hearing those words, Kazuki Nobuhiko's expression did not change, but his heart was shocked beyond belief: "So the Takama-ga-hara was really defeated by them! Even the Shinobi Demon was captured!"

Kazuki Nobuhiko wasn't some ordinary riff raff of the Yaro Gang. He was the second-in-command, and wielded great authority. He knew plenty of information that ordinary members wouldn't know. He knew the plan of the Takama-ga-hara to ambush the Kingdom of God. Since Yue Zhong's army could crash so easily, he knew that Yue Zhong must be more powerful than he could imagine.

The 4 Thunder Fighters were manufactured by the Kingdom of God as the latest in line for weapons, under their might, even a town as established as the Yaro Gang's would be turned into tofu.

Kazuki Nobuhiko grabbed onto Fukui Honten's clothes and asked softly: "What did Yue Zhong offer?"

Fukui Honten knew that this Yaro Gang member was already faltering on surrendering. He quickly advised softly: "Yue Zhong wants you guys to surrender unconditionally, he would personally guarantee the safety of all of you."

"Just that? No other sweeteners?" Kazuki Nobuhiko frowned slightly as he asked. Although he knew Yue Zhong truly meant for them to surrender with such terms, he had hoped that he could get something out of it.

Fukui Honten quickly advised: "Nobuhiko-sir, Yue Zhong is a man that dishes out his rewards and punishments accordingly. As long as you truly submit and work hard for him, he would reward you."

Chapter 565: Jasper Green Lotus!

Fukui Honten did not know the background of Kazuki Nobuhiko, and could only use such words to try and coax him into surrendering.

Kazuki Nobuhiko hesitated a while, before suddenly asking: "That's true! Once I contribute to his cause, I will naturally receive some rewards. Oh yes, does Yue Zhong-sama like beautiful girls?"

Fukui Honten pondered as he thought back to Ida Kyoko and the little loli Yao Yao beside Yue Zhong, before nodding and replying: "Yea, Yue Zhong-sama only likes top beauties."

Most men like beauties, and Fukui Honten was just using a common stereotype to support his conjecture.

Fukui Honten brazenly continued: "Kazuki-sama, the most important thing now is to complete what Yue Zhong-sama has ordered me to do. He's not a patient man, and I fear if we delay too long, he might rush in with his troops."

Kazuki Nobuhiko immediately wore a warm expression and said: "Sure! Come with me!"

On the way, many of the guards from the Yaro Gang looked towards Fukui Honten beside Kazuki Nobuhiko and sighed in their hearts. After all, no one wanted to rush to their deaths blindly. In fact, many were in favour of surrendering.

As led by Kazuki Nobuhiko, Fukui Honten came to a lavish place within the city.

"Who the hell are you?" A 1.6m middle-aged man in kimono with a ferocious aura stared at Fukui Honten and barked coldly.

This man was the leader of the Yaro Gang, Hajime Moto. He was a Level 15 Enhancer. As the leader of a faction, he could order his subordinates to capture all sorts of zombies, and he will kill them easily. This allowed him to raise his level to 15, although his fighting strength was really negligible.

Even in the apocalypse, many leaders weren't actually strong experts, instead, they held power over a large number of ordinary survivors.

Fukui Honten was intimidated by the aura of Hajime Moto that he trembled slightly, before gritting his teeth to say: "I'm Fukui Honten. Leader Hajime, I'm the envoy sent by Yue Zhong-sama. He wants me to advise you guys to surrender unconditionally. He can promise that the lives of you and your subordinates will be intact. Otherwise, he will immediately charge in with his army, and level the entire place, not leaving even a single chicken or dog alive."

Hajime Moto frowned and asked coldly: "Yue Zhong, he's a Chinese?"

Fukui Honten had a bad feeling as he replied: "Yes!"

A savage look flashed in Hajime Moto's eyes as he bellowed out: "You want me to submit to a damn Chinese pig? Is your brain damaged? Are you still part of our mighty race? You're actually willing to lower yourself to work for a pig?! You're a disgrace! Our Yaro Gang would definitely not submit to a Chinese! Our Yaro Gang is above the rest, and we will fight till the end with that Chinese dog!! Kazuki, go take this traitor out and chop off his head, hang it outside!"

The right-wing movement had gained explosive traction in recent years, and they had managed to prevail even in the modernizing world. This Hajime Moto was an extreme nationalist, and even he would rather die in battle than submit.

Fukui Honten fell to the floor in fright, his entire 2m frame trembling as he pleaded: "Sir, spare me!! Hajime-sama, spare me!! I'm just an envoy!! Don't kill me, don't kill me!!"

Kazuki Nobuhiko was stunned as he stayed where he was. He thought of having to face the forces of Yue Zhong if he killed Fukui Honten, and his hands became cold.

The Yaro Gang had no aerial defences, and the strongest weapon they had were just a few rifles. There was no way they stood a chance against those Thunder Fighters.

Hajime Moto's eyes flashed fiercely and he barked: "Kazuki, you're still not acting? You want to surrender to that Chinese dog?!"

Kazuki Nobuhiko felt his heart turn cold, as a look of resolution gleamed in his eyes and he replied: "Hai! I understand!"

After that, he pulled out the kodachi at his waist and swung it high, before swinging it down, slashing through Hajime Moto's neck and right shoulder.

The headless corpse of the Yaro Gang's leader slumped to the floor, the decapitated head still wearing a look of disbelief.

Kazuki Nobuhiko eyed the corpse and a complicated gaze appeared in his eyes: "Leader! I don't want to die, I still want to live! Since you're intending to stand in my way, you'll have to die!!"

Fukui Honten glanced at Kazuki Nobuhiko and he felt a tremor of shock: "What a ruthless man."

After Hajime Moto was disposed of by Kazuki Nobuhiko, he swiftly ordered the rest to put down their weapons with his authority as second-in-command and brought them to surrender.

A total of 400 Yaro Gang members came forward to submit to Yue Zhong, many of which were Level 30 or 40 Enhancers.

Kazuki Nobuhiko came up to Yue Zhong and raised the head of Hajime Moto, saying: "Sir, this is the head of our ex-leader, Hajime Moto! He wanted to go against your orders, and I've decided to kill him, and offer his head as a pledge of allegiance, Sir!"

Yue Zhong eyed the head and commented mildly: "Well done!"

"Thank you for your compliments, Sir!" Kazuki Nobuhiko's heart leaped in joy, as he carefully eyed the Shinobi Demon Tenpyo Saka behind Yue Zhong, her neck wrapped in the collar bomb.

"He's truly strong, to have actually subdued a Demon from Takama-ga-hara. He's too scary." Having seen what Yue Zhong was capable of with his own eyes, his fear and respect towards Yue Zhong grew.

After all, the 6 Demons were the geniuses amongst geniuses over at Japan. Every one of them was at least a dual-attribute Evolver, their combat strength the apex of the crop, and not a single person in the Yaro Gang was their match.

