Chapter 721: Fleeing Red Rock City!

Atop that huge robot body, various flaps had been opened, with numerous firearms raised and readied. Targets appeared in the form of information that was sent through the helmet into Yue Zhong's brain.

With a single thought, the cannons automatically adjusted the target-locking system onto those he deemed enemies.

At the next instant, the firearms unleashed a carnage that rained down on the nearby city guards who were caught unaware. Under such a terrifying barrage of bullets further enhanced by the locking mechanism of the RH2, almost none of the city guards managed to evade.

In 10 seconds, the firing stopped, and there was no one left alive near the RH2 piloted by Yue Zhong.

Yue Zhong surveyed the surroundings through the visor of the robot, and he was thoroughly shocked, "Powerful! This RH2 is truly something else! What a terrifying combat machine!"

The RH2 robot had an artificial intelligence installed, together with the 30,000 types of sensors on it, as long as one gave the right order, there wasn't much control required. The robot could deal with the situation and make the right judgment according to the receptors.

Earlier, Yue Zhong gave the order to vanquish all enemies, and the artificial intelligence automatically took over and aimed for those Yue Zhong deemed enemies.

Lisa watched Yue Zhong control the RH2 so easily, her eyes filled with shock, "What in the world? He could actually control it this easily, who is this person?"

There was no doubt about the capabilities of the RH2, however, in order to maximise its potential, not everybody could accomplish it. The artificial intelligence of the robot could process a large amount of information, but likewise, there could be too much information sent through the helmet. Together with the incredibly quick movements and controls of the RH2, it could pose a huge burden and stress on the pilot. To pilot one smoothly, one needed a strong constitution and an exceptional, neither could be lacking.

An ordinary pilot could only exhibit 10% or 20% of the full RH2, whereas Yue Zhong had wiped out over 100 city guards in a blink of an eye. This was about 70% or 80% of what the RH2 was capable of. Even the most outstanding of pilots from the resistance would only be able to exhibit 50% or 60% of the RH2. This was naturally shocking to Lisa.

"What a pity!" Yue Zhong looked to the corpses of the city guards and his eyes flashed with regret, before controlling the RH2 to run towards the distance.

"Get on!"

As he passed Lisa and Rooney, he reached out with his robot hand.

Lisa and Rooney quickly jumped up.

The 8 thrusters of the RH2 roared alive with the powerful winds blowing around it, its speed became faster, and rushed out of Red Rock City in a flash.

Not long after that, a troop arrived at the scene, consisting of 50 black-uniformed soldiers with 1-star, 20 with 2-stars, led by one with 3 stars.

The leader with the 3-stars had a 3m-sword strapped to his back. He had a cigarette in his mouth with his brows furrowed, "Did they escape? Who spoiled our plan? According to our plan, the resistance should have been wiped out here. I should be enjoying the innards of the resistance leader Lisa."

His eyes flashed with a savage look as he suddenly whisked out his sword and pierced it into the heart of one 1-star soldier beside him. He dug it out and bit down on it, while growling, "That damn human trash dare to foil my plans. I must have his head cleaved open, with hot oil poured on it, and while he's suffering, I will eat him alive!"

Seeing that gruesome scene, fear flashed in the eyes of the 1-star soldiers, yet none of them dared to make a move. The moment they showed any displeasure, they were sure to end up as food for the Saint Clan.

One particular male with shifty eyes, face full of pimples, a head of golden spiky hair and a thick, golden necklace came up to the leader with an excited smile, "Don't be hasty! Santana, the more our prey struggle, the more delicious they would be! Such thrill of the hunt! If we can vanquish their hope at the moment when they start to believe there's hope, it would be such a delight to watch their dreams crumble! This time, those who died are just some lowly humans, even if they died, it wouldn't mean much. Though, it's a pity about the 3 RH2s. However, we'll let Annette deal with that."

Santana licked his lips as he laughed out grimly, "Jack, you're still as sick. Let me warn you, Lisa is my prey. You can't kill her. The rest can be up to you. Otherwise, I'll tear off your head!"

Jack revealed a sinister smile, "Fine! However, Aloya is my prey. You can't kill her. Otherwise, I'll dig your heart out to feed the dogs!"

Santana snorted coldly, however, he had no intention of arguing further.

Santana and Jack were both experts of the Saint Clan, both of them had no confidence in overcoming the other. They did not want to go all out just because of a silly dispute as well. The people of the Saint Clan might possess terrifying power, but they were likewise as prone to violence and slaughter, thus there would be frequent clashes between members of the Saint Clan.

Yue Zhong brought Lisa and Rooney towards a small hill before placing them down. With a thought, the cockpit opened up and he grabbed the corpse of the original pilot and leaped down.

Yue Zhong threw the body aside, before asking Lisa, "According to our agreement, I've helped you eliminate a part of Red Rock City's firepower, are you able to provide any intelligence now?"

Lisa looked at him coyly while twirling her long, silvery hair, "Shoot!"

Yue Zhong asked, "What is the Saint Clan? Are they humans at all?"

"Saint Clan! They can be considered humans, yet not humans. The Saint Clan is a highly-evolved intelligent life form from a lineage of zombies."

"According to the legends, 200 years ago, our planet became subject to the will of the entity called God. In the span of one night, 90% of the humans turned into flesh-eating zombies. During the process of defending, humans fought constantly and managed to open the 2nd Stage. However, since then, our chosen leader of this planet, the selected Seed of Hope, died in combat. We failed the game and our planet became an abandoned one, and the zombies began to evolve. Those intelligent ones then began to slaughter humans on a large scale."

"In the aftermath, humans used their final trump card, nuclear weapons. Under the terrifying effects, many zombies were killed, and the intelligent ones were eliminated. However, that was when the real nightmare began."

"With the continuous usage of nuclear weapons, many zombies were wiped out. However, those evolved life forms not only possessed human intelligence, they had monstrous strength as well. A single Type 5 intelligent evolved zombies could wipe out an entire army. Under their schemes, many nuclear bases were seized. The zombies engaged in a large-scale nuclear warfare with humans, in the end, turning this planet into an irradiated hell."

"In this hell, there was radiation everywhere. Due to that, many humans began to mutate, turning into those violent Savages, or Mutants who have lost all reason, or grotesque carriers. Wild beasts also transformed into Mutant Beasts, Irradiated Beasts, some turning into demonic beings as well. The zombies were also mutating due to the radiation. Some turned into living corpses with no minds or rationality. Some evolved into beings with appearances of humans, yet they possessed terrifying combat strength. They had powerful recovery abilities and superhuman intelligence. Some didn't feast on human meat, yet it was unbearable, so they chose to drink blood, whereas the others indulged in their cravings. These 2 clans are all evolved from zombies, the flesh-eaters are known as the Saint Clan, and the vampires are known as Longevity Species."

"Of these 2 clans, there is still one more Ancestor Clan. They are the offsprings of the union between the top experts of both the Saint Clan and Longevity Species. They have the strength and abilities of both races, and they do not need to consume blood or flesh to live. Their strength is also off the charts. The Ancestor Clan number very little, but each and every member is a terrifying existence. Truthfully speaking, any one of them could wipe out our entire resistance out."

"The west wing of the resistance forces had established a city in the past before. Within 3 days, one of the Ancestors appeared and wiped out the entire place. There were over 1,500 fighters as well as 30,000 survivors within the city, and yet, it was turned into a graveyard!"

Chapter 722: Luo Chen!

Yue Zhong's heart sunk, "So the Saint Clan came from the zombies? Seems like Yin Shuang, Amaterasu, Feng Bo and those intelligent zombies are similar to the predecessors of the Saint Clan. If we had failed, seems like our fate would have been similar to these people. Life and death beyond their control, being slaughtered like livestock."

Although Earth was still crawling with zombies and Mutant Beasts, under the efforts of the humans, territory was still being reclaimed and recovered every day. If Yue Zhong and the other factions were to fail, then Earth would likely become like this hell.

Lisa looked at Yue Zhong, her eyes glinting, "Yue Zhong, I see that you possess some ability. Do you want to join us, the resistance force? Let us work together to fight back against the monsters and vampires, setting the human race free?"

Yue Zhong's personal strength was something else, furthermore, he could pilot the RH2 well. If he joined the resistance, he would definitely boost their fighting capabilities.

"Right now, do you know the proportion of the humans to the Saint Clan?"

"Not too sure!"

"Excuse me for being presumptuous, but how many people are in the resistance now?"

Lisa instantly turned wary, "This is a secret, I will tell you only after you have joined us."

Yue Zhong pondered deeply for a while, before suggesting, "I would like to meet the leader of your resistance. I don't like to listen to others' command. I intend to work as an ally to you guys, fighting side by side."

If he were to join, Yue Zhong would have to listen to their commands. He was extremely uncomfortable with that. Furthermore, there was a strong possibility of him being treated as cannon fodder. He had no idea what the upper echelon was like, and before confirming that the other party had some benefits for him, he would not join them.

Lisa's eyes flashed with shock, "Ally? On what grounds are you proposing that?"

Yue Zhong chuckled lightly and asked, "I have 6 subordinates, 6 machine guns, 1 RH2. I can easily wipe out an armored unit of the Red Rock City. Don't tell me such strength is still not enough to negotiate an alliance?"

Yue Zhong was also probing the threshold and might of the leader of the resistance. If the other party truly had the capability and foresight, he would come in person to try and pull Yue Zhong over. If the other party was an idiot, then Yue Zhong would try to initiate a reverse takeover.