Yue Zhong pointed to a small hill and asked: "I saw the Takama-ga-hara troops suddenly rushing out from there, what was going on?"

The sudden ambush by the Takama-ga-hara resulted in some severe losses by the Kingdom of God. If it weren't for their elite Adjudicators and Judges, who had all transitioned in their jobs, they would have long been defeated by the Japanese troops.

Kazuki Nobuhito replied with respect: "Sir, our Yaro Gang has built this city on top of a large underground refuge. There's a tunnel leading to that mountain. The Takama-ga-hara had made use of that tunnel to flank the Kingdom of God soldiers."

In order to deal with potential nuclear war, Japan had constructed various underground refuges. The Yaro Gang had established their base on top of one such refuge.

Yue Zhong fixed his gaze on Kazuki Nobuhiko: "Why did the Kingdom of God attack you guys?"

He explained: "We had obtained a Mutant Plant called the Jasper Green Lotus. The jasper fruits it bear can allow Enhancers above Level 50 to evolve a skill to a Second Order stage. Any Enhancer whose level was below 50, swallowing a jasper fruit would cause the 6 attributes to gain a 4 point boost. However, it is only effective once, consuming more than one would have no effect. The Kingdom of God had come specially for this Jasper Green Lotus."

When Yue Zhong heard it, he immediately ordered: "Bring me to it."

"Yes! Sir, please come with me."

Under Kazuki Nobuhiko's lead, Yue Zhong came to an area outside of the lodgings.

Within a pool of not even 20cm deep, there was a 4-petal jade green plant, with a green flower blooming right in the middle. Within the flowers, there were a few jade-like fruits. It really looked like a mysterious lotus.

Kazuki Nobuhiko pointed to the plant and said: "That's the Jasper Green Lotus!"

There were 8 Enhancers of above level 30 guarding the place, obviously viewing the plant with great importance as well.

Yue Zhong patted Kazuki Nobuhiko in satisfaction and praised: "Well done! You did well. As long as those Yaro Gang members whose hands have not been dyed with Chinese blood, I will return them to you, and you will be reinstated as the vice-commander of the Yaro Gang. Your direct superior is Fukui Honten. However, since the Yaro Gang sounds so vulgar, let's rename it to be the Wild Wolf Company. You're currently the Vice-commander and your rank is Major."

If it wasn't for Kazuki Nobuhiko's decisive and swift handling of the situation, the Jasper Green Lotus might have been destroyed in the chaos. Gaining such a treasure, Yue Zhong's view of Kazuki Nobuhiko also rose.

Having been approved of Yue Zhong, Kazuki Nobuhiko felt extremely pleased and he voiced his allegiance once more: "Thank you Yue Zhong-sama! Kazuki will definitely serve you with my life!!"

Yue Zhong walked into the pool and took 3 of the fruits, before arranging for 8 Evolvers to protect the pool.

By now, Yue Zhong had given a number of the Evolving Liquid to those elite soldiers that had followed Yao Yao to Japan, causing them to evolve. He had immediately gained over a 100 Level 40 Evolvers. Because of this troop, he could easily vanquish the 2 armies from the Kingdom of God and Takama-ga-hara.

Yue Zhong then eyed Kazuki Nobuhiko before giving him a task: "Kazuki, I need people of talents in the following fields: Optoelectronic engineering, mechanical engineering, electronic engineering and biological sciences. Find these people and bring them to me."

Being adjacent to Tokyo, the Shizuoka Prefecture was also a developed county, there should be a number of researchers, scientists and talents in those areas. Yue Zhong needed them to work for him.

When America and the Soviet Union had teamed up to defeat Berlin, while the Soviet Union was snatching up resources, America snatched up talents. After World War II, America's technology had surpassed the Soviet Union. Yue Zhong was severely lacking in talents in the science field right now. Before gaining the capitals back in China, he could only rely on the geniuses of Japan to help him.

Chapter 566: Concentration Camp!

Kazuki Nobuhiko understood Yue Zhong's intentions, but he still replied with respect: "Yes! Yue Zhong-sama!"

He then proceeded to pass the order to look for those talents as per Yue Zhong's instructions.

After he left, Yue Zhong turned to Tenpyo Saka behind him who had been following behind, with the collar bomb still on her neck. He directly offered: "Tenpyo Saka, how about working for me?"

As one of the 6 Demons, her combat strength was truly astonishing. If Yue Zhong could successfully win her over, he would gain another peak expert amongst his ranks.

Tenpyo Saka looked at Yue Zhong with a clear gaze, without any expression yet her tone was cold: "I'm Japanese, my strength is only for Japan."

Yue Zhong's pupils constricted and his killing intent billowed: "You're not afraid that I'll kill you?"

Tenpyo Saka continued eyeing Yue Zhong without a shred of fear: "That's your freedom."

He gazed at her, his killing intent becoming thicker. With such a high level expert as an Assassin, not many could defend against her. If he couldn't subdue her, then he would rather see her dead.

She could feel the murderous aura radiating from Yue Zhong and knew he was for real, and a chill passed her heart: "Yue Zhong. You can't dominate Japan. If you allow the Takama-ga-hara to ransom for my release, I'm willing to convince Tetsuo Nendori-sama to enter an alliance with you. Both sides can exist together in Japan. Our current enemies are not each other, but the zombies. We're already outnumbered, if we continued to slaughter amongst ourselves, we would fall prey to the zombies."

Yue Zhong was reminded of the big picture, and he nodded slowly: "Alright, I'm willing to negotiate with Takama-ga-hara."

Yue Zhong wasn't Japanese, if he insisted on establishing a Japan force, it would be incredibly difficult. Furthermore, he didn't even intend to in the first place. He had just wanted to obtain some of the benefits before heading back to consolidating his strength in China.

Bai Xiao Sheng came up to Yue Zhong at this point, his expression steely: "Sir. We've discovered a Chinese concentration camp. Do you want to come take a look?"

"Concentration camp?" Yue Zhong hissed and his expression turned extremely ugly the moment he heard those words. This was a notorious institution used during the World War II, and countless people have suffered and died in them.

During the second World War, all the countries involved had some form of such a place. Who knew that it would resurface during these apocalyptic times.

In an area where dirty waters flowed, and there were steel fences and wooden stakes embedded all around, there were dozens of tents and simple wooden cartons. This was the concentration camp set up by the Yaro Gang.

Within this camp, gender didn't matter, everyone was naked and gathered together for warmth. Around the camp, corpses could be seen strewn around. There were many female corpses, each of them bearing the evidence of countless abuse and torture.

Near the entrance of the camp, there were rows and rows of dead Chinese people lined up neatly. There were men and women, old and young. It was practically hell.

In this post apocalypse, many Japanese were cruel to their own people, not to mention the Chinese and other nationalities.