Yue Zhong was well experienced when it came to swallowing other powers. Of course, if he wasn't forced to, he wouldn't do it. After all, once initiated, regardless of the result, the hearts of the people would be affected. It would take time, victories, glory and benefits to rebuild their confidence and loyalty.

Yue Zhong had not yet established himself, if he were to try and take over the resistance, he would make an enemy out of the entire resistance force, making it difficult to do anything else.

"Alright! I'll go back and discuss with the leader."

Yue Zhong replied, "I'll wait here for you. If there's no news after 24 hours, I'll leave."

Lisa looked deeply at Yue Zhong, "Wait for me!", before turning to run towards the distance like an agile leopard.

"Is she what she said true?" After Lisa left, Yue Zhong tried to confirm with Rooney.

Rooney hesitated for a while, before replying, "Sir. Red Rock City forbids all rumors or discussions about the things from hundreds of years ago. I don't know much about that, however, the Saint Clan is indeed referred to as flesh-eating monsters by the residents secretly. Many pretty young girls would disappear for no reason all the time, some people say those girls had been whisked off to the inner city, becoming food for the monsters. The Saint Clan truly does not view us from the outer city as people, if they're angry, they would just slaughter us as they like."

Yue Zhong did not say anything, he had experienced their overbearingness for himself. Those city guards had not even treated the other residents as humans, just pulling out their guns to kill as they deemed fit. Just based on this, he was already filled with disgust for the governance of Red Rock City. That was one of the reasons why he decided to work with the resistance.

He turned to the pilot who was still wrapped in the silk, asking indifferently, "What's your name?"

The pilot replied, "It's Lin Guang!"

"Work with me, or die here, your choice."

Lin Guang quickly made the choice, "I'm willing to work with you!"

Lin Guang was human, after all, the Saint Clan had treated the humans as though they were slaves. He was also unwilling to work for them. To a human like him, his life was most important.

After Lisa had left Yue Zhong, she ran towards a desolate hill and routed it a few times, observing the surroundings carefully. After ensuring that no one had followed her, she made her way towards some rocks, moving a few of the bigger ones aside to reveal a tunnel.

She entered it with nimble ease.

"Lisa! You're back!"

"Awesome! It's Lisa! She's back!"

"...."

Inside the tunnel, there were a few elite soldiers guarding the place. The moment they saw Lisa, they erupted in cheers. Lisa was beautiful and sexy, furthermore, she had skills that were not inferior to many men. This gave her an aura and raised morale among the resistance fighters. Many of the males, being bored underground, had termed her as the leader of the 3 flowers. She was the dream lover and object of affection for many.

A woman dressed in tights, with a similar voluptuous body and short black hair, came running and hugging Lisa. Her features were exquisite and she had a valiant charm about her. "Lisa! You're back! That's great!! I was so worried that I might not get to see you again!"

Lisa chuckled and pried Qigong Hui away from her, "Hui-sauce! Where's Luo Chen? Bring me to him!"

This pretty teen Qigong Hui was the best pilot of the East Division of the resistance and could exhibit about 50 to 60% of the RH2, surpassing other men. She was also one of the 3 flowers in the East Division.

"Luo Chen is right inside, come with me!" Qigong Hui pulled on Lisa's hands and asked curiously, "Lisa, how did you get out of the bar? According to Lin Yang, an elite troop of city guards had gone after you there!"

"There was an expert called Yue Zhong who lent a hand. He had killed all 6 of the city guards, that was how I managed to get out."

"So lucky!" Qigong Hui sighed in relief, before bubbling with excitement again, "Oh yes! Lisa, did you see? That talented pilot who burst out killing those guards! He was so strong!! I dare guarantee he can at least pull out 60 to 70% of the RH2's potential! I want to spar with him!"

The RH2 had plenty of receptors since Qigong Hui had piloted one RH2 out of Red Rock City, she had managed to witness the spectacle of Yue Zhong's display while escaping Red Rock City. To an exceptional pilot, what she wanted to do most was to spar and get stronger with another pilot.

Lisa chuckled, "I saw! In fact, the pilot was Yue Zhong. He was the one who captured the RH2 from the city guards and wiped out the reinforcements."

Qigong Hui's eyes brightened up as she immediately begged, "No way?! Lisa, do you know him? Please introduce me!! I want to chat with him and have a good match with him!!"

Lisa was like an older sister to Qigong Hui and stuck to her like glue.

In a room deep within the underground city, a young, elegant woman with a head full of hair, beautiful looks and an alluring figure, sat in front of a computer. She wore a Gothic-dress, and had a princess feel to her as she smiled at Lisa, "Lisa, you're back!"

Lisa smiled back, "Aloya, I'm back!"

Aloya was also one of the 3 flowers of the Eastern Division, she was exceptionally talented in the field of computers and networks. She was the best hacker and programmer of the division, and was likewise, a genius analyst.

Lisa turned to a man full of bookish charm, sitting in a wheelchair. He had black hair and yellow skin, his looks clean and he wore spectacles. She said, "Luo Chen, I have something to report!"

Luo Chen closed the book, revealing a refreshing smile that seemed to give off a relaxing vibe, "Oh! Speak your mind!"

Lisa then told him whatever Yue Zhong had mentioned.

Luo Chen closed his eyes for a while, before reopening and smiling, "An alliance eh? Interesting! Lisa, go back and tell him, I'm willing to work together with him. Invite him over as a guest!"

Delight could be seen in Lisa's eyes as she hurried out, "Great! I'll go let him know!"

When she left, Aloya suddenly piped in, "Would it be a trap?"

Luo Chen replied mildly, "It's highly unlikely. There's no reason for Red Rock City to risk losing 2 RH2 just for such a trap. If Yue Zhong didn't appear, our operation this time might have a 70% of failing. We would have lost a hundred people. Anyway, there's a spy among us."

Chapter 723: Contact!

Under Lisa's lead, Yue Zhong came to the underground tunnel of the resistance.

When they came to the base, Yue Zhong could feel multiple gazes on him.

Under the various envious looks, he laughed lightly, "Seems like you're pretty sought after here, Lisa!"

Lisa's looks could be considered a peak beauty back on Earth. On this planet, where conditions were harsh and radiation was everywhere, it was tough for normal people to have a decent meal. Under such circumstances, the number of beauties that could exist was even lower than on Earth. Someone like Lisa was truly rare among the resistance.

She frowned, "Rooney and the rest did not come with you, do you not trust me?"

He chuckled and brushed it off, "Of course I trust you. You're thinking too much. But before we get started, I need to meet your leader first."

Lisa eyed him and snorted.

6 men and women came over from a distance, the leader a burly warrior decked in a black jacket. He had a blind eye, and his expression was slightly savage, as he laughed coldly at Yue Zhong, "You must be Yue Zhong?"

Yue Zhong replied, "That's me!"

The burly man continued, "I'm Han Feng, I heard that you managed to wipe out an elite troop of city guards without any weapons. I wonder if it's true, shall we spar?"

Yue Zhong dismissed him indifferently, "Not interested!"

Han Feng and his team of 5 immediately froze, not knowing what to do. In this world where the strongest reigned supreme, only an expert would gain the respect and recognition of others. Many people would choose to fight regardless of the result. They knew that a man that could gain Lisa's recognition was definitely strong, but they didn't expect that he would not battle them.

"Let's go!"

Yue Zhong did not spare Han Feng and the rest another glance as he continued on his way.

Han Feng immediately threw a vicious punch in a fit of anger, "Damned brat, are you looking down on me?!"

In the next moment, his entire body froze, not daring to make another move. A dagger had appeared out of nowhere and was pressed right against his forehead. It was the first time he felt so close to death.

Yue Zhong kept the dagger back and continued walking, "You're already dead!"

"Strong!! That man is truly strong!"

The 5 men and women saw how Han Feng was subdued and their eyes flashed with shock. Han Feng was the strongest expert among them, with a body constitution of 8 times a normal person. He was well-versed in all sorts of combat styles, and few could defend against him in close combat. Yet, such a fighter was overcome so easily by Yue Zhong, thus they were filled with respect.

Lisa glanced at Han Feng with pity and continued down the tunnel. Yue Zhong could easily eliminate an elite troop of city guards. Han Feng was at most comparable to an elite city guard, how was it possible to contend against Yue Zhong?

After defeating Han Feng, the gazes of the rest of the warriors towards Yue Zhong was different. In this world, the humans revered the strong more so than on Earth.

Qigong Hui bounced over, full of youth and vitality, as she assessed Yue Zhong curiously, her gaze fervent as she asked, "You must be Yue Zhong! Are you the one who controlled that RH2 in Red Rock City?"

Yue Zhong did not deny, "That's me!"

Qigong Hui's gaze turned heated, "Have a match with me! Let's use the RH2 to determine the victor! I want to exchange pointers with you!!"

From young, Qigong Hui had loved robots. After joining the resistance, she had been searching for a pilot stronger than her to challenge. In the course of her experiments and battles, she had grown to become one of the best pilots of the resistance.

Yue Zhong turned her down, continuing towards the center of the base, "Not interested!"

The controlling of the RH2 require energy. In the course of a battle, both machines would be damaged. Yue Zhong had no one who could help him do repairs or maintenance, hence if the RH2 in his hands were to be put through a grueling battle, it might be damaged. He wasn't willing to expend such a precious machine in order to pacify some little girl.

Qigong Hui saw that Yue Zhong was ignoring her, and her face scrunched up in annoyance, as she caught up to him, "How can you be like this?"

After passing through many protective defenses, Yue Zhong came to the deepest part of the tunnel and saw the bookish yet handsome man.

"This fellow doesn't possess combat ability, he must be the brains behind the scenes."

Yue Zhong observed Luo Chen carefully, coming to a conclusion from the muscles and movements of his. This caused him to be even warier.

The fact that such a man could gain respect and prestige in a world where the strong was revered, his intelligence had to be something else.

Luo Chen also assessed Yue Zhong in front of him. After a long while, he smiled lightly and raised his hands towards Yue Zhong, "How do you do, Yue Zhong! I'm Luo Chen, the Director of the Eastern Division 3rd Unit. Pleased to meet you."

Yue Zhong shook his hands and could tell Luo Chen was really without strength. He was just a normal person, "How do you do, I'm Yue Zhong."

Aloya gave a curious glance at Yue Zhong as well, before introducing herself, "Programming and Safety Engineer for the Eastern Division 3rd Unit, Aloya!"

"Hello!"

Luo Chen smiled faintly and beckoned to Yue Zhong, "Yue Zhong, are you interested in joining our Eastern Division 3rd Unit and work together against the flesh-eating monsters and vampires, freeing the humans?"

Yue Zhong naturally rejected his proposal, "Sorry, I'm not used to being commanded. I think it's still better to be allies!"

Luo Chen laughed lightly, and handed him a document, "That's fine! Let's work as allies then. Take a look and see if the conditions are fine?"

Yue Zhong received the document over and saw that there weren't too many conditions, it just required the allies not to attack each other, and to trade and share information. Once an ally was attacked by the monsters and vampires, the other party had to immediately send help.

Yue Zhong saw that the conditions were reasonable and signed below, sealing the alliance.

He handed the document back to Luo Chen and asked, "I want to know of the combat strength in Red Rock City!"

Luo Chen laughed lightly, "Aloya!"

Aloya revealed a self-confident smile and immediately pulled up a file on her computer, "Red Rock City has 3 battalions of ordinary soldiers, consisting of 1,500 people. These ordinary soldiers are made up of humans, their strength comparable to us. Above them, there are 500 city guards, they're the main force of Red Rock City, each and everyone having been injected with a Type 3 Enhancement Drug. Above them, there are 100 elite troops directly controlled by the city lord Annette, who are human experts, enhanced by Type 4 and above drugs. These are all the human troops."

"Besides them, Red Rock City also has 200 Flesh-Eaters that form the Red Rock Guard. Every one of them has a strength that is beyond those enhanced by a Type 4 Drug. They're on par with Type 2 Divine Warriors. At the same time, there are about 1,000 Flesh-Eaters inside the city. They might not be part of the army, but they all possess incredible might. Not too long ago, Annette had summoned 7 experts of Type 3 Divine Warriors' strength. They are all Flesh-Eaters, and their names are Knight, Luther, Santana, Jack, Zhang Lan, Casey and Abu Bakar."

"Type 3 Divine Warriors eh?"

Yue Zhong felt a chill in his heart and was somewhat wary against the might of Red Rock City. Based on his own conjecture, his strength was roughly about the same as the Type 3 Divine Warriors.

One Red Rock City already had 8 Type 3 Divine Warriors. If he were to be surrounded by them, he would not survive.

Hong! Hong! Hong!

All of a sudden, there were multiple explosions that rocked the entire underground base.

Underground, multiple alarms rang out.

Yue Zhong was shocked, as he looked towards the calm Luo Chen, "What's going on?"

Luo Chen replied without skipping a beat, his expression unfazed, "Our base is compromised! Aloya, pull out the image for me!"

"Yes!"

Her fingers flew across a strange keyboard, hitting the strokes at an insane speed, keying commands constantly into the machine. One by one, images flew up and were displayed on the monitor, revealing the situation outside.

About 20 kilometers away, an armored unit consisting of 5 RH2s, 15 tanks, 100 gun-mounted vehicles, 20 rocket launchers and several armored cars, was currently cruising towards their location.

In the skies, there were 8 assault helicopters, each of them filled with targeting missiles. When they flew over the base, they would release the missiles, bombing the place and causing multiple areas to be destroyed.

"Qigong Hui!" Luo Chen's voice sounded out solemnly.

"Yes!" The girl, who had been staring blankly, immediately recovered her senses and leaped out the room. Her target was the RH2 kept within their own hangar.

Chapter 724: Strike!

The resistance forces were well trained, the moment the alarms rang, they began to grab their weapons with practiced ease and charged out from the ground.

Through the images on Aloya's computer, Yue Zhong could see clearly the resistance forces appear quickly outside of the base.

The position of the base was in an area full of low hills and boulders, in such a location, the scattering of a thousand people can seem pretty daunting.

Luo Chen kept his gaze on the images and spoke out mildly, "Bring Liu Hai over!"

A young man with blond hair and good looks, dressed in jeans and a yellow leather jacket came into the room, looking a little uneasy as he spoke, "Leader! You needed me for something?"

Luo Chen turned around and looked at Liu Hai with a complicated look, sighing, "Liu Hai, what benefits did the Flesh-Eaters promise you, that you chose to betray us? Have you forgotten how your mother was eaten by them?"

When Liu Hai heard this, his face fell, and he reached into his shirt with his right hand.

Lisa, who had been standing at one side, immediately shot forward with a chill in her eyes. She grabbed onto his left hand and swung his forcefully onto the ground like a toy.

Luo Chen's eyes flashed with hurt, as he pulled out a handgun, pointing it at Liu Hai's head, "Why betray us? Have you already forgotten the hatred of your mother?"

Liu Hai, who was being stepped on by Lisa, had a savage look as he laughed out maniacally, "Hahaha!! Of course, I have not forgotten! I have never forgotten!! However, I hate this life even more! Living like rats beneath the surface, not having a full meal, no water and no food, no women, and our fates are basically uncertain!"

After Liu Hai laughed out in his madness, he closed his eyes, "I did betray you guys!! I betrayed you, purely for the sake of eating my fill, drinking clean water, fucking beautiful women, and allowing my future generations a better life!! I've had enough of this rat life! Just kill me! Luo Chen, I've followed you for so long, I know your character, you'll not let me go! Kill me if you want! Let me have a quick death!"

"Go in peace!" Luo Chen sighed, before pulling the trigger.

Peng!

A gunshot hole appeared in Liu Hai's forehead, his body shuddered once and ceased moving.

Luo Chen looked at Liu Hai's corpse, his eyes filled with pain and bitterness, before he spoke solemnly, "He's called Liu Hai. Before he betrayed us, he was our good brother and a hero. He had risked death to save 13 of our comrades. He had also undergone near-impossible missions and difficult combat. I was even saved by him once. He was one of the most trusted friends, and I never thought he would betray us."

Yue Zhong was not interested in Luo Chen reminiscing the past, "I don't think you have the luxury to recall memories. Dealing with the situation outside should be your priority now!"

Luo Chen laughed mildly, before giving an order to Aloya, "You're right! Aloya, release the 1st air-defense, let's deal with those 8 Falcon warplanes!"

As the 8 assault aircrafts were about to launch another round of missiles, a patch of ground opened up a few kilometers away, and huge beams fired out towards the 8 aircrafts, hitting them accurately.

Hong! Hong!

Without enough time to defend, 7 of them were destroyed in an instant, exploding in huge balls of fire.

Only one of the pilots managed to dodge with incredible skill. He had released a jammer at the first instant, and quickly maneuvered the aircraft in a strange flight pattern, dodging and destroying the rockets aimed at it.

After dealing with the crisis, the remaining Falcon warplane immediately rose in the air and disappeared into the clouds.

At the next instant, the rocket launchers behind fired multiple rockets at the anti-air defenses.

Hong! Hong! Hong!

Loud explosions rang out continuously, burying the base's air defenses.

Underground, Aloya reported with an impassive face, "The 1st air-defense is out!"

The moment she was immersed in her work, all sorts of thoughts would be forced out of Aloya's mind, and she would remain focused and listened to all of Luo Chen's orders without question.

As the anti-air defenses were destroyed, the forces of Red Rock City were already starting to blanket the area of boulders and rocks with countless firepower. Many resistance fighters were quickly vanquished.

In the rain of fire, the 5 RH2 burst forth with power, charging right into the stone forest.

Within the RH2s, there were heat sensors, thermal imaging scanning systems, biological induction radar system and many other scanners. The moment they began to operate those sensors to locate life forms and heat signatures, the RH2s became extremely efficient hunters.

As the 5 RH2s charged through the rocks and boulders, the cannons and laser cannons fired wildly. They were already trained on the heat signatures, causing the resistance fighters to be killed quickly.

As long as the sensors managed to capture any movement or heat signatures, even if the resistance fighters hid behind boulders, they would be blasted with a laser beam.

Lisa looked at the mounting death toll of the resistance fighters, and her eyes were filled with rage. Her fists clenched as she spat through her teeth, "Damn it!!"

If it were against any other weapon of war, the resistance fighters could at least make use of the terrain to fight back. However, against the powerful sensors of the RH2s, they were basically defenseless.

The RH2s were developed to wipe out the resistance fighters. Although they expended a lot of energy, their fire structure relatively simple, could not fly, and bore a huge burden on the pilots, they were extremely efficient killing machines.

Just as the 5 RH2s were engaged in slaughter, from far, 2 laser beams shot out, one of them accurately penetrating the pilot seat of one RH2, vaporizing the pilot in a cloud of smoke, the other brushed past the frame of another RH2.