If even ordinary Japanese became the slaves of other Japanese, then the Chinese, Americans, English and Africans were treated worse than humans.

The moment Yue Zhong neared the camp, he could smell a thick stench of excrement and rotting, causing him to feel his bile rushing up his throat. He almost wanted to turn around to walk away.

There were many Chinese like Jin Li who revered the Japanese. Over the course of years, many of these Chinese had assimilated entirely into the Japanese culture. Yue Zhong loathed to see such people.

A person whose frame had been reduced to skin and bones ran out of the camp, pleading: "Help me!! Help me!! Please save me!! Please, I'm begging you!!"

The rest of the people in the camp ignored him, instead, just staring at him coldly.

Behind the person, a number of blond Caucasians were rushing towards him.

The moment Yue Zhong heard the words of the fleeing man, his brows arched and he ordered: "Chinese? Go save him!"

One of the personal guards by Yue Zhong's side immediately shot forward and used a Tang Replica Sword to point at the man: "Kneel!"

The moment those 3 Caucasians saw the Tang Replica Sword, their eyes flashed with fear and they turned tail and ran.

The bag of bones immediately smiled at Yue Zhong: "Thank you! I'm Miao Xi Gui. Thank you for saving my life."

Yue Zhong asked: "Why were they chasing you?"

Miao Xi Gui's eyes flashed with bitterness: "They want to eat my flesh."

He continued: "This is a concentration camp, those Japanese didn't provide us with food. They only watched and laughed as we killed amongst ourselves. We were then forced to cannibalism to live on. I had been captured here, and had gone 7 days and 7 nights without food."

Standing beside Yue Zhong, Tenpyo Saka's face fell: "Impossible! Our Japanese people would never be so cruel!"

Although Tenpyo Saka wasn't some nationalistic person, she was still proud of her country and people. In her mind, most Japanese were decent people, and would not do such deranged things.

Yue Zhong ordered coldly: "Convey my orders! Go round up the warden and all the prison guards of this camp, and bring them out of the city to behead them! Their family members will all become slaves, and await to be given to those who perform well!"

One of the personal guards swiftly dismissed himself: "Yes!"

Tears welled up in Miao Xi Gui's eyes, as he thought back on all the sufferings, and he immediately knelt on the floor, kowtowing profusely: "Thank you kind sir!! Thank you for seeking redress for our people!!"

The Chinese had been humiliated by the Japanese, and most of them had lost hope for the future. Although they were all filled with hate for the Japanese, they lacked the strength to do anything. Hence, they could only live on like pigs and dogs. However, they bore the grudge, and now that they had Yue Zhong to aid them, Miao Xi Gui could not help but sob emotionally.

Yue Zhong then turned to Bai Xiao Sheng: "Go get some men to sweep them all. Those who had participated in the killing of any Chinese, execute them. If any Chinese inside are willing to join us, absorb them into our ranks. I only want Chinese who can speak our language, not those Chinese Japanese that had already forgotten their mother tongue."

In order to integrate into the local community, there were many Chinese whose later generations had developed and assimilated into the Japanese culture. Many of them forgot their Chinese language, and had totally become Japanese. Yue Zhong did not want these people within his ranks as well.

"Yes!" Bai Xiao Sheng then took 10 experts and entered the camp.

That single order from Yue Zhong caused a bloodbath to be shed. A 100-over Yaro Gang members were all dragged out to be executed, and their families were branded as slaves to be given as gifts to victorious people.

Within the concentration camp, Yue Zhong discovered over a 160 Chinese survivors. They were all excited about joining Yue Zhong, and becoming part of his troops.

As for the other foreigners within the camp, Yue Zhong directly executed those who had eaten Chinese people, whereas the rest were released.

The Yaro Gang's city had a total of 50,000 Japanese survivors, and many were talents in their own fields of research and development. Many were sent back towards Sakura Town in preparation to be brought back to China.

There were also various top-of-the-line machinery and manufacturing equipment, which were commissioned to be brought back to Sakura Town as well.

Being in the Shizuoka Prefecture, the Yaro Gang's city was like a bucket in a body of water. The moment the 3 million zombies launched an assault over here, the city was absolutely incapable of withstanding the onslaught.

In Yue Zhong's hands, there were over 2,000 Kingdom of God and Takama-ga-hara captives. The ordinary Kingdom of God soldiers numbered about 700 Japanese. They were just normal people who fought to survive, and didn't particularly swore by any allegiance. Yue Zhong thus incorporated them into the troops belong to Ida Kyoko, Muto Shin and Yuan Tian Gang, bolstering their strength.

As for the 1,400 Japanese soldiers of the Takama-ga-hara, over 200 of them had weak wills and decided to switch loyalties, and were immediately sent to his 3 subordinates. The remaining 1,200 of the soldiers were unwilling.

Working together with Kazuki Nobuhiko, Yue Zhong soon gained control over the Yaro Gang's city, and it regained its peace.

Inside a particular master bedroom within a mansion, Yue Zhong pulled out one of the Jasper Green Fruits and swallowed it. He only had the time now to consume this treasure.

The moment it was absorbed into his abdomen, it transformed into a warm energy flow that spread throughout his limbs, and nourished his body,

The energy continued to travel along Yue Zhong's meridians, before finally settling in his mind, and landed on the bronze rune representing the Stealth ability, carving out additional engravings.

"Second Order Stealth: Greatly enhances Stealth ability, distorting and confusing enemies' senses even when moving slowly."

Yue Zhong opened his eyes as he savoured the enhancing effect: "Second Order Stealth! Why was it this skill?! Ugh, if only it had been the Steel Body skill..."

The Steel Body skill directly impacted Yue Zhong's survivability in combat, whereas the Stealth ability was related to his assassination skills.

Chapter 567: Envoy from Takama-ga-hara!

Inside a meeting room, a fierce light flashed past Bai Xiao Sheng's eyes. He spoke: "Leader! Since those 1,200 Takama-ga-hara soldiers aren't willing to work for us, let's just kill them and be done with it!"

"En!" Yue Zhong frowned slightly as he lowered his head in thoughts. He was also of a mind to do away with those soldiers that weren't willing to submit. They were all elites, if they were released to the Takama-ga-hara, they would add to the numbers.

The stoic expression of Tenpyo Saka finally had a change, as she could not help but exclaim: "No! Yue Zhong, you can't do that! They're all humans, not some dog or chicken! Please Yue Zhong, don't kill them! They've already surrendered, you shouldn't kill them."

Muto Shin had a fierce glint in his eyes as well: "I, too, am for killing them! They're the elites of the Takama-ga-hara, the moment they're killed, Takama-ga-hara would suffer a huge loss!"

Since the past, traitors had always been harshest to their own people. Muto Shin was already a traitor of the Takama-ga-hara, and he was exceptionally ruthless to his ex-comrades. Only then would he be able to prove his loyalty to Yue Zhong.