The remaining 4 RH2s immediately turned to face the new threat, adjusting their condition, and started to surround the 2 new RH2s from the resistance.

The main forces of Red Rock City had already reached the resistance forces amidst the rock formations and were engaged in slaughter.

Luo Chen turned to Yue Zhong and pleaded, "Yue Zhong! You've seen the state of affairs, I need your help!"

Yue Zhong replied, "I will need an RH2!"

Although Yue Zhong had the ability to destroy an RH2, in terms of firepower and combat stamina, the RH2 surpassed him.

Luo Chen chuckled, "Way ahead of you! Lisa, bring our ally to the hangar!"

Lisa was already anxious in her heart as she rushed out, "Follow me!"

Yue Zhong gave a deep look at Luo Chen, revealing a knowing smile but he didn't say much, as he followed Lisa without hurry.

Aloya had an impassive face, "He has seen through your act."

Luo Chen laughed indifferently, "In fact, I never thought to hide it from him, he knows it too."

Aloya was speechless as she continued to look at her computer, her fingers quickly tapping on the keyboard.

Within the area of boulders and rocks, there was an intense fight going on. The Red Rock City troops were advancing without stop, taking out resistance fighters left, right and center.

However, there were plenty of traps set by the resistance beforehand, including landmines, and since they were familiar with the terrain, they would appear from time to time to launch devastating attacks on the Red Rock City forces. These soldiers were all experienced and the only disadvantage they had was the lack of equipment.

As the resistance fighters put up a fight, the advance of the Red Rock City forces slowed down considerably.

"Too slow!! Too slow!! I can't wait any longer!! I want to kill!!!"

Santana revealed a savage grin as he disappeared in a flash.

One resistance fighter was hiding behind cover, carefully sticking out a mirror to observe the situation through the reflection.

"Looking for me?"

The next moment, Santana appeared in front of the soldier and smiled savagely.

The soldier's face fell in horror as he raised his gun towards Santana.

With a powerful gust, the head of the soldier disappeared, his headless corpse crumpling to the ground. Behind him, Santana was grabbing his head and bit down viciously, breaking the skull like it was nothing, enjoying the white and red brain matter.

"Delicious!! These resisting prey are truly tasty!! Only when those who try to fight, can get my blood boiling with excitement! Kekeke!!!"

After devouring the head of the resistance fighter, Santana laughed out loud before weaving through the rocks in a gust of wind, killing every soldier he came across, tearing their heads and sucking their brains dry!

Chapter 725: Relentless Assault!

As part of the Flesh-Eaters that descended from zombies, Santana possessed a powerful sense of smell. He could easily discover the location of humans based on their scent in a 300m.

Within that area, Santana's ability to suss out humans was even stronger than the RH2 with all its receptors.

The moment Santana rushed into the boulder formation, any soldier he came across would be slaughtered and their brains sucked dry by him. A Type 3 Divine Warrior's strength was invincible to an ordinary person. Without an expert with a similar strength to defend, Santana could easily slaughter all 1,000-over soldiers of the resistance.

In this world, the human resistance was at a disadvantage purely because of existences like Santana.

Following a loud explosion, one of the RH2 that belonged to the resistance was pierced through by blades made out of alloy held by the 3 RH2s from Red Rock City. In the close distance, they fired a laser beam directly at the resistance pilot, directly killing him.

"Jing Yang! Beast!! Go to hell!!" At the same time, Qigong Hui controlled the other RH2 and sent a blade slashing down towards one of the RH2 belonging to Red Rock City.

The sharp alloy blade sliced through the thick armor, cutting off the right arm of the RH2.

That RH2 released a jet of fire behind and pushed its speed to the maximum, jumping to one side.

Qigong Hui was about to use the blade to slice that enemy into half, but she suddenly felt a sense of danger. With a thought, she turned and could see the 3 RH2 already training their laser cannons on her. As an ace pilot, she immediately knew that if she were to forcefully slice the RH2 in two, she would be shot down by those laser beams.

"Beast!!!" Qigong Hui gritted her teeth and spat, controlling the RH2 to twist its large body, before using her own jets to propel her out of the range of the enemy.

A laser beam shot past, brushing the side of her RH2.

At the same time, the 3 RH2s began to operate their 30 cannons to fire wildly, turning into a barrage of metal that rained down towards Qigong Hui's RH2.

Under the sensors of the RH2s, all the cannons were trained and locked onto Qigong Hui and her route of escape. Even if she pushed her thrusters to the limit, a large number of bullets and firepower still slammed into her.

The outer hull of the RH2s was made using the most advanced alloy of this world, and its defense was even stronger than most heavily armored tanks. Under the barrage of bullets and cannons, dents could be seen in the armor, but it did not affect the combat ability of the RH2.

However, due to the rain of bullets, some receptors and sensors were affected and ceased working.

Even the thickest of armors would be damaged if fired on constantly.

Qigong Hui dodged and controlled her own RH2 to fire with its cannons.

However, under the suppression of the 4 RH2s, Qigong Hui was pushed to a dangerous situation, and she could only retreat constantly. Her own ability surpassed any one of the individual pilots of Red Rock City, but against 4, it was incredibly tough.

Hong!!

Following a loud explosion, the RH2 controlled by Qigong Hui had its right arm blasted off, at the same time, she managed to take off the left arm of one of the enemy's RH2.

The powerful force caused Qigong Hui's RH2 to be knocked back, the intense shockwave shaking her. Nausea overcame her, as she felt like puking, and a number of notifications were sent almost instantly to her brain, threatening to overload her senses.

The RH2s possessed a powerful central computer that could transmit messages and alerts directly to the pilot through the helmet. As long as it was not turned off, the pilot could receive information about the RH2's surroundings in real-time.

However, such information bore a huge load on the human brain. Many soldiers would usually turn them off to focus on fights. In a life-and-death situation, on the other hand, most pilots would then operate the sensors at full capacity, while overburdening their brains, it would also limit their ability.

Currently, Qigong Hui was combating 4 RH2s, as she struggled under their joint attacks, she even managed to take off one arm of the enemy. This was already incredible. However, such intense combat was also placing her under immense stress.

"Is this the end?" Inside the pilot cockpit, Qigong Hui was panting for breath, her body slick with perspiration, her eyes flashing with despair.

The RH2 had a strong biometric scanning system, and Qigong Hui could see her comrades on the battlefield being slaughtered.

The 4 RH2s continued to fire coolly at her, without the intention to engage in close combat.

Close combat was the highest form of control a pilot could exhibit, but at the same time, the requirements were the harshest. If the skills were lacking, the victor could be determined quickly. As for long-range firing, the pilots could make use of the sensors and target systems to do the work. Even an expert like Qigong Hui would be helpless against the combined fire of 4 RH2s.

As the cannons and guns continued to fire, her RH2 was starting to break apart, at the same time, many parts were failing, before small fires broke out everywhere.

Right as Qigong Hui's RH2 was about to be destroyed, a powerful laser beam shot from a distance, directly piercing the pilot cockpit of one of the enemy RH2s, vaporizing the pilot.

The sudden attack immediately alarmed the remaining 3 RH2s. They quickly swiveled and noticed the sudden appearance of another RH2 behind them.

"You're Yue Zhong?" Having escaped the clutches of death, Qigong Hui controlled her broken RH2 to soar into the air, asking in a shocked manner.

The Flesh-Eaters and Vampires had the resources of the most advanced technology and nurturing in this world. Many humans of the resistance were not well learned, and those who could pilot a robot were automatically deemed precious fighters. Anyone who could pilot an RH2 would be treated as a genius and within the underground East Division, there were not many pilots, in fact, there were only 2 of them.

Because of that, the moment Qigong Hui saw a friendly RH2, she was overjoyed.

Through the communications, Yue Zhong replied indifferently, "Go help the people at the rock formations, leave these 3 fellows to me."

Qigong Hui could not help but blurt out, "Yue Zhong, these are all expert pilots of Red Rock City, it's impossible to deal with them alone! We should work together!"

Yue Zhong frowned, it had been a long while since anyone disobeyed his order. However, he reminded himself that he was no longer on Earth, and it was not a faction that he controlled, thus he replied, "Whatever!"

After which, he took a deep breath, releasing all limiters on the sensors of the RH2 and instantly, a large amount of information flowed into his brain, connecting him and the RH2 as one.

At the next instant, the thrusters opened up and roared to life. With a strong gust of wind, the RH2 reached the speed of Mach-1, shooting for one of the Red Rock City's RH2 like a shooting star.

The 3 RH2s immediately fired wildly when Yue Zhong appeared, and a dense rain of bullets enveloped Yue Zhong.

Yue Zhong controlled the RH2 to rush right through the rain of metal, charging for the 3 RH2s like a sharp, unsheathed blade. In just a breath of time, he had slammed right into one of the RH2s, the alloy blade in his RH2's arms slicing into the cockpit of the enemy, causing blood to splatter out.

On the other side, Qigong Hui stared in horror, she had never imagined Yue Zhong's retaliation to be so vicious, overbearing and decisive. In merely a second, an enemy had died. She had never seen the RH2 being piloted this way.

After Yue Zhong controlled his RH2 to take down the enemy in a second, his robot had plenty of injuries. During that charge, the impact from the bullets could cause an ordinary pilot to be heavily injured. However, Yue Zhong had actually charged through the line of death in a second.