An elite team was after all the core strength of any power. If too many were wiped out, it would be tough for the faction to regain its strength. Yue Zhong had over a million survivors in China right now, but his true elite troops only numbered about 20,000. If they were somehow annihilated, his military might would plunge for a period of time.

Killing these 1,200 soldiers would mean dealing a huge blow to the Takama-ga-hara.

A intelligence officer came up to Yue Zhong and reported: "Leader! The Takama-ga-hara had sent an envoy requesting your audience!"

"Let him in!" Yue Zhong's brows arched, "He has truly come!"

A handsome man of about 35 or 36 wearing a suit came walking into the hall, before bowing to Yue Zhong: "Yue Zhong-sama, I'm Fuji Saburo, an envoy from Takama-ga-hara. I'm pleased to make your acquaintance."

Yue Zhong eyed him and spoke coldly: "Fuji Saburo, speak your mind."

Fuji Saburo immediately tried to come from the moral angle: "Yue Zhong-sama, why would you attack our Takama-ga-hara? We have no grudge with you..."

Yue Zhong's brows furrowed as he cut him off loudly: "Cut the crap! If you're here to spew nonsense, then just make yourself scarce. I don't have the time to waste on your bullshit. Say something worthwhile."

Fuji Saburo was obviously eloquent, if he continued to speak, he would definitely argue from the moral angle for a few hours. Yue Zhong could not be bothered to deal with it.

He decided to get to the crux of the matter: “Yue Zhong-sama, our Takama-ga-hara hopes that you can return Tenpyo Saka-sama as well as the soldiers to us.”

Yue Zhong’s gaze was still chilly, as he spoke slowly: “If you want to get them back, what are you prepared to pay for them?”

Fuji Saburo immediately offered a high price: “10,000 tons of rations, 500 tons fuel, a 1,000 rifles, 20,000 rounds of ammunition, 200 beautiful virgins. What do you think of the price?”

“10,000 tons of rations, 500 tons fuel. They’re freaking rich. This Takama-ga-hara must have obtained help from the Japanese government?” When Yue Zhong heard those numbers, he felt a chill. He roughly guess how they must have such a backing.

Although a faction could recruit survivors as troops with enough resources, 1,200 elite soldiers and a powerful Evolver was far more valuable than those amounts.

Yue Zhong shook his head and counter-offered: “I want experts from the following fields: Optoelectronics, 20. Engineering, 30. Electronic engineering, 40. Medical, 20.... On top of that, I want 20 aerial transport vehicles, 24 assault helicopters. The moment these are delivered to my doorstep, I will immediately release the elites of the Takama-ga-hara.”

When Fuji Saburo heard Yue Zhong’s counter offer, his back broke out in cold sweat. Those people were all highly sought-after experts in Japan, and if it were just one or two, they would close one eyes. However, Yue Zhong had actually asked for over a thousand people from different fields. The moment Takama-ga-hara handed them over, their development would slow down by a lot.

At the start of the apocalypse, those experts in those fields could not even compare to an ordinary farmer. However, now that the situation was stabilizing in many regions, factions were seeking these experts to aid their development.

The Kingdom of God had been able to advance so quickly because they had managed to secure a large number of talents right from the get go, and obtained a number of blueprints. Thus, their rapid development.

Other than the issue of talents, aerial transport vehicles and assault helicopters were all precious equipment, no one would give them up willing.

Fuji Saburo stared at Yue Zhong and directly rejected him: “Yue Zhong-sama, your appetite is too big. We can’t bring out so many people nor that number of equipment.”

Yue Zhong stared back, as a huge pressure emitted from him, causing Fuji Saburo to feel suffocated.

He then pointed to Tenpyo Saka and coldly replied: “Fine. We can slowly exchange. As for Tenpyo Saka, she is your Shinobi Demon, I know that you have about 15 assault helicopters and 30 aerial transport vehicles. I want 12 assault helicopters and 15 aerial carriers in exchange for her! You guys won’t say no to this right? I don’t have the time to bargain with you, there’s only yes or no.”

Tenpyo Saka was a powerful Evolver, and her combat ability was high. However, in terms of the battlefield, the destructive might of 12 assault helicopters was more potent than her. Yue Zhong had no plans to stay long in Japan, and exchanging her for some practical weaponry was much more beneficial. After all, she wasn't willing to work for him.

Tenpyo Saka's gaze also fell on Fuji Saburo silently, her eyes flashing with anticipation. She wasn't willing to stay by Yue Zhong's side as his captive. She wanted to leave, and return to Takama-ga-hara.

Fuji Saburo began to perspire profusely, as he finally bowed to Tenpyo Saka: "My apologies, Shinobi Demon-sama."

He then turned to Yue Zhong: "Yue Zhong-sama, your terms are too harsh, I can't promise those."

Those assault helicopters and transport vehicles were the treasures of the Takama-ga-hara, and although Tenpyo Saka was important to Tetsuo Nendori, her worth could not be compared to those advanced weaponry.

Without those armored machines, the development of Takama-ga-hara would be adversely affected.

"So it seems that I'm not as important as a bunch of machines." Tenpyo Saka's eyes flashed with disappointment and lowered her head silently, full of bitterness.

Tenpyo Saka had helped contribute so much to the cause of Takama-ga-hara, and had assassinated countless experts. However, in the end, Tetsuo Nendori was not willing to exchange any machines for her, and she was filled with disappointment and bitterness.

Yue Zhong took a final look and ordered coolly: "The rest of the soldiers can be exchanged with those talents that I need, every person in exchange for a soldier. Get the hell out!"

"Yue Zhong-sama, we can still discuss this!! Yue Zhong-sama...." Fuji Saburo called out as he was dragged by men under Yue Zhong's orders.

"Seems like you're not as important as those machines!" Yue Zhong eyed Tenpyo Saka and mocked.

Tenpyo Saka looked at him, and lowered her head without any comeback.

Bai Xiao Sheng asked: "Boss, what do we do with those soldiers then?"

Yue Zhong replied: "Arrange for them to work on those fortifications at Sakura Town, their wages will be issued as per the lowest."

Those soldiers were all fit men, and were perfect for fortification works. In this apocalypse, manpower was never enough.

As the meeting ended, Yue Zhong brought Tenpyo Saka and Bai Xiao Sheng, as well as 16 other Evolvers and sat in a Hummer as they made their way towards the sea side, leaving the Yaro Gang's city.

Tenpyo Saka's strength was truly fearsome, if it wasn't for Yue Zhong's control, she could easily assassinate many important people. He had to bring her along.

About 10km away from the Yaro Gang's city, there was a seaside town, where the residential population was about a few thousand prior to the apocalypse. The Yaro Gang had cleared the entire place out after the apocalypse had set in.

The entire place was desolate, every room and building empty. Any item that could be used had already been transported away, and the entire place looked like a dead town.