At the next moment, without stopping, Yue Zhong controlled the thrusters to propel himself forward, reaching the next RH2 as he sent out a fist towards the cockpit.

The powerful alloy armor of the RH2 from Red Rock City was strong enough to block the fist, only causing the armor around the cockpit to dent a little. However, the terrifying impact and resulting shockwave vibrated through, causing the pilot to spit out a blood, dying immediately.

Chapter 726: Jack!

Yue Zhong controlled his RH2 to send the enemy flying with a punch. Without pausing, he darted towards the last RH2 in a blur.

The last RH2 had completely handed the firing systems over to the computer, allowing it to unleash a massacre without the limitations of humans. The downside was that the moment the pilot handed the firing systems over, the response of the RH2 would be affected by 30%.

Yue Zhong braced himself through the flurry of bullets, appearing in front of the last RH2 in a breath's time. His right arm swung the alloy blade directly into the cockpit, turning the pilot into a meat paste.

Qigong Hui watched as Yue Zhong's RH2 became increasingly injured, shock filling her heart, "Strong!!"

In barely 30 seconds, Yue Zhong had controlled his single RH2 to take out 3 equivalent RH2s. That tyrannical and vicious way of combat had left a deep impression on Qigong Hui. She asked herself if she could replicate what Yue Zhong did, and realized that she was filled with respect. The most was sniping that 1st RH2.

"Go! Go provide support!"

After destroying the 4 RH2, Yue Zhong did not even glance at Qigong Hui, quickly charging towards the stony area with Mach-1 speed.

Qigong Hui followed closely behind him.

In a few breaths, Yue Zhong arrived at the place.

He discovered the 2 battalions from Red Rock City, which had also noticed this single RH2 suddenly storming over, and their eyes were filled with shock.

"Kill them all!!" Yue Zhong eyed the 2 battalions coldly and handed the firing systems over to the central computer.

The moment the thought flashed across his mind, 10 cannons appeared from the RH2's frame, and unleashed a rain of death on the soldiers of Red Rock City.

The cannons and guns continued to whirl noisily, under the targeting system of the central computer, each soldier exploded like an ant that was stepped on. The bullets even tore apart the armored vehicles, together with their drivers and riders within.

The elite soldiers of Red Rock City had been the hunters, now the situation flipped around. Without any preparation for it, they were forced to scramble for life.

Originally, the weapons of the elite soldiers of Red Rock City could engage the RH2s. As long as they had sufficient cover, they could even injure RH2s. However, in the wilderness, where there were no structures, these soldiers were just like sheep awaiting slaughter.

At this time, Qigong Hui also charged over, handing over the control of the firing systems as well. The remaining 5 cannons on her also fired out wildly.

"Aiyaya! This bunch of trash seems like they still need me to act!"

At this time, among the scattered and devastated troops of Red Rock City, a wild and frenzied laugh sounded out. Jack lifted his head to eye the 2 RH2s, his eyes flashing with a mad desire. With a flash, he charged towards Qigong Hui's RH2, appearing in front of the cockpit.

Qigong Hui was taken aback when she saw Jack suddenly appear in front of her, "How is this possible? How could he evade the firepower?"

"You can go take a rest with your toy!!"

Jack laughed out savagely as he pulled out a 2m sword. Thrusting out viciously, the material of the sword was unknown, but it managed to pierce the cockpit and directly into her chest.

Jack then swiftly pulled out the sword and disappeared from his location.

As the sharp blade left her body, Qigong Hui's eyes dimmed, and she slumped in her seat, her eyes shut.

Yue Zhong saw what happened through the sensors of the RH2 and his heart was rocked, "What a terrifying fellow! This guy must be one of the experts of the Flesh-Eaters!"

After killing Qigong Hui, Jack's face wore a slight smile, as he introduced himself, "Hi! I'm Jack, one of the Saint Clan members in Red Rock City. I'm interested in you, what's your name?"

Yue Zhong stared at Jack, before sending a vicious punch towards him.

With each punch packing over 10 tonnes, one punch was enough to flatten even Jack.

"I'm appreciative of your control over this metal lump. As long as you submit to me, I can accept you as my subordinate and bring you into the inner city. There's clean water, delicious food, enticing human women that aren't tainted by radiation. I can give you all these. Follow me, and you'll no longer have to live like rats, not seeing the light of day, nor a hopeless future." Jack was still smiling as he appeared at a distance of 10m away in a flash.

Yue Zhong's pupils constricted, the speed of this Jack was truly quick, surpassing even the strongest loli Yin Shuang. In fact, it seemed to be even faster by at least 20%.

Jack continued to smile arrogantly, "This metal lump might seem a precious treasure to us, but to me, it actually is nothing. As long as I wish it, I can easily kill all you pilots easily. There's no way for these stupid metal lumps to catch my movements. This is the difference between us Saint Clan and you humans. Or the distance between gods and humans. We are the gods, you are just pathetic humans!"

With a flesh body that could surpass the sound barrier, easily killing an RH2 pilot, it was truly a monstrous strength. The Flesh-Eaters were able to hold Red Rock City tightly in their grasp, to the point that they could care less that one RH2 had been stolen.

A single RH2 could flip the tides of a battle in a human war, but a single Flesh-Eater with a Type 3 Divine Warrior strength could easily eliminate an RH2 pilot.

"God? What a joke! Just based on you freaks and you want to be gods? Let me take you out, a so-called 'god'! Jack, bear this in mind, today, this human that's about to kill you! I'm Yue Zhong!" The cockpit opened up, and Yue Zhong stepped out slowly, staring at Jack with contempt while laughing coldly.

Chapter 727: Victory at a Cost!

The RH2 had a powerful defensive ability, top-notch firing system, an incredible A.I, against ordinary soldiers, these were all powerful weapons. On the battlefield, a single RH2 was basically a machine of slaughter. However, to deal with Jack, it was still lacking.

In terms of Agility, the RH2's main frame could not compare to Jack, and while Yue Zhong could pull out 80-90% of the RH2's combat ability, it was not enough to deal with Jack.

"I have seen many human experts and those who dare talk to me the way you did have died. You won't be an exception. Such a lowly piece of trash, you dare rebuke me. When I consume your delicious innards, I'll keep you alive. That'll be pretty interesting!"

Jack licked his lips with an excited look. His body turned tense, and with a flash, he immediately leaped forward with a speed surpassing the sound barrier. In less than a breath of time, his sharp blade had pierced towards Yue Zhong.

Fast!! Pure speed, that was Jack's style, surpassing even the strongest loli Yin Shuang under Yue Zhong. His speed was way faster than even the RH2.

Yue Zhong's gaze turned solemn, as wisps of dark energy poured out of his body, pushing his constitution to a terrifying extent. Under the enhancement of Dark Dou Qi, he managed to follow Jack's movement. Without any intention to dodge, he sent a blade towards Jack as well.

Jack flicked the blade in his hand slightly, penetrating through the Type 4 Giant Sea Snake hide on Yue Zhong, as well as the Type 5 Defense Vest, even through his Body of Steel.

When the blade pierced through all the defenses, a surge of vibration traveled through, causing a huge hole to burst open in Yue Zhong's chest, fresh blood splattering everywhere.

At the same instant, the Flame Blade in Yue Zhong's hands slashed down with a speed far surpassing sound, slicing through Jack's shoulder, slicing his heart in two.

Shock was written all over Jack's face, while he hung sliced in two. He had not expected this human in front of him to be so vicious to himself.

The Flesh-Eaters had Vitality surpassing ordinary humans, even though Jack had his body and heart sliced in half, he did not die. He laughed out in an unbridled fashion, "What a ruthless fellow!! However, even if I die, I want you to accompany me in death! Hahaha!!"

Even though Jack had been sliced in two by Yue Zhong, Yue Zhong had also suffered a sword through his chest, his intestines injured by the vibrations Jack sent out. Such a wound was enough to claim a human's life.

Jack was truly powerful, if Yue Zhong had not decided to take on that blow to deal an equally lethal blow to him, it would be hard to determine the victor between them. After all, they were of similar levels.

"The one who will die is you!" Yue Zhong's eyes flashed with cold, as he waved his hands, and Devil Flame burst into life, engulfing Jack, incinerating him in a second. He died howling.

At that same instant, strands of Life Energy was absorbed by the God and Devil imprint, nourishing his soul and body, enhancing them further.

"Congratulations on gaining +10 in Agility!"

Yue Zhong heaved a sigh of relief when he heard that. Killing such a high-level expert had actually enhanced him.

The moment Jack died, Yue Zhong's tense nerves relaxed. He began to feel the pain in his chest, and his brows furrowed. He turned around to enter the RH2 again.

Taking a can of Type 3 Beast meat, he gobbled it up, pushing the Regeneration ability, as his wounds began to heal at an insane speed.

The Level 4 Regeneration ability began to work its wonders, healing Yue Zhong's heavily body. If it wasn't for this skill, Yue Zhong might have perished a dozen times over.

He took a deep breath and wore the helmet, instantly receiving a flurry of notifications. With a thought, he restarted the RH2 and turned into a flash as he headed for the rocky area once again.

After 5 minutes, there were the sounds of the RH2's cannons firing wildly, as the elite soldiers of Red Rock City were slaughtered one after another.

There were 10 cannons, a laser gun and an alloy blade on each RH2. The rest were sensors and heat scanners. They were mainly for scouting and searching. Within that rocky area, it was practically the best terrain for the RH2 to unleash a carnage no one could defend against!