At the coast, there were 2 luxury boats docked, as well as 12 other small fishing boats. About 20 men stood near the coast, they used to be fishing folk before the apocalypse, and knew how to navigate the boats. They were found by Fukui Honten.

He fawned over Yue Zhong and said: "Yue Zhong-sama, these are the boats that we have."

Kazuki Nobuhiko had also brought along 2 beautiful and sexy Japanese girls in bikinis, as he came up to Yue Zhong, with a fawning smile: "Yue Zhong-sama, these sisters are Miya Aiko and Miya Yuka. They have long admired your skills and strength, and have offered to become your maidservants."

Both of them walked up to Yue Zhong and bowed, before speaking in unison: "Aiko (Yuka) greets Master!"

Fukui Honten and Kazuki Nobuhiko had just recently joined Yue Zhong, and knew that their future was still not yet cemented. They could only rely on such measures to slowly gain his favour. After all, the fate of those hundreds of Yaro Gang members outside the gate had shocked everyone to the core.

"En!" Yue Zhong swept them a look, before asking Kazuki Nobuhiko: "What's the rank and level of the strongest Mutant Beast in the seas around here?"

Chapter 568: Attack of the Sea Mutant Beasts!

The seas had become even more terrifying after the apocalypse, after all, all sorts of marine creatures resided within more than 70% of what constituted earth. Even a Type 2 Mutant Beast would be humongous, but compared to the rest of the creatures, it might just be some measly prawn. The real terror were those Type 5 and higher Overlords.

Even if Yue Zhong mustered all his strength, it was impossible for him to kill a Type 5 Mutant Beast at this juncture. That sort of creature was simply too terrifying, even deploying an entire battalion might not work.

If such a Type 5 Mutant Beast were active in the seas, Yue Zhong dared not move out into the Yokosuka Base.

Kazuki Nobuhiko spoke up: "Sir, there are usually a lot of Type 2 Mutant Beasts in the seas, and they're ferocious, sometimes even coming up to shore to attack people. We had tried establishing a base here once, but due to losing many men to those Type 2 Mutant Beasts, we gave up on the town. The main active forces around here are those Type 2 Mutant Beasts, but we did catch sight of a Type 3 before."

When Yue Zhong heard it, he went to the shore silently and summoned the Type 2 Sharkie. After taming a beast, as long as he was within a certain radius of the beast, he could establish a mental link with his tamed beasts. The higher the skill level, the larger the radius.

Right now, Yue Zhong's Tamer Technique had already reached Level 4, within a distance of 200km, all the beasts that had been tamed could be connected with his mind, and rush to him the moment he called for them.

A Type 2 Mutant Shark the length of 40m was tearing into the flesh of a Mutant Swordfish out in the sea. Suddenly, it twisted its head and emitted a sound of delight as it rushed towards the source of the call.

The moment the Type 2 Mutant Shark left, countless smaller sea beasts swam over and began to tear into the Mutant Swordfish.

After the apocalypse, the sea had truly become a hundred times more dangerous. If a normal person was to enter the waters, regardless of how good he is with swimming, within 10 minutes, he would be torn to pieces. Unless he was a powerful Evolver.

Kazuki Nobuhiko continued carefully: "Sir, please pardon my words. With these boats, if they were to go out to sea, they will definitely be destroyed by the Mutant Beasts. It's too dangerous."

By this time, Yue Zhong was like Kazuki Nobuhiko's boss, if he were to die, then Kazuki Nobuhiko's group would be swallowed by other people. He didn't want to become a trophy to be collected time after time, hence he wasn't willing to see Yue Zhong die. It had nothing to do with loyalty, just self-interest.

Yue Zhong replied mildly: "I know. I have my ways to go out to sea safely."

All of a sudden, the calm sea began to churn, and the sand on the beach began to stir. Numerous Mutant Sandworms of about 3 to 4 meters burrowed out with sharp teeth, their bodies encased in a white color scale-like covering, and made towards Yue Zhong's group in a frenzy.

"Level 17 Strange Beast: Mutant Sandworms. They like to swallow flesh and blood."

The scary thing about them was their numbers, and as they made their way towards Yue Zhong and his group, it looked like a sea of white.

"Disperse into town!" Yue Zhong looked at the numbers and also felt his scalp tingle. He could easily slaughter a few with a single swing, but there seemed to be over tens of thousands of them. Even someone as powerful as he would be helpless against numbers.

Hearing Yue Zhong's orders, everyone fought to escape into town.

There were countless buildings still standing in the town, and by making use of those buildings, they could establish a defence.

The Mutant Sandworms had speed twice of normal humans, although they couldn't chase up to the Evolvers under Yue Zhong, it was more than enough to catch up to the Japanese people under Fukui Honten.

An unfortunate Japanese survivor was slightly slow and he was instantly surrounded by those worms. They opened their jaws and chomped down on his body, drawing fresh blood and meat. In mere seconds, the Japanese survivor were torn to shreds amidst his pitiful screams.

“Save me!! Save me!! Master!!” Miya Yuka was running when she suddenly tripped on a stone and tumbled to the ground. She was so frightened that her tears and snot were streaming down her face, as she cried out miserably.

As she was crying, a number of the Mutant Sandworms had jumped onto her body, and was preparing to take a huge bite out of her.

As she was about to die, a flash of light shot past her, and those Mutant Sandworms were immediately sliced into pieces. Their juices splattered all over her, and if it weren't for the peril that everyone was in, the posture and circumstance that she was in would be incredibly sexual.

Yue Zhong grabbed her and threw her to Tenpyo Saka: “Protect them properly!”

Tenpyo Saka shook slightly, and received Yuka silently, before rushing towards Aiko's side. She wasn't a Strength-based Evolver, but with her equipment, she had 4 times the strength of a normal person. It was barely any effort to carry Yuka.

“Block them!” Yue Zhong waved his hands and activated his Devil Flame, as the terrifying might of fire condensed in his hands. He swept outwards and caused a huge fiery tornado to blow towards those sandworms, enveloping them.

When the flames went out, over hundreds of those Mutant Beasts had been incinerated. The rest stopped slightly, evidently afraid of fire.

Tenpyo Saka and the rest made use of the chance to hurry further into town.

The waves of the sea were churning, and not long after, a huge beast of about 36m and a height of 4m appeared. Its shell broke out of the water first, and soon the entire frame of a Type 2 Mutant Lobster appeared. There were over ten thousand of its little brothers of varying levels that were beside it.

A Type 2 Mutant Beast might not count for much out deep in the ocean, but near the shores, it was still a little Overlord. Other than the Type 2 Mutant Lobster, there was also a huge Mutant Sandworm King beside it, its body over 15m long and 1m tall. This Mutant Sandworm King was the commander of those little sandworms.