"I surrender!!"

"I surrender!! Don't kill me!"

"I surrender!!"

"...."

When the elite troops of Red Rock City saw how Yue Zhong was slaughtering them like a demon, many of them had fear in their eyes, while their morale dipped. Some abandoned their weapons as they kneeled and surrendered.

Many of them had no faith in the first place, nor any ethics or morals to bind them. They had agreed to serve Red Rock City purely because of a better life. They were not loyal to the Saint Clan in the first place. The moment they saw their comrades being slaughtered and their support vanquished by Yue Zhong, they lost all will to fight.

The resistance soldiers that had been forced back began to counterattack, capturing those who surrendered.

"Seems like lowly humans are unreliable after all! Forget it, treat it as our loss this time. However, you guys need to pay a price too! Let me deal with your trump card!"

Santana looked at the incoming RH2 and laughed savagely, grabbing a random soldier's head and crushing it. He sucked up the juices, revealing a drunk expression, before leaping up on top of the RH2.

The moment Santana moved, Yue Zhong felt a sense of danger. He controlled the RH2 to retreat explosively, as all 10 cannons opened up and began firing at Santana's direction.

Santana faced the weapons that had locked onto him and displayed the terror of a Type 3 Divine Warrior. His speed instantly broke past the sound barrier, as the cannons moved slightly, he had already gone out of its range. The bullets brushed past his body, not causing any harm.

Even the powerful A.I. of the RH2 could not harm Santana, thus showcasing the true might of a Type 3 Divine Warrior.

Yue Zhong was extremely calm as he controlled the RH2 to retreat while pulling up the laser cannon to fire at Santana.

As the laser beams shot out, some directly pierced through boulders, but did not manage to hit Santana. The distance between the 2 was also closing rapidly.

"Are you the trump card of the resistance? You can die for me!" Santana wore a savage grin as he appeared on top of Yue Zhong's RH2, sending a powerful fist towards the cockpit.

Yue Zhong's eyes flashed with a cold look as he continued to push the RH2 backward. As the massive frame landed, rocks were destroyed, at the same time, he controlled the RH2 to swing out with its foot to kick at Santana viciously.

Santana did not expect Yue Zhong to execute such a difficult maneuver, and he could not dodge in mid-air.

The kick carried a dangerous force behind it, if the kick were to connect with Santana, even the Saint Clan member would be heavily injured.

Santana's gaze turned cold, and he immediately spat out a breath with strength. The strong push actually pushed him backward a few meters. The RH2's leg brushed past his body.

He then landed, and charged right back at the RH2 like a meteor, sending a powerful punch on the weak part of the armor.

Hong!

With a single punch, a new hole appeared in the RH2, the strong alloy was pretty much paper against his fist.

He then sent out a few punches as fast as the wind, and in a few breaths, the entire leg had been devastated by him.

Yue Zhong controlled the RH2 to send a fist down towards Santana.

A cold look of ridicule flashed in Santana's eyes, and with a flash, he easily evaded that slap.

Santana then appeared right in front of the cockpit and laughed cruelly. He punched out once at the cockpit, his powerful fist instantly destroying the armor, landing on Yue Zhong's body. The blow instantly went through his chest, causing bits of metal to enter the body as well.

At the next instant, a bright flash blasted Santana's head apart, turning it into bloody matter.

Within the cockpit, Yue Zhong's chest was still pierced by the deformed alloy metal pieces from the cockpit. He had blood flowing down his lips, and in his hands was the Electromagnetic Gun. He looked positively terrible.

"Congratulations on gaining +10 in Strength!"

Strands of Life Energy snaked up into the imprint on Yue Zhong's hand and he gained yet another enhancement.

"These Type 3 Divine Warriors are truly freakish existences."

He gasped for breath, as his chest was racked with pain, causing him to perspire all over, his features contorted.

This time, he had forced himself while killing 2 Type 3 Divine Warriors, suffering grievous injuries. If one more were to appear, he might be killed.

Chapter 728: Prophecy!

With a thought, Yue Zhong controlled the RH2 to rip out the cockpit door with force. With a little light, he began to pull out the alloy parts pierced in his chest. The sharp pains caused his face to contort.

After pulling out all the alloy pieces, his entire body was drenched in perspiration. He gasped for air, suppressing the pain as he quickly consume his Type 3 Beast meat.

As a few cans were consumed, the contents quickly transformed into energy that accelerated the healing process.

Yue Zhong's face turned dark as he thought, "This world truly contains some strong experts! Just the forces of this Red Rock City is enough to devastate my Central Plains army!"

Furthermore, this world actually contained such terrifying battle robots. They had the support of powerful A.I, and the biometric scanning systems were so advanced. Such a robot was practically an unstoppable killing machine back on Earth.

Other than these RH2s, there were the Type 3 Divine Warriors, and the even stronger Type 4 ones that had not yet appear.

Yue Zhong could not imagine what it would take to even threaten such existences.

As he sat there enduring the pain and letting his body heal, the forces of the resistance were already launching their counterattack against the elite forces of Red Rock City.

During the counter-attack, many Red Rock City soldiers quickly handed over their weapons and allowed themselves to be captured.

Underground, Luo Chen's eyes were fixed on Yue Zhong's RH2, his gaze filled with awe, "Truly amazing!! He could control a single RH2 to fight 4, and he even took out 2 Type 3 Divine Warriors himself. Incredible!! If only such a person was part of our resistance!"

Aloya looked at the serious wound on Yue Zhong's chest, her eyes filled with pity, "What a pity! He's going to die!"

Luo Chen laughed lightly in response, pointing to Yue Zhong's right hand on the monitor, "No! He won't die. Look at his right hand!"

Aloya looked at the God and Devil Imprint and her face changed immediately, "Is that the imprint of God? How is that possible?! What if... the legend was for real? Impossible! This doesn't make sense scientifically!"

Luo Chen's eyes were fixed on the imprint, his gaze complicated as well, "The imprint of God! Hundreds of years ago, the leader of the resistance had left behind a prophecy, that after a hundred years, or even a thousand years, a human with God's imprint on his right hand would appear, and he would be the hope of humankind! He would be the last hope that could possibly contend with the other races! The one who has that God imprint on his right hand will be our savior! I've always treated it as a joke, or it could have been something that the upper echelons in the past used to convince people to join our resistance. Who would have thought!"

Aloya looked at the man in the seat and asked mildly, "What do we do now? According to the prophecy, we need to become his subordinates! Luo Chen, what are your plans?"

The prophecy from so long ago had a huge influence on the resistance, however, there were also many who did not believe or care about it. Even if the leader then was capable and had foresight, their influence could not compare to those currently alive and wielding the authority.

Aloya, the genius programmer, was one of those that did not really care about the prophecy, she just listened to Luo Chen's orders. It was because he had saved her life before. Her talent was discovered and nurtured by him. Without him, she might have become one of those pitiful women struggling to survive in hell.

"In the past, I didn't believe in it either, however, the Gates of Hell from the legends have appeared. According to legend, the God Imprint has also shown itself. I cannot ignore these. Furthermore, our strength is truly too minuscule compared to those Flesh-Eaters and Vampires. A single Type 5 Divine Warrior could wipe out our forces, while a single Ancestor could force us all to our demise."

"If it weren't for those monsters wanting food and toys for entertainment, our human race might have already been wiped out long ago. Our resistance is merely a little nuisance to them." Luo Chen sighed gently.

In this world, the humans were too vastly inferior to the Flesh-Eaters and Vampires. What was worse, there were humans who were willing to work for the monsters, becoming their teeth and claws.

Although Luo Chen had outstanding intelligence, his strength was truly lacking. He could not see a sliver of hope for the human race. He had continued to resist purely because he had a deep-set hatred for the Other races.

A strange light flashed in his eyes, as he began to get excited, "Since this is the case, why don't we just bet on it. If we succeed, our future generations will be able to live with their heads high. Even if we lose, it's just giving up this wretched life anyway. I choose to believe the prophecy and support him!"

Aloya replied indifferently, "Fine! I'll follow your lead! However, those at the main headquarters won't relinquish their authority so easily!"

Luo Chen chuckled lightly, "I know! If he really is the one from the prophecy, with our support, he should be able to reorganize our entire resistance. If he doesn't, then it just means the first leader with foresight in the past was just a huge liar."

He continued, "And if it truly is him, our Eastern Division is likelier to accept him."

Aloya nodded silently in agreement. In today's battle, Yue Zhong had turned the tides with his overwhelming strength. It would be easier for those who had seen him in the battle to accept him as a leader.

The medics of the underground base streamed out to find the injured soldiers and began to treat them.

Yue Zhong was also quickly evacuated towards the underground base.

Inside one of the medical treatment rooms, Aloya pushed Luo Chen in.

He waved his hands, dismissing the doctors inside.

Smiling, he asked Yue Zhong, "Can we speak?"

Yue Zhong was slightly wary as he looked at Luo Chen, however, he did not reject him, "Sure!"

Luo Chen fixed his gaze on Yue Zhong's tightly bandaged right arm, asking, "Your right arm! Can I take a look?"

When Yue Zhong heard that, his pupils constricted, and a powerful killing intent radiated from him. The God and Devil imprint on his right arm allowed him to absorb the life energy from those he killed and was an important item for him to communicate with those back on Earth. It was a secret that he wouldn't mind killing over.