Not all leader-type creatures were Type 2 Mutant Beasts, some might be weak but were naturally of a higher-level variant to command their fellow creatures.

“Level 65 Strange Beast: “Type 2 Mutant Lobster. Possess an incredibly tough carapace, and immense strength.”

“Whew, it's just a Type 2 Mutant Beast!” After seeing the notification that popped out in his mind when his gaze fell on the beasts, Yue Zhong heaved a sigh of relief.

For Type 2 Mutant Beasts, as long as Yue Zhong was careful, he could deal with them on a one-to-one basis. As for Type 3 Mutant Beasts or even Type 4 ones, they could cause him serious damage, even to a life-threatening extent.

Yue Zhong twisted around, and activated his Shadow Steps as he charged towards the Type 2 Mutant Lobster like a tank.

A number of Mutant Sandworms immediately charged towards Yue Zhong.

Yue Zhong then activated his Devil Flame, causing a covering of the powerful flame to encase his body. All around him, the moment those Mutant Sandworms got into contact with the Devil Flame, they were instantly incinerated.

Yue Zhong continued towards the Mutant Sandworm King in a straight line, in that short span of time, his Devil Flame had burned over hundred Mutant Sandworms. He had reached the Mutant Sandworm King and immediately slashed out, causing it to be sliced in two, its juices splattering everywhere.

The moment it died, all the sandworms quickly burrowed away.

The Type 2 Lobster stared at Yue Zhong, emitting a shrill screech.

Under that scream, a huge number of Mutant Lobsters immediately lunged towards Yue Zhong. They had speed that were about 3 or 4 times of a normal person, and they were all large in size. It was like multiple cars charging straight for Yue Zhong.

As Yue Zhong's blade lashed out, it hit the carapace of one Mutant Lobster and the sound of metal hitting metal resounded. He then applied his Strength of 10 times a normal person, and with difficulty, he sliced apart the Mutant Lobster.

"So hard! These Mutant Lobsters' carapaces are already comparable to steel." Yue Zhong frowned after he disposed of one, before retreating backwards explosively.

The Mutant Lobsters were like vehicles and blocked the entire path to the Type 2 Mutant Lobster. If Yue Zhong wanted to make his way towards the Type 2 Mutant Lobster, he would have to clear a path through them.

The claws of the countless Mutant Lobsters waved and slammed towards Yue Zhong. If he was caught in between those metal-like pincers, he was bound to get hurt.

Yue Zhong was like a gust of wind, quickly pulling apart the distance between himself and the mutant beasts. He then waved his hands, and a terrifying bout of Devil Flame shot towards the Type 2 Mutant Lobster, and started to burn profusely.

The Type 2 Mutant Lobster began to struggle when it came in contact with the Devil Flame. However, after merely thrashing about for a few seconds, it crumpled to the floor, evidently, its brain had been roasted.

Yue Zhong's Second Order Devil Flame had increased in might and destructive potential. The moment an enemy was hit, even if it was a Type 2 Mutant Beast, it would definitely burn to death.

With the death of their commander, the tens of thousands of Mutant Lobsters began to swarm back into the sea, although a few were stubborn enough to chase Yue Zhong.

The flesh and meat of high-level Mutant Beasts were nourishing to humans, just like high level Evolvers or Enhancers were nourishment to the Mutant Beasts.

“Kill them!” Yue Zhong eyed those incoming beasts, and with a thought, a nether hole appeared in the sky, as White Bones stepped out menacingly, immediately pouncing onto the nearest Mutant Lobster, and pierced its hard carapace and brain with a single bone spike, before grinding the contents to mash.

Chapter 569: Aircraft Mothership!

White Bones could freely manipulate its bones, and even in the midst of those Mutant Lobsters, its sharp bone spikes could reach up to insane lengths, piercing the shells and brains of those monsters.

Yue Zhong leaped back from the swarm, and a number of Devil Flame fireballs rained down on the Mutant Lobsters, frying their brains.

Very quickly, the swarm of elite Mutant Lobsters were slaughtered cleanly, and the remaining ones decided to retreat and turned towards the sea.

At this time, the waves churned, and a huge Type 2 Mutant Shark appeared. It opened its jaws to suck in deeply, and a number of the escaping Mutant Lobsters were sucked into its mouth, before being crushed into pieces.

The hard carapaces of those Mutant Lobsters could not even compare to this Type 2 Mutant Shark’s teeth.

All the Mutant Lobsters were immediately frightened of the presence and aura of Sharkie, and quickly escaped.

Little Sharkie got on shore and using its flippers like a human’s feet, it waddled over towards Yue Zhong in joy. Although it was a Type 2 Beast, it was still a sea-based creature, and its speed could only reach 3 times that of a person on shore. As for its size, that speed was already considered slowly.

Yue Zhong looked at Sharkie and his face revealed a rare smile, as he quickly reach into his ring and pulled out the bag full of Type 2 and Type 3 Nuclei. He threw it to Sharkie: “Haha! Sharkie, this is yours!”

Sharkie could tell the bag was filled with high level Nuclei and it became excited, immediately swallowing them all.

Such precious nuclei were important and vital to boosting Mutant Beasts.

Not long after it swallowed the entire bag, Sharkie curled up into a ball, and a huge amount of natural energy began to enter its body, transforming it. It was beginning its next evolution.

With the amount of nuclei Yue Zhong got from the Shimazu Clan and the Yaro Gang, it was enough to groom up a Type 3 Mutant Beast.

As to a Type 4 Mutant Beast, it was truly difficult. Yue Zhong already had the Type 3 Greenie, and Type 3 Lightning. Based on the connection he had with the 2 beasts, he already surmised that for a Type 3

Mutant Beast to evolve into a Type 4 one, it would require at least over 200 Type 3 Nuclei or 10 Type 4 Nuclei.

Regardless, it was hard to acquire either methods, and currently, Yue Zhong only had 2 Type 4 Nuclei. Of them, one was being used in the Biological Armor, the other in his arms. It was not enough to raise a Type 4 Beast.

The natural energy continued to swirl and enter Sharkie's body, constantly molding it, and with every breath it took, it seemed to grow larger.

Mutant Beasts had different paths of evolution. Some Type 3 Beasts were as small as a normal person, while some were even smaller. The sea-based Mutant Creatures on the other hand, tend to gravitate towards larger sizes, after all, there was an advantage there.

After one day, Sharkie had reached 80m in length, and 6m in height. There was a long single horn on its forehead, and there were 8 fish limbs at its side, as well as 4 long limbs with sharp claws. Its entire body was covered in green-colored scale. It was truly a peculiar sight.

"Level 80 Strange Beast: Type 3 Mutant Green-clawed Shark. Having swallowed a large number of nuclei, it is an evolved form of the Mutant Shark. Possesses the innate ability to command water."

The next day, Yue Zhong brought his party to the shore.