Luo Chen could sense the killing intent, and he hurried to explain with a smile, "Yue Zhong, I've seen the imprint on your right arm. Other than me, many others have also seen it. It's called the God's Imprint. There's a legend among us resistance fighters from long ago, that after hundreds or even thousands of years, a person with the God's Imprint will appear, and he will be our leader, leading our human race in a victory against the Other races. Since you have the imprint, you will become our leader in the future."

Hearing those words, Yue Zhong guessed a few things. First, there must have been someone like him in the past, possessing the God and Devil imprint. However, the person must have lost in combat, thus, the human race had fallen to this state. After the loss of the leader, the experts must have known a few things through the system, that was why it had passed down as a legend or prophecy.

Those who possessed the imprint were recognized as the strongest talents of the planet, just like Yue Zhong, and any of these characters had the right and strength to become a leader of a faction.

Furthermore, since Yue Zhong possesses this imprint as well as his Evolving Temple, he at least could resist the oppression of the Other races much better than the resistance fighters.

He mulled over for a while, before asking, "Just because of a legend, you're willing to declare me as your leader?"

Luo Chen chuckled bitterly, but kept his gaze fixed on Yue Zhong, "Yes! I'll come clean with you. Things aren't looking so well for the resistance. These few years, it has always been a pointless struggle. Just surviving is already hard. The number of humans is decreasing as well. As for the slavery and harm that the Other races have brought against us, we might be able to get something in return, but in order to overthrow all of that, I can only make a gamble on you. As long as you're willing to lead us against the Other races, the entire Eastern Division is willing to listen to your orders, and become a force for you to command."

Yue Zhong pondered for a longer time, before replying, "Ok! I promise you! I too, need your strength."

Since arriving at this planet, he had not yet gained a deep enough understanding. He needed the eyes and ears on the ground, and since the Eastern Division was the underground head here, and that they were willing to submit to him, then he naturally would take them up on that offer.

With a wave of his hands, he took out 8 Evolving Liquids from his storage ring, handing them to Luo Chen, "These are Evolving Liquids, that could help humans become Evolvers. There are 8 of them here, treat it as a gift!"

Luo Chen received them with respect and thanked him, "Many thanks!"

"After consuming this, the user will run a fever for a day, and the next day, gain a powerful strength. If you don't believe me, you can get someone to try it first."

Luo Chen chuckled, directly consuming one of them, "No need! I trust you!"

Chapter 729: Exchange of Authority!

The moment the Evolving Liquid entered Luo Chen's body, a warm surge of energy spread throughout his body, causing his temperature to rise and he gasped in ragged breaths.

Aloya's face turned immediately, pulling out a small handgun and pointing it at Yue Zhong while screaming, "What did you do to him?!"

In Aloya's eyes, Luo Chen's importance far exceeded Yue Zhong. Even if Yue Zhong was the prophesied leader from the legends, she did not care one bit.

"Put down your gun! Aloya! I'll be fine! It's just a day of fever, right Leader?"

Luo Chen pressed Aloya's gun down as he gave Yue Zhong a trusting smile. He believed that the man in front of him would not be so stupid as to try and kill him at such a place.

The God's Imprint was something that Luo Chen, a true book fanatic, would research. To the ordinary soldiers, the Imprint might have been an ordinary tattoo for all they knew.

In truth, although it was a legend from long ago, it had been passed down for so long that many people had already begun to treat it as a beautiful dream. If Yue Zhong really wanted the support of the Eastern Division, he would not kill Luo Chen.

Yue Zhong replied indifferently, "Go back and rest well! You will gain strength!"

Luo Chen did not reject him, and replied, before turning away, "Yes!"

Yue Zhong watched Luo Chen leave, a few thoughts flashing by before he closed his eyes and focused on recovering. The consumption from the battle with Red Rock City was truly astounding.

Early the next morning, Luo Chen opened his eyes and discovered a powerful, latent strength coursing through his body.

With a thought, his originally crippled legs, for God knew how long, shuddered and began to move.

"Is this the strength of those experts with the God's Imprint in the past?! With such a miraculous Evolving Liquid, seems like my decision was right!!" Luo Chen looked at his legs with joy and excitement. His legs had been heavily injured in an accident many years ago, and with the low medical level of the resistance, they had not been able to heal him. And yet, a single Evolving Liquid from Yue Zhong had given him a new lease on life, causing him to rejoice.

Aloya rubbed her eyes and saw Luo Chen waking up. Her pale face was immediately covered with joy, "Luo Chen! You're awake! You can move!! This is great!! This is really great!!"

"Yes! I'm awake! I've also gained an incredible strength!!" Luo Chen laughed and raised his right hand, immediately causing the handgun by his bedside to soar towards his hands, revolving in the air.

When Aloya saw Luo Chen's demonstration, her eyes were filled with shock, "This is the power that only Divine Warriors can awaken! Have you become a Divine Warrior too? Incredible!"

"This is the power he promised me! It's strong! I should be a Type 1 Divine Warrior now." Luo Chen looked at the revolving gun in his hand, a smile on his face. He wasn't as happy about his own strength as compared to what Yue Zhong could bring to their race. With such an Evolving Liquid, their human race would gain an additional advantage.

Luo Chen then instructed, "Aloya, go gather everyone in the parade square!"

Aloya turned to leave, "Ok!"

Soon, the resistance fighters all came out from the various tunnels towards the central square, looking up at Luo Chen and Yue Zhong on stage.

Everyone's eyes were filled with expectation and trust when they looked at Luo Chen. Many of the soldiers from the Eastern Division trusted this exceptional leader with their lives.

"Ah! How is it that Luo Chen is standing?!"

"The leader can stand?! That's great!"

"..."

When they saw Luo Chen standing, everyone was surprised and began engaging in discussion. They knew clearly how near impossible it was to recover from his heavy injuries. Yet now, he was standing in front of them, it was truly a miracle.

Luo Chen swept his gaze across everyone, calling out, "Everyone, quieten down!"

When his words landed, everyone's discussion came to a halt, their gazes falling upon him again.

Luo Chen then spoke out with fervor, "Let me first introduce, this person beside me is called Yue Zhong. Yesterday, he had piloted an RH2 to take down 4 RH2s and even 2 Type 3 Flesh-Eaters. He alone managed to turn the tides around, saving many of our comrades. He is our hero, let us first give him a round of applause!!"

The countless gazes full upon Yue Zhong, and immediately, a roar of applause rang out. Many had seen for themselves how Yue Zhong had charged through the battlefield with such valor and they were all filled with gratitude.

Luo Chen then raised his hands, bringing the applause to a stop.

His voice rang out, "In fact, Yue Zhong is not an ordinary human being. He's the prophesied savior of our resistance... No! The savior of our human race! He has the God's Imprint on him!! The mark of the leader of our humankind! From now on, I announce that our Eastern Division will submit to Yue Zhong, obeying his commands and orders, becoming his subordinates, fighting for the freedom of humanity!"

The moment his words landed, the entire Eastern Division was thrown into chaos.

"What? Is he the one from the prophecy of long ago? How is that possible?"

"I thought that legend was a joke, something ancient? How could it be real?"

"Submit to Yue Zhong? Then what about the headquarters of the resistance?"

"...."

When the soldiers of the Eastern Division heard that announcement, chatter immediately broke out. The prophecy from hundreds of years ago was thought to be a fantasy. Many had not thought that there would be someone who would save them, therefore, asking them to believe the words of a few dead men was too much.

However, there were some who immediately stared at Yue Zhong with an excited gaze, immediately becoming his followers.

After all, the resistance had been whittled away slowly but surely, and many had begun to lose hope for the future. They needed some form of hope. The savior was the beacon of that, becoming a pillar of support, trust, and hope.

When Lisa heard Luo Chen's words, something seemed to explode in her mind, as her gaze turned strange, "Is he the savior from the legends? If it's him, it's very likely!"

Luo Chen gazed down and barked in a low voice, "Quiet!!"

The members of the resistance immediately became quiet.

Luo Chen waved his hand and the handgun at his waist immediately flew to his hands, revolving in mid-air, "Everyone should know, I used to be crippled, and have been confined to a wheelchair all this time. Today, I can stand here, is all due to Leader Yue Zhong granting me my health and a new strength. I've become a Type 1 Divine Warrior!"

Seeing this, all the soldiers of the resistance sucked in a cold breath, their eyes filled with excitement. Divine Warriors were basically the terms for strong experts. There were over 2,000 warriors at the parade square, but only 8 of them were Divine Warriors. They were only Type 1 Divine Warriors as well. Everyone else hoped to become a Divine Warrior.

Yue Zhong then waved his hands at Luo Chen.

With that, Luo Chen retreated respectfully behind Yue Zhong, exhibiting his respect and submission.

Yue Zhong's voice then rang out, "I'm Yue Zhong! If my conjecture is right, I'm the savior mentioned in your legends. My enemies are those Flesh-Eaters and Vampires. They are your enemies as well. As long as you're willing to listen to my commands, I'm willing to lead you all to defeat them, and gain victory. Those who are willing to fight by my side, stay, and as long as you put in an effort to obtain merits, I can grant you strength, becoming powerful Divine Warriors! Those who aren't willing, you may leave. I won't stop you! Make your choice now!"

"Leader Yue Zhong!! Grant me strength!!"

"I'm willing to obey you, and fight by your side!!"

"Leader Yue Zhong, let us fight the monsters together!!"

"..."

The moment his words came out, the entire parade square erupted in wild cheers. Almost everyone was screaming his name, expressing their loyalty with fervor.