When Kazuki Nobuhiko and the rest saw the huge Sharkie, their faces were filled with shock: "Is this your pet?!"

Miya Yuka and the rest were also filled with shock and fear. In front of such a terrifying beast, they were practically ants.

"En!" Yue Zhong replied indifferently, before stepping into one of the luxury boats: "Let's go! We shall set off for Yokosuka Base!"

Tenpyo Saka looked at the Type 3 Mutant Green-clawed Shark and her heart was filled with shock: "Powerful! He actually could tame a Type 3 Mutant Beast as his pet!"

Even amongst the top echelon of the Takama-ga-hara, they have killed a few Type 3 Mutant Beasts. They knew how terrifying each single existence was, many Divine Deities and Servants had fallen at the claws and jaws of such beasts. She had even witness a Demon-level person having his head crushed in a single punch from a Type 3 Metal Ape. If it wasn't for her ability to fade into the background, she might have been slaughtered then as well.

If the Type 3 Mutant Beasts on earth were terrifying to deal with, the Type 3 Mutant Beasts in the seas were a whole different story. Almost no one could single-handedly deal with one yet. After all, man was land-based, no matter how strong an expert, the moment he entered the sea, their power would be decreased by at least 5%. Under such circumstances, even if it were Tetsuo Nendori, he would be torn apart by a Type 3 Mutant Beast.

The fact that Yue Zhong could command a Type 3 Mutant Beast caused Tenpyo Saka to be filled with shock. It was more than enough to be considered a Devil-level existence.

When those Japanese fishing folk were brought over, they begun to pray to the Type 3 Mutant Green-clawed Shark, after all, they were glad that it was on their side.

Under the escort of Sharkie, the boats began to set off towards the direction of Yokosuka Base.

Yue Zhong and the rest went along the coastline towards the Yokosuka base. Along the way, countless Mutant Beasts of lower levels and Types were turned away from the pressure of Sharkie.

If it were further out in the deep sea, then a Type 3 Mutant Beast wouldn't count for much. Any Type 4 Beast could simply swallow it. However, near the shores, a Type 3 Mutant Beast was definitely and infinitely more dangerous than the rest, and the pressure they emitted was enough to quell the lesser beings.

After a few hours, the majestic outline of the Yokosuka Base appeared in the eyes of Yue Zhong and his party.

"Mothership!! That's an aircraft carrier mothership!!"

As they neared the base, they caught sight of the gigantic mothership docked at the harbor, and seeing it, even Yue Zhong's eyes turned red with excitement.

A mothership!! An aircraft carrier mothership! This was the true overlord of the seas, every single one was a huge and powerful weapon in itself. Before the apocalypse, even China only had one such mothership that had just entered the waters. Right now, there was one perfect and undamaged U.S. Navy mothership in front of his eyes.

Bai Xiao Sheng also exclaimed excitedly: "Mothership! This is great! If we can get that, we can obtain a huge fleet of air and navy weapons!"

If they could really obtain the mothership, then the waters of Southeast Asia will practically be Yue Zhong's backyard. With a mothership as the centre of operations for a fleet, there would be destroyers, frigates and many other ships. Such cruisers were all powerful combat weapons out in the sea.

"Mothership!! Aircraft carrier mothership!" Tenpyo Saka saw the looming view and her eyes were filled with wonder. Under the suppression of the U.S, Japan had never been allowed to possess an aircraft carrier mothership, and this was a huge source of dissatisfaction for many Japanese.

After all, without one, it meant that there was no authority of the seas. To an island like Japan, it was disadvantageous.

Yue Zhong gave an order: "Get closer to the mothership!!"

Yue Zhong had brought 8 Evolvers with the abilities to manipulate machineries. With them, they could quickly control all sorts of equipment on board, even if it was the mothership.

To fully exhibit and utilize the combat might of a mothership, they would require at least hundreds and thousands of people. However, to drive it, it didn't require that much manpower.

The boats began to get closer.

All of a sudden, a few torpedoes were fired out from the Yokosuka Base, heading straight for Yue Zhong's party.

"Not good! There are still live people in there!" Yue Zhong felt danger at the first moment, and his expression fell. He quickly activated his Shadow Steps and started flinging people overboard, after throwing 6 out, he jumped into the sea as well.

Tenpyo Saka and Bai Xiao Sheng were quick in their reactions as well, immediately grabbing a few people each as they leapt into the sea.

Following loud roar, the boats that they were on were blasted into pieces by the torpedoes.

Sharkie was swimming about, rescuing the different individuals onto its back. They were all drenched, and their appearance wretched. Even Yue Zhong was not spared.

Bai Xiao Sheng laughed savagely as he looked at the base: "Boss, seems like they're not particularly friendly."

Yue Zhong dived back into the water: "It's understandable. I'll go see how many of them are there, and I'll try to negotiate. You guys wait here."

Yue Zhong had undergone all sorts of special forces training, and swimming was one the core basics as well. With his enhancement, he could already surpass the world's fastest swimmer prior to the apocalypse.

After 20 minutes, Yue Zhong managed to climb on board the base.

He looked around, discovering that his current position was at a massive dock, and there were all sorts of cruisers and ships docked. The largest was the aircraft carrier mothership.

As he neared it, he saw that there were many zombies shambling around aimlessly at various parts of the mothership. It was obvious that most of the American troops on board had turned.

Chapter 570: Into the Yokosuka Base!

Yue Zhong's gaze swept past the deeper parts of the mothership and thought silently: "Those survivors must be inside the U.S military base... They're the largest obstacle to me right now."

Those survivors had not even said a word and had launched an attack on Yue Zhong's party. They were apparently in a fearful state. They would destroy any stranger they saw, and these kinds of people were the hardest to deal with.

This time, fortunately, Yue Zhong had just brought a small team to check out the situation. If he had been in the Sky Fortress, those survivors might have already fired some form of missile at them.

The U.S was recognized to be the strongest military in the world prior to the apocalypse. Their weapons and technology were advanced, even if an actual Sky Fortress was to be constructed, it would not be able to stand up against the U.S. anti-air missiles,, not to mention an incomplete one.

Yue Zhong thought deeply for a while, before whisking out his Black Tooth Blade and walked towards the inner parts of the mothership.

Along the way, Yue Zhong didn't discover any zombies, nor any live persons.

"Ai! These are human bones!" Yue Zhong swiftly came across a clearing where he saw numerous splintered human bones.

There were huge claw marks all around, each print larger than a human, highlighting the size and might of the owner of those claws.

Yue Zhong surmised: "Mutant Beast, those sea-based creatures would usually come up to shore, no wonder there're not many zombies around. Most must have already been eaten by the sea Mutant Beasts."

Mutant Beasts had already overcome their limits through evolution, and many sea-based aquatic life already possessed the strength to come on shore. While their might is definitely lower on land, it was still not something ordinary humans or zombies could withstand.

The entire Yokosuka Base was empty and desolate, not a person to be seen. This caused Yue Zhong to feel helpless. There wasn't even a chance to engage in intel or exchange of info.

It was apparent that all the survivors in the base had already hidden themselves in some deep recess of the base, and since Yue Zhong wasn't part of the base, he naturally would not know where to go.

Yue Zhong pondered for a while, then decided to walk towards a security camera. He wrote some English on a piece of paper and held it up: "I would like to speak to your commander!!"

After waiting a while, and noting that there was no movement from the security camera, a sense of disappointment arose in his heart. Yue Zhong then sliced the camera apart, and pulled out his Swift Shadow Bike.

The moment the Swift Shadow Bike appeared, Yue Zhong rode it and charged all the way through into Yokosuka Base.

Within the entire base, there were malls, schools, post offices, theatres, gyms and all sorts of other entertainment venues. However, the current state of these buildings were dilapidated, and the numerous vehicles had been abandoned at the sides of the roads, blood stains smeared all over.

Yue Zhong rode all the way and only then, he caught sight of zombies again. However, they were at the edge and were just shambling around aimlessly.

Prior to the apocalypse, this base was a powerful center of operations with over 10,000 American soldiers. When the apocalypse set in, many had turned into zombies, and people of the Kanagawa Prefecture had escaped to this place, hoping for rescue.

Hearing the sounds of Yue Zhong's motorbike, the zombies began to swarm towards him.

Right at this time, a middle-aged Caucasian appeared at the 3rd level of the cinema and hollered: “What the fuck are you doing?! You still dare to cause such a ruckus! Throw your motorbike aside and hurry over here! Don’t lure them over!!”

“Humans!” Yue Zhong saw the guy and his eyes lit up with joy. He immediately kept his Swift Shadow Bike into his storage ring, and hurried over to the theatre.

“Don’t move!!” Yue Zhong had just entered the theatre when 2 handguns pointed at his back, at the same time, a cold order rang out.

“Haha!! Japanese lamb for the slaughter, seems like we’ll get to enjoy some meat tonight! Haha!”

“He doesn’t look dirty or smelly, what luck! The other time, that Japanese lamb was too sour, I felt like vomiting when I ate him.”

Yue Zhong maintained his silence, looking at the interior of the cinema. He noticed that there were 9 burly men, each of them fierce-looking, with savage auras. There was a huge pot in the corner, and multiple human bones beside. Evidently, these 9 men had committed cannibalism.

Another Caucasian whose face was covered in bristles opened his mouth, and Yue Zhong immediately smell his bad breath. The stink-mouth laughed savagely: “Raise your hands!! Japanese pig, if you don’t want your brains to be blown to pieces, you better do as we say.”

One of them, whose arms were basically trunks for muscles, had a lustful look in his eyes as he licked his lips and walked over to Yue Zhong: “This little Japanese pig is not too bad-looking. Before we kill him, let me play with him! I want to split his ass so bad!! Hahaha!”

The Europeans weren’t particularly judgemental towards homosexuality, in fact, there were many homosexuals in the army as well. Having been cooped up in this place, and burdened by the state of the world, they had long been driven to the point of insanity.

Another male laughed savagely: “Jet! Just don’t dirty him with your semen, it’s too gross to eat.”

“Are you fuckers done? If you are, time to die.” Yue Zhong swept them a look of disgust, and he sent a fist blasting towards the gun-wielding militant beside him with 10 times the Strength of a normal person. The man was sent flying into a wall, and died instantly.

After dealing with one, he then pulled out a dagger from another militant’s waist, piercing the chest of that militant before the poor sod had the time to react.

“Oh my god, he killed Jet and Myers!!” Seeing how Yue Zhong had just killed 2 people, the expressions of the rest of the 7 survivors turned to horror. They quickly pulled out their weapons and charged at him.

“Trash! Kneel!!!” Yue Zhong eyes them and barked out coldly, his Art of Fear spreading out with him as the centre. The powerful Spirit attack enveloped them.

The 7 survivors were instantly stunned silly by the Art of Fear, their faces contorted in fear and shock. They crumpled to their knees, their bodies shivering,

Yue Zhong eyed them and spoke coldly like an emperor admonishing his subjects: "Other than you, where are the rest of the survivors?"

"We know!"

With his high Spirit of 246, the survivors basically could not withstand his pressure. Under the different hallucinations, the survivors could only answer helplessly as their minds reeled.

Yue Zhong pressed on: "Where are they holed up in?"

One of the survivors responded with an expression of fear: "The military members are mainly in the 3rd and 4th shelter bunkers. They had brought a large number of Japanese citizens with them. On top of that, there are many Japanese survivors in the 5th and 7th bunkers. If you follow this path, past the group of zombies outside, you can see the 7th bunker."

"En! You guys can go to hell now." After obtaining the info he needed, Yue Zhong mercilessly slashed out, and the 7 survivors crumpled to the ground.

After all, they had crossed his threshold, and he definitely would not allow them to live on.

Yue Zhong took out a radio device: "You guys can swim over now! There isn't much danger on land at this moment."

Sharkie could possibly suffer under the torpedo attacks, hence Yue Zhong chose for Bai Xiao Sheng and the rest to swim over.

Near the shore, there weren't many zombies, nor any signs of Mutant Beasts. However, all the food and usable items within the various constructions had been swept clean.

Yue Zhong and his team went towards a small room and rested. After all, most of them had been out at sea for the past few hours and were feeling tired.

Bai Xiao Sheng sat at a window and played with his Dark Magic Blade: "The situation now isn't too good! The opponents are trapped in the midst of the zombies, and are hostile towards us. Boss, what do you intend to do?"

Yue Zhong replied: "I'll take a look later on."

Bai Xiao Sheng stared at Yue Zhong incredulously: "Boss, you crazy? There's at least hundreds of thousands of zombies out there, even if you're strong, you can't kill them all by yourself!"

Yue Zhong looked towards Tenpyo Saka: "I have my ways. Tenpyo Saka, you will go with me."

A look of understanding flashed past her eyes and she nodded.

With both of them possessing the Second Order Stealth skill, as long as they were careful, they would definitely be able to get past the zombies. Of course, it was a risky operation, as the moment they were detected by any high level zombies, they would be surrounded in an instant.

After Tenpyo Saka came to possess the Second Order Stealth skill, she had been able to weave in and out of hordes as well. However, it was not often that one would choose to do that. After all, she had been one of the Demons of the Takama-ga-hara, and she had all sorts of treatment and entitlements, there was no need for her to risk her life to go through zombies.

As night fell, Yue Zhong and Tenpyo Saka began to move under the cover of the night.

Yue Zhong and Tenpyo Saka soon came to the sea of zombies, and noted that they had gathered in such a bunch that they had basically blocked the entire way. Under these circumstances, they wouldn't be able to get past them even if they used their Stealth.