Some of them did so because of Luo Chen's orders, some did so because they believed in the prophecy. Some did so in order to gain the strength to become a Divine Warrior, and some had been swept up in the commotion. Some others had nowhere else to go, thus they chose to stay.

However, amidst the cheers and excitement, 30 resistance soldiers turned around quietly to leave. They did not believe that Yue Zhong was the savior, and only trusted in the upper echelons of the resistance army.

Luo Chen watched them leave and his eyes flashed with a dark look. He looked towards another corner, and 2 men nodded to express their understanding before they disappeared.

The 30-odd men had not left long when they were dragged into the dark to be silenced forever. Although Yue Zhong did not wish to kill, Luo Chen was not willing to let these people go.

After this meeting, the entire Eastern Division was handed over to Yue Zhong, with Kong Cui Yun and the rest summoned by Yue Zhong into the base. The entire force then quickly left to relocate to another base.

In this world where there were no satellites, the response of Red Rock City was much slower. After Yue Zhong and his people had left, another larger force deployed by Red Rock City came across where the base used to be, sweeping around but not finding anything.

Chapter 730: Vast Difference in Strength!

Out at a desolate area without any signs of life, a few humans were lugging loads of more than 20kg, running around while gasping for breath.

Yue Zhong was decked in military wear, watching them quietly. Among them, there was Xiao Lan, Fuhrana, even the little loli Dina.

Yue Zhong had granted them the Evolving Liquid, allowing them to become Evolvers, before making them undergo high-intensity special forces training.

Even if they had the strength, without proper training, they would not be able to exhibit their true prowess.

Having seen the cruelty of this world, even Kong Cui Yun who used to have an air of a spoiled miss began to push herself through the rigorous regime.

Even the half-Mutant loli Dina was no exception. She even pushed herself harder after every day's training. As a vagabond, she knew how precious the chance to obtain strength was. Since she had gained it, she would treasure it even more.

Yue Zhong eyed them while asking Luo Chen beside him, "I want to know all that the resistance currently knows."

"The resistance troops are scattered all over this planet. On this planet, we humans are the food, toys, and slaves of the monsters. The areas where the monsters are more vicious and cruel, the more resistance troops stationed there. Places where the violence is lesser, the lesser the number of resistance soldiers as well."

"However, from the big perspective, we separate ourselves according to directions. North, south, east and west. Our Eastern Division handles 40 cities, with about 40,000 people or so. The Southern Division is in charge of 30 cities, with about 50,000 people. The Western Division, 20 cities, and 20,000 people, while the Northern Division handles the most cities, 60, with about 100,000 people. That is to say the entire resistance numbers at around 200,000 or so. Other than our fighters, we have sympathizers within cities, and we're not too sure about the number of people from those groups. In fact, my faction is considered only part of the Eastern Division."

"The highest authority of the resistance is termed as the Human Liberation Business Resistance Council, or the Council for short. Each division would choose 12 representatives from their own sides. The person at the top is the president, and he is the current leader of the resistance army. The current president is called Gong Chang Tian. He's an amazing leader and was the previous leader of the Northern Division at the frontlines.

Yue Zhong thought deeply before continuing, "What about the Saint Clan?"

Luo Chen laughed bitterly, "The Saint Clan is control over perpetually all the cities on this planet. Other than the areas with high radiation and the barren wilderness, everywhere else is under their control. Based on estimation, there should be a total of 563 cities in their hands. The total human population within these cities is at 300 million, and these are just the human numbers. As for the Saint Clan, their numbers aren't that many, about 10 million.

Yue Zhong was speechless, comparing the resistance and the Saint Clan, the difference was not just 50 times. The enemy was also in control over cities and other resources. There was practically no chance in an outright face-off.

Just the 300 million people under the Saint Clan could easily crush the resistance already. There was no contest between both sides in terms of numbers.

After knowing the true might of his enemy, Yue Zhong could not help but feel a dark shadow over his head.

Previously, during his struggle against the zombies, Yue Zhong's people only numbered slightly above 2 million.

If the Gates of Hell were to truly allow the Saint Clan to invade, the 300 million people under them would already cause Yue Zhong a huge headache, not to mention 10 million Saint Clan members.

With their strength, based on his estimation, 1 million Saint Clan members were enough to slaughter 300 million ordinary humans. Furthermore, China still had seas of zombies and Mutant Beasts and other strange races to contend with. If there was a war, the little bit of capital he had struggled to build up was not even worth shit.

He sighed lightly, "Thankfully, I chose to enter this world."

Had he chose to remain on earth to expand, while he might really expand within a year, no matter what extent he could grow, it was not enough to deal with this 2nd Stage. Now he knew how precious the chance to enter this world was.

If they didn't do anything, by the time the Saint Clan invaded, then all the powers and factions on Earth would succumb and crumble under the absolute might.

Yue Zhong mulled over for a while before asking, "How many Type 3 Divine Warriors are there within the resistance?"

Type 3 Divine Warriors were existences like Jack and Santana that could destroy an RH2 with their bare hands.

Luo Chen replied, "There are a total of 7 outstanding Type 3 Divine Warriors in the resistance. They're Snowstorm Sima Bing, Blazing Flames Wang Yan, Human-Tank Ken, Great Earth Bear TuoTuo Mu, Steel King Lance, Light Beast Jess, and finally, Overlord Gong Chang Tian. Our resistance only has Type 3 Divine Warriors, no one of Type 4 and above."

Yue Zhong asked, "Then how many Type 3 Divine Warriors are there in the Saint Clan?"

"There are around 100,000 Saint Clan members who are at least at Type 3 Divine Warrior level. About 1,000 are rumored to be at Type 4, while Type 5 Divine Warriors are rarer, maybe about 30 at most. Those at the Type 5 level are usually from the Ancestor Clan. As for the legendary Type 6 Divine Warriors, according to legends, there might only be 3 or 2 from the initial Ancestor Clan members that were left behind during Era of Blight. As to the truth of these rumors, no one has tested or verified before."

"Normally, those who head out to suppress any rebellion or chaos would be the Type 3 Divine Warriors of the Saint Clan. The moment any Type 4 Divine Warriors were to make an appearance, the source of the chaos or commotion would be eliminated. Type 5 Divine Warriors are considered important characters and to them, our resistance fighters are just like ants, hence they would not bother unless they are in a bad mood. However, it's rare to see any Type 5 Divine Warriors making a move," Luo Chen spoke with a dark expression.

Yue Zhong was speechless for some time, as he finally understood why Luo Chen was so willing to hand over his authority.

Yue Zhong was considered a peak expert back on Earth, but among the Saint Clan, he was just an ordinary fighter. Any Type 4 Divine Warrior could easily crush him. If a Type 5 Divine Warrior were to act, he would be wiped out in barely an instant. The level of might on this planet was truly unfathomable.

Yue Zhong sunk into deep thought, "What's the situation on the food and water supplies for our forces?"

Out in the wilderness, the most terrifying killer was not the Saint Clan, but the lack of food and water.

The places fit for living had plenty of pools and water catchment places, whereas the regions outside of the cities were hard for survival, since most of those places were heavily irradiated, and had no water or food sources.

Food and clean water was an important resource, and they were the main reason why the resistance could not expand.

There were sources of clean water within the cities that the Saint Clan resided in, they could even plant vegetation and that was how they controlled humans.

Luo Chen looked at the warriors undergoing training and spoke, "Our current supplies can last us for a month, while our water can last for about 20 days. The current conditions are under the assumption that these soldiers you're training up cannot use our rations or water."

Luo Chen was clear that through Yue Zhong's methods, he could raise a powerful force, but the warriors would require water and food to replenish their energy. Such squandering of resources was a nightmare to the resistance.

Many cities had resorted to the method of sealing the cities, preventing water and food from going to the resistance, easily cutting their lifeline off.

Yue Zhong asked curiously, "How did you guys get water and food from the cities previously?"

Luo Chen laughed in a self-deprecating manner, "Out in the wilderness, you can discover ores, hunt the Savages, trade slaves, gain the blood, flesh, and nuclei of Mutant Beasts, or high-level Mutants. There are also rare and precious Mutant Plants. All these are resources that cities need, as long as the cities do not undergo a lockdown, we can trade these items for Eagle Yuan, exchanging for food and water. Other than that, we can disguise ourselves as mercenaries to accept missions to earn Eagle Yuan. As resistance fighters, we still have to rely upon and work for those monsters, even I find it ironic and ridiculous."

Yue Zhong thought deep. Due to the lack of resources, these resistance forces actually had to resort to working for the Saint Clan. This was hard to believe. However, he also understood that their circumstances really were dire.

Yue Zhong asked, "Are there any Mutant Beasts hordes nearby?"

Luo Chen replied, "The Ancient Ruins!"

He continued, "It is an extremely famous place nearby, and it marks the line between the light radiation and heavy radiation zones. There, there are plenty of Mutant vegetation, Mutant Beasts, Irradiated Demons, Savages and even Mutants. The entire region is extremely dangerous, and there are a few terrifying Mutant Beasts that could even kill a Type 4 Divine Warrior. In the past, there was a story going around that a Type 4 Divine Warrior went in and didn't come out. Around the region, there are a few handful of human settlements, forming small mercenary companies. They would head in to hunt and complete Saint Clan missions for money. It is an extremely chaotic place, where robbery and murder happen all the time. All the people there are underground characters and only money talks. We would usually head there to hunt Mutant Beasts."

As Yue Zhong listened, he made his decision, "Alright! We shall head there first!"
